Business Students Are In Demand

An upward trend in the demand for college trained men and women in business and industry is revealed in a survey made by the administration of Temple University, the results of which, made public here, show that 78 per cent of last year's commerce graduates were placed in responsible positions.

Never in the history of the university, the survey indicates, have the inquiries from big business and industrial concerns been as numerous as they are today. Personal visits to the institution by personnel directors show a decided increase in the last year.

The report shows that 53 per cent of the 1938 graduating class of the university's School of Commerce were employed immediately upon graduation; that 13 per cent obtained employment in between one and three months thereafter; 10 per cent, in from four to six months; and 2 per cent, between six and nine months.

Nearly one half of the class, the survey shows, graduated into jobs that are comparatively high-salaried. Forty-eight per cent of the class are in positions with salary brackets ranging from $1,000 to $1,500; 22 per cent are receiving between $1,500 and $2,000; 9 per cent, between $2,000 and $2,500; and 21 per cent, a little below $1,000.

Poor Scholarship Receives Cuspidor

The most unpopular trophy on the Hobart College campus, the "Cuspi Cup," emblematic of poor scholarship has been presented to the Kappa Alpha Society for the second consecutive time.

The "Cuspi Cup," an old fashioned brass cuspidor, is presented each semester to the organization with the lowest scholastic standing. It has been in the possession of most of the fraternities at one time or another.

The cup is inscribed with the Latin sentence, "Verbum Sat Sapienti," which translated means, "A Word to the Wise is Sufficient," and it is considered the most effective stimulus to improve scholarship on the campus. It must be displayed in a prominent place on the mantle of the fraternity unfortunate enough to win it.

Lumberjacks Will Have Dual Meet With S. O. N. S.

The Humboldt State track team will play host to the Southern Oregon Normal College this Friday in a dual track meet at Albee Stadium. In addition to the college track meet, there will be a meet between Eureka and Fortuna high schools.

Little is known about the Southern Oregon team but taking in view their showings in football and basketball they should field a strong team.

The Lumberjacks, who placed a disappointing third in the tri-meet at San Jose last week, should be much improved over last week's performances. Those who are counted on to place or win their events are: Mahan, sprints; Thornton, discuss, shot, and javelin; Edsall, half mile; Longholm, pole vault; Biondini, hurdles; Rousseau, mile; Lozensky, two mile; Davis, Hibler, quarter mile; Flink, high jump, javelin.

The meet will be held in the afternoon and college students are admitted free of charge to the meet.

JUSTIFIED CRITICISM

"Humboldt State—In the Redwoods" is rapidly becoming our slogan. But can we rightfully say, "In The Redwoods?" Several years ago in the front of the college gym stood several beautiful symmetrical fifteen foot tall squoias. In order to provide room for one more car in that parking area, they were cut down.

Two years ago a group of redwoods west of the college elementary were slashed—now one sees the unsightly backside of an old laundry. We cut our redwoods around the campus and yet we try to boast, "In the Redwoods."

But do we have a right to be critical? Yes, is our answer. The University of Stanford with its famous redwood tree monogram has as many or more redwoods in its fair city of Palo Alto and campus as we do at H. S. C. Perhaps we had better have a redwood tree planting campaign.

Last year a group of students interested in beautification planted up the main drive rows of shade tree—a wonderful idea, yet vandals and those unable to see into the future have broken most of these trees. It was a good idea. Look when you are traveling and compare our campus with other colleges of the same size and age. Perhaps you readers will then too feel there is a justification for being critical.

PRESIDENT GIST WILL HOLD PANEL DISCUSSION

A panel discussion led by President Arthur S. Gist of Humboldt State College will be given tonight at the Eureka Junior High School as a part of the California Public School Week observance.

CAMPUS COMMENTATOR

And another week rolls around, so to be courteous your commentator will say, "Greetings."

A certain party told a certain party and that party informed your Commentator that Freddy Jackson and Roberta Hood have certainly been romancing. My, "aint love grand!" No wonder these two are so excited about the science club field trip.

Gosh, folkses, did you see all the high school fellows and gals around the campus Friday? Methinks twenty-five percent of the nicest would certainly be an asset to the college, should they enroll. A few of our loyal Humboldters were seen trying to recruit for dear old H. S. C.

Jean Underwood and Knobby Hudson just seem to get along so nice, that is safe to say they are the Commercial Classes best couple.

Wonder how our friend Bob Goss is making out these Spring days? One never needs ask about "Diamond Jim, Busy-with-the-Women" Cady is 'fairing'.

The perfect trap for a love plot, the triangle, doesn't seem to have a "True Story" climax. Bess Ritola—Franny Givins—Glenn Goble affair is still peaceful.

The Barn Dance did get "Slow-Gear Prexy" Barbieri out in the public with a woman. Nick and Billie Fielding, a former H. S. C. graduate.

And yesterday our Bill Farber was seen writing "Dear Mary Darling." Yes, the envelope was addressed to Petrolia. Bill is true to Mary Shinn, former H. S. C. co-ed.

The Choir trip should be an eventful journey. Sally, the Follies, and Greenwich Village probably will take many of our H. S. C. silver dollars.

Helen Jones uses the best of stationary to write to Harry Zook, former H. S. C. athlete.

The Men's Association program was so successful, one may suppose that the Women's program will be super colossal. And then we have the laugh of laughs in store...the faculty comic program on Work Day. But what has this

H. S. C., S. F. State To Give Dramas

Experienced players who will take parts are Casper Torp who will play the part of "Mr. Murgatroyd Twilling," radio broadcasting magnate; James Rasella, as "Craddock," a very ill-mannered chauffeur; and Jean Hood, as "Mrs. Martin," a disappointed mother-in-law. Members of the cast new to Humboldt State audiences are, "Quenna Farrar," Edith Jennings; "Ned Farrar," Don Falk, and "Aunt Min," Charlene Renfro.

Friday night the San Francisco drama department will present, "George and Margaret," the story of a merry, delightfully mad family. This play is of the same type as "You Can't Take It With You." The cast includes "Gladys," Patricia Ramsden; "Malcolm Garth-Bander," Walter Dunn; Alice Garth-Bander," Stephanie Singer; "Dudley," Herbert Smith; "Frankie," Noreen Honneb; "Claude," Walter Daughtery; "Roger," Charles Mauer, and "Beer," Lucille Heim.

Four settings have been constructed under the direction of John Van Duzer with the help of William Crowley, Eva Mathisen, Glenn Goble, Olga Stemach, David Williams, Sophie Politis, Harry Foster, Hazel Hagne, Virginia Fredricksen, Charles Davis, Robert Madsen, Charles Glenn, and Fred Jackson.

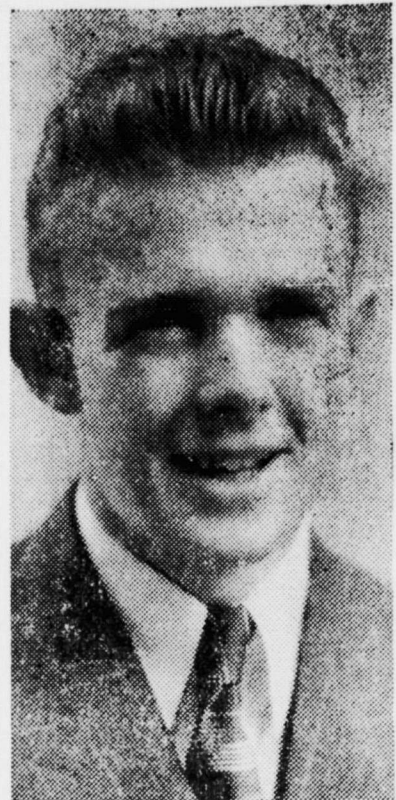

Eleanor Buck will have charge of makeup, Helen Woodcock and Catherine Caltoft are in charge of properties. Lighting will be handled by Sherman Washburn and sound effect by Glenn Goble.

Coffee will be served during intermission on Thursday and Friday under the direction of Mrs. Ellen Walter, by Billie Bunch, John Thornton, Virginia Fredricksen, Albert Gilman, Olga Stemach, Hazel Hagne, and Sophie Politis.

All-Stars Will Meet Merchants

The College All-Stars fresh from the victory over the Samoa-Arcata baseball nine will play the strong Eureka Merchant nine this Sunday afternoon at Albee Stadium.

Little is known of the Merchant nine but the All-Stars will field the same team that defeated the White City team two weeks ago. The probable line-up for the All-Stars will be as follows: Ellis, 3b; Farber, 1f; O'Donnell, cf; Meneweather, 2b; Flink, 1b; Speier, ss; McGrath, c; Cabalzar, rf; Faust, p.

Pep Band Will Have New Suits

G. Dana Kinsman of the Humboldt State College music department is making arrangements to outfit the Pep Band in a different style next year. The Pep Band is very important to the school the first semester of the year to play for the games, says Mr. Kinsman, and he plans for new music, new marching formations, and new ideas all around. He asks that the student body look forward to supporting the band next fall and although it will be limited to 32 pieces, it will be a much better band than this year.

ZOOLOGY ROOM HAS PECULIAR ODORS

On entering the Zoology 1-B class one day last week the students were bewildered by the peculiar odor. Was it coming from the specimens the class was dissecting? Or could it be...?

The Great Jim Hall was puzzled. Everybody began looking at everybody else.

Then Hall put his nose out of the window for a bit of fresh air, found it, and also the solution.

Dr. Harry MacGinitie has moved his hydrogen sulphite generator out of his chemistry laboratory so that the odor would not drift into the library, but had placed it accidentally where the zoology class received the full benefit.

Sports Commentator Predicts Track Victory For Humboldt

Beaten, but not disgraced—that is the story of the meet with San Jose and Cal Poly last Saturday. After all, second places is not bad when a team runs up against San Jose. However, there were some disappointments to this writer as well as to the boys themselves.

Chief kick about the meet was the inability of the placing judges to see Don Mahan, who should have gotten no worse than a dead heat for first in the 100, but was shunted down to a tie for second by the placing "judges." All who were eyewitnesses agreed on this point.

Al Biondini did very well in the high hurdles, running the fastest race of his life to take second, only a yard off the winner. Other boys who came through well were Snooky Edsall, who ran a nice race to take third in the 880; Wally Lozensky, who ran a good second in the two mile; and Marshall Rousseau, who came through with a nice third place in the mile. Incidentally, it was "Roo" who gave the crowd its biggest thrill when he finished in the 880.

Spartans Victor In Tri-Meet

Scoring eleven first places in fifteen events, San Jose's track team defeated Humboldt State and California Poly in a triangular meet at San Jose Saturday. Total scores were San Jose 92½, Cal Poly 36½, Humboldt 30. Humboldt was unable to score any first places during the day's competition, but captured seven second places.

Humboldt's outstanding men were Vernon Thornton, who was second in the shot, discus, and javelin; Don Mahan who tied for second in the 100 and was second in the 220; Al Biondini, who was second in the high hurdles and fourth in the low; and Wally Lozensky, who was second in the two mile. Other point winners were Nick Barbieri, Snooky Edsall, Marshall Rousseau, and Lee Flink.

San Jose presented a team strong in the middle distances and long distances and in the field events. They were good enough to sweep the 440 and the broad jump. Cal Poly scored first places in both hurdle events and in the 100. All things considered, Humboldt's showing was creditable, although not coming up to expectations in some events.

DINE AT BIG FOUR

at the Big Four Friday night were Marian Goss, Marjorie Barnes, Humboldt Coeds dining together Dolores Scholl, Frances Nye, Barbara Bird, and Helen Alberts. After dinner the girls went to see, "Three Smart Girls Grow Up."

work in hotels. Even offices have been named to correspond with the administration. Titles include manager, assistant manager, comptroller, host and steward.

Vernon Thornton was unable to equal his best practice marks in the shot and discus, but finished second in both anyway. Verne and Don Presley, San Jose weight man, (who know each other very well) had their own private heckling duel in the shot and discus, as well as in the event itself. From the results, it appears Presley had the best of the kidding, but Thornton hopes for revenge some day.

Oh, well, now that's over, we can look forward to some competition more in our own class. I speak of the meet with Southern Oregon this Saturday at Albee Stadium. This is the SONS first year in track but like Humboldt, they are building for the future, and their team should give Humboldt a lot of trouble.

This Sunday the baseball team tackles the Eureka Merchants in another very tough game for the college. If they can win this game or at least make a good showing, the old confidence should rise for the games with Santa Rosa J. C. next month.

FACULTY PARTY GIVEN FOR MISS ANN CRAIG

Sam Beer Trophy Tournament Set

The annual Sam Beer trophy golf tournament for men will get under way soon, according to Miss Ann Craig of the physical education department.

Since there are quite a number of good men golfers in college this year, there should be plenty of competition. Any men who are interested in competing may turn their names into Miss Craig before May 1.

This competition is match play and the matches are run off at time which is convenient to the opponents.

Clarence Edsall was the winner of the tournament last year, Gerald Geiger was also a winner in one of the previous matches.

N. Y. U. Will Offer Degree In 'Radio'

New York University will establish a department of radio next September which, it is believed, will make it the first liberal arts institution in the country to offer a four-year radio major leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

"Approximately three-fourths of the curriculum will be composed of courses in liberal arts and sciences, with emphasis in the fields of English composition and literature, history, economics, government, psychology, public speaking, and music," Dean Charles Maxwell McCann said.

"The courses in radio which will start in the students' first year and expand throughout the four years, will embody an introduction to and orientation in the technical problems of radio, including writing for radio, speaking on the radio, the use of music on the radio, announcing, broadcasting of special events, the elements of radio engineering, television and facsimile, station operation, audience psychology, radio advertising the educational uses of radio, and the legal relations of radio.

"The curriculum is designed to prepare students primarily for the field of radio production and program planning. It is not intended to train for radio engineering nor is it designed for the development of 'artists' or performers.

CONVICT ARRANGES MUSIC

An inmate of the Texas penitentiary has become a staff arranger for the Texas Christian University band. The prison musician recently wrote an original march, which was featured on a broadcast by the Horned Frog Band.

Women's Club Will Give Scholarships

The women's clubs of Humboldt county which have heretofore offered scholarships only to graduating seniors of Humboldt county high school now are offering two types of scholarships. One is for high school graduating seniors; the other is in the form of a loan that can be won by anyone who has already graduated or is in college. This loan can also be had every year for four years by the same person and is called the Sequoia club scholarship. This scholarship is open to any field of music while the other was limited to voice, cello, piano and violin. The loan begins to draw interest one year after the student has graduated from college.

This makes a total of four scholarships in all offered by the Humboldt county women's clubs.
