

2016

To Find Life

Sierra Howard

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.humboldt.edu/toyon>

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Howard, Sierra (2016) "To Find Life," Toyon Literary Magazine: Vol. 62 : Iss. 1 , Article 14.

Available at: <https://digitalcommons.humboldt.edu/toyon/vol62/iss1/14>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at Digital Commons @ Humboldt State University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Toyon Literary Magazine by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ Humboldt State University. For more information, please contact kyle.morgan@humboldt.edu.

To Find Life

by Sierra Howard

"Go find something to do,"
She'd say, with a nod
Of her head in that austere way.

"Go find something to do,"
She'd say, "I don't Care what just go outside for the day."

"Go find something do to,"
She'd say, and I'd think
To myself, 'but there's nothing to play'

With that she'd point, out over the sink
"There's a whole new world out there just waiting for you to think,

Of things anew that couldn't possibly make sense. Try envisioning the world
Through a whole different lens.

Go find a place that calls to you, let your mind sail aloft and the nature pour inside you
Let your imagination not get caught

Within the tangles of reality
The lackluster of sensibility.

With the whip of the towel, and
A shoo out the door, for life's an adventure,
You just have to explore."