Humboldt Lumberjack WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1941

BARN DANCE LOOMS--BOOMS FRIDAY

1942 JOINT CONVENTION FOR H. S. C.

Approximately 200 delegates to the Fourteenth Annual Alta Convention of A. W. S. and W. A. A., of state and junior colleges of Northern and Central California, will meet at Humboldt State in the Spring of 1942! This decision was announced at the Thirteenth Annual meeting of this conference which was held at San Jose State April 18 and 19, to which Humboldt sent seven delegates. Deans of Women from all state colleges participating will also attend the convention.

The purpose of such conferences is the promotion of discussion groups in which schools present their problems, and suggestions from other schools are offered for their solution.

This will be the first joint convention of its kind ever held at Humboldt, and is definitely a feather in their cap for Humboldt's Women's Associations.

Attending the San Jose convention were Betty Fay, Rosie Ivanich, Lois Wrigley, Mary Caprile, Nadine Swan and Eleanor Shaw.

MUTSUHITO CLUB FORMALLY INITIATES FIVE NEW PLEDGES

Humboldt's Chapter of the Mutsuhito Club held its formal initiation of pledges and initiated as honorary member Mrs. Homer Arnold last night, April 22nd. Pledges installed as new members were: Gilberta Negro, Dolores Scholl, Maxine Maxwell, Alice Wilkinson and Phyllis Gray. The formal candlelight ritual was carried out in the College Social Unit with President Eleanor Shaw presiding. Following the ceremony, a social hour was enjoyed and light refreshments were served.

Mutsuhito activities for the remainder of this semester were discussed, and will include: Trip to Chico as guests of Chico's Mutsuhito Club, Election of Officers, Formal Installation of Officers, Founder's Day Dinner, May 13.

Certain Mutsuhito members will travel to Chico Saturday morning, April 26th, as guests of the Chico Chapter at their Mutsuhito Formal Spring Ball.

Clare Ostrander has been appointed general chairman of the women's projects for All-Campus Workday.

In addition to August Bade, game wardens and county officials will attend the meeting. Dinner will be 85c a plate with reservations not later than Thursday morning.

The twelve pens now completed have a capacity of twenty birds per pen. The six brooders will have forty chicks each. The hovers for these brooders were brought to the college by William Avise last week from the state game farm at Yountville. Advise has supervised construction of the pens and brooders.

The game bird class, under the direction of Fred Telonicher, will care for the game birds. Last week the class made an inspection of the pens. The past weeks have been spent in study allied to the raising and care of game birds. Students in the game bird class are: Marshall Rousseau, Eugene German, Marshall Taylor, Eldrid Spinass, Dave Williams, Herb Christie, Warren Haughey, Herbert Hudson, Fred Iten, Ben Vonnah, Angelo Manfreda, Harry Manning, Manuel Olivera, and Arnold Waters.

Last Saturday evening, April 19, at a banquet held at the Eureka Inn which opened the th Annual Convention of the Redwood Empire District of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the College A Cappella Choir presented a half hour concert. They sang compositions from the 17th century, Russian and Modern British as well. The choir's program was very well received by the audience.

Men's Association Offers Their Prize Extravaganza

BY JONES AND MOORE

The Men's Association of Humboldt State College will respectfully submit for approval their 1941 Edition of the Annual Barn Dance on Friday evening, April 25. Milt Pelligrini's Ryan Slough Rangers will husk the corn. Men and beard-less boys will be admitted for six bits, including Federal Tax. Women will be admitted free, ex-cluding Federal Tax.

The decorations committee has promised that the rural motif will be truly represented down to the last smell. There will be animals, big animals, little animals, Alumni, and hay. There will be a new and novel way of entering the Gym (not walking).

General chairmen Tom Hansen and his able crew of assistants—Eaton on decorations, and Foltz on music and program—have bent every effort to give the clean-up committee plenty to do.

We could go on forever singing of the pleasures to be experienced at one of the Men's Associations' Barn dances, but they probably wouldn't print it. The best advice we can give you would be to tell you to ask some of the Old Hands who have had the pleasure of attending one of these gala extravaganzas.

Spring's largest single student body activity, WORKDAY, will be held on Friday, May 2, starting with the famed faculty program assembly at 8 A. M., and culminating with the awarding of prizes to winning work crews at 3 P. M., according to jGeneral Chairman Forrest Waters.

About ten good projects have been lined up, including the re-pairing of the Inner Court fish pond; the construction of a sign board located on the highway at the foot of College Hill, displaying the 1941 Football schedule; the usual road clean-up and painting, the construction of several horse-

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, in consideration of the traditional character of the Men's Association Annual Barn Dance it is hereby proclaimed that Friday, the 25th day of April, Nineteen hundred and forty-one, shall be known as BARN DANCE DAY:

WHEREAS, be it known to all those present that, on this twenty-fifth day of April, nineteen hundred and forty-one, all men are hereby required to attire themselves in apparel of a rural style:

WHEREAS, those who so desire are requested to adorn their faces in hair of a natural, or, an artificial origin:

WHEREAS, since this Barn Dance Day is in consideration of the Annual Barn Dance given by the Men's Association it is fitting and proper that the parties of the second part (Women, to you) should cooperate in the matter of costume; however, it is felt that it would be unfair to require the women to raise beards:

WHEREAS, this day, known as Barn Dance Day, is to be representative of the spirit of the Barn Dance, it is requested that a jovial and carefree demeanor be assumed by all those present.

Signed, and set with my seal this 2nd day of April, 1941,

BUD VILLA, President of the Associated Students.

According to word just received from Mr. Edmund Jeffers, the College A Cappella Choir has been asked to sing for the banquet which is to be held at Nelson Hall Friday night, April 25, for the Dedication of the Game Bird pens. GUEST EDITORIAL

No college is complete without a mascot. Besides their inherent advertising value, mascots lend atmosphere and spirit to sport events. Most of you readers are probably familiar with the mascots of some of the larger colleges and know what traditions they have become.

The most appropriate mascot for Humboldt, of course, would be a Lumberjack; but because of game laws and no bounty, we feel that this is entirely impractical and out of our grasp—and besides, the feeding and caging of such a ferocious beast present technical difficulties.

Dr. Harry MacGinitie has suggested a Brontosaurus or a Diplovertebron, but the acquisition of such "beasties," due to their scarcity, raises definite problems.

Seriously, though, we feel that a fitting mascot would not be difficult to obtain nor keep, in comparison with the benefits gained by it. How about suggestions? Who knows, your idea may win a prize!

Unusual Orchestral Effects for the Spring Concert

BY WALLACE LOOK

Many and varied are the instrumental effects to be produced by the College Little Symphony at the Spring Concert April 30th. "Ballad For Americans" features the percussion department in boiler-maker noises as well as syncopation and harmony in the modern idiom. The "Song of Faith" will charm those who enjoy the smooth-flowing counterpoint of string ensemble that it has to offer, besides its gay songs and its section for gongs and trumpets.

110 B Botany Class Enjoys Field Trip Into Hoopa Valley

The 110B Botany Class left Humboldt State College at eight o'clock last Saturday morning, April 19, for a field day trip into Hoopa Valley. The day was spent in collecting and observing plants not found locally around Arcata. Dr. William M. Lanphere, instructor for the botany classes, was in charge of the tour.

Fred Telonicher, instructor for the ornithology class, accompanied the botany class. Since some of the members of the botany class are also members of the ornithology class, part of the time was spent in observing birds. Two deer crossed the road in front of the cars along the Hoopa cut-off.

Students making the trip were: Merlyn Allen, Robert Bryan, Eugene German, Marshall Rousseau, Alberta Starkey, Bernice Taylor, Marshall Taylor, and Dave Williams.

"WHAT'S THE BEEF?"

To President Gist:

The following, dear president, makes terribly unhappy!

Quote: Probably the most sought-after sport story of the year was the one released first by the Humboldt Standard last Friday evening, announcing that Earl Hoos, former Stanford grid star, was in town to confer with President Arthur S. Gist of Humboldt State relative to the gridiron coaching position there.

Until the Humboldt Standard printed the name of Earl Hoos last Friday, there had been little more than wild rumors as to just who was to be the new Humboldt State Coach.

Hoos officially accepted the position this week, but as The Standard announced last Friday, the job for Hoos was practically cinched.

Tonight, the Humboldt Standard, prints its exclusive photograph of Humboldt's new coach, Earl Hoos, thus scoring the third consecutive "beat" on "big news" at Humboldt State.

1. The Herb Hart resignation story.

2. The Earl Hoos "in town" story.

3. First photograph of the new Humboldt coach.

 Lumberjack Staff.

I would like to take this opportunity to answer last week's "What's the Beef." In that article, Mr. Williamson, the tennis manager, raised the question of an appropriation of $50 to enable the tennis team to participate in the Far Western Tennis Matches. In that article he stated that, "The Executive Council has deemed it unnecessary to appropriate the money for this trip. This year they say there will be none. Why?" end of quote.

When Mr. Williamson was appointed tennis manager it was with the understanding that he was to have the power to organize a tennis team and schedule matches. However, when the budget was made out in the fall and approved by the Student Body, due to lack of funds, there was no provision made for the tennis team. Therefore, in order to get any money for tennis, there would have to be an appropriation by the Executive Council, transferring money from some other account over to tennis. Well and good. In an ordinary year this could easily have been done. However, financially speaking, this has not been an ordinary year.

Our financial policies are based on a system whereby the returns from the different activities are pooled, and then in turn they are all allocated for various student activities. If any of these activities do not bring in the returns expected from them, or worse, go into the red, then the entire student body is affected. That is what happened this year. Football and basketball, our two most important means of raising revenue, for reasons beyond their control, failed to bring in the returns expected from them. In fact, they

Chi Sigma Epsilon Benefit Assembly Very Well Received

The annual Chi Sigma Epsilon scholarship benefit assembly was presented Tuesday, April 22, for the purpose of raising funds for a scholarship to be awarded to some graduate of a Humboldt or Del Norte county high school.

The program featured a humorous reading by Dr. Garff Bell Wilson, musical numbers by guest soloists from Arcata, Fortuna, and Eureka high schools, and selections by five talented college students.

The guest soloists were: Miss Pearl Ham of Arcata high playing a clarinet solo, accompanied by Miss Catherine Swap, Miss Nancy Crane, from Fortuna high, who sang selections, accompanied by Miss Lois Hough; Miss Peggy Airth, who represented Eureka high, playing two cello solos, accompanied by Mrs. Kathryn Cash.

Other musical numbers were a piano duet by Virginia Hill and Jane Lou Mahoney, two vocal solos by Allan Lowry, accompanied by Wallace Look, two selections by Katherine Jean Pratt, accompanied by Lois Johnson, and a trombone solo by Jack Sutherland, accompanied by Dr. Harry MacGinitie.

both went into the red. Consequently there is absolutely no fund in the budget from which we can transfer this money, without further jeopardizing the student government.

We regret this very much because Mr. Williamson has proved a very capable manager. This tournament also, would have brought Humboldt State College in contact with the rest of the members of the Far Western Conference Tennis Teams for the first time. The only consolation that I may be able to offer Mr. Williamson is that, "Oh well, the practice didn't hurt you."

The campaign in Greece is, for all practical purposes, completed. The Allies lost. They put up a good fight, and did reasonably well, but still they lost. Where will Hitler strike next? First, at Suez, and secondly, we may look for an intensification of the Battle of the Atlantic. Invasion will not be tired except as a last resort since siege and starvation will cost much less in German men and materials.

Turkey should be next on the list. As we predicted months ago, Russia will probably strike at Turkey's back door since she is withdrawing her best troops from the Siberian - Manchukuoan border. German intrigue has been successful in Iraq. Syria, because of the compliance of the Vichy government, will be a push-over. Palestine should also be easy because of the split between the Arabs and the Jews. In the west Germany has already crashed the Egyptian Frontier. The forced evacuation of the Greece-British army will call for a concentration of the fleet in the Aegean. When this happens the Germans will slip a convoy across the Narrows and re-inforce the Lybian army. Thus, both prongs of the pinchers will be ready to drive the British out of the eastern Mediterranean, and close the Suez. You should be able to count on this by the first of August, if not sooner.

When Suez falls, the Japanese will move into the South Pacific, and you may anticipate a Nationalistic revolt in India—probably instigated by the Third International. And we will either be in the war, or will be forced to lose all vestige of prestige at home, and in South America. We will be forced to withdraw to a position of isolation.

We have enjoyed the current controversy about who "scooped" whom with the new Humboldt State Coach story. One rag claims it was first, another claims vice versa and so on. That is, everyone but the Lumberjack. We KNOW we didn't scoop anybody.

PLUG

There is one event that needs no advertising. That's the Annual Men's Association Barn Dance. We are merely wasting our ink when we tell you how good it's going to be, because you already know how good the Barn Dance always is! Decorations are going to be stupendously colossal, worth the price of admission in themselves—with murals twenty feet high.

AT LAST!

The Lumberjack takes a fiendish delight in announcing that at last WE HAVE SCOOPED EVERYONE ELSE! We refer to none other than our story on the 1942 Joint Convention delegates which will meet at Humboldt State next spring—might we point out that neither of the two estimable rags which have been arguing about which scooped which have printed a word about this as yet???

"French Without Tears" is Year's Last Production

Zane Nichols, to appear in "French Without Tears."

Two weeks of strenuous rehearsal remain for the cast of "French Without Tears," last major production by the drama department this year, before its presentation on May 6 and 7 in the college auditorium, and Dr. Garff Bell Wilson is busy smoothing out this gay comedy into the fast, light piece that it is.

The story is about the trials and tribulations of several young Englishmen studying in France who are fighting the influence of a "predatory female."

Maxine Maxwell takes the role of this woman, whose beauty and sex-appeal attract the men so easily. Among the men who come under her spell are Bud Villa, Zane Nichols, Clarke Nellist, and Jack Sivert. Others in the cast are Dan McClure, Marella White, Bill Fielder and Marilyn Brown.

After the production of "French Without Tears" here, the play will be taken to Chico State on May 16 to be presented there as part of the annual play festival between Chico and Humboldt.

Gurglings of a conventioneer—Happy days especially when one of the delegates begins to have a topsy turvy stomach—Facortie topics of discussion on the trip down where the "blind dates," which proved to be surprisingly just "a bit of all right." The excitement we all had over Humboldt's getting the bid for the '42 convention of the A.W.S. and W.A.A. Now we'll have our chance to show them a good time in good old Humboldt style.

Why it is that Eleanor Shaw can eat so much and never seem to get enough? And for such a small girl at that—Very much excited about everything was Betty Fay who got quite a thrill out of the open houses at the different fraternities. Lois Wrigley missed all of the fun (Bunt Lee appreciated it anyway) of the formal, because she journeyed to S. F. to see her sister—Then, too, Rosie Ivancich enjoyed the thrill of participation in an impromptu broadcast about the convention over KQW along with four other girls.

Nadine Swan and Mary Caprile certainly didn't relish the idea of getting in at any 9 o'clock—We think Mrs. Hadley thoroughly enjoyed the compliment when one of the conventioners said she looked utterly glamorous at the formal dinner—of course, Vivienne Nelson wouldn't tell us about her prematurely planned date with the Santa Clara man that she had Friday night. But then, of course, we wouldn't tell you all, either, 'cause that's a secret.

$30,000 Approved For Humboldt

Approval of the assembly ways and means committee was won by Assemblyman M. J. Burns for a $30,000 appropriation for Humboldt State College which would be sought to purchase scattered property on and around Humboldt's Campus. According to Assemblyman Burns, it is planned to purchase eight or ten houses, move them, and use the property for tennis courts, parking places for cars, and a site for an industrial arts building, if and when an appropriation is obtained.

shoe courts; and possibly the establishment of a new Men's Smoker. The women will conduct and inside college clean-up, prepare the Workday luncheon, and decorate for a grand wind-up, the Workday Ball. This dance will be held Friday evening in the Big Gym, from 9-12 P. M.

Workday has long been lauded as the one student body activity in which everyone not only can, but IS urged to give his utmost service and cooperation. Even the faculty take advantage of the occasion to lay aside scholastic austerity and really "let their hair down" to put on an hour's extravaganza of mirth and melody which rivals the best that Broadway can produce.

Workday isn't something anyone can afford to miss—and this year gives promise of being the best yet!

REAUME and LANSING

A propos of the preparations of the chorus for their spring concert, we critiques decided to find out just what the "Ballad for Americans" is all about. It has been grooved on four Decca sides by Nat Schilkret, with Paul Robeson as soloist. As per rumor, this is truly an unusual and different bit of music. The soloist, with an odd choral backing, builds up to a finale which every American will appreciate. Throughout, "Ballad for Americans" typifies the rush, the power and the greatness that is our America. Don't miss it.

This week's worn-out Sax reed goes to any and all orks who may have recorded "Amapola." Can't they do any better than that?

Once in a blue moon someone succeeds in digging up an old tune and putting something new into it. Dinah Shore has done it with "My Man" (Dec.) Without resorting to any corny sob-stuff, Dinah makes it a blues song definitely worth hearing. Notice, particularly, how well the string background blends with the Lady Shore's vocal loveliness. Plattermate is called "Somebody Loves Me," Mighty fine singing. Also recommended for your turntable are Dianh Shore's "Nearness of You," and the old familiar "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes." EARL "MA" HOOS ACCEPTS POSITION AS GRID MENTOR

Earl "Ma" Hoos, present coach at San Louis Obispo J. C., has been chosen the new Humboldt State football coach and assistant professor of Physical Education to succeed Herbert L. Hart who resigned this semester.

Hoos is a former assistant coach at Stanford where he played varsity football for three years and was captain of the team in 1936. That year he received the Culver Award, a ring, for being the most valuable player. At San Louis Obispo J. C., where he has been for the past year, Hoos turned out the best football and basketball teams in the schools history, according to a San Louis Obispo paper.

He graduated from Stanford University in 1936 with an A. B. degree in Economics and one years graduate study in Business Organization at the Stanford graduates school. Hoos received his masters degree in Physical Education at the same school in 1940. In his Physical Education major he had a strait "A" average.

Besides being backfield coach for Tiny Thornhill at Stanford, Hoos was assistant instructor in P. E. and accounting while a graduate student. He spent the 1939-40 school year at Sequoia High school teaching Physical Education. Stanford considers him one of the best teaching prospects in recent years and recommends him highly for his new duties.

His leadership in the gridiron can be best described in an excerpt from the San Francisco Chronicle which said "Earl 'Ma' Hoos, the Indian quarterback, from a standing or running start, can probably outthink any field general the Bears can muster." (The Bears mustered Johnny Meek and Floyd Blower.)

Tiny Thornhill described his talents as "He's got plenty of football sense, is the best blocker on the squad and you see him back up the line."
