Master Plan Decision Due Today

Spur Billie Thomas reads the familiar short story "The Littlest Angel" at the annual Spur sponsored Starlighting, which was held last Sunday evening at Founders Hall. Edna Gammon was Mistress of Ceremonies for the traditional program, a highlight of the holiday season on campus.

Music Students In Honor Band

A West and Northwestern Inter-Collegiate Band session will be held Dec. 18 and 19 on the University of California campus in Berkeley. Representatives from various colleges and universities in the western and northwestern states will participate. There will be approximately 120 members in this honor band. Dr. Glenn Cliffe Bainm, Director Emeritus of the Northwestern University Band will conduct. After two days of practice and rehearsal, the band will give a concert from 3:30-5 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 19.

This is the first year that such a session is being held. It is sponsored by the College Band Directors National Association which will be holding its convention of west and northwestern divisions on the Berkeley campus the same dates of the band session.

Three music majors were selected to represent Humboldt State. They are, Carole Cress, clarinet; Ted Hamilton, french horn; and Roland Nielson, percussion. These students were chosen on the basis of their training, experience and on the recommendation of the band master.

Dr. David Smith, assistant professor of music who will be attending the convention says, "I feel that this is outstanding recognition of not only the band members selected, but of the entire band program here at Humboldt State College."

Sweetheart, Outstanding Awards Presented At Annual Sno-Ball

Linda Arvola, freshman physical education major from Eureka, was crowned Sempervirens Sweetheart at the annual ASB sponsored Sno-Ball, held last Saturday at the Eureka Inn.

Miss Arvola was selected by Roger Smith and Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., co-stars of the television series "77 Sunset Strip," from photographs of the eight candidates selected to run by the Sempervirens staff. Other candidates were Stacey Stevenson, Janine Ford, Phylliss Peltonen, Marci Johnson, Karen McDonald, Donna Cleveland and Dolores Dahl.

Other award winners revealed at the dance were the selections for the Outstanding Senior Man and Woman of the Year and the Corbett award for Man and Woman of the Year.

Associated Student Body President Art Dalianes, psychology major from Eureka, a member of the Green and Gold Key on campus and one of the Board of Directors of the 11-western states Student Union Association, is the Outstanding Senior Man of the Year.

Senior Class President Pat Miller, elementary education major from Arcata, was named Outstanding Senior Woman of the Year. Miss Miller was Union Class Secretary and Chairman of the Blood Bank drive on campus.

John Burger, junior business administration major from Eureka and Mary Lou Barnes, junior elementary education major from Fortuna, were the winners of the annual Corbett Cash Awards for the Man and Woman of the Year, which is presented by Mrs. Katherine Corbett, associate professor of sociology at HSC.

Burger is vice-president of the ASB and an active member of Delta Sigmas Phi fraternity and the Intercollegiate Knights. Miss Barnes is president of the California Student Teachers Association and the Delta Zeta sorority and is Commissioner of Assemblies.

Hilltopper Delayed Until After Vacation

Publication of Hilltopper magazine, originally scheduled for distribution this week, has been delayed until after Christmas recess, it was announced by Ronald Sells, editor.

The fall number of the campus general-interest magazine is an "international issue" that features articles, pictures and cartoons. Hilltopper is produced by the journalism laboratory. Assisting Sells are Billie Thomas, assistant editor; Bob McMahan, photographer; Sally Wilkinson, art editor; Bill Hayward, distribution manager.

Business Day Plans Discussed

Preliminary plans for this spring's Business Day highlighted the regular meeting of the HSC Business Club held last Friday.

Ideas for machine display and the banquet were discussed by the group and committee action on definite plans will get under way soon. Loran August, junior from Fortuna and Darlene Spann, junior from Crescent City, are general co-chairmen of Business Day.

Liaison Committee To Vote On Far-Reaching Proposals

By DON HARRIS

Decisions directly affecting Humboldt State College and all other institutions of higher learning in California will be reached today when the Liaison Committee of the Master Plan Survey of Higher Education meets in Berkeley.

Recommendations that are the result of months of intensive study will be voted upon by the committee composed of representatives of the Board of Regents of the University of California and the State Board of Education.

The recommendations jointly arrived at today will be forwarded to the state legislature in the form of a constitutional amendment and on to the people for acceptance or rejection.

President C. H. Siemens stated earlier this week, "If the major recommendations are passed by the legislature and become law, higher education in California, and especially in the state colleges, will enter a new era of organization and development."

Significant Effects

"The effect of these changes will be far reaching and may well be the greatest educational development in California of this century," Dr. Siemens concluded.

Indications are that the following major points will be placed before the legislature in the form of a constitutional amendment and eventually the people for their consideration.

1. Establishment of a State College Board of Trustees equal in power and status to the University of California Board of Regents.

This means that the State Colleges would for the first time be independent of the State Department of Education, Department of Finance, Division of Architecture and the State Personnel Board. All of these agencies now have major roles in control of various aspects of the State Colleges.

Coordinating Council

2. The creation of a Coordinating Council of representatives of the University, the State Colleges, the Junior Colleges and independent institutions. This council would make recommendations to the Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees on such items as the combined budgets and capital outlay requests of the University and the State Colleges, the interpretation of the educational function of each system, and the development of plans for further growth.

3. Establish the primary functions to be carried out by the University and the State Colleges. It will recognize on-going programs and add for the State Colleges the authorization for faculty research and a plan whereby a student may earn a doctors degree jointly in a State College and the University.

In addition to other items in the proposed constitutional amendment more than 40 other recommendations concerning higher education are also expected to be submitted to the legislature.

Entrance Requirements

Petitions For Reps-At-Large Available Now

Petitions for representative-at-large are now available at the Associated Student Body offices and at the Dean of Students' office. The representative-at-large election will be held Wednesday, Jan. 13 and Thursday, Jan. 14 from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. The position's where the voting booths will be placed will be announced in next week's paper.

Two men and two women students are to be chosen for this ASB office. Duties of the offices include voting membership on the Executive Council and special assignments from the student body president. The term of office is for one year.

Petitions for nomination must be turned into any ASB officer by Jan. 6 at 4 p. m. Petitions must be signed by 25 members of the Associated Student Body.

The election will be conducted on a plurality basis. The 2 men and women receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected.

Any student who is going to be absent during the election period may receive an absentee ballot. To do this he must register with an ASB officer before Jan. 10.

Rep-at-large officers at present are Helen Wilson, Judy Warren, Bob Merritt and Joe Romero.

Christmas Recess Begins Today

Once again its Christmas vacation; a two week rest for some, for others, time to bone up for the forthcoming January finals.

Humboldt students will be scattering to many different parts of the state from Crescent City in the north to Holtville in the south. There are also several others traveling out of state to such far off places as Hawaii, Illinois, Colorado, Arizona and Oregon.

President C. H. Siemens would like to make warning to all those traveling on the highways to be very careful and to drive safely. When 1960 rolls around, let's all be here together to enjoy it.

Classes will end today and resume next year on Jan. 4. Redwood, Nelson, and Sunset Halls will close tomorrow at 10 a. m. and re-open Jan. 3 at noon. The Coop and Nelson Hall cafeteria will remain closed for the entire vacation. The college library closes today at 5 p. m., but will be open Dec. 21-23 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. It will then close until classes resume.

Making Education History

Educational history of importance to everyone concerned with higher learning in California will be made today in Berkeley when the Liaison Committee of the Master Plan Survey concludes months of work by voting upon recommendations for future plans for state colleges and the University of California.

Proposals resulting from this meeting shall go to the legislature as a proposed constitutional amendment that would sharply re-design the organization of higher education in the state.

In effect the changes would give state colleges "separate but equal" powers with the University. Among other things the colleges would have a Board of Trustees with power equal to the UC Board of Regents.

This would free the hands of the colleges to make their own decisions. Presently state colleges are subject to the plans and desires of various state departments and divisions and have limited power to run their own house.

Authority to grant a doctors degree through the colleges and the University under a joint co-operative program is included as another major feature of the proposed amendment.

Both these and other changes included have long been desired by the state colleges, as they seek a greater role in higher education and a greater hand in making their own decisions.

Problems being tackled are enormous. Raising of entrance requirements at the same time that extensive expansion of facilities is necessary to meet the growing needs of the state's population.

Financially the sums involved are staggering, approaching by 1995 $1,000,000,000 yearly for operating budgets alone. In dollar and cents the problem of higher education has been said to rank second only to California's water problem.

Fate of the proposal remains to be seen. The Legislature may be the amendment's toughest test as observers feel the public would vote to accept the amendment.

At any rate all problems involved in co-ordinating higher education are being looked squarely in the eye. For the sake of millions of young Californians, many yet unborn, let's hope the decisions reached fulfill the needs of the most extensive higher education system in the world. —DON HARRIS

Parking Problem Pondered By ASB Presidents

Possibility of student action on parking on campus was one problem discussed at the California State College Student Presidents Association conference last weekend at the Los Angeles State College campus.

John Burger, ASB vice president, who represented Humboldt State at the conference, reported that all monies derived from parking permits on all state college campuses go into a general fund with some of the colleges deriving more benefits than others. Humboldt State is one of the colleges not getting much for their money, according to Burger.

The decisions of this conference concerning the parking issue will be incorporated in legislation and presented at the next meeting for action.

"Extra" Oath of Allegiance clause was also debated, as were student unions, judiciary systems, hazing, and discrimination by those attending the College Presidents Conference. "All legislation and action taken at this and further meetings are ideas and beliefs expressed by the individual members of the association, not necessarily those of the president's respective student councils," according to Burger.

Redwood Hall Minutes

The meeting of Redwood Hall was called to order at 7:10 p. m. Dec. 13 by Duane Oneto, president.

The minutes of the last dorm meeting were read and approved. Oneto stated that each resident must pay $1 per semester. The fee for this semester should be paid as soon as possible.

Dennis Huntington briefed the resident on the idea of competition between the three floors and how this competition might be set up.

Oneto read the stipulations of the dorm rules set up by the standards committee.

Tom Nelson reported on the blood bank and asked if there were any who might like to give blood under the name of Redwood Hall.

Jerry Wright cautioned the students that the recreation room will be closed if it is not kept clean.

Gene Bowman told the students about the pinochle tournament which will be held before vacation.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 7:40 p. m.

Pat's Perusals Merry Christmas

Pat Baker

"I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, too." What does Christmas mean to you? To me it is the quiet peaceful feeling you have when you enter church for Midnight Mass. You hear a number of comments on the commercialization of Christmas but I wonder . . . There is a spirit of Christmas that no store's merchandising campaign can dampen. And, I haven't heard Stan Freburg's record 'Let's Make It A Green Christmas' this year, for which I am thankful.

"Deck the Halls With Boughs of Holly" Walking down the hall in the Administration Building the fragrance of fir is piquant and pleasing. A quartet was heard having a slight disagreement about the arrangement of lights on the big tree they were decorating.

The cheery welcome of the brightly decorated tree in the foyer of the College Elementary School. The decorations made by the children.

One of the desk force standing on top of a filing cabinet reaching to top of the tree she is helping to decorate.

The angel was then put in more advantageous spot.

The art faculty hearing these words, "I'm at lost for ideas. I wonder if you could . . ." Yes. "It's beginning to look like Christmas!" A legend traces the first lighted Christmas tree to Martin Luther. Luther used candles to reproduce the beauty of starlit evergreens seen on a snowy Christmas night in Germany.

"For Auld Lang Syne, My Dear," . . . and for 1960. (It's that time already, believe it or not!) What do you want most from the new year? Sometimes it is easier to forget about the resolutions usually made around this time and just do! With finals coming so soon after vacation this sounds like an excellent idea.

And so . . . My Christmas card! . . . "I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, too."

Hilltop Hallucinations "Christmas Is Here"

By BILL HAYWARD

The season of cheer is here (what a poet and I), and we all began the long trek back to "civilization." Many of you will return, some will not. Despite the loses that HSC suffers over the holidays, life will go on in our little village.

I have on request to make of each of you, a Christmas present if I may, that I hope you will grant. Will you please slow it down on the highway. I have no urge to see our numbers decimated by accidents, and each of you can be a potential death. But this is not the subject about which I wish to speak.

This is an unusual column. The material has ranged from trivia to significant, from literature to? But I hope that each one of you will read the last will of a man who became an accident.

On the back of an envelope found among his effects after his death in a plane crash, former Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Gordon Dean had scrawled:

Lessons Learned

1. Never lose your capacity for enthusiasm.
2. Never lose your capacity for indignation.
3. Never judge people, don't type them too quickly; but in a pinch always first assume that a man is good and that at worst he is in the grey area between good and bad.
4. If you can't be generous when it is hard, you won't be generous when it is easy.
5. The greatest builder of confidence is the ability to do something - - almost anything - - well.
6. When that confidence comes, then strive for humility; you aren't as good as all that.

7. And the way to become truly useful is to seek the best that other brains have to offer. Use them to supplement your own, and give them credit when they have helped.

8. The greatest tragedies in world and personal events stem from misunderstandings. Answer: COMMUNICATE.

Phoenix Club Has Christmas Party

The Phoenix Club held its traditional Christmas party last Friday evening at the home of Miss Kay Ward, past president of the club. The time was spent in visiting and working on the club's Christmas project, which consists of each member buying a gift for an inmate of California's state hospital for women and wrapping and mailing it.

All these presents were wrapped during this evening and placed in a large carton for mailing. This is the second year during which the club has carried out this project, and they plan to make it an annual one.

Another highlight of the evening was the distribution of white elephants, which included a jar filled with guppies, among club members. Twenty-two members attended the party, including club advisers Miss Kate Buchanan and Miss Hazel Hagne.

mission to the State Colleges and the University.

Exact details will be determined by the respective boards but it has been generally agreed that the colleges would draw freshmen from the top one-third of California public high school graduates and the University from the top one-eighth.

Transfers from JC's would be required to have 24 units of B or 60 units of C to be admitted to a college. Out-of-state students would be required to be in the upper half of those ordinarily eligible. All of these requirements would go into affect in the fall of 1962.

Another recommendation expected is that the institutions, in order to accommodate more students, study the possibility of a three-semester year or in any event offer summer school work to permit accelerated college schedules.

New Institutions

New institutions will be recommended as follows: 22 new junior colleges by 1970; two new State Colleges by 1965 and three additional University of California campuses.

Eight of the JC's would be in the Bay Area, three in the Central Valley and eleven in Southern California. The new colleges would be in Los Angeles County and the San Bernardino-Riverside area. Already approved but not yet started are colleges in Stanislaus County and the North Bay Area.

WAA Holds Annual Playday

A successful playday was held with Chico last Saturday with Humboldt WAA women the winners of the day.

Two basketball games were played, with Humboldt winning both games, 36-30 and 32-25. Both teams played good games with their skills about equally matched.

Marlene Thompson was the sports day chairman and Bernice Finley was captain of the basketball team for Humboldt. Fifty to sixty women attended the playday.

A basketball tournament will be held Jan. 4th from 7:30 to 9:15 p. m. Both the semi-finals and finals will be held that night.

A new block of WAA will start Jan. 11 featuring tumbling and trampoline in the Women's gym from 7 to 9 p. m. The block will last until semester finals.

ART EXHIBIT

An exhibit by the HSC art faculty is being shown through December at the Stafford Inn south of Scotia. Work by each of the six faculty members of the department is shown.

DECK THE HALLS

When you think of Christmas gifts you naturally think of Marlboro cigarettes, leading seller in flip-top box in all fifty states—and if we annex Wales, in all fifty-one—and if we annex Lapland, in all fifty-two. (This talk about annexing Wales and Lapland is, incidentally, not just idle speculation. Great Britain wants to trade Wales to the United States for a desert. Great Britain needs a desert desperately on account of the tourist trade. Tourists are always coming up to the Prime Minister or the Lord Privy Seal, or the Thane of Glamis, or like that and saying, "I'm not knocking your country, mind you. It's very quaint and picturesque, etc., what with Buckingham Palace and Bovril and Sootland Yard, etc., but where's your desert?"

"...but where's your desert?"

Before I forget, let me point out that Scotland Yard, Britain's plain-clothes police branch, was named after Wally Scotland and Fred Yard who invented plain clothes. The American plain-clothes force is called the F.B.I. after Frank B. Incheliff, who invented fingerprints. Before Mr. Incheliff's invention, everybody's fingers were absolutely glassy smooth. This, as you may imagine, played hob with the identification of newborn babies in hospitals. From 1791 until 1904 no American parent ever brought home the right baby from the hospital. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.

(But I digress. England, I was saying, wants to trade Wales for a desert. Sweden wants to trade Lapland for Frank B. Incheliff. The reason is that Swedes to this day still don't have fingerprints. As a result, identification of babies in Swedish hospitals is so haphazard that Swedes flatly refuse to bring their babies home. There are, at present, nearly a half-billion unclaimed babies in Swedish hospitals—some of them well over eighty years old.)

But I digress. Marlboro is, of course, an ideal Christmas gift for your friends and loved ones who enjoy filter cigarettes. If, on the other hand, your friends and loved ones like mildness but don't like filters, then you can't go wrong with a carton of Philip Morris. If your friends and loved ones like a subtly mentholated cigarette that combines refreshing taste with high filtration, then buy a carton of Alpines. (Alpines, incidentally, are named after the late Albert G. Pine. Al Pine worked all his life to invent a cigarette that would combine light menthol and high filtration, but alas he never succeeded. As by-products of his research he did manage to invent the atom, the gooseneck lamp and the cocker spaniel, but the lightly mentholated high filtration cigarette, alas, never. Now this dream is realized, and what could be more fitting than to pay tribute to this gallant man by calling this cigarette Alpine?) © 1959 Max Shulman

We, the makers of Marlboro, Philip Morris and Alpine are now enjoying our sixth year with Max Shulman. Obviously, we think he is a funny fellow. We think you'll think so too, if you look at his television series "THE MANY LOVES OF DOBIE GILLIS"—and read his latest book, "I WAS A TEEN-AGE DWARF."

CASUAL CAMPUS

By DONNA

Christmas is coming, tra la, tra la!! The bells do jingle and lo the happy yuletide spirits prevail. Speaking of spirits, what is all this about a "Christmas Cheer" Club?? Gleeful members totaling about one fourth of the faculty and student body seem to all agree that this organization is really the greatest. Hm... Merry, merry Tom and Jerry!

Most of the dorm kids are really "gung ho" for elaborate Christmas decorations and such. Many rooms even have their own trees; one in particular over at Redwood Hall complete with blinking lights, is perched in a window rimmed with still more colored bulbs. Very pretty indeed!

Very pretty indeed also was fashionable Miss Betty Bird as seen Wednesday at the annual Christmas assembly. Betty was wearing one of the new black and white jacket and skirt ensembles from DALY'S Sportswear Department. DALY'S is featuring these fully lined, wool flannel, skirts, jackets and slacks in black and winter white solids and also black and white checks. All the items can be mixed, matched and co-ordinated. These are really winter wardrobe musts, girls, so come in and see 'em today!

What! A red haired Santa Claus?? Yep. At least that was the case last Sunday when Alex Pulaski played the old St. Nickolas role for the little ones at the county hospital. Accompanying Alex were his Delta Sigma Phi fraternity brothers who sang carols and distributed popcorn balls to the children. The fraternity should be applauded for such a fine community service project.

Despite the damp and soggy weather, the Sno Ball really turned out to be a tremendous success, didn't it? Many congratulations to Sempervirens Sweetheart, Linda Arvola, and to Mary Lou Barnes and John Burger, Man and Woman of the Year, and Pat Miller and Art Dalianes, Outstanding Senior Man and Woman.

Are any of you fellas having Christmas present problems? Like for instance, what to buy for mom, sister and girlfriend. You are saved! Simply read and heed:

- For purses, scarves and pretty jewelry,
- Perfume and all that female foolry
- For tons of Xmas gifts with style,
- Visit DALY'S CENTER AISLE!!

Well everyone it's time to go again. Have the merriest Christmas ever and I'll see you again in 1960. Sure hope you'll all be ready for finals (a final note of cheer). Farewell... And please don't forget Daly's for that last minute shopping.

Awards, Dance, Music Highlight Weekend

'Jacks To Play in Six Games

What's What!

by Hugh Clark

1959 Team was a team . . .

Sometimes, it is necessary for us who write sports to favor one season over another, not particularly one sport over another, though.

Such is our case when referring to last fall's tremendous football season. Not that we have nothing to say about basketball and certainly not that we favor the gridders over the cagers, but that we have some kind of a special feeling toward Humboldt's 1959 football team.

Included in this week's edition of the Lumberjack are similar feelings written by head coach Phil Sarboe.

It would be in order, we think, to give our impressions.

It was a typical Humboldt County day, not cold, certainly not hot, a little overcast, but crisp and somewhat cool. It was September 1st, the opening of football practice for all Far Western Conference schools including HSC's Lumberjacks.

Some 70 candidates and the coaching staff started to work. There were a few lettermen on hand, some more returning who had not lettered and numerous junior college transfers and freshmen on hand.

Impressed? No, we weren't. Actually, from the word go, we were not pleased. The team lacked that something that makes you say, "Boy, they'll go all the way this year."

Twice a day, the team toiled. First they had conditioning drills and soon, in fact, the same day, those in good shape ran the six-minute mile. Many made it and those who didn't tried it until they did.

One by one promising lettermen left the fold. Two defensive ends dropped from the team, a couple of linemen and another player. Additionally, half a dozen returnees failed to show here and there. Some for academic reasons, others for personal reasons, but never-the-less they weren't on hand.

Our opinion began to change, ever so slowly. First a fellow named Ed White turned out almost a week late. Why? Well, it seems White was still in the service when practice started. He was formally discharged on a Friday night.

He was on hand for practice on Saturday, and for the first practice. He was in shape and actually physically ready to play a full game.

We started to re-evaluate the many freshmen more closely. We watched Woodson Foster, first try quarterback and then defense. He hustled and tried, and improved. Needless to say, he was voted Mr. Hustle by his teammates at the season's end.

Then, the Alumni outplayed and outfoxed the Lumberjacks, scoring a win over the Jacks in the first game of its type. Then came the OTI Owls and although it was strictly a scrimmage, we couldn't help, but think bad things as they just about outplayed the Jacks.

We knew, as did everyone else, that San Francisco State's Gators were staging drills in the Southland with the biggest turnout in the school's history and with an all-veteran club and some of the best jaycee transfers in the nation.

Humboldt was clobbered. They held for a half, even leading 9-7 at the end of the first two quarters. The roof fell in. They lost 28-9. They couldn't move the ball. They couldn't move the ball. They couldn't stop the Gators. They were beaten, completely.

We began to think. Maybe the pessimists were right. The Lumberjacks would be lucky to have a 5-5 season. They weren't good. They were not outstanding individuals on the team. Perhaps, they wouldn't even have a winning season.

Oh, but we were wrong. They made believers out of us. The defense cemented, the offense clicked. All the sudden the spirit set in and Humboldt looked like a different team.

Watching many of the evening practices we realized a bigger sparkle and a determination we hadn't seen before. However, the club was "cool" never getting over excited or high strung.

In succession they lowered the boom on Oregon College, Seattle's Ramblers, Sacramento State, Western Washington, Cal Aggies, Chico State, Nevada, Southern Oregon and Whittier.

That was nine straight games. During that ten-week period, we came to know what a real team is. Having written and watched high school athletics for four years and college for another, we felt as though this was the first real team we've ever written about.

Here was 39 college students going to school, playing football, practicing two hours each evening, many working for mills on the graveyard shift and supporting a family.

Coach Presents Views Of Successful Season

Every football fan has his own memories of the 1959 season. The Lumberjack players and coaches definitely are no exception. We had nine consecutive high points. Each week after the opening loss to San Francisco State was a "Believe It or Not."

Probably the key victory to this memorable season was the Seattle Rambler win after the final gun had been fired. The one additional play awarded to Whitmire and Company was as beautifully an executed pass from Fred to Tom DiMercurio in the end zone for the tying six pointer as one would ever again hope to see, (even as a coach). Then those fortunate fans who remained with us for that play got their final spinal injection from the "super footwork" of our "husband come lately" Jim Walker. This particular win when all was seemingly lost set the pattern for our 1959 slogan: "DON'T PUSH THE PANIC BUTTON."

This writer wishes to confess that 1959 was to be a building year. Why not? Twenty-five of last year's exceptionally fine squad had departed through graduation, service calls, and for other specific reasons. It was illogical to conceive that with one returning regular in the backfield that H.S.C. could mold a winning combination in such a short period. However, the head man evidently didn't reckon with the ABCD's of football - ability, brains, courage, and the greatest single quality, Desire.

This exceptional group of men which included the assistant coaches, players, the manager, and training room personnel had "Esprit de Corps" far greater than any other squad in the last few years. The "all for one attitude" is a trademark of our football tradition and lends itself to any newcomer or stranger once he sets his foot into "Trainer Kinzer's inner sanctum." Three looks at Ced's training room bulletin boards will tell you many many stories of our past. Yes, if you can ever talk or sneak your way into these private walls, perhaps you will learn a little "applied psych" of which our teams have absorbed and helped develop over the years. The H in Humboldt stands for "Heart" in our scheme of togetherness, oneness, that is absolutely necessary in order to win those close ones.

It isn't my prerogative to replay the season, but I do feel there are a few important anecdotes which gave us assists for the wins we enjoyed and it pleases me to mention a few. Our assistant coaches, Gordon Schroeder who superintended our "Green Chain" (the defensive platoon), and his assistant, Jim Ingram, a hero from the 1952 championship squad by virtue of a 73 yard T. D. run on the "Guard Around Play." Jim helped El Gordo scout the opposition and train our defensive men for each succeeding contest. They did a whale of a job. Coaches Bob Doornink and Art Stegeman were the "Go-Go" teachers on offense and this department grew stronger and more efficient each week. I don't know how we could have progressed so far without their enthusiastic and loyal efforts. Then again I've just got to pat ole Ced and his chiefs, Dr. Philip Dohn, Dr. Donald Bux, and their staff for their ability and patience in repairing our machine and its individual parts when they were sputtering through September, October and November.

On Thanksgiving Day it was indeed fitting to close out this most exciting season and watch the five senior leaders, Richard Ames, Richard Donley, Joe Beeson, Darol Foster, and William Hicks being carried on the shoulders of their most happy and loyal teammates for the victory trip to their final shower as 1959 Lumberjacks. They had led this team by actions and deeds to something bigger and better than anyone believed possible. We will miss this fivesome, but we'll always remember them for their actions.

Before I sign off today, permit me to say a few very pertinent remarks that some of our old friends don't seem to understand. Because this collegiate world of ours, athletically at least, is continually in the headlines for various and sundry "Big Time" reasons, we are often times included in some unfair conversation.

We at HSC athletically do not receive any aid (financial) or athletic scholarships of any kind for athletic ability. If one of our boys is granted any assistance, it is on the same basis as any other student - scholarship for scholarly ability and need. All of our athletes who need financial aid earn every penny of it through their efforts on an honest job through our community friends in the mills, service stations, stores, and other part-time jobs.

Some of these young men, by virtue of their love for sports, do not average more than four or five hours of sleep daily. Yet they never seriously complain. They are happy and pleased to have an opportunity to go to college and don't mind struggling a little harder for their education and athletic fun.

I am indeed happy and proud to be a small part of this healthy educational program. I recognize and appreciate the Administration's attitudes and they have always been most sympathetic and helpful. Also, the Maintenance Department is 1000 per cent in our book. This plus the most sincere fans, student body, and best press relations anywhere gave this small college a most thrilling, experience and I wish to close by saying Merry Christmas and a very Wonderful New Year to each of you.

HSC Plays OTI Tonight; Meets Westmont Next

There's just no place for Humboldt State's Lumberjack basketball five to go but up. Currently, they are working on a five-game losing streak and have an overall collegiate won-loss record of 1-5.

The Jacks have three chances to collect their first home win starting tonight when they open a two-game series with the Oregon Tech Owls.

HSC faces the Owls tonight at 8:30 and again Saturday before hosting a heavily favored Westmont College five which may bring the tallest team to face the Jacks this season.

Humboldt has no real vacation, resuming play the following Monday in Chico where they'll compete in the Fifth Annual Far Western Conference Christmas Tournament.

Whittier, champion during the 1957 tourney, returns after a year's absence to claim the crown won last year by San Francisco State when they beat the Lumberjacks in the finals here.

Guard Bill Caver is back in action and forward Bill Crichton has recovered from an ankle injury to put the 'Jacks in top shape. Coach Franny Givins will probably start with forwards Felix Rogers and Crichton, center Larry Krupka and guards Caver and Eddie Thomas. The first three are sophomores and the guards are seniors.

Humboldt Drops Series to Broncos

Junior Jacks Split; Play Tonite

Humboldt State's Junior Jack basketballers split a series here Monday and Tuesday, losing 42-33 decision to the Eureka High Loggers and then winning a 38-35 victory over the Fortuna High Huskies.

The team returns to action this evening when they host a South Fork High quintet at 6:30. Saturday evening they'll meet the Ferndale High Wildcats in a return match.

Against Eureka, the Jacks trailed 8-6, 21-13, and 34-23 at the quarters. Bob Halvorson scored 12 for HSC while Dana Brenner had 11 for the winners.

Humboldt held slim quarter leads of 11-8, 21-18, and 30-29 against the Huskies. Ron Stammer led the winners with nine points while Don Jacobsen scored nine for the losers. The win broke a five-game losing streak for the Junior Jacks.

Coach Tom Schubert will start forwards Doug Reidmiller and Doug Caldwell, center Bob Halvorson or Ron Stammer and guards Tom Hope and Walt Tweedy tonight.

HSC Grapplers Open Season

The Humboldt State wrestlers opened their 1959-60 intercollegiate wrestling season last night when they traveled to Davis to meet the Cal Aggies grapplers.

The meeting opened a three-match season which also includes the FWC finals at Davis early next year. Coach Gordon Schroeder and nine team members made the trip. There were a number of returnees from last year's team and some promising freshmen making the junket.

'Jacks Lose Thriller In Final Game, 47-46

Humboldt State fell victim of its own poor playing and suffered a 68-59 and 47-46 loss to the Cal Poly Broncos here last Monday and Tuesday for its fourth and fifth straight losses.

The Jacks failed to put together a good game until the second half of Tuesday's game when they came from behind a 15-point deficit and almost got the Broncos, losing by a single point.

Then, it took a stern halftime talk by coach Franny Givins and some sharp defensive play to give Humboldt its best half of the season.

In the opener, guard John Underwood pumped 27 points and scored nine of the first ten Bronco points to keep the visitors from Pomona in front throughout.

The Broncos held ten-minute leads of 10-8, 33-28 and 50-42 to stay just far enough away from the Lumberjacks. Guards Bill Caver and Eddie Thomas started peppering the hoop late in the final ten minutes and HSC pulled within two points, but then failed to score a point for five minutes as Cal Poly wrapped it up.

Center Larry Krupka paced the Hilltoppers scoring 17 points and taking 16 rebounds. Humboldt made 18 of 54 field goal attempts while Cal Poly had 22 of 69. The taller Broncos out-rebounded the Jacks 36-30.

It was much the same the second night as Cal Poly employed a fast break to move ahead 19-11 at the end of the first ten minutes and 35-20 at the half.

Humboldt came back determined and ready for the Broncos, holding them to five points while scoring 11 and the score stood at 40-31 with ten minutes remaining.

The Lumberjacks continued to peck away at the lead and with about two minutes to go was behind by a point. Center Paul Gustavson connected with a hook shot and the visitors took a three point lead. Thomas was fouled and made both of his shots on a 1-1 situation and the Jacks were back in range.

Humboldt gambled controlling the ball until only a few second remained. They took one shot and missed - - missed beating the Broncos by one basket.

'Jack of the Week

LARRY KRUPKA

Improvement superb is the most ample way to describe the Jack of the Week, Larry Krupka. The 6' 5" center has improved tremendously since first appearing at the HSC hardwood a year ago as a freshman. Since, he has won a starting nod as the team's center and is currently the squad's leading scorer and top rebounder. The sophomore from Eureka where he played prep ball, has scored 79 points in five games and picked off 60 rebounds in four games. He has scored well on his improved hook shot and has built up endurance since last season, playing most of every game. During the spring, Krupka high jumps. Last year, in his first year at the sport, he set a new FWC record.

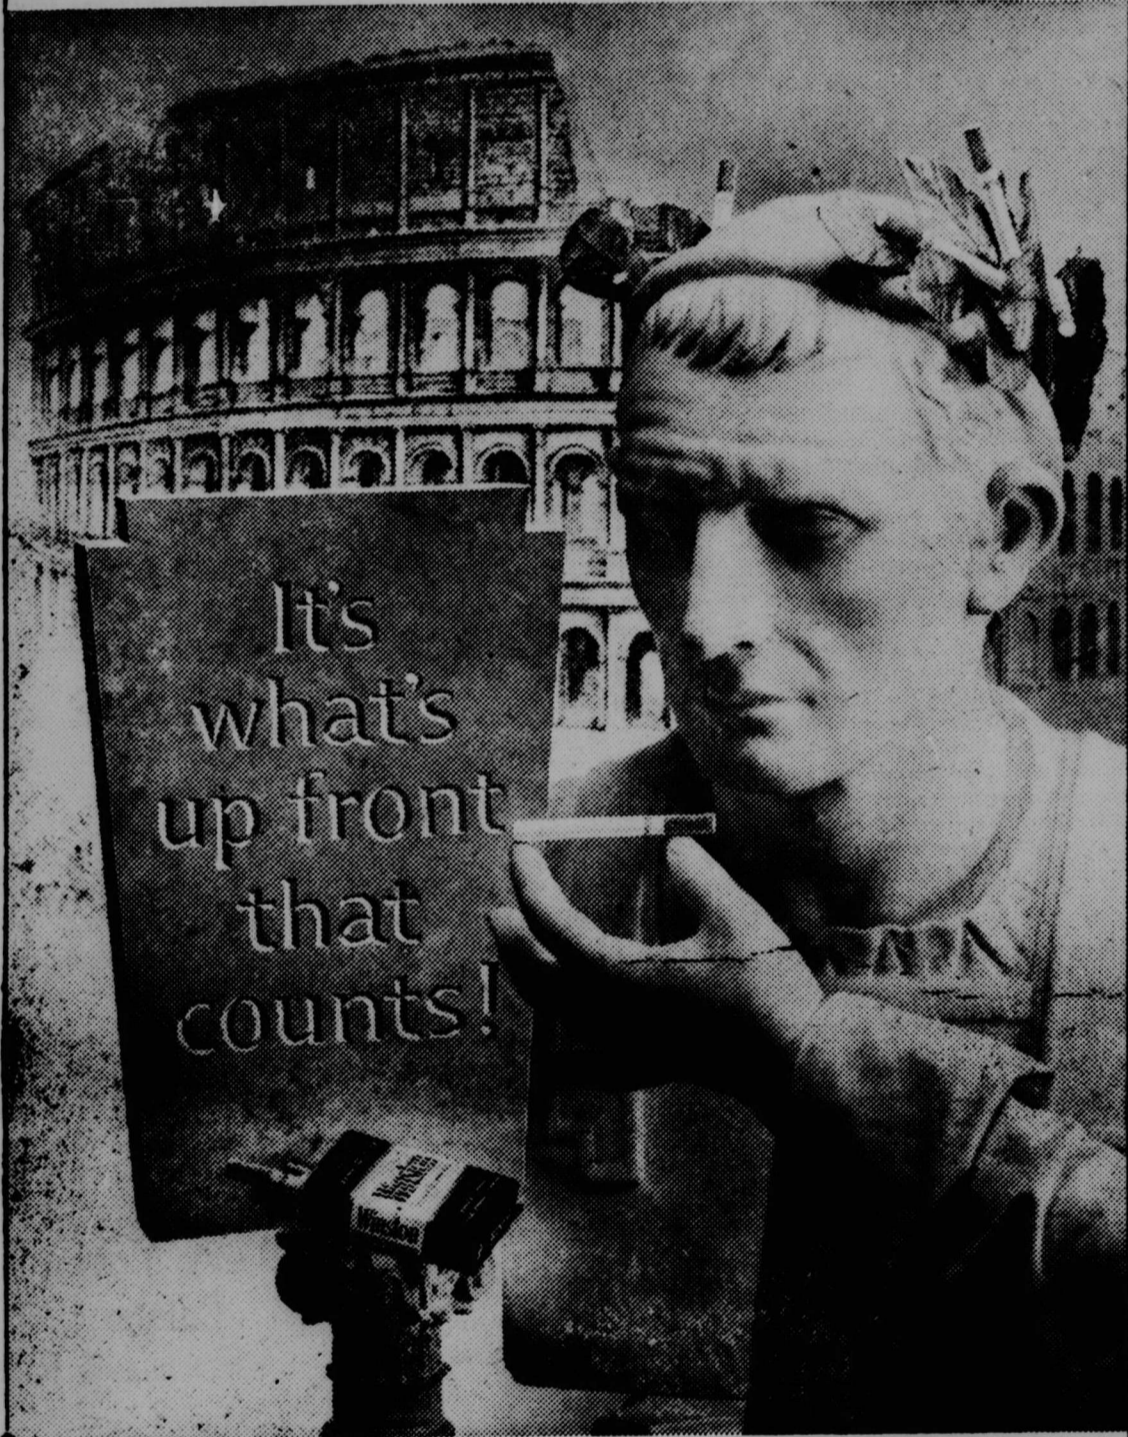

Freshmen To Be Eligible For FWC Varsities

The Far Western Conference deferred a ruling that would have made all incoming freshmen ineligible for varsity competition at its annual fall meeting in San Francisco recently.

The six schools and their representatives voted against putting the rule into immediate effect. Four schools voted for the move and two against.

Thus, HSC athletes entering college either this spring or next fall will be eligible to compete in varsity sports.

All filter cigarettes are divided into two parts, and...

"Weni, widi, Winston!" Thus did Caesar (a notoriously poor speller) hail the discovery of Filter-Blend—light, mild tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking.

He knew that a pure white filter alone is not enough. To be a complete filter cigarette, it must have Filter-Blend up front. And only Winston's got it!

That's why Caesar would never accept another brand even when it was offered gratis. In fact, history tells us he'd glower at the extended pack and sneer, "Et tu, Brute?"

In a stirring peroration to his legions, Caesar put it this way: "For the Numeral I filter cigarette—for the best-tasting filter cigarette—for the noblest filter cigarette of all—smoke Winston!"

"Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"

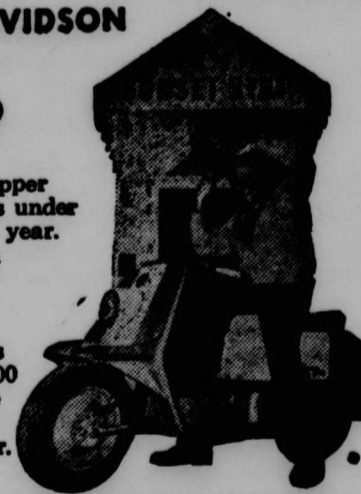

P.S. to bachelors. If you're lucky enough to find a gal who'll keep you in Winstons, Caesar!
