CIVIC CLUB ACTIVITY

Editor Lumber-jack:

Ament the "Civic Club" write-up in your recent issue. It is mere ordinary justice which prompts me to reply to the inferred criticism of the College Civic Club. The CCC is a unique organization in that it is a semi-class activity. It is a part of the regular work of the college in civic education. In a sense it is a laboratory course. Its purpose is primarily to put into practical use the principles of citizenship taught in the class. It seeks to be of service to the students of Humboldt in providing for needs both practical and civic which otherwise may not be cared for.

Just a few of the many services it has performed since its organization in 1924. Its first large project was securing lights on the college campus. Before this, the dormitory girls stumbled over to the commons in the dark to get their evening meal. This project involved the raising of over $200. Another project was the development of a spirit of pride and responsibility in the matter of the appearance of the school grounds. A clean-up campaign was put on and receptacles for the deposit of waste paper and refuse were purchased. Some credit for improved conditions in this respect should be given to the CCC. The first pencil sharpener was purchased by the club and placed in the halls for student use. Ink was purchased and placed on a stand in the hall for student use. Thanks were extended to the club by someone throwing stand, ink and all out of the back door. Since then the ink is in the library where it is available for student use. Two benches were purchased and placed on the platform at the south of the commons. One of them was smashed up the first year. The other still remains to be of some service to students. Looking glasses were placed in the girls' dressing rooms. Metal receptacles were purchased and placed in the men's room but they were shortly bootied out. Last year the project

SONS DEFEAT H.S.T.C. 19-7

Humboldt State's gridders went down to defeat 19 to 7 before a superior eleven from Southern Oregon Normal last Friday night under the lamplights of Albee Stadium in Eureka. A small and shivering crowd witnessed the game although our rooting section fairly resounded with noise.

Led by Lancaster and Prouse, halfbacks and Hines, the great colored end, the invaders consistently outplayed the Humboldters but could not score until the latter part of the second quarter when Hines, coming back from end, passed 30 yards over the goal line to Wilson, tackle made eligible by the end dropping back, for the initial score of the game. This touchdown was followed with the completion of the convert.

Ashland scored again in the third quarter, when after Lancaster had galloped twenty yards, Prouse tore around end for 15 yards and a touchdown. The kick for point went wild.

The last Ashland score came in the final quarter when Lancaster broke through tackle and ran through a broken field 45 yards to a touchdown.

Humboldt's only score came in the final period when Sullivan, end, broke through the line and grabbed the ball as it bounced off Hine's shoulder on a high pass from center and ran 35 yards to the goal line.

Ashland started a drive after the opening kickoff with Lancaster halfback, and Prouse, fullback, packing the ball for three first downs. The Humboldt line stiffened however, and took the ball on their own 15 yard line, Guthridge kicking out of danger.

Both teams failed to gain consistently and exchanged punts, after which the locals made their initial first down--taking the visitors by surprise on a lateral pass play, Brantley to Guthridge to Brantley, that netted 25 yards.

Sensing a chance to score, the Humboldters took to the air on the third down and Prouse, husky Oregon back, intercepted Simpson's was providing a medicine chest for the Mexican children.

It may be that the service the club performed in objecting to the use of the inner court for the very commendable activity of golf is at the bottom of the criticism directed against the organization as opposition has developed since that occurrence. But we now have the green plot as a thing of beauty which every student may enjoy and yet this has not been heralded from the house tops.

The CCC is a club which believes in service without the "Whoopie". There is a definite place in good citizenship for a commendably quiet yet effective service in all phases of school life in the world outside. The Civic Club does not have any type of band-wagon equipment to put its name on the map of public acclaim. It believes that it has contributed much, and if it has to suffer to perform its modest service in the future, it will continue to contribute a very essential type of school spirit which will do signal service in making Humboldt College beloved and respected by all who believe in the civic ministry of our higher institutions of learning. It believes that there is a worth while college spirit which goes deeper than mere sound waves and ebullient emotionalism. All that the College Civic Club asks is that it may have the same "open-minded" consideration and tolerance which is accorded to more vociferous organizations. There is a place for both types in any college.

A series of publications of Crater Lake by C. Edward Graves librarian at Humboldt State Teachers College may be seen at the college library. Mr. Graves secretary to the organization known as "Friends of Western Mountains", has prepared and written a series of nine picture letters of Crater Lake. Each letter is accompanied by a photograph taken by Mr. Graves of the portion of the lake with origin and geological features. They make very interesting reading material.

"PEPPY RALLY HELD"

The final rally of the Humboldt Ashland game was held in the Auditorium at eleven-fifty Thursday afternoon. The session opened with a few announcements from "Doggie" Waldner; one of which required all frosh to report for guard duty on the field at Albee Stadium. The frosh, however, did not respond readily to this suggestion until the voice of their master echoed from the rear. George Gregory simply announced, "The Frosh will be there" and immediately all frosh promptly volunteered. "A strange power George has over his Amoeba,"

Yell leader Kas Nellist then called on Coach Telonicher, who stated the fact that many of the boys would be playing their last game with Ashland and were going out there to fight, and fight to win. He also said, "The boys showed lots of fight in Chico, and at times showed too much; fighting among themselves. However, if the fellows use the same fight displayed in Chico, and work equally as hard, they won't have any difficulty in putting the sleds under Ashland and taking them into camp for a good score."

Kas led the group in a couple of snappy yells and called on Miss Herron for a little speech. The women's mentor proceeded to hand the Frosh another good bawling out on lack of support and also handed the student body the same for lack of school spirit.

Mr. Poultny gave a very impressive talk in an attempt to secure a 100 percent turnout for the game. "Why can't the organization of this school do something toward the support of the school and this game? This is an excellent chance for the clubs of this school to show what they're made of. Each club should be able to pledge its members to attend this game 100 percent" went on Mr. Poultny. "If you students will pledge up all your friends, I will pledge each and every one of the faculty members."

pass on his own 15 yard line. Willson punted for Ashland on the third down.

Springing a reverse play that took the visitors some time to solve, the Humboldt team started a drive in the third quarter, with Marshall and Johnson getting away for good gains, that netted three first downs and took the pigskin to the Ashland 30 yard line where they were held and lost the ball on downs. Ashland punted and the Humboldters tallied two more first downs before a 15 yard penalty for holding set them back and they were forced to kick.

The work of Brantley, Guthridge, and Johnson in the Humboldt backfield was outstanding. Benny Marshall went in the game in the last half and stole the honors for Humboldt from then on, making a number of long gains. Maxwell at center and Sullivan at end were the outstanding players on the line.

Ken Brantley accounted for 61 yards through scrimmage for Humboldt and Marshall lugged the ball 38 yards in the second half. Johnson did some brilliant work in the second half both on defense and offense. He returned the kickoff after Ashland's last touchdown for nearly 40 yards before being downed.

The Ashland backfield piled up a total of 306 yards through scrimmage, more than twice the 136 yards gained by Humboldt backs.

Ashland made seventeen first downs to ten for our boys.

The visitors completed three passes for a total of 66 yards, had five incomplete and one intercepted. Humboldt completed two passes for a gain of 21 yards had five incomplete and three intercepted.

Humboldt's starting line-up: Ends, Brandstetter and Sullivan; tackles, Jenkins and Penn; Guards, Derby and Parton; center, Maxwell; quarter-back, Guthridge; halves, Johnson and Simpson; full-back, Brantley; Substitutes were: Waldner, Hale, McKee, Kaski, Endert, Marshall, Murphy and Baxter.

H.S.T.C TO INVADE MONMOUTH

Friday morning, Oct. 17, the Humboldt Gridders will invade Monmouth Oregon, for their third game of the season. They will arrive in Monmouth late Friday evening, and will take the husky Monmouths down the line for a touchdown at two thirty Saturday afternoon. And maybe they can't do it? We'll see. Last season Monmouth invaded Arcata and defeated the Humboldt Gridders by a score of 20-0. The northerners outwitted the Arcata eleven with a clever attack of trick plays. After some time spent in figuring out the method of attack used by the invaders, the Humboldt men fairly stopped the huskys in the remaining quarter.

This year Humboldt makes the trip, and will attempt to defeat her long celebrated foe on her own field of battle. And she won't have any trouble doing it if she continues to play "heads up" football as she has in the past.

FROM THE SIDELINES

Well, Ashland won but that did not stop Bobbie Johnson from starring in the game. Johnson consistently reeled off five to eight yards thru center and off tackle. He hit that line like a locomotive at full speed and as a result reeled off a total yardage of 25-30 yards.

Benny Marshall showed lots of class in the second half, when he relieved Guthridge at the half position. Marshall, handicapped with an injured shoulder, circled S.O.N.S. end for a total yardage of 38 yards.

Excitement was aroused when Sullivan dashed out into the Ashland backfield and picked a fumble off of Hine's shoulder and ran 28 yards to a touchdown.

It also looked as if the Ashland center didn't like the way Big Dud Maxwell handled him. Dud played a great game, spilling plays behind the line for big losses.

Derby and Penn played on even terms, both dumping play after play on the line of scrimmage.

Rollo and Ab looked as good as ever on offense and defense, while Wayne Simpson backed them up from the safety position.

H.S.T.C. TO GROW UP?

Despite the pessimistic attitude taken by some of the students of our college who believe that H.S.T.C. will always be more or less like a high school, there seems to be some hope of getting around the situation.

Incoming students immediately sense something wrong; they usually remark, "Well, this isn't much different than it was at high school." We who have been here for a year or so have become reconciled to the state of affairs and dully answer, "Yes," to the frosh.

We all want the conveniences and social life enjoyed at larger colleges but for the most part we have given up in despair, moaning for what we believe to be our rights, but making little or no effort to change conditions.

The boys are agitating for a den. They had one two years ago, and they showed their appreciation by breaking up the furniture on the freshmen. There has also been considerable agitation for an annual, but from past years experience it seems that those who have favored the project most strongly have done the least actual work. What few evening dances we have had have been so woefully lacking in male attendance that the dormitory girls are becoming disgusted. And who can blame them?

The very fact that the girls are forced to do almost all of the work in preparing for the dances shows that something is wrong. Evidently some of the boys favor the theory of the American Indian.

Furthermore, the W.A.A. seems to be the only lively organization in the institution. A men's organization is conspicuous for its absence. Likely enough, if one were organized no one would get up enough ambition to attend meetings.

Now many, if not all, of the things which seem essential to college life can be acquired by the Humboldt State Teachers College provided that the student body wants them badly enough to work for them.

The proper attitude is the primary essential. WE MAY HAVE A DEN. WE MAY HAVE MORE

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES. A PRINTED NEWSPAPER; RECREATION ROOMS, AND MANY OTHER THINGS WHICH GO TO MAKE UP OUR IDEAL OF WHAT A COLLEGE SHOULD BE. WHETHER WE DO OR NOT DEPENDS UPON YOU, THE STUDENT BODY.

AN ALUMNUS TO STUDY IN GERMANY

Monroe Spaght, 1926 graduate of Humboldt State Teachers College was a recent visitor at the college. Spaght is remembered as taking an active part in scholastic and social activities at Humboldt while a student here. He was a member of the 1926 Lyceum. Spaght has been attending Stanford, and at present is working for a doctor's degree. Spaght expects to study in Germany next year.

HUMBOLDT SPIRIT DISPLAYED AT CHICO

The following letter to Pres. Gist from a faculty member of the state teachers college at Chico is one that speaks for itself.

Dear President Gist: Last Saturday I sat with several other members of our faculty not very far from your boys at the game. I listened with joy at their clean conversation and noted their concern for each other. I feel I must write you to congratulate you--not on a losing team, but on a bit of the best sportsmanship I have seen in years.

The spirit of your boys and their coach, and their courage and pluck, and kindness and consideration for the other fellow was a joy. I know you lost the game, but you left with us something bigger than the memory of a winning team could ever be, otherwise. Again may I congratulate you on such a splendid spirit and such a fine lot of boys and an understanding coach. There must be something back of it all.

I live at the Oaks, and it was a pleasure to have such a team in the hotel. and I wish you better luck next time.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Jessie M. Williams.

PEP BAND ORGANIZED

Humboldt State's recently organized pep band made their first public appearance at the Southern Oregon Normal, Humboldt State Teachers College football game at Albee Stadium in Eureka, Friday night.

The band was organized about two weeks ago by Ruth Carrol, a former member of the Arcata High School band. Miss Carrol obtained the consent of the student body and persuaded it to sponsor the band. In return the band will play at all student body functions where it is needed, and at athletic events.

The full band has twenty one members. However, only thirteen of them turned out for the football game Friday night. Those who played were Ruth Carrol cornet; Elva Quarnheim, trumpet; Ada Sears, trumpet; Hal Brogan, clarinet; Mildred Green, clarinet; Louis Tallman, clarinet; Wilma Wagle, clarinet; Ruth Carson, clarinet; Leo Schussman, Euphonium; Grace Cochran, trombone; Harry Krohn, sousophone; Irvin Jepson, snare drum; Gordon Hadley, bass drum.

BUSINESS MEETING HELD

Literati opened its semesters activities Wednesday night of last week with a business meeting in the auditorium and a program in the social unit.

The matter of subscribing for and of contributing to, a quarterly magazine, to be established by teachers college students of California was presented to the club by Maurice Hicklin of the English department. Karl Cooperrider and Ruel Fick were appointed to correspond with the editor, Carl Holliday, of San Jose, about the matter.

It was decided to hold a Hallowe'en party on the next meeting, and that future meetings will be held on Thursday.

The following program was presented under the direction of Agnes Bourke, after which refreshments were served by Natalie Thornton and Bonita Hughes.

1. Tap Dance--Ione Russell and Hazel Mackley
2. Reading--Louis Tallman
3. Vocal Solo--Marjorie Done
4. Xylophone Solo--Orman Oak
5. Trumpet Solo--Ruth Carroll
6. Instrumental Trio--Herbert Inskip, Mac Armstrong, and George Gregory

WORKING ON GOLF COURSE

Work that was once started on a miniature golf course for Humboldt State and later abandoned is now being resumed and Humboldt students look forward to the day of its completion.

Members of the band who did not play were: Bobby Johnson, trumpet; Barbara Sterrook, clarinet; Ruby Hunt, Saxophone; Louise Wood, saxophone; Walter Monahan, trombone; William Morehouse, trombone; Elda Johnson, trombone; Florence Theophilus, trombone; Audrae Warren, Bass Drum.
