LETTER "H"?

Humboldt State Teachers College is one of many such colleges on the Pacific coast, and yet this school is far behind the rest in promoting activities. The reason being, mainly, the absence of a definite organization for men. It has been rumored that a step will be taken in this direction, when the men will attempt to organize a "Letter H Society". This organization, consisting of men holding the "Big H" obtained from any sport, will organize for the sole purpose of arousing school spirit, creating more interest in minor and major sports, staging several social affairs in the form of a dance, arranging programs, creating peppier rallies, and making the college a better place in which to live. And after all, we're living here; why not make life a little more interesting? There's been lots of talk of such an organization, but what has actually been done toward this movement? The answer is easy; Nothing, absolutely Nothing. All this college has been for the last year is a dictionary full of talk, and anyone knows that just talk can't produce the goods. Let's stop this everlasting talk and materialize a definite organization for men.

Now take, for instance, the situation this college is facing in regard to the present organizations of this school. What does the Literati do toward furthering school spirit? The newly formed Dramatic Club? College Civic Club? Take all or anyone of them; do they promote athletics? school spirit? Do they benefit the school at all? These questions may be obvious, but, however, they do deserve some degree of careful consideration. For instance; "The Literati has been a most important organization in this school", as claimed by its members and a few outside citizens who have enjoyed programs given by the club, but when we

WILDCATS SLAM HUMBOLDT STATE

--FROM Chico Record

While a small and perspiring crowd sat and sweltered in the stands at the Chico State Teachers College field Saturday afternoon the Crimson and White Wildcats rang up the curtain on their 1930 football season with a bang, overwhelming Humboldt State 50-0. The Wildcat frosh won over Red Bluff High, 6-0, in the preliminary game.

The Wildcats outplayed their opponents in every department of the game, but be it said to the credit of the men from Arcata, that faced with certain defeat almost from the beginning, not once did they stop fighting and trying until the gun sounded the end of the final quarter. The game was a clean exhibition of sportsmanship. Dick Jenks, slim freshman halfback from Willows, playing his first game for Chico State, played the best game of the day, accounting for three of his team's touchdowns. Jenks is a particularly good pass tosser and it was not his fault that more of the Wildcat passes were not complete.

Johnson, Humboldt quarterback, starred for his team, playing a well-fought and heady game and well earning the applause the fans accorded him when he was taken from the field in the fourth quarter. The work of the Arcata ends was also worthy of mention and Jenkins, tackle, played a fine defensive game.

The entire Chico team performed in a manner to convince the most skeptical that they have the goods this year of a championship contender. The regulars played but two quarters, the first and the third, and in those periods stopped the invaders dead in their tracks. The second stringers did nearly as well, holding Humboldt to no score and accounting for 13 Chico points.

Rannells and Garrigan played great games, alternating at quarterback. Byrne saw little service as Acker wants to save his best all-round back for the more crucial games. Milani, who played three-quarters

C.E.GRAVES HONORED

Adam Strohm, librarian of the Detroit Public Library, has appointed C.E.Graves, librarian at Humboldt State Teachers College, as chairman of the American Library Association Committee on libraries in national parks.

Strohm is the president of the American Library Association. Associated with him on the committee are the following people: William Corbin, librarian of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Gilbert Doane, librarian of the University of Nebraska.
 Miss Helen James, assistant librarian State Teachers College, Albany New York.

Mr. H.L.Koopman, librarian emeritus of Brown University, Providence Rhode Island.

Charles Smith, Librarian of the University of Colorado.

The work of the committee consists of developing libraries in all of the national parks in the United States. There are now 22 parks in the national park system, including one in Hawaii and one in Alaska. The government is at present unable to appropriate money for books in any of these parks, therefore, the work of building up libraries for the use of park naturalists, ranger naturalists, and visiting scientists has been entrusted to this committee of the American Library Association. Yosemite National Park has the largest library at present, with about 1000 books, all of which have been presented by individuals, organizations, and educational institutions. There are shelves in two special rooms in the Yosemite Museum. Both Yellowstone and Grand Canyon have museum buildings with small collections of books, but none of the other national parks have as yet made a beginning in the work of building up a library. Mr. Graves and his committee will attempt in various ways to stimulate this work throughout the country.

 And so on, far into the night.

DRAMATIC CLUB ACTIVE

The members of Miss McLane's Dramatic Workshop lost no time getting started. They have already started work on a three act play, "Dolly Finks Herself", and several additional one-act plays. The Workshop expects to produce some big things in a big way, and probably will at the rate they are going.

LITERARY ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

Filled with enthusiasm about their plans for the semester's activities, the officers of Literati held their first meeting last Tuesday. Those present were: president Mildred Roe, vice-pres. Alyce Finne, secretary Luella Henningson, treasurer Lester Dendini, and cheer leader Ione Russell.

Besides making plans for the semester, the officers appointed Louise Wood corresponding secretary, and Agnes Rourke, Melvin Pinkham, and Dale Terriam program leaders. In the near future the Literati club will be divided into three groups, each group headed by one of the program leaders. The first meeting will be held soon under the direction of Agnes Rourke, and she promises a very interesting evening's entertainment.

Activities for this semester include one-act plays, varied programs, parties, and dinners. Meetings will be held twice a month.

SON OF PROFESSOR HONORED

Special honor has been bestowed upon Carol Hollister, pianist in New York, as he has been selected to accompany Mischa Elman, the great violinist. Before this appointment, which is to become effective January 1, Hollister has been accompanying for Anna Case, soprano soloist.

Hollister is the son of Frederic Hollister, associate professor of social science at Humboldt State Teachers College. He is remembered by musical circles in Arcata as having given a recital in the Social Unit a few years ago. He has studied with the teachers, Fricburg and Newstead, at the Institute of Musical Art in New York.

COLLEGE BUSY

Ellen Johnson announced today that the number served in the Commons totaled 115. This included 55 for breakfast and 115 for lunch. There are 12 tables in the cafeteria at present.

SOCIETY

the percentage of the student body who have actually benefited by the existence of this organization, we can only see a small group isolated from the mass and labeled Literati.

However, the Literati is only one of such organizations operating in this school. Take for instance, the College Civic Club. The true actions actions of this club were brought out clearly in an early publication of the Root-er, of which the members of the Club protested violently. Probably the true purpose of this organization was misunderstood? What has been the chief trouble with our clubs? Here is the whole answer: the organizations of this institution are too conservative, confined within themselves, they tend to draw apart, rather than together, the mass of the student body. No school spirit is aroused for other than activities within the club itself.

Now, take in contrast, the activities of the W.L.A. If all college clubs were run under the principles of this organization, there would be no necessity of pleading to the students for their support of outside activities.

Looking at this situation with an open mind, why can't the clubs work for the college? And vice versa, the college cooperate with the club?

In order to simplify these difficulties, the men have propositioned for the organization of a definite mens club. Such an institution should bring to this institution the necessary spirit and cooperation which has long been looked forward to by the students and faculty of Humboldt State.

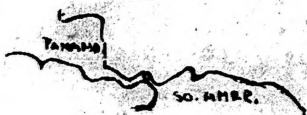

FORLER H.S.T.C STUDENT ON VISIT IN SOUTH

Miss Alice Degnan, summer school graduate of Humboldt State Teachers College is visiting friends in Haywards. We wonder what Charlie's doing!

It might interest our Frosh women to know that at Santa Rosa Junior College the frosh women are required to wear black cotton hose.

DO YOU KNOW THAT (Clyde Patenaude & Glen Waldner)

Broadway, in the city of Bure-ka, California, is the westernmost street in continental United States?

If all of Henry Ford's money was transferred into twenty dollar gold pieces it would weigh 400,000,000 pounds?

The universe that our solar system is located in has a diameter of 300,000 light years and a thickness of 37,500 light years. In other words the universe, what we know of it, is 18,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles in diameter and 225,000,000,000,000,000 in thickness.

WHAT'S NEXT?

Well, here we are back at old Humboldt again after a ripping good fight with Chico State, and we find things somewhat after the manner in which Rip Van Winkle found things after his 20 year siesta. When he left he was a subject of King George; when he came back he found George Washington. Now we note:

The Lumber jack is to be a printed paper soon.
Tiny Abbott thinking seriously of giving up fighting for nursing.
Max Baer defeated on points by Les Kennedy and scores a kyo over Frankie Campbell in the fourth.

Dick Derby didn't get his nose skinned in Chico this time. Did I hear someone say, "Oh No!"
And Paul Ely still drags a steady.

of the game in place of Rimbois at guard who was injured in the first quarter, played a great defensive game in spite of a weight handicap. Capri, substitute end, snaggd passes to account for two touchdowns. The work of the whole varsity line was good, particularly on the defense.

Perhaps it would be best to mention that the heat was terrific in comparison to the temperature the Arcata boys have been used to. They even "got so hot" they had to call an extra pair of time outs, and were consequently penalized.

Ab Brantley was the star on gaining yardage through the line for the Humboldt boys, reeling off substantial gains through guard and tackle. Kidrid Hogan was good up until the third quarter when he sprained his ankle, an injury which will probably keep him out of the game for the rest of the season. Wayne Simpson was good on defense. The boys will do better next time, especially on a cool day.

Here is how they started:

"FROM THE SIDELINES"

Saturdays game with Chico meant a lot to the boys who fought hard on the gridiron 200 miles from home. It's not the easiest thing to do, and our boys are deserving of a lot of credit for the fight they put up on Chico's home field. And was it hot!!

In spite of the heat Saturday at Chico, Brandy Brandstetter fought every minute of that game up until the time Waldner relieved him in the second and fourth quarters.

Little "Doggy Waldner" played a great game after relieving Brandy in the fourth. With the spirit and moral of the Humboldt gridders broken by their vain attempt to check the onslaught of the husky Chico Staters, Glenn Waldner was fighting every minute in an effort to show that the Humboldters were no quitters.

Ab Brantley seemed to add new life to the boys when he entered the game in the second and fourth quarters. Ab consistently perforated the giant Chico line for gains of four to eight yards.

Capt.-elect Rollo Guthridge played a consistent game at full, doing most of the passing, and some punting.

Wayne Simpson played an outstanding game from the safety position, returning the ball several yards off every play.

Bob Johnson showed some real Humboldt fight, battling his way through the Chico forward wall. Chico will always remember Bob for his defensive work that day. Why? Bob just left his trade mark.

Dick Derby and his brother were both at Chico Saturday fighting for Humboldt. Dick using his physical strength, and his brother rooting for the team.

Speaking of fighting linemen, Felterwood was scraping every minute of the game.
