ASB Council Aids Fund

by Steve Brandom

The Student Legislative Council last Tuesday voted to donate $125 to the college memorial fund in memory of Paula Barneburg.

The money was raised in the Hot Prof. contest last fall and council had at first decided to turn the money over to flood relief. However, when it was determined that there was enough money available for this purpose, council felt that the money would be put to good use in the memorial fund.

Lumberjack Editor Bill Huffman presented council with a check for $875 representing a tax rebate for taxes the Lumberjack should never have been charged for over the past three years, by the State. Huffman said, "Apparently in the past this money was taken out and it is not supposed to be. Upon finding this out and determining that the Lumberjack was eligible for the rebate, Lumberjack Advisor Harold Knox immediately requested the return of the tax money from the State."

President Chuck Freitas announced that the Board of Directors of Lumberjack Enterprises was setting up a benefit fund to help and promote the student body as a whole. The amount of money in the fund may equal anything up to $1500 and it may be used for such things as are deemed beneficial to the students.

Hilltopper Sale Early Next Week

Hilltopper, a campus magazine, will make its appearance early next week and will be sold in the bookstore, according to editor Don Ronk.

The magazine boasts a 6 page photo-feature on the flood by Peter Palmquist. In this same mood, there is an interview with a helicopter pilot.

And, photographer Neil Gilchrist presents a new female model, Kerry Collins.

Membership in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" has been achieved by 33 students on the Humboldt State College campus.

This is the seventh year in which a group of Humboldt State College students has been nominated by a secret Faculty Committee for inclusion in the publication. Who's Who is a national organization which has been formed to give recognition to outstanding students.

H. Pettus Randall is in charge of the national organization. Members of Who's Who receive the benefits of a placement service which carries nation wide recognition.

Photography Displays Of Flood On Exhibit

The works of the photographers of Eureka Newspapers Incorporated went on display in the gallery of the Fine Arts Building last week.

Both straight news shots and human interest or feature photographs of the 1964 Christmas flood are being shown. Today is the last day of the exhibit.

Mardi Gras Hop Tomorrow Night In Women's Gym

"Our annual Mardi Gras Dance ... slow, sentimental sounds ... swingin', surfin' sounds ... come one, come all!" These are comments of Randy Ghillarducci, Newman Club President.

At last week's meeting, 24 voted for the sounds; the music of "The Aesthetics."

The Mardi Gras has been a major project of the club for the past few years and "This year's dance (tomorrow) is bound to top them all" comments public relations chairman Roger Haynes.

Through Haynes and co-worker Diane Grinsell, arrangements have been made for Eureka newspaper

Let's Speak Out

How many times have you visited the Health Center for first aid, emergency care, or any medical reasons — once, twice or more since September? How much money do you think the Student Health Service has saved you?

These are all good questions that we should consider. But first consider this question: Could you afford to pay for the medical care that the Student Health Service provides?

Let's take an average guy, we'll call Joe College. He enters HSC as a freshman. His health is good and he likes College. But like most students, Joe has a small health problem, not much really but he has a tendency to have his minor colds turn into bronchitis. So every time Joe gets a cold he heads toward the Health Center for treatment, generally penicillin shots and tablets.

Now if Joe had to go to a private physician every time he got a cold, could he afford to stay in school? Could you? (The penicillin tablets alone cost 25c each and you must take four a day.)

This is a problem that we may have to face especially if we have just entered college. The Legislature of California has delivered a Mandate to the Student Health Services of the California State Colleges requiring a Cost Analysis Survey of each operation.

If we read between the lines, and this isn't hard, then we will discover that the Student Health Services may be done away with. Or as the Proposal so aptly puts it, "No additional full time physicians or nurses will be added to the Student Health Service during the next year (1965-66). Work load increase, result of growth, will be accommodated through contract arrangements with community physicians or private insurance companies."

In other words, the Student Health Services must handle any increase of enrollment with the present overworked staffs.

Furthermore, the Legislative Mandate has already done away with some existing services. That is, "medical examinations for student teachers and credential applications, will be considered the responsibility of the student and be conducted by a private physician (at student's expense)."

The legislature has its proverbial foot in the door with that one and it is coming in, so to say. It further restricts the Student Health Service to extend only basic services and then defines what it considers basic services. Also no part-time or limited students will be allowed any medical care except for emergency or first aid.

The cost analysis survey goes into effect at the start of the 1965 school year. There is a possibility that if things go badly for the students, the Student Health Service may not exist at the start of the 1966 school year.

For those less-fortunate at the newest state colleges, the problem of not having a campus health center is already upon them.

What are we to do to keep from losing these services? First of all we can let the ASB President know how we feel. Secondly, let our parents and friends know and enlist their help.

Third, we can let our State Senator and Representative know. (Even if you're not of legal voting age your letter will mean something). Fourth and by no means last, we should let the college administration know that we want and need these services.

It's up to each and everyone of you. If we allow the Legislature to win this round, there may not be another for us to fight.

CAC Will Open On Weekends

Today Last Day To Drop Classes Without Penalty

Today is the last day students may drop classes without penalty, according to Registrar Thomas Price.

Students who drop a class or withdraw from school after today will receive a grade of pass or fail for classes dropped.

A student who has an "F" in a class which is dropped after today will have this grade in his transcripts. An "F" received in this manner is not distinguished from an "F" which the student might receive if he had not dropped a class.

Journalism Group Adds Seven New Members to Roll

The journalism honorary fraternity, Alpha Phi Gamma, held a pledge meeting Thursday in the journalism office of the Language Art Building to formulate plans for pledging activities.

Qualifications for membership of APG include two semesters work of superior quality on campus publications.

Invited into the group were: Pete Palmquist, Judith Wyland, Elmer Kerhes, Jr., Bill Batze, Steve Peithman, Mary Jo Connely, and Don Ronk, editor of "Hilltopper Magazine."

According to president Dale Potts, the fraternity will be participating in the National Convention to be held on the California State Campus in Hayward in conjunction with the California Intercollegiate Press Association Convention.

Bill Huffman, vice president of the fraternity commented that the chapter, after being inactive on campus for a couple of years, re-applied for an active charter in the National group last year following its reorganization by former Lumberjack editor, Dale Potts.

Alpha Phi Gamma is recognized as a campus organization by the Associated Student Body. The main purpose of the chapter is to promote journalism excellence at HSC and to give recognition to journalistic ability.

Current members include Potts, Huffman, Chuck Freitas, Donna Vanni, Dede Boemker, Robert McMahan and advisor Harold Knox.

Chamber Concert Will Be Sunday

The February chamber music concert is scheduled for presentation by the music department on Sunday, February 28, at 8:15 p.m. in the music building.

The program will include a group of selections by the Madrigal Singers directed by Dr. Leon Wagner, and a piano duet by Professors Charles Fulkerson and Arthur Tollefson.

A Beethoven string quintet will also perform. It includes Mrs. Doris Eikenberry and Mrs. Marianne Pinches, violins; Mr. Floyd Glende and Mrs. Esther Thompson, violas; and Mrs. Jean Fulkerson, cello.

This is the first concert of the semester. One will be held the last Sunday of each month and all programs are free to the public.

"In This Corner"

By STEVE PEITHMAN

In an effort to soothe jangled nerves and decrease the blood pressure of campus Greeks, it should be noted that last week's column was not meant so much as an attack against Greeks, but rather as a parody of the previous week's "Greek Way" column, which represented fraternities as the greatest thing since cherry-flavored cough drops and a cross between Phi Beta Kappa and the Young Men's Christian Association. But enough of this (a 70 word sentence is more than adequate); let us push on to the matter at hand.

Today, we turn our column over to Miss LaBerta W. Hatwick, famed advice columnist, who is visiting our campus in an effort to solve some of the many problems facing our students.

Advice To The Loveworn

Dear Miss Hatwick:

I am infatuated with one of my teachers. I sit in the front row of all his classes, wear my sexiest dresses, and smile at him constantly, but he never gives me so much as a second look. What's wrong with me?

(signed) George

Dear George:

Nobody's perfect. Take stock of yourself to find what is causing your problem. It may be something quite obvious. Good luck.

Dear Miss Hatwick:

I am a young girl with a problem. I live with my cruel step-mother and my two ugly stepsisters. They make me do all the dirty work around the house while they sit around and gab. Next week, they're all going to a dance and I have to stay home. What should I do?

(signed) Frazzled

Dear Frazzled:

You are stagnating in this environment. Develop new interests. Start going to parties and dances. Don't overdo it right away, however, try to be home before midnight or you may have problems.

Dear Miss Hatwick:

Should I marry a man who lies to me?

(signed) Wondering

Dear Wondering:

Do you want to be an old maid?

Dear Miss Hatwick:

I am about to be married to a boy whom my parents have never met. His father is serving time for embezzlement. His mother forges checks. His sister is an alcoholic, and his brother is being investigated by the House Un-American Activities Committee. Do you think our marriage has a chance?

(signed) Anxious

Dear Anxious:

A chance of what?

College President Returns After Recruiting Trip

President Cornelius Siemens recently returned from his annual nationwide faculty recruiting trip.

During the trip, which lasted three weeks, Siemens spent the majority of his time interviewing the prime candidates for the administration vacancies of Vice-President for Academic Affairs and Dean of Administration. The top prospects will be invited to the campus for further interviews.

The rest of his time was spent in attending educational conferences and interviewing candidates for the twenty-one faculty positions which will be open next year.

About half of the positions have been filled, with new faculty members to include a forestry professor from Harvard, a marine biologist from Woods Hole, Massachusetts, and a theatre arts director from Iowa State University.

President Siemens also said that a former HSC graduate, Frank Jewett, who is completing work for a Ph.D. degree in Economics at Claremont, will also join the faculty next year. Mr. Jewett graduated from HSC in 1962.

While on the trip, Siemens "found the reputation of State Colleges to be steadily increasing throughout the nation, and, except for our slow progress in increasing our faculty salaries, good candidates are interested in coming to California."

President Siemens was housed in the guest rooms of the Student Union Buildings of the University of Michigan and the University of Illinois while at those schools. He found the rooms to be very quiet and comfortable, service almost as complete as that of a modern hotel, and the rates about the same as hotel rates.

Notice

More students will now qualify for campus jobs under the Work-Study Program through the use of an affidavit affirming no financial help from the parents.

The program which starts Monday, has until now barred a number of students from participation because of their parents' income. For further information, contact the College Placement Office.

SPEAKING OUT

by ED JESSON

ONE NIGHT IN JAIL

Receiving a parking ticket on this campus is a common occurrence, but spending a night in the county jail for contempt of court because of actions indirectly caused by a parking ticket is by no means a regular occurrence.

Several days ago a Humboldt State student received a parking ticket from the campus security police for not having a parking sticker. There was no question that he was in violation of the state parking regulation, but because of the circumstances involved in the violation this student felt he should not have to pay the fine.

Later the same day he went down to the local court in hopes of seeing a judge so he could appeal his ticket, but before the day was over he was in jail for the night on contempt of court charges.

As far as could be ascertained from numerous interviews with the parties involved, the actions that put this student in jail were for arguing with one of the clerks about whether he had a chance of winning his case, and humming rather loudly in the courtroom while waiting for the judge.

Needless to say both the clerk and the student were adamant on their stand and a little friction resulted. The argument reached a point of intensity that the court recorder had to inform the student to stop his arguing or she would have to call an officer.

The court recorder then took the student into the court room where he was immediately questioned by an officer as to what had happened outside the court room. As soon as the officer left, leaving the courtroom empty, this student started humming intentionally and was quickly told to be quiet by the court recorder.

This student had to leave the court in order to work on a report, but returned later that day to see the judge. Before he was able to see the judge, the judge had a conference with the clerk and the court recorder. As soon as they were finished the student was able to see the judge.

Apparently the discussion, which later developed into an argument between the student and the clerk, began when the student informed the clerk that he wanted "to take the ticket to court". Focal point of the argument was the clerk's insistence that the student couldn't hope to win his case.

Editor's Note: Few parking tickets ever get to the judge in most municipal or justice courts, but motorists have the right to bring their citations before the bench if they feel they have a case, because clerks do not have the authority to dismiss the citations.

When he came into the judge's

Editor's Note

In order to maintain procedures and policies, the Lumberjack was unable to run a "late" letter to the editor from the Arcata Justice Court concerning a reply to last week's editorial, "It's Time To Change".

Judge Ernest Sweet instructed editor Bill Huffman to publish this letter or suffer "serious repercussions".

The letter will be published next week.

office the judge quickly made a comment that the student could be put in jail for one day on contempt of court charges. In an interview with the student he stated that, "This really startled me." The judge proceeded to hear the student's story on the ticket, and rendered a decision of guilty. The judge then told the student he would have to spend a night in jail for contempt of court. He immediately walked out of the chambers leaving the student still trying to find out what he had done.

In the interview with the judge the point was established by the judge that the student was charged with contempt of court because he refused to obey the order of the court thus interrupting the due course of the judicial process, the order of the court being for him to be quiet and stop pestering the clerks in the office.

Does this student's action legally constitute contempt of court in that he was disturbing the judicial process? This is clearly a moot question and the answer is dependent upon how rigid or broad judicial process is defined.

An interesting point was discovered in the interviews and that was after the judge made this conviction, the student at no time was informed of his rights concerning his arrest. He was not even told he could make a telephone call, and had a hard time getting permission to contact his roommate so the roommate could drive his car back to the dorm.

In rendering his decision the judge was far from impartial. He only heard the clerk's side, who by now was emotionally involved, with no chance afforded to the student to defend himself. Incidentally, the judge did not even hear the argument between the student and the clerk.

The ridiculousness of this whole occurrence is sad because now this student has a court record because he argued with a clerk over whether he had a chance to fight a two dollar fine. All parties involved in this case can learn something from it. The student can learn to treat the court with a little more respect, the judge might use a little more discretion in his decisions, and his clerks should learn to use tact instead of arrogance.

Meet Your Professor

Today's Meet Your Professor program will be a debate between Dr. James F. Walsh and Dr. Daniel H. Brant, both associate professors of zoology, on the topic "Can mankind be improved genetically."

The program will be presented in the CAC lounge, with free coffee being provided.

About 75 attended last week's talk given by Dr. John Borgerson, associate professor of physical science.

If the 2 o'clock time is inconvenient, Terry Smith, activities advisor, has asked that students notify him or someone on the Student Activities Commission and maybe the time can be moved to later in the afternoon.

Foresters Hear Becking Talk At Monday's Meeting

Dr. Rudolf Becking, associate professor of forestry, presented an illustrated lecture on European forestry practices at a Forestry Club meeting Monday night.

The geographical areas covered in the lecture included Holland, Scotland and Germany, with the principal area concerned being Holland, where Becking is from originally.

He discussed the problems of foresters in Holland and how some of these problems have been solved. Examples of such problems in this area were the dense population of the country, and the great emphasis that the people place on the aesthetic value of their scenery.

Also presented were the reforestation problem that has been, and still is, faced in Scotland and the very intensive nature of forest management in Germany.

The many pictures shown by Becking were taken by him while visiting in Europe last summer.

According to Warren Warfield, assistant chief forester, the presentation brought out many interesting highlights about forestry practices in Europe.

Also during its meeting, the Forestry Club completed its election of new officers. The seats left to be filled included one new position and two posts vacated by students leaving school.

The full Spring, 1965 slate of club officers includes: Dave Phillips, chief forester; Warren Warfield, assistant chief forester; Bob Graton, fiscal forester; Darius Adams, recording forester; Earle Gutman, reporting forester; Russ Case, school forest ranger; Al Corda and John Lissoway, whistle punks; Harold Hartman, freshman whip; Dave Rosgen, AWFC vice-president; and Joe Dillard, AWFC conservation officer.

HSC Baseballers Open Season

'Jacks To Face All Stars In Weekend Series Here

Thirteen lettermen will lead coach Oed Kinser's Lumberjack baseball squad into their season opener tomorrow when the 'Jacks face the College All Stars in a double-header on the college diamond. The first game is set to start at 1 p.m.

The 'Jacks will also meet this same All Star team in a single game Sunday at 1 p.m.

Last year the Lumberjacks finished with their best season in many years as they swept their final three double headers and wound up with a league mark of 9-3 and a second place finish.

This year's Humboldt squad is the largest in HSC history as 52 players turned out for the opening of spring training. Most of the freshmen and some other players will be put on the Junior Jacks' roster so they will be able to see more action and thus be more prepared for the varsity next year.

This year's squad should have plenty of experience as only two starters are missing from last year's team.

Highlighting the 'Jacks strong points will be their pitching department as five of their six hurlers are returning from last year. Dennis Filkins, Bill Wilkinson, Jay Dickinson, George Lottritz, and Tom Rice will handle most of the pitching chores for the 'Jacks again this year.

Filkins ended up with a 9-2 season mark last year while Wilkinson recorded a 7-2 mark.

This year's infield will be made up of an all veteran lineup with Ted Snapp or Jon Burgess at first base, Joe Sarboe at second, Gary Owens at shortstop, and captain Jim Bonomini at third. Sarboe was an all conference choice at second last year and Owens was one of the 'Jack's leading hitters.

In the outfield will be Dave Minor in center, Jon Burgess in left, and probably either Doug Mudford or one of a large group of newcomers in right.

Ben Terry and Frank West will hold down the catching chores this year.

Replacements had to be made for Owens and Sarboe for tomorrow's games as both will be playing basketball until March 1. Newcomer Pat Patton also is presently playing basketball.

The All Stars, who are managed by Jack Altman, will have Al Schrader, Antone Blascini, and Jerry Smith at the catcher spot. Schrader played four years in the Chicago White Sox chain.

In the infield for the All Stars will be D. J. Ford and Don Carter at first base, Bob Bonomini and Monty Feekees at second, Scott Hunt at short and John Costa at third. Carter spent a while in the Braves chain.

In the outfield the Stars will have Tom Dimercurio, Nick Cizmich, Dennis Pontoni, Roger Tofft, Frank Maltagliatti, and Ralph Mayo. Dimercurio is well remembered at Humboldt as he has been captain of the 'Jacks' squad for the last two seasons. Pontoni is also a former captain for the 'Jacks.

Larry Taylor, Al Kinney, and Larry Johnson will handle the pitching chores for the All Stars. Kinney has played in the Cincinnati organization.

As Joe Taylor (42) jumps up for another basket, number 43 of the Cal State Pioneers tries to block him during Saturday night's game here. Cal State won the game 79-57.

Cagers Host Cal Aggies Tonight; Finish Season Against Sacramento

The Lumberjack hardwood quintet is closing out its season as the 'Jacks host the Cal Aggies tonight and Sacramento State Monday.

Both games, which begin at 8:15, should be tough for the 'Jacks as both the Cal Aggies and Sacramento have strong offensive units.

Tonight Humboldt will be up against the Aggie's Russ Slater and Ralph Johnson who between them scored more than 60 points in their last game. Slater is fourth in the Far Western Conference standings with nearly 20 points per game while Johnson is right behind him with 19 points a game.

The 'Jacks happenless, 79-57, encounter with the San Francisco Gators last Friday was "no contest." The ball-controlling invaders "swished" at a 51 per cent clip the first half and never checked the rear view as they managed to finish with a sizzling .472 (34-72) field goal percentage. Lumberjack loyalists grimaced, noting Humboldt's .241 (19-79) lack-luster labors.

Saturday's anti-climatic clincher seemed fore-ordained as the 'Jacks lost 68-53 to Cal State's Hayward Pioneers.

Coach Cooper summarized that he "anticipated two strong clubs and some superior talent, but the games were even worse than I expected." "At least," added the coach, "we aren't suffering from any injuries and (Gary) Owens and (Joe) Taylor should be in top shape for tonight's game."

FWC Wrestling Championships Will Be Held Here Tomorrow

The Lumberjack wrestling team is preparing itself for the Far Western Conference Tournament which will be held here tomorrow.

The meet will be held in the big gym with the preliminaries beginning at 1 p.m. and the finals at 8 p.m.

Best hopes for Humboldt appear to be in Tom Olgesby, Larry Warmly, Jerry MacPherson, and Tim Fox.

Admission to the tournament will be $1.00 for general admission and 50 cents for students. The ticket will allow you to see all or part of the tournament.

The 'Jacks probable starting lineup will be: Steve Land (123 lbs.) and he has a conference record of 1-1; Al Mirati (130 lbs.) with 0-0 record; Ron Kelsy (137 lbs.) with 1-0 mark; Jerry MacPherson (147 lbs.) with 4-1 record; Tim Fox (157 lbs.) with 1-1-2 mark; Larry Warmly (167 lbs.) with 3-2 mark; Tom Olgesby (177 lbs.) with 4-1 mark; Ed Johnson (191 lbs.) with 1-1 record, and Don Banghart (Unlimited) with a 1-4 league record.

Vern Beeson will be an alternate in either the 130 lbs. class or the 137 lbs. class. His record is 0-0 in league matches.

Last week the 'Jacks traveled to Vallejo to compete in the Vallejo AAU Open Wrestling Tournament. Coach Ralph Hassman entered men in seven weight divisions.

Placing for Humboldt were Craig Richardson, fourth in the 125½ lbs. class; Ron Kelsy, fourth in the 138½ lbs. class; and Larry Warmly in the 171½ lbs. class. The 'Jacks had a real surprise when Mike Pascoe took a first in the 213½ lbs. division.
