The tooth, which is at least 20,000 years old, probably cano from Trinidad hold where the Pleistocene starts on es down to the coast at the water line. From here it may have been carried southward by the strong litteral currents, and deposited at Samon, where it has buried until the storm which wrocked the Brooklyn caused it to be uncovered and thrown upon the beach.

The tooth, which is eight inches in length and three and one-half inches in width, resembles that of a modern horse and is probably from the left side of the upper jew. Both the roots and the grinding surince are visible. The dentine has been replaced by a quartz material and the test of the tooth is fossilized.

Mr. Howe, as well as other members of the staff, welcomes by material of this sort and wish to encourage the bringing in of interesting discoveries. The tooth will be maded in the colege nuseum and used in teaching.

You cannot count to a trillion. If a Ldam counted continuously from his creation to the present day he would not have reached that number, for it would take him over 9,512 years. At the rate of 200 words a minute, there could be counted 12,000 words an hour, 28,000 a day, and 105,120,000 a year. These figures apply only to a person counting one figure at a time, or by "ones."
