Humboldt Lumberjack Wednesday, February 12, 1941.

"Just Incidentally" HUMBOLDT FACULTY CHANGES

Saturday the British seized Benghazi. There is no longer any question as to the ability of the army of the English empire to roar over the six hundred miles to Tripoli. In fact, there are several considerations to indicate that the English will be forced to complete their conquest of Libya.

The first, and most important of these considerations, is the fact that from Tripoli, the English can menace and put pressure to bear on the French colonial army in Algeria. In this manner they can secure the excellent French naval bases in North Africa. They will be able to prevent General Weygand from taking any pro-German step that might injure the British position in the Mediterranean.

ELIMINATE ITALIANS

The second important consideration which will force the English to complete their conquest of Libya, is the necessity of completely eliminating the Italians from North Africa. As long as any remnant of the Italian army remains, the English will be forced to hold at least half that amount of troops in North Africa to forestall the Italian's re-organizing and re-threatening the Suez canal. But the English before the year is up, will need all their available troops in other theatres of the war, and consequently they will not feel justified in leaving troops in Africa which could be withdrawn if the Italians were entirely eliminated.

ANOTHER FACTOR

From this it would seem inevitable that the British sweep on to Tripoli, but this is not necessarily the case. There is another factor to be considered; namely, what action the Germans will take, or are about to take, in the Balkans.

Sunday, Winston Churchill, when speaking to the British empire, and the United States stated that the Germans were preparing air bases in Bulgaria and indicated that the next German move might be expected in that direction, and expected soon. Should the Germans move into Bulgaria and thus threaten the Greek flank, the important harbor of Salonika, and Britain's ally, Turkey, the English would be forced to move a part of the Near Eastern Army

Psych Professor Likes Humboldt

Mr. James Hunter, Humboldt State's new education and psychology professor, is fast becoming a familiar figure to the students. Coming directly from Syracuse, New York, Mr. Hunter has naturally gained many impressions interesting to us.

To quote Mr. Hunter himself: "One of the noticeable differences in people on the west coast is their lack of formality. Where easterners would stand on ceremony, westerners are surprisingly friendly. I have found this friendliness very pleasant."

"The winding Redwood Highway reminds me of my home in the Adirondacks country in New York. I have found the rain a welcome change from the below-zero temperatures I left behind."

"I have found the students interested in their work. The college library is excellent. I am definitely interested in Humboldt and I hope the students will like me."

May we take this opportunity to assure Mr. Hunter that the interest and liking are mutual.

Milwaukee, Wis. (Special) An extensive study of the art of pottery, entitled "Practical Pottery for Craftsmen and Students," has come from the pen of Roy Horace Jenkins, professor of industrial education at Humboldt State college, Arcata, California. The volume was just released by the Bruce Publishing Company, here.

Professor Jenkins came to Humboldt in 1915 and has been there ever since. He became interested in pottery when he met Dr. John Leo Fairbanks of Oregon State college after a lecture during which Dr. Fairbanks expounded the possibilities there were in pottery.

He then began a study of the subject at the California Faience Pottery company in Berkeley. In 1917 Jenkins started a commer-

Coach Herbert L. Hart Resigns

In an unexpected move, football coach and director of athletics Herb Hart last week tendered his resignation, effective at the close of the present semester, to President Arthur S. Gist.

Hart has served in this capacity for three years, coming to Humboldt in 1938 from Monmouth College, Illinois, where his athletic teams hung up many enviable records.

During his first two years here, Humboldt's football teams did very well, and only this year did they play losing football. In his first year he also coached basketball, the team compiling one of the best records in Humboldt's history.

Hart stated that he had no definite plans for the future, but said that he may quit coaching to enter business, and that he will probably remain on the Pacific Coast.

A successor to his post will probably be named in the near future, with President Gist, Harry Griffith, and Mrs. Monica Hadley attempting to secure the best possible man for the position.

Chorus of 200 Voices Aim At Humboldt State

So you can't sing like Igor Gorin or Lily Pons? Who cares! If you like to try, if you want to enjoy yourself and at the same time feel that you have contributed to the creation of something worthwhile, then Chorus is the place for you. Chorus doesn't require experienced singers, and contrary to the fears expressed by several of the students, there are no try-outs, no sight-reading requirements, no one is required to sing alone. In other words, Chorus is a democratic organization, the one place where ANYONE can come in and participate in music. To quote Mr. Jeffers, "If you can speak, you can sing—with the possible exception of 1 out of 200 persons!"

WHAT WE'D LIKE TO SEE IS A CHORUS OF 200 VOICES! At the present time, the enrollment is approximately 65 girls, and 35 fellows. That means that in addition

Football Awards Given By Hart

Football awards were given out by Coach Herbert Hart at a recent assembly at Humboldt State College.

Those receiving stars for the 1940 season were: William Brown, Ernie Caro, Frank Crichton, Harry Foster, William Lee, Leonard Longholm, Art McGrath, Loy Montgomery, Clifford Olson, Marshall Rousseau, Frank Saunderson, and James Savage.

Those receiving letters were: Maurice Ayala, Richard Davis, Harvey Del Fatti, James Fitzpatrick, Fred Iten, Leonard Moseley, Arlo Murray, Ted Speier, Serge Stashuk, Chuck Waters, and Forrest Waters. The managers letter was awarded to Harold Foltz.

New HSC Professor Has Varied Career

Mr. George Murphy, new member of the Humboldt State College faculty who has succeeded the late Mrs. Elma McCann Folsom in the English department, has had many interesting and varied experiences in the field of education.

Mr. Murphy was born in the "back woods" of Minnesota. He received his Masters degree at Stanford University in 1937 and plans to take his Ph. D. this summer.

Mr. Murphy began his teaching career in a one-room country school in North Dakota. Four of the students were older than the teacher. The year before three women teachers had, lost their jobs. When he arrived on the train, he was presented by the clerk of the school board with a whip which his pupils later nicknamed "Hot Time".

STUDIED MEDICINE

After teaching a few years in various grammar, junior high, and consolidated schools in the Middle West, he returned to the University of Minnesota to study medicine. During the depression, however, he returned to the field of education, teaching citizenship to Scandinavian and Russian-Jewish immigrants in Minneapolis. Later he taught in Mandan High School, North Dakota and Aberdeen high in Seattle, Washington. He took part in the Stanford language-arts investigation in connection with his graduate work and, after receiving his Masters degree in 1937, has been teaching at Menlo

Dr. Fisher Goes Russian Again

A course in Russian history is given every spring at Humboldt State by Dr. Raymond Fisher of the social science department for social science majors.

This course, according to Dr. Fisher, is about Russia since the reign of Peter the Great. It offers three units for three hours a week.

53 New Students Enroll For Spring Semester At State

With the opening of the Spring semester, Humboldt's enrollment has reached a new high of 435 students. The "Friendliest little school west of the Rockies" is happy to welcome 53 new students, not only incoming freshmen but the many familiar faces back again.

In the past, the Fall enrollments have been the biggest. This year, however, the Spring enrollment has surpassed last Fall's to swell the student body to the largest size yet recorded.

Approximately half the students are working for teacher's credentials, while at least 50 are taking Liberal Arts courses without credentials. From 15 to 25 per cent are taking straight commercial classes as electives. Humboldt's enrollment in Liberal Arts courses has been increasing steadily with the growing number of new courses offered by Humboldt State College each year. Ten new courses are being offered this semester alone. Several "alternate year" courses are now offered as well.

It is the hope and expectation of students and faculty alike that Humboldt will continue to grow and grow.

Tuberculin Tests Slated Monday

Tuberculin tests will be given Monday, February 17th for all students who have not been tested during the past three years. Graduating seniors who have not had the test or an X-ray within a year of Graduation must be tested before they can receive their certificates. Juniors, not tested for three years, who plan to do their student teaching in the Fall semester should also take the Tuberculin test.

Will all students planning to take the test please sign up in the Health Office for an appointment for Monday.

Villa Appointed Graduate Manager

Milton Villa has been appointed acting-graduate manager for the Spring semester, following the resignation of Fred Hibler, which became effective with the beginning of this semester. The Student body executive council accepted Mr. Hibler's resignation with regret, but has every confidence in the ability of Milton Villa to carry on the duties of the office successfully until the end of the year.

French Speaking Course Offered

Miss Adella Johnson, associate professor of modern languages at Humboldt, has announced that a new one-unit course in elementary French conversation, French 7A, is being offered this semester.

Students who have had at least one year of college French or two years of high school French are eligible to take this course. It is still possible to register for the class, which meets on Friday at 1:10.

Such high tribute has been paid to the memory of the late Mrs. Elma Folsom that little is left to say. No teacher ever gave more freely of her time and interest to her students. Mrs. Folsom helped many a bewildered freshman with "personal conferences," which she definitely included as part of her daily schedule. She would say to her classes: "Find the essence—the core—of your subject matter. Then express your ideas clearly. Be concise." Those who learned to express themselves as she taught are fortunate. They are realizing more and more how valuable clarity of thought and expression are in all fields of study.

Just the other day an English student said: I can't believe she is gone. Yet, if you will stop to consider, you wonder if Mrs. Folsom is really gone. It is true that her physical absence is an unbelievable shock. How we miss seeing her slight, familiar figure in the halls, and the never-failing humorous little smile in her eyes!

Still present is Mrs. Folsom's cheerful philosophy and sense of humor, to make easier for every student who knew her the problems of creative writing. Behind her disarming classroom manner lay a fine, strong intellect. She had a wonderful background in her field of English literature. Her knowledge included the human, little-known traits of famous authors.

Words cannot be fully adequate. Mrs. Folsom touched many lives, leaving with them her appreciation of all beauty, her courageous philosophy, her insight, and the inspiration of her memory.

Frosh Welcomed At Assembly

A student body meeting, featuring the welcoming of incoming freshmen and new students by Student Body President Bud Villa and President Arthur S. Gist; and the introduction to students of James Hunter, new education and psychology professor, was held on Thursday morning in the college auditorium.

Villa and President Gist greeted and welcomed new students, after which President Gist introduced Hunter to the student body.

Following the student body meeting, the A.W.S. presented a short skit advertising their "Mother Goose Dance" which was held Thursday night at the Arcata Women's Club. Karen Wester, Warren Elmore, Barbara Bird, Nadine Swan, Carolyn Crane, Nancy-Jo Birnie and Betty Fay were featured in the skit along with many members of the A.W.S.

FACULTY PRESENTS

COACH HART RESIGNS

This decision as announced by Mr. Hart last week was received with much regret. Mr. Hart was recommended highly to Humboldt by Stanford University and by the State Department of Physical Education. Coach Hart was an outstanding athlete at Purdue, having had the famous Andy Smith as his coach at one time.

His football success at Monmouth College was characterized by the winning of approximately 80 per cent of his football games over a period of twelve years. Since coming to Humboldt Coach Hart has won 60 per cent of his games. This is a satisfactory record when we consider winnings mathematically. If Humboldt were on a par with its rivals in the number of men turning out for football, in the quality of its athletes, in the equipment, and in the financial status of its athletic program, we could not expect to win more than 50 per cent of our games even then.

Coach Hart, in addition to his football coaching ability, has always considered the welfare of the College and of each man on his squad. The invitation received from the officials of the Far Western Conference to apply for membership was a high honor to Coach Hart after but one year at Humboldt. The good influence of Mr. Hart with his men will have lasting effects. It is with extreme reluctance that the Administration accepts his resignation.

Coach Hart's successor will be chosen with great care. A master's degree in physical education is now required. Successful coaching experience in a college highly desirable. The person selected must teach other sports such as golf and tennis and possibly archery. He must be able to teach hygiene and many courses in the theory and practice of physical education. The selection of the right person, therefore, is a complicated matter. There are many advantages in selecting one of the outstanding football coaches from a California Junior College.

No selection is likely to be made before May first, although the Administration has several successful coaches in mind.

Arthur S. Gist.

CONSISTENT CONTRIBUTOR

During the last fourteen years, he has been a contributor to several magazines, such as the Industrial Arts and Vocational Education, published here; the School Arts; The Design magazine; Home Craft magazine; and the Popular Science Monthly.

A. B. Clark of the Stanford university division of graphic arts, in his introduction to the volume, asserts:

"Professor Jenkins has written a book which in understanding of the topic and in informational thoroughness has but few equals in crafts literature. While having contributed but the slightest to his knowledge, I am quite proud to acknowledge him as a former pupil."

In Professor Jenkins' own words: "This book on pottery is an outgrowth of many years of experience during which one had to create by himself, and during which there was no one to help. Unlike some teaching positions, nothing is furnished, what equipment was to be used had to be made or found. It is not a perfect book, no book is, but the facts are there for a guide for someone who wants to try and who isn't afraid of work."

tion to the A Cappella Choir, we need 40 more girls and 20 more men. If Mr. Jeffers statistics are correct (and we're willing to take a chance), then there should be no difficulty in finding 60 more people in a student body of over 400 who can sing enough to amuse themselves. And don't forget, the larger the Chorus is, the more enjoyment the individual derives from it, for in a large group the added number of voices encourages us to sing out, and also tends to cover the mistakes we happen to make.

The two numbers to be presented by the Chorus this spring, "Song of Faith" by John Alden Carpenter, and "Ballad for Americans" by Earl Robinson, are typically American, and quite different in their method of presentation, some of the parts being spoken instead of sung. The rhythms are modern, the words are lively and vigorous, and the accompaniment, to be played by the Little Symphony Orchestra, provides an interesting background for the cantatas.

If you haven't already joined Chorus, come on and do it right away. We can't sing either, but we have the time of our lives trying to!!!

Drama Department Scores With Three One-Act Plays

Before a large and appreciative audience, the Humboldt drama department last Wednesday evening presented an evening of three experimental one-act plays under the direction of Dr. Garff Bell Wilson.

The three plays were "Star Struck," a farce; "Slope of a Hill," a poetic fantasy; and "Fumed Oak," a comedy drama.

"Slope of a Hill," a featured play of the evening, written by Robert E. Gard of the Cornell University faculty, was an extremely well-performed and well-executed drama. Sharing honors for fine performances were Maxine Maxwell and John Sivert, while the rest of the cast was also excellent.

The setting and lighting effects, designed by John Van Duzer, added a great deal to the mood and thought of the play and were among the most effective ever seen at Humboldt. Others in the fine cast were, Donna Garland, Zane Nichols, Stanley Roscoe, Karen Wester, Clarke Nellist, Robert Lawrence, and Eleanor Mathews.

"Fumed Oak," which was probably the best-liked play of the evening by the students, was featured by the excellent characterizations of the four people that comprised the cast. Dan McClure as a brow beaten husband stole individual laurels for his performance in the leading role, and Elinor Buck as his cold wife, Gilberta Negro as his growling mother-in-law, and Marilyn Brown as his sniveling daughter gave well-rounded characterizations.

"Star Struck," directed by Richard Jarboe, opened the evening's program on a farcical note. The cast was all-feminine except for the periodical appearances of Curt Sundquist and Madsen.

sect exterminators. Included in the cast were, Mrs. Louise Corbin, Warren Elmore, Marella White, Nancy Jo Birnle, Betty Morrell, Barbara Heasman, Betty Fay,quist and Madsen.

As a whole, the program was very well-performed and the capacity audience's enjoyment was indicated by their lack of restlessness and their readiness to laugh.

Memorial Assembly

A memorial assembly, dedicated to the late Mrs. Elma McCann Folsom, associate professor of English at Humboldt, was held last Tuesday morning in the college auditorium.

Marthabel Scott acted as chairman of the program and introduced in turn President Gist, Mr. Hicklin, Dr. Wilson, and the Reverend Charles E. Lord who spoke briefly about Mrs. Folsom.

President Gist and Hicklin told of the pleasant associations they had with Mrs. Folsom both personally and as faculty members. Dr. Wilson stressed the fact that Mrs. Folsom was a talented poet and read several short poems written by her.

The Reverend Lord told of philosophies and education in connection with the ideas and philosophies of Mrs. Folsom.

Musical selections were given by Marianne Lambert, who played a violin solo, and Karen Loft, who sang Schubert's "Ave Maria." Both were accompanied by Wallace Lock at the piano.

While at the University of Minnesota, he spent one summer as a tramp interviewing other "hobos" in an effort to assemble research information as to why boys and girls tramp the country in times of depression. He traveled over six thousand miles during the summer, and from the information gained he is writing a book on the subject.

When questioned as to his first impression of Humboldt State, Mr. Murphy stressed the friendly spirit in which he has been received by both students and faculty members. He also expressed his joy at having an opportunity to teach co-eds again after having taught boys at Menlo J. C. for the last three years.

Teaching Orientation Now Required

The course in Teaching Orientation at the College Elementary School is required of all Humboldt College students who wish to become teachers. The purpose of the course is three-fold. First, it gives students the chance, while observing good teaching, to decide if they would like to become teachers; second, they can see whether or not they think they would be successful at the occupation; third, it gives the College Elementary School faculty a chance to ascertain whether they think the members of the class would make good teachers. The demonstration teachers for this semester will be Miss Edna Page and Miss Eleanor McKay. Members of the class will watch these teachers conducting these classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and will eat lunch with the children and play with them during the noon hour one day a week. There are two groups in the class. One group will observe the first to fourth grades inclusive, while the second group will observe the fifth to eighth grades inclusive. The groups will visit both the upper and lower grades during the semester.

RULES FOR COLLEGE WOMEN

The office of the Dean of Women wishes to issue this statement to all women students of Humboldt College:

It is against the rules of the college for women to enter any of the college men's residence unless there is an older woman or faculty member present. This rule applies at all times. The college expects strict observance of this rule.

from Africa to the Balkans. How large a part will depend on the strength of the German blows and the attitude of Turkey.

REACH LYBIA IN 8 DAYS

Therefore, the coming British action in Lybia is dependent upon whether the Germans move in the Balkans and how soon they move. It is quite conceivable that the Army of the Nile will never be allowed to complete their conquest of Lybia. The time element involved in the drive on Tripoli is extremely important. If the present rate of advance is maintained Wavell's main striking force should invest the Lybian capital within eight days. However, two weeks would give the German Balkan army time to roll up the Greek flank and establish themselves in force on the Dardenelles. They may not, but the British army may not, in that time, be able to reduce the Italian army and move across the sea in sufficient numbers to deter Hitler's legions.

The forces of Nazi-ism, entrenched on the Aegean, and threatening Turkey, might be enough to keep the French forces in Syria and Tunis immobilized. But a quick English victory in North Africa and definite action against the Balkans should broaden the war into two major fronts, and force a quicker decision. However, it would seem that the Basketball is in full swing in the women's physical education department under the direction of Mrs. Monica Hadley. 'Twon't be long before interclass competition will begin and then many of the coeds will be seen vying for their favorite positions. If you all have wondered about the tapping steps emerging from the little gym on Mondays and Wednesdays it's the bebies of Humboldt's own Tap Club diligently practicing for their annual program which is to be given for the students as well as the public in March. And let me tell you, they're good. And they tell me that the rainy weather is going away and coming back another day, just so the girls can indulge in their favorite summer sport of tennis. After all how can you expect the coeds to get their summer tan if there just ain't no sun, nohow. Probably one of the most popular classes offered is the social dancing one taught by our own Mrs. Monica Hadley, (yes she's a teacher and not a student, newcomers.) If you have visions of becoming a Fred Astaire or Ginger Rogers, students, just drop in and see Mrs. Hadley, and I'll guarantee, you'll learn something, whether it be ballroom etiquette or just the plain old fashioned waltz. Many women skiing enthusiasts were seen on Grouse Mountain last week-end and they seemed to be having a fall for themselves and I ain't lying! Helen DeVoy, Marian Dalton, Betty Carlson, and many other coeds in their dashing snow outfits seemed to be enjoying themselves. Polkaing about, yes, and maybe a little waltzing thrown in too in order for the singing games and folk dancing class meeting twice a week. And that's thirty for this week. see you all when the sun comes out, I hope.

Humboldt Takes Ashland Series

Taking their first double win of the season, Humboldt State College's Lumberjack basketball team downed Southern Oregon College of Education in two games played at Ashland last Thursday and Friday by scores of 45-43 and 57-50.

The first game was a nip and tuck affair, with the Lumberjacks putting on a last minute stall to hold off the closing rush of the Sons. Len Longholm took high point honors with 13, while Bill Lee counted 12. Humboldt trailed 20-19 at the half, but a second-half scoring drive carried them out in front and they outlasted the Oregonians.

The second contest found the Lumberjacks taking the lead at the start and never relinquishing it, although with ten minutes to play the Ashlanders brought the score to a tie at 35-all. At this point, Speer, Longholm and Lee all hit the hoop with amazing regularity and within a minute Humboldt had an 11 point lead.

The shooting of Berton Speer, who replaced Goodwin after the latter had left the game on fouls midway in the second half, was largely responsible for the margin of victory. He scored four baskets in the last minutes of the game. Bill Lee with 15 and Longholm with 13 point led the scoring parade. Humboldt led at the half 21-15.

Bassman, Fisher, and Hoefs of Southern Oregon were outstanding for their team, Bassman tanking 15 points on the second night.

HSC Hoopsters Defeat Clowns

In an exhibition game played at the Eureka Municipal Auditorium last week, the Humboldt State College basketball team downed the barnstorming Broadway Clowns 44-37.

The Lumberjacks grabbed an early lead and coasted to victory on the strength of their first half showing. Many of the baskets came on the fast break, which proved too much for the tired Clowns.

Resignation Of Hart Surprise To Students

H. L. HART

A surprise to students, faculty and the public was the resignation of Herbert L. Hart as director of athletics and football coach at Humboldt State.

A keener student of football, a cleaner and more idealistic sportsman and a harder working man will not only be hard to find, but will be well-nigh impossible to find.

It was with much regret that Hart's resignation was accepted, for no one had done more to build up the athletic integrity of Humboldt than he. Respected greatly by all those with whom he came in contact and recognized as a true sportman, he was instrumental in regaining for Humboldt some of this integrity that it had once lost.

Perhaps more shocked than any were the members of his football team. Each player has expressed a deep regret at his loss, for they, being closer to him than anyone, knew him and appreciated him.

Humboldt State wholeheartedly wishes Herbert Hart the best of success when he leaves in June, and hopes he realizes that there is a warm spot in the hearts of everyone connected with Humboldt for him.

Signed: Rod Belcher.

Contests Scheduled In College Gymnasium Thursday and Friday

Humboldt State College's basketball team, victorious in their last four starts, will attempt to continue their winning ways on Thursday and Friday nights in the college gym when they tackle coach Al Cox' Oregon College of Education Wolves.

Several veterans form the nucleus of the Oregon lineup. Hank Mascall, Junior Hartman, Myron Vleck, and Carl Szedlak were members of the Monmouth team that defeated Humboldt in three out of four games last year. With the addition of several new players, the Wolves will present a well-balanced and smooth-working team.

The visitors split with Southern Oregon when the two teams met several weeks ago and the schools played again on Monday and Tuesday (no results available.) Humboldt, of course, took two games from Southern Oregon at Ashland last week.

Humboldt will go into this series with their strongest reserve strength of the year. The improvement of Berton Speer and Ted Speier, and the return of Curt Wilson after a hand injury will provide the Lumberjacks with capable reserves in all positions.

Probable starting lineup will be Len Longholm and Bill Lee, forwards; Howard Goodwin, center; Jim Savage and Rod Belcher, guards.

For the Wolves, Mascall, Vleck, Szedlak and Hartman will probably all start with Tom Hansen being the fifth starter.

Humboldt And Chico Divide

On Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 the Humboldt basketball team split a two game series with Chico State College in the college gym. Chico won the first game by a 60-47 score, with the Lumberjacks copping the second contest 41-26.

The Wildcats built up a 15 point lead, which was too great for the Lumberjacks to overcome on the first night. Timone of the visitors took high point honors with 20 points while Selueter had 15. For Humboldt Bill Lee was high with 11 points.

The second game was a different story. The Humboldt tight man-for-man defense stopped the invaders cold. At half the score was 14-6 in favor of Humboldt, and the Lumberjacks went on to increase their lead in the second period.

Lee and Len Longholm had 12 points each, while all of the Humboldt team scored several baskets. All the players were outstanding in this—Humboldt's best-played game of the year. Howard Goodwin and Jim Savage turned in remarkable recovery games while Rod Belcher scored 8 points for runner-up honors.
