WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 8, 1939

State Divides Series With Chico Wildcats

The Humboldt State Lumberjacks showed a complete reversal of form last Saturday night to take the second game of the series with the Chico Wildcats, 43-32 after losing a listless game on Friday night 35-32.

Playing before a packed house, the Lumberjacks jumped into an early lead on Saturday night and never relinquished it. They led at half time 16-11. Coming back after the half the Lumberjacks ran the score to 30 points in the short interval of three and a half minutes, while holding Chico to three points.

Vernon Thornton was the hero of the series with his great recovery work under both baskets and his stellar defensive work. Al Biondini, ace forward, also contributed much to the high speed State offense. Al accounted for 16 points in the series, as did Wally Lozensky. Franny Givins, high scoring forward, was held to 11 points during the series, but many of his points came at crucial periods of the game and his defensive play was much improved over last season's.

For the Wildcats Whitmer, Sigel, and Schleuter were outstanding. State's next college competition will be with San Francisco State here at the College gym on February 17-18.

Library Mistaken For Social Unit

C. Edward Graves, librarian, is asking that students be more quiet in the library. Mr. Graves said yesterday:

"In the last Lumberjack appeared an editorial asking the students not to use the social unit as a gymnasium. There is no prohibition against using it as a room for social conversation but there is such a prohibition against using the library for this purpose."

"Very frequently students have been observed to stroll into the library, saunter over to a table where a friend is sitting, spend the next ten or fifteen minutes in social conversation, then stroll out again."

"The library is going to make a special effort this semester to eliminate this unnecessary disturbance and wishes to ask the co-operation of students. A little thoughtfulness in the matter will help greatly."

FRESHMAN GIRLS TO BE SPECIAL GUESTS

Freshman girls will be special guests at the W. A. A. hockey and volleyball banquet on Thursday, February 9, from 4 to 6 p. m. in the social unit, according to Barbara Crnich and Mary Floccini, chairmen. Members of the various class teams will also attend.

Miss Dorothy Chandler, the new assistant librarian, and Miss Eloise Clarke, new assistant to the recorder, together with Mrs. Monica Hadley and Miss Ann Craig, advisors of the W. A. A., will be special guests.

Refreshments will be served and games will be played.

Bob Madsen Is Publicity Manager

Bob Madsen today accepted the appointment of Publicity Manager, succeeding Keith Emenegger who recently resigned.

Madsen stated that a publicity program would immediately be launched.

Madsen is a senior student from Eureka and is a former H. S. C. student-body president and vice-president. Sherman Washburn will act as an assistant publicity manager, taking charge of radio programs.

Madsen said that within the next few days he and a committee yet to be named, would begin an extensive publicity program. According to the appointee, such a program will only succeed with complete cooperation of the entire student body.

Tentative plans for the campaign include getting increased newspaper publicity throughout the Redwood Empire, conducting a Safety Week Campaign sponsored by the Associated Students, giving programs at the various high schools, contacting high school seniors in regard to attending Humboldt State College, and holding a high school senior day at Humboldt late this spring.

DANCING PARTY AT "HOUSE OF RICE"

Following the Humboldt-Chico game Friday night, a dancing party was held at the "House of Rice." Those attending the party were: Lee Flink, Rosie Ivancich, Bill Fautz, Doty Watkins, Bill Zeigler, Vivian Larson, Rod Belcher, Francis Poulson, Harry Bishop, Otho Davis, and Edith Jennings.

Following the evening of dancing refreshments were served.

EDITOR'S DAUGHTER

Among the many new students at Humboldt State College is Betty O'Kane, graduate of Grant High School of Portland, Oregon. Miss O'Kane is residing with her father, Don O'Kane, editor and publisher of the Humboldt Standard, in Eureka.

Miss O'Kane is taking commercial courses and history.

"The Abbe Dimnet writes in English and thinks in American; that is, on the exceedingly rare occasions when he ceases to be French."—Keith Feiling in The Observer, London.

Mrs. G. Manary To Give Review Thursday Night

Mrs. Gordon Manary, of Scotia, will present a dramatic reading and review for the Humboldt State College Chi Sigma Epsilon scholarship fund, this Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. Mrs. Manary, who is well known in Humboldt dramatic circles, will review and read parts from one of the most popular plays of today.

The entire benefits will go toward the scholarship fund sponsored by Chi Sigma Epsilon. The scholarship consists of general student fees for one year, and is awarded to an entering freshman. It is given on the basis of scholarship, participation in student activities, and the recommendation of the high school principal. The student must apply for the scholarship and is then chosen from the list of applicants.

In conjunction with Mrs. Manary's review, there will be several violin solos by Marianne Lam-

Thirty Girls To Visit H.S.C.

On Friday morning, February 10, approximately thirty World Fair information girls will visit Humboldt State College. These girls are making an educational tour of the Redwood Empire under the auspices of the Redwood Empire Association. Since Humboldt State is the only four-year college in the empire, these girls will inspect the college campus in order to be able to give out information regarding the institution.

Nick Barbieri, student body president, and Bob Madsen, newly appointed publicity manager, are making preparations for a reception and aid in touring the campus.

IS ILL

According to reports, Valerie Vann, freshman student, is seriously ill at the St. Joseph Hospital in Eureka, suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Miss Vann is taking a commercial course at Humboldt State College.

ENTERING STUDENTS RESIDE AT DORMITORY

With the beginning of a new semester the H. S. C. dormitory has had several new members and the loss of five of its former members.

Those who have left are: Grace McManus, Dorothy Fraga, Esther Ritola, Dave Williams, and Mose Musante.

Miss McManus is a graduate from Chico State college and has her A. B. degree. She is studying for her general elementary degree here at Humboldt State.

ADA DEAN REGLI APPOINTED TO BOARD

Ada Dean Regli has been appointed to the board of control and executive council by President Nick Barbieri to fill the vacancy left by Virginia Torp's graduation.

The board now consists of Ada Dean Regli, Blanche Lowry, Beryl Unsoeld, Charles Glenn, Clarence Edsall, and Jack Ellis. The student body officers are: Nick Barbieri, president; Sherman Washburn, vice-president; Doris Gundersen, secretary; Fred Hibler, treasurer; Bob Madsen, publicity manager.

Dr. Homer Balabanis is the faculty advisor.

Unique Stage Setting for Drama

Much has been written about the production side of the play "Yellow Jack", but few know that a great deal of technical work is involved in the construction of the settings and of the sound effects to be used during the play, which will be given on February 15-16.

The sound effects will be made by Glenn Goble and Quentin Cash. They will produce bugle calls and drum rolls. A men's quartette, under the direction of G. Dana Kinsman, will sing songs typical of the era in which the play is laid. The songs will include "Dolly Gray", "Goodbye", and others that were popular at the turn of the nineteenth century.

The set itself will be under the direction of John Van Duzer, who has in the past made many contributions to the dramatics department of Humboldt State. The set itself will be unusual in that there will be two levels on the regular stage. The second level will be four and a half feet above the floor level. This will permit more than one scene without drawing the curtain. There are eighteen different scenes in the play, and by the use of the lighting equipment, it will be possible to illuminate only one level at a time or parts of the level so as to do away with the drawing of the curtain for every change in scene.

The play lasts about two hours and is said to be a dynamic story with a great deal of action. The cast are fast learning their roles and give promise of excelling or at least equaling the brilliant performance of "The Night of January Sixteenth".

NEW FACULTY WOMEN ARE ENTERTAINED

Humboldt College faculty women were entertained last Friday night at the of Miss Belle Dickson in honor of two new faculty women: Miss Dorothy Chandler, assistant librarian; and Miss Eloise Clark, assistant to the Recorder.

Those present besides the hostess and the guests of honor were Mesdames Myrtle McKittrick, Monica Hadley, Elma Folsom, Doris Gilliespie Niles, Jessie Woodcock, Emily Graves, Ellen Walter, Estelle Preston Koch, Misses Imogene Platt, Ann Craig, Ruth Bestor, Adella Johnson, Dorothy Williams, Fay Jackson, Emmalena Winkler.

"To be ignorant of what occurred before you were born is to be always a child."—Cicero.

Stanford Soloist Will Sing In "Elijah" Feb. 21-22

The Humboldt State College music department, under the direction of G. Dana Kinsman, will present the oratorio "Elijah" by Felix Mendelssohn, on the nights of February 21, and 22 in the College auditorium.

The featured soloist will be Mr. Joel Carter of Stanford University. Mr. Carter, who will sing the title role in the oratorio, is studying at Stanford for his master's degree in music. He has sung the role in the "Elijah" four times previous to his coming here. Supporting Mr. Carter, will be Mrs. J. M. Garrison of Eureka, who will sing the soprano role; Marthabel Scott, Humboldt State, will sing the alto soprano role; and Mr. Paul Johnson, San Jose State, who will sing the tenor role.

Supporting the four soloists will be the Humboldt State Chorus composed of the A Cappella Choir, the Women's Glee and the Men's Glee Club. The college orchestra, under the direction of G. Dana Kinsman, will accompany the performance.

A public performance will be given in the near future and in this the chorus will sing several selections from the "Elijah".

Student night will be on February 21 and the public night will be on the 22.

Anniversary Fete To Be Postponed

It seems best to postpone the celebration of the silver anniversary of Humboldt State College from April until commencement in June, it has been announced, following a committee meeting held to discuss the celebration.

Reasons for postponement were as follows: that the state legislature might still be in session on April 14 and thereby make it impossible for any officials from Sacramento to attend; that rain might interfere with several outdoor features planned for the day; that it might be difficult for alumni who are teaching to be present in April; that the Humboldt Student Body officials wished to hold the annual Work Day before the celebration and feared that plans could not be completed by the April date.

CHARGES THAT THE

chess team of the Magnus University had been subsidized were hotly denied in the current issue of the school paper. The statement of the faculty that scholastic requirements had been relaxed to attract "gambit bums" were discounted in a release from the sports department.

COLLEGIANA

By James Robertson

Quite appropriately with the semester examinations which are hovering around at the present time comes a poetic version of the struggle from the exchange column of Manhattan College's Quadrangle:

"Twas the Night Before Quizmas
 I think that I shall never go to bed
 Until the morning sky is red.
 For on the morrow comes a quiz
 On which I'll murmur, "Oh, gee whizz!"

At some fool question lurking there.

And as I cram and tear my hair,
 Oh, shall I study all the night?
 Oh, why am I not bright?

Mottoes

Egotist's: An I for an I.
 Tightwad's: Backward, turn backward, O dime in thy flight.
 Farmers: Weed 'em and reap.
 College Boy's: Don't count your chickens before they show up for the date.

The Old Folks': When is the younger generation coming to?

Cook's: A thing of booty is a joy forever.

Londoner's: There's no police like Holmes.

Frat Parties: Come one, come oiled.

CAMPUS COMMENTATOR

INTRODUCING

Band a-playing, people a-cheering and best of all, Humboldt a-winning. All these took place Saturday night in the college gym, when Humboldt downed the Chico Wildcats 43-32.

After some hard luck on Friday night the Lumberjacks came back to win easily on Saturday evening.

PEP BAND

Here's a plug to Myron Schussman and his pep band. They did noble work and, who knows, perhaps they were the margin of victory.

ROOTING SECTION

Yell Leader, Ray Pedrotti, also got a plug. Ray seemed to coach every ounce of yelling out of the rooting section and to the surprise of some there was quite a rooting section.

JUST TO PROVE

It may seem strange, but it goes for the best, in that a larger rooting section and audience turned out for the second game. The deduction is that Humboldt doesn't have to win all of their games to draw a crowd.

POOR SPORTSMANSHIP

Maybe this columnist is stepping out of his place but the recent game conduct of the Humboldt rooting section seems to be warranting it. There is a code of ethics in college life which says the booing of the officials is unsportsmanlike. Also the razzing or panning of the visiting coach is unethical. The students of Humboldt are like any other college students; they want to see their team win. Victory isn't everything, dear readers; as the old saying goes: "No matter if you've won or lost, it's how you played the game."

PRIZE REMARK

The fur-lined dish rag goes to Dr. Balabanis for his prize comment in the closing minutes of Saturdays game. Humboldt was leading by four points and the seconds were ticking off when our good doctor gave the following advice, "Now all we have to do is to hang to the ball."

SURPRISE

One of the big surprises of the week-end came out on Saturday night when who should pop in to the game but our own little "Betty Coed," Mary Mangum, and that erstwhile Humboldt and faculty member of Eureka high school, Joseph Daly. Don't tell us that you are getting help with your homework, Mary.

WHAT! ALONE

The two titian Barnes sisters coming to Friday night's game sans company. Hey, ain't there no fellas around here with a yen for redheads.

RUMOR AF DANCE

There have been rumors of another frosh dance soon. We hope it's true for the last dance was a success, socially and financially.

More Men Now Than Women
But 'Twasn't So In Other Days

There were six more men than women enrolled in Humboldt State College last fall, according to statistics released from the office of Mrs. Myrtle McKittrick, Recorder.

But it was not always thus, according to R. H. Jenkins, Industrial Arts instructor at Humboldt State, who told recently of the days at Humboldt Normal School (now Humboldt State College) when there was only one boy attending the school.

"In 1913 I landed for the first time in Eureka via the boat, 'City of Topeka'. The fog hung like a heavy dripping curtain over the city. Mail was nearly a week old and every impression was that of being out in a separate world of events," said Mr. Jenkins.

"A few days later Mrs. Jenkins and I stopped at Arcata to eat supper at a restaurant which was located at the present site of the Hunt Medical building. We then hired an automobile to take us to Korb and paid five dollars for the trip. The famous Korb Hotel chicken dinners were so delicious that we stayed a week there.

"As we drove through Arcata in the thick fog, I thought to myself that this would be one place that I would never want to teach. Little did I know that in two years I would be back to live in Arcata and teach at Humboldt Normal School. For over twenty years I have seen the parade move on.

"The first college was almost in a lumber yard. The site is, however, now the Hammond Lumber Company's retail yard. Every time a train went by, instruction ceased because of the noise. The first school was certainly no place for a bachelor, for women were everywhere in evidence.

"Humboldt was truly a ladies' school; there were no men students, and just a few men faculty members. The woodshop seemed to produce nothing but hope chests. Still no men enrolled at Humboldt."

"At Christmas of 1915 the school moved to the present site. Stumps were everywhere and roads were few and muddy. It seemed that it rained 30 inches that January. I thought the Bible floods were returning. School was held in temporary buildings. Life was drab; life was serious. What could man do?

"That year I rented my last horse and buggy. I remember that Mrs. Jenkins and I went for a ride to Clam Beach, taking all day for the trip.

"Then came the war. Where there had been a few men in college, they left for a place in the army. The number of men at last got to one, a fellow by the name of Dan Hurley. Mr. Van Matre put him in a class of plays and games. The poor fellow practically expired playing "Farmer in the Dell," especially when he became badly infatuated with one of the young ladies. Unfortunately she did not see life as he did.

"It was truly the day for the ladies, but there had to be a change sometime. The college got a new president. The courses developed to fit life. Color came where drab once reigned, and men began to show up in numbers."

The Indiana town of Metamora will be under 60 feet of water if Congress approves a flood-control dam. The 200 inhabitants can be excused for thinking the idea is all wet.

The Roosevelt proposal for an $80,000,000 debt ceiling has caused some of the Congressmen to hit it.

Dr. Robert Yerkes of Yale says chimpanzees in the Yale zoo are almost like human beings in the way they take care of their children. Contact with civilization may have imparted the neglectful habits.

Malcolm MacDonald, dominions secretary, urging an increase in the British birthrate, says "I confess I cannot do anything about it." How about a set of china, or bank night?

Telephone scientists have developed a machine that duplicates almost exactly the human voice. It probably will want to run for office.

Two dozen 200-pound manhole covers have disappeared from Los Angeles streets. Police might try Hollywood. Maybe some of those super-colossal film executives are using them for paperweights.

NOON HOOP TILTS BEGIN THIS WEEK

Noon games for the women's mixed basketball tournament will begin Monday, February 13, according to Virginia Belloni, physical education major in charge.

The games, which are sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association in order to provide recreation for the women of the college, will be played on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week at 12:15. Members of the coaching class, taught by Miss Ann Craig, will referee the contests.

Every girl is urged to sign on the list in the halls because she does not have to be a skillful player to participate, it was said.

OFFICIALS HAVE ILL-FORTUNE FRIDAY

Friday the third was the unlucky night for John McGrath and Walf Ogelsby. John and Walf both C. I. F. officials, were headed for South Fork high school to officiate the games between South Fork and Del Norte high schools when misfortune overtook them in the shape of a flat tire just outside of Eureka. After changing the tire they continued, but just north of Fortuna their car was forced to swerve to one side, by an oncoming car, and they skidded into a ditch. Undaunted, however, they hastily got back on the highway and continued to South Fork high school just one hour late.

College Group Entertains Rotary

T. J. Little, instructor of speech at Humboldt State, gave a reading, and a group of college students gave a radio play at the Arcata Rotary Club last Friday noon.

The play, "State versus Joe Miller," was directed by Keith Emenegger and had the following people in the cast: Bill Inskip, Hazel Hagne, Rod Belcher, Charles Glenn, Ray Pedrotti, and Catherine Caltoft. Bob Madsen was in charge of the sound effects. The drama was given over a public address system for the club, which met at Hunter's Lunch Room.

France imported 11,269 American coin-vending machines this year.

Sports Commentator Lauds Team For Excellent Play In Chico Series

SMALLER THAN ZEKE

Fans at the Chico-Humboldt series witnessed a rare sight. The saw someone playing who was smaller than our Zeke Saunderson. Schoefeld, Chico's diminutive forward, had the smaller stature but we think we have to see anyone as clever or as hard fighting as Zeke. Zeke came through with seven points during the series.

THORNTON'S RECOVERY

The main factor in Saturday night's game was the consistent recovery, at both ends of the court by Vernon Thornton. Vernon used his ability to jump higher than anyone we've seen, hereabouts, to the best advantage and his steller defense work bought storms of applause from the fans.

AL "HACK" BIONDINI

Hack is the only sophomore on the starting squad and if he keeps on improving he'll be another Hank Luisetti. Hack is the fastest man on the floor and is one of the most aggressive. When Hack gets hot, well it means the old ball game Saturday night.

"CAPTAIN GIVIE"

Francis Givins is the chief offensive threat on the squad and always the opposing teams put their best defensive man on him. Humboldt depends much on Givins' ability to ring the hoop and the agile port sider doesn't often let them down.

The captain turned in some swell work with the exception of losing his head and talking too much to the referees and his own team mates.

COMMENTS

Although this column can find no fault in losing one game to

Chico, for the Wildcats have one of the strongest teams in Central California, the ease with which Humboldt beat them in the second game makes all the fans wonder what happened in the first game.

Many are of the opinion that Humboldt substituted too many times in the first game. The pulling of Vernon Thornton in the closing minutes of the first game, when Humboldt needed possession of the ball, and Vernon was the only Humboldt who had been recovering the pellet. And the substituting of a player when Humboldt seemed to be rallying. Saturday night's game seemed to substantiate the opinions for there were comparatively few substitutions.

Then all during the game comments from the spectators were heard asking for more action, but in the end when Humboldt finally won every body went home happy.

The referees had a tough, tough job and despite comments and opinions to the contrary they turned in excellent work. They worked before a highly partisan crowd which never failed to express its opinion on the their decisions yet they were as fair to one team as the other.

Chico put on a great show for the fans up here and several of the boys would have no difficulty in making Humboldt's squad namely Whitmer, Schleuter and Sigel.

"Popular Topics" Series Is Planned

Beginning Friday of this week, a series of talks on popular topics of discussion will be given on alternate Fridays by students and faculty of Humboldt College, at 11:00 a. m. in the college auditorium. Nick Barbieri, student-boy head, will preside. Students, faculty and the public will be invited. Admission will be free.

The program for this Friday follows: "Music and the Radio," by Marian Swap, junior education student; "The State vs. Joe Miller," a short play, directed by Keith Emenegger.

The tentative programs for future Fridays follows:

February 24—"The Development of Jazz," by Betty McWorter, senior education student, assisted by Charles Fulkerson or Mr. Kinsman.

March 10—Lecture—Topic to be selected by college science department; possibly an illustrated lecture.

March 24—Forum with vital topic selected by the social science department and presented by two or four students, after which the audience may participate.

April 14—"Factors Influencing International Problems," by Dr. Balabanis and Dr. Fisher, of the social science department.

April 28—"House and Home Designing," by Horace Jenkins of the industrial arts department; "Costume and Personality" with models; this will be a class exercise directed by Mrs. Ellen Walter, of the home economics department.

May 12—"Touring in Interesting Places," by Miss Dorothy Chandler, assistant librarian.

May 26—"Mark Twain and His Stories," by Theodore Little of the speech department.

H

Students Hear China's Problems

During the 1936 Ohio flood, China sent to the United States six million dollars for relief. This was the startling statement made by L. L. Wirt, representative for the National Church Committee for China Relief at an assembly last Wednesday.

President Arthur S. Gist introduced M. Wirt at the special assembly. Continuing the talk on war-torn China, Wirt stated that over fifty million homeless, wretched, hungry, some sick, some dying Chinese are wandering through war devastated China.

That twelve United States' dollars will feed a Chinese family for a year was another startling fact brought out by the speaker. The problem of feeding the sick, starving, and dying is one that is being forced upon the church missions. However, these church missions accept the problem as a duty of Christian love and good will. Nevertheless, money is necessary for this work. Therefore the united churches have formed a committee for China relief. This committee is asking for donations, emphasizing that three cents a day will feed one of the refugees.

History Of Lagoons and Bay Given by MacGinitie Over Radio

Big Lagoon is filling up and will become another "Dry Lagoon," according to Dr. Harry D. MacGinitie of Humboldt College, who spoke on the geologic history of Big Lagoon and Humboldt Bay, over station KIEM Monday night. Geologically speaking, this will occur in a brief time; but no one need worry yet, because the lagoons will be there for some tens of thousands of years.

Although lagoons are not uncommon on the North American coast, few are beautiful, occurring usually on uninteresting, flat shores. Humboldt's lagoons are unique in their combination of wooded hills, tranquil water, and magnificent beaches.

"This is a region of active earth movements," said Dr. MacGinitie. "We live on the edge of an actively growing mountain range where mountain-folding is in progress, accompanied by faulting and changes in level. To the geologist, the words 'solid earth' have little meaning. Although the earth processes are slow in comparison with the span of human life, changes are continually in progress; and the results of these changes are sometimes startling when accumulated over a period of years. Nature works by continually keeping at it, and most of her spectacular feats are accomplished bit by bit rather than by sudden catastrophes."

The first step in the formation of Big Lagoon, according to Dr. MacGinitie, was a sinking of a portion of the coast along a stream valley which allowed the sea to flood the lower end of the valley. This depression was not great and probably did not exceed a hundred feet on the north side of the lagoon. Then sediment from the stream which ran into this little "bay" began to fill in the upper part of the submerged valley. When winds parallel the coast, they produce shore currents which move along the beach. Humboldt shore currents flow north in winter storms and south in summer storms. These currents begin to build out spits or bars both from the south and the north with material eroded by the waves from the bordering headlands.

In this way, bay bars are built from opposite sides and finally meet, inclosing the water as a lagoon. These bars are built above sea level by the combined action of the waves and wind. Although the waves appear to be active on the Big Lagoon bar, they build up as fast as they tear down. Sediment is continually brought in from both sides, and the waves, in breaking, push some of this material up on the bar; they build up as fast as they tear down. Sediment is continually brought in from both sides, and the waves, in breaking, push some of this material up on the bar. During low tide, the wind picks up sand and heaps it still higher.

Humboldt Bay is exactly the same kind of formation as Big Lagoon but on a much larger scale, Dr. MacGinitie said. It was formed from a depressed area extending from Mad River to the mouth of Eel River. The Samoa sand dunes are simply a part of the great bay bar which enclosed the bay down to its southern end. The old sand dunes at Brainerd's Cut were deposited when the ocean beach extended that far east before the bar was formed. Beach sands and gravels underlie the bay mud in many places.

On next Monday Dr. MacGinitie will discuss the effect of ocean currents on climate, how the Pacific Ocean modifies the climate of Humboldt County, and why there are summer fogs here.

Fee For Changes In Effect Monday

Beginning next Monday, February 13, students will pay a fee of twenty-five cents every study-program change, according to an announcement made at the beginning of the semester and repeated yesterday. Since a change of program is to be interpreted to mean either adding or dropping a course, a student who drops one course to take another will, after this present week, pay a total of fifty cents.

The procedure for dropping a course after this week, as announced from the recorder's office, is as follows: (1) Pay fee at the office of the recorder and obtain receipt. (2) Present this receipt to the instructor and obtain course card. (3) Have one's advisor sign the course card. (4) Return the course card to the recorder's office.

The procedure for adding a course is as follows: (1) Obtain a "Permit to Enter a New Course" card and have it signed by one's advisor. (2) Pay fee at recorder's office and exchange permit card for course card. (3) Hand the course card to the instructor.

It was pointed out that this fee system, new this semester, was adopted in an effort to reduce changes in programs which had been made out after careful consideration by both advisor and student at pre-registration. Last bert, young musician who was awarded the Federated Women's Club music scholarship this year. There will also be musical numbers by the college string ensemble, whose members are Myron Schussman, Doris Gunderson, Dorothy Williams, Henry Trione and Charles Arnold.

The price of admission will be thirty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for students. The members of Chi Sigma Epsilon who are sponsoring the review are: Valerie Barker, James Hall, Ray Pedrotti, Myron Schussman, Beryl Unsoeld and Miss Adella Johnson, faculty advisor for the society. They will also be assisted by the sophomore honor group, the Rousers.

The Humboldters are featured in two color-plate photos in the section entitled "California's Coastal Redwood Realm" written by J. R. Hilderbrand, assistant editor of the magazine, and the "Golden Gate and Redwood Evergreens" by Anthony Stewart, official National Geographic photographer.

These pictures are lupines on the Redwood Highway between Eureka and Arcata that are being inspected by the students, and of the sand dunes near Clam Beach with a group looking at the surrounding landscape.

Arrangements for having the college students pictured were made through the Eureka Chamber of Commerce, Miss Sarah Davies, secretary to president Gist, now on leave, and Bob Madsen, last year's student body president.

semester, students made more than four hundred changes in their study cards, ranging from a change involving one course to an entire change of program.
