TWO HUMBOLDT STAGE PRODUCTIONS BEING READIED FOR PRESENTATION

Two productions are being readied for presentation on the Humboldt State stage within the next two weeks. Mrs. Lyn Pauley, instructor in drama and costume, is directing a faculty reading performance of George Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart." The reading will be presented in the college auditorium Sunday, Jan. 20 at 8:10 p. m. Admission is free.

Humboldt State's first master's thesis production in many years will be presented in the college auditorium Feb. 1 and 2, at 8:15 p. m. Joline Bettendorf is directing Martinez-Sierra's "Cradle Song" as part of the requirements for the master's degree in speech-drama. She received her B. A. degree last June.

First produced in England in 1929, "The Apple Cart" is currently running on Broadway with Maurice Evans in the lead role of King Magnus. The play is a political satire in which the king is up against his prime minister and cabinet, who seek to reduce his role in government to that of a puppet and deprive him of his right to influence public opinion. The king, more clever at political maneuvering than any of his cabinet members, turns the tables on them and handles the puppet strings himself in a manner that delights the audience.

In the HSC reading, Dr. Stanley will take the part of King Magnus. Eleanor Kellenberger will read the part of Queen Jemima. Other parts are: Dr. Reginald White, prime minister; Dr. Archie Jones, American ambassador, and Mrs. Raphaella Kingsbury, Miss Kay Gott, Milton Dobkin, Dr. Frank Wood and Dr. Giles Sinclair, members of the cabinet.

In a "reading" the actors must be seated most of the time with the scripts in front of them, Mrs. Pauley pointed out.

"This type of production makes peculiar and taxing demands on the actors because the characters must be interpreted and projected almost entirely through the voice," she said. "There is very little physical action so the movement of the plot, the conflicts and crises must be carried by the vocal exchange of ideas, the intellectual game that Shaw develops so beautifully in his satirical work."

The second production, "Cradle Song," is a moving, heart-warming story laid in a Spanish nursery and tells of the experience the nuns have in rearing a foundling.

Awards Assembly Set Today At 11

The semi-annual HSC awards assembly will be held at 11 a. m. today in the college auditorium.

Under the direction of Hank Cooper, student body awards commissioner, the assembly will give special recognition to athletes and other students who have won honors in fall terms.

The varsity and junior varsity football squads will be called to the stage to receive letter awards.

A certificate of excellence won by Carol Torrence at the Western Speech Association tournament at Stockton last November will be presented to her by Milton Dobkin, assistant professor of speech and debate coach.

BASKETBALL FOR WAA

This week the Women's Athletic Association began basketball activities. Any girl interested in playing basketball is invited to come to the HSC gym at 7 p. m. on Mondays beginning the week after registration.

BRODIE OVER MARCUZ IN HSC REPRESENTATIVE RACE

In one of the closest Representative-at-Large elections in many years, Jon Mitts and Chip Brodie were chosen Representatives at Large for the men and Pat Duffy and Sandi Wahlund for the women Wednesday. Brodie edged out John Marcuz by the narrow margin of 13 votes.

The overall vote was one of the largest for Representative at Large in recent years at HSC.

Before the results were posted the Board of Control was called in on the decision along with Student Council members. Due to a loop hole in the constitution the committee was undecided which course to take because of the closeness of the two candidates.

NOTE: The action of the Student Council in the Brodie decision was approved by the Board of Control Wednesday night at a special meeting. There was some discrepancy in the laws of the constitution before the Council in the past. Ed.

The new Rep. at Large will take office next semester and serve for a term of one year.

Jon Mitts has been active in student government work. This year he was co-chairman of Homecoming and is ICS Representative for CSTA. Mitts is also a member of Circle K.

Chip Brodie, who garnered a narrow win over Marcuz, is relatively new in student government work. Brodie is ICS Representative for Redwood Hall.

Pat Duffy, a sophomore from Eureka, served as Song Queen this semester. Last year she was a candidate for Sempervirens Sweetheart.

Sandi Wahlund has been very active in past years on campus. She was chairman of the Sno-Ball and was a member of the Homecoming committee. Miss Wahlund is also on the staff of the Sempervirens and was a candidate for Homecoming Queen.

Glende, Wagner To Direct HSC Music Agenda

Plans are now being made for a joint Orchestra-Choral program as one of the highlights on the HSC spring music agenda. Participating organizations will be the Humboldt Little Symphony, directed this year by Floyd Glende, the College Choir and the College Chorus, directed by Leon Wagner.

The program, slated for an April date, will include straight instrumental and choral numbers. Feature work will be portions of the famous classical oratoria, "The Seasons", by Haydn, to be presented by the combined orchestral and choral forces, including soprano, tenor and bass soloists. "The Seasons", one of Haydn's two secular oratorios, is full of the musical wit, grace, charm and dramatic effect that have made "Papa" Haydn a Hit-parade (classically speaking) composer for nearly two hundred years.

However, according to Director Wagner, choral reinforcement will be needed for this undertaking. "Successful oratorio or other large-chorus singing is an amazing phenomenon: you don't need expert singers - just take the average adult citizen, multiply by about one hundred or more, work them like mad two hours a week for a couple of months - result, a musical treat for all. I am anxious to see this college put forth those hundred to two hundred "average" singers - students and faculty - as part of a growing tradition of bringing to life our campus art-works of the past and present."

Directors Wagner and Glende urge all interested persons to contact them before or during registration for the spring term.

Chamber Music Program Jan. 27

Next in the series of monthly Chamber Music programs is set for 8 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 27 in the Nelson Hall lounge.

Presenting the program are Floyd Glende, Elaine Bux, Dan Backman and Esther Thompson of the college string quartet. Others performing will be students from the chamber music class of Fred Owens, instructor in music.

Play members shown in this rehearsal shot of the Cradle Song (l to r) are Irene Gautraud, Sally Conklin, Carol Beauchamp, Kay Killinger and Gunvor Roberts. Cradle Song will be presented in the College Elementary auditorium Feb. 1 and 2 at 8:15 p. m.

A Wish For You

The Lumberjack staff will have a week long vacation next week to take finals like the rest of the school.

The Lumberjack staff would like to thank the students of the college for their very excellent enthusiasm during the year concerning the readership of the school paper. We hope that the year has been a very interesting one and also a profitable one for all. The Humboldt campus is blessed with many virtues, friendly instructors and students, to enumerate a few. The friendly attitude that is a mark of Humboldt is certainly a calling card for all interested in any field offered here at the college.

We are fortunate in having many facilities that other countries do not have for education and also that you and I are able to use them to our benefit and not some controlling power's selfish means.

Your educational opportunities are of the greatest advantages offered in any present government. Use them properly and benefit by them for the good of our nation and people who would stand like us . . . Well Educated and Free!!

By The Way

A recent blowout took place in the Lumberjack staff rooms upstairs in the Coop . . . somebody was taking pictures of the staff as they were about to go into a confab on the coming semester's issues. Item . . . one damaged Rolle-Cord and flash attachment!

A little heavy-beaked bird came and told me over the weekend that a proposed addition to the Coop is in the wind. The add on will be on the same level of the present floor. The bird also asked if it was necessary . . . I Guess!

The upstairs of the Coop received a new heater to keep our student offices warmer. When??? . . . this week . . . say Tuesday?

Overheard on a telephone conversation locally . . . Hello, are you awake, (two in the morning) . . . ? other end . . . NO!! Well if you are (this end) this is McBRIDE OF THE TIMES!! (other end again) . . . SO I'M TULEY OF THE F.B.I.!!!

There was quite a disturbance over the recent election on this campus about the constitutionality of the voting procedure and results.

The constitution implies several meanings on the unspecific election clauses and some of the council members were upset by the closeness of the voting and referred to the Board of Control for action.

Let's Go Skiing!

By Cathy Davis

Hey you! over there under that stacks of books, and you with the frustrated look on your face . . . What's the matter? Something seems to be really wrong with the students on campus this week . . . I just can't understand it. Even the gang that used to be in the coop has hibernated to the library. Everyone has that dreaded disease called "PHNEUFORPORSYNIDEODOCLYDSPOHOBIA" (fear of the dreadful torture of inhuman professors promoting the useless tradition of finals).

Gosh, I can't understand why you're worried. You can flunk philosophy and history, because that strong A that your getting in Coopology will really pull you through. Besides I know all the pros and if you just tell them that your not going to take their finals because you're going skiing, they'll be very cooperative and give you an artistic "F" . . . and don't be alarmed, because this stands for "FUTURE FUN IN SKIING".

While planning next semesters schedule, don't forget to leave Sundays open for skiing. There's snow on Berry Summit and the skiing season is just ahead. If you're interested in skiing and have not yet joined a ski club now is the time to do so. Because the winter recreation area in Humboldt county is just in the developmental stage, there aren't any facilities for public skiing, therefore it is necessary for skiers to belong to a local ski club.

"The Humboldt County Ski Club" is open to any interested person regardless of age. They meet once a month in the basement of one of the members' home in Eureka. A public notice is generally on the sports page of the local newspapers before each meeting. Membership is $1.00 per year for college students. This entitles you to the use of the county lodge on Berry Summit and semi-use of the ski tows. The folks in the county ski club are really friendly and they'll welcome new members. So why not look into it . . . It's for you!

Don't forget about our own ski club here at Humboldt State. It's a growing organization that has almost 50 active members. All college students that you know. Meetings are held bi-monthly on campus. A poster and bulletin notices will remind you of the next meeting. Membership is open to all ASB card holders; $5 for new members and $3 for old members. This entitles you to use of the college ski lodge and participation in club activities.

There is also a third lodge on the mountain. This is a private lodge owned by the Gredigan family, several of whom are past students at Humboldt. Bill Gredigan was president of the college ski club last fall. This lodge has perhaps the best facilities of the three, but is not open to the public. Last month Jeanette Ragsdale, Phyllis Pentleton, Hal Brusher, Jean Sylva, Dave Shanks and yours truly, all college ski club members, were guests at the Gredigan lodge and enjoyed a day of skiing in 18 inches of powder snow.

Well, skiers, don't worry about "PHNEUFORPORSYNIDEODOCLYDSPOHOBIA" just throw away your books, join a ski club, and . . . LET'S GO SKIING!

CLOSE ASSOCIATION IN CLASSWORK MEANS BETTER EDUCATION IN U. S.

"American teachers are close to their students, and seem to develop and vary their methods as pupils progress at natural rate," observed Chin Tong Chang, 33, graduate agriculture student from Formosa, who spent the fall semester auditing HSC education courses.

A high school teacher in his own country, Mr. Chang is sponsored in his study of foreign education methods by arrangement of the two governments. He will spend next semester at Arkansas State College, observing their methods of agricultural education, after which he will spend a month in Japan, and return to Formosa Aug. 1, his year's program finished.

DEPEND ON FARMING

"More than 50 per cent of the population in Formosa is made up of farmers," Mr. Chang reports, in explanation of the importance of education in agriculture to the well-being of his country.

"A special vocational education system was begun in Formosa three years ago," Mr. Chang relates, "and now our high schools are specialized, as are some colleges here. There is an agricultural high school, a commercial school, one we call 'housekeeping school' - - you would call it 'home economics,' I think - - and several others."

"After this high school comes a 'middle school' of general courses, and then may come college or university. A child in Formosa must go to school at least six years, and this may soon be raised to nine years. Ninety-eight per cent of them have done so," revealed Mr. Chang. "It is a good system. They start at seven years or eight."

COLLECTED IDEAS

"I have been collecting ideas from observation field trips to the surrounding high schools, and when I return, some of these may be adapted to fit the needs of my people. And I am so astonished that here a student may work and study both. Things are - - (the word?) - - convenient."

"There is something more to say before I must go. Could it

Dr. Smith Elected Chem. Treasurer

Dr. Arthur Smith, associate professor of chemistry at Humboldt State College, has just received notice that he was elected by mail ballot to the office of treasurer of the Pacific Association of Chemistry Teachers.

The organization whose members are college and high school teachers has three or four meetings a year. Dr. Smith was nominated at the November meeting.

The chairman of the Pacific Southwest Association of Chemistry Teachers is Dr. H. C. Benedict of Chico State; chairman-elect is Dr. James Ice of the College of San Mateo; and the new secretary is Dr. Robert Boyston of West Contra Costa Junior College.

Pen, Ink Sketches By Dr. Yocom Now On Display

Pen and ink sketches of plant illustrations by Dr. Charles Yocom are now on display in the audio visual gallery of the Humboldt State College library. The sketches will be exhibited until Jan. 15.

The illustrations are to be used in a book on flowering plants of the Pacific Northwest, co-authored by Dr. Yocom and Dr. William Baker, chairman of the division of biological science at the University of Moscow, in Idaho.

The sketches will also be used in a booklet being prepared for publication by Dr. Yocom and Dr. Raymond Dasmann, Assistant professor of wildlife management at Humboldt on the coastal wildlife belt from the San Francisco area north to British Columbia.

The booklet will include information and illustrations of the mammals and birds commonly seen in the coastal regions.

Although California farmers operate only about 2.5 per cent of all farms in the Nation, they received an estimated 8.3 per cent of the total national receipts in 1955.

POTTERY DISPLAY IN HSC ART GALLERY WILL END TODAY

Today is the last day that the display of eight well known California potters will be on exhibit in the Humboldt State College Art Gallery.

Showing this past week in the art gallery has been the work of John Mason's reduction stoneware from his recent show at Gump's Gallery in San Francisco, porcelain ware by Tony Prieto, associate professor of ceramics at Mills College, who is internationally known for his work, Poul Volskening, of the teaching staff of the California School of Fine Arts, holder of top national prizes for his reduction stone-

OLYMPIC CLUB AND ST. MARY'S SCORE WINS OVER JACKS IN WARM-UP TILTS

By Tony Vasquez

The Lumberjack hoop squad lost their final two warmup games over the weekend in the Bay area. The first loss came Friday night when the jacks went down 60-46 before the powerful Olympic Club of San Francisco. The second loss came Saturday night at the hands of the St. Mary's Gaels with a final score of 63 to 45. Joe Johnson was the high point man for the Jacks both nights and played outstanding ball.

In the first game against the Olympic Club the Jacks were cold from the floor and could not compete with the superior height and experience which the Olympic Club possessed. Joe Johnson was high for Humboldt with 12 points and George Mc-Laughlin paced the Olympic Club with 19.

Joe Johnson led the team in scoring against strong St. Mary's. This was the fifth consecutive game in which Joe set the scoring pace for the Lumberjacks. He scored 13 points. Also playing a brilliant defensive game was Hank Cooper who held St. Mary's All-American candidate Odell Johnson to one field goal. Odell scored 29 points against COP the night before.
Johnson also grabbed off 11 of the first 12 rebound which the Jacks garnered at the start of the game. The game was close for the first ten minutes until the score reached 20 to 19 and then St. Mary's hit a hot streak and were not challenged for the remainder of the game.

The topic discussed was 'Education Practices in the Wildlife Field.' Leo Shapovalov, fisheries biologist, De-

FIN AND FUR

By Dick Laursen

Last Sunday ended the duck hunting for this season. Many HSC nimrods spent much time in pursuit of these fast flying targets with a fair amount of success. The last three weeks of the season weren't considered 'good' duck hunting weather, but quite a few birds fell before the hunter's guns. Those of us who didn't get any birds can always say, 'Well, next year . . .'

The lack of rain over the Christmas holidays and for at least the first week of 1957 has given HSC anglers a chance for a real fisherman's heyday. Steelhead are in all the rivers and good catches have been made by most all anglers.

Rivers other than our local streams, saw action from HSC boys over the holidays. The Russian river to the south of us, gave up many nice fish to Frank Metcalf, Wayne Salmon and Joe Harn. Frank and Wayne tried the Matole river last Saturday and caught eleven fish, releasing all but four.

Roger Bickford and Jack Legate tried the Trinity river Sunday but failed to hit any fish. Jack's sister Norma was the only one in the party to hook a fish and it got away.

Before school started last week, Legate and Bob Sellar went to the Smith river and brought back a couple of nice fish. A group from Humboldt village tried the Smith the same day, but failed to bring home any fish.

The best fish reported by any of the HSC anglers, is a 19 pounder caught by Darrell Pruden in the lower Eel river. The author would certainly like to tie into one like that.

Volleyball Crown Won By Faculty, Nelson Is Second

Volleyball came to a close Monday night in the college gymnasium for intramural activities. Those who watched saw the Faculty eke out a hard fought victory in the third and deciding game over Nelson Hall to take first place in the tournament. Nelson Hall placed second.

Redwood Hall and Conservation Unlimited fought it out for third and fourth place honors with C. U. coming out the victor. All three games were close and could have gone either way, but C. U. came through at the crucial moment with the needed points.

The next intramural sport is badminton. If as much spirit is showed for this sport as there was for volleyball, it will be a good tournament.

Junior Jacks Score Triumphs Over Shasta, Play KENL Teams Tonight

HSC's Junior Jacks continued their winning ways as they added a pair of wins over the Shasta Junior College Knights to their laurels at the Lumberjack gymnasium last weekend.

Tonight the Jayvees host the KENL team in a contest set to start at 7 p.m.

Jerry Hathaway staged a one-man show in helping the Junior Jacks to their first Shasta win by netting 37 points. Humboldt won the game 74-48.

Shasta made more of a contest out of the second meeting as the Jayvees took a hard-fought 51-45 decision. Humboldt jumped to an early 12 point lead and led by ten at halftime.

The Knights came back out at the start of the third period and tied the game up 38-38 at the start of the final quarter. Hathaway and Billy Caver teamed to score 12 points each for the winners.

BATTLE HORNETS TONIGHT, TOMORROW IN SACRAMENTO

Far Western Conference Defending Co-Champions, the Humboldt State hoop squad opens its 1956-57 league season tonight against the Sacramento State Hornets in the first of what promises to be a close, hard-fought two game series in the Valley city.

Last season the Lumberjacks enjoyed their best year in history. They rung up a 17-10 record, tied for the FWC championship with Nevada, and defeated the Wolfpack in the NAIA playoffs before losing the regional playoffs to San Diego State.

With most of the performers from the title team gone Coach Franny Givins has found himself faced with a huge rebuilding task.

Although this year's squad is shorter and a great deal less experienced, the team is overflowing with talent and with a little luck and a lot of desire could turn in another fine season for the Green and Gold.

Going into tonight's tilt the Lumberjacks have compiled a 7-8 record, not including a pair of exhibition losses to the Harlem Clowns. Encouraging series sweeps were scored over Southern Oregon and Moffett Field. Other wins came at the expense of the Alumni, Shasta Plywood and the Cal Aggies.

Among the losses were games to the San Francisco Presidio, St. Mary's, the San Francisco Olympic Club, the University of Nevada, and San Francisco State.

Sacramento State has a similar record and wound up with a 1-2 mark in the FWC tournament played over the Christmas vacation. Humboldt had an identical tourney mark. The lone wins for both teams came over the Aggies. The Hornets won by 12, while the Jacks took a three point victory.

Coach Givins stated that the Hornets have a good solid club—probably a stronger one than the team which gave Humboldt State quite a battle last year, losing one of the two tilts by four points.

Sparkplugs for the team are Chuck Moblie, Sonny Rolf, and Bob Schur. The trio combine to give the squad a strong scoring punch that can be expected to give Humboldt a great deal of trouble tonight and tomorrow night.

Probable starting lineup for the Jacks finds Don Robinson and Joe Johnson at forwards, Warren Baker at center and Henry Cooper and Bob Lawson at guards.

Robinson and Johnson are a pair of freshman stars who have fought their way up from the Junior Jacks to earn starting berths. Both are strong on the boards and good scorers. Johnson, in particular, has come into his own and has been high scorer for Humboldt State for the last five games.

Baker is the tallest starter on the team at 6' 4" and played regularly last year. Cooper is the team captain and playmaker while Lawson is a three-year team member who has developed into a top-flight defensive player.

As for the rest of the Far Western Conference race this year, it appears that the University of Nevada, who are defending co-champs with the Jacks, are the team to beat. After that it is anybody's race with San Francisco, Sacramento, and Humboldt probably fighting it out.

League balance is so great however that anyone of the six teams could sneak into the crown. Should favored Nevada falter a time or two fans can look forward to a tight battle such as was witnessed during the football season.

TOM TURNER TO PLAY CAPT. QUEEG IN 'COURT MARTIAL'

By Rella Hammond

"The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" which will be produced by Humboldt State on Feb. 22 and 23 and Mar. 1 and 2, was one of the biggest plays on Broadway in 1954 and starred such people as John Hodiak, Henry Fonda and Lloyd Nolan.

After a big success on Broadway the play was made into a motion picture and starred Jose Ferrer, Humphrey Bogart and Fred MacMurray.

Tom Turner, an HSC alumnus, is going to play the difficult role of Captain Queeg in the Humboldt production. Mr. Turner is presently a drama teacher at Arcata Union High school. Next semester he is planning to enroll in a few courses here.

Tom Turner is no new comer to the HSC stage. While he attended Humboldt he took part in many play productions.

Scale Model Of Home Constructed By Mrs. E. Hunt

Small furnished cottage — Available for immediate occupancy in pleasant surroundings. Children and pets welcome. No Adults.

That's the motto out at 267 Beverly Court in Sunnybrae where the Everett Hunt's have a scale sized replica of their own home perched in the back yard for the youngsters to play in.

The miniature home was made by Mrs. Hunt in Mr. Stegman's Industrial Arts Class at Humboldt State College.

Mrs. Hunt began the house in September. She drew the scale plans herself, then proceeded to raise it from the floor up, spending about six hours a week pounding nails and sawing boards in true carpenter fashion.

The project which is now complete except for minor furnishings, is six feet tall, six feet deep and eight feet wide, and features covering of bison board painted barn red with white trim, two windows and doors complete with antique style door handles.

Mrs. Hunt chose the barn red paint, and white trim, to match the home which the Hunts live in. Another big attraction of the play house is a pitched roof with two levels, of the type that are a familiar sight in the Sunnybrae area.

Mrs. Hunt made the house for their three children, Heidi, 6, Holly, 3½, and Howdy, 2½, to play in.

Mrs. Hunt says that since the Industrial Arts class was such a wonderful class, making the house turned out to be a lot more fun than work.

Pierson Elected Forester Chairman

Edwin W. Pierson, assistant professor of forestry and lumbering was elected chairman of the North Coast Forest Forum, which is the local chapter of the national organization, Society of American Foresters.

Gerald Partain, also assistant professor of forestry and lumbering at HSC, was elected secretary-treasurer. The annual election took place at the Big Four Inn last Dec. 4.

The North Coast Forest Forum is composed of professional foresters. A speaker prominent in the field of forestry is usually at their monthly meetings. At the Dec. 4 meeting, Henry Trobitz, Simpson Redwood Company land and timber manager, spoke on utilization of woods residues. He asserted that there was a good future for forestry in the region because of excellent site quality on much of the local timberland. He predicted an increase in salvage logging which would clean up woods areas and lessen fire hazard.
