

Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities

Volume 3

Article 12

2020

Untitled

Finnegan Thurlo

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.humboldt.edu/rwc>

Recommended Citation

Thurlo, Finnegan (2020) "Untitled," Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities: Vol. 3 , Article 12.
Available at: <https://digitalcommons.humboldt.edu/rwc/vol3/iss1/12>

This Poetry Informational/Argument is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at Digital Commons @ Humboldt State University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Celebrating Writers and Writing in our Communities by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ Humboldt State University. For more information, please contact kyle.morgan@humboldt.edu.

Untitled

By Finnegan Thurlo

Many people in holes
Their culture stripped bare
The genocide unfolds
Acknowledge it was there

Constantinople
resistant to their end
Now that it's Istanbul
To whom will it offend

To all of those
Forced out of their land
Your story won't die
Although it's hanging by a strand

While we live for happiness
While we live to be free
This genocide must be seen
By humans like you and me

Hierarchy of power
Silence large crowds
But if you don't say anything
I will be more loud