

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE SCHEDULED FOR NOV. 11

The second annual Leadership Conference for Humboldt-Del Norte High Schools will take place on the Humboldt State College campus on Nov. 11.

Keynote speaker of the conference will be Jim Messinger, student body president at Stanford. Jim is also PSPA president. PSPA includes 14 western states and Hawaii and Mexico.

Eight schools will be represented. They are Arcata, Eureka, Del Norte, Fortuna, Hoopa, South Fork, Ferndale and St. Bernards. Twenty-five students will be invited from each school.

Jim Kidder California student body president, was the keynote speaker in last years highly successful conference.

The conference will commence at 9:30 in the morning with registration. There will be the keynote address by Jim Messinger followed by the introduction of the Humboldt ASB officers.

Discussion groups will begin at 11 a.m. in the morning. The three discussion panels in the morning will include general problems of presiding officers, student participation in activities and problems of the secretary. The group will then adjourn to lunch.

Discussion groups will meet again at 1:45 p.m. The topics in the afternoon will include general problems of presiding officers, student participation in activities, financial operations and functions of the student council.

A final general evaluation meeting will be held at 3 p.m. in the auditorium.

The planning for the Leadership conference is being handled by the Humboldt State College ASB officers. They are also acting as discussion leaders.

Pipe Organ Is Purchased By James Mearns

James T. Mearns, associate professor of music at HSC, has recently purchased a pipe organ which is being put together for the use of organ students here.

The organ was purchased from a church in Eureka when they took it out to install a new electronic organ. It has 400 pipes, thousands of feet of wire and 15 stops. Its longest pipe is eight feet and the shortest can be held in one hand. The pipes are composed of metal, 60 percent lead and 40 per cent tin. Mr. Mearns says that if they were melted down a new organ could probably be purchased with the price the metal would bring.

The organ was built 15 years ago for this church by a Mr. Swann, who was once bassoonist in the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

No one can learn to play the organ properly by just playing the electronic organ, just as a student couldn't learn to paint from observing the best reproductions of the masters, or learn to sing by listening to records of the human voice. Pipe organs were the only organs for centuries, and must be studied to understand the new, easier-to-use electronic organ.

Frosh Interviews To Continue

Miss Kate Buchanan, associate dean of students, will continue to interview freshmen women. Interviews began Monday, October 21, and will continue until all who wish to speak with Miss Buchanan have seen her.

Miss Buchanan said that she interviews about five women an hour and has seen approximately 150 women students to date.

Reservation to see Miss Buchanan are made at the student's convenience with Dorothy Guthmiller, her secretary, in the dean of students office in the Administration building.

Portrait Proofs To Be Returned

Proofs of all individual portraits taken for the 1958 Sempervirens must be returned either Monday or Tuesday to room 201, Student Coop.

The proofs were delivered to student and faculty campus mailboxes this week. Students and faculty members will be asked to select one pose to be included in the book. This picture will be retouched.

Swanlund's Studio of Eureka, which took the portraits, will have a representative on campus both days from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Large, studio-size portraits may be ordered at this time, but no one is under any obligation to buy them.

Miss Tschanz Set To Speak

Miss Emilia Tschanz, instructor in Home Economics, will speak on the Care of the Pre-School Child Nov. 7 at 8 p. m. in the Green and Gold room at a Student Wives' Club meeting.

Miss Tschanz earned her Master's degree from Oregon State College, Corvallis, and in addition to her teaching duties at HSC, is conducting an adult education extension course on the pre-school child at the Child Care Center Auditorium, Henderson and Garland, Eureka.

She is a member of the Oregon Education Assn., Oregon Home Economists Assn., and the Oregon Vocational Assn. Miss Tschanz joined the HSC faculty in 1956, coming here from Tillamook, Oregon, where she taught home economics in the Tillamook High School.

Mrs. Jack B. Woody, Humboldt Village, is in charge of publicity for the program for the meeting.

Miss Tschanz will accompany her talk with a film. All student wives are invited to attend. Refreshments of home-baked goodies, coffee and tea will be served.

Science Students Go 'Stargazing'

"Stargazing" was taken part in by 200 Earth Science students this Monday and Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on campus.

Earth Science classes are currently studying our solar system and the universe. The purpose of this night lab was to give the students first hand experience instead of just reading from the book, and taking for granted what the text said.

There were three telescopes set up on the library roof, two of the refractory type and one reflectory type, trained on the moon. The moon's craters, plains and the Lunar Apennines (the moon's range of mountains) were clearly visible. The groups also used a star map and watched a sextant being used while on the library roof. Then they went back to the science lecture room to see two films, "The Moon" and "The Stars".

The lab was conducted by Dr. Mark Rhea and Dr. Daniel Brant who were assisted by Al Molina.

NEW PROGRAM

A 15-minute forestry conservation program will be carried on radio KHSC at 10 a.m. on Friday's. It is produced with the cooperation on the HSC forestry department.

More Openings In Journalism Than Schools Can Fill -- Prof. Duncan

Contrary to popular belief, there are far more openings in journalism than ever before for qualified young people, high school publications staffs heard at the third annual Journalism Day here last Friday.

Charles T. Duncan, dean of the School of Journalism at the University of Oregon, told some 150 students and guests that "figuring very conservatively, there were at least twice as many openings last year in newspapers alone than graduates from journalism schools."

Prof. Duncan spoke at the luncheon program in Nelson Hall, concluding event of the day-long program. Journalism Day was sponsored by the college in cooperation with the Eureka Newspapers, Inc.

Although there are fewer daily newspapers today than a generation ago, the remaining papers hire far more people. At the same time, journalism has expanded to include broadcasting, public relations, magazines, industrial publications and other fields, Prof. Duncan said.

"There are fewer opportunities for employment on the very large newspapers. Students are drawn by the bright lights," Prof. Duncan explained. "Their best opportunities, and often the best pay, are in the smaller cities." Dean Duncan said that the two lowest paying jobs taken by graduates of his school last year were on the New York Herald Tribune and the Christian Science Monitor.

A student does not, of course, have to go to college to become a journalist, and if he goes to college he does not have to major in journalism, Dean Duncan said. However, those who do go to college and who major in journalism have a tremendous advantage over those who do not.

"A newspaperman can't know too much about too many fields," he commented. "Students who major in journalism take only about a fifth of their total course work in journalism subjects in getting a liberal education. Of course, the fifth, we feel, is very important," he said.

Journalism Day drew publications staff members from eight high schools in northwestern California. In the opening session the visitors heard talks on "The Genuine Glamour of Journalism" by Scoop Beal, managing editor of the Humboldt State Journalist; Mrs. Monica Hadley, woman's editor of the Arcata Union; Arnie Gabrielson, public relations director of Simpson Redwood Company, and Andrew Genzoli, regional editor of the Humboldt Times.

A yearbook workshop was conducted by V. V. Arnautoff, journalism adviser at Eureka High School, and Max Butler, assistant professor of art at HSC. Hugh Monda, editor of the Sempervirens, was student discussion leader. A newspaper workshop was conducted by Gene A. Smith, publisher of the Eureka Independent and president of Wood Advertising Co., with Jewell Hyman, editor of the Lumberjack, as student discussion leader.

Five special exhibits were on display during the day, including a United Press Teletypewriter in the foyer of the Administration Building.

FORTUNA WINS PLAYDAY PLAQUE

The WAA sponsored Playday was held last Saturday, Oct. 26, with Fortuna High School GAA members piling up the greatest number of points during the day and thus winning the plaque this year.

It was a very busy day for the girls participating from the eight high schools in the area which include Fortuna, Arcata, Eureka, Ferndale, South Fork and Del Norte.

Registration began at 8:30 a.m. with a mass meeting following at 9:15 a. m. in the women's gym. After the mass meeting those participating split up and went to the particular sport of their interest. These games were played until 11:45 a. m. when lunch was eaten. The girls brought sack lunches and milk was provided by the WAA. Entertainment during the lunch hour was provided by WAA members and Kris Church and Sue McArdle who did several Hawaiian dances.

Following lunch, playoffs for winners of the first round were held. At 1:45 p. m. another mass meeting was held in the women's gym where the award presentations were made ending the day's activities.

New Telephone System Scheduled

Installation of a new three-dial-number telephone system to replace the present two-dial-number system is scheduled to begin Dec. 30.

This change will expand HSC's telephone system to 128 lines from the present 78. This new system will serve the college until the new administration building is completed in the summer of 1959.

The new system is scheduled to be shipped from Oakland on Dec. 27. It will take a month to complete the installation.

The college is asking in the new budget for enough money to install a phone in every office. At present the service charge for the telephones on the campus is $807 per month, not including the long distance calls.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Linda Dolf, freshman elementary education major, has been announced as winner of the first annual scholarship awarded by the Redwood Council, Language Arts Teachers.

DICK'S DUNGEON

By Dick Wassmuth

I tried to sneak past the boss' desk, but caught my foot in his polar bear rug. (In the mouth to be exact — I never did get along very well with polar bears).

"Wash - ya - mouth, get over here," he growled, (not the polar bear — the boss). He always calls me that because he has some kind of complex that associates my name with soap, bad words and his mother. At least that's what Dr. Humphry tells me.

"I got a hot tip that there are people living in Humboldt Village. Get a story on it... NOW! And get your copy in early, I want to use it by February. Go Slave. Move! Hurry!! GET GOING!!"

He didn't scare me a bit. I took my own sweet time tearing down the door to get out. His blood-thirsty bear bit me again on the way out and I decided to put fleas in his dusting powder the first chance I got. (My "way out" still hurts).

Knowing that time, tide and the closing of the Coop wait for no man, I made haste to get back before 3:49 so I could partake of just one more mug of mud before closing time.

As I passed the music building the strains of what sounded like a Dave Brubeck melody caught my ears. "That's silly," I thought, "who would be playing Brubeck in the music building." When I heard the clear tenor bellow or rage from Dr. Wagner, I knew someone had slipped it in his stack of records for his Music 3 class.

SHORT CUT?

I took a short cut through the CES playground (scored three runs in a speedball game with the third graders before they kicked me out for not touching second base) and reached the village in record time (one hour-16 minutes).

After I showed my credentials to certify I wasn't a game warden, revenue officer or a spy from the business office, they let me into the confines of the compound.

The first thing that caught my eye were the signposts pointing out the different units. "Unit 7, turn right," "Unit 27, go left," "Stalag 17 — 2 Km straight ahead" (Good Grief).

The second thing that caught my eye was a fist-full of mud from a playful little youngster. I patted him on the head and walked on smiling. (I was smiling because I hadn't even hurt my type-writer when I patted him on the head with it).

A familiar odor wafted my way and I headed in the general direction. I scrambled through a barricade of tricycles and carts and worked over to my left. The smell grew stronger. I couldn't quite place it though.

WHEW...

I passed cell 26 and the pile of salmon bones and heads in the back yard and discounted that one. I know that smell. It wasn't the deer hanging in front of everyone's door either.

This was an old familiar odor and as I came up on the back of number 19, there it was. They hadn't gotten the still in the raid of '55 after all. I moved in to get a closer look.

One of the local inmates invited me over to partake of a few swiggles of the delicious nectar. I ventured forth purely for journalistic purposes.

Three hours later, after extensive tests to make sure my assumptions were correct, I decided there were people living in the village after all. Man — this was living.

I called the boss. "If you want a story on this village you can get your stupid bear to do it. I've got a headache."

He seemed a bit upset but was very nice when he told me where I could go to get my headache fixed.

I did... MAN! its hot here.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

Though this column is intended to be a source of innocent merriment for all sexes and not to concern itself with weighty matters, I have asked my sponsors, the makers of Marlboro, whether I might not, from time to time, use this space for a short lesson in science. "Makers," I said to them, "might I not, from time to time, use this space for a short lesson in science?"

They agreed with many a kindly smile, the makers of Marlboro, for they are the most agreeable of men. Their benevolence is due in no small measure to the cigarettes they smoke, for Marlboro is a cigarette to soothe the most savage of breasts. I refer not only to the flavor which, as everyone knows, is a delight to the palate, but also to the Marlboro container. Here is no fiendishly contrived device to fray the fingernails and rasp the nerves; here, instead, is a flip-top box that opens like a charm, and inside you find a handy red tape to lift out the cigarettes with ease and dispatch. Add to all this the best filter ever made, and you can see that you get a lot to like.

Let us begin our series of science lessons with chemistry. It is fitting that chemistry should be the first, for it is the oldest of sciences, having been discovered by Benjamin Franklin in 468 B.C. when an apple fell on his head while he was shooting the breeze with Pythagoras one day outside the Acropolis. (The reason they were outside the Acropolis and not inside was that Pythagoras had been thrown out for drawing right triangles all over the walls.)

Benjamin Franklin was shooting the breeze with Pythagoras...

They had several meetings outside the Acropolis, but finally Franklin said, "Look, Pythagoras, this is nothing against you, see, but I'm no youngster anymore and if I keep laying around on this wet grass with you, I'm liable to get the backbone fever. I'm going inside." Pythagoras, friendless now, moped around Athens for awhile, then drifted off to Monaco where he married a girl named Harriet Sigafos and went into the chuck-a-luck business. (He would certainly be forgotten today had not Shakespeare written "You Know Me, Al.")

But I digress. We were beginning a discussion of chemistry, and the best way to begin is with fundamentals. Chemicals are divided into elements. There are four: air, earth, fire, and water. Any number of delightful combinations can be made from these elements, such as firewater, daeron, and chef's salad.

Chemicals can be further divided into the classes of explosive and non-explosive. A wise chemist always touches a match to his chemicals before he begins an experiment.

A variety of vessels of different sizes and shapes are used in a chemistry lab. There are tubes, vials, beakers, flasks, pipettes, and retorts. A retort is also a snappy comeback, such as "Oh, yeah?" and "So's your Uncle Oscar."

I have now told you the most important aspects of chemistry, but there are many more—far too many to cover in the space remaining here. However, I am sure there is a fine chemistry lab on your very own campus. Why don't you go up some afternoon and poke around? Make a fun day out of it. Bring ukeleles. Wear humorous hats. Toast frankfurters on the Bunsen burners. Be gay. Be merry. Be loose... For chemistry is your friend!

© Max Shulman, 1957

The makers of Marlboro, who bring you this column regularly, are tobaccoists, not scientists. But here's an equation we do know: Marlboro plus you equals pleasure.

Bob Lloyd, as Captain Sizelove and John Smith, as Major Cowen, portray a scene from the "Barbaric Scalpel" presented last Friday and Saturday nights. The "Scalpel" was written and directed by Herbert McLellan for his Master's thesis.

'Scalpel', Devoid Of Froth, Frills, Plays To Packed House Both Nights

This reporter has learned a lesson: never wait until the last minute to try to get a ticket to a college play, especially "The Barbaric Scalpel." There wasn't a vacant seat in the auditorium for the performances last weekend, and according to the Speech department, droves of would-be playgoers were turned away at the boxoffice.

This reporter thoroughly enjoyed "The Barbaric Scalpel" and would like to pass along these comments: the author, Herb McLellan, is to be complimented on writing a full-length drama which is not all froth and frills.

Particularly enjoyable was the balance obtained in the characters of the two sergeants, played by Hal Lewis and Buck Downard. They formed a sub-conflict apart from the main story, and at the same time, provided motivation for other characters.

The young pipsqueak of the play, Pvt. Rose, was ably portrayed by Sandy Wilbur, complete with jumping up and down in temper tantrums, buttering up of his superior officers and disastorous naivety. At one time, however, his comic actions detracted from the purpose of the play, but perhaps broad comic relief was necessary to draw attention from a mangled toenail.

AT EASE

John Smith as Major Cowen seemed completely at ease in his role of the just officer and proand to retract the $125 already allocated.

DEAN OF STUDENTS' REPORT

Since Intercollegiate Knights did not live up to their contract by not having enough men to park cars at the last game, the ASB lost money. It was decided not to pay them for the game.

A letter is to be written to Dr. Ray Dasmann, president of the faculty organization for contributing a float to the Homecoming parade.

REPRESENTATIVES AT LARGE

It has been requested that pedestrian markers be placed on the street between Nelson Hall and the Coop and that the bugs be cleaned off the steps and sidewalk.

A complaint was received concerning the unattractive signs being put up in the main hall. It was recommended that the policy of having one Dean of Students office approve signs be clarified. A note concerning this matter is to be written to Dr. Karshner.

The Homecoming Evaluation is to be held at Jon Mitts' home on Nov. 10.

Respectfully submitted,
Robert Johnson

Seminar Course Being Offered

A special seminar course in Punched Card Method of Accounting is being conducted by the Division of Business.

The course consists of approximately four two-hour meetings, one meeting per month. The first was held at 7:30 p. m., Oct. 23 in Room 130 of the Music building.

The seminar will be given by Drew W. Terramorse, data processing sales representative of International Business Machines Corporation.

The topics to be presented will include an introduction to the basic principles of punched card accounting, explorations of their uses in accounting and industry, and a look to the future - the stored-program concept of electronic computers.

There will be no tuition fees, and it is hoped that interested businessmen and students of accounting will avail themselves of this educational opportunity.

SAMUELSON IS GUEST SPEAKER

Dr. Ralph Samuelson, assistant professor of English, was the guest speaker of the Creative Writing Section of the American Association of University Women recently.

He spoke on the short story, its technique, purpose, theme and writing; and led a lively discussion on the art of writing.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Kingsbury of the Library Staff, with a group of 17 present.

able to turn on the charm earlier in the play, the impact of the reversals would have been greater.

SHOWS INITIATIVE

All in all, however, McLellan has shown a great deal of initiative and insight with his play, and again is to be complimented for such an undertaking. It is no easy job to both write and direct a play for a Master's thesis, and McLellan deserves a round of appreciation and admiration. Along these lives, we have it from a reliable source that McLellan received a telegram opening night from Brooks Atkinson, drama critic of the New York Times, congratulating him on the production. To that telegram, may this reviewer add personal congratulations and wishes for the best of success in the plays and years to come.

HOUSING PROBLEM EASED BY NEW LIVING GROUPS

Because of the rapidly increasing enrollment and a growing housing problem, Humboldt State College has a number of new living establishments on campus this year. Leading the list of new housing units are the Delta House, the Nu House, the Psi House and the new fraternity Delta Sigma Phi.

Nelson Hall boasts the biggest "population" on campus. The Nelson Hall West Wing Houses the women on campus. The officers this year are Evelyn Horn, president; Betty Rea, vice president; Barbara Brashear, secretary; Merle McCormick, treasurer and Mona Armstrong, ICS. Mrs. Marie Petersen is the head resident.

Nelson Hall East Wing houses a large group of the on-campus men. President of Nelson Hall this year is Ed Hansen. James Trigg is vice president, Bob Close is secretary-treasurer and Bill Stout is sergeant-at-arms. Representing the group in ICS is Russ Char. Bob Heyder is Head Resident.

Sigma House is the other housing unit on campus for women. The officers of this group are Kathy Lowry, president; Marlene Lamb, vice president; Jan Futrell, secretary; Mary West, treasurer; Rosemarie Gwerder, ICS. Rosemarie Gwerder is Head Resident of the group.

Redwood Hall, a housing unit for men, constitutes another one of the large living groups on campus. Officers are Ken Cuneo, president; Gene Claussen, vice president; Dwayne Maxwell, secretary-treasurer and Dick Fauerbach, ICS representative. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jensen are head residents.

Alpha House, also a housing unit for men, is located in the Wildlife building area. The group has only one officer — Jerry Grover, secretary-treasurer. Warren Baker is head resident.

Theta House, another unit for men, is located behind Jenkins Hall. Its officers are Jean Sylva, president; Jerry Reeves, vice president; Nick Fletcher, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Reeves, ICS. Dick Cook is head resident.

Delta Sigma Phi, for men, is located at 464 12th street directly behind the Lutheran Church. Officers of this group are Gordon Moore, president; Jim Ennis, vice

Librarians Elect Helen Everett

Mrs. Helen Everett, HSC head librarian, has been elected vice president of the College and University Research Librarian section, California State Library Association.

She was named at the group's annual conference meeting in Fresno last week. Three other HSC librarians were named to offices in the Redwood district. They are William Haverstock, president; Mrs. Raphaela Kingsbury, vice president, and Leland Fetzer, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Everett also was named chairman of the California State College Librarian's Council.

Mrs. Helen Everett says that being a librarian is a "very satisfying career for anyone who likes books and people."

Softspoken Mrs. Everett is a budgeteer, personnel manager, supervisor, architect, and grandmother, besides liking books and people.

Although she has final responsibility for everything done at the library, she gives a great deal of credit to the library staff of nine professional librarians, five clerical workers, and numerous student assistants.

"I hire, fire, and supervise members of the staff", said Mrs. Everett as she relaxed for a few minutes behind her desk, "but there's very little firing. We try to be careful in selecting our people, and then we hope they stay."

OTHER UNITS

The other units are Delta House at 1936 Sequoia Ave. The head resident is David Crane. Nu House is located at 1937 Pine street, the head resident being Roland Ebersole. The third house is Psi House, located at 1948 Sequoia Ave. Fred Worthley is the head resident. These are living units for men.

Mrs. Everett said that she came to Humboldt State in 1939, after receiving her M.A. in librarianship from the University of California. "There were just two professional librarians here when I came", she recalled. The library was then housed in the Administration building in the rooms that make up the green and gold room.

The present library was completed in 1953, and Mrs. Everett has the pleasant duty of buying the 5000 or more books that are added to the library every year.

Mrs. Everett said that there was a very good future for anyone going into library work. "It's one of the fields in which there is the greatest shortage — even greater than the teaching problem we hear so much about." Besides public and school library work, librarians are needed in places as far apart as the big oil companies and the Walt Disney studios.

"There is a great demand for librarians who specialize in different fields, such as science," Mrs. Everett said.

REVIEW GIVEN OF SUNDAY EVENING'S SECOND CHAMBER MUSIC PROGRAM

By JANIS WILLIAMS

The Music Department presented the second Chamber Music program Sunday night in the new music building to a full audience.

The "highlight" of the evening came early in the program. A group composed of Floyd Glende, Esther Thompson, Dan Backman, Elaine Bux and Jean Fulkerson were performing a Quintet for Strings by Boccherini.

The second movement seemed to be going along smoothly when director Floyd Glende stopped the quintet and hurried out to find the right viola part for colleague Dan Backman. This was very understandable though, for chamber music is written to be played in numerous different ways and the usual viola part had been substituted by another. The audience was rewarded for the momentary delay, because the percussive viola part contrasted with the smoothly flowing violin and cello lines to make the second movement slightly different and very beautiful.

The duet for Viola and Cello by Beethoven could be contrasted to an alto and tenor duet. Both these instruments are warm-toned and fairly low. The melody was passed back and forth in a regular pattern throughout the arrangement. Dan Backman, viola and Jean Fulkerson, cellist performed this duet.

The evening's guest artist was Dr. Leon Wagner, who sang three songs, "Merciless Beauty" by Vaughn Williams, "A Piper" by Peterkin, and "Richard Cory," E. Robinson's poem which Dr. Wagner set to cello accompaniment. Judging by the audience reaction and my own enjoyment, he did this very successfully.

The last number was a Quintet for Horn and Strings by Mozart, with Floyd Glende, violinist, and J. Opre McCoy, French horn. Mr. McCoy is an experienced musician and plays with the Humboldt Little Symphony. The addition of horn to soften the typical "string tone" was effective and pleasant to listen to. This was a long piece, and Mr. McCoy deserves credit for his performance, especially in passages composed of run, for this requires quick finger work.

The whole program was excellent, and I found myself thinking that we are very fortunate to be able to hear such music "live."

Danforth Invites Applications For Fellowships

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the seventh class (1958) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1958, for their first year of graduate study.

The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President C. H. Siemens has named Dean Ivan Milhous as the Liaison Officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these 1958 fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1400 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $2400 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $350 for children. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply. A Dan-

HSC's Dr. Wood Is Zealous Advocate Of Learning Of Foreign Languages

By LOUISE LAWRENCE

Dr. Frank Wood, who teaches foreign languages, is in one of the few areas in the HSC instructional program where one man is running the show.

The foreign language department is one of the smallest programs at Humboldt State, and with the help of Mrs. Kathryn Barlow, who teaches intermediate French, Dr. Wood does it all. He teaches French, Spanish, and German, and is hoping to introduce Italian to the schedule by 1958.

Sitting in his office, which has foreign-country posters adorning the walls, Dr. Wood reflected on his preparation for his teaching position. He spent one year at the University of Maine — "I'm always plugging the University of Maine" — where he set out to be an English major. His education was interrupted at that point, however, by his joining the Army Air Corps in 1943. He spent two years in Italy, as well as some time in North Africa.

"My stay in Italy really got me into foreign languages," Dr. Wood recalled. When he came back to the United States, he went on to get his B.A. in modern foreign languages at the University of Maine.

He received his M.A. in romance languages from the University of Iowa, was a teaching assistant there for five years, and also received his Ph. D. here, at the age of 30. Dr. Wood admitted that one of the main reasons he came to Humboldt State (he had never been on the West Coast before) was the salary, which was superior to any offered by the New England colleges.

Dr. Wood said that he hoped that in time the foreign language program would be enlarged considerably. At the present not enough courses are offered to complete a major in any language.

He is also very enthusiastic about having foreign languages on the elementary school level. It would be easier for younger children to learn languages, and it would "revolutionize college instruction in foreign languages."

Dr. Wood noted that many elementary schools in the nation have already initiated foreign language programs, and that some Humboldt County teachers are "working in a little Spanish or French" in connection with other subjects.

The young Ph. D. is an energetic fellow with a wide smile and what Californians would call a slight New England accent. Always impeccably dressed, Dr. Wood said that he found it difficult at first to become accustomed to West Coast informality, but that he thinks that Approximately 150 students from high schools in Humboldt and Del Norte counties listen to speakers at the third annual Journalism Day held at the Humboldt State College campus last Friday. he and his family have become "Westernized".

Dr. Wood mentioned that he and his family spent last summer in New England. His family consists of his wife, their six-and seven-year-old daughters and their two-and-a-half-year-old son.

With his engaging chuckle, Dr. Wood said that his hobbies were raising rabbits and chickens, when he is not occupied with school activities or the care of his children. "I feel very silly about it, but right now I'm trying to raise blue rabbits", he (Continued on Page 8)

If a man receives the Danforth Appointment, together with a Rhodes Scholarship, Fulbright Scholarship, or Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, he becomes a Danforth Fellow without stipend, until these other relationships are completed.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Minnawana in Michigan next September.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by January 31, 1958. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with the office of Dr. Milhaus.

End to end, a Lucky is made of superbly light tobacco—golden rich, wonderfully good-tasting tobacco that's toasted to taste even better. That's a lot to miss out on—no wonder our chief has grief! # Wildcats Suffer First Defeat Of '57 Season

By the margin of a missed extra point, the Chico State Wildcats went down to defeat for the first time in five games last week as they lost to the Los Angeles State Diablos 14-13.

Quarterback Carl Bloss punched over both Chico touchdowns but missed the first conversion attempt and in the long run it proved to be the factor that knocked the Wildcats from the list of the nation's undefeated game.

Well, Call It SOMETHING

By TOM FAY

Maybe the first thing we should do this week is try to straighten out what was written last week! The mixed up football schedule left "Something" pretty well mixed up too.

After the paper had gone to press last week, the scheduled game with Western Washington was cancelled. This was due to the fact that most of the members of their squad had the flu. So - - HSC hurriedly called Hamilton Air Force Base to see if they could come up and play either Friday or Saturday night. They agreed to play Friday, but when their plane arrived at the Arcata Airport Friday afternoon the wonderful Humboldt weather accommodated them with a thick blanket of fog and kept them from landing. The plane circled until it was almost out of gas, then turned around and went back to Hamilton.

About 45 minutes later the fog lifted and planes were able to land, but it was just that much too late and Humboldt was without a game again. And that's the way it stayed; gameless for the second time in three weeks.

Before we go out on a limb and fall off as happened last week, let's say that IF there's no flu on either squad, and IF there's transportation, and IF there are no adverse weather conditions present, then Humboldt will come up against their old rivals, the Chico State Wildcats on the 'Cats home ground. The game will decide who gains possession of the Lumberjack Axe for the following year.

One thing we can say about the axe - - it's not at Chico any-yard runs and by catching a 27-yard pass from Tom Muhic.

Despite the lopsided score, the illness-ridden Nevada eleven had 19 first downs and completed 17 passes for 188 yards. Western State 412 yards passing and running while Nevada had 266.

way. Humboldt played a great game last year in winning 7-6, and was presented with the axe by last year's Chico State Student Body President. It was put in its resting place in the Coop, and has since been "borrowed". We guess this is just part of the tradition. Anyway, no one at HSC wants to have to return the axe to Chico this year.

The Junior Jacks lost another toughie last week to Lassen JC. They came up with a good passing attack, but a tough Cougar line held down the running power, and limited HSC to one touchdown and the short end of a 13-6 count.

What Do You Think Dept.?? - - Back to duck hunting again. Another member of our illustrious sports staff, Don Neilsen, thinks the hunting is improving. The other day while out sculling he chanced upon a flock of snow geese, and got his limit. (Plus?) When he observed said "geese" they bore slight resemblance to what Don claimed they were, and much more to SEAGULLS. Really, Mr. Neilsen . . .

Nevada Defeated By Mountaineers

Western States College of Colorado, sparked by halfback Del Schmaltz's three touchdowns, romped to a 52-14 verdict over the University of Nevada Wolfpack last week to spoil the Reno Homecoming.

Schmaltz, who was considered to be a substitute only two weeks ago, made headlines Saturday before last when he came off the bench to score six touchdowns in another win for the Mountaineers. Schmaltz scored on 43 and 7

JACKS TRAVEL TO CHICO TOMORROW

TWO HSC GAMES CALLED OFF LAST WEEKEND, HORNETS RESCHEDULED

Humboldt State College quite likely set a record last weekend by having not one, but two games called off in the space of two days and for differing reasons.

First, the slated contest with the Western Washington Vikings in Bellingham, Wash. was cancelled Thursday morning because of a flu outbreak among the Vikings. Then a hurriedly-scheduled game planned for last Friday with the Hamilton Air Force Base went by the boards on the afternoon of the game when the Flyers' plane was unable to land here because of fog.

Earlier in the week, the rescheduling of HSC's game with the Sacramento State Hornets was announced. It will be played in Redwood Bowl on the night of Nov. 23.

Western Washington was hit almost as severely by flu last week as were the Lumberjacks three weeks ago.

The Viking game was not rescheduled, although the Washington eleven did agree to appear here in 1959, with the Jacks going to Bellingham the following year.

With the open date, the Jacks made efforts to fill in with Hamilton, and the Flyers agreed. But when the plane bringing the team reached the local airport, it was unable to land. That game was then reset for Friday Nov. 22, the night before HSC meets the Hornets.

Kohinka Captures First In Race

Dale Kohinka, Humboldt's track flash, captured first place in the cross-county race with Southern Oregon at Ashland last Saturday.

Kohinka's winning time over the 2 1/4 mile course was 11 minutes flat. There were five cinder-men from each school participating in the event. Other finishers for HSC were Gordon Bobelle and Charles McDonald, tied for second; Richard Urban, sixth; and Lawrence Larson, seventh.

Coach John Black was pleasantly surprised with the excellent showing of both Bobelle and McDonald. He also expressed his approval over the showing of Kohinka and said that he is con-

TEAMS CLASH IN TRADITIONAL FWC GAME WITH LUMBERJACK AXE PRIZE FOR VICTORS

Faced with probably their toughest game of the year, Humboldt State's footballers are rested and ready to go against the Chico Wildcats Saturday night at Chico, in a resumption of one of the fiercest rivalries in Northern California.

The Jacks had last week off, through no fault of their own. The Western Washington contest was called off because of the flu in the Washington school, and Coach Phil Sarboe rescheduled Hamilton Field for Friday night.

But the Flyers were unable to land at the fog-shrouded Arcata Airport and were unable to make it here for the game.

Coach Sarboe has described this week's game as the toughest of the season for the Jacks. Chico suffered their first loss last week at the hands of Los Angeles State by one point, 14-13. All in all, the Wildcats are 4-1. In Far Western Conference play, Chico is unbeaten in two starts.

On the other hand, Humboldt is fresh from their first win in Conference play and will be gunning for an upset win over the Wildcats. The Jacks are 1-1 in conference play.

Sophomore tackle Bill Hicks is still recovering from an eye injury he suffered in the Cal Aggie game and it is doubtful whether or not he will make the trip. Dick Cahill is reported much improved but he is not up to full potential yet. Cahill received a shoulder separation two weeks ago.

Hicks' spot on the starting lineup will be taken over by another sophomore Dave Patterson, a JC transfer from Modesto. Patterson has improved rapidly in the past few weeks and is tabbed by the coaches as perhaps the best tackle on the squad.

Game captains for the contest will be end Dave Thomas and quarterback Warren Baker.

Thomas and Carl Carlson will start at the end spots. Carlson has turned in some terrific defensive play in the last games and it is this reason that he will start.

Patterson and senior Jerry Bartlett will be the starting tackles. Bartlett is playing his fourth year for the Green and Gold and is rated as one of the best tackles in the conference.

With four good reliable guards, Sarboe will start Pete Carpino and Jim Ennis. Roy Escarcega and Gordon Moore will undoubtedly also see plenty of action.

Zeke VanDeventer, who started the season never before playing the pivot and has come along way, will start at center.

The usual backfield will start. Warren Baker, Marion Mayes, Earl Barnum, and Chuck McAninch will begin the contest, with Ralph Mayo in reserve in case McAninch is shifted to quarterback.

IQ's LEADING IN FOOTBALL

After the completion of games last week and Monday's games this week the high flying IQ's find themselves leading the field in intramural flag football with a five win one tie record.

The games scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 24 were cancelled because of rain. It is hoped they can be played off at the end of the season.

Monday, Oct. 28 found the going getting rougher for the league leaders as the Village rolled over the Ramblers 18-0 and the two powerhouses Redwood Hall and the IQ's battled to a 6-6 standoff.

In the other two games the fraternity prevailed 7-0 over CU and the Comus Club forfeited their sixth game of the year to Alpha House. It would appear that the great God Comus will have to instill new blood and life into the limbs and body of his followers.

COUGARS SNEAK BY HSC JUNIOR JACKS, 13-6

Humboldt State's Junior Jacks suffered their second loss of the season last Saturday in Susanville when they dropped a hard-fought 13-6 decision to the Lassen Junior College Cougars.

The Cougars built up an early lead and held on to win despite a closing drive that took HSC to the Lassen eight before a fumble killed the threat. The running of fullback Bob Gay and the passing of quarterback Ron Reynolds sparked the march.

After Lassen scored in the first period to go ahead 7-0, Reynolds put Humboldt right back in the game as he took the ensuing kickoff and rambled 78 yards for the Junior Jacks only score of the evening.

Then in the third period halfback Roger Cox connected with a 54 yard pass on an option play that put Lassen ahead to stay.

Golden Gators Win Another FWC Contest

San Francisco's Golden Gators remained undefeated in Far Western Conference play last weekend by pounding out a 46-0 verdict over the Cal Aggie Mustangs.

The Gators scored in every period, including three times in the final period with a reserve squad totting the mail.

Halfback John Sochor got the San Francisco squad off and rolling early with a 65 yard punt return after taking a reverse from his brother, quarterback Jim Sochor.

San Francisco grossed 392 yards against the Aggies 167.

Ely Resigns From Board Of Control

Jim Ely, senior business administration major and ASB treasurer, resigned from the Board of Control last week.

Lumberjack Axe Still In Hiding

BY TONY VASQUEZ

The Lumberjack axe is still in hiding.

Because of the many attempts made at it it has been unsafe to show it before the public. The whereabouts of the axe is shrouded in deep mystery.

The axe must be taken to Chico tomorrow for the big game between Humboldt State College and Chico State. The winner of the game will keep the axe.

The victory flag, another Humboldt tradition, is also gone. It was taken from the pole on top of the Coop two weeks ago and it, too, has made a complete disappearing act.

The flag is flown after every football game won by Humboldt. The flag was run up after the 'Jacks' victory over the Cal Aggies. It was taken shortly thereafter.

Thus there is this great concern for safety of the Lumberjack axe. It was stolen last year. It was stolen the year before that and the one before and so on down through the years. The tradition is a great one. And there is always another group trying to perpetuate the tradition and so the axe remains in hiding until the day that it can safely see the light of day.
