What! No Work? Ask Mr. Jeffers

At 10 o'clock Monday morning Edmund Jeffers of the college music department appeared before the special assembly and led his crack college orchestra in its first public assembly.

Then Mr. Jeffers hurried to Eureka, for he had to lead the teachers at the institute in group singing.

Then he lead 'em again Monday afternoon. Then he addressed the high school music teachers section. Then he turned soloist and, with Mrs. Jeffers as his accompanist, sang for the teachers' reception in Eureka Monday evening.

Then Tuesday morning and afternoon he again led institute group singing in Eureka. Then Tuesday evening he sang a solo at the Humboldt College Alumni banquet in Arcata.

Then Wednesday, more institute "community singing." Then he led a chorus of men teachers which he had organized and drilled when he wasn't leading some other group, or addressing them, or singing himself.

Then Saturday night he will sing at a Mills College dinner in Eureka.

Then, during the rest of the time this week, he has been doing his regular teaching and holding his regular rehearsals.

Ho, hum; 'tis a dull week.

Katheryn Cloney has been appointed chairman of the tea which the Women's Hospitality committee is planning for freshmen and new students.

The tea which is to be very informal, will take place on Thursday afternoon, October 26. Other committee members will be announced later.

TO CONTINUE 15 CENT LUNCH

The Commons' 15-cent plate luncheons are to be continued all this winter, because they have been such a success, according to Miss Ellen O. Johnson, Commons director.

It was tried out during the summer school, and liked so well that it was continued on in the fall.

FOURTEEN MEN IN GOLF CLASS

The Physical Education Department has organized a golf class for all students interested in golf at this school. Fourteen boys have signed up for this class. The golfers are divided up into two groups. One of the groups meets at the Arcata Golf Course on Thursday mornings for their instructions. The others will meet on Friday afternoons.

Harry Roberts, professional golfer, will be the instructor. Two hours instruction will be given. The Thursday classes start at 10 a. m. and the afternoon classes at 2 p. m.

The students will be required to practice one hour each week in the golf cage at school.

Harold Brogan, Heath Fredrickson, Robert Coons, Roy Ivanich, Oliver Viale, Harmon Minor, Ugo Giuntini, Thomas Bland, Herbert Nelson, Ernest Pierson, David Nielson, Jay Jones, Gerald Henry and Louis Tallman.

Rules Made For Writing Contest

Rules for those planning to compete for the prize offered by President and Mrs. Gist for the best creative writing by Humboldt students this year have been formulated by the Humboldt English department.

The type of writing is to be an essay, formal or informal, not to exceed 2500 words, subject to be chosen by the student. Essays, which are to be typed if possible, are to be submitted unsigned, the title to be the only identification. Contestants will also hand in a sealed envelope with information which will enable the judges, after they have made their decision, to identify the writers. All manuscripts must be in by May 1, 1934.

Phyllis Quinn Back From Extensive Trip

Miss Phyllis Quinn, a junior at Humboldt State Teachers College spent an extensive vacation with her parents, visiting the Central and New England states, returning via Canada, which caused her to enroll four weeks late this semester.

Aside from the many historical places that Miss Quinn was able to visit in the New England states, she had the opportunity to see the World Fair at Chicago, which she believes was alone worth the trip.

Botany Class to Propagate Plants

J. Wendell Howe, assistant professor of biological science, announces that the botany class will start propagating new plants from seed and cuttings for the college campus. Professor Howe asks that students, when they do their winter shrub-trimming, bring in cuttings from the shrubs to help the botany department start a campus nursery without any expense to the state. Tough, woody plants, such as cationaster or abella, are desired.

The propagation work is to be done in the new hothouse, west of the gymnasium.

Kiwanis Club Hears College Professor

J. Wendell Howe, of the college science department, spoke recently at the Hotel Arcata, to the Kiwanis Club on "Our Search for New Sources of Energy."

Mr. Howe told of the experiments being carried on in various universities, especially California, to smash atoms and use the energy. Mr. Howe gave the following example: In one gum drop there is enough energy to raise 300,000 gallons of ice water to the boiling point.

MYSTERY PLAY NEXT THURSDAY

"INTERFERENCE" COACHED BY GARFF B. WILSON NEW INSTRUCTOR

Next Thursday, October 19, "Interference," a three-act mystery play, will be presented in the Humboldt State Teachers College auditorium at 8 p. m. Garff B. Wilson, the new associate professor of speech, is coaching the play.

The story of the play follows: Sir John Marley, who has just discovered a serum for the cure of paralysis, is sought after by newspaper reporters. He favors Douglas Helder, reporter for the "Cable," who is in love with Barbara, Sir John's niece. Two reporters try to interview Sir John only to find out that the one thing he hates above all is interference in his life. Sir John implies that he would go to very drastic extremes to stop the interference.

Philip Voaze, ex-husband of Lady Marley, consults Sir John about his health. Voaze meets Lady Marley, and discovers that she is being blackmailed by Deborah Kane, an ex-fiancee of Philip who delights in tormenting Lady Marley. Sir John and Lady Marley were not legally married. Sir John is at the peak of his career, where scandal would easily ruin his life. When Voaze tells Sir John about the blackmailing, Sir John goes to see Deborah and

Faculty Members Are Guests at Reception

The faculty members of the Humboldt State Teachers College, of the Arcata high school and grammar school were guests of the Arcata Woman's Club at an informal reception in the club house recently.

A delightful program was then enjoyed consisting of the following numbers: Vocal selections, "Indian Dawn" and "Kashmiri Song," by Leonard Hartman with Miss Ione Hamilton at the piano; piano solos, "Fashionette" and "Moon Indigo," played by Miss Mae Spetz; vocal solos by Mrs. Kay Garrison of Eureka, who sang "Pale Moon" by Vera Gray, "Rain, Rain, Rain" by Logan and "Allah's Holiday" by Frimil. She was accompanied by Mrs. Cliff Johnson of Eureka. The concluding number on the program consisted of two songs and dances by Beverly Gosselin of Eureka.

Dainty refreshments concluded the pleasant evening. Mrs. Roy Sorenson was chairman of the affair and was assisted by the following members: Mrs. Robert Poultny, Mrs. Winfield Bledsoe, Mrs. H. T. Cluxton, Mrs. Horace Jenkins, Mrs. Harold Jackson, Mrs. E. W. Durston, Mrs. A. O. Cooperrider, Mrs. Len Yocom, Mrs. Homer Arnold, Mrs. Vernon L. Hunt, Mrs. C. L. Bonstell, Mrs. Hildegard Hadley and Miss Elinore Yocom.

2040 - Pound Catalo Object of Field Trip

Jumbo, a 2040-pound four-year-old catalo was the objective of a field trip by Robert H. Poultny's heredity class the fifth period, Thursday, September 28.

Catalos are hybrids produced by crossing domestic cattle and the American bison.

In appearance the catalo resembles each ancestor in some respects, and differs from both in several. It resembles the bison in having fur instead of hair, in having a low-set head, humped back, and short tail. It resembles beef cattle in its straighter back line, in its shorter legs and depth of after-body. In common with most hybrids the catalo is larger and is said to be more intelligent than either parental strain.

A Mystery Thriller

Be sure and attend the mystery play next Thursday night. It promises to be a real thriller, and thrills are rather scarce nowadays. "Interference," the name is even catchy and should have everyone guessing. Garff Wilson, coach of the play, and the members of the cast have been working their heads off so that they can give us a thrill. Are we going to the play? Can a fish swim?

The play will be the first public production of Mr. Wilson at Humboldt State. Let's go to the play and give our new assistant of speech a real welcome. A special price of 35 cents has been made for college students and 50 cents for outsiders.

A Perfect Fire, But?

It was noticed that a good turnout of college students was present at the San Francisco-Humboldt game last week, but why those students couldn't make more noise than they did is rather annoying. Of course the day might have been so hot that everyone just felt too lazy to yell. We will drop the game and step back to the night preceding the game.

Do you remember the fire at the bonfire rally? It was a perfect fire as far as fires go, but the rally was the biggest flop that ever took place at Humboldt State. What was the matter? Where was the organization at the bonfire rally? Why was the pep band so peppy? Where was the pep that Humboldt State brags about? Who is the cause for lack of the organization? Is it the students, leaders or what? Why did the crowd stay up on the hill? Why didn't the students serpentine around the fire? Why couldn't the speakers be heard? Why was the dance a big success? Carl Owen and his committee deserves lots of credit but they can't do everything. See if you can answer the questions and then apply them to yourself and see if you did your part.

Paul M. Ely, Humboldt '33, won the $50 first prize offered by the Humboldt Bakery of Eureka, in a bread-naming contest whose results were announced last week.

The Women's Athletic Association of Humboldt, it was said, measures up to the standards set by the national organization in all particulars and will not have to make any radical changes to comply with the requirements of the American Federation of College Women.

Miss Ellen Johnson, dean of women at Humboldt State, gave a short talk on the work of the W. A. A. Miss Ruth Carroll presided at the meeting.

Adds Two Members

Mary Emily Speier, upperclass student, and Emylou Grove, freshman student, were chosen as new members of the Tap Dancing Club at a tryout Wednesday noon in the auditorium. Next tryout for club membership will be held at the end of the semester.

The charter members of this club are Amy Vance, Dolores Henders, Ruth Carson, Lucile Winter and Donna Ivancich. Amy Vance is the club president, and Miss Monica Wright is the faculty advisor. Meetings are to be held once a week on Friday from 8 to 9 a. m. in the big gymnasium.

The purpose of this organization is to have ready programs when called upon to perform for the student body. public appearance is to be at the Bonfire Rally tomorrow night. They will present a tap routine during the intermission at the dance. Mary Emily Speier will accompany them on the piano.

Presidents Box

Do we have too many college students in America? Yes, we have too many attending and too many graduating each year, if we consider only the narrow occupational objective of a college education. We have too many now in many professions, too many trained for leadership with no outlet for this superior training and ability. However, we have too many in most walks of life, too many to earn comfortable livings without radical changes in our industrial conditions.

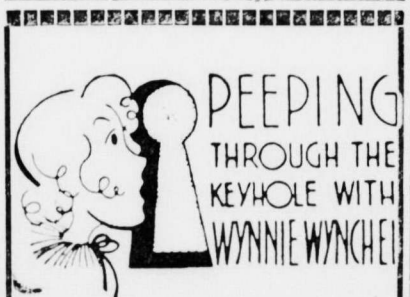

The President's message in the last issue of the Lumberjack pointed out other objectives of a college education, namely a better understanding of the world's problems and greater appreciation of the best in life in all ages. While a college education is not absolutely necessary it is a tremendous help in our understanding and in our solution of the most perplexing social and economic problems. A college education, furthermore, tends to develop and to cultivate our emotional natures so that we are better able to appreciate the best of the world's productions in all fields.

Too many college students and college graduates? Less than 1 per cent of the population take advantage of a college education. Is that too many when we consider how involved our problems have become? Is it too many when we consider the importance of using our increased leisure profitably?

Signed:
ARTHUR S. GIST,
President.

A little investigation will conclusively prove to doubters that Humboldt has a bit of tradition to which no other institution of higher learning may lay claim. At most colleges, free cigarettes are distributed to the incoming freshmen at the welcoming rally. Humboldt extends to her new students the signal honor of providing smokes for the upperclassmen throughout the entire year.

J. Wendell Howe, assistant professor of biological science, says that the college hothouse has proven successful. It is equipped with 40 flats for the plants, and although having no artificial heat yet, has averaged from 15 to 20 degrees warmer than the outside air after the sun has left its surface.

Well, Saturday's our "Big Game" at Daly's . . . opening day of the year's greatest sale . . . and we're all set!

I'm what you might call a yell-leader over here . . . and this is what I want to shout about to Humboldt State Co-Eds:

A grand and glorious bunch of clever wool dresses . . . eutest things you've ever seen . . . to sell at $6.96! Sizes 14 to 20 . . . the best colors and you'll be crazy about the nifty bows and gadgets used to "dress up" these tailored frocks.

As gal to gal . . . better rush over Saturday for a dress you can wear all season. Okay gang, let's GO!!!

WINNIE.

DALY'S

Frosh Gold Cap Is Humboldt Innovation

For the first time at Humboldt the freshmen must wear "dinks." The caps arrived recently and were purchased by all freshmen for 27 cents. So far no freshman has broken the rule of not buying a "dink." It was hoped, however that some of the under classmen would forget, but there was no such luck.

The sophomores are keeping their eyes open for anyone who forgets to wear his bright colored cap. Only one freshman has received the "ten swats" for forgetfulness. Harold Merriam forgot his "dink" not long ago, and at the regular assembly he blushing took his paddling before the student body. About 20 other freshmen were on display before the students but they were paddled just on general principles.

An interesting plan, attempting to combine theory and practice in an upper division course in playwriting, is being conducted at Saint Mary's College under the direction of Brother Henry of the English department.

BASKETBALL MEN AWAITING CALL

Well, it looks like the pigskin days are over for the season of 1933 at H. S. T. C. The fellows seem to be somewhat down hearted after all the practicing they have gone through for only two games. The suits will be put away in moth balls, and saved for another year which we hope to be greater than ever.

With such pep as the men on the squad had this year, it is going to be rather tough to hang up the football shoes, and spring forth in an entirely new costume. For some, they will find it is much easier to run in a basketball suit, and they will be really surprised at themselves the first few nights.

Coach Fred is going to have the chances of a great basketball team this year, with all the material that will turn out at the sound of the first call. There are many fellows that can't wait for the first call and are working out now.

The college has lost but two men from last year's squad. Glenn Waldner, a guard, and Jack Simpson, a forward; these two fellows have played some great games for the college, and will be missed. The reserves will be back with their team just waiting for a break at anyone's position that is open, and they haven't lost a man from last year. They won the majority of the games, and are after all the games they can get this year, and defeat does not down them.

So farewell to you king football, and hall to you basketball, from outdoors to indoors, and if the basketball team has the old fight the football team had this year they won't be beaten.

J. Wendell Howe, of the science department, has a Sunday morning discussion class for students interested in the origin of various religions. It meets from 10 to 11 a. m. in the Arcata Presbyterian Church.

This class offers each student a chance to form his own ideas as to the Christian faith. No special denomination is represented at the class.

Present Sweaters to Outstanding Athletes

Athletic honor sweaters were awarded to Carl Penn, Dale Merriam and Ugo Giuntini at a regular meeting of the students of Humboldt State Teachers College recently.

The honor sweater is the highest type of athletic award any man can get at Humboldt. To earn a sweater it is necessary to participate in four years of any one sport or through a point system whereby one year of active competition in any one sport will count as one point. Six points are necessary to get a sweater.

Giuntini won his sweater by playing two years of football, three years of baseball, and one year of tennis. Merriam played four years of baseball, and Penn played three years of football and three years of baseball. Men who got their sweaters last year are Wayne Simpson, Gordon Hadley and Jack Simpson.

Timmons Is Heavy Batter for All-Stars

Charlie Timmons, pitcher on the Humboldt State nine, is the leading batter for the Redwood All-Stars, a team made up of fellows from the neighboring towns. Other college men who are playing for the Redwood All-Stars, are: James Hemphill, Len Hartman and Mel Christopher.

The batting averages of the men are as follows:

Player	AB	R	H	Av.
Timmons	19	4	10	.526
Hemphill	33	7	12	.364
Hartman	27	8	7	.259
Christopher	5	1	1	.200

The Redwood All-Stars have been playing a number of games with different C. C. C. outfits and have kept their slate clean thus far.

Championships Held By Young Students

The national archery championships for both men and women are now held by 17-year-old high school students.

Ralph Miller, Jr., of Seattle, the new men's champion, dethroned the veteran professional Russell Hoogerhyde, Bristol, Connecticut, at the 53rd annual tournament of the National Archery Association held in St. Louis, August 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, by the close score of 430 hits 2492 points to Hoogerhyde's 430-2486, for the combined double American and double York rounds. Clinton Douglas, Los Angeles, was third with 414 hits and 2392 points, and Malvern Spansel of Pacific Grove, California, fourth, with a total of 395-2357.

Last year Humboldt lost to Santa Rosa 20 to 12. The team this year is anxious to avenge that defeat and the members of the team are waiting to see if they will have a chance to revenge the defeat administered them last year.

Behind the Curtain

Humboldt Thespians are modest. They cower in fear when attacked by the poised pencil of the news hunter. They cast furtive glances to the right and left and when no avenue of escape presents itself they mutter some remark oblivious of the pencil which hurries on making wierd Hieroglyphics which represent the actors and actresses week — before — the — performance — feelings.

Jessie Hinch maintains that it is a utterly new sensation for her to remain a corps throughout an act. Jessie's great thought—even as a corps. "My opinion of the play Hm-m-m-m-m." This is from "McSnoop" Owen. Come and see Francis Siedell in a negligee "But", she adds, "I'm not the only one. Jessie has to wear one to."

Wilson Belloni and La Verne Starkey who provide the youth interest have decided to let their actions speak for themselves. La Verne likes something else about the play that wouldn't look good on paper. Louis Tallman the dignified Doctor Sir John Marley who fears interference, plays the role with the finesse of Arliss. Maybe it's the dignity of the part that affects him in real life—who knows?

And then there's Mr. Julius Hooven who returns from the dead and Mr. Terry Myers who refused five dollars to tell what kind of soap Marley uses, Alma Ruth Sweet as the bumbling old lady, Barme, is another of the droll people who help make up the cast of "Interference." It's a play you shouldn't miss.

Remember the date, October 19, at the Humboldt State Teachers College.

CONSULT CALENDAR FOR DATES

I wonder why students persist in scheduling meetings of various sorts which conflict with dates already posted, when it has been agreed upon by all organizations and everyone concerned that no meeting dates shall conflict with one another. This is only a matter of courtesy and should be duly regarded. I have reference in particular to Tuesday, the meeting day of the Y. M. C. A. It only takes a little thoughtfulness and consideration so that all the clubs, organizations, etc., can work in harmony, so I suggest that everyone hereafter consults the bulletin board for open dates.

World's Record Made In Flight Shooting

A new modern world's record for flight (distance) shooting with wooden bow and arrow was made by Curtis Hill, Dayton, Ohio, at the national archery tournament at St. Louis last August. Mr. Hill, shooting in the "free style" event with his bow strapped to his feet and drawing the string with the fingers of both hands, made a shot of 518 yards.

Homer Prounity, Portland, Oregon, in the "regular style" flight shooting contest during the same tournament, also established a new record of 478 yards. Archers using the regular style in flight shooting stand upright, and draw the bowstring with one hand while grasping the bow with the other.

Clarence Milotte Returns From Archaeological Expedition

Clarence Milotte, who has recently re-registered at Humboldt State Teachers College, has just returned from Guatemala, where he was a member of an archaeological expedition sponsored by the Carnegie Institute under the direction of men from Columbia University.

The expedition left last April and was one of a series being made into the interior of Guatemala. The first was made in 1925 to discover, if possible, the reasons for the extinction of the Mayan Indians, whose civilization flourished not more than five or six centuries ago.

The members of the expedition, according to Mr. Milotte, have come to the conclusion that the extinction of the Mayas was due to economic reasons. It seems that the Mayan civilization was built up on the shores of a series of small lakes, which were virtually the nation's means of subsistence. The lakes furnished the only mode of travel, because the vegetation was such that land travel was difficult. The race also obtained their water supply and a great part of their food supply from these lakes. When these lakes dried up for some unknown reason, the race either perished or moved away and left the country to the elements.

Another expedition is to be sent out next spring to continue this research and Mr. Milotte has been invited to join it.

Mr. Milotte, next spring, may go to the University of New Mexico to study the hieroglyphics peculiar to the Mayans, to prepare for next year's expedition.

Spasmodic Wanderings

The following articles written by C. T. Schwarzkopf might be called an impression of Humboldt by an outsider. In fact that is just what it is. Schwarzkopf, a new student at Humboldt is new to the county and the county is new to him. For a number of years he sailed the seven seas, which has afforded him much experience.

By C. T. SCHWARZKOPF

Maybe this is only "taking coal to a man from Newcastle," but how many of us pause in the daily frenzied rush, and appreciate for a moment the truly idyllic (is that the right word?) setting of our college?

Here we are, upon a classic hill, with panorama unrivalled at our feet, and no charge to look at it as long as we like. Arcata, with its flower gardens, pretty white homes, and the forest primeval coming down to the very back yards. The colorful ever changing pastel of the bay, ruffled here and there by a touch of wind, or reflecting the wondrous hues of a sunset that cannot be put on any canvas. A steam schooner plying over toward Samoa, or maybe a tiny toy train crawling out onto the long wharf. Eureka, looking mysterious in the distant haze and smoke. And it is good to see the smoke again, isn't it?—there was all too little of it for a while. Then look out onto the horizon at the cool, mystic fog of the eternal sea. Listen, if you will, and you can hear the soothing rumble of the great rollers, ending a long voyage from the Orient, against our beaches and cliffs.

In all the world, you will never find another Humboldt. The wooded vales and enchanted glens of another Thessaly. Backed by great timbered mountains, skirted by rugged storm-lashed coast line. Mighty age-old redwood forests, whose monastic calm must remind even shallowest of worldlings that there is a Creator. Many of us will wander from it, perhaps never to return. But wherever we may be, or however situated, there will be times when we will look back across the years and remember poignantly—Happy days in a blessed land.

Up in the Smoky Seas, "North of 52," where "The Northern lights come down o' nights, to dance with the houseless snow," the Storm King and his minions are making ready to roar down upon us again. The sun who has held them in check for a half year has sunk down below the equinox line, as though tired by the long vigil. The shadows are getting longer, the days are getting shorter. The Northwest wind whips down across the bay, and the first rains are here. There is a nip in the air. The big steelhead are running and they are hungry. The first of the birds—and the last of the L. A. tourists—are heading south. The roar of old John Pacific out there "beyond the Bar" is getting louder and louder. Hail to the Storm King, and welcome back again! Let 'em rip! Isn't it grand to be alive?

Pepperwood School Wins Many Prizes

The Pepperwood School, Pepperwood, California, taught by Mrs. Amelia G. Alward, student at Humboldt during the summer sessions of 1931 and 1933, was awarded three first prizes, two second prizes, a special trophy and $20 in cash in competition with all the schools of the state, both city and rural, at the 1933 California State Fair.

The trophies won by Mrs. Alward's school, which has a total enrollment of 11 pupils, consisted of a bronze plaque with silver plate for the best complete exhibit of school work, first place for an eighth grade crayola design, first place for a sixth, seventh and eighth grade project of mounted and sketched leaves, second prize for a third grade health work note book, second prize for fourth grade History of California notebook, and a special award for sixth, seventh and eighth grade work in decorating tin cans.

The Pepperwood School also won the first place blue ribbon and cash prize at the 1933 Humboldt County Fair.

Mrs. Alward is the mother of Miss Carmenita Alward, senior Humboldt College student.

Miss Mary Catherine Wilson and her brother, Rollin, have entered the University of Oregon at Eugene. Both are former Humboldt students. Miss Wilson graduated with the class of 1933, and Mr. Wilson with the class of 1932.

This year the orchestra will be open to residents of this vicinity who are interested in coming to the rehearsals, which are held from 4 to 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoons. At the last rehearsal Walter Wood, director of music at Arcata High School, played viola with the group and Virginia Torp, Arcata High School student and Ralph Owen, Eureka, played the violin.

It is hoped to make the college orchestra the nucleus of what will be practically a Humboldt County Symphony orchestra and Mr. Jeffers, director, would like to hear from musicians, especially string players, who would be interested in joining.

Primary Grades Are Modeling Animals

The second grade of the College Elementary School visited the Sequoia Park in Eureka recently. They invited the third grade to be their guests, and as a project they are now trying to model the various animals they saw out of modeling clay, and are making cages for them out of wood. The first grade is making a doll house as one of their projects.

Senior Class Holds Dinner and Meeting

A dinner and meeting of the senior class held last night at the College Commons at 6:45 was a big success.

Projects were discussed by the members whereby they could raise money for any senior functions such as the class gift which is presented each year to the school by the graduating class.

During the dinner a program was enjoyed. The tap dancing club composed of Amy Vance, Lucille Winter, Ruth Carson, Dolores Henders, gave a few numbers; Harlan Still sang two selections; Alice Carr played a few piano solos, and Alice Person and Zdenka Posic sang duet numbers.

Definite plans for the senior dance, which will be held in December, were made.

Bertil Munther, president of the class, was master of ceremonies.

Humboldt Students In Narrow Escape

Earl Hemingway and Frances Seidell narrowly escaped serious injuries when the car they were riding in turned over five miles south of Klamath recently.

Coming around a sharp turn on the bluffs, they met some cattle in the road. The lights of the car so dazed the cattle that they did not move. In trying to avoid one steer, the car hit another, bending a fender on a front wheel so that the wheel locked. The car careened to the other side of the road, slid into a small ditch and turned over on its side against a bank. Both occupants were slightly bruised. Had the car gone the opposite way it would have dropped about a hundred feet into the ocean.
