"CHRIS BEAN" Here Next Wednesday Night

TICKETS GO ON SALE TODAY FOR "THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN"

Final Spring Production Of Humboldt Players
To Be Presented At College Auditorium
Wednesday Evening, May 19

Tickets are now on sale for "The Late Christopher Bean," final spring production of the Humboldt College players to be presented in the college auditorium May 19.

The feminine lead in the play is held by Barbara Johnson who plays the part of "Abbey," a servant in the Haggett household for seventeen years. Abbey befriended and cared for a young painter, Christopher Bean, who died ten years before the start of the play. Most of his paintings are believed to have been destroyed. Then it is discovered that Bean is a genius and people are paying as high as a thousand dollars apiece for his pictures in New York.

The play concerns how the lost pictures are recovered and how Abbey outwits the Haggett family and the crooked dealers from New York. Miss Johnson, who played the part of Mrs. De Medici in the college production of "See Naples and Die," is expected to score a hit as Abbey.

Sherman Washburn, who acted in See Naples and Die and Petrified Forest, will return for the third time in the role of an honest New York Critic who appraises the pictures and protects the rightful owners.

The action takes place in the Haggett household with Richard Jarboe, who played Gramp in Petrified Forest, as Mr. Haggett. Mrs. Haggett, a sharp pretentious country woman, is played by Estelle Koch, who played in former college productions.

The Haggett daughters, Ada and Susan, are Jane Shanessy and Elinor Buck.

Love interest is furnished in the play by the elopement of Susan Haggett with Warren Creamer, played by Laverne Elmore; Elmore played an outstanding part in the successful production of Petrified Forest as Ruby, a gangster, and he is expected to prove his versatility as a lover in the Late Christopher Bean.

The Crooked New York dealers are Talent, played by Don Starr and Rosen, played by Ed Warren. Both of these students played in Petrified Forest and Starr had the lead in See Naples and Die.

"Isaac" Walton pulled a surprise on everyone by winning the mile in 4.49 without exerting himself.

See You Next Semester

This is the last regular issue of the Lumberjack of the College semester. The editorial staff of the paper wishes to take this opportunity to thank each one of the students and the faculty for the marvelous assistance and cooperation extended us during the past months.

The Lumberjack is strictly a student voice, and the editors have strived mightily to maintain this at all times. Whether our efforts have been successful lies entirely with you, our readers.

We earnestly hope that you all may be with us next year. We are going to do our very best to give you a college newspaper during the Fall semester which will be second to none.

A Warning?

Just a little warning! In just a few weeks we will all be gathering together for that most enjoyable part of our school semester—the final examinations.

To many a headache. To many just a breeze. To the former it indicates a couple of hours of brainracking torture. To the latter it merely means the jotting down of the many lessons learned in the past thirteen weeks.

If you dread finals, why not start now to brush up on a few of the things that you know very well you have neglected. Don't wait until the "night before." If you do you may not get the breaks, and the instructor may ask questions that need thought rather than your ability to remember things read a few hours previously.

We repeat, it's just a warning, but we really know where of we speak!

Campus Commentator

by Esther Ritola

Far be it from a columnist to admit a scarcity of information on any subject but this lack of knowledge is easier to camouflage in rhyme. So here is a bit of a ditty on the Men's Picnic. Listen my children, and you shall hear

'Bout a picnic of French bread, salami, and beer.
'Twas an unauthorized gathering of H. S. C. gents,
Who went camping at Blackburn's minus their tents.
The host of the day was Heidelberg's pride
Perhaps a bit groggy and slightly pie-eyed.
Indiameter the host was really a whopper
With Quinn the custodian of the bung-hole stopper.
If the tongue of a guest should get a bit thick
They'd loosen it up in the ice cold creek.
Then the effects would be gone with the wind
Thanks to the Irish, the Swede, and the Finn.
The recipient of the parties most frequent concerned
Was the man with the camera, Howard Barnes.
without—
Alas for the gentlemen posing without—
For the cameraman will getcha if you don't watch out.
The pictures don't lie but they sure do embarrass
We don't envy the boy whom they call Jimmy Harris.
Jackie Walsh went walking and didn't come back
Was our towheaded friend left holding the sack?

Then from the river was heard some groans
Emitted by the Mayor's son, "Gomer" Jones.
A similar fate was postponed not for long
For soon Don Starr sang his Swan Song.
As the afternoon hours did pass
And the gentlemen sipped their demitasse
They were rolled in the aisles by a famous talker
In the person of our little Walter Schocker.
All too soon came the time to go
As the sun went down with a rosy glow;
But of all kinds of parties from which to pick
There's nothing quite like the Men's Picnic.
You listened my children so you have heard
'Bout a picnic that is just about the last word
And cheese, and French bread, and salami, and beer.

The inefficiency of the Women's Hospitality Committee prompts the use of this time worn phrase—"a committee is a body of people that keeps minutes and wastes hours." Chairman Goff was forced to hire sister Billie and two members of a prominent southern Humboldt family to decorate serve, and wash dishes for the Mother's Day luncheon because nary a member of the committee showed up. Now, W. H. C., aren't you ashamed?

Steel bars remind one of kindergartens, prisons, and bird cages. In our two years at Humboldt State, we have been led to believe that it was a college where students and scholars gather in guest

Campus Chatter

This week the girls have had it all over the fellows because they figured in the news last week as chief daters .... all on account of the W. A. A. "Spring Swing." It really was enlightening to see who invited them.

For instance, it seems that Marjorie Bull prefers the company of Jim Cady, and among the first couples to appear were Ethel Carroll and Pee Wee Dearing.

June Sundfors and Maxine Flaherty decided to turn the tables themselves and invited two high school boys — namely Bob De Long and Jack Lawyer.

We have just been assailed by an appalling rumor—and it concerns the G. G. II. It seems that Mr. Wilson had to expend a nominal fee in order that the car could be the luscious shade of green it is.

Was Bob Madsen embarrassed just a little bit in Social Dancing. He was doing a very intricate step when all of a sudden he found himself sprawled on the floor.

When Alvin Canepa appeared at school on Monday in a suit, he was threatened with a bit of exercise in the fish pond. We wonder of higher learning yet on Thursday, May 6, steel bars appeared to slash the symmetry of the front steps. Have Humboldt suddenly become so decrepit that they need a handrail to assist them up and downstairs? We wish Halloween weren't so far off!

Despite the fact that the W. A. A. Spring Swing was scheduled on the worst date on the calendar—right after the Men's Picnic and right before the track meet—it proved to be a little bit of all right. Several prominent Humboldt males were conspicuous by their absence. They will take outsiders to the Barn Dance will they?

Art Durdan showed us why he didn't go when he led the pack in the hurdles at Albee Stadium Saturday. We don't know if Jackie Walsh stayed away because McGager couldn't go, or if the picnic was enough entertainment for one day.

Bud Villa wore just about the greenest necktie we've seen in these parts in quite a spell.

Keith Emenegger proved himself to be a chicken reel caller from way back. Audrey Morrell put her heart and soul and half the roses in Humboldt county into the decorations. Maxine doesn't know it but Miltie - Willie held his fingers in his ears while she was giving her concert.

What would you think if you saw Kep Goodwin dancing with Mrs. Hadley or Mary Scholl dancing with Dr. Lanphere? Yeah, we did too.

The only trouble with the Mother's luncheon was that after the table had been decorated with the May-poles and twining bogan-villa there was no room for food. Did you know that:

Today is coronation day in England (if this paper comes out Wednesday). There are only five more weeks of school this semester.

The trees planted along college drive are not Pinaceae Thuja Plicata.

Eggs are now 27c a dozen. Two pints make one quart. (Thanks, Napoleon.) Clarence Edsalls' favorite nickname is "Eddie."

John McGrath's interest has shifted from Psychology to Domestic Science, especially the home work. The dorm has a new trio, Bettie, Billit and Grovie, just waiting to be asked to entertain.

May Day inaugurated the fishing season, so they tell me, so your Barin Twizzler concerns the "finny tribe." If a fish's head is half as long as his body and his tail is half as long as his body and head together, how long is the fish?

why! It couldn't of course be that he was thinking of last Friday.

We've been wondering how many people know about the new skating rink at the old Winter Garden. It's quite a place, but so far not many of the college students have discovered it.

There is a momentous plan afoot to purchase a beautiful radio for the Social Unit for the sole benefit of students. Today, Thursday, and Friday are going to be Radio Days. Let it be known that you're wearing a little tag, all because you spent ten, twenty, or thirty cents for that great project—the radio.

Homer Randall certainly has a respect for the economists. During an ex he appeared suddenly, compared the time of the electric clock with his infallible vest pocket model and then disappeared again. If the clock had been wrong and Homer had to mount a ladder to correct it, the class would have been in a fix—because they can't keep their minds on two things at once.

The latest fad in adornment is the little ivory animals that you get when you put pennies in a machine. For example witness "Ole" Mathison's collection that she carries around on a safety pin!

Bye Now!

Bear Cubs Open Drill For Meet With Humboldt

SANTA ROSA, March 12—Returned from the conference wars at Marin, Santa Rosa Junior college track and field athletes launched practice yesterday in preparation for a special dual meet with Humboldt State College here Saturday the final competition on the Bear Cub schedule for the season.

Tied for the fifth in the conference meet last week on the strength of second place points by Harve Lyman and Bill Knowles, Coach Dick Blewett's Cubs were cost aa chance for expected fourth place by an automobile accident which endangered four athletes and slightly injured one.

Enroute to the meet, Bob Whited, one of the key men of the relay team, suffered an injured arm when the car in which he was riding collided with another at a Petaluma intersection. Al Roundavaara, driver, Roy Soekland, Bill Dotta and Herbert Hultgren were with Whited, but all escaped injury.

Whited's injury forced Blewett to withdraw his relay team, a good contender, from the meet, and place points badly needed to overtake Menlo's one-point margin for fourth were lost.

H. S. WILL MEET SANTA ROSA CUB TRACKSTERS SAT.

Humboldt To Meet Old Rivals
After Two Year Lay-off

A rivalry that has never failed to bring forth colorful performances and heated competition will flare anew Saturday when the Humboldt State College track team journeys south to meet the Santa Rosa Junior College bear cub tracksters at Bailey Field, Santa Rosa.

The meet marks resumption of athletic activities between the two colleges after almost two years lay-off.

Santa Rosa, still stinging from the decisive football defeat at the hands of Humboldt will present one of its strongest track teams in years. Last month they defeated Salinas and Marin Junior College in a three-cornered meet.

Advanced predictions by Humboldt track followers give the local college a possible 50 points on the basis of times made by Santa Rosa in the Salinas meet. Since the Salinas meet Santa Rosa has held several other collegiate contests and is reported to be improved.

Humboldt's chances for a high position in scoring column hinges on whether or not Vernon Thornton, lanky track star, is able to make the trip. Thornton has a possible chance of first places in the Discuss, High Jump, Javelin, and

Students Offered Chance To Find Excellent Jobs

College, high school and business school students who are interested in finding jobs for which little experience is required, were advised to investigate the beginning positions in the California state government, in a statement made today by William Brownrigg, executive officer of the State Personnel Board.

There are many clerical and junior positions in the state service which requires only high school graduation or a small amount of additional experience, the state official pointed out.

More than 20,000 men and women work for the state, Brownrigg said, and the turnover in state employment results in a large number of vacancies. The great majority of the openings are filled by competitive civil service examinations. More than 450 examinations were given during 1936, or an average of eight tests each week.

Information concerning examinations which are pending may be secured from offices of the California Employment Service, from the bulletin boards in Post offices and Public Libraries, or by writing directly to the State Personnel Board in Sacramento, or its branch offices in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

A mailing list service is maintained by the Personnel Board in Sacramento, by means of which interested persons will be notified by postcard of the announcement of examinations for which they are qualified.

"Will We Get Jobs?" Cries American Youth

Plenty of Jobs, If You
Look For Them,
Says Writer

WHAT does the future hold for today's younger generation? "This," says Dorothy Thompson, noted journalist in her own right, and wife of the famous novelist, Sinclair Lewis, "is the question which is frequently put to me by young people."

Miss Thompson who contributes the pungent syndicated daily column "On The Record", and is author of several books on recent aspects of Europe and its great leaders, will discuss the outlook for current youth when speaking as a guest on the "Heinz Magazine of the Air" over Columbia's network, the morning of May 10th.

"The other day I was speaking at Yale University, and a young man came to interview me for the college paper," said Miss Thompson. "He was a handsome, well built, athletic youth, about twenty years old, radiating health and energy. In the course of the interview he asked me, 'Do you think that my generation has a future? So many people say these days that there is nothing to look forward to'."

"I replied by asking him a question. Do you think that the United States of America has a future? That question seemed to surprise him. He said, 'Why, of course'."

"That is my answer to the younger generation. If America has a future you have a future. You cannot exist without it, but, what is more important, it cannot exist without you. By and by, the rest of us will be dead, and you will be it."

"But will we get jobs?", queried the youth.

"I don't know," replied Miss Thompson. "If you want someone to stick you in an office or in a bank and guarantee your life to extreme old age, I should guess not. If it's work you want, all you have to do is to go out and open your eyes and look at the things that are crying to be done. It is very hard to starve to death in this world, if you have good health, some brains, and if your pride is in yourself and not in some office that you hold.

"The world is ruled by men today who hadn't half your chances; men who shod horses, taught school, worked as common laborers, edited small newspapers with no circulation, lived from hand to mouth. There never was a time in history when the whole world was so crying for men of skill and brains and character, to take responsibility, to unravel problems, to rebuild what has been badly done," declared Miss Thompson.

Miss Thompson has made the top flight as a journalist within the last ten years and her radio voice and dynamic personality is known to millions. She was born in a parsonage in Lancaster, N. Y., the daughter of a Methodist minister. She attended Lewis Institute in Chicago and was graduated from Syracuse University in 1914. She started her journalistic career in Europe as a roving reporter where she encountered adventure, tragedy and strife.
