All Honor

The honor assembly held at Humboldt last Friday is concrete evidence of the fact that students who maintain high standards of scholarship are not to be "unsung heroes" at this college.

Students who participate in athletics, in music, in dramatics have a double reward: the consciousness of work well done and the acclaim of the public. Unfortunately, at times the latter—acclaim of the public—is not always meted out to the student who distinguishes himself scholastically.

President Arthur S. Gist's remarks were particularly apt: that he wished to commend the student body for their present attitude towards scholarship and that Chi Sigma Epsilon sponsored by J. Wendell Howe of the faculty, had helped in developing this attitude.

Incidentally, it is worth noting that high standards in scholarship are not incompatible with successful participation in student activities: all of the students honored Friday participate in one or more of the student activities at Humboldt State.

The "Lumberjack" wishes to extend its congratulations to the following:

To Raymond Hudson, Marseille Spetz, and Maewilda Speer who were elected to Chi Sigma Epsilon.

To Richard Albert for winning the medal as the outstanding freshman.

To Elma Siikarla who has triumphed over handicaps to reach a high rating.

And to the new "Rousers"—Richard Albert, Toivo Arvola, Catherine Bull, Francis Berta, Eugene Fountain, Robert Schmuck, Violet Susan, Beryl Unsoeld.

H

Congratulations

Student body and faculty join in wishing "long life and happiness" to Miss Monica Wright, member of the college faculty, and Gordon Hadley, formerly State student, who have announced their engagement. They will be married in the late summer at the bride-to-be's home in Idaho.

Miss Wright has been on the college faculty for three years in the department of physical education for women. Mr. Hadley, a former editor of The Lumberjack, is now sports editor of the Humboldt Times.

Final Meeting Of Sewing Club Starts Off Wrong, Ends In Riot

The Humboldt Men's Sewing Club held their meeting at the home of President Butch Caviness last night. Wafers and tea were served to about thirty guests.

The meeting started off wrong right from the first. Mr. Garff Wilson, faculty advisor, started it by trying the age-worn trick of placing the spoon on a fork, hitting the fork with force enough to place the spoon in a glass of water. The first time Mr. Wilson tried it, he pinned Everett Watkins new $1.95 shirt to the wall with his fork. However, Mr. Watkins did not get mad as he was taking public speaking. Undaunted, the fair-haired faculty advisor tried again. He struck the fork a mighty blow. The fork impaled itself in the ceiling and it took the combined efforts of Bob Cudlip, Bernard Hutsinpillar and Harold Del Ponte to remove it.

President Butch Caviness, rather wary of taking sterner measures with the faculty advisor, a sensitive soul by the way, handled the affair as if it were a huge joke and laughed with much gusto, nearly spilling the tea out of the saucers within the radius of thirty feet, and rattling a few dishes in Mrs. Folsom's cupboard three blocks away.

Everything was quiet for a few moments; that is, as quiet as a Sewing Club meeting could be with thirty men drinking tea and chewing crispy wafers. Mr. Francis Moore later describing the silence of that long-to-be-remembered meeting to his ornithology class said, "The silence was like an elephant with a cold in its nose, imitating Rudy Valee singing the Stein song, while chewing celery." Some one said, "yeah, it sure did sound like an elephant all right," but no one could figure out who would say anything like that.

At this point Mr. Jay Jones got up and said that the fashion show given by certain members of the Sewing Club was disgusting, obscene and unfit for the eyes of the more staid and conservative element of the club. And right here the House of Caviness split in two, both literally and figuratively speaking. With a roar like a bull moose calling to its mate, President Caviness and his faction who represented the Wigs, and Garff Bell Wilson and his bunch who represented the Tories, tore at one another with all the fury of a woman scorned or even worse.

Mr. Wilson, in the battle of words that followed, said that the dresses were stunning. Mr. Caviness' reply will not be for publication. Toivo Arvola and his partner, Wal Lozensky, went at it with fists flailing, until Wal, who accidentally got one of Arvola's shoes in his teeth, quit. Unbeaten, Arvola kept running like an eight-day clock, virtually going aschumuck as he cast off the fetters of official restraint and the chains of modern conventions, and beat his chest while emitting shrill, almost inhuman cries.

As he cast his lot with the Tories, he overturned plush-bottomed chairs, linen closets, broke the display case where Posic's once famous cigar butts rested, and finally gathered all of his remaining strength and smote the entire meeting room to splinters. It was a catastrophe. Here and there a head stuck up through rafters, plaster and pulverized furniture. Avola had shot his final bolt. He lay gasping on what remained of the front porch.

President Caviness, after removing a few timbers from his beard, surveyed the scene of waste and destruction rather dazedly, and announced in a pleasing voice that each member would be assessed a small amount to be used for rebuilding a new meeting place.

"Dues???" cried Mr. Sailor Elmes, "Dues???" cried Mr. Will Henders, "Dues???" cried Honest John Van Duzer. "Dues" shouted the whole club in unison as they arose from the debris and dusted off their white shoes. They scampered off down the road, leaving Caviness and his Sewing Club to posterity chanting the proverb, "No Dues Is Good Dues".

From Santa Rosa's "Oak Leaf" comes "To Our Dog Lovers," by Marie Vietti:
The more I see of some folks
The more I hate their dogs;
Seems like canine run this school;

I'm in a canine fog.
There's doggies in the hallways,
There's doggies under foot;
I'm tired of tripping over dogs
And wouldn't give a hoot
If all the Fannies, Petes and Trivers
Were dumped into the rivers.
I've had my face accosted
By sticky, Pink, wet tongues—
And b'lieve me if I ever
Find out t'whom they belong
These doggies' folkses will find out

As sure as dogs is dogs,
I'm gonna lose my temper
And have hamburger for dinner
one of these days.

Much favorable publicity has been received by Humboldt College following the successful Northern California tour of the college A. Cappella Choir under the direction of Edmund V. Jeffers.

Among the compliments received by the group was one from John Ribee, program director of radio station KPO, where the choir gave a radio concert in San Francisco. He said, "The choir is one of the finest choral organizations ever to broadcast over KPO since I have been at the station."

Paul Carson, N. B. C. organist, said: "It is one of the most musicianly performances I have ever heard from a collegiate choral group."

Dr. Lathan True, director of music at the Castilleja School in Palo Alto, paid a personal compliment to director Edmund V. Jeffers for his work.

President Arthur S. Gist has received a letter from Dr. Stanley A. Hunter, pastor of the St. John's Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, where the choir appeared, stating: "The A Cappella Choir of Humboldt State Teachers College made an excellent impression at our vesper service last Sunday and through you I desire to express my deep appreciation of their visit. Everyone who spoke of the service spoke most appreciatively. The choir would seem to me to be one of the most remarkable organizations of its kind anywhere. I am sure that you are gratified to know that their beautiful rendering of the classical numbers was so well received."

MANY THINGS CAN HAPPEN ON TRIPS

Many things happened on the trip taken last week-end by five members of the tennis team and its manager, Carl Owen.

After dinner in San Francisco, Paul Hunter parked Howard Lester's car on a hill, but did not think to put the brakes on.

After parking the car, the boys decided to see the waterfront. Sam Davis was bolder than the rest and started out ahead. For some reason or other, corners are Davis' weakness. He turned one near the ferry building when he was about a block ahead of his fellow comrades. By the time the boys reached the corner which Sam had turned, who should come around the corner but Sammy; but he was accompanied by or followed by three large, uniformed policemen. After many questions were asked and answered, the Humboldt students and the three policemen walked to where the car was supposed to have been parked. The car was no longer where it had been left but instead was in the middle of the street and on the street car tracks. After receiving sound advice from the policemen, the boys proceeded to go to their hotel rooms.

Paul Hunter was subjected to much embarrassment when he walked into the wrong hotel room, which, for the time being, was occupied by a woman.

On the way back Sunday, a stop was made at Hopland so that members of the team could meet Harry Zook's girl friend. After leaving the town, Zook was doubtful whether he had a girl friend in Hopland.

Woman Is Elected Student Body Head

For the first time in several years a woman student, Eleanor Renfro, has been elected as student body president.

Others elected at the recent election were John Van Duzer, vice-president; Barbara Unsoeld, secretary; Claire Sepeir, treasurer; Martha Sunnari, publicity manager, and Evelyn Quarnheim, Eloise Aune, Frances Monohan, Francis Moore, Oden Hansen and Julius Hoooven, members of the board of control.

HAS ARCATA DISPLAY

Harry D. MacGinitie of the science department has a display in the windows of the Safeway store in Arcata, showing how an actual distillation would be performed. Besides the experiment there is an exhibit of laboratory equipment.

LIBRARY HOLIDAY HOURS

The library will be open probably from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. during the first week after finals. The second and third week there will be no set hours, according to C. Edward Graves, librarian.

TO ATTEND COMMENCEMENT

Wayne Simpson, former Humboldt student, now teaching at Larkspur, has written that he will be here at the college for commencement.

POST NOTICES PROPERLY

Miss Sarah Davies, secretary to the president, asks all those who post notices on the bulletin board, to post them in the proper sections.

Many Students Assist With Play Production

To the production staff and assisting groups from the dramatics workshop belong much credit for the successful production of "Ladies of the Jury" and other college plays this year.

The production staff of "Ladies of the Jury" was composed of Donald Inskip, assistant director; John Van Duzer, settings; Davina Taggart, stage manager; Harveen McElroy, assistant stage manager; Helen Mitchell, properties; June Solee, house; Jack Lennox, Jack Lewis, Paul Hunter, stage crew.

Other assisting groups were: Make-up, Catherine Bull, Kathryn Cloney, Margaret McCammon, Claire S. Speier; house and refreshments, Evelyn Quarnheim, Martha Sunnari, Goldie Tamborovich, Barbara Unsoeld; scenic artists, Dorothy Dexter, Helen Larsen, Evelyn Mitchell, Fred Schmuck.

Miss Platt accidentally locking herself in a hotel room at Santa Rosa and in her excitement forgetting which door led to the hall and trying to burst in Ray Hudson's room.

Lillian Snow, Merle Morton, Maewilda Speer catching a ride with a truck driver after a blow-out on Miss Platt's car below Petaluma. Already behind schedule and with the choir waiting for them at Petaluma, a traffic officer held up the truck because of four people riding in a seat. And after all that excitement the Petaluma concert finally cancelled.

Tennis Team Finishes Competitive Season

The tennis team's season has finished at Humboldt State, with the team winning eight out of twelve matches played in the bay region last week-end.

The team and its manager, Carl Owen, left Arcata Thursday morning and stayed in San Francisco that night. Due to a misunderstanding, the team did not play Marin Junior College on Friday as was previously announced; so arrangements were made to play San Mateo Junior College that afternoon. Humboldt won five of the seven matches played. The team stayed in San Mateo that night and were guests at a sport dance.

Saturday, the team went to Stanford to watch a tennis tournament. That afternoon it traveled to Kentfield and played Marin. Three of the five matches were won by Humboldt. Saturday evening was spent in San Francisco.

OVER SIX HUNDRED IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Bands, orchestras, and choral groups of Humboldt County high schools displayed their talent in the annual Music Festival sponsored by the music organizations of Humboldt State under the direction of Mrs. Marie Clark Ostrander of the college faculty.

A luncheon was served and in the afternoon alternate concerts were given by the high school bands and orchestra. A dance was held in the college gymnasium following the afternoon program.

Schools participating were Eureka Junior High School, Eureka Senior High School, Fortuna High School, Ferndale High School, Arcata High School, and the College Elementary School.

Committees, that worked to make the festival a success, were: Reception and Registration, Marie Goff; Courtesy, Eleanor Renfro, Marie Nordquist; Luncheon, Miss Louise Struve, Mary Neilson; Dance, Zorie Ivanich; Business, Mrs. Jessie T. Woodcock, Janet Woodcock; Decorations, Claire Speier; Publicity and Program, Dorothy Williams; General Chairman, Mrs. Marie Clarke Ostrander.

THREE WHOOPS FOR VACATION

Swim Shop

We've just opened our 1935 Swim Shop! And it's loaded with vacation ideas . . . and Hollywood, Jantzen, and Catalina swim suits.

For reasons too involved to explain here, we don't believe in nudism. But we do believe in the next best thing . . . which takes shape in the form of our new bathing suits. Just enough bras'-top, and just enough trunks to keep the sun from blushing.

But they're made for you, if your figure's a grand one! Let your first "vacation trip" be to Daly's Swim Shop!

Graves Will Attend Meeting in Denver

C. Edward Graves, college librarian, is planning to drive to Denver to attend the annual meeting of the American Library Association during the last week of June. Mr. Graves has been appointed chairman of the Teachers College section of the Association and will preside at a meeting to be held on the morning of June 25. The subject to be considered at that time will be the co-ordination of library work with instructional work in teachers colleges and normal schools.

After the convention, Mr. Graves plans to do some mountaineering in the Colorado and Wyoming Rockies and also expects to visit the Canadian Rockies before returning home. He will be away all summer.

In his absence the library will be in charge of Miss Maxine Belloni, a graduate of Humboldt in 1934, who acted as assistant librarian last summer. She will be assisted by Mrs. Lydia G. Blanchard, a former Humboldt graduate, now a teacher in the Oakland schools who has served as assistant librarian during two summer sessions.
