AN EXCITING MOMENT

James Usher as "Grumpy" is trying to get the tell-tale flower from the coat of "Mr. Jarvis", (Chester Groom. "Grumpy" will be given at the Minor Theatre in Arcata Tuesday night, December 19. Proceeds will go toward a fund for the unemployed.

"Grumpy to Aid Unemployed in Arcata

Humboldt State Teachers College is to do its part in aiding the organizations of this community to raise funds for the unemployed.

"Grumpy", the four act mystery play which was presented several weeks ago at Blue Lake, then in the college auditorium in Arcata, and later in Eureka, is to be given on Tuesday evening, December 2, at the Minor Theatre in Arcata under the auspices of the Arcata Post No. 274, American Legion, as a benefit performance.

Lucy Neely McLane, director, had planned to go to Los Angeles at that time, where she had been asked to speak before the association of teachers of Speech, but she has given up the trip in order to remain in Arcata and drill the college students in the cast.

The college orchestra under the leadership of Francis McKay, will also participate in the benefit performance, playing several selections before the show and between acts.

The same cast will present "Grumpy": James Usher as Mr. Andrew Bullivant ("Grumpy"); Irvan Jepsen as Ernest Heron, grand-nephew of "Grumpy"; Clyde Patenaude as Ruddock, valet of "Grumpy"; Chester Groom as Mr. Jarvis, the man of mystery; Dale Merriam as Keble, valet of Jarvis; Louis Tallman as Valentine Wolfe; Lester Dedini as Dr. McLaren; Clarence Milotte as Merriwell; Reuel Fick as Dawson; Dixie Lee Starkey as Virginia Bullivant, "Grumpy's" granddaughter; Ione Hamilton as Mrs. McLaren; and Harriet Finne as Susan.

A committee from Arcata Post of the American Legion is engaged in a ticket selling campaign; the committee hopes to have every seat sold before the night of the performance.

Seats will be seventy-five cents and fifty cents: seventy-five cents for all the downstairs seats and loges, which are upstairs; fifty cents for the remaining upstairs seats. There will be no complimentary tickets.

The entire proceeds from "Grumpy" will be turned over to the unemployment relief fund, which will be handled by a committee chosen from all the organizations in Arcata.

It is not the purpose of the committee to inaugurate a local "dole" system, Lester Johnson of Arcata, Legion committee chairman, said this week. The purpose will be to use the funds to pay for jobs which will be created.

The play "Grumpy" was chosen by the Legion committee for this benefit performance because of the high praise bestowed upon Miss McLane and her student actors by all those who saw the performances given some time ago.

REPRESENT COLLEGE

H. P. Balbanis, Robert Poultney, and Maurice Hicklin of the college faculty, represented the college at the dinner at the Eureka Inn Tuesday night this week in honor of Governor James Rolph, Jr., and a number of state officials.

HUMBOLDT STATE LOSES FINAL GAME

Beaten, but not outclassed, Humboldt State's football team demonstrated that it has plenty of punch and spirit Saturday, November 7, when the Santa Rosa Junior College Bear Cubs took a hard fought 26 to 14 contest in Albee Stadium.

The Green and Gold warriors actually outplayed the invaders throughout the greater portion of the game, but weakened temporarily in the third quarter to allow a pair of touchdowns to be shoved over. That Humboldt played well is evidenced by the fact that she made 18 first downs to 15 for Santa Rosa, and that she completed 11 passes to 2 for her opponents.

Behind, 20 to 7, going into the final period, the Humboldters, combining a passing attack with power plays, swept 80 yards down the field for a touchdown and a convert, leaving them but six points behind. With a chance for victory, the boys became over anxious and the invaders took the ball, marched down the field, and scored the final touchdown of the game, just as a heavy rain started to fall, causing the rest of the game to be played in a sea of mud and water.

Don Gould, who ripped the Bear Cub's line to shreds with his hard plunging, was the outstanding player on the Humboldt team. He gave great demonstrations of how a real fullback hits the line when yardage is needed in shoving over Humboldt's two touchdowns and a convert. After a march down the field to the twenty yard line, in the first quarter, he put his team in the lead by plunging the remaining distance in three downs, making nine yards twice and then pushing the entire Santa Rosa eleven backwards over the line for the last two yards. He scored the other touchdown in the last quarter by plunging the last twenty yards in four mighty line bucks, and then crashed the line for the extra point. He certainly hit hard, and beyond Franny Moore, Bob Murphy, Wayne Simpson, Earl Tatman, and Val Parton also did some good backfield work, both as ball carriers and as interference runners.

Until he was injured in the second quarter, Captain Leo Sullivan had played a great game at end. It was generally believed that it was his absence that caused the team to blow up in the third quarter.

Others who showed up well in the line were "Stick" Carson and Lee Nellist, ends; Ed Johnson, Carl Penn, Franny Nielsen, and Mel Shuster, tackles; Dick Derby, Clarence Heney, and George Gregory, guards; and Rudy Kaski, center.

Even the "fellahs" who didn't get in the game came through with flying colors warming the bench in excellent style.

This was the last game of the season for Coach Fred Telonicher and the Humboldt State team, and most of the boys are pointing to next year when another successful eleven is expected.

Returns from Meeting at Stanford

Miss Craig at Physical "Ed" Conference of Colleges

Miss Ann V. Craig, professor of physical education for women at Humboldt State Teachers College, returned to Arcata Tuesday of this week from a meeting held at Stanford of representatives from all four year colleges and universities in northern California. The meeting was called by N. P. Neilson, chief of the Division of Health and Physical Education of the California Department of Education to consider the revision of requirements for the state physical education and health education credentials, the accreditation of teachers training institutions, and the curriculum for training the general elementary teacher in the fields of health and physical education. A similar meeting for the institutions in the southern part of the state has already been held.

A resolution was passed that Mr. Neilson appoint chairmen to work over a period of two years with committees on these specific problems, and that the findings of these committees be printed after they are integrated.

May Change Plan

Although definite action will not come until reports of the findings, Miss Craig said today that it was probable that within several years, the requirements for obtaining the physical education credential will be raised from four years of college work to five years. This would put the physical education credential on the same basis with other secondary, or high school credentials, all of which require a minimum of five years of work. At present any one who obtains the physical education credential at Humboldt, by completing the four-year course, can teach physical education in high school as well as in elementary school.

The conference Miss Craig attended was held at Stanford University. She also visited the departments of physical education for women at San Jose State Teachers College and at San Francisco State Teachers College.

Hiking an Activity

She was much interested in San Jose's plan of making hiking an extra curricular activity to include both men and women, students as well as faculty. Their first group hike was taken on Armistice Day, about thirty-five participating.

San Francisco State Teachers College is this year offering soccer as a sport for women, for the first time. At San Francisco, incidentally, the women's basketball season will come after the men's basketball season closes, since both men and women use the same gymnasium.

At Stanford this year, Miss Craig said, the Stanford Women's Athletic Association was hostess at a triangular Play Day which included women from the University of California, from Mills College, and from Stanford. This is an annual affair.

College-Hi School Tennis

Scheduled for this week—the weather permitting—are more college-high school tennis matches, this time being doubles. Pairings announced by Miss Monica Wright, instructor in physical education at Humboldt, and Jack Elmore of the High School, follow, the college teams in each case being named first:

Men's doubles: Brogan and Guintini vs Lester and Fanucchi; Woodcock and Derby vs Fountain and Linser; Sundberg and Samons vs Graves and Matsen; Mendes and Oak vs Davis and a partner to be named later.

Women's doubles: Lucille Winter and Amy Vance vs Bertha Sanford and Virginia Torp; Alice Renfro and Ruth Carroll vs Marie Nielsen and Marie Nordquist; Grace Cochrane and Ruth Carson vs Alice Barter and Jean Baldwin.

Cage Practice Will Start Monday

All Those Who Turn Out Will Have Chance, Says Coach

A wide open scramble for positions on the Humboldt State basketball team will be started Monday with the first official practice of the season. Although there will be five lettermen out, Coach Fred Telonicher has announced that no one has a position clinched and that any one who shows up well will be given a chance.

Telonicher plans to enter the college team in the Independent League this season to defend the championship cup won last year after a hard fight. Six games are already lined up on the intercollegiate schedule and more may be added later. Santa Rosa Junior College will come here January 22 and 23 for a pair of games, and on February 5 and 6 the local cagers will meet the San Francisco State Teachers in Kezar Pavilion, San Francisco. A third double header will be played against the Southern Oregon Normal School five here. The date of the latter two contests has not yet been set.

Several of the stars who helped Humboldt win the county championship last year have been lost by graduation and two others are just recovering from injuries received during the past football season and will not be at their best for some time. Leo Sullivan and Howard Gregersen are the two convalescents and Telonicher intimated that they may encounter difficulty earning their positions back if they are too long recovering and the new material is as strong as he expects.

The largest turnout in college history is expected Monday. Already this week several men have been working out in the gym and great enthusiasm is being shown. Many of those who have signified their intentions of turning out evidently have had little or no experience, but Telonicher feels that anyone who shows proper spirit and fight will develop into a good cager.

Coach Telonicher stated that he would keep several men at each position and that those who showed the stuff would get to play.

Besides the five lettermen, every member of last year's freshmen team will turn out. There are rumors circulating to the effect that several former high school cage stars plan to enter here after Christmas, but as yet, nothing definite has been learned. The five lettermen are: Leo Sullivan, Howard Gregersen, Glenn Waldner, Jack Simpson, and Haven Howatt. Last year's frosh team was very successful although the entire squad was composed of rather short players. Graduates of the first year team who are varsity material now are: Marion McFarland, Ugo Guintini, Percy Finley, Wayne Simpson, Earl Tatman, Franny Moore, and Lee Nellist.

Others who are expected to make strong bids for positions are: James Hemphill, Pearce Quintrell, Ed Johnson, Clyde Patenaude, Franny Nielsen, Dick Derby, Bob Murphy, Rudy Kaski, Don Gould, "Pinky" Gallagher, Oscar Jordfald, Harold Brogan, Cedric Jasper, Calmer Kincaid, Rollo Guthridge, Clarence Heney, Ralph Buxton, Mel Christopher, Neville Crosby, Dale Merriam, Bert Munther, Ed Samons, Jack Williams, and Wilson Woodcock.

Bob Murphy, last year a member of the Samoa Blue Devils, was voted the most valuable player to his team by the league officials at the close of the season. He should greatly strengthen the Humboldt team.

"Free" Phone Needed

"Got two nickels for a dime?"

"Loan me five cents, will yuh?"

"There's a telephone call on the board for me and it takes a nickel to call back."

The above can be heard every day as students run frantically to and fro in search of a nickel to answer a telephone call posted on the bulletin board. In most cases the students do not mind parting with the necessary five cents, but as a rule they do resent the valuable moments wasted chasing down the correct change.

All this confusion could be avoided by installing a phone for local calls only instead of the pay station now in use. The only reason for the present system is to make students pay for their own long distance calls, which is perfectly just. The pay station could be kept for out-of-town calls, while another phone for local communication only would be greatly appreciated by both students and faculty members, not only from a financial standpoint, but from the fact that it would do away with much "red tape".

Talk to Gym?

While on the subject of telephones, one cannot help but notice the fact that there is no real efficient means of communication between the office and the gymnasium. On rainy days it works a great hardship on the secretary or others desiring to communicate with instructors or students who happen to be in the gym at the time. We recommend that the administration at least consider the installation of an outside telephone, or if this proves to be too expensive, for the benefit of Miss Davies and all concerned, steps should be taken toward installing an inside telephone. We're looking forward to the day when this will be a fact.

More Athletic Contests

While discussing possible inter-collegiate schedules for our athletic teams recently, the plan of entering the Junior College Conference of Central California was proposed! This in itself would present a mammoth undertaking for us, but it did start some of the students and faculty members thinking seriously on the matter. Other plans followed rapidly, and perhaps the most feasible one was the following: When drawing up the season's schedule for any sport, Humboldt State should work in conjunction with the J. C. Conference and schedule non-conference games with teams on vacant dates. Although Humboldt would not be a conference member, she would be enabled to play these teams and to gradually work up a reputation which would warrant her entry in this league later on. We would like to see some steps taken to investigate this matter.

Keep Room Clean

The smoking room in the north end of the building will be only as neat and clean as the men students of Humboldt State permit it to be. Although no agitation is stirred up over the breaking of furniture, there should be a limit to throwing food material on the floor. There is no objection to students eating in the smoking room but they should deposit banana skins, remains of sandwiches, etc., in the receptacle placed there for that purpose. These particles of food, when stepped on and kicked around, give the room a very mussy appearance, besides causing the janitors more trouble in cleaning up.

By College News Service

Upperclassmen in colleges and universities throughout the country this week were wondering just what they will have to show for their education in the face of the recent Carnegie report purporting to prove that the average freshman possesses knowledge equivalent to or above that of a senior.

The report, prepared by Dr. Henry Smith Pritchett for the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, and based upon examinations administered to 10,000 college students in various parts of Pennsylvania, blames the asserted failure of the American educational system to educate on a lack of coordination of the specific items of knowledge.

Dr. Pritchett's conclusions have caused a storm of discussion, and, in a large number of cases, animated protest in higher educational institutions all over the United States. This is reflected in student editorials, which are inclined to take only half seriously the comparison between freshmen and seniors.

The Indiana Daily Student, however, admits that "such accusations are interesting" and comments favorably upon the new tendency to excuse students from required courses when they successfully pass examinations.

The Chronicle of Duke University goes further, and aims a blow at the entire system of compulsory courses, an essential part of what Dr. Pritchett termed the "credit coinage" play of college education.

Though The Chronicle disagrees "emphatically" with the conclusion that "the average undergraduate has reached the peak of his knowledge by the end of his freshman year," the editor is of the opinion that "the sooner students may choose their own subjects for study instead of laboring with subjects in which they have no interest and which have no interest for them, all the more soon such accusations that the college educational system is failing will cease."

On the other hand, many educators, as well as student leaders, were inclined to believe that Dr. Pritchett had perhaps interpreted his examination results too broadly, since he apparently based his conclusions upon the relative knowledge of undergraduates.

Whether, in truth, the educator had shown a tendency to confuse a definition of "knowledge," as opposed to intelligence, was a question much in debate. It might be, it was pointed out, that the American system did not fall quite so short of its goal in seeking to educate individuals in the art of "knowing how" and in the achievement of a "broader understanding," rather than an accumulation of word definitions and unrelated data.

PASADENA, Nov. 3 (CN)—American scholarship and ingenious research methods again startled the intellectual world this week with the announcement that two California Institute of Technology research workers have developed a "crystal spectrometer" to aid in photographing the elusive dynamic electron.

The announcement came from Rome, Italy, where Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the Institute's executive council was attending an international Institute.

Photographs showing the activities of two electrons in beryllium, a hard, silver-white metallic element, were shown to the conference, and methods of computing the velocity of the electrons were explained.

Dr. Millikan also announced that he had segregated cosmic rays into four elements, helium, oxygen, silicon and iron. His findings were verified by Professor Arthur Compton of the University of Chicago, and by Madame Curie, co-discoverer of radium.

PULLMAN, Wash. Oct. 31, (CN)—"Counter-jumping," dishwashing and other means of student self-support are not inimical to scholastic standing, according to the results of an intensive statistical survey announced at Washington State College this week.

EVANSTON, Ill. Nov. 4 (CN)—Collegiate co-operation with Chicago officials in combating the underworld is being discussed on the Northwestern University campus here this week, following the initiation of a large number of students and faculty members into the secrets of the "Secret Six."

Al Capone and his gangster lieutenants were vividly described to a student-faculty luncheon gathering at the Orrington hotel by Col. Isham Randolph, chairman of the "hex" committee.

Professors as well as students became wide-eyed as the anti-crime leader described the manner in which investigators traced cashier's checks and other documents through Chicago's financial institutions in procuring the evidence that has brought the notorious vice king to grief in the Federal courts on charges of falsifying his income tax reports.

The Secret Six, already famous in the annals of journalism and in the cinema world, was formed only a year ago by industrial leaders of the city in such a way that no one of them knew who the other five were.

Current rates charged for "bumping a guy off" range from $50 to $300 in Chicago, but if President Walter Dill Scott of the university were the victim it would cost more, because he is a "big shot," the colonel said.

In the famous "pineapple primaries" of 1928, Chicago University students, 200 in number, voluntarily served without pay as watchers at polling places throughout the windy city. Many of them, it was said, had enlightening as well as thrilling experiences.

H.S.T.C. STUDENT CAUSES GIGANTIC DISTURBANCE IN LITERARY POND

Young Simpson broke his heart when he fell on a round pebble. He came to with the following on what he calls his mind:—

Well, it was one of those dark and stormy nights when the moon was awful clear and all that rot, when I stumbled onto a giant bear cub. I ups with my Shock Absorber, Jr., and handed him a nifty back hander of about 5000 watt velocity. He shuddered, rolled, and leapt a cables length, and when the fog and rain cleared away I could hear the harbor bells clanging dimly on the shore (by the way, that was the same night I met "her"—she was on the River St. Marie, and oh—whata babe!). Well, to get back to my bear skin. A few hours later I woke up in a cave. It was so dark that I couldn't even see my Ingersoll. Faugh—Watta night! Well, realizing that there was only one thing to do—to eliminate myself from the eternal bondage that should follow—I grabbed me by the neck and pulled myself together. I was punch drunk—just like Carl Penn. And yo!—There it was again! Two fierce eyes penetrating the absence of light and I decided to be master of my fate. A terrible struggle ensued. It was awful—yes, even terrible. Blood! Bodys! Broken bottles! Wet sponges! Knashing of teeth and everything that goes with a good fight. But soon the worm was to turn. I could feel myself winning—ah, at last he subdued. I strangled him, Choked him, considered his adam's apple, and let him lay, still kissable, but life extinct. I groped in the dark to find the key to my happiness (the door in the cave, in plain English). Pretty soon the sun came out and I remembered that it was night last night. Today was a new step on the way to success, and all I had to do was to be alert, mail the coupon and buy a Rolls Royce. As the smoke gradually turned to love, as smoke does in spring, I saw that I had emerged the victor and it wasn't night, that I hadn't fought with a rattlesnake, that it was merely noontime at dear old Humboldt and I had been attacked by Davitt, Hogan, and Tattman.

Notes And Ideas From Other Camp

By LOUIS TALLMAN

Santa Barbara has recently revised its yell list. The new list numbers eleven, and they are very good.

From the Santa Barbara Roadrunner exchange we have taken the following which may be of interest to some of the students. "A rule has been set by the Dean of Women at the University of Missouri which prohibits co-eds from talking to men on the street for more than three minutes at a time and from going to the dentist's without a chaperon." Lot's of fun.

According to the University of Washington Daily, the average co-ed is 18.91 years old, weighs 104.44 pounds, and is 5 feet 4.16 inches tall. The average male student is 19.33 years old, tips the scales at 146.62 pounds, and reaches the height of 5 feet 8.99 inches.

This office was recently in receipt of the "Souvenir Edition" of the U. of R. Campus, organ of the University of Redlands. The paper was printed entirely with red ink. Its main purpose seemed to be getting pep aroused for their game with Pomona, which Redlands won.

The band of Santa Barbara was recently presented with new uniforms which were furnished by the student body. The new uniform consists of white military coats, trousers and shoes. The white caps have a green insignia, and green Sam Browne belts were to be provided later.

This band question ought to be pursued further. We have the nucleus of a good band in this school, and besides there are many students in school who have played in high school bands, but seem to be afraid to help out OUR band. If it is because they think that they are too good for a beginning band, they should take into consideration that nothing functions just right at the beginning, but with help will grow by leaps and bounds. The bands of Santa Barbara State and San Francisco State are also new bands, but they have school spirit enough to keep going.

An interesting account of the Humboldt-Southern Oregon Normal School game was in the S. O. N. S. paper. It gave a very good account of the game. One of the amusing parts was an account of "Parton, a young fellow from Nevada, who was so tough that he couldn't even be trusted with a good jersey."

Another part that can be taken as you please, was their speaking of winning from Humboldt as a "habit".

Varsitytowns Are Right

Listening to young fellows . . .
university men who enthuse over Varsitytowns is part of our job in fact, it's become a habit around here.

This Spring, though we were hardly prepared for the reception and the round of applause they received. . . really they've claimed the individual attention of every young man who knows clothes.

When you see them you'll have one too!

PRICED FROM $25 to $35.
