

Tjader Jazz Concert Monday

Lumberjack

OF HUMBOLDT STATE COLLEGE

VOL. XXXI

ARCATA, CALIF., FRIDAY, DEC. 13, 1957

No. 12

Pat Hammond as Miss Malaprop and Wally Sinclair as Captain Jack Absolute in a scene from the Rivals, HSC's current drama production. Last performances of the play will be given tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m.

'HILLTOPPER' MAGAZINE GOES ON SALE MONDAY

Hilltopper, the campus feature magazine, will go on sale Monday for 25 cents a copy. Students, faculty and staff will be able to buy copies at booths in the Administration Building, Coop, Wildlife Building and from salesmen spotted at strategic points around campus.

Sid Fauerbach, editor, pointed out that last year's issue was a quick sellout and urged that copies be bought the first day to avoid disappointment. Leftovers, if any, will be available after Monday in the bookstore.

The new issue of Hilltopper will feature a splashy yellow cover and the 28 pages will be filled with photographs and feature articles. The magazine is printed on slick paper.

Staff members in addition to Fauerbach are Bill Wallace, business manager; Pat Miller, typist; Bob Miller and James V. Davis, staff artists and layout editors; John H. Smith, photography editor.

Fauerbach himself has contributed the catchy cover picture and a photo essay to accompany it. Another picture story, by Hal Lewis, deals with radio KHSC.

Timeliness is the keynote of most of the articles. Dick Wassmouth, a resident of Humboldt Village and the Lumberjack's humor columnist, deals poignantly with some aspects of living in the disappearing Humboldt Village.

Tony Vasquez and Dave Cherry take strong stands on different sides of a debate entitled, "Fraternalities - Blessing or Blight?" Don Harris, sports editor of the Lumberjack, has written a preview of the 1957-58 basketball season complete with word sketches on the entire 1957-58 varsity team.

Tom Fay's article, "Fame Not So Fleeting", deals with the new HSC Hall of Fame and its first three occupants. Don Way has contributed a piece on the Humboldt Peace Carrillon.

Dave Maxon, president of Conservation Unlimited, deals with the subject of fishing and on fishermen with preception and grace.

The fall issue of Hilltopper is the second issue of the general-interest magazine.

Assembly Today; Drama Festival Begins Here

"What's Funny in Shakespeare?" is the topic of an all-school assembly this morning at 11 a. m. in the main auditorium. Angus Bowmer, founder and producing director of the Oregon Shakespearean Festival, and Richard Graham, make-up director of the Festival, will do comedy scenes from Shakespeare's plays.

Registration for the annual Drama Festival will begin at 3 p. m. today in the Coop. At 4 p. m., a panel discussion on "Producing Classics in the School Theater" will be held in the Choir Rehearsal room in the Music building. Dinner is scheduled for 6 p. m. at Nelson Hall.

Culminating today's events will be the presentation of the current HSC production, "The Rivals."

Tomorrow the Festival will begin with breakfast at Nelson Hall from 7:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. Four one-act plays will be given by various high schools in the CES auditorium from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. Ukiah High will present "The Thompsons" by Joseph Hayes. The director is Harold B. Gallaher. "Lawd, Does You Undahstan?" by Ann Seymour, is to be presented by Del Norte High under the direction of D. E. Cutter. Fortuna High is bringing "The First Mrs. Paris", Elizabeth Abraham directing. Arcata High is to present a part of their latest regular show, "What a Life" by Clifford Goldsmith. Tom Turner will direct.

A break for luncheon will be made from 12 noon to 1 p. m. At 1 p. m. a make-up demonstration by Mr. Graham will be given in the auditorium.

Third 'Rivals' Performance Is Tonight At 8:15

Sheridan's celebrated comedy, "The Rivals," will again be presented this evening at 8:15 in the Administration auditorium with the last performance tomorrow night.

As one reviewer, Dr. Reginald White, put it, "It is a comedy of situations in which the audience always knows more than some at least of the people on stage," which makes "The Rivals" even more a satire on sentimentality and manners.

Another facet of interest is that the play is presented in the acting style of the period in which it was written. Asides and other conventions of the time add to the presentation, as do the stylized sets by John Van Duzer and the costumes and hair styling by Ethelyn Pauley. In keeping with the conventions of the time, even the programs are in the style of Sheridan's time.

Dr. W. L. Turner has selected for his first play at Humboldt one rich in laughs, both subtle and not quite so subtle, the latter being evident in the role of Sir Anthony Absolute.

Tickets for these last two performances may be obtained in room 120 during the afternoon. All seats are reserved, with activity card holders and season ticket holders being admitted free. For those without activity or season cards, tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children. For latecomers, the box office will be open in the evening for tickets.

Christmas Recess Begins Thursday

Student Art Work To Be On Sale Next Week In Scholarship Exhibit

Pottery, paintings and drawings by student artists and the art faculty will be on sale next week in the annual HSC Christmas art scholarship exhibit in the gallery of the Art-Home Economics Building.

A special preview of the exhibit is scheduled Sunday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., it was announced by Melvin Schuler, associate professor of art. Articles will go on sale Monday at 8 a. m. and purchases may be picked up Wednesday afternoon.

Items will sell from five cents to a top of $5, Prof. Schuler said. All proceeds will go to the art scholarship fund, which last year provided a $100 scholarship for an art student.

Prices within the $5 range were established by vote of classes.

Purchasers will contact student salesmen and pay the amount indicated. They will receive receipts and their names will be placed on the item until time to pick up. No jewelry will be on sale this year.

Theme for this year's sale is "An Old Fashioned Christmas Tree," and ornaments decorating the gallery are being made by art students.

Prof. Schuler pointed out that many of the art items would ordinarily sell for much more than $5. "Prices are in line with the art department's desire to make original art works available to the members of the members of the campus community, as well as to build the scholarship fund."

JAZZMEN TO PERFORM LIGHT, LATIN RHYTHMS

Cal Tjader and his stellar group of jazzmen will showcase modern jazz in light and Latin rhythms Monday, Dec. 16 at 8 p. m. in the new men's gymnasium.

Admission is $1 for college and high school activity card holders and $1.50 for non-holders.

Cal Tjader is an alumnus of the original Dave Brubeck octet and played vibes with George Shearing. He was with Brubeck from 1949 to 1951 and spent 1953 and 1954 with George Shearing.

Tjader's own group plays swinging modern jazz and jazz versions of the mambo and other Latin and Afro-Cuban rhythms. Tjader's group will consist of Tjader on vibes, Vince Guardaldi on piano, Eugene Wright on bass, Al Torre on drums and timbales and Louis Kant on Congas.

It is on the latin set that Kant comes in on the congas and Al Torres switches from drums to timbales and cymbals. This makes the Latin Quintet. There are jazz overtures, particularly in the vibes and piano, but the pulsing Afro-Cuban motif predominates.

From St. Louis

Cal Tjader was born in St. Louis in 1925. He received his higher education in our own state college system having attended San Jose and San Francisco State. He received his degree at San Francisco.

The jazz concert last year featured Pete Jolly and his trio along with Jack Montrose, Sonny Criss and Donna Fuller. Pete Jolly and Jack Montrose are being recognized as giants in their field. They are growing more prominent in the world of jazz and new ideas.

Thus far Tjader has recorded seven or more LP's. These include his latin numbers "Mambo with Tjader", "Ritmo Caliente", "Tjader plays Mambo", "The Cal Tjader Quintet", and "Latin Kick". The other jazz records are "Tjader plays Tjazz", and the "Cal Tjader" quartet.

Recently Tjader packed the crowds into Ciro's in Hollywood. This was the first time that Ciro's had ever offered jazz to their customers.

Other recent dates of Cal Tjader were at the London House in Chicago and Birdland in New York. These are the two hottest jazz spots in the United States.

Tickets for the jazz concert can be bought in all the music shops in Eureka. These include Art Fudem's in Henderson Center, Art's Record Corral, White House, Lincoln's and Melba's Music Center.

Tickets will also be available in the main hall all day today. They are also being offered at Eureka and Arcata High school.

The jazz concert is being sponsored by the Humboldt Jazz Society and the Associated Student Body.

Annual Christmas Assembly Is Set For Wednesday

The annual Christmas assembly, traditionally held just before Christmas vacation, is set this year for next Wednesday at 11 a. m. in the Administration Auditorium.

The Madrigal Singers will be the largest group performing this year. The group will sing carols from European nations as they sit around a table decorated with lighted candles in the true madrigal fashion. Members of the Madrigal Singers are Jill Lewis, Rella Hammond, Donna Snyder, sopranos; Bernice Scheppeler and Grace Miller, altos; Sue Brown and Anita Sbrana, mezzo-sopranos. Tenors are Don Moehne and Keith Barnhart. Basses are Bob Harris, Buck Downard, Hank Pierson. The group is directed by Dr. Leon Wagner, assistant professor of music.

Throughout the program there will be various solos. Claudine Ray West will sing the soprano Recitatives, Keith Barnhart will sing the familiar tenor aria, "Comfort Ye," and Jean Richards and Claudine Ray West will combine to sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "Come Unto Him," all from Handel's "Messiah."

A brass quartet from the Lumberjack Band will provide atmosphere before and after the assembly. The program will close with community carol singing, lead by Leland Barlow, head of the division of fine and applied arts.

Foresters Selling Christmas Trees

The Forestry Club's annual sale of Christmas trees begins today in downtown Arcata.

The trees are to be sold until Dec. 24, noon to 9 p. m., weekdays, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturdays and from noon to 9 p. m. on Sundays. The sale will be held in the lot on 11th and H streets.

The trees are Bishop pines provided by the Hammond Lumber Company of California. The club members cut the trees themselves. The trees will range in size from three feet to 12 feet and the price will be 50 cents a foot. Larger trees can be obtained by special order. Wreaths and boughs will also be sold.

Last year the Forestry Club earned $200 and this year they hope to take in $400. The money will be used for a free barbecue for club members and their guests and for building an experimental plantation.

Frosh Christmas Tree Decorated

The Christmas tree sponsored by the Freshman class was decorated last Saturday.

The tree, which is located on the library parking lot, is a Western Cedar, and is approximately 30 feet high. Because of the tree's height, an all day session of decorating was required to complete decorating.

The decorations which consist of flat and two dimensional stars and bells with bright red bows were made during the several meetings of the decoration committee. Also used as part of the decorations were regular outdoor Christmas tree lights. At the top of the tree is a large silver three-dimensional star made by Eva Beale, a freshman art major.

The lights are turned on approximately between 6 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. every day.

Decoration chairmen were Nylah Ebersole, Linda Dolf and Gary Chilton.

Social Column To Be Started

The next issue of the Lumberjack will carry the first of a regular series of social columns.

It will be concerned mainly with engagements, marriages, and parties and other "women's news." Information of this type can be placed in Box 304 in the Administration building, or submitted to the Lumberjack office, room 205, Coop.

Material should be turned in Monday noon preceding the Friday's issue in which it is to appear.

Dick's Dungeon

Trip The Light Fantastic

By Dick Wassmouth

I'm not much of a dancer, but I figured a turn or two of the light fantastic would be a change from the bitter grind of keeping my nose to the grindstone. (Besides I don't have too much nose left).

Anyway I decided to fall in at the big dance the campus cats were putting on. I asked around to find out where it was being held and heard it was going to be at the Eureka Inn (and Stagger Out).

I figured I had nothing to lose. My fourth grade teacher always told me that dancing builds character, and my character sure needed some building. I made it to Headquarters, sneaked past a couple of MP's and plucked a pair of ducats out of the stack. I thought for a moment that Executive Officer Girard was going to spot me but he was too absorbed in the radar set he had just invented to pick up the impulses of beer cans in Nelson Hall.

I always like to be prompt at dances (especially when there is a bar nearby) so I left early and got there a little ahead of time. Now my chick is the impatient type and didn't dig just standing around the lobby waiting for the sky to fall, so we made like to stroll over to the local dispensary of liquid joy. We figured there was just enough time to sip a few cool ones before the crowd showed.

Now when we fell in at the bar my baby really made a big hit with the cats in there. I don't know whether it was her corsage of Venus fly traps and poison ivy, or whether it was her gown of silken lace (decorated with shrunken heads). At any rate all heads turned when we entered and the male faction present cried in unison, "Oooba doo — skooby doo dah dee aaahhh!" which means in English "Oooba doo — skooby doo dah dee aaahhh!"

We both ordered a drink (hot chocolate, of course) and settled back to wait for the cats to fall in and the joy to begin.

Three hours later when the people started arriving I figured we would cool it for a while whilst we two spun around the floor. As soon as I stood up though, the room spun around me and by the time I got my equilibrium back where it belonged the show was already on the road. (They sure make strong hot chocolate in that place).

From the ball-room I could hear the cool sounds of a dance tune, and headed toward same. I had to drag my chick by the hair all the way across the lobby. (That hot chocolate sure hit her hard).

We finally made it to the ball-room and fell into each others arms for the trip around the floor when the music stopped, somebody hollered something about a break, there was a mad rush for the door, and we were suddenly all alone.

Now we figured there was no sense dancing if there was no music to dance to so we headed back to the bar for some refreshments. I decided to switch to apricot juice this time — better for the bones.

By now the bar was crowded with about six jillion people, all with dust in their mouths and fire in their eyes. I got in line, and started talking to the guy in front of me. When I asked him his age he said he was only 19. He was all right though, by the time we got to the bar he was almost 22.

I spied Dr. Allen a few feet away from me. "Gimme' some sassparilly pod 'ner," he drawled. "Bring the whole bottle, I'm thirsty." (I always wondered where that stack of Hopalong Cassidy comics I found by the fish hatchery came from).

I finally tricked the bartender to mix me up two glasses of apricot juice (I wonder if he really believed me when I told him I was Dr. Siemens).

By the time I got back to the table both glasses were almost empty. (that guy next to me sure had a long tongue) and I had to go back for refills. After this had happened a couple of times I stopped going back to the table and just drank the apricot juice right there at the bar. After THIS had happened a couple of times I was in no shape to find the table even if I had wanted to go back.

The next day when the janitor unwrapped me from the brass rail, I made a resolution.

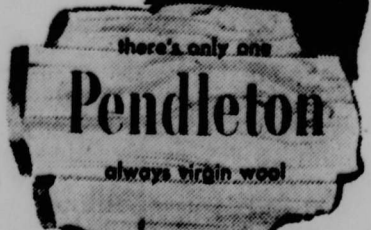

From now on when I go to a dance, I'm going to bring my own apricots and squeeze them there.

Two HSC Village Units Torn Down

The maintenance department of the college completed the razing of two units of Humboldt Village early this week.

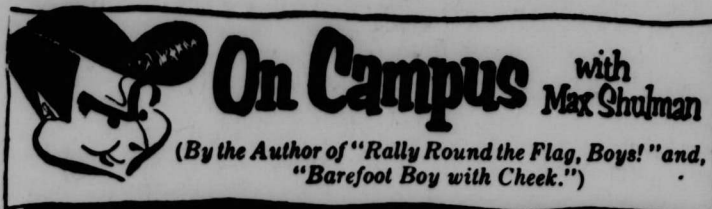

Dr. Don W. Karshner, Dean of Students, announced that the two cottages were torn down because "they had gone beyond the repair stage."

Dr. Karshner is a member of a three-man committee which was named to investigate the housing and cafeteria facilities on campus. Executive Dean Lawrence Turner and Business Manager Frank Devry, who were also on the committee, inspected the units in Humboldt Village with an advisory staff from the maintenance department. Their recommendations were made to the president's cabinet and the destruction of the two units was decided by a vote of the cabinet. Dr. Karshner said, "The units which were torn down were both empty and had been turned down by several families. The other units in the village will go some time in the coming years but it's hard to say just when. No one will be evicted however."

The prospect of new housing facilities for married students does not look very bright. At the present time, College President Cornelius H. Siemens is on a committee of state college presidents chosen to investigate student housing on state college land.

DECK THE HALLS

The days grow short, the nights grow long, the north wind doth blow, and a light frost appears on the knees of coeds. Christmas is icumen in, and once more our keen young minds turn to the vexing problem of Christmas gifts.

Let us examine first the most vexing of all gift problems: What do you buy for the person who has everything? Well sir, when you encounter this dilemma, the best thing to do is seize it by the horns. Ask yourself this question: Does he truly have everything? Does he, for example, have a birthmark? A Mach number? A lacrosse net? An I-beam? An S-hook? A U-bolt? A T-square? A Primus stove?

(There is, incidentally, quite an interesting little story about how Primus came to invent the stove. Before Primus's invention, cooking was rather a hazardous occupation. People just built fires any old place—the floor, the closet, the escritoire—and often as not the whole house would go up in flames along with the dinner. Primus, a goose plucker of Frankfurt-am-Main, kept thinking there must be a more efficient way to cook. Finally, in a flash of inspiration, it came to him: Why not build a device to contain the fire and keep it from spreading?

(Well sir, he built precisely such a device and named it after his beloved wife Stove. Primus's first Stove, it must be confessed, was less than a triumph; his mistake was in building it out of paper. The next Stove, built of wood, fared hardly better. Not until he made one out of metal could the Stove really be called a success.

(But even then the Stove was not entirely satisfactory. The trouble was that the Stove filled up with ashes and became useless after a few weeks. It remained for Primus's son Frederick to conquer that problem. He invented a mechanism to remove ashes from the bottom of the Stove and was thenceforth known to posterity as Frederick the Grate.)

But I digress. We were discussing Christmas gifts. This year, as every year, a popular gift is the smoking jacket. And what do the smoking jackets smoke? Why, Marlboro, of course—every man jacket of them. And why wouldn't they smoke Marlboros? Why wouldn't anybody with a taste bud in his head? You get such a lot to like in a Marlboro—filter . . . flavor . . . flip-top box.

Here is no filter to hollow the cheeks and bug the eyeballs; here is a filter that draws nice and easy. Here is no flavor to pale and pall; here is a flavor ever fresh, ever zestful. Here is no flimsy pack to crumble and shred its precious cargo; here is a sturdy box that keeps each cigarette plump and pristine.

Speaking of smoking, the year's most unusual gift item is a brand-new cigarette lighter that never needs refilling. You are scoffing. You are saying you have heard such claims before. But it's true, I promise you. This new lighter never, never needs refilling! The fuel supply lasts forever.

Of course, there are certain disadvantages. For one thing, the lighter is rather bulky—170 feet long and three stories high.

But look on the bright side: As the fuel runs out, you can rent rooms in it.

Good to give, good to receive, at Christmas or any other time in a carton of filter-tip Marlboros, whose makers take pleasure in bringing you this column throughout the school year.

Minutes Of The Student Council

Dec. 4, 1957

The meeting was called to order by Vice President Roberta Johnson. Those present were Warren Baker, Pat Duffy, Don Peterson, Art Dalianes, Tony Vasquez, Jim Ely, Dale Callihan, Joyce Hedberg, Joe Chappelle, Jon Mitts, Dr. Karshner and Diane Johnson.

Correspondence

A recommendation was received from Inter Club Senate that the students' activities be included on their scholastic record in their permanent record file. It was moved, seconded and passed that a letter be sent to the Dean of Admissions and Records asking that the major activities be included on the permanent scholastic record of each student.

Committee Reports

Leadership Conference—The dummy of the booklet has been turned in to the Dean of Students Office. Dr. Karshner stated that it may be possible to have it completed before Christmas vacation.

National Students Association—No one from Humboldt was able to attend the convention. Since Stanford was represented there, Jim Messinger will be contacted to see what was done at the convention.

Red Bunyan—Sandi's report stated that since it was too large for her to bring it in a pickup truck, she is going to ask maintenance to go after it. The cheerleaders and other rally committee members are going to paint it. They hope to have it painted by Christmas. The problem of where to put it was discussed. Since the spot under the steps in the men's gym will not always be available, it was suggested that Red Bunyan be kept in the Green and Gold Room.

New Business

Council Awards—It was suggested that the bookstore order more awards than are needed at the immediate time. This is possible since the awards are standardized and the same awards are given each semester and each year. Warren is to speak to Howard about this.

Christmas Tree—Sandi will contact Rally Committee to see if they will help the Council decorate the Christmas tree in the main hall.

Representative at large election—It was moved, seconded and passed to have voting booths only in the Administration Building and to have voting from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. There is to be one representative from Student Council or from Inter Club Senate and one from the general student body at the polls at all times during the election.

Commissioners' Reports

Activities—Inter Club Senate is working on a faculty-student investigation of school spirit on campus. They plan to find out just what school spirit is and how it can be improved, etc.

Publications—An audio-visual

132 Attend Latest Visitation Day Held Here

One hundred and thirty-two students from Del Norte, Fern-dale, Fortuna, Eureka, St. Bernards and Arcata High Schools were in attendance at the Education and Psychology Visitation Day held on the HSC campus on Thursday, Dec. 5.

The day started at 10:15 a.m. with registration, after which students went to the Green and Gold room where refreshments were served by members of CSTA.

After refreshments were served there was an assembly from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the College Auditorium. The speakers were Dr. Donald Strahan, chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology, who gave the welcoming address and President C. H. Siemens who spoke on "Opportunities in Education."

Following President Siemens, two welcoming speeches were given by Dale Callihan, student body president, and Dr. Lawrence Marx, associate professor of psychology.

After the assembly the education students toured CES while the psychology students returned to the Green and Gold room to look at equipment used for psychological analysis.

At 12:15 lunch was served in the College Elementary School cafeteria. During lunch group singing was held and the faculty of the education and psychology departments were introduced. From 1:15 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. films were shown. Following the films small group discussions were held, which were under the leadership of members of the faculty.

The day's activities were culminated at 2:15 p.m.

tape and film of the campus has been prepared by Dr. Turner and reviewed by the Public Relations Committee which is to be used on visitation days and to send to high schools, etc. It has already been sent to Siskiyou county.

Dean of Students' Report

Dr. Karshner reported that he met with the architect for the new cafeteria and it may be possible for the student body to have 7000 square feet of space in the lower level of the building for a store. This will be approximately three times the present size of our bookstore and will be a comparatively inexpensive way of getting a store.

Representatives at Large Report

Some students felt that $1.25 was too high a price for students to have to pay for the Thanksgiving day game. The council felt that since the students are admitted free to all other games and this is a charity game, it is probably not too high.

Howard Goodwin is to be notified that some needed items have not been stocked when needed. Some mentioned were green crepe paper and art supplies.

Floor mats are going to be put out on rainy days on the slippery spots brought up at an earlier meeting.

Dr. Karshner will speak to Steve Bettendorf about consistency. (Continued on Page 4)

Donna Heckman Named Sweetheart Of Sempervirens

Amid the glitter and sparkle of the Christmas season, Miss Donna Heckman was crowned and proclaimed Sempervirens Sweetheart by Dr. Cornelius H. Siemens, Humboldt State College president, at the eighth annual Sno Ball, last Saturday evening.

Miss Heckman, a liberal arts major, is from Lake Arrowhead, California. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lorraine MacFarland.

Man and Woman of the year are Jim Ely and Marilyn Wright. Ely is senior class president and ASB treasurer. He is a business administration major. Miss Wright, an elementary education major is president of California Student Teacher's Association and is a former assemblies commissioner.

Outstanding seniors are Harman Bonniksen and Frances Singleton. Bonniksen held numerous student body offices at Arcata High school and was sophomore and freshman class president here at HSC. He is a business administration major. Miss Singleton, a pre-med major was rally commissioner and is Associated Women Students president.

Brilliant red and gold tree decorations at the dance were illuminated with white floodlights.

The guests were welcomed to the formal ball by Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Siemens; Dale Callihan, ASB president; Dr. and Mrs. Milton Hollstein, Sempervirens adviser and Janice Gulliver and Rolph Hellberg, Sno Ball co-chairmen.

May I Say Something?

Nov. 26, 1957

Dear Editor:

Another football season has been wrapped up and I think considering the slow start HSC got, the season was moderately successful. The Sacramento game was certainly a hard-fought contest, with good running, blocking and tackling on both sides. The deciding factor seemed to be the spirit of our HSC squad. I don't think anyone can deny that there was plenty of spirit, on the field at any rate. Funny thing spirit. To me it's what makes or breaks a potentially good team, and that is just what we had — a potentially good team. But for some reason or other HSC couldn't seem to catch fire, until it was too late. We may ask, why? Does the answer lie in the team — are they a bunch of simple brutes who love to spend three or more hours a day banging each other around. I don't think so. They are representatives of the HSC student body, who are able and willing to give of their time and effort to build a team. But they have to be more than just a team. They have to have the backing of the whole student body, or else it takes them over half a season to manufacture the spirit within their ranks which is so lacking in the student body.

Spirit Poor

The school spirit at HSC is so poor it hardly exists. The student body seems to feel that HSC is some sort of glorified extension of high school. I think we should be reminded that this is a college, and as such has a potential for traditions and spirit which a high school cannot attain. But these things do not exist on the HSC campus, nor can they be manufactured by any one group or decree. They have to come from each individual member of the student body.

Luckily the student body is not entirely lacking in spirit. Some students do support school activities. Why there was almost one whole section full of rabid yelling fans at the Sacramento game. These people should be commended, for they are a nucleus about which maybe some kind of spirits could be pumped into this school.

Need Leaders

So we have a nucleus, all we need are some leaders for this group. Some people with lots of enthusiasm and originality. And we say, our cheer leaders, of course. Well, this is a possibility. Of course, they are the logical choice. These are supposed to be the people with enthusiasm and originality, and they looked pretty good at the Rambler game. A small tendency to make a spectacle of themselves, but not bad, a good bunch with lots of fire and spirit. They were up for the Hawaii game too, not too original but enthusiastic. Homecoming was pretty sad; one of the largest crowds of the season and one person to lead them. Yes, Mary was as peppy and enthusiastic as ever, but she had about zero per cent cooperation from all concerned. Dad's Day was quite unbelievable. A hat was found along in the second quarter and this amused the male members of our cheer leaders for almost 40 minutes. This caused quite a bit of comment among the Dads present. If the so-called leaders of our student body act like fools, cy in giving parking tickets. Complaints were that students have parked in certain spots and not received tickets on one day and yet tickets were given for parking in the same spots at a later time.

Jim Ely and Warren Baker are to see Mr. Backman about a pep band for the basketball games. It was moved, seconded and passed that Jim Ely recommend to Mr. Backman that there be a pep band at every home basketball game.

Respectfully submitted, what then does the rest of the student body consist of . . . The Sacramento game was just a repetition of the same dull cheers mixed with cute capers by our cheerleaders.

I've criticized the cheerleaders in particular because I feel that they have slighted their responsibility. They are, of course, not completely at fault, an apathetic student body must take some of the blame for such action, but Cheer Leading is an honorable and responsible position in any college and the people who try out for the job should be representative of the good qualities in that college's student body. Ours are not with the exception of one.

The point is, this is just one example of a complete lack of spirit on the part of the students at HSC. Each of us should take the responsibility which comes with affiliation with any college campus, large or small. Not everybody can be a wheel, but we all can contribute in part towards making Humboldt State a college of which we can be proud to attend and graduate from.

—Larry West

Betty Faulkner Recipient Of Nix Scholarship

Miss Betty Faulkner, senior business education major, has received official notification from the placement officer, Albert W. Blood, that she has been selected as the first recipient of the Dr. Edward H. Nix Memorial Scholarship.

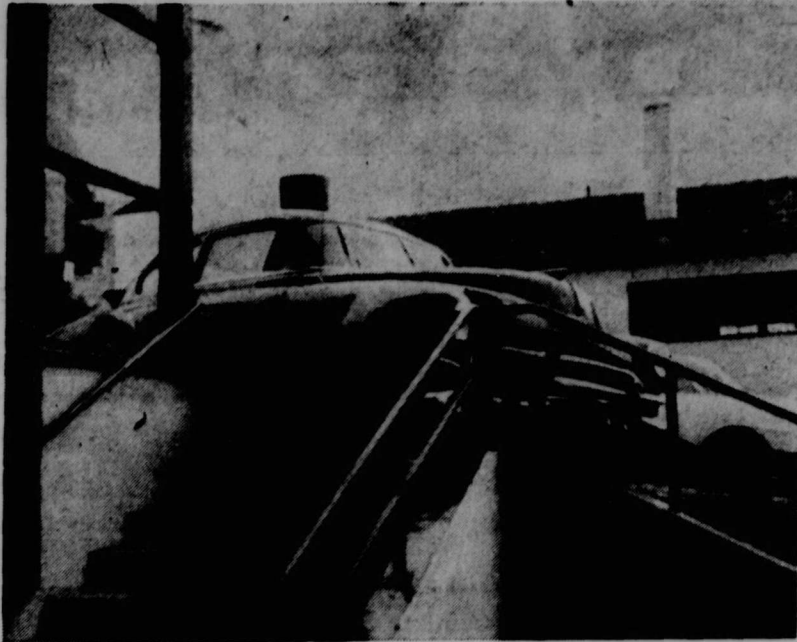

The scholarship was established for the first time this year as a memorial to the late Dr. Nix, leading educator and native of Arcata. Dr. Nix attended Arcata Union high school and received his A.B. degree from Humboldt State College in 1930.

He earned both his MS and Doctor of Education degrees from Stanford University and was a member of Phi Kappa Delta; the Stanford Alumni Association and was a life member of the HSC Alumni Association.

The scholarship is designated for a graduate of Arcata High school who is majoring in education.

Miss Faulkner plans to teach business in a California High school after receiving her degree in June, 1958. She is a member of the Associated Women students and the Business Club.

The Navy's oldest auxiliary air station, dating back to Nov. 1, 1922, is at Corry Field, Pensacola, Florida.

Apparently one HSC car took it upon itself to find a solution to Humboldt's "parking problem." Driverless, it gently parked itself on the Art and Home Economic's building steps across from Jenkins Hall recently. There's more than one way to skin the proverbial cat . . .

ASB President, Vice President Attend PSPA Convention Held In Fresno

Student Body President Dale Callihan and Vice-President Roberta Johnson attended the Northern California Regional PSPA convention last Saturday and Sunday in Fresno.

Callihan and Miss Johnson flew to San Francisco and boarded another plane there to Fresno arriving at Fresno at 5 p. m. Saturday.

They were welcomed at the Fresno airport by a reception committee and taken to the Hotel Fresno where the convention was held.

At 7 p. m. that same day a welcoming speech was given by the ASB president of Fresno State. Afterwards the 45 delegates adjourned for dinner at the Tokyo Gardens.

Callihan said, "It was real authentic. We removed our shoes and ate from low tables while we sat on cushions on the floor. We had to eat with chopsticks, too."

After dinner there was an evening of dancing at the Hotel Fresno. The music was furnished by a small dance band and it was a get acquainted activity for the delegates.

Breakfast was served at 9 a. m. Sunday. A general meeting was held followed by a tour of the Fresno State College campus.

In the afternoon three discussion groups were held pertaining to leadership camps, presiding officers and activities. A final meeting was held later in the afternoon and all the conclusions that had been reached or presented were discussed. The conference adjourned Sunday at 5:30 p. m.

Callihan said, "This trip was particularly important to me because we discussed things which I could still do something about. The trips later on in the year give me information to pass on to my successor in office, but it doesn't do me as much good as this trip did. Also this trip served to give me an extra boost in the middle of the year which everyone needs. I saw that other student body presidents had the same problems that I did."

Two AWS officers, Ann Ritola Forbes, vice-president, and Judy Shaw, secretary, are back on campus and "glowing with ideas for a bigger and better AWS," after attending the annual Intercollegiate Association of Women Students convention at Stanford University.

Ideas they will share with the local AWS are suggestions for a more effective Big Sister program; freshman orientation; the role of AWS on a college campus, and reports from the convention's theme: "College Women in the World."

Representatives from ten state colleges and universities attended the convention.

Both AWS officers have taken an active part in campus activities during their college careers, and are well-grounded in campus leadership techniques.

4th Starlighting Ceremonies Held

The fourth annual Starlighting ceremony was held last Sunday at 7:30 p. m. on the steps in front of the Administration building. It was sponsored by Spurs, a sophomore women's service organization.

The college chimes, played by Dr. Lawrence Turner, executive dean, began the ceremonies. Judy McDonald, mistress of ceremonies, gave the welcoming address and Reverend Oscar Link of the Eureka First Methodist Church presented the invocation.

Taking part in the program was the College Elementary School Choir under the direction of Mrs. Doris Eikenberry, CES supervisor of art and music.

Selections were "Welcome Sweet Christmas," "Away in the Manger" and "Silent Night."

The HSC Choir directed by Dr. Leon Wagner, assistant professor of music, sang "O Come All Ye Faithful," "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day" and "The Wassail Song."

Mary West gave a reading of "The Littlest Angel" by Charles Tazewell. During the reading the star was lighted by Camille Kopriva.

Jeanette Dick played the chimes at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

An unidentified creature ran loose in Marilyn Hall on Pepperdine campus one Saturday night. One coed went so far as to brandish a tennis racket with the threat, "I'll get him, I'll get him." After hours of stalking, one brave damsel captured the monster, a big brown toad and stashed it away in a shoe box. How Mr. Toad managed to climb the stairs to the second floor still remains a mystery.

As Christmas season rolls around once again we picture the serene sanctity of an average American family gathered around the tree on Christmas Eve. The candles are lit, and from atop the tree a little silver angel looks down, and Elvis Presley can be heard in the background rocking and rolling his way through "Away in a Manger". Laurie Rosenstein of the LOS ANGELES COLLEGIAN voiced her opinion after she had heard EP slobber through "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem."

Shades of old St. Nick, it's almost here. What? Why, Christmas and the vacation it brings, we mean. And this year vacation is really the word for it. Bulletins state that said vacation begins on Dec. 20, one week from today. This means that there is no school whatsoever on that day—it is a holiday. So for a glorious two weeks and one day, vacation here we come!

Because Christmas is almost upon is that means Christmas shopping is, too. Last minute shoppers sure are a courageous and hardy breed. Have you tried to find a parking place in downtown Arcata and Eureka? Nigh unto impossible, buddy. But there's a big Free Parking lot in downtown Eureka . . . look for it at 8th and F—one whole block.

One Stop

Tell you how you can make that shopping a little easier! In one stop you can get all your gifts for Mom and Dad, brother and sister, girlfriend and pal—at Daly's in Eureka. For male gifts, Daly's Men's Store has the latest in different and practical gifts. For instance: A Use-a-Lite spotlight, something revolutionary in car accessories. This little gem plugs into the cigarette lighter to receive its power. It has a strong beam, perfect for detecting mechanical bugs in the engine on the blackest of nights, and enough cord to go completely around the car. Sells for $5.

Or how about a Car Visor pak for that man's Christmas gift. It hooks on the visor and has a place for maps, other papers and sun glasses and comes complete with a note pad and pencil. This runs $3.95.

Or how about the Versatool. This is a tool with three different screwdriver heads. It is a complete ratchet, is heat tempered and comes with its own carrying case. $3.50. And many, many more such gifts are available.

Shhhh . . .

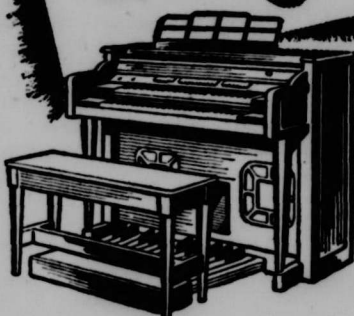

OVERHEARD: It was one of those unusual Humboldt County days—it was raining. One girl hurried into the gym and said she felt something "slimy" in her shoe. Ripping the shoe off she found that it was her . . . shoe lace. Number 2: "If I knew we weren't going to have a test today, I wouldn't go to class. But I don't know, so I guess I'll go. Boy, what a sneaky way to build up attendance."

Well, we can't leave the gals out in our Christmas shopping so drop in at Daly's sportswear dept. and take a look at their new Bulky Sweaters. These are the most. They come in orlon, and orlone and wool tweeds. Cardigan, slip-on, and Phoenix styles are available. Colors? Why certainly. White, blue, green, aqua, red, black and grey. Sizes 36-40, $7.95 to $14.95.

Amen for this time and a very cool Yule and hot New Year to you out in newspaper land.

Lumberjacks On Road Again

HOOPSTERS BATTLE PACIFIC LUTHERAN OVER WEEKEND, PLAY AT HOME NEXT WEEK

For the second straight weekend the Humboldt State basketballers take to the road, this time to Parkland, Washington, to meet the Pacific Lutheran College quintet. Wednesday and Thursday of next week the Jacks play their first intercollegiate contests in the new gym, when Central Washington College comes south.

Pacific Lutheran placed third in the NAIA national finals at Kansas City last year, and are reputed to be even stronger this season. Two players, who were chosen to the All NAIA tourney team as sophomores are back. Little is known about their team otherwise, except that they won their first games Friday and Saturday. If this is indicative of the calibre of play in the Evergreen Conference, the Jacks are probably in for rough treatment.

Central Washington finished third in the Evergreen Conference last year, behind Pacific Lutheran and Whitworth, Humboldt's opponents next weekend.

This will be the first actual home game for the Jacks, since the exhibition against the Harlem Clowns Tuesday night didn't count on the seasonal record.

The Jacks worked hard on defense this week in preparation to the PCL games, in order to stop their double post attack. Center Bill Curtis, the tallest man on the squad at 6' 5" is the leading scorer. Pete Iverson, the other big gun, is the little man at 5' 9". All other starters are over 6'3".

Jack coach Franny Givins said that he feels that both Curtis and Iverson could play ball for any big university.

Givins will take a ten or perhaps 11 man travelling squad to Parkland. Don Robinson, who is suffering from a recurring knee injury, will not make the trip. Forward Joe Handy will go in Robinson's place. Givins said that he will also take guard George Millionis.

Other members of the travelling squad will be Jack Evans, Billy Caver, Eddie Thomas, Larry Taylor, Bob Lawson, Jerry Hathaway, Warren Baker, Joe Miller and Grant Erhart.

In their last outing against the Harlem Clowns the Lumberjacks seemed to find the range from the floor as they hit a good percentage of their shots in going down to defeat at the hands of the famed Negro Comics.

CLOWNS POST HARD FOUGHT WIN OVER HSC

The Harlem Clowns found little time for clowning as the Humboldt State College Lumberjacks forced them to play serious basketball in posting a 72-64 victory over the Jacks Tuesday night in the first game in HSC's new gym.

For the greater part of the exhibition tilt the visitors found themselves with a red-hot scrap on their hands as Humboldt hit a terrific percentage of their shots from the floor.

The Jacks built up an early lead and held it for much of the first half until the Negro Comics took over with about two minutes left in the half. They led 35-29 at intermission.

Humboldt continued their valiant bid for victory in the second half and late in the game cut the Clowns lead to five points before the winners spurted.

Jerry Hathaway heated the cords for 22 points, 16 of them in the second half to lead the scoring. Larry Taylor chipped in with 12 points.

IQ Team Takes Intramural Flag Football Crown

The points and final standing of the flag football season have been compiled, with the IQ team with 8 wins and one tie, winning. The Fraternity finished very strong and came from a fourth place to second place in the final week.

The standings were compiled according to a point system rather than a win and loss record. There was much emphasis placed on participation. Nelson Hall for instance, despite a poor 2-6-1 record, came in fourth because of excellent participation.

Team	W	L	T	TP
IQ's	8	0	1	157½
Fraternity	7	1	1	132½
Redwood Hall	4	4	1	112½
Nelson Hall	2	6	1	102½
Ramblers	6	3	0	95
Village	5	4	0	80
CU	2	6	1	62½
Alpha House	3	5	1	57½
Block H	5	3	1	25
Comus	0	8	0	-135

Comus club ended the season with a -135 because they failed to show for any of their games, and therefore they lost points for participation for every game they forfeited.

Tony Vasquez in conjunction with scorekeeper Nick Zupo picked an all-star offense and defensive team. The all-star teams were to be picked by the various managers but they failed to submit their ballots. Therefore the teams are as follows:

On offense the team was anchored by Ben Crabb of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity at center. Moe Montpas of Block H and Curt Bolton of the Village at the halfback spots and Bob Hoen of the IQ's and Bob Swede of the Fraternity at ends. Unanimous choice for all-star quarterback was Ike Peterson of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity.

On defense Larry Taylor of Bloch H, Larry Amos of IQ and Brant Bogdanski of Alpha House were named defense backs. Paul Shields of the Village, Otis Skaggs of the IQ's and Ken Cuneo of Redwood Hall were named defensive linemen.

Intramural volleyball started this week and it was emphasized that all managers should keep their teams informed of their upcoming games.

Junior Jacks In Busy Beginning To Hoop Season

Humboldt State's Junior Jack hoop quintet meets Bucksport tonight in the college gymnasium at 7 p. m.

Coach Hank Cooper says that lack of experience contributed to last week's double loss to Shasta JC in Redding. The first game was lost by a 67-43 margin and the second game score was 62-34.

Bob Kayes led the Junior Jacks in the second game with 10 points and Dennis Giuntini paced the JV's in the opener with 10 markers.

Cooper said that he was particularly pleased with the showing of Jim Ziegenbein during the series and says he will break into the starting lineup tonight, although he is not sure where. The starting lineup will be made up from the following: Jerry Buda, Mike Seymore, Francis Hopper, Dennis Giuntini, Bob Kayes and Ziegenbein.

SOMETHING

By TOM FAY

It seems as if football is all over but the griping. And who is back in the "growing groove"? - None other than the Sacramento State Hornet via Lee Farnsworth's Sports Corner column.

The eminent authority from the State capitol has determined the reason the Hornets lost to the Lumberjacks football team. HSC didn't win the game - it was given them by the hometown officials, say they.

Sacramento State coach John Baker is quoted as saying "you can't play 15 men with 11". Maybe coach Baker could if he had 11 men like the ones that played for Humboldt that night.

Farnsworth says "Humboldt State College has developed, in the past few years, a reputation for 'spoilers' whenever they play an athletic contest in the home area of Arcata. This fact is well-circulated and well founded."

We here at the Lumberjack would like to know 'founded on what'. Just because a Sacramento team came to Arcata and was beaten by an improved Humboldt squad, is this any reason for the title "spoilers"? If it is then the Hornets could well deserve the title of "spoiled". They complained continually during the game whenever a penalty was called against them, and now their paper is continuing with the slams against the integrity of HSC sports in general.

The item goes on to state "It is no secret some coaches in the conference feel 'you should get an education' when you play at Humboldt and that goes for basketball as well as football."

But no one else is heard to be moaning about their fate at the hand of the "15 men at Humboldt". As a matter of fact HSC won four and lost four at home this year.

The last remark has a quote by Baker saying "We had no business losing."

If this is the case he had better teach his charges more football and less debate.

The Jacks travel to Parkland, Washington in their longest road trip of the year to play Pacific Lutheran over the weekend. The P. L. team is reputed to be very strong, as they have two all NAIA tourney players back this year from a team that captured third in the NAIA national tournament at a Kansas City last year.

Free throws were the deciding factors in the basketball played against the SOC Red Raiders last weekend. As a matter of fact Humboldt tied the Raiders each night in number of field goals but fell down in the foul shooting contest.

HSC had 46 fouls called against them in the two games and had 51 points scored against them from the tree throw line. The scores were 64-47 Friday night and 61-52 Saturday night.

The Lumberjack basketball squad played its first game in the new $700,000 gym Tuesday night, and the sparse crowd of 800 people was swallowed up by the gym's 1600 capacity. The Jacks went up against the Harlem Clowns, and surprised everyone by really putting them on the spot for three quarters. The Harlem Hoopsters were forced to play serious basketball most of the way, as the Jacks were continually a threat. Jerry Hathaway showed signs of returning to last year's top form as he filled the hoops with basketballs to the tune of 22 points. Larry Taylor added 12. Bob Woods and Ken McBride of the Clowns each tallied 19 for the winners - final score was 72-64.

The Junior Jacks ran up against a tough Eureka High heavyweight squad and went down to defeat 42-28. The JV's took an early lead, but the Loggers came back by half-time and were never headed.

Homecoming at Pepperdine College featured the well known jazz figures, Shelly Manne and His Men. Humboldt State will cater to jazz fans Dec. 16, when Cal Tjader invades the campus with his celebrated group.

JACKS DROP HOOP OPENERS

Two talented seniors who carry much of the hopes of the Lumberjack basketball season are above Bob Lawson, left and Larry Taylor, right. Lawson is noted for his defensive play and has been developing into a top flight scorer. Taylor, a three year starter who wasn't in school last season, can score from anywhere but is particularly noted for his deadly set shot.

FREE THROWS CARRY SOC TO TWIN WINS OVER HSC

Free throws proved the difference two contests in a row as the Humboldt State Lumberjack basketballers went down to defeat at the hands of the Southern Oregon Red Raiders by scores of 64-47 and 61-52 in the season-openers at Ashland.

In both contests the Lumberjacks matched the winners from the floor on field goals but the Red Raiders cashed in on 46 HSC fouls in two games.

Friday night in the 64-47 setback each team scored 17 buckets but Humboldt had 26 fouls and SOC made 30 points from the charity line.

It was a see-saw first half which saw the Red Raiders hold a slim 27-24 lead at intermission. But in the second half the host Ashland five moved to the free throw line and went ahead to stay from there on out.

Jerry Hathaway topped the Jacks scoring with ten points before drawing his fifth foul and leaving the game late in the second half.

Humboldt hit 17 out of 63 shots from the floor for a poor 28% shooting mark.

It was more or less the same basic story Saturday night. Both teams scored 20 field goals but SOC converted 20 Jack infractions into 21 points.

Humboldt suffered a cold first half, hitting only five field goals in 35 attempts to trail 26-14 at the intermission.

The Lumberjacks came storming back at the start of the second half and cut the margin to four points but was never quite able to get over the hump.

Larry Taylor sparked Humboldt scoring with 18 points and Jerry Hathaway chipped in 12.

Where are those crazy steelhead? The coffee shop conversation these days seems to center around the lack of steelhead in the local rivers. Admittedly, there are a few salmon, but zooks, man, it's the middle of December and the streams should be crammed with fish.

No quantities of steelhead have cleared either Benbow Dam on the South Fork of the Eel or Sweazy Dam on the Mad. No concentrations of fish have been discovered between tidewater and the dams. Apparently the winter runs have yet to enter.

Theories have been bandied about for the steelhead scarcity, but the most plausible ties in with the changes in the ocean currents off the California Coast. The change in the current pattern this past year, as evidenced by the catching of such southern fishes as the White Sea Bass and Bluefin Tuna off Eureka, could have caused a delay in the entrance of the steelhead to the streams.

The entire sector from San Francisco to the mouth of the Columbia is a veritable goldmine for the oceanographer, as this is the area where the Japanese Current first hits the United States. A prolonged oceanographic study of this coast would probably indicate the cause of many of our fishery fluctuations.

According to those who should know, snipe shooting is out of this world. Students who have experienced it call it the most enjoyable of all hunting. Some of the better places have been by the freeway cutoff to Samoa and in back of the Rocking R Meat Company south of Eureka.

Last Monday the Redwood Region Conservation Council sponsored a Brant meeting in Eureka. Stu Murrel, a grad student at the College, explained his Brant project to the sportsmen, Federal and State officials who were present. He wants to obtain hunter success ratio, bird kill, and crippling loss. The Fish and Wildlife Service reported that Brant populations have declined 5 percent since 1949.

Quail season closes this weekend. Consistent producers have been the Samoa spit area and the willow patches bordering the lower Eel River by Fortuna.

As usual, we need storms to bring down more ducks. We need only fish to make the streams perfect. The Smith River should still be good for salmon (some one tells me they take flies), and the first of the steelhead are now in the lower river. Hi ho, let's move to Oregon.

All-Far Western Conference Grid Team Selected

The annual Far Western Conference winter meeting was held here at Humboldt State College last Friday and Saturday with one of the main objectives being the selection of the All Conference teams.

Humboldt State's grid Jacks failed to place a man on the 1957 All Conference first team as San Francisco dominated the methodical squad with six from their championship Gator eleven.

Humboldt did however place three men on the second team and seven players were given honorable mention. Placed on the second team were backs Marion Mayes and Earl Barnum who lead the Jack ground attack throughout the season and stellar end Dave Thomas.

Those receiving honorable mention were Warren Baker, quarterback; Chuck McAninch, fullback; Dick Cahill and Jerry Bartlett, tackles; Pete Carpino and Roy Escarcega, guards; and Zeke Van Deventer, center.

The All-Conference first team is as follows: ends, Monte Hess of San Francisco and Bob Barram of Chico State; tackles, Jim Swan and Floyd Peters of San Francisco; guards, Ron Gallino of Chico and John Skube of Sacramento State; center Tom Helzer of Chico; quarterback, James Sochor of San Francisco; backs, John Sochor and Bob Rodrigo of San Francisco; and back Jim Eaglin of Chico.

Game Graduate Article Written

"What Happens to Game Management Graduates?" is answered by Dr. Raymond F. Dasmann, assistant professor of wildlife management, in the November issue of "Poop Sheet," published by Conservation Unlimited.

Of the 33 graduates in game management from HSC since 1954, 12 have gone into graduate work or research at HSC or in other graduate schools, 17 are working for federal and state agencies, one is teaching, two have entered the armed services and one is in private industry.

Dr. Dasmann wrote that "although the employment prospects are considerably better in fisheries and forestry than they are in game management, there still seem to be enough job openings to justify the enrollment in game courses."

Highlight of a recent Santa Monica-El Camino football game was the half-time stunt band's routine of Hernando's Highway complete with smoke device. According to the CHIEFTAIN, Napa JC's newspaper, it served the purpose well, plus blanketing the gridiron with thick clouds of Co2 gas. "Turn off the Smoke machine-a" yelled the leader "It's wiping out the whole band!"
