

Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities

Volume 1

Issue 1 Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities

Article 13

October 2019

Red Wood

John Lazzarotto

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.humboldt.edu/rwc>

Recommended Citation

Lazzarotto, John (2019) "Red Wood," Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities: Vol. 1 : Iss. 1 , Article 13.
Available at: <https://digitalcommons.humboldt.edu/rwc/vol1/iss1/13>

This Poetry Informational/Argument is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at Digital Commons @ Humboldt State University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ Humboldt State University. For more information, please contact kyle.morgan@humboldt.edu.

Red Wood

By: John Lazzarotto

Soaking seeping weeping leaves
Foggy air so clean to breathe
Green made up of dark and light
Brown so subtle in the night
No one knows and no one sees
In this place beneath the trees.

Wonder and fright looms the air.
Forget the cause and lose the care.
Drizzling mist surrounds the whole,
Calms the heart and soothes the soul,
Clears the mind and breaks the chain,
Harmonious among dry rain.