DRAMATICS DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT FALL PLAY HERE ON NOVEMBER 2 and 3

The Dramatics Department will present its fall play "The Bishop Misbehaves," a 3-act comedy by Frederick Jackson, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, November 2 and 3.

Violet Susan, junior, portrays the role of Lady Emily Lyons, sister of the misbehaving bishop. The role is that of a sweet and demure little lady who has led a very sheltered life, but when the bishop becomes involved in crime, she comes to his aid with great relish and enjoys it tremendously.

Miss Susan had been very active in dramatics for the past three years. She was Gabby in "The Petrified Forest," Anne in "Outward Bound" and she had the lead in "Ladies of the Jury." Besides this, Violet has been stage manager for a number of plays and last year directed a one act play.

Student night will be held Tuesday, November 2. All students will be admitted on their Student Body cards. There will be no coffee served between acts as the co-eds will be serving refreshments.

OVER 300 GIRLS PARTICIPATE IN ANNUAL PLAY DAY

Eureka Junior High School girls carried the coveted banner award for the first place in school posture home with them after the twelfth Annual Play Day given for the high schools of Humboldt and Del Norte Counties by the Women's Athletic Association last Saturday. Eureka Senior High took second place; Ferndale Union High placed third in the contest.

Marian Coombe of Ferndale was awarded first place in the individual posture contest. Barbara Bird of Eureka High placed second and Beverly Tanner of Eureka Junior High placed third.

Three hundred girls gathered for the day of sports and games. They came from Arcata, Eureka, Ferndale, Fortuna, South Fork, Del Norte, Hoopa, and Orick at the bid of the Women's Athletic Association.

During the lunch hour speeches were given by President Arthur S. Gist, Frances Poulson, Miss Ann Craig, and Mrs. Monica Hadley. The annual song contest was won by Ferndale High.

SCHUSSMAN JR. VIOLIN MAESTRO AT ELEMENTARY

Myron Schussman, college senior, is now teaching violin to pupils at the College Elementary School. Schussman teaches a class of eleven advanced pupils on Mondays. He also gives private lessons after school.

Miss Dorothy Williams teaches the beginners on the violin.

Air Program To Honor Juniors

Featuring Carl Owen's Pep Band, last week's radio program was given with a bang. The Pep program included: yells by a group of twenty-five students; sports by Amedeo Sandretto; news from other colleges by Hope Dondero; and the song hit of the week, a violin solo by Doris Gunderson. The winning song last week was, "The Moon Got In My Eyes."

The yelling squad was organized and led by Richard Blackburn, college yell leader.

The program was given by remote control from the dining room of Hotel Arcata, and was made possible by Chris Christensen, the manager of the hotel.

"Y" MONTHLY MEETING HELD ON WEDNESDAY

The monthly social meeting of the College "Y" was held last Wednesday evening in the social hall at the Arcata Redwood Auto Park.

Those attending were Harold Langdon, Helen Taylor, Martha Bell Scott, Myron Schussman, Myrtle Boehne, Fae Christensen, Dolores Scholl, Wes Hunter, Gladys Hinman, Dorothy Fountain, Lloyd Langdon, Arline Harrington, Isabel Wilson, Jeannette Anderson, Joy Stockton, Ray Pedrotti, Ethel Walters, Miss Zula Ballew, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Campbell. The meeting was turned over to Ethel Walters, social chairman, after songs were sung and everyone was introduced. Miss Walters led the group in several games including "Wink," "guessing game," etc. Later in the evening several couples danced to the music furnished by a radio.

Two former Humboldt students, Ernest Mueller and Bill Morgan, now enrolled at the University of California, spent the week-end of October 15th to October 17th in Eureka.

NOTICE

New yells for football games will result from the yell contest which the cheer leader, Richard Blackburn, is staging. Prizes of a dollar and a half for first place, a dollar for second place, and fifty cents for third place will be awarded at the next student body meeting.

The contest closes October 29, at 11 a. m. Entrants are asked to give their yells to Richard Blackburn before this date. The best ten yells contributed will be tried at the student body meeting and the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prize yells will be decided by popular applause.

Men's Association Constitution Lost; To Frame New One

Last year the Men's Association lost their constitution. It was believed to be in the possession of Butch Caviness, former president but after searching his home from the cellar to the attic, it failed to come to light.

A new constitution must be drafted and a committee has been appointed to work on the matter. Carl Owen, Franny Moore, Jim Cady, and Elwain Dreyer are on this committee.

Free Piano Is Taught Pupils At Elementary

The College Elementary School is offering free piano lessons to beginners this year. Mr. John Van Duzer, is assisting Miss Helen Garvin in the supervision of the two classes, one of the third and fourth and one of the upper grades.

These beginners are carried for one year and then the best students are advised to take lessons from private teachers. At present there are ten pupils in the class. These classes are open to observation for any student who is interested in teaching class piano and are held Wednesdays at 3:30 o'clock and on Thursdays at 3:00 o'clock.

NEW ANNUAL

The possibilities of an H. S. C. annual have been brought up and will be discussed in a Student Body meeting on Friday. The proposed annual is to have 80 pages and will be one to one and a half inches thick. It will have a French fold.

There will be 300 copies which will sell at $2 or $2.50. The annual will be modeled after that which Whittier College put out last year, which was recognized nationally.

The positions of editor and business manager are yet to be filled and someone who will be willing to work just for the glory and experience will be required.

The Men's smoking room has been closed indefinitely by the Student Board of Control. It was closed because of the unnecessary noise emanating from it at all times and because the men allowed it to remain in such an untidy condition.

SANTA CLARA FRSHMAN TAKE HARD WON BATTLE FROM THUNDERBOLDS SUNDAY

Humboldt suffered her first defeat of the season by Len Casanova's Baby Broncos last Sunday at Albee Stadium.

Playing before a crowd estimated at 3,000 people, the Broncos eked out a victory with a six to seven score.

Humboldt scored early in the second quarter after Farber recovered a fumble on the Bronco's 20 yard line. From there Meneweather passed to Farber to the four yard line, Meneweather then cut off-tackle and scored standing up. Franny Moore's conversion was wide.

A few minutes later Sanders of Santa Clara ran through the Humboldt State line for seventy yards to a touchdown. The conversion was good.

Both teams frequently threatened but failed to score.

Twice a Santa Clara man was in the clear but Jim Harris of Humboldt state Guard overtook the runner before he could score.

The outstanding player of the game was Bill Collier, of the Santa Clara team. Collier made approximately sixty per cent of the tackles against the Humboldt State players. Clark of the Colts also showed much promise as a big time player.

Meneweather, as usual was the outstanding player of the Humboldt State squad. Outstanding linemen and backfield men for Humboldt were Seiverts, Saunderson, Toy Ferin, and Bill Farber, Honorary captain of the Humboldt squad.

The game was dedicated to Windy Moore the Humboldt State Fullback who was unable to play on account of illness.

A new system of introduction of each individual player was presented by G. B. Wilson, of the Humboldt State Dramatics Department.

Humboldt's starting lineup was Farber and Thornton, Ends; Caviness and Sieverts tackle; Saunderson and Harris Guards; Madsen center; Meneweather and Franny Moore halves; Ferin Quarter, and Henderson Fullback.

TWO H.S. PROFS. HEAR TEACHERS CLASS PROBLEMS

Dr. Harry D. MacGinitie, of the Science Dept., and Mr. Edward C. Graves, college librarian, journeyed to Sacramento on Friday, October 15th, to attend the semiannual meeting of the State College Instructors' Association which was held there in the State Department of Education offices. Instructors from all the State Teacher's Colleges discussed problems that confront teachers in their classes. Dr. MacGinitie is president of the Humboldt chapter of the Association. After attending meetings for two days they motored to Berkeley where Mr. Graves visited his son, Edward Graves (former H. S. C. student,) who is enrolled at U. C.

Zorie Ivancich, '37, is teaching at Warren Creek.

CONDITIONS FOR DROPPING CLASS ARE OUTLINED

Think before you drop.

That is the word received today from the office of the Dean of Lower Division. In other words, the status of students who drop courses changed automatically Friday of last week which was the last day of the sixth week, and students can no longer drop courses at will.

The present week is the seventh week of the semester. During this week, and for five more weeks, a student may still drop a course without prejudice to his record under certain conditions. These conditions are that the dropping is done with the approval of an advisory committee, such approval to be based presumably upon considerations of health, outside work, or other matters for which the student is not held culpable. Otherwise, the dropping of the course during this interval will be recorded as a failure.

During the final six weeks of any semester, the dropping of a course will result in a record of failure or incomplete, depending upon whether the work had been of passing grade up to the time of withdrawal. That means that a student cannot drop a course during the last six weeks and be given a "W" or "Withdrawal."

Cast Try Outs For Comedy Now Being Conducted

Casting for "Three Men on A Horse" is now going on. Tryouts will not be conducted in group meetings but in private readings. There are still a number of parts, open especially for men, and students interested in dramatics should see Garff Bell Wilson, Dramatics Director, at once.

"Three Men On A Horse" is the outstanding comedy hit of the past few years and the dramatics department expects it to be one of the most enjoyable of their presentations.

Howe To Represent Church At Meeting

J. Wendell Howe Assistant Professor of Biological Science, will attend the Redwood Division of the Presbyterian Church as a representative of the First Presbyterian Church of Eureka.

Howe is to leave Wednesday and return Friday. During his absence his assistants will give the mid-term tests to his class. While on the trip Howe will stop at the Berkeley Library for some research work.

TIME TO PAY

Course fees are due and payable this week. Announcements concerning fees will be made in classes. Payments are to be made at window 130.

SOCIAL UNIT

Last year the administration was benevolent enough to open the Social Unit for the students, on the condition that certain regulations be complied with. The students have greatly enjoyed the use of this room and it has become a center from which most activities originate, being a convenient and comfortable place to hold informal meetings.

This year, it seems that the trust deposited in the students by the faculty may have been misplaced. A number of students, perhaps ten per cent of the student body have turned the Social Unit into something a little livelier than a recreation room. Things go on there that outsiders would surely look at with disapproval although they are tolerated here in our own small circle. But the point is that this college is not a unit complete in itself. The opinion of outsiders must and does count a great deal and the reputation of our college is surely of vital importance to us all.

So this is a plea, to the students as a whole and to the upperclassmen in particular to see if the Social Unit conduct cannot be imbued with a little more, shall we say—dignity? It's not that the students' behavior there is harmful or wrong, merely out of place.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

With the closing of the men's smoker because of the inability of the students to maintain it properly, we are once more faced with the question: Do H. S. C. students deserve to be allotted special lounging and smoking rooms?

The answer is apparently in the negative. The rooms soon become a place for a lot of rowdiness, where a good deal of time is wasted. The closing of the smoker is merely a case of history repeating itself. Various student gathering places have been closed in the past and will be closed in the future until we are able to prove that we have sufficiently outgrown our adolescence to merit the use of these rooms.

LATE FALL SWIM

The metal arts class spent Thursday afternoon swimming at Essex. Those who attended were Irene Hinkley, Myrtle Boehne, Doris Martin, Jeanette Christiansen, Marjorie Copley, Virginia Fredricksen, Charles Hunt, Jay Jones, and Mr. Horace Jenkins.

Dorothy McGovern, '36, is teaching at Hydesville.

Howard Barnes Sails For Orient

Howard Barnes, former H.S.C. student, sailed for China October 16. Barnes is now employed as the ship's photographer on a Dollar line ship. When he reaches China he intends to get some first hand photographs of the war in China. He is working under Alfred T. Palmer, head photographer, of the Dollar Steamship Line, who is the brother of Mrs. Arthur S. Gist, wife of President Gist. Since leaving Humboldt last spring Barnes has been studying under Mr. Palmer in preparation and anticipation of his present assignment.

Barnes, according to some of his friends, knew nothing about photography when he enrolled in Humboldt two years ago. While here, he took photography and worked in chemistry and in the chemistry laboratory as an assistant to the instructor. He became interested in photography last year and was the photographer

Barnes has his choice in going on any of the boats of the Dollar Line at any time and to any place. He is now a photographer on ship and later he will get passage around the world.

New Student Has Had Interesting Government Work

For the past three years, Donald Hodgson, now enrolled at college, as a Freshman, has been employed on some interesting work for the government. Deciding that without education it is difficult to work up, Donald has enrolled for a two years course here, majoring in forestry, after which he plans to transfer to the University of California.

The first year on his government job he checked traffic on Trinity Summit at the West Entrance Checking Station. The next year he patrolled the territory around Horse Linto Creek on horseback. For the past summer he has been patrolling the Mad River district in automobile.

Donald is now residing in Arcata and is quite favorably impressed by the opportunities offered here at Humboldt.

LIBRARY ADDS THREE VOLUMES

The library has added three interesting new books to its rental shelf. New Frontiers of the Mind, by R. J. Rhine, deals with two of the most recent phases of scientific inquiry.... "is there such a thing as sixth sense and is mind reading possible." This book is especially of current interest as a series of radio meetings are now being broadcast that are along the same lines.

Assignment in Utopia, by Eugene Lyons, is another of last weeks new arrivals on the shelf.

Hudson Strode is the author of the latest arrival, South by Thun-

Boil It In Oil

Dear Insomnia:

Allow me to congratulate you for the fine letter you contributed to this column last week. For many weeks a desire to write on this identical subject has been smoldering in my bosom. My timidity has bound me down, however, and I have not, before this, been able to arouse the necessary courage. But since you wrote I have received strength.

Why doesn't someone act on this matter? For an entire week I have been waiting to hear at least a little comment on this matter, but their is no response.

In order to remind you that I am writing about the proposed radio in the Social Unit might I add that I too paid hard earned cash toward this forward step in Humboldt's career. Let's have something done about this, at once! ! !

Has the Social Unit Committee any responsibility in this matter? Somebody should start the ball rolling for new funds or locating the old funds. Everybody was enthusiastic about this idea last year, what is the matter this year?

Yours, Echo.

Prof. Conquers Samoa Sand Alps

Had there been any taller sand dunes on the Samoa Beach, the Botany 1A class is sure that their instructor, Mr. Howe, would have found them.

On the field trip the class held last Thursday, he led the perspiring process of panting Botany students straight up the middle of one sand dune after another in search of flora and fauna. The flora examined included sand verbena, sand morning glory, beach grass, beach lupine, and beach pea. The interest centered upon the root systems of these plants which are able to live in spite of the sand. The fauna viewed consisted of one cutworm.

At lunch time, Mr. Howe proved that he could fry hamburgers even better than mounting sand dunes.

BOIL IT IN OIL

What's the matter with Humboldt? I'll tell you what's the matter. All that this college needs is a little more sociability at college dances. I'm a newcomer here and I must say that Humboldt is very apt to divide itself into rigid little groups from which there is no thawing outsiders. Honestly you'd think this was India with the caste system still prevailing.

There's quite a bunch of us here at school who would probably never cause a beauty contest judge to fall over in a dead faint, but still we're not exactly Draculas either, who expect to do more at the school parties than watch from the sidelines. Let's organize our dances so that everyone may have a rousing good time instead of a few belles of the ball being rushed off their pretty feet while the rest of us watch and wilt.

Just a Wallflower.

FACULTY SHOWS BEST PLAN OF STUDENT STUDY

In order to help the Freshman, Pres. Gist and the faculty have prepared the following study habits for students:

1. Form the habit of regular preparation; budget your study time.
  2. Decide your best time for studying your most difficult task.
  3. Visualize your entire assignment by making a rapid survey of the real meaning and purpose of the assignment.
  4. Review important facts previously learned which bear upon each assignment.
  5. Break up the assignment into important units.
  6. Select a good place for study; begin at once.
  7. Check or write out important items studied.
  8. Apply factual material to past experiences.
  9. Develop the habit of concentrating for longer periods each day.
  10. Change your activity when concentration seems impossible.
  11. Learn to read rapidly.
  12. You may be helped by reading aloud difficult material.
  13. Pay keen attention in class.
  14. Learn to take clear notes on important details of lectures and discussions.
  15. Review such notes as soon as possible afterwards.
  16. Take frequent inventories; do not wait until just before an examination.
  17. Form the habit of asking yourself questions about difficult items.
  18. Develop the habit of analyzing rather than memorizing the elements of problems.
  19. If memorization is necessary list such items in your note book in order of importance.
  20. Develop the habit of acquiring new words in each subject; your note-book may assist you.
  21. Learn how to use books, especially reference materials.
  22. Make it a habit to study graphs, drawings, and tables.
  23. Learn how to use the college library.
  24. Keep yourself physically fit for study.
  25. Keep yourself mentally fit; avoid worry.
  26. Develop will power to study.
  27. Prepare an outline for everything you write.
  28. Develop an interest in every task.
  29. Develop a success attitude.
  30. Check the development of your study habits.

THAT'S WHAT YOU THINK!

Each week the Lumberjack plans to choose some topic of vital interest and importance and interview ten people picked hit-or-miss around the campus to quote their opinions. This week's topic is:

DO YOU APPROVE OF GIRLS WEARING LIPSTICK?

Sherman Washburn: Certainly, but I suggest that the girls investigate the new wine-flavored lipsticks down at Hollanders Jewelry Store.

George Hartman: Yes I like lipstick but not in excess. The right amount of lipstick is conducive to more pleasure in the process of osculation.

Jack Bartlett: I heartily advocate the use of lip rouge. Lip rouge is to the face as paint is to the house. Er sumpin'.

Mr. Edward C. Graves: As quoted in an Associated Press dispatch, Lucien Lelong.

French designer made the following statement in a lecture before the school for Fashion Careers on September 28: "A woman is well-dressed when you cannot remember anything she was wearing, even to the color of her dress or the style of her hat."

I would apply the same statement to lipstick.

Al Gilman: Who ever thought of taking lipstick away from the girls? They would be as lost as a dog without fleas, or a hen without feathers. I like the looks of most lipstick (fire truck type excluded) but let's make it kiss proof, girls. Oh! My!

Bill Morehouse: I don't approve of men disapproving of women's tastes in anything.

Elwain Dreyer: Yes, I approve of it, but only when used in moderation. (Especially Louadine's, if she doesn't turn chicken again.)

Don Falk: Depends on who the skirt is.

Bill Crowley: Yes, I approve of girls wearing lipstick if they keep it off my shirt collar.

Bill Inskip: Yes, I approve of girls wearing lipstick, at least the ones that need it to brighten them up a little. I object to it over an inch thick.

Freshman Has Had Government Work

Harry Russel, enrolled at college as a Freshman, is originally from Siskiyou County and has been doing some interesting work for the government previous to his enrollment. Every summer, since 1928, Harry has been employed in the Forestry division doing government work.

Last year he was suppression foreman of a crew of men whose duty it was to watch for forest fires in the Klamath forest with headquarters at Seiad Valley ranger station. Harry worked for three years as a lookout at the Lake Mountain Look-out station near Marble Mountains. He says that it is very monotonous work.

He came to Humboldt State because he heard that it was a good college, he is majoring in forestry and plans to transfer to the University of California.

NEW NORRIS BOOK

You Can't Have Everything, by Kathleen Norris, is the rich and thoughtful story of Cam-lovely, twenty seven, mother of two delightful children, and the wife of the socially active Bob Sylvester. It was Bob who precipitated the trouble; Bob who had been such an ardent lover, such a considerate bridegroom. With the passage of the years he made the fatal error of taking Cam for granted. In consecrating himself to the re-coupling of his fortune he was guilty of neglecting his beautiful wife.

Cam was not the type to be neglected long, and soon John Kilgarif gave Cam once more the exhilaration of being overwhelmingly in love.

Can a young woman retain the devotion of her children and also find absorbing happiness with her second husband? This was the problem faced by Cam, the problem that is demonstrated in this absorbing novel into which America's most gratifying and best-loved novelist has injected her deep knowledge of the human heart and her humane understanding of the American scene.

Kathleen Norris has surpassed herself in this splendid story and once again has proved her indisputable right to the title of our finest portrayer of the problems which may face any of us in our daily living.

GAG OF THE WEEK

Charlie Erb is the world's worst speller. Once he was in a spelling class; in a spell down he was always the first to go down. One day the whole class went down on "Sycamore." The teacher skipped right over Charlie at the end of the line. She didn't even look at him. Charlie spelled it anyhow....and got it right. He lived on Sycamore Street. But then he went down on "different."

CAMPUS CHATTER

Humboldt guys and gals have given yours truly something to write about this week for a change. Thanks to you my friends! Lorene Grove has kept us guessing lately—Bill Crowley escorted her to the show last Wednesday evening, and sticks pretty close to her around school....but lo and behold....Saturday nite at the dance and Sunday at the game, who does Grove saunter in with but Norton Faust....So one never knows, does one?

Alfa Gastman appeared at the dance with Jimmie Hutcheson, and "Pooksie" Parks with his romance. Last week Cal-Poly and this week Santa Clara....variety is the spice of life!

Another foursome seen at the dance was: Mary Scholl and Claire Quinn, Beryl Unsoeld and Bill Moschetti.

And here are a few things I saw through the fog Sunday: (Besides the football game)....Edith Jennings and escort Les Linser, while all the time we thought it was Al Mendes....Bill Zigler and Irene Council....

FALL FASHIONS
SET BY COEDS

In attendance at last Sunday's game, which incidentally was quite a game, there were many co-eds who were garbed particularly well for a gridiron game. Inasmuch as the weather was unusually warmish preceding the starting whistle, many of said girls were slightly fooled in not taking with them their nice warm garments because after the half time, the fog quite definitely began to roll in.

At most universities and colleges where football season is a very popular drawing-card, one finds an assortment of togs worn by the feminine followers of the game; however, woolen dresses, wrap around coats, sport or dress shoes, tailored shirts plus quite a variety of hats, the existence of the popular calot, or beanie, being most prevalent.

The presence of school colors in mode of dress is not very outstanding at our games; but Sunday there were a number of college girls who proudly wore large yellow chrysanthemums with large green felt 'H's' pinned upon them. It would be quite a striking picture if we girls who attend the football games each week could follow suit of these girls. Undoubtedly most of us could obtain a yellow pansie somewhere, an imitation would do, if nothing else were available.

What about fur coats? There are just the thing. Fur coats are nationally famous for their existence at the gridiron classics here, there, and everywhere....that is, of course, if one happens to be the proud possessor of this type of coat.

It is said that college girls set the fashions for young ladies all over the United States. Let's all try not to make Humboldt an exception to such a rule.

When asked about Can't Bust 'Em CAMPUS CORDS, Stroke Orr said: "They're snappy and in good form, they can hold their own against all comers. They're at least two boat-lengths ahead of all other trousers for wear. And they take to soap and water like a racing shell and finish clean."

Brilliant Work
On Russia Is Reviewed Here

Eugene Lyons, author of Assignment in Utopia, set out for Moscow at the age of thirty to be the chief correspondent in Russia for the United States. He was convinced a better world was in the making there.

In his book, Assignment in Utopia, he tells the story of his next six years. living and working close to the great Soviet events he was reporting for millions of American readers. He met Soviet leaders from Stalin down, came to know Russia and its people first-hand. He had already lived deeply and could recall his activities in American labor and radical movements, especially in the Sacco, and Vanzetti, fight.

In Russia he found a contrast between his ideals and the grim realities around him, and this clash between faith and fact evoked an intense spiritual struggle.

His story is thus far more than an adventurous story, or a newspaperman's personal history—it is an adventure on the emotional and spiritual plane, an account of how an observer's philosophy of life was shattered and remodeled under the impact of the Soviet world. Those years of the first Five Year Plan, of Stalin's rise to unquestioned leadership, proved the most important in the author's life. But, though forced to revise his views on Bolshevism, Lyons affirms that his experience in Russia was "less a disillusionment than a rededication." The keynote of his story is not despair but hope.

Lyons writes brilliantly, with a deep conviction and with humor, in terms of living men and women, and his autobiography is a timely commentary upon our world and our age.
