PROTECTION OF LABOR AND CIVIL RIGHTS:

Eurekans will remember "1935" and the unwarranted attack on union men which resulted in the death of three A.F. of L. lumber workers at the Holmes-Eureka gates.

Those workers were exercising their traditional American right, now guaranteed by federal law, to bargain collectively for better wages and working conditions--for an American standard of living. Breakdown of civil law and order means the breakdown of our democratic form of government. No decent, civic-minded person can tolerate such acts of aggression against the American people, whether workers or citizens at large. Yet, three Councilmen--Mc Dade, Schulze, and Larson--were then in office. They are still in office today, and seek reelection.

With this record, can the people expect their civil rights to be protected by these men? Can labor have confidence in men--heads of city government--who stood idly by while residents of Eureka were being shot down and ruthlessly thrown in jail in a union-smashing campaign?

Recently, the Councilmen boosted their salaries from $60 a month to $100. But city employees working full time for as low as $65 per month received no consideration whatsoever.

Work Projects for the unemployed and building trades workers that might have been obtained through PWA and WPA grants for the City of Eureka were turned down by the Mayor and the City Council, thus depriving many Eurekans of sorely needed jobs. This short-sighted policy hurt both the workers and small businessmen who would have benefitted through an increased purchasing power.

The City Auditorium, owned and paid for by the people of Eureka, is denied to many organizations, for example, the "Ham & Eggers", because of prohibitive rental rates. Use of this public building should be encouraged by fixing rental rates on the basis of maintenance costs.

This has been the record of the Mayor and City Council. We ask the working people, the small businessmen, and the citizens at large to remember this at the polls on June 19th.
