Acknowledgments

We would like to express our gratitude to all the writers from the Chican@/Latinx Lives and Growing up Chicana/Latino courses from the past year, who submitted their stories. Thank you for your generosity and courage.

Many thanks to the students in the CouRaGeouS Cuentos Production class for continuing the vision of the journal of publishing students' counternarratives. Together, we understood the profound value and importance that these stories have not only to the HSU campus, but to our families and communities as well.

To Associate Editor Corrina Wells, thank you for your unwavering commitment to this journal. Your support to our production class in the form of editing, typesetting, and event planning is invaluable and greatly appreciated. Thank you for also being MC at our event and making our readers feel welcomed, safe, and empowered.

We would also like to thank Professor Janelle Adsit, Digital Scholarship Librarian Kyle Morgan, and Dean of Library Cyril Oberlander for the support since day one. Your guidance allowed us to reactivate the journal and continue its journey while also respecting its legacy and origins. Thank you Janelle for taking the time to extend resources and Kyle Morgan for visiting our class, teaching us about digital publishing, and finalizing our draft.

To the staff and faculty of the Department of Critical Race, Gender & Sexuality Studies for your relentless support and encouragement. Thank you Professor Kim Berry for making the production class possible, and Professors Barbara Brinson Curiel, Christina Accomando, Ramona Bell, Maral Attallah, and Ana Bernal for always checking in as the journal transitioned to a new set of hands. Thank you for trusting us on this publishing journey.

We are especially grateful to Professor Ana Bernal for reading drafts and helping with the preparation of the CouRaGeouS Cuentos Volume 3 Release Event. Many thanks to Imelda Valdez for the time and care you put into digitally editing the artwork in this volume.

To the DHSI Grant from the School of Education for sponsoring the CouRaGeouS Cuentos Release Event and the printing of the journals for students. Thank you to the Creando Raíces team for your continued support of the journal and its vision.

To Kellie Jo Brown—thank you for visiting our class and taking such wonderful photographs of our team. We felt so incredibly honored and seen!

Thank you to Lisa Bond-Maupin, Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences for her sustained support of this journal. We appreciate you so much for attending our event, and for listening to our stories. Thank you to Associate Dean Rosamel Benavides-Garb for believing in the power of our stories and its potential to elevate our students to success.

To Professor Maria Corral-Ribordy—many thanks for leaving us this wonderful gift!
