OF HUMBOLDT STATE COLLEGE

VOL XXXII

ARCATA, CALIF., FRIDAY, FEB. 20, 1959

No. 19

The Humboldt State College Choir, under the direction of Dr. Leon Wagner, is rehearsing for its biennial Concert tour. The choir and Madrigal Singers will present concerts in Humboldt, Mendocino and Sonoma counties, and in the Bay area.

Biennial Spring Concert Tour Planned By Choir, Madrigals

The Humboldt State College choir will leave for its biennial spring Concert tour Monday. The choir will present 12 concerts between Arcata and San Francisco, and will return on Feb. 28. The purpose of the choir trip is to bring to as many communities as possible a representative program of the best in choral music, from the sixteenth through the twentieth centuries.

This year's program will feature sacred pieces by Bach and the contemporary composers, Lekberg and Fletcher, music of the late romantic period, folk songs and modern secular works. In addition, the Madrigal singers will present a group of sixteenth century selections. As in the past, the choir will make a special point of visiting several areas which, because of their location, are seldom found on the tour schedules of traveling concert groups, according to Dr. Leon Wagner, choir master.

Monday the members will leave Arcata and travel to Garberville, where they will give the first concert of the tour. Tuesday they will present concerts at Leggett Valley High School, Laytonville High School and Willits High School. Wednesday the choir will sing at Mendocino High School, Point Arena High School, Ukiah High School and Ukiah Baptist Church.

Thursday the choir will go to Hopland High School, Healdsburg High School and Santa Rosa First Congregational Church. Friday a concert will be presented at California College of Arts and Crafts, and will be followed by a tour of the campus.

Choir personnel includes Dorothy Elliott, Sandra Ervin, Rella Hammond, Bonnie Montgomery, Rose Ann Pialorsi, Karen Sundquist, Pat Van Deventer, Carolyn Woods, Ernest Deo, Larry Hansen, William Shreeve, Jeff Simas, Floyd Smith, Larry Westlake, Larry Westmoreland, Jonette Gillespie, Helen Hayes, Patricia Miller, Denise Moore, Judith Nilsen, Pat Sanderson, Carolyn Shank, Barbara Souigny, Joyce Taylor, Linda Woodruff, Carolyn York, Donald Atterbury, Larry Clevenger, Robert Elkins, Peter Loquet, David Olson, Gary Simpson, Gary Still and Fred Scheffler.

Also choir members, the Madrigal singlers include Joan Iverson, Gwendolyn James, Wanda McCray, Carol Reddick, Jane Senter, Jerry Flora, Joe McAllister, June Strauss, Janis Williams, Frank Alden, and Phil Eisel.

What! Again?

The HSC Victory Axe is gone again! Since sometime last week the area over the fireplace in the Coop where the axe has hung since December has been empty.

Made of redwood and aluminum, the axe has been the victory trophy of the Humboldt State-Chico State football game for the past 13 years. It was first introduced when the HSC Intercollegiate Knights had it designed in 1946 to help rouse school spirit. The score is now even with six wins on both sides of the rivalry, and one tie, HSC having won it back from Chico in the Homecoming game last fall.

The only clue to the whereabouts of the axe is an anonymous note received by the Lumberjack this week and signed by "Bigfoot." The note states, "The axe is hidden on the campus. No one seems to care if it is gone or not. If not found by Easter the location will be made public."

Theft of the axe by pranksters at both Chico and Humboldt has been commonplace in recent years.

Kenton Jazz Concert Scheduled Wednesday Night In Men's Gym

Stan Kenton will make his first local appearance with his new 20-piece orchestra Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Men's Gym. The concert is being jointly sponsored by the Associated Students and the HSC Jazz Club. Admission to the concert is $1.75 for student body card holders, and $2.50 for adults.

Coed From Humboldt Breaks Sex Barrier

By David Maxon

An interesting article on the twentieth century phase of the battle for women's rights appeared in the Chronicle last month.

Dianne Seater, a coed here last year who majored in Wildlife Management, has enrolled at the University of Alaska. This in itself is not unusual, but Dianne's choice of a major field remained that of Wildlife Management! The controversy began when Dianne left for Alaska. A letter arrived the following day at Dianne's home in Oroville suggesting an alternate field of study in the Biology department with field trips conducted in the library!

Dr. Dean, head of the Wildlife department at the University, pointed out that field trips are quite rugged with no accommodations for women. This certainly wouldn't bother Dianne, who is quite "at home" in the outdoors and was an active member of Conservation Unlimited here on campus. Dianne's mother immediately sent letters of protest to the president of the Board of Regents of the University and to Alaska's new governor. Subsequent developments indicate that the University has allowed one of the final barriers to the fair sex to be broken and Dianne is happily pursuing her studies in Wildlife Management.

Clare Booth Luce for president, anyone?

Managers Named To Spring Hilltopper

Jon Mitts has been named business manager and Tom McMurray assistant business manager of the spring issue of Hilltopper.

They will solicit advertising and take charge of other business operations of the general interest magazine, which is being planned for publication in mid or late April.

Mitts is a graduate student in social science, having taken his B. A. degree last June. He has been active as a representative-at-large on the Student Executive Council, in band, and as chairman of the 1957 Homecoming. McMurray is a junior economics major. Both are from Eureka.

Tony Vasquez, Hilltopper editor, also announced the appointment of Sally Wilkinson as art editor.

Tickets for the jazz concert may be purchased from any member of the Jazz Club, Physics Club, or from any of the following business establishments: Jerry's Record Corral, Ned's Mens' Wear, Art Fudem's Record Store, The Fortuna Music Mart, The Keg, or HSC's Bookstore. Tickets will also be on sale the night of the concert in the gym, as well as in the Coop next week.

Kenton's band is generally believed by some to be the most outstanding musical group in the country. Sometimes called "Modern America's Man of Music," Kenton is one of the most colorful and controversial figures in the world of music.

Kenton, whose mother was also a piano player and a great influence on his musical career, also has played the saxophone, trumpet, and even the banjo. It was back in the 1930's that Kenton formed his own band and started writing arrangements on the piano.

Because of the acclaim accorded his dance band during past engagements at theatres, clubs, ballrooms, concerts, he formed the current tour.

This concert is the second of the year and the sixth Jazz Show brought to HSC. Among the other artists who have appeared on campus are Pete Jolly and Sonny Criss, Cal Tjader and Virgil Gonsalves.

Committee Studies Activities Bill

The Student Activities Committee held its first meeting of the semester Tuesday in the Green and Gold Room to discuss organizing student activities for the spring.

Among the activities to be in operation shortly by the committee are ping pong, bowling, dancing, billiards, rifle team, and table games. The committee recently decided to have chess, pinochle cards and checkers available to students who are interested in games. Anyone interested may check out games from the Deans of Students Office.

Members of the Student Activities Committee are Art Dalaines, chairman; Glendyne Baldwin, Ernest Spitz, Gary Timmons, Kathy Cornwell, Marilee Ammer, Ken Ewing, and Neil Evans.

Any student interested in working on any of the committees are asked to contact Miss Kate Buchanan, adviser to the group, or Art Dalaines.

'New College'

How would you—college student, alumnus, non-college person, or educator—plan your ideal college if you were given a clean slate to draw your design upon?

A committee of educators, appointed by three famous "Ivy League" colleges (Smith, Amherst, Mount Holyoke) and a state university (Massachusetts,) has been working on such an assignment, and now its design is made public.

It embodies a number of features many educators long have dreamed of in the interests of intellectual single-mindedness (omission of such "diversions" as social fraternities and intercollegiate sports), which current students, the alumni, and the public may not unanimously approve. Other features may be more generally appreciated: the "new college" focusing on its library, architecturally and academically, and its apparent operating economy.

But it will take the experienced college educator to appreciate fully the excellence of the plan and also the very considerable educational hurdles it erects. For the most difficult achievement for teacher and student alike is the synthesis of learning. That is, for the one the presentation of any sector of knowledge in its context of related and—ultimately—of all knowledge; for the other, of perceiving these relationships and thus acquiring perspective.

This can be done—is being done—with much oversimplification for children. They do not compartment their world. Preparatory and college teachers are obliged to make their students drive deeper shafts into knowledge which cannot be both thorough and wide and at the same time to keep them oriented. The better the teacher, the more he realizes how partial his success.

This new college would launch even freshmen on their own, sinking their shafts and drawing their maps as they go, aided by conference with their fellow amateurs and with teachers and by a minimum of broad presentations in lectures.

A challenging, stimulating outlook—but one for the already well prepared, intellectually curious youngster. We hope it can be tried.

Editor's Mailbox

February 17, 1959

Miss Diane Anderson
Editor, The Lumberjack
Humboldt State College
Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Executive Council, I wish to clarify a few points raised in a column in last week's Lumberjack. Reference was made to a "gross violation of the constitution" by the Council in setting up ticket regulations for the Gonzaga basketball game. Under Article I, Section 14, of the Constitution of the Associated Students, the Executive Council is given the power to establish the provisions under which card holders would be admitted to ASB-sponsored events. The provisions established for the Gonzaga game were as follows: members of the Associated Students would be admitted free by securing a ticket before the game and faculty members with associated membership cards would also be admitted free by securing a ticket. If one reads Article I, Section 14, it is clear that the constitutionality of the Council's action is above reproach.

It should also be pointed out that these provisions concerning the Gonzaga game were arrived at by the student Executive Council after much discussion and debate. We wish to assure the students that we are making every effort to provide as many activities as possible at the lowest cost.

Any student who is really interested in seeing how the student government operates is welcome to attend the Council meetings every Thursday afternoon at 4, in the basement of the Coop. We welcome constructive criticism. We also welcome help in putting on student activities.

Sincerely,

(Signed)

Don Peterson
ASB President

Dear Editor:

Was dismayed to learn of the impending change of the band uniforms. Why must everyone do his utmost to conform? The crucifixion of an independent intellect, such as the recent case with Admiral Rickover, makes one boil. With such event, the intellectual freedom and independence of the American mind is being washed down the drain. In the case in point, the Lumberjack motif, being unique and eminently typical of this area probably did more to publicize our campus than most

Inquiring Reporter

This week's question: "WHAT DO YOU THINK OF STAN KENTON COMING TO HUMBOLDT STATE?"

Kenny Whitmire, frosh, Business: "Think it's terrific for Humboldt."

Janet French, Jr. Elem. Ed.: "Think it's fabulous, swell opportunity for HSC."

Jon Mitts, graduate, Soc. Sci.: "Somebody has started to use his head instead of just using it for a hatrack! Good job, and well done, committee."

Arlene Goble, soph., Art: "Well, I think it's a very good idea."

Herman Schwede, soph. Bus. Admin.: "I'm not particularly moved by Kenton's arrangements, but I'm going because he's a great musician."

Helen Hayes, soph, Elem. Ed.: "Think it's nice that we can get someone like that up here."

Joe Chappelle, Sr., Music: "The best thing student council has done in the four years I've been here."

Les Lee Launer, frosh, French: "Good for those who like that type of music, but I don't particularly."

Don Peterson, Sr., Poli. Sci.: "Really great! Everybody should go for Kenton."

Launi Mason, soph., Nursing: "I think we're lucky!"

John Rawlinson, frosh, Speech: "I'm sorry that the budget wouldn't allow the school to pay other campus activities. Having proudly worn the "tin hat" and Mackinaw as a band member, I feel it my duty to protest this change over to the faceless ignominy of conformity.

The governor of California once remarked on the uniqueness of the HSC band uniforms, but I expect no new monetary appropriations, since he won't recognize the Humboldt State Band any more!

I hope someone steps forth to write an "Ode to the Logger Band" with accompanying indictment of misguided conformity.

Signed,

David Yale Maxon.

Dr. Cooper Reports On AGU At Stanford

Dr. Charles Cooper, assistant professor of game and range management, reported on the meeting of the American Geophysical Union held last week at Stanford University. Dr. Cooper said that scientific papers on hydrology, oceanography, meteorology, and related fields were presented by members. Several of the most interesting to the layman were concerned with the future of the various earth satellites.

The organization brings together scientists from widely varied fields and provides a common ground where they can meet and exchange information. This is also the organization that sponsored the American end of the International Geophysical Year, just finished.

Whoops! Our Face Is Bright Red

The winner of the Men's Best Costume prize at the Mardi Gras last week was not announced in the Lumberjack due to the fact the winner was so well disguised that not even the officials knew his identity. It was discovered later that the man was none other than the Lumberjack's own David Maxon of Fin and Fur column fame. Maxon's prize was a matching tie and handkerchief set.

for both he and Miss Dorothy Crawford."

Shirley Tolley, frosh, P. E.: "Fantabulous!"

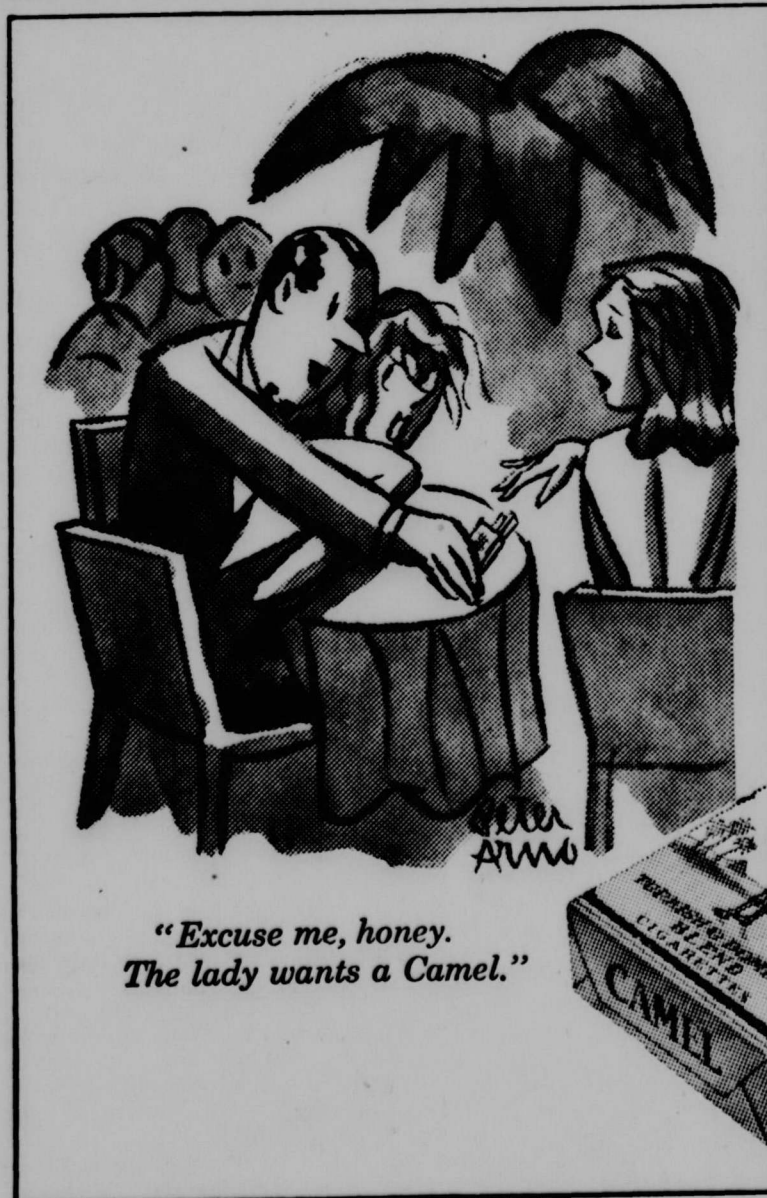

Stan Brandenburg, freshman, Speech-Drama: "I think it's a good thing, I only hope Mr. Farley can make it."

Sandy Brause, frosh, Elem. Ed.: "Personally I think it's a terrific idea! Those who don't like jazz will still probably go see him because he's so well-known."

Georgia Baldry, soph., Educ.: "It's wonderful to have outside entertainment of that calibre."

Harriet Newman, Jr., Educ.: "The student council and Jazz Club are to be complimented on their choice of entertainment."

Rella Hammond, Jr., Art: "I like it; I hope it'll be a prelude to other name bands coming up here."

PAT'S PERUSALS

By PAT BAKER

The Toyon needs writers! The Toyon, published each Spring with the creative writings of HSC students, needs your cooperation . . . whether you write professionally or just for fun. Any creative writing, such as short stories, essays or poetry, that you would like to see "in print" should be in box 1342 by March 3. Why not find some of those English 1A themes, heretofore hidden in dresser drawers, polish them up and submit them . . . never can tell, maybe you have more talent than you think!

I see the band has decided to change their uniforms . . . too bad. I think their old uniforms were distinctive . . . and showed originality. O.K., so you don't agree with me . . . I still liked the old uniforms.

Help with the 1959 Frosh Camp is needed. Are you interested in giving it the "old college try"? An application blank can be obtained from the Dean of Students office.

An important date for all education students is March 3. That is the deadline for filing applications for Teacher Education Curriculum.

That is also the deadline for filing Student Teaching applications for Fall, 1959. A trip to the Education office, Room 209 in the Administration Building, is in order for you Education students.

Are you waiting for Feb. 27 and 28 . . . and "Waiting For Godot?" With all the advance publicity for this dramatic production stimulating interest among HSC students, there will be "full house" both nights . . . so, get your tickets early. A lot of work and effort has gone into this play in order to live up to the publicity, so it promises to be an entertaining evening.

San Jose State College is blaming the low registration figures of the Spring semester upon the rain. The headline reads, "New Student Registration Figures Drop Due to Rain." Further on in the article it states, ". . . made it plain that the IBM was not the judge in disqualifications."

Lumberjack Is CNPA Member

The Lumberjack is now a member of the California Newspaper Publishers Association. Humboldt State's application for membership in the professional organization of California newspapers was approved at the annual CNPA convention in San Francisco last week.

The Lumberjack joins some two dozen other college members of CNPA. Student memberships are more available by CNPA to encourage close cooperation between student and professional journalists. Don O'Kane, president and general manager of the Eureka News, Inc., and chairman of the HSC advisory board, is northern chairman of the CNPA committee for colleges.

Dr. Milton Hollstein, publications adviser, said HSC will participate actively in CNPA's college program, which includes a special college program at CNPA's annual meeting.

The Lumberjack also is an active member of the California Intercollegiate Press Association and will send a delegation to the CIPA convention in Redlands next month.

Circle K Honors Robert Matthews

ROBERT W. MATTHEWS

Robert W. Matthews, a member of the Humboldt State College advisory board for the past thirty years and a strong supporter of many student activities, was presented with a special Circle K award last Saturday.

Mr. Matthews' name was the fifth added to the "Man of Year" which is presented annually by the group. He was presented with a plaque at the ceremonies and gave a talk on the opportunities of Humboldt.

Professor Milton Dobkin was the special speaker for the evening. The Circle K changed the old officers for the new and outgoing president Marvin Turner presented Neal Evans with the gavel.

Six Selected As Representatives In Glamour Contest

Glamour magazine's 1959 "Ten Best Dressed College Girls in America" contest is underway. HSC has been invited to assist the magazine by selecting the best dressed girl on the HSC campus. Those nominated in a recent AWS meeting include Judy Henzel, freshman; Glendyne Baldwin, sophomore; Carol Johnson, sophomore; Wendy Wahlund, freshman; Denise Moore, junior; and Karin Dahl, sophomore. One finalist will be chosen by the AWS Cabinet, and three pictures of the candidate chosen to represent HSC taken in an on-campus outfit, a day-time off-campus outfit, and a date dress, will be submitted with the official entry form to Glamour. Early in March a panel of Glamour editors will choose the "Ten Best Dressed College Girls in America" from entries submitted by hundreds of colleges in the United States and Canada.

Juvenile Art Work On Display Now Around Campus

A collection of art illustrations for children's books is being shown in the audio-visual room of the Library, Art Building, and CES, through the end of February.

The illustrations are shown in memory of Gladys English, a great children's librarian who died in Pasadena in 1956. She was born in Oakland in 1886 and graduated from the Western Reserve Library in 1917. She worked in many different libraries and organized the Headquarters Library in Chicago, Illinois. From 1930-1950 Miss English was the supervisor of the Los Angeles Public Library. She was lecturer of the Immaculate Heart High School in Los Angeles until her death.

The friends of Miss English gave their time and efforts to preserve the best of children's illustrations and to honor the artists devoting their talents in children's books. A few of the many paintings are: "Merry Miller", "Mr. Plum and Little Green Tree", "Patrick and the Golden Slippers", "Hans Anderson and Grimm's Fairy Tales", "Look-Inside Easter Egg".

VA Now Requires Absence Account

Korea veterans taking GI Bill courses which do not lead to a standard college degree or an advanced professional goal now must begin reporting their classroom absences each month to the Veterans Administration.

The new requirement stems from a law which went into effect the first of the year, V. A. said.

Under the same law, all veterans taking GI courses which do lead to a college degree or some professional goal such as nursing or medical internship will not be required to list their monthly absences from class.

V. A. reminded the 50,000 veterans affected by this new changeover in absence reporting that they should carefully check the V. A. Certifications of Training they fill out early in February (covering GI training for the month of January), to be sure they're following the right reporting procedure.

V. A. uses two forms for monthly certifications of training. One provides for reporting days of absence; the other does not. Use of the wrong form can only result in late educational allowance checks, for V. A. must have a correct certificate before it can send a trainee his monthly allowance.

Before the new law went into effect, most veterans taking high school training and college courses—whether leading to a college degree or not—were exempt from listing monthly absences.

On the other hand, veterans taking trade or business courses had to report absences.

Veterans in GI courses where absences now have to be reported, will be allowed up to 30 days of absence in a 12-month period—without any reduction in the amount of training allowance paid.

Veterans who no longer have to report absences must continue to attend class regularly. Days of non-attendance will be governed by the absence policy of the school in which they are enrolled.

Scheppler Memorial Week Established; To Be March 2-4

By ART DALIANES

Plans for establishing a George C. Scheppler Memorial Week are now under way, according to Jon Mitts, chairman of the program. Mitts stated that March 2-4 has been set as the dates for the Memorial Week. A proclamation by President Cornelius Siemens and ASB President Donald Peterson will announce the observance.

Dr. Scheppler was Humboldt State College's physician for seven years. Late last spring Dr. Scheppler was killed in a head-on collision on his way home to Blue Lake. The memorial is to honor the late doctor for his devotion to the students of HSC.

Dr. Scheppler, or "Schepp" as many of his friends called him, took an active part in contributing college counseling to many student on campus. He lectured to many health, hygiene, nursing and marriage classes. He was also team physician for all intercollegiate athletic teams.

Just prior to his death, he was assisting in the designing of the present health facilities and did much to help in the planning for the new Health Service Building.

A committee has been sanctioned by the Executive Council to work on the memorial, comprised by representatives of the Health Department, Art Department and Physical Education Department and the student body at large.

During the Memorial Week the Student Health Service and the importance of the voluntary student health insurance program will be highlighted. In addition, funds will be raised to add to already existing monies to enable a memorial to become a reality.

Enrollment Down So Far This Semester

As of Feb. 12, enrollment for the present semester at HSC had reached 1,714 persons. These figures were released by Mary Ann Smith, registrar. However, this number is below the 1,923 persons who were registered for the previous semester.

The registration process went rapidly this semester. The registration operation of validating residence cards, obtaining course cards, and paying fees was completed in the Men's Gym. This reduced the time spent standing in line by students. Mrs. Smith, the Registrar's office staff, and division secretaries combined to form the working force of the registration procedure.

The final date for program changes has been set at Feb. 27.

Door Prize Awarded

Mrs. Mary Ann Donley of Arcata won the lovely "Spring Fancy" outfit at the AWS Fashion Show on Thursday, Feb. 12 at the CES Auditorium. A $65 outfit was donated by Daly's Department Store of Eureka to the lucky winner whose ticket number was drawn during intermission, by Miss Helen Cunnison, advertising manager of the store. The door prize included an R&K dress, lingerie, shoes, purse and hat.

Cage Tournament Underway By WAA

Basketball highlighted last Monday evening's meeting of the Women's Athletic Association with individual games being played to get the teams organized.

A round-robin tournament was instituted and will continue through March 16. All women interested in joining a team are invited to attend WAA meetings on Monday evenings at 7 p. m. in the Men's Gym.

By DAVID MAXON

The sun had waked me early, and as I stepped out, I noticed that the buds on the upper branches of the old willow had burst into bloom. A tiny flycatcher was exploring them and now and again would make a quick foray into the air to snare an unwary beetle or chase a small wasp. I decided to copy his obvious enjoyment of life and inspect the flowers on campus. The Azaleas and Rhododendrons have now been blooming up on "the hill" for several weeks. When the rains were heaviest, and the thermometer lowest, these earliest bloomers were braving the weather. I remember when they were first planted and in continual danger of being washed downhill!

While the school grind goes frenetically ever onward, they terested in team sports, instructed by Dr. Louise Watson on Monday evenings. The class carries one-half unit of credit.

Activities after the cage tournament include swimming and softball.

show their heads and I heard one mutter to his neighboring corolla, through sarcastic petals, "Look at those silly humans — all chasing 'round trying to impress people with how much their can cram into their cerebra." I had to agree with this deprecatory comment which came from a fine Rhododendron, whose ancestors had been imported from the rain forests of Tibet. His inbred, man-made dwarf neighbor, the diminutive Azalea, glowered out toward the forest and said nothing. I could sense his yearning for the freedom of his cousin, the Western Azalea, which brightens up the somber Redwoods.

There are more plants blooming now, but my Tyrolean felt is doffed to these two cousins of the Heather family who grace our miserable climate, where not even humans in their right minds should live. Tune yourself with nature and observe the perfection she is always creating in juxtaposition with man's squalor.

Thirty-one HSC students passed the State Fish and Game test last month for the position of Fish and Game Assistant. They were placed on the eligible list and will be hired as openings occur. This is a large number to qualify from any one institution and reflects the teaching quality on campus.

Other fabulous jobs are waiting to be grabbed. The bulletin board in the Wildlife Building is full of job announcements. They range from Fishery Aids in Yellowstone, National Park Service rangers and student-trainee positions in the Department of the Interior throughout the western states to the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in Alaska.

These jobs are really grand adventures and most, although often arduous, will provide valuable experience and memories for years. Check the examination dates, since right now is the time to be filing for the spring exams. Many positions do not require an examination, but don't get caught short in May without a necessary ranking on the eligibility list.

Mr. Ernest Cleinschmidt of Redding, has been appointed as a member of the Fish and Game Commission. It will be interesting to see how this political football will be handled. A proposal to disarm the game wardens was advocated under the old regime and one's stand on this and other hot potatoes such as either sex deer hunts can make or break you politically. 'Bout time that politics and the Fish and Game Department headed for the divorce court — if you ask me!

All outdoorsmen take note of the Hiking and Outing Club which was formed officially last week. The weekend saw members hiking the James Irvine Trail at Prairie Creek State Park. Membership is about twenty with a third of these being co-eds. A preliminary membership meeting was held last week featuring slides of our Sierra and the Wallowa Mountains of Oregon. Rich Winters is chairman-pro-tem with Tom Harper handling the secretarial duties. A committee is working on a schedule of outings and Charles Bloom, faculty co-sponsor, mentioned an assault on Ironsides Mountain in the Trinity Alps this spring. Schedule sounds good and the whole organization ought to have lots of fun, and plenty of exercise.

Estragan, otherwise known as Bill Livingston, carefully inspects what once was a shoe in a scene from the forthcoming play, "Waiting for Godot" which will be presented here next week.

Varied Background Experiences Found In Cast Of "Godot"

By ROGER WERTS

"Waiting For Godot," the next production to be presented by the HSC players, has an unusually small cast. There are only five cast members in this two-act play to be presented Friday and Saturday, February 27 and 28, in the main auditorium.

Vladimir, or "Didi", who is waiting for Godot, is played by Paul Conner. His previous experience on the Humboldt boards was a part in Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors." Connors is a freshman psychology major with a speech minor—it may be interesting to note that he has a son a year ahead of him in college. He is now living at 820 Fickle Hill Road but his home town is Crescent City where he attended Del Norte High back when—

Also waiting for Godot is Estragan or "Gogo," played by William Livingston. Livingston is not new to the Humboldt stage, having been cast in five plays in the past two years, the latest of which was a major role in "Comedy of Errors." He also had parts in two plays at Eureka High School, from which he graduated. He is a sophomore speech-drama major and English minor so should know what he is talking about when saying, "this play has a language that is easy to work with from the actor's standpoint." He resides with his parents at 2204 S Street, Eureka.

A Boy in "Waiting for Godot" is played by John Corbett, 11-year-old son of Mrs. Kathryn Corbett, assistant professor of Sociology at HSC. He resides with his mother at 1307 Gates Street, Eureka, and is a pupil at Marshall School. John is an Assistant Patrol Leader in the Eagle Patrol of Boy Scouts of America, Troop 11, Eureka. John is also a budding young artist and fills in his spare time at rehearsals watching and sketching the other actors. Though this is his first acting attempt he is doing very well, the other cast members say he shows exceptional ability and is easy to work with. His comment—"Yes sir, no sir, yes sir, I don't know, sir."

Lucky, the slave, is played by John Brandenburg. His older brother, Stan Brandenburg, is cast as the master, Pozzo. Sounds like logical casting. The brothers reside with their mother on Kneeland Road and are originally from Turlock where they attended Turlock High School. John is a freshman speech-drama major at HSC and has previous acting experience in a number of high school plays.

Stan, also a freshman speech-drama major, was cast in a major role in "Comedy of Errors" last semester. Stan was a trainer of killer dogs while in the army and he also has an older brother's experience for the role of "master," so his performance should be competent.

Activities Planned By HSC Ski Club

More active participation will be sought by Humboldt's ski club for the second semester. Lack of snow has hampered club activities but recent weather has brought forth plans for a trip to the Berry Summit lodge. A trip in early March to Mount Sasta has also been planned.

Ski club officers are Al Johnson, president, and Joan Rasmussen, secretary. Advisers are Mr. Alwyn Sessions and Dr. Andrew Karoly.

Mrs. Andrea Molnar, a charming young lady from Hungary, very easily takes the balance stand on the balance beam in an exhibition in the Women's Gym. This is one of the many gymnastic events she did to win a gold medal in the 1956 Olympics. Mrs. Molnar gave several exhibitions here Monday and Tuesday.

Humboldt State Students Enjoy Gymnastic Exhibitions On Campus

By SANDY ZUNINO

HSC was fortunate to have Olympic Champion Mrs. Andrea Molnar on campus last Monday and Tuesday for a series of gymnastic exhibitions.

Mrs. Molnar, a charming, gracious young lady originally from Hungary, is now living in Sausalito. She is married to a young Hungarian and they are the parents of a 15-month-old daughter.

In Sausalito Mrs. Molnar teaches a class of 50 students all about gymnastics. She has been teaching for two years in this country and she taught two years in Hungary before her trip to the United States.

In the 1956 Olympics she won a gold medal in gymnastics. After winning the gold medal Mrs. Molnar traveled to the United States with a Hungarian group who also participated in the Olympics. They returned to their country but Mrs. Molnar stayed and made her home in Sausalito.

During her two-day visit to HSC she worked with the different gym classes. The men and women both tried different tumbling techniques, work on the bars, free exercise, and also tried the balance beam work under Mrs. Molnar's supervision. Groups from CES and Arcata Union High School also participated. She is proficient in all these plus the parallel bars—even and uneven, ropes, horse, and the buck and balance beam.

Not only did the different groups and teachers benefit from her presence, but she was greatly enjoyed by all who came in contact with her and who worked under her supervision.

Other women have signed up for the team and will be present at the next practice session.

Humboldt Cagers Take Wolfpack 46-40, 59-41

By DENNIS GIUNTINI

Humboldt State's Lumberjacks evened out their conference record at four wins and four losses with two wins at the expense of the Nevada Wolfpack last Friday and Saturday.

Hornets Increase Conference Lead

Sacramento State took an easy 61-44 Far Western Conference win last Tuesday night over the San Francisco State Gators to increase their first place lead.

The win put Sacramento a full game and a half in front of second University of Nevada. Meanwhile at Chico the young Wildcats trimmed Cal Aggies 67-54 to put the loop in a three-way tie for third place. Besides Chico, Humboldt State and San Francisco are in the middle spot with identical 4-4 won-loss records.

On Friday night the Lumberjacks had to come from behind to take a 46-40 decision. Nevada started fast and took an 11-3 lead in the opening minutes as the Jacks had trouble hitting the hoop. In fact, Humboldt did not hit a field goal until Eddie Thomas connected with 9:47 left in the first half. From there they found the range and tied the game at 20-20 with two minutes left. Nevada then scored and the halftime score was 24-22 in their favor.

In the second half Nevada widened their lead to seven points, but the Jacks came back and took the lead 40-39 with six minutes left in the game. With three minutes left Nevada tied it at 40-40, but that was the last point they scored as Joe Miller, George Millionis and Jerry Hathaway each hit a field goal to cinch the game.

Joe Johnson led the Lumberjacks with 14 points, 10 of them from the free throw line. Bob Lyon topped Nevada with 10.

Humboldt hit on 15 for 63 for 24 per cent while Nevada managed 16 for 42 for 40 per cent.

Saturday night the Jacks combined an air-tight defense and a deadly fast break for a decisive 59-41 victory. Humboldt started fast, grabbed a 14-5 lead, and held it for the rest of the game. The halftime score was 29-20 in favor of the Jacks. They built up the lead to 44-28 with 10 minutes to play and Coach Franny Givins began to clear his bench.

Joe Miller led Humboldt with 12, while Eddie Thomas and Joe Johnson chipped in with 11 and 10 respectively. Guard Val York led Nevada with 16 points.

Humboldt connected on 25 of 65 or 39 per cent, while Nevada had a frigid 11 for 60 or 18 per cent from the floor.

Rain, Rain Go Away Track and Baseball Needs Practice Time

Humboldt State's four spring intercollegiate athletics have taken a back seat this past week to the weather.

Coach Ced Kinzer and his Lumberjack baseballers are looking forward to their opening game in just two weeks with Shasta College of Redding. The Humboldt horsehiders have been working out in part for the past three weeks and began as a team last Monday. Their practice schedule has been seriously curtailed by the constant downfall and the new diamond has become very muddy to add to the baseball nine's grief.

Over in Redwood Bowl Coach Bob Doornink has started his track and field men to initial drills but also with little success due to the rain. Earlier the thinclad mentor said his team should be the best in the Hilltop annals. Although the first meet is scheduled for March 21 the Lumberjack tracksters hope to attain some good perfection before that date.

Other sports, golf under the direction of coach Phil Sarboe, and tennis coached by Dr. Larry Kerker, have also felt the blows to their respective programs that have been dealt by the recent storms and rain.

Junior Jacks Win Pair

Humboldt's Junior Jacks had little trouble over the weekend in winning games from Sousa Brother's Towing and Feuerwerker's of Arcata by scores of 64-31 and 54-27.

Friday night the Junior Jacks led 30-11 at halftime and were never headed. Dennis Pontoni and Felix Rogers had 12 and 11 points respectively to lead the winners, as Mel Pritchard netted 10 for Sousa Brothers.

Saturday night's score was 24-15 as both teams played deliberate ball. The Junior Jacks opened up in the second half as every member of the team got in the scoring column. Jack Atwood and Jack Byrd both scored eight for Humboldt as Harold Thorsen led the losers with eight also.

Chico Takes Two; Sacramento Splits

Chico State turned the trick two weeks ago to start leading University of Nevada on its downgrade and last weekend handed Sacramento State its first loss in the Far Western cage action.

On Friday night the Wildcats took the Cal Aggies in bay handing the Mustangs their sixth straight loop loss. Chico had little trouble with a ten point halftime advantage as they posted the 62-47 win.

Sacramento State held a special night at the Hornet Gymnasium last Friday to honor a four-year star, Chuck Mobley. The Sacramento forward showed his gratitude scoring 22 points in leading the Hornets to a 72-59 over San Francisco State.

Mobley scored 25 the following night against Chico but the Cats forced Sacramento into an overtime period and beat the Hornets 76-72 to move up another notch in the FWC standings.

WHAT'S WHAT

by hugh clark

Bad news for the Far Western Conference and its members and corresponding conferences and schools was circulated earlier this week throughout the West Coast when a number of the large Pacific Coast Conference members announced that following their breakup this spring they plan to offer the full ride to potential athletic stars.

It now appears that the smaller, less fortunate schools of which makeup the FWC will be in constant competition to offer only a pay-as-you-go plan against the more illustrious free-ride plan which may pay the athlete to the upwards of $1,000 to $1,200 with an individual receiving straight grants with no labor or work commitments involved whatsoever.

How can the various heads of the athletic departments hope to compete for the athletes is a question we certainly are unable to answer and wonder if athletic directors such as Humboldt State's Phil Sarboe can either.

Evidently it was strife and under-the-table payments that originally set the breakup of the more than 30-year-old PCC, now that it is out in the open the schools who helped break the conference up by failing to support such measures are the first to initiate them.

Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho announced their plan last Wednesday (p. m.) and almost immediately, the athletic directors at UCLA, Wilbur Jones, and at USC, Jess Hill, begin a controversy of whether or not the proposed big four, California, Washington and the former two would enter such a program.

Back to the Brochures, they'll all be rewritten by the larger schools and the smaller ones must grab a new gimmick to stay at their present scale, or fall back another notch to the big time athletics.

It may be that the story will end something like this; a corollation of major league baseball to the downfall of minor league baseball will be like the future falldown of small colleges to the large institutions.

We hope our corollation is off base but the future doesn't look very bright. But what ever will be, will be, and That's That.

Cal Aggies Here Tonight For FWC Two Game Series

Humboldt State basketballers have found a method to their madness and now are fighting hard for the second place in the Far Western Conference and they want Sacramento State to win the conference.

Second Annual HSC Smoker Is Success

By DENNIS GIUNTINI

A pleased crowd of about 300 turned out Wednesday evening to witness Humboldt State's Second Annual Box-Wrestling Show.

Frank Schmidt, 155, started the evening off with a unanimous decision over Tom Radich, 160, in a three-round boxing match.

Carl Struby, 155, and Tony Moreno, 145, battled to a draw in a fast and furious three-round bout.

A fine exhibition of wrestling saw Rich Machado, 155, pin Reginald Mintey, 145. Mintey had built up a 7-5 lead on points, but in the third round Machado rose to the occasion and pinned Mintey with two minutes to go in the match.

In another wrestling match, Dick Donley, 205, pinned Danny Herrera, 195, in the third round. They were tied 3-3 after the first two rounds.

A battle of the big men saw Don Westlake, 245, gain a 5-3 decision over Chuck Atkinson, 265, in a heavyweight wrestling match.

In two other featured wrestling matches, Jim Walker, 175, pinned Robert Hoagland, 165, in the second round; and Armand Baradat, 135, pinned Ronald Kunstal, 135, in the third round to win their mat match.

Probably the best match from the crowd's point of view was the heavyweight boxing match between Vester Flanagan and Bill Nichols. Both started fast and continued the fast pace for the entire three rounds with Flanagan gaining a split decision.

Other boxing matches saw Gary Townsley, 160, outpunch Jerry Ostrum, 160, for a three-round decision. Chuck Nickerson, 185, won a unanimous decision over Bernard Cannon, 185.

In a special attraction, boxer Rich Ames and wrestler Phil Butterfield battled to a three-round draw.

Tonight they will host the Cal Aggies from Davis and tomorrow night the two meet for the second time.

While Humboldt has a chance for a 6-4 conference record Coach Franny Givins has shown considerable regard for the Mustang Quintet. He says they are the most hustlingest team in the loop.

After a somewhat disastrous weekend in the Bay Area with the San Francisco Gators and St. Mary's the Jacks bounced back to sweep highly touted Gonzaga University and then conference championship bound University of Nevada was downed in the two game series.

Tonight the Aggies play the role of the upstarters as the 0-7 won-loss five can only stop other teams at this point of the race.

However, the Mustangs lost four players with the grading axe and appear unable to put together a complete winning effort.

Starters tonight for Humboldt will include Joey Miller and Joe Johnson at forwards, Grant Eschert at centers and Billy Caver and Eddie Thomas at guards. Jerry Hathaway played at the forward post during the past three games and may see considerable action tonight.

The NAIA selection committee of district three announced last Monday that eight teams are under consideration for the spring cage playoffs.

Humboldt and Sacramento State were among those named, should the Hornets win the conference, they would automatically be in the NCAA playoffs, leaving the field open for the 10-9 Lumberjacks.

Catalogs Needed In Registrar's Office

The Registrar's Office has asked that all students who have a copy of the Humboldt State Catalog for 1958-59 to please return them to the office. The office has completely exhausted its supply, needed to send to prospective students.

Dr. Chester Collins, associate dean of admissions and records, stated, "If we do not have copies of the bulletin to send people who are seeking information about the college, it will seem a lack of interest on our part."

Romero Places Second In Art Area Contest

Joe Romero, junior art major and popular campus artist and cartoonist recently finished second in an art contest sponsored by the Columbia Record Company. The contest covered the northern California area. Inspiration for the painting was to be derived from Dave Brubeck's "Jazz Impression of Eurasia." Wayne Thibaud won the district and national contest. Despite the fact that only one entry was to be submitted from each district, there was so much hesitation in making a decision between Thibaud's and Romero's drawings that both drawings were sent to New York for the national contest. Thibaud is an art professor at Sacramento Junior College and head of the art department.

The contest was carried locally by Ken Stodder, local disc jockey. Romero won the local contest.

The contest was supposed to embody the artist's reaction to or impression of Dave Brubeck's "Jazz Impressions of Eurasia." Romero submitted four drawings. "Nomad" was sent back to New York. The other three are on exhibit at Jerry's Record Corral in Eureka.

Romero is also a musician, a drummer. This was the major reason for his interest and participation in the contest. Romero is a strong believer in the similarity and interaction of jazz and modern art.

The three paintings on exhibit in Eureka are entitled Marble Arch, Thank You and Composition. The latter is Romero's overall impression of the album.

POVERTY CAN BE FUN

It is no disgrace to be poor. It is an error, but it is no disgrace.

So if your purse is empty, do not skulk and brood and hide your head in shame. Stand tall. Admit your poverty. Admit it freely and frankly and all kinds of good things will happen to you. Take, for instance, the case of Blossom Sigafos.

Blossom, an impecunious freshman at an Eastern girls' college, was smart as a whip and round as a dumpling, and scarcely a day went by when she didn't get invited to a party weekend at one of the nearby men's schools. But Blossom never accepted. She did not have the rail fare; she did not have the clothes. Weekend after weekend, while her classmates went frolicking, Blossom sat alone, saved from utter despair only by her pack of Marlboros, for even an exchequer as slim as Blossom's can afford the joys of Marlboro—joys far beyond their paltry price: rich, mellow tobaccos, lovingly cured and carefully packed; a new improved filter that works like a charm. Croesus himself could not buy a better cigarette!

However, Marlboro's most passionate admirers—among whose number I am paid to count myself—would not claim that Marlboro can entirely replace love and romance, and Blossom grew steadily moroser.

Then one day came a phone call from an intelligent sophomore named Tom O'Shanter at a nearby men's college. "Blossom," said Tom, "I want you to come down next week for the barley festival, and I won't take no for an answer."

"No," said Blossom.

"Foolish girl," said Tom gently. "I know why you refuse me. It is because you are poor, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Blossom.

"I will send you a railroad ticket," said Tom. "Also a small salami in case you get hungry on the train."

"But I have nothing to wear," said Blossom.

Tom replied, "I will send you one suit of cashmere, two gowns of lace, three slacks of velvet, four shoes of calf, five socks of nylon, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"That is most kind," said Blossom, "but I fear I cannot dance and enjoy myself while back home my poor lame brother Tiny Tim lies abed."

"Send him to Mayo Brothers and put it on my tab," said Tom.

"You are terribly decent," said Blossom, "but I cannot come to your party because all the other girls at the party will be from rich, distinguished families, and my father is but a humble woodcutter."

"I will buy him Yosemite," said Tom.

"You have a great heart," said Blossom. "Hold the phone while I ask our wise and kindly old Dean of Women whether it is proper for me to accept all these gifts."

She went forthwith and asked the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Women laid her wise and kindly old hand on Blossom's cheek and said, "Child, let not false pride rob you of happiness. Accept these gifts from Tom."

"Lord love you, Wise and Kindly," breathed Blossom, dropping grateful tears into the Dean's reticule. "I must run and tell Tom."

"Yes, run, child," said the Dean, a smile wrinkling her wise and kindly old eyes. "And ask him has he got an older brother."
