Enrollment Swells As Registration Proceeds

'Jacks Meet Powerful San Francisco Gators

By HUGH CLARK

Humboldt State's 1959 Football fortunes could very well be riding on the outcome of a single game this fall—that being the opener with San Francisco State's Gators at Cox Stadium in the city of the Golden Gate tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

41 New Faculty Join HSC Staff

Forty-one new faculty members, the largest incoming group in Humboldt State history, joined the college staff this fall.

The new instructors and librarians, plus other non-teaching professional staff members, brought the total academic staff to 177. The college also has 190 non-academic employees.

President C. H. Siemens officially welcomed the new staff members at the first faculty meeting of the year last Monday in the Founders Hall auditorium, where each was introduced by his faculty sponsor.

The new faculty members will be honored at the president's annual reception Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Green and Gold Room.

Newcomers Listed

New faculty members and their teaching areas are (unless otherwise specified, each is appointed at rank of assistant professor):

Robert Bonde, industrial arts; Dr. Thomas Clark, chemistry; Richard Day, English; Robert Dickerson, education; Mrs. Caroline Falkenberg, instructor, business education; Dr. Louis Gasper, sociology; Dr. John Gimbel, history; George Goodrich, radio-TV; Miss Leah Grigsby, instructor, speech; Dr. Stanley Harris, game management.

Also Ford Hess, physical education; Miss Priscilla Hickey, nursing; Dr. James Householder, mathematics; Randolph Hudson, English; C. K. Leonard, education; Dr. Earl Markwell, psychology; Mrs. Gertrude Mervich, instructor, nursing; Dr. Samuel Monson, English; Bob Neal, game management; Dr. William Nichols, education; Thelwall Proctor, Russian; Jasper Sawatsky, business education; R. G. Schipf, physical science; George Sheldon, chemistry; Dr. Edward Sturgeon, associate professor, forestry; Stanton Thalberg, remedial reading; Roy Tucker, mathematics; Sanford Wakeman, instructor, psychology; Roger Weiss, chemistry; Dr. James Welsh, zoology; Dr. Harold Wiedman, botany; Miss Leela Zion, instructor, women's physical education; John DeMartini, instructor, botany.

Join CES Staff

At CES, new teachers are Donald Clark, fifth grade, and Eric Palmer, an exchange teacher from England, seventh grade.

Coach Phil Sarboe and his Lumberjack forces have drilled twice-daily and held numerous intersquad scrimmages as well as an exhibition scrimmage with OTI and an exhibition game with an Alumni team in preparation for the big opener.

For as well as being the first game of the year, it is the first Far Western Conference tilt, and against the two-time defending championship Gator eleven.

The Lumberjacks invade gatorville a two-touchdown underdog. Humboldt is much weaker on paper than last year, while the powerful San Franciscans actually appear to be a stronger team than in 1958.

Thirteen lettermen were lost by graduation including such Humboldt greats as backs Chuck McAninch, Earl Barnum and Russ Ashburn as well as linemen Zeke Van Deventer, Dick Cahill and Gordon Moore.

Out for the 1959 season are three other lettermen who chose to study or care to other obligations rather than play. Two were first string defensive ends last fall. A third was a top-flight tackle.

Three New Buildings Occupied With Three More In Progress

Humboldters found three new buildings completed, one nearing occupancy and two others well underway when they returned to campus this week.

Lots of mud and a king-sized parking problem faced students and staff, too, but the dislocations were tempered by a view of progress at every hand in the college's biggest year of building.

Administrative offices and the Division of Business moved last month into the Administration-Business Education Building, fronting on the main campus drive. Two new dormitories, Sunset Hall for women and Redwood Hall for men, opened to some 400 student residents.

The new Student Health building was going up fast west of Nelson Hall and the cafeteria-bookstore was taking shape on the site of the Eucalyptus grove below the old Administration Building, now officially designated as Founders Hall.

Originally due to be completed in time for fall classwork, the Language Arts building is being rushed to completed, and classes scheduled there will be shifted to temporary quarters until they can be moved into the huge structure in a few weeks.

An open house reception was held in the new Ad building last Tuesday afternoon, and most students had already become well acquainted with the registrar's office and the business office there by registration time.

The new Ad building cost nearly a million dollars. The first floor houses the Division of Business classrooms and faculty offices. The second floor houses administration offices. On the basement floor are the mimeograph office, IBM machines, telephone relays, furnace and storage space.

In the southwest wing the president's office and conference room are paneled with cherry plywood. Offices have been designed so that as the college expands the rooms can serve new functions, with doors installed between most of the offices.

May Hit 2000 This Semester

Mrs. Mary Ann Smith, registrar, has released figures indicating Humboldt's student population growth over last fall's enrollment. During the two-day registration last year, 1,771 students were processed, and during the two-day registration period this semester, an estimated 1,900 students will have been processed at the close of today's session.

Final figures for last semester's enrollment, including those who registered late, totaled 1,924. According to the office of the registrar, this semester's estimated enrollment may pass the 2,000 mark, following computation of late registrants.

An estimated 800 freshman and transfer students turned out for an outdoor assembly in Redwood Bowl Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Smith urges all students to check carefully their registration forms, and to expedite necessary changes in their programs, should changes occur. Last year almost a complete turn-over occurred in course changes, due to the students' not observing the rules. This year, stated Mrs. Smith, it is students' responsibility to know and observe the rules and procedures for course changes.

According to Mrs. Smith, this was the first occasion of a math test for all entering freshmen, to facilitate proper placement in classes according to scored abilities.

Paid Parking Starts Oct. 1

"There is to be no free parking on Humboldt State College Campus this year as a result of action taken by the Legislature when it passed the Budget Act of 1959," according to Dr. Lawrence E. Turner, executive dean, as the school year started Monday. Dr. Turner said beginning on October 1, every car parked on the campus whether belonging to an employee or to a student would be required to display a permit.

Dean Turner was appointed by President C. H. Siemens as chairman of a special committee to formulate parking regulations. Details of the regulations are not yet ready for publication, but they are being prepared with the idea of making maximum use of the parking spaces near the top of the hill, and dividing the spaces as equitably as possible between students and employees.

"No one locally favored paid parking," Dean Turner emphasized. He said, however, that having been passed by the Legislature, local administrators had no option other than to implement the law. The fees set by agencies in Sacramento are $13 per semester for general parking, or $5 per month for a reserved parking space. All parking fees will be payable in advance at the Business Office at a time to be announced. The parking regulations will be enforced by members of the Arcata Police Force.

Joe Romero Begins Work As Editor Of 1960 Sempervirens Yearbook

Joe Romero, junior art major from Eureka, has been named editor of the 1960 Sempervirens, the Humboldt State yearbook. Romero announced that work is already underway on the book, which will continue to reflect the growth of HSC by being the largest ever produced.

He urged students interested in working on the book to contact him or Dr. Milton Hollstein, publications adviser. Many staff positions are still open. Writers, photographers, artists, ad salesmen and typists are needed. Students may enroll for Journalism 27 or 127, section 2, (Journalism lab) which meets Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a. m. for one unit (or for two units with permission) and earn credit for participating on the staff.

Romero has had extensive experience on HSC publications. He was art editor of the 1959 Sempervirens, designed the cover and spot illustrations for the book and worked on publicity. He also designed the cover for the 1959 Toyon. He is well known on campus for his distinctive poster art.

He was a frosh camp counselor this year and has been active in campus organizations, including Delta Sigma Phi fraternity and the Jazz Club. He is graduate of Eureka High School.

Welcome from President Siemens

Welcome one and all to the 1959-60 academic year! Much that is new and different awaits you including over 40 new professors and staff members, four buildings that are being used for the first time, a new health program and one unwanted change—the state-mandate for paid parking! May I ask for your patience during this period of implementation and adjustment. It may take several weeks before the campus will be operating smoothly.

All our efforts are bent toward making this a worthwhile college year for each of you. We ask only that you take advantage of the many opportunities provided for your intellectual and personal growth.

Please accept my personal wishes for a successful year.

Hilltop Hallucinations Say It With Music . . .

By BILL HAYWARD

The tabs are set on my punable typewriter, and here is the first column for the paper of the week—the Lumberjack. First let me do a little free advertising for a very fine fellow, Milt Hollstein. He happens to be a quiet, easygoing associate professor of Journalism who is tearing at his crew-cut. How can he run a paper with a staff of two, he and I?

Please, all you un-qualified, un-energetic people, come to our rescue. Needed:

As many as possible students to fill the vacancies on the Lumberjack staff. Easy to apply, in-service training, 1-2 units of credit. Overtime guaranteed, fun is the password.

Second item on my agenda is a welcoming speech to the new freshmen and transfer students. "Hi."

On with the column. As before, the opening of school was announced by the locking of all the grand pianos in the Music Building. However, you are all welcome to use the mighty Hamiltons thoughtfully provided by the Music Department for your destruction. I remember the day these beautiful instruments were delivered to the new Music Building. All the Music majors plunked the strings as if they belonged on a bass fiddle, and cooed over the lustrous finish on every piano. Since then, the school has hired a carpenter and a piano tuner to keep them together.

The piano booths are now wire-tapped so that each and every professor can hear his precious piano tops used as picnic tables, ballroom floors, and other unmentionable uses.

And then there was Hosanna. Ah, Hosanna.

Last year the professors hung a student in effigy for her ingenious use of a piano top (another first at Humboldt). Now, Hosanna was a red-blooded American girl with ALL the attributes of that fair sex in somewhat an abundance. And being of the weaker, though fairer, sex, she naturally had to primp. And not being one to primp for just anyone, she was primping for an equally, overabundantly endowed boy named Charlie Cleatmarks. Now Charlie was very sensitive and shy, because he was hit from behind during his last football game and the poor fellow beneath him, aghast at all the weight pressing on his puny body, began to kick like a mule. Charlie had his face in the way. Nevertheless, Hosanna loved the 329 lb. weakling and was determined to snag him. Hence, "The Piano Powder Room Affair."

Everything had been laid in its proper place, the room was overflowing. Unfortunately, Hosanna had left the eyelash curler on the piano stool, and when she sat on the tool it promptly rebelled. That is to say, it got distinctly fresh. Hosanna screamed C double octave and lifted 82 ivories off the keyboard. Her foot accidentally pushed through the piano and broke 82 strings, and it took 82 full professors 82 full hours to extract her.

Undaunted, one Music professor offered to assist her home, and Hosanna demurely backed against the wall to coo a reply. The eyelash curler remained. The full pro-

Frosh Camp Draws Record Number During Weekend

Approximately 200 Frosh and transfer students from near and far attended Frosh Camp on campus last Saturday and Sunday. More than 35 Humboldt State College students participated in the informal pre-school orientation program.

Activities at the camp began with registration in the Coop. Following registration, welcoming speeches were given by Art Dalianes, Associated Student Body president, Glendyne Baldwin, associate camp director, and Dr. E. Nedd Girard, dean of guidance. The rest of the day was spent in discussion groups. During the day the campers toured the campus.

Among the topics discussed in the groups were college jargon, student activities, honoraries, and traditions. During the late afternoon the frosh spent their time swimming, playing baseball, volleyball, and dancing. A dinner and dance concluded the first day of activities.

Sunday, the Frosh had breakfast in Nelson Hall at 7:30 a.m. The rest of the morning was spent in a general session, a discussion meeting and free time to go to church. After lunch the group watched the HSC football team scrimmage against Oregon Technical Institute's football team.

Concluding the activities at Frosh Camp was a dinner at Nelson Hall where President C. H. Siemens was the featured speaker.

Advisor for the Frosh Camp staff was Dr. Girard. Fred Johnson, a senior student from Smith River, was student director of the camp.

V. A. Reminds Korean Vets

Three "money" reminders to the half-million veterans planning to train this fall under the Korean GI Bill were issued today by the Veterans Administration.

First, veteran-students were reminded to take along enough money of their own to tide them over their first two months of GI training. It takes that long, under the law, for a veteran's first monthly GI allowance check to reach him.

VA's second reminder has to do with monthly certifications of classroom attendance. These should be signed by the veteran and a representative of his school, and sent to VA promptly after each month of training completed. Late certifications invariably mean late checks, VA said.

The third VA reminder is for veteran-students who want to get part-time jobs after school. There's no limit on the amount of money GI students may earn outside of class. In fact, they need not even report outside earnings to VA.

The only "ceiling" applies to veterans training on-the-job.

fessor flew the full length of the full building, knocking over 82 full lockers.

Within 82 hours the Administration acted upon the weighty matter. Hosanna was hung in effigy above the Coop. Poor Charlie, thinking it was his sweetheart, decided that he would prove his love by saving Hosanna. Charlie slithered up the side of the Coop and dramatically leapt off the roof. As he fell he pictured himself grabbing Hosanna's beautiful legs, and the additional weight breaking the rope around her neck.

As imagination and reality are sometimes different, so is Charlie's fate. Unfortunately, a tricky HSC wind blows the straw Hosanna a fraction to the right and Charlie plummets 82 feet, to surely meet his maker. But have no fear, dear readers, for Hosanna waits below.

CRAAAAAACK!!! The sidewalk splits, 82 typewriters leap in unison in the Lumberjack office, and Charlie is saved.

Which brings me back to the subject of reporters. We NEED reporters in the Lumberjack office to cover all these dramatic stories.

ASB President Welcomes New, Returning Humboldt Staters

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all of you, old and new students to Humboldt State College. Many of us will be completing our work at HSC this year while many of you are just starting. Regardless of what year we are in, it is going to take the cooperation and support of each and every one of us to make this year the greatest possible.

ART DALIANES

A full activities calendar is awaiting you and I really hope you will find time to participate. Humboldt State has a fine athletic program and this year's athletic teams should be terrific.

The Executive Council of HSC hopes that you will take an active part in all of the activities planned by the Associated Students. So that you might become more aware of the workings of your student body, we invite you to attend the Executive Council meeting held once every week. The date of our meetings this year will be announced in next week's issue of the Lumberjack.

KNOW YOUR OFFICERS

Your officers for the coming year are Art Dalianes, president; John Burger, vice president; Joan Rasmussen, secretary; Joe Mayfield, secretary; Glendyne Baldwin, activities commissioner; Neil Evans, organizations commissioner; Billy Caver, awards commissioner; Jack Mays, publication commissioner; Ross Stromberg, rally commissioner; Mary Lou Barnes, assemblies commissioner; and representatives at large, Joe Romero and Bob Merritt. Two women's representative at large vacancies will be filled next week.

Again, welcome to Humboldt. Drop in to see me in my office upstairs in the Coop, room 206, anytime and say "Hi". If there is anyway that I can help you, please let me know.

Election Meeting For '60's Slated

The class of '60 will meet to elect officers early this semester. Class officers were not elected last semester as no one was qualified to run for office. Last year's president, Jack Mays, announced that officers from the Junior class would be called upon for one more meeting—to elect officers.

Any Seniors, 90 units or more, interested in holding a position of high esteem and a limited amount of work is asked to contact Mays.

Band Preparing for Opening Show; Sebeck, Olson to Wield the Batons

Already drilling, Humboldt's snappy marching band is planning a complete half-time program for the first home football game with Oregon College of Education on Saturday, Sept. 26.

Nursing Program Accredited Here

Humboldt State's nursing program has been granted full accreditation by the State Board of Nurse Examiners. The nursing program has been under development for several years and was offered under provisional accreditation during 1958-59.

The recommendation for full accreditation was made to the board by Mrs. Mary S. Cameron and Miss Rosemary Hovorka following several visits to this area and consultation with the college, local hospitals and the Humboldt-Del Norte Department of Public Health. The nursing curriculum at HSC is a four-year program leading to the B. S. degree in nursing and prepares the student for certification as registered nurse in California.

Are You A Genius? Then See Us Now!

Is your creative genius in danger of going unheralded? Do you yearn for the thrill of seeing your name and your words in print? Then pull out of your neurotic state. Put it to work for you as a member of the Lumberjack staff, and for academic credit, too.

You can earn either one or two units of Journalism 27-127, Section One, Lumberjack Lab. The class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9 a.m., upstairs over the Coop until further notice.

Even if you're not a neurotic

Dr. David M. Smith, bandmaster, announced this week that Ellen Sebeck, junior from Arcata, who was drum majorette last year, will be the high stepper for the band again this season. Roger Olson, junior music major from Capistrano, has been named drum major, replacing Joe Chappelle, who has graduated.

Olson attended a workshop for drum majors at Long Beach State College this summer and Miss Sebeck has attended a school of baton at College of Pacific.

The nucleus of the band drilled Thursday afternoon and had another drill scheduled for this morning. Dr. Smith said the band went through initial playing and drill fundamentals rehearsals.

The band has room for about 80 persons this year, and Dr. Smith said he could use more of virtually every band instrument. Students interested in joining the band may enroll for music 51 or 151 for one unit. Rehearsals are held at noon Tuesdays through Fridays.

Each year the band makes one trip. This year the group will go to the Chico game Oct. 31.

Dr. Smith said the band plans to present two shows this season originated and planned by band members. One show, using an "Around the World in 80 Days" theme, is being planned by Jerry Flora and the Dad's Day show, built on the theme of the Roaring Twenties, by Jerry Wright.

The opening show is pegged to the theme of "There'll Be Some Changes Made" to highlight changes evident at every hand on campus.

Drama Season's Choices Listed For Production

The Humboldt Players' slate of plays has been announced for this year by Dr. Jerry Turner, assistant professor of Drama. The list includes "The Lady's Not For Burning," "Our Town," "Death of a Salesman," and "Henry IV, Part One."

The first play, "The Lady's Not For Burning," is a comedy in verse which takes place during the Fifteenth century in a small English town. A few years ago the play was staged in New York by a cast which included John Gielgud, the noted British actor. Eleven parts are available. It will be staged near the end of October.

"Our Town" will be produced during the first week in December and will inaugurate the newly completed Studio Theater. The Studio Theater is a room in the Speech Arts Building which is equipped with mobile risers with seats on them. This means that not only can the theater be "in the round" but it can be rearranged to suit the director. "Our Town" will be the first such production in the Speech Arts Building.

The play is one written by Thornton Wilder, who recently starred in the play's New York revival. It is considered one of the finest of the American plays. It was produced in the fall of 1952 at HSC under the direction of Dr. John F. Pauley.

The main stage in the Speech Arts Building will be inaugurated by the production "Death of a Salesman" by Tennessee Williams. This Sequoia Theater production will be produced during March.

Shakespeare's "Henry IV, Part One" will conclude the season. This production, scheduled for the first week in May, will require many actors and many new costumes. Students interested in sewing

Select Student Art From Spring Opens Year In HSC Gallery

Selected works from last spring's end-of-semester student show will hang in the gallery of the Art Building until next Friday as the opening exhibit of the year.

The student show opens what the art staff feels will be one of the most outstanding seasons in Humboldt history. The breadth and quality of the exhibits this year has been assured by financial backing by the student body.

In the opening show are paintings, silk screen work, photographs, lettering, commercial art, sculpture, pottery, jewelry and drawings. Melvin Schuler, associate professor of art, pointed out that last spring's exhibit hung only one week, and students will have another opportunity to see the kind of work produced in the department.

Among the works are some that were shown in the Humboldt County and Ninth District Fairs this summer. The photographs include Humboldt winners in the intercollegiate photo contest sponsored by the University of Missouri last year, including Neil Babcock's first place photo in the pictorial classification.

In October the annual faculty art show will be up in the gallery. To be shown are representative works by the six-member art faculty, Reese Bullen, Mr. Schuler, Thomas Knight, Leendert Kamelgarn, Glenn Berry and Max Butler.

ing and in helping with the costumes are urged to see Mrs. Lyn Pauley. Degree credit can be given, and this unit fulfills a general education requirement.

All plays will need students who will devote time to work on scenery and stage props. Those interested are directed to see Mr. John Van Duzer. Potential actors should see Dr. Jerry Turner. Credit, fulfilling a general education requirement, can be given in both of these fields, too.

A different exhibit will go up each month. In November the gallery has scheduled a painting show by Glen Wessels, professor of art at the University of California, Berkeley. The show will be selected works from Prof. Wessels' exhibit at the M. H. deYoung museum in San Francisco last spring, and will include mainly paintings connected with the sea.

Among exhibits scheduled later in the year are sculpture by Bruno Groth of Thorn, Calif., who also had a show at the deYoung museum last spring; a weaving, leather and jewelry exhibit in April; an outstanding international photo exhibit and pottery of Paul Valckening, who will join the HSC art staff spring semester.

Tryouts Today For Fall Play

Tryouts for the first play of the season, Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning," will be held this afternoon at 3 p.m. in the Founder's Hall auditorium, according to Dr. Jerry Turner, director.

Parts are available for eight men and three women in this modern verse comedy. Personnel are needed to fill other phases of production, including lights, props, stagecraft, publicity, and technical spots.

Costuming for the play will be in the Fifteenth century style, and under the supervision of Mrs. Lyn Pauley. Students interested in any phase of costuming should contact her to arrange their schedule.

Credit may be earned by signing up for Speech 25-125 or other related Speech courses.

What's What!

—by Hugh Clark—

Welcome back to all the oldtimers and to the newcomers—come right on in and make yourself comfortable. This is supposed to be a sports column devoted toward the betterment of athletics of Humboldt State College both on the intramural and intercollegiate level.

We drop by weekly, whenever possible, and view the sports scene at the Hilltop campus and give our views for what they are worth and hope you can have as much fun as we do.

This begins the second semester of existence for us, the first time we have seen a HSC football season underway. However, we have watched with interest, track, baseball, basketball, tennis, wrestling, boxing, swimming and even last spring's collegiate craze telephone booth stuffing.

However the first semester is wrapped up and over, a matter of history. We are now in the fall semester of 1959 and here we go —

First off, little can be said without reviewing for those who know and telling those who don't, that Humboldt State took a big jump in track and field supremacy.

At last count, we had discussed the FWC title, the big victories and the NCAA small college district meet. However, we had all departed for wherever we go during the summer months when four touring Lumberjacks went to Sioux Falls, South Dakota to add additional glory to the small college virtually unknown at Arcata, California.

By late Saturday night, June 6, the four members, including three freshmen, had earned Humboldt a sixth place in the national finals.

They had collected an individual championship, a second place, a third place, and a sixth place.

Bill Hook won the discuss, Bill Chrichton was second in the high jump establishing a new Humboldt state record of 6 ft. 5 1/4 inches, Roger Biffle took a third in the pole vault and Larry Krupka, in only his fifth competitive meet, was sixth in the high jump.

All but Biffle were freshmen.

It was a fitting end to a tremendous cinder season for coach Bob Doornink and the green and gold thinclads.

In all fairness to the present sport, King Football, we must now leave track for a while and begin thinking in terms of

Lumberjacks Hold Scrimmage With Oregon Tech Owls

Humboldt State's Lumberjacks outscored Oregon Tech's Owls two touchdowns to one in a scrimmage held in Redwood Bowl last Sunday afternoon.

The two-hour practice affair was witnessed by some 300 frosh camp members, who received a sneak preview of the 1959 football team.

The affair is set on a home and home basis with Humboldt scheduled to travel to Klamath Falls next year for an early season scrimmage.

Many of Humboldt's apparent weaknesses were brought out during the course of the scrimmage. Each team had the ball for three 10-minute offensive drives while the other played defense.

The Jacks failed to stop much of the ground game and some of the passing by the talented OTI team. They showed better offensively with Frank Aeillo, Ed White, Dave Littleton and Jim Walker making long gains.

The passing attack for the Jacks was practically nil and coach Phil Sarboe summarized the session by saying, "We need more work."

the pigskin and the gridiron.

It's Humboldt off to a hard start tomorrow at Gatorville in San Francisco when they encounter a mighty potent team.

It may be an "out and out" showdown for the FWC title, before the race officially gets underway for most of the schools. However, we understand that four other conference members believe they should also be counted "in" on the pre-season pickings. In fact a couple have plans to take over the crown that San Francisco has worn for the past two years.

It could be a real battle, right down to the wire in November, but then again it might be decided this very Saturday afternoon at Cox Stadium.

While we are on the subject of football, we'll make you a big promise. No more ax until the HSC-Chico game on October 31. Then we'll see about restoring it to its proper place. Not one more word!

Alumni Score 21-6 Win Over HSC Lumberjacks

The Alumni returned like youths of old to Humboldt State on September 8 and gave the 1959 Lumberjack footballers a lesson on how to play the game as they posted a 21-6 win over the present day Humboldters. It was the first game of its kind ever played on the Hilltop campus.

It was a number of the recent stars figuring in on the win against their former teammates and also some of the less-recent stars. Nevertheless they beat the 1959 edition of HSC football.

It was the return of Warren Baker, Earl Barnum, Ray Mechals, Roland Haft and many others that made many veteran fans recall the years.

Baker broke the game open in the second period after a tight first quarter with the teams exchanging the ball frequently. The 6 ft. 3 inch former NAIA passing leader, hit for key gains of 10 and 16 yards before he carried the tally over on an end sweep from 16 yards out. He hit former Jack end Jim Colwell for a two-point conversion.

Humboldt drove deep on a 37-yard pass-lateral play from Fred Whitmire to Darol Foster to Drew Roberts, but couldn't score in the third quarter. They muffed two additional scoring opportunities.

It was the Haft and Baker combination that set up the second score. Baker hit Haft for 26, then bootlegged his right end for the touchdown from the four. Haft booted the extra point.

A 37-yard pass-run play in the fourth quarter gave the present day players their only score when Whitmire hit Foster for the score.

Barnum flashed back his running form that sparked the Lumberjacks in 1958 when he rambled 31 yards on an end run. Chuch McAninch ran over from the four to score the six points.

It was some good defense by Mechals, Jim Ingram and many others that held the Lumberjacks to give the "Old Grads" a 1-0 lead in the HSC-Alumni series.

Kickoff Banquet Held Saturday

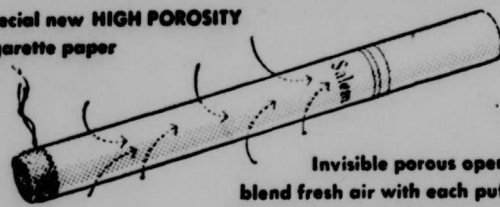

Around 400 Humboldt State football supporters were on hand last Saturday night for the Ninth Annual Humboldt Kickoff Banquet held at Eureka's shrine park.

The event co-sponsored by the HSC Alumni Association and the Arcata Chamber of Commerce honored the 1959 Lumberjack team and its coaches.

Following the banquet, talks were given by HSC coach Phil Sarboe, team member tackle Bill Hicks and Dr. Don Karshner.

Lumberjack Coaches Discuss 1959 Plans with Prospective Players

Humboldt State's two defensive coaches Jim Ingram (l) and Gordon Schroeder (c) and head coach Phil Sarboe (r) discuss plans with prospective players at Redwood Bowl last September 1 as the Lumberjack football camp opened this fall. The team began with 73 players and worked down to the present 41 that forms the 1959 eleven. The team opens the season tomorrow at San Francisco's Cox Stadium when they play the San Francisco State Gators.

and Carl Carlson and Bill Bartlett.

In addition to those losses, a number of lettermen and strong reserves are sitting out the season because of academic misfortunes.

Meanwhile, coach Joe Verducci at San Francisco enjoyed a turnout of nearly 90 gridders, the largest in the school's history, to build his 1959 team.

The competition at the Gator camp has been so fierce that reports state some of last year's first string members are now warming the bench in favor of better newcomers.

That is remarkable in itself since the Gators forced Humboldt to win 13-12 in 1958 in a last minute thriller. And it was one of Humboldt's better years in football. The Jacks completed a successful 7-2-1 season.

While Sarboe and his coaching staff look forward to an uphill battle tomorrow, the outlook is not entirely bleak.

The Jacks were blessed with the return of some good reserves, the addition of highly regarded junior college transfers and some good looking freshmen prospects.

Since Sarboe opened the HSC camp some three weeks back, the squad has been working in separate units of offensive and defensive. Coaches Jim Ingram and Gordon Schroeder have directed the defenders while Bob Doornink and Art Stegeman have worked on the Lumberjack attackers.

Under Far Western Conference rules, all members are to use the platoon system.

The two schools both employ the pro, t, style of wide-open football and a "no-holds barred" contest is expected to ensue at the Gator campus.

Leading the Golden Gators in their quest for a third straight title, their sixth in eight years, will be Little All-American quarterback Jim Sochor. Manuel Perry, a two-year starter at the same position, has returned to the San Francisco campus and is pushing Sochor for the starting nod. Meanwhile, Verducci has been using both in the backfield to develop a double passing and running threat.

The Gators also have returning stars including fullback Hank Marshall and halfback Jessie Racines. A pair of much sought junior college players, Charley Fuller of Vallejo and Travis Baker of Fresno also are playing on the team.

Linemen are too numerous to mention. However, many veterans are wondering if they will start tomorrow because of the talent of the newcomers.

One advantage the Jacks do have is in the weight department where they field an offensive line averaging 205 pounds; a defensive line at 209 pounds; an offensive backfield at 177 pounds and a defensive backfield of 185 pounds.

The Gators are outweighed about 10-15 pounds per player, they compensate with more experience and a much faster team.

Humboldt will have the new look for the Hilltop fans this fall. Only two first stringers are back. There are nine new starters and 25 complete newcomers to the team.

Probable offensive starters are: Fred Whitmire at quarterback with Cecil Stephens and Frank Aeillo at the halfbacks and Dave Littleton at Fullback. Ed White, a fullback, and Manuel Vasquez, a halfback will also see plenty of action.

The ends are veteran Darol Foster and freshman Drew Roberts, the tackles Vester Flanagan and Bill Hicks, the guards Pete Carpino and Al Frakes and the center Dick Donley or Chuch Atkinson.

Defensively it will be ends Sal Siino and Joe Lucido, tackles Manuel Simas and Jerry Flynn, middle guard Matt Kelley, linebackers Bill Love and Dan Herrera, wingmen Jim Barker and Jim Walker and safeties Woodson Foster and Dennis Giuntini.

Junior Jacks To Report For Drills

All Junior Jack football candidates are expected to turn out this Saturday morning at 10 a.m. at the men's gymnasium, said HSC athletic director Phil Sarboe early this week.

The team will begin immediate conditioning drills and start play for the upcoming five-game season. Former Lumberjack standout guard Jerry Kilduff will coach this year's team.

He will be assisted by Lee Marvel and other former Lumberjack football players.

Team members are expected to come from the seven players released from the varsity for additional seasoning, some of last year's Junior Jack players and many freshmen.

Listed tentatively on the schedule is five games including a return engagement at San Quentin, a meeting with Shasta Junior College's powerful Knights, a home and home pair with Chico State's Wildkittens and a game with the HSC varsity reserves.

Following is the complete schedule:

Oct. 1—Shasta Junior College, there.

Oct. 11—Varsity reserves.

Oct. 17—San Quentin, there.

Oct. 24—Chico

October 31—Chico, there.

GATORS WIN CLOSE ONE

The San Francisco State Gators scored a 20-16 win over the San Quentin Pirates last Saturday. SF took a 13-0 halftime lead, but it fizzled to a 16-13 deficit by the fourth quarter. In the same quarter Hank Marshall plunged for two yards and a touchdown after the Gators had marched 80 yards in 10 plays.

Meal Tickets Valid Starting Monday

Meal tickets will go into effect Monday, the first day of classes, in Nelson Hall cafeteria.

Residents of Sunset, Redwood, and Nelson Halls, and other holders of meal tickets are required to present a meal ticket in order to secure meal service. This ticket is punched for each meal and is honored only in the dining hall. These tickets are non-transferable; failure to observe this rule may result in temporary suspension or complete cancellation of the meal ticket without refund.

Credit of $1.25 per day is allowed when all meals are missed for two or more consecutive days.

In cases of mild or temporary illnesses which may prevent a student from going to the dining hall for meals, the Head Resident may authorize tray service.

Breakfast, lunch, and dinner will be served on Monday through Saturday. On Sunday only breakfast and dinner will be served. No meals will be served during Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring vacation.

McNELIS WINS GRANT

Dr. James I. McNelis, assistant professor of English, has received the first annual award established by the College Improvement Foundation to aid research by faculty members. Under a $200 grant, he will prepare for publication the Baron Holberg's "The Journey of Nicholas Klimius to the World Underground," the Scandinavian counterpart of Swift's "Gulliver's Travels."

SUMMER GRADUATES

Humboldt conferred degrees on 46 students at the first summer commencement exercises ever held here last July 30.

HSC Speech Correction Program Provides Badly-Needed Therapists

Approximately five percent of this nation's population are handicapped by speech and hearing disorder so great that they interfere with the individuals' earning a satisfactory living and having normal motional development.

Forensics Squad Rebuilding For Big Schedule

Humboldt State College's debaters, orators, and extemporaneous speakers will meet for the first time next week to begin preparations for the 1959-60 competitive speech year.

After a successful season in '58-59, the forensic coaches, Milton Dobkin and Dr. Edward Steele, are recruiting new squad members to replace outstanding '59 graduates and gaps left by transferring students. Amongst those debaters with excellent records last year who will be sorely missed this season are Larry Hines, Tony Karachale, and Ed Spencer.

Students Invited

All students with or without previous experience who wish to compete with colleges and universities in the far west, should contact the Language Arts Division office immediately. Debaters are asked to enroll in Speech 5 or 105 (forensic workshops) so that they may earn a unit of academic credit while participating as squad members.

The forensic year's schedule is an ambitious one and will start with a workshop in early October presented by the HSC squad for North Coast high schools. The first competitive activity on campus will be an intra-squad tournament on Oct. 24. The first competitive trip will be the annual fall NCA tournament on Nov. 6 and 7.

Then follow the NCA Invitational in mid-November, the Western Speech Association Fall Championships—Nov. 23-25, the Portland Town Meeting in mid-February, the Stockton Tyro in February, the Linfield Tournament—March 6, 7, 8, the University of Nevada's Far Western Tournament in April, the Pi Kappa Delta Province Tournament during Easter vacation and two additional NCA competitions with the dates as yet unscheduled. If the NCA requests HSC to do so, the local squad will again sponsor its Pentathlon event for the NCA in the spring.

Squad To Travel

To attend these tournaments, members of the squad will travel to Sacramento, Stockton, San Francisco, Reno, Los Angeles, and Portland. The final dates for all events will be set at the NCA League meeting which will be held on Sept. 25 and 26 with Mr. Dobkin and Dr. Steele in attendance.

Leading the student organization of the forensic squad this year will be Karl Harber, serving as Pi Kappa Delta Chapter president and squad captain, and Karla Kasiki, Pi Kappa Delta secretary-treasurer.

Any students interested in representing Humboldt State College in any form of competitive speech activity should contact these student officers or the forensic coaches immediately.

Health Insurance Available To Humboldt Students

A low-cost student health and accident insurance plan is available to Humboldt State students, and the office of the dean of students this week urged Humboldt students to take advantage of it.

The insurance plan is intended to provide protection against medical expenses for accidents and illnesses beyond the services provided by the college medical staff. It also covers accidents or illnesses occurring off campus and during vacations or authorized absences.

Cost is only $6 for first semester,

Speech problems involved under this heading include stuttering, articulation problems, voice problems, cleft palate, cerebral palsy, speech problems as a result of hearing loss, delayed speech and loss of speech as a result of a stroke.

To help meet this problem HSC currently offers a bachelor and master's degree program. According to Dr. Clyde Rousey, Director of the Speech Clinic and professor in charge of this area, HSC's curriculum is one of the few California state colleges which meet not only state but national requirements. This means that HSC students will be able to obtain jobs in other states without having to take extra courses. Students entering this profession begin their college work the 2nd half of their Sophomore year or first semester of their Junior year.

With the completion of the new Language Arts Building, the speech clinic will occupy new facilities. They include a sound-proof testing room and two therapy rooms. These facilities will be the finest available between San Francisco and Portland. This past summer a second special speech clinic was held for children from the surrounding communities. This was designed to give intensive treatment to more seriously handicapped children and to provide opportunities for supervised clinical experience for students majoring in speech and hearing therapy.

A serious shortage of qualified therapists exists in the United States. This fact plus above average starting salaries among college graduates makes the field attractive to many persons. Qualified therapists may enter into public school, hospital or clinic work upon graduation.

For students majoring in some of the education programs a joint major leading to two state credentials has been planned. Students interested in learning more about this field are encouraged to contact Dr. Clyde Rousey at Ext. 314 or to visit the speech clinic currently located at the College Elementary School until completion of the new quarters in the Language Arts Building.

Women Needed To Fill Sunset Hall

There are still vacancies available in Humboldt's new residence hall for women, Sunset Hall, according to Jack Altman, housing coordinator. Some 50 vacancies still remain to be filled out of a total of 200 accommodations.

Mrs. Passi has been named as Sunset's head resident, with Judy Pickup as assistant head resident.

Redwood Hall, the men's new residence hall, has been completely filled, according to Altman, and the west wing of Nelson Hall has been opened to accommodate the overflow of students. Mrs. Neva Slacks has been named as Redwood's head resident, and Bill Hayward and Dennis Huntington as assistant head residents.

Hall residents are advised to consult their assistant head residents for problems and questions regarding the halls' policies until student government in the halls is established.

or $12 for the college year, or $16 for the full year begun Sept. 9. Dependent wives and children also may be covered. Charge for coverage for wife for the year including maternity, is $36, and for one or more children $22.

Full particulars are available in the office of the graduate manager in the Bookstore.

conference room is a table designed and built by Dr. Arthur Stegeman, associate professor of industrial arts. The table was built in the Industrial Arts laboratory with the assistance of Robert Bonde, assistant professor of industrial arts, and industrial arts majors.

In the lobby of the main floor, wooden paneling is stained birch. Floors are of concrete, with conduits running the length of the building so that floor outlets for the telephone and electricity can be tapped at two-foot intervals if desired.

Contractors were B & R Construction Co. of San Francisco. Electrical wiring was by Shasta Electric Co. of Redding, plumbing by Ed Peterson, Inc., Sonoma, and heating by Lawson Sheet Metal Co., North Sacramento.

The Language Arts building is expected to be at least partially occupied by November. The Cafeteria and Student Health building are expected to be completed by early summer, 1960.

Next on the master plan sequence of buildings are an Education Psychology building, a Forest Management building, a new library and an addition to the present science building. All four of these units are now on the drawing boards, with the science building scheduled to be the first unit up for bid. At least two of the others, the Education-Psychology, and the Forest Management building, are expected to be put to bid by late spring of 1960.

Space Age Hits Summer Session

The Space Age arrived at HSC during summer session in the form of Gore Vidal's fantasy-comedy, "Visit to a Small Planet." Piloting the stage adaption of the television original was Dale N. Anderson, assistant professor of speech, radio, and TV, with graduate student Diane Anderson as copilot.

Alumni returning to the HSC stage were Robert Titlow in the leading role, Kreton, and Charles Coon as the young swain, Conrad. Both speech drama majors while undergraduates, they are now teaching in high schools.

The college faculty was represented by Dr. Ed Steele as a cynical TV newscaster; Gene Asprey, a hapless army captain; and Drs.

Annual CES Camp Opens Monday

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils of College Elementary School will embark on their annual week-long camping program at Camp Ravencliff, on the Eel River at Redway, Monday morning.

The 75 pupils, their teachers, other CES staff members, and 18 student teachers will return Saturday noon after a week of nature study, camp craft, boating, swimming and other activities.

The camping program is designed to take the classroom to the outdoors for activities that can be more profitably done in a camp setting.

This year's camp is the sixth. Participation in the camping program is now a required part of the college elementary education curriculum.

Staff members who will accompany the children are Dr. William Raleigh, professor of education and school principal; Miss Hazel Hagne, associate professor of education; Miss Kay Gott, associate professor physical education; Mrs. Gladys Costello, CES nurse and the school cooks, in addition to the supervising teachers, Miss Helen Macpherson, sixth grade, Eric Palmer, seventh, and Charles McDermid, eighth.

Elementary grades student teachers will spend the week at the camp are: Merry Anne Epping, Lynn Pryer, Joyce Rakestraw, Barbara Randle, Carolyn Wigg, Dorothy Johnson, Virginia Waters, Janine Ford, Janet French, Winford Teasley, Barbara Hensel, Phyllis Peltonen, Pat Baker, Martha Flak, Jean Little, Mary Stark and Barbara Wilber.

Frank Wood and James McNelis as tv technicians.

Others in the cast were Billie Thomas and Virginia Lunau, both regular session undergraduates, and Chorine Andries and Max Ware, both of Fort Bragg. An additional cast member, a four-footed one, was a black kitten named Palidan.

PALAIS AUTHORS ARTICLE

An article by Dr. Hyman Palais, professor of history, appears in the current issue of the American Historical Review, foremost publication of historical articles in the United States. The article, "England's First Attempt to Break the Commercial Monopoly of the Hanseatic League, 1377-1380", is the result of a year's study in Europe by Dr. Palais.

New Faculty

New members of the library staff are Mrs. Laura Peithman, Richard Press, Mrs. Barbara A. Turner (CES), and Mrs. Bettye White.

Another new faculty member, Paul Volckening, will join the staff spring semester as replacement for Prof. Reese Bullen, who will be on sabbatical leave.

With the college going on a full-time health program this year, a new college physician, Dr. Donald E. Bux, and two new college nurses, Mrs. Jean Hickman and Mrs. Irene Richards, have been appointed. Associate college physicians are Dr. Phillip Dohn and Dr. E. Kenneth Smith.

In the dean of students' office, Jack Altman has been appointed housing coordinator and James Hoffe is replacing Albert Blood, who is on leave, as placement officer.

CSTA To Open Year With Night Meeting

The first meeting of the California Student Teachers Association will be held September 28 in the Green and Gold Room of Founders Hall at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in Founders Hall rather than Redwood Park as previously stated in the Education Calendar, for this time only.

The Student Teacher reference in the title of the organization does not mean it is only for the student teachers, but is open to all Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors interested in education.

Through active participation and discussion in these meetings many of the questions and problems concerning anything in education can be resolved.

Joining CSTA and paying dues of $3.50 per year entitles each student to receive two professional informative monthly magazines—CTA Journal and the NEA Journal.

A program and refreshments will follow the professional type business meeting. The organization will send representatives to conventions in other areas during the school year.
