English Professor Wins Fulbright Lectureship To Allahabad University

Dr. Ralph Samuelson received a Fulbright lectureship to Allahabad University in the city of Allahabad, state of Uttar Pradesh, India. Samuelson, HSC assistant professor of English, received word from the State Department Christmas vacation that his application for a lectureship in contemporary American literature had been accepted.

Samuelson and his family will live in India from November to April. Allahabad is in north-east India on the Ganges River where it is joined by the Jumna River. Samuelson said that the junction of the two rivers is a holy place to the Hindu, so he expects to see much Hindu art and architecture. The Ganges valley is also the birthplace of Hindu philosophy.

Samuelson, his wife and three daughters, age 10, 6, and 8 months, will spend a five day orientation period in Washington D.C. in July, and will sail for India in late July or August.

The lectureship will provide a living allowance for the Samuelsons in India, which Samuelson said should enable them to live comfortably. The lectureship will also pay for basic transportation costs. The Overseas Commission in New Delhi will arrange housing.

Language barriers should not present too great a problem, Samuelson said. The educated speak English, as there is no uniform India language.

"We will have problems to solve," Samuelson said, anticipating "lots of shots." The Hindu believes anyone who eats with his left hand is bad. Mrs. Samuelson is left-handed.

Samuelson said it may be possible that he will be setting up a program in American literature at Allahabad University that the University will continue after his year there.

Rehearsals In Session For 'Androcles And The Lion'

By SHELLY GRUSLIN

Rehearsals are now in session for "Androcles and the Lion", which will be presented in Sequoia Theater Feb. 17, 18, 24, and 25.

This play, written by George Bernard Shaw, is a story of the early Christian martyrs, but as Shaw says it is not a story of conflict of a false theology with a true, but a story of persecution in general—an attempt to suppress a propaganda that seems to threaten the position of the people in Power in the name of religion or patriotism.

Though this play takes place during Roman times, Shaw felt that it was applicable for our time for in his remarks about the play he states that if such a thing were to happen today the lions would hurt the cranks just as much and the spectators would enjoy themselves just as much, as the Roman lions and spectators used to do.

The story is not one of deep religious faith, indeed in some places Shaw seems to be laughing at the martyrs. In one speech he says that all martyrs are fools.

When this play was first produced it was branded by many London papers as blasphemy. They complained that Shaw made the Christians look like fools and the emperor like a rather nice chap.

George Bernard Shaw was noted in his life as a novelist and a critic of books, pictures, music, and the drama. He was also a prominent socialist leader of his day and was instrumental in making the Fabian society famous. He was a serious economist, and philosopher, yet he had a flair for comedy that enabled him to write works of a serious nature but in a comic way.

627 Students Turn Out At Polls To Select ASB Representatives

Kay Gerdes, Pam Schoenbeck, Sam Kunkle and Ron Ringen were elected as HSC Representatives at Large in last Monday's ASB election. 627 students voted in the annual election.

Kay Gerdes, a senior from Santa Barbara who was appointed last September to fill the unexpired term of Mary Ann Miner topped the women voting with 190. In addition to being Representative at Large, Miss Gerdes has also been active in the World University Services program at Humboldt.

Pam Schoenbeck, a junior from Eureka in addition to her new duties is also a member of the Humboldt State College Band, polled 178.

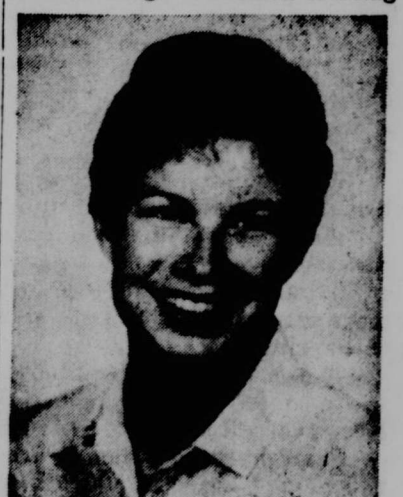

The defeated candidates for office were Belinda Thompson, 160;

RON RINGEN

Barbara Link, 109; and Doug Jager, 154. James Currivan also was nominated as a candidate, however, asked that his name be withdrawn because of a heavy schedule of classes next semester.

The duties of the Representatives at Large in addition to being the direct representatives of the student body to the student council, will also include being in charge of a majority of the projects undertaken by the student body.

These members of the student council will serve for a one year term. It will be possible for those who do not graduate to run for re-election next year.

The election was conducted by the student council with Dave Crane, sophomore class president, in charge.

Symphony Slated Thursday Night

Compositions by Schumann, Mozart, Johnsen, and Dvorak will be presented by the Humboldt State Symphony Orchestra next Thursday evening at 8:15 in the Sequoia Theater. Admission is free, according to Prof. Charles Fulkerson, symphony conductor.

"Four Sketches" will be presented by HSC's assistant professor of music Paul Johnsen. Johnsen teaches part-time at Humboldt and has a masters degree in music composition. He has attended Stockton College, College of the Pacific, and University of Southern California.

Schumann's "Symphony No. 3 in E Flat Minor" will head the concert program, followed by Mozart's "Concerto for Three Pianos." Sara Hallin, Judy Johnston, and Mike Richards are soloists.

The fourth movement from Dvorak's "Symphony No. 5 in E Minor" (From the New World) will be played. Dvorak, a Czech, wrote the "New World" during his visit to the United States in 1892.

BUTLER EXHIBITS

A crayola and charcoal drawing entitled "Night Fields" by art professor Max Butler will be shown in the National Print and Drawing Show at the San Francisco Museum of Art, running through the month of February. This is the third consecutive year Butler has been included in the show.

Let's Vote on Enterprises . . .

Lumberjack Enterprises, a new program for handling most of Humboldt State's major money making activities, has been discussed by almost every student leader this semester, but despite whole-hearted attempts, the general student body, through what appears to be lack of interest, has not been well informed.

At one special meeting in the spacious Sequoia Theater, two people, a professor and a student, were on hand to hear the student committee and Dean Lawrence Turner discuss the Enterprises.

When and if this is inacted, it is expected that HSC will have its funds better handled, and it is possible a saving may come out of this.

But the proposed Enterprises have received some bad publicity as the result of actions by the uninformed. One upper division student sought to block the venture by exposing the "racket" to a local off-campus media. And this fellow was not the same student who attended the meeting two weeks ago.

As far as we know he knows no more about the Enterprises than he ever did. Other students have taken the "I don't give a darn what they do" attitude. But we think it is important that the Enterprises are supported when they take effect.

Without students, there would be no need for the Lumberjack Enterprises or a number of other things.

We propose that student officials continue to make it possible for students to learn of this financial changeover and what hand the student council had in its final draft. And more important, the issue should be placed on the ballot of the spring elections.

Those who have wanted to set up the Enterprises have waited many years, and being voted into existence, it would have the full stamp of student body approval.

Sometimes this democratic process is more lengthy, and the people are often hard to reach. But the realization in the end is fully worth the wait.

Arthur F. Corey, executive head of the California Teachers Association, addressed the 42nd annual commencement exercise in 1956. His subject was "the Dynamics of Freedom."

THE ENGINEERS HAVE HAIRY EARS

Today in this age of technology when engineering graduates are wooed and courted by all of America's great industries, how do you account for the fact that Rimbaud Sigafoos, who finished at the very top of his class at M.I.T., turned down hundreds of attractive job offers to accept employment as a machinery wiper at the Acme Ice Company at a salary of $20 a week with a twelve-hour day, a seven-day week, and only fifteen minutes for lunch?

I know what you are thinking: "Cherchez la femme!" You are thinking that Mr. Acme, head of the Acme Ice Company, has a beautiful daughter with whom Rimbaud is madly in love and he took the job only to be near her.

Friends, you are wrong. It is true that Mr. Acme does have a daughter, a large, torpid lass named Clavdia who spends all her waking hours scooping marzipan out of a bucket and staring at a television set which has not worked in some years. Rimbaud has not the slightest interest in Clavdia; nor, indeed, does any other man, excepting possibly John Ringling North.

So how come Rimbaud keeps working for the Acme Ice Company? Can it be that they provide him with free Marlboro Cigarettes, and all day long he is able to settle back, make himself comfortable and enjoy the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste?

a large, torpid lass named Clavdia

No, friends, no. Rimbaud is not allowed to smoke on the job and when he finishes his long, miserable day he has to buy his own Marlboros, even as you and I, in order to settle back and enjoy that choice tobacco, that smooth, mellow flavor, that incomparable filter, that pack or box.

Well, friends, you might as well give up because you'll never in a million years guess why Rimbaud works for the Acme Ice Company. The reason is simply this: Rimbaud is a seal!

He started as a performing seal in vaudeville. One night on the way to the Ed Sullivan show, he took the wrong subway. All night the poor mammal rode the B.M.T., seeking a helping hand. Finally a kindly brakeman named Ernest Thompson Sigafoos rescued the hapless Rimbaud.

He took Rimbaud home and raised him as his own, and Rimbaud, to show his appreciation, studied hard and got excellent marks and finished a distinguished academic career as valedictorian of M.I.T.

Rimbaud never complained to his kindly foster father, but through all those years of grammar school and high school and college, he darn near died of the heat! A seal, you must remember, is by nature a denizen of the Arctic, so you can imagine how poor Rimbaud must have suffered in subtropical New York and Boston, especially in those tight Ivy League suits.

But today at the Acme Ice Company, Rimbaud has finally found a temperature to his liking. He is very happy and sends greetings to his many friends.

Minor Students Reminded Of Parietal Rule

All unmarried minor students attending Humboldt State who are not living with their parents or legal guardians are reminded by Housing Manager Jack Altman that they are required by state law to live in residence halls unless an application for off-campus living is administratively approved.

Under the law, passed in 1957, registration may be denied for failure to comply with the regulations. By a recent resolution of the State Board of Education each State College must enforce a parietal rule, if necessary, to insure maximum occupancy and use of the housing facilities.

Applications to live off-campus can be obtained at the Housing Manager's office. Applications are approved for the school year. Therefore students approved to live off-campus this semester need not reapply.

Elections, Calendar Change Top ASB Council Meeting

Elections and calendar changes highlighted a lengthy, but routine business meeting of the ASB executive council last Thursday.

The council learned through a letter from Dean Don Karahner that a request for a Monday travel day during Easter vacation was found not feasible this year. However, Dean Karahner said it may be included on the 1961-62 calendar. He noted that president C. H. Siemens commended the council for its interest.

The group announced general student body spring elections would be held Monday and Tuesday, March 13 and 14. If runoffs are necessary, voting is scheduled March 20-21.

Four temporary voting regulations were set-up for Monday's representative at large elections. They included:

1. No oral, written or printed campaigning with the immediate vicinity and/or 50 feet of voting areas.

2. No loitering at polls.
3. All persons voting must enter booth to vote.
4. Violations can result in disqualification of candidate subject to investigation of student council.

Awards commissioned Gary Peterson announced student council awards would be presented at Saturday night's HSC- San Francisco State basketball game.

Peterson, chairman of this year's Leadership Conference, announced it would be held Feb. 22 with some 250 high school students expected to attend.

Letters were authorized to fall Hilltopper editor Ron Sells, commending him for an excellent issue, and to graduate manager Howard Goodwin for his part in setting up the new college bookstore.

IK Plans Trip To Oregon During Break

Don Daniels, honorable duke of the Intercollegiate Knights announced recently that, 15 members of the IK membership will journey to Oregon during semester break to visit the Oregon chapters.

Daniels, the viceroy of region nine, said the main topic of business was to see if a convention could be held at Humboldt State College.

The Knights also plan on visiting Mt. Hood, where they will participate in skiing and sight seeing.

Speech Therapy Student Wins Assistantship

Stanley McDaniel, senior speech therapy major, has been awarded an assistantship to Purdue University in Lafayette, La.

'Jacks To Host Wolfpack Tonight

Jayvees To Host Laytonville, Fortuna Quints

The Humboldt State Junior Jacks attempt to climb back into the win column tonight, meeting Laytonville High tonight and Fortuna High tomorrow evening. Both games start at 6:30 p.m.

The Junior Jacks have a season record of 3-6 going into tonight's game. They have split with Arcata, the only other high school they have played.

Jack Penrod will start at center, Gary Powell and Mike Glimpse at forwards and Pat O'Brien and Joe Taylor at guards.

HSC Cagers To Seek First Conference Win

By DUANE ONETO

The Humboldt State Lumberjacks return home looking for the first Far Western Conference victory tonight against the University of Nevada and tomorrow night against San Francisco State.

The 'Jacks lost two conference games in a row dropping their opener to Sacramento State, 59-45, and losing the second game to the University of Nevada, 77-58.

Tonight the 'Jacks hook up with the FWC pre-season favorites, Nevada. The Wolfpack, loaded with veterans and transfers dumped the 'Jacks Saturday at Reno and will attempt to repeat the same feat at the Men's Gym.

This second meeting will see the continuation of an individual duel between center Craig Hall of Nevada and forward Felix Rogers of HSC. In Reno the two hooked up in a torrid scoring match which saw Rogers win by one point 26-25.

Rogers will be the 'Jacks main hope in the games as his dead-eye shooting has kept the 'Jacks in the running of the games they have played. He has pumped in 186 points in the 12 non-conference games and 44 in the two FWC games.

Larry Krupka and Bill Crichton along with Rogers will comprise the rebounding strength for the 'Jacks. Nevada had control of the backboards in Reno and these three will attempt to turn the tables on the Pack.

Ron Good and George Millonis will start at guards for the 'Jacks and be backed by Jack Atwood and Joe Brouillard. Millonis will be trying to duplicate his 24 point performance against Southern Oregon College while Good will try to continue his coring in the double figures.

Leading the Gator invasion will be guard Jim Caranica who was all-FWC selection last year. Caranica paced the SF five last year when it split a two game series with the 'Jacks.

Along with Caranica at the guard spots will be Richie Williams and Mike Carson. Carson was the leading scorer for the Gators in early season, but the play of Williams boosted him to the starting job.

Center Bill Holmberg and forwards Jim Brown and Jim Cunningham make up one of the best rebounding combinations in the FWC. Holmberg has been one of the leading scorers for the visitors of late.

WRA Cage Team Entered In Shasta Playday

The Women's Recreation Association is taking a 13-player squad to Shasta Junior College tomorrow to participate in a basketball playday.

Among other schools attending the activity will be Chico State, University of Nevada, Sacramento State, and College of the Pacific.

Winners of volleyball and the finalists and semi-finalists were presented awards Monday at a social hour. Following the presentation of awards WRA members played recreational games.

What's What!

—by Hugh Clark—

Farewell, It's Been A Great Two Years . . .

This is the final What's What, we're bowing out after a two year's existence. Two good years we might add, enjoyable for us and successful for Humboldt State athletics.

During this period, we have seen many changes in Humboldt's ever expanding athletic program and success in almost every sport, with, of course, last fall's football season standing out foremost in our mind.

What's What has been praised by some, professors and students alike, and damned by others, fewer in number, we hope. It seems we never failed to make some unhappy at one time or another. At one time, San Francisco State was more than just unhappy with us. But we thought we were right, still do in fact.

Over the past two years we have seen the warm heart-to-heart happenings, the heartbreaks, and the good and the bad in college sports.

We will well-remember the football team's two wins over Hawaii, the stunning last minute win over the Seattle Ramblers, the thrilling wins over San Francisco State and Chico State and the play in the NAIA playoffs;

Or the basketball team's triumph over powerful Gonzaga and its 7'3 1/2" giant center, near-miss in the FWC Christmas Tourney here and play in the NAIA District finals;

Or the track team's great upset of the kingpin Sacramento State Hornets and FWC championship; or Bill Hook's win in the national NAIA finals of the discus throw to give Humboldt its first individual national champion and later Roger Biffle's exploits in the pole vault;

And the wrestling team's growth from infancy to the FWC team title in less than two years.

Yes, Humboldt has been good to us over these two years, filling us with joy and plenty of real true human stories to write.

We can't help but feel how fortunate the college is to have such a competent coaching staff, not in one sport, but in all of them.

And on the horizon there is more to come. Swimming is starting this year, the track team will run on the world's first all-rubber track this spring, and tennis courts and the start of a better net program despite adverse weather is on the drawing boards.

It has been great and there appears to be even a bigger greatness yet to come.

But we have had our turn and will pass it along to another fellow with hopes that he will be able to appreciate what we have been able to witness and write in our tenure at Humboldt State.

Thank you, for this experience.

Junior Jacks Split Pair With Rec Fives

Humboldt State's Junior Jacks split a weekend doubleheader defeating the Arcata Merchants Friday, 54-46, then losing to Ned's Men's Wear, 64-38, Saturday.

Pat O'Brien scored 21 points in the second half to lead the 'Jacks to their come-from-behind-win over the Merchants. The Arcata recreation team led, 12-6, then the winners came back to tie it at 23 all at intermission.

Humboldt went ahead, 38-35, at the end of three. O'Brien was high point man with 26 points while Earl Dimmick had 24 for the losers.

The tables were turned on the 'Jacks Saturday evening as the three-time Arcata recreation league champs produced a balanced scoring attack.

'Jacks Drop Conference Opener To Sacramento, Pack, 59-45 and 77-58

The Humboldt State College Lumberjacks lost their first two conference games of the 1960 season. Friday evening they were dumped by the Sacramento State Hornets, 59-45, in the Capital city. Saturday, the University of Nevada downed HSC, 77-58, in Reno.

Humboldt led the Hornets 26-24 at the end of the first half. But the sharp shooting Sacramento five came alive and had the game sewed up after about three minutes were gone in the second half.

Larry Krupka and Hornet Bill Whitaker duelled on the boards, but the Lumberjack was lost on fouls with 12 minutes remaining in the game.

John Dille was high point man hitting 21 points while Humboldt's Felix Rogers had 15. Sacramento shot 24 for 67 and 36 percent while the 'Jacks had 19 for 56 and 33 percent.

The Wolfpack contest was a typical Humboldt loss as the Lumberjacks were close until the final minutes of play. The winners went ahead 44-35 at the half.

However, Rogers started hitting as the Hilltoppers closed the gap to 50-49 with 14 minutes to go. But Craig Hall pumped in 10 straight to destroy any Humboldt hopes.

The 'Jacks hit 26 for 81 for 32 percent while the Nevadans hit 33 out of 68 for 45 percent. Rogers was high point man with 26 points while Hall scored 25 for the winners.

Football Team Receives Awards At Banquet

The annual Kiwanis Football Awards Banquet took place in the Cafeteria Tuesday. Team captains Sal Siino, Fred Whitmire and Pete Carpino were honored.

Siino also received the Most Inspirational award, along with manager Palmer Jensen, the first non-player to win such an award.

Lumberjack Enterprises Topic Of ICS Discussion

Lumberjack Enterprises was the topic of discussion at last Monday's Inter-Club Senate meeting with Dean Lawrence Turner, Paul Asp and Helen Wilson explaining the new corporation to the members.

Lumberjack Enterprises will be a non-profit corporation to handle the operation of the book store, cafeteria, CES cafeteria and the various vending machines on campus.

Dean Turner advised that the new corporation will make the handling of the above enterprises separate from the present corporation which includes all of the various activities.

The primary function of the corporation will be to handle the money made in excess of expenses of school enterprises. It will be necessary for the college to file with the California Secretary of State.

There will be nine members of the board of directors of the Corporation. The President, Executive Dean, Dean of Students, Business Manager, two faculty members and three students.

Dean Turner advised that the new corporation will give the students a more direct say in the handling of the profits of the various school activities. As soon as the necessary arrangements are completed the new corporation will be put in effect.

This separate business corporation will be in charge of all money in excess of expenses. The student members will serve for a minimum of two years, thus, the selected students will be either sophomores or juniors. For the first year, the student members will be selected by the Dean of Students.

In the future the student members will be selected by the student council.

The Inter Club Senate members also discussed whether or not the number of votes received by a candidate in an election should be printed in the college newspaper. The members voted that the matter be referred to the student council for consideration.

CASUAL CAMPUS

By DONNA

With but three study days left until finals, Humboldters are already beginning to show signs of stress and strain. Sleepy eyes and furrowed brows are sure signs of the worried study-bug and last minute cramming. Students with bright eyes and "bushy tails" during finals week are not to be trusted (they are obviously "cheaters" or "apple polishers").

The jazz panelists from Sunday night's jazz program at the campus activities center were anything but overwhelmed by the student attendance (thanks for showing up Barb and Mel); however, plans are being made for more such programs and a higher attendance is anticipated.

Business in the romance business boomed over the holidays and now provide me with innumerable marriages, engagements and pinnings to reveal (or, re-reveal as the case may be):

In the marriage department: Joe Mayfield and Diane Dellberg; Bud Kolding and Joan Bullock; Joe Meir and Rose Holmquist; and Zeke Van Deventer and Mary Lou Barnes.

Engagements: Mike Berry and Judy Hensel; Larry Westlake and Barbara Maffia; Jack Kahl and Kay Suffran, and Kathy Bentley and Clyde Bennett.

Pinnings: Don Bird (Tau Kappa Epsilon) and Nancy Mullen and Don Westlake (Delta Sigma Phi) and Kathne "Kak" Carr.

The Delta Sigma Phi annual Carnation Ball was held last Friday night at the Baywood Golf and Country Club. A highlight of the big evening was the crowning of the new Delta Sig Dream Girl for 1961, namely Barbara Maffia. This marked a second big honor for Barbara in the past few weeks inasmuch as she was crowned Sempervirens Sweetheart at the Sno-Ball. The problem now is what to do with two huge trophies.

"Final"

While reading a book we quite often refer to Webster's New Twentieth Century Dictionary (first edition in 1904 and unabridged yet!). We were reading on pages 686 and 687 when a five letter noun brought us to an abrupt halt.

"Final" has several meanings and all filter down to one definition, the end! How's this one? "Pertaining to the end or conclusion; last; ultimate". On page 687, column one, paragraph three, item four, we found it used as "the final examination"! So our column commences.

The end has come for some college students. But we must take an optimistic view of this. Next semester will bring back our friends who have been out for a semester on "scholastic probation". We want to be the first to welcome these back and for the unfortunate who couldn't quite get the grade points, we wish you luck in the rice warehouse at Butte City.

We have never packed rice before, but if employment is at a high, there may be a couple of ex-columnist in this "cracking" new field.

Although final week is for the final exams and last minute cramming, we have heard some unusual stories of previous final weeks. We were told of a couple bowlers with 103 averages who decided to bring up there averages and journeyed to Brookings, Oregon for a game or two. They not only flunked (nasty word) finals, they brought down their averages!

How about second floor of Redwood Hall during last fall's finals? Young college men were evidently so tired of studying that they couldn't make it to bed and fell "asleep" on the floor. We even heard about a few fellows that must have read pages 686 and 687 of Mr. Webster's novel and took the definition for granted. This is the type of thing you read about but never think it could happen to one of your best friends. (we also heard a lot of columnists climaxed their career on such a sad note)

How about the young lady in Sunset Hall, (who we feel was rationalizing) who said she hadn't seen her parents for quite some time and was feeling homesick so travelled home (all the way to Eureka) for a family reunion.

We do hope everyone stays around for next week's finals. Think of all those A's, B's, and strong C's in all the courses you have going for you. Then throw a big fat "F" on the final into the average and only one conclusion can be arrived upon: "Webster must have been a pretty clever man!" THE END.

'Jack Grapplers Travel To Chico Sat. Morning

The Humboldt State wrestling team travels to Chico tomorrow to tangle with the Wildcats at 10 a.m. The 'Jacks have lost their last two outings and will try for their second win in five tries.

The 'Jacks have lost to San Francisco State, San Quentin, and Cal Aggies while beating Southern Oregon College.

The 'Jack hopes will lie in Ron daSilva, Al Hagerstrand, and John Bobell. Hagerstrand won his two matches last week after losing two straight. Bobell, team captain, has been the mainstay of the last two seasons, and he will wrestle in the heavyweight division as usual. daSilva, who won his first three matches and then lost number four, will represent the Green and Gold in the 130 pound class.

Fred Whitmire, last year's 157 pound Far Western Conference champion, will be lost for the year when he leaves for a six month's active duty in the service at the end of this semester.

Another problem plaguing coach Ralph Hassman is the weight problem of Darwin Schager. Schager will wrestle in the 123 pound class if he reaches that weight.

Others traveling to Chico will be Howard Covington, 137, Carl Struby, 147, Gene Vejtasa, 157, and Bill Vines, 191.

Delia Johnson Named TEKE '61 Sweetheart

Delia Johnson was recently named as the Tau Kappa Epsilon Sweetheart succeeding Peggy Bailey. Miss Johnson is a 1960 graduate of Arcata High School and is minoring in art at Humboldt. She was a recent finalist for Sempervirens Sweetheart. The new sweetheart was chosen from a field of several candidates.

Six Initiated Into Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity

Six Humboldt men were formally initiated into the Theta Epsilon Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon at a banquet held on Tuesday night at the Bella Vista Inn.

Barry Jensen, Bill Robinson, Ken Davis, Ken Rigby, Richard Griffith, and Marc La Fleur were honored at the Founder's Day program along with the new and old officers. An installation for the new officers followed the initiation ceremony which was presided over by past Prytanis (President) Gary Peterson.

Forestry Club Holds Banquet

More than 100 Forestry Club members, faculty members and guest foresters attended Friday night's Forestry Club banquet in the Campus Activities Center.

The instructors and graduating seniors received gifts from the club and Gerald Partain, associate forestry professor, received a roller-skate size foreign car for being "sports announcer of the year".

The evening's activities included movies and color slides by guest speaker Helmut Muscheid, as well as four skits by club members.

FORENSIC SQUAD TO TOUR

Members of the HSC forensics squad will greet a three-man team from the University of Hawaii in San Francisco Jan. 22 and plan to tour San Quentin Prison and Mendocino and Shasta counties in debate programs during the semester break.

By SANDY WILBUR

Are natural resource courses in college stressing the proper things? When a wildlifer completes four years of schooling and graduates with his Bachelor of Science degree, is he really armed with the best equipment for a wildlife management career? To answer these questions, we'd better first decide what this "best equipment" is.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Park Service have a certain criterion that they use when evaluating the performance of their Student Trainees. Some of the work characteristics that are evaluated are:

1. Oral communication - - Is the student "quick to understand" and does he "speak with assurance and ease"?
2. Written communication - - Are letters and reports neat, concise, and well-arranged?
3. Cooperation - - A good team worker?
4. Relations with others - - Self-confident? Diplomatic?
5. Accuracy.
6. Ability to grasp new methods.
7. Industry and perseverance.

These measured attributes may or may not be listed in the order of importance because I don't know what this order of importance is. However, no matter how you arrange the items on the list, one thing stands out clearly: COMMUNICATION seems to be of great importance. Ability to put your information across written and orally, accurately and intelligibly, is obviously being rated highly. Why?

The answer is that public relations is one of the most important aspects of a wildlifer's job, be he park naturalist, waterfowl biologist, or fisheries technician. The wildlifer is before the public constantly, either in person or through his written communications. His job is to make the public aware of the right ways of resource management. With the pressures of "progress" getting greater all the time, the wildlifer must become more and more the "public-relations man". This will be the only route to proper resource management, as it is becoming "the only route" even today.

This is why I ask if the colleges are really turning out the best possible graduates. Are wildlife students really learning enough about this "public-relations" work that they will be a part of? Are they learning to talk to people, singularly or in a group? Are they learning how to pass on ideas clearly and accurately to others? Can they say the things that one day their work will require them to say? Are they capable of expressing their thoughts informatively and legibly on the printed page? Are they really ready to become the "public-relations men" that are to be so important in the future management of our resources? I wonder.

Up to this point I have been generalizing. Now I can ask, what about the wildlife student at Humboldt State College? Is he being adequately prepared for his life's work? If not, the fault is not completely in the courses (even though student participation in classwork is certainly not stressed).

Many wildlifers are missing the boat by not taking advantage of the opportunities before their eyes. At least four clubs of varying degrees of interest to the wildlifer are open for him in which he can build many of these skills needed by the wildlife "public-relations man".

One example is the conservation education program carried on by Conservation Unlimited. Here is an opportunity to do in school some of the things that will be a part of your job when you leave Humboldt. Yet, what percentage of the wildlifers in this school are taking advantage of this training opportunity?

And what about club and school offices? How many wildlifers are taking advantage of this "public-relations" training? A very small proportion.

How well you will be prepared for your career depends a lot on how much preparation you do. If all your time in college is spent working for mere grades, you are not taking full advantage of the opportunities placed before you. Grades are important, yes, but they are certainly not the whole picture.
