The Parliamentary Debate, "Resolved: Women Should be Kept Barefoot, Pregnant, and in the Kitchen" turned into a battle of the sexes with the majority, mostly women, opposing the resolution. The Pro side consisted of about 20 students, mostly men, of course.

Women NOT Barefoot, Pregnant, Or In Kitchen

Women should not be barefoot, pregnant and in the kitchen. This was the decision of 38 people, mostly women, who attended the Parliamentary Debate held last Wednesday. Twenty, mostly men, were opposed.

Ted Kay and Bruce Johnston argued in favor of the resolution: "Women should be kept Barefoot, Pregnant, and in the Kitchen." Suzy Moore and Linda Sterling took the con side.

The con side said: "The art of being a housewife is becoming extinct." Johnston said that a woman should stay home to sew, cook, and can so that she can save money as well as be with her family. He added that he would agree to let her out of the house at least twice a month for "extracurricular activities."

If women stayed in the home instead of taking jobs, there would be less juvenile delinquency, said the pro side.

The con side argued that "housewifery" presents little challenge to the adult mind. "She does not have to divorce her husband or abandon her children to take a job," said Linda Sterling.

"It's the quality, not the quantity of time that a woman spends with her family that is important," said the con side.

During the discussion period that followed, one audience member asked who would be the kindergarten teachers and nurses if women did not work. Members of the pro side questioned whether a woman's first role is to her home or to herself.

Following the discussion, the audience divided and the deciding vote was counted.

The next debate, planned for May 14, will be: "Resolve: Homosexuals Should Have the Right to Do Their Own Thing."

by Robert Ehrlich

At any California State College, the responsibility for administration and management is granted to the Board of Trustees, sixteen of whom are appointed to eight year terms in rotating fashion by the Governor. The other four are ex-officio members: The Governor, Lt. Governor, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Chancellor of the State Colleges.

Perhaps the most striking fact about members of the Board of Trustees is the nature of their financial holdings. Many of them hold positions on the board of directors of large corporations, banks, and insurance companies, or are in some way affiliated with business or industrial enterprises.

Alec Cory is vice-president of Fed-Mart Corporation and secretary of the City Bank of San Diego. Paul Spencer (recently replaced as a trustee) is a director of Reliable Savings and Loan Association and Advanced Steel Corporation. Theodore Meriam, board chairman, is a department store manager and vice-president and director of Lassen Savings and Loan Association. Daniel Ridder is on the board of directors of the Bank of Long Beach and the U.S. National Bank of San Diego.

These men are the "small men." The "big men" seem to have their hands into everything.

George Hart is on the board of directors of Babcock-Wilcox, the 141st largest U.S. industry, whose profits last year exceeded $26,700,000. He is also a director of the Bank of San Rafael and a

STUDENT LEADERS IN WAR STATEMENT

"Will Not Serve"

In protest against the Viet Nam war, 253 student body presidents and newspaper editors from throughout the United States have signed a public statement saying that they "will not serve in the military as long as the war in Viet Nam lasts."

The statement, signed by editors and/or ASB presidents from 23 colleges, and universities in California alone, pointed out that in the spring of 1967, over 1000 seminarians wrote to then Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara suggesting the recognition of conscientious objection to particular wars as a way of "easing the coming confrontation between the demands of law and order and those whose conscience will not permit them to fight in Viet Nam."

Furthermore, the statement added, in June 1967, a number of student body presidents and campus newspaper editors submitted a second letter (having sent a first one in December 1966) to President Johnson, this time enclosing a petition signed by 10,000 draft eligible students, from nine campuses, calling for alternative service for those who could not fight in Viet Nam.

"Nonetheless," the statement says, "despite all our efforts, the Selective Service System has remained impervious to constructive change."

The statement reads in part: "Most of us have worked in electoral politics and throughout other channels to change the course of America's foreign policy and to remove the inequities of the draft system. We will continue to work in these ways, but the possible results of these efforts will come too late for those whose deferments will soon expire. We must make an agonizing choice: to accept induction into the armed forces, which we feel would be irresponsible to ourselves, our country, and our fellow man; or refuse induction, which is contrary to our respect for law and order and involves injury to our personal lives and careers.

"Left without a third alternative, we will act according to our conscience. Along with thousands of our fellow students, we campus leaders can not participate in a war which we believe to be immoral and unjust..."

California universities, colleges, and junior colleges represented by those who signed are U. C. Davis, San Francisco State, U. C. Berkeley, College of Marin, San Luis Rey College, Occidental College, College of San Mateo, Stanford, University of San Diego, St. Mary's, U.C. Irvine, Menlo College, California Institute of Technology, USC, UCLA, Whittier College, Fresno Pacific College, U.C. Riverside, Chico State, Palomar College, Shasta College, and Chapman College.

Other schools represented were University of Nevada, University of Chicago, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Colgate, Oregon State, University of Washington, Wyracuse University, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Yale, Purdue, and Rutgers.

Tokenism and You

The Peer Group Concept calls for meaningful involvement of students in the affairs of the college, along with the responsibilities involved in involvement. The first step toward the accomplishment of this ideal was made by the Ad Hoc Committee to Study Student Participation on College Committees in its report to the President.

The report states, "Students should be appointed membership on committees which make decisions directly affecting students." Assuming that the recommendations of the Committee (which call for nine more student positions on college committees) are carried out by the college president, the question arises if we can handle the jobs.

Last spring the "Meet Your Prof" series died for lack of interest. The last of the series was attended by five persons, including the Lumberjack reporter.

A grand total of 12.8 per cent of the students voted in the last Student Legislative election. The candidate getting the most votes was elected by five per cent, or 200, of the students.

The various committees and boards within the student government structure consist of a relatively small number of students doing the greatest portion of the work. It is difficult for the Student Body President to find students interested enough and with the capabilities required for ASB positions (College Program Board, College Union Board, vacant Council seats, etc.) outside of the present group.

With this in mind, how can we justify getting more students on campus committees? If we can't keep our own house in order, how can we expect to gain some influence on the operations of the college?

The truth is that there have been many successful experiments with students working on college committees. The Joint Student-Faculty Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics (JCIA) has four student members with full voting rights. This committee has successfully supervised and coordinated all of the athletic programs at HSC.

The On Campus Housing Committee is successfully administering the Peer Group Concept for the benefit of dorm residents. This committee has five student representatives, one short of a majority.

The appointment of a student to the Vice President Selection Committee has proved to be a success.

So we have a challenge to show that we can accept these responsibilities. What we can do about it is set our own house in order, make our government representative by participating in government affairs. The Student Body President is always looking for new blood in making appointments. Offer him yours.

This increased participation will cause a reduction in the work load on those who are now overloaded with big tasks.

The report on student participation seems to be tokenism at first appearance. The result of its recommendations, if all approved, would not give students much more voice than they have now (32 voices instead of 23 students on committees). But it is a challenge, a challenge to show our administration that we can do a job with just as much, if not more, competence.

Letters to the Editor

Greased Pig

Dear Editor:

I was quite impressed with the Lumberjack Day events Thursday, Friday, and Saturday until the greased pig contest. I, as well as my two guests from the bay area, were quite shocked by "gladiator" display of 150-200 lb. men against 50 lb. pigs whose only interest in the arena was to get the hell out of there. It would have surprised me if the small pigs escaped from broken ribs and/or internal injuries.

Couldn't this contest as easily have been done with a greased watermelon, as it seemed obvious that the main fun originated from people slogging around in the mud. Or better yet, why not make it safe to the pig and still safe for the contestants by using about a 300-lb. sow and having team competition in hauling it off.

At least I would hope that small pigs were not used again for an event in a school which is so inherently interested in natural resources.

Discrepancies

Dear Editor:

A few discrepancies in some aspects of the Lumberjack Days celebrations have come to our attention. Last year we thought it to be a bit out of taste when the prize for the Belle of the Woods consisted of a cracked frying pan glued onto a piece of wood which was fringed by dirty lace held together by thumbtacks. To finish off this beautiful masterpiece, the names of most of the past Belle of the Woods winners were glued on one side of the wood beside the pan. Of course the 1966 winner's name was on upside down, 1967's name had not been included and the 1968 winner was never contacted to have her name placed on the plaque, and never received any other memento.

This year's Belle had a one-sentence coverage in the Lumberjack, with her name spelled wrong. The person quoted as last year's winner was not last year's winner, and had, in fact, not been on campus during her "winning weekend."

This year's winners of the Spring Sing had two more sentences in the Lumberjack than they had last year; which brought their total coverage to two wondrous sentences.

It is too bad that Humboldt's major celebration for the spring can only rate a total of five pictures and five short articles in the campus paper. We believe it would be of great value to the ASB if the Lumberjack could come out with a special edition of Lumberjack Days coverage in partial lieu of a yearbook. A lot of people worked a long time to put on Lumberjack Days and it is a discredit to them to ignore so much of their fine work.

Jill McIntire
Diane Curtis
Gail Suszczynski

Editor's Note: The Lumberjack is not a yearbook, and is not financed for special editions. Incidentally, there were two and one half pages of Lumberjack Days coverage in two issues of the paper, including twelve pictures and ten stories. The Lumberjack would like to officially apologize for the misspelling of Miss Suszczynski's name.

Smol...

Despite efforts of students at HSC and elsewhere, the "Save the Smothers Brothers" movement has apparently been to no avail, as CBS has announced in a press release a "contemporary musical comedy-variety program" to be aired starting next fall in the time slot now occupied by the Smothers Brothers.

The program, yet untitled, according to the CBS release, will star Leslie Uggams. The release from CBS made no mention of the fact that the 9-10 p.m. Sunday time slot the program will appear in is that currently held by the Smothers Brothers. The announcement of the program reportedly was made by CBS president Robert D. Wood in a closed circuit broadcast to all CBS affiliates.

Woods was quoted in the release as saying, "We are confident that she (Miss Uggams) will give us a program which can be enjoyed by all segments of the television audience."

representatives who serve on the HSC Foundation, for meeting the request for funds made by the editors of Toyon Review magazine this year, when the magazine found itself in dangerous economic straits. Both the Board of Finance and the Foundation, rather than quibbling over reasons why fund requests had not been made during 1967-68 as they should have been, came through with the money needed for us to get out a magazine whose pages and print we may now treat with the dignity befitting them, the efforts of the student short story writers, the student poets, the photographers whose work will appear therein.

What these two committees did on behalf of Toyon Review was extremely important, striking a blow for the perpetuation of part of what is best in man — his achievement in art.

Perhaps the two committees were aware of this fact of the essential value of art when they committed money to our magazine. Perhaps they knew too that the remorseless stride of time may not look kindly upon much of our own America — our NATO warships, our armies and navies, our B-52's, our 1969 Eldorados, our administrative decisions, no, nor even upon our Peace Corps and cities and suburbs and our great bridges and our vast freeway systems — for these too may one day themselves be idle curiosity pieces for the historian as surely as is an overgrown Roman road in

Students study "Photography in the Twentieth Century," a traveling exhibit displaying photographs of some of the foremost photographers in the world. The display, placed in the Art-Music Building will remain on campus till Friday, and viewing times are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"Photography in the Twentieth Century" is the title of the exhibition of 150 photographs by the world's foremost photographers which will open in the gallery of the Art-Music Building at Humboldt State College on Monday, May 5.

The exhibition is a traveling collection selected by Nathan Lyons, Associate Director and Curator of Photography of the George Eastman House in Rochester, N.Y. The Eastman museum, chartered by the Regents of the State of New York in 1947, maintains a permanent collection of photographs, motion pictures, apparatus, documents, and books.

The institution also organizes exhibitions for display throughout the world, conducts research in the history of photography and cinematography, and supports a publications program.

The 150 photos of the exhibition were published in a book by the same title. The collection reflects the museum's mission to "establish, develop, and maintain a graphic and continuing history of photography."

Prepared in collaboration with the National Gallery of Canada, the collection opened there in February of 1967. A tour in the spring of 1968 carried it throughout Canada.

The display, open to the public, will remain at HSC until Friday, May 23. Hours will be 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

College Analyst Position Opened

Applications are being taken at HSC for the position of Assistant Personnel Analyst, which will be established July 1. The post will entail personnel classification studies, recruitment and testing, and orientation and training under the general direction of the College Personnel Officer.

Qualifications for the post include a minimum of two years of full-time experience in professional personnel work or a closely related field, preferably in higher education, and a bachelor's degree or equivalent. Preference will be given candidates with a master's degree in an appropriate field.

The monthly salary range is from $783 to $950.

Application for the position will be accepted in the College Personnel Office, Room 214 of the Administration Building, until June 1. Further information may be obtained by contacting the College Personnel Officer, Humboldt State College, Arcata, Calif. 95521, telephone 826-3736.

Statistics Given

Statistics concerning the number of students in each academic class who made the cumulative presidential scholars list and the winter quarter scholar's list have been released by Registrar John Fry.

There are actually two lists, Fry said. One is the cumulative list and the other is a list for the preceding quarter.

During the winter quarter, 33 freshmen, 4.7 per cent of the class, 73 sophomores, 10.5 per cent, 98 juniors, 7.9 per cent, and 108 seniors or 9.5 per cent of their class made the scholar's list.

Budgets Are Questioned

Procedures and schedules for this week's budget hearings were outlined at Thursday night's Student Legislative Council meeting. Four groups have requested budget appeals. They are, Y.E.S., W.R.A., Frosh Camp and Toyon. Three representatives from each group are allowed to make a five-minute opening statement, after which Council may ask questions and an open discussion will take place.

The groups are seeking appeals on funds given them in the 1969-70 budget which came out recently.

The Council also approved a motion to allocate up to $350 in additional funds to Toyon, the campus literary magazine. A $400 original allocation had been made. The HSC Foundation gave the ASB the $350 to use toward Toyon.

General Manager Howard Goodwin gave a brief report on Camellia Bowl revenues, a total of $7,690 was received from NCAA.

President Hartman told council that Norman Epstein, Chief Counsel for the California State Colleges, is scheduled to be on campus May 13 and 14 for the purpose of discussing with anyone on campus legal matters concerning the college. Students may make appointments with Dean of Student Affairs.

KEET Plans Auction

KEET TV, which is currently broadcasting daytime programs has scheduled an auction to be held on the evenings of May 22, 23, 24, 25, to help raise money to begin a tentative night-time program schedule.

The educational station, which recently started broadcasting during daytime hours only, will offer such programs as The World Press, Spectrum, and Net Playhouse in their night-time listings.

Why is Camaro the pace car again?

Official Indianapolis 500 Pace Car, Camaro SS Convertible with Rally Sport equipment and new Super Scoop hood.

Because it's the Hugger.

Camaro SS has been chosen to be the Indy 500 pace car for the second time in three years. That's because it has what it takes.

Engine choices start with a standard 300-hp 350-cu.-in. Turbo-Fire V8 and run up to a 325-hp 396-cu.-in. Turbo-Jet job. There's even a new Super Scoop hood you can order. It opens on acceleration, pouring cooler air into the engine for more go power.

The SS version of the Hugger grips the road with wide-oval tires on 14 x 7-inch-wide wheels, beefedup suspension and power disc brakes.

The transmission comes linked to a 3-speed floor shift. If you want still more, there's a 4-speed Hurst shifter available.

Indy's tough. So's Camaro SS.

When it comes to pacesetter, it's pretty clear that Camaro knows its way around.

No Action In Plane Buzz

During the logging events of Lumberjack Days a light airplane appeared over the crowd and made what some people said were low passes and did a few figure-eights. Spectators in the crowd commented on how low the plane was and speculated that the pilot would have his license revoked for such actions.

The local Federal Aviation Administration representative, John Payne, said in an interview that no action has been taken because nothing has been reported. Payne said that in order to do anything about such an incident, the FAA needs to know the time, place, number of the plane and any other information available.

When such cases are documented, Payne said, usually he and the county director of aviation meet with the person and discuss the situation. If the person has a record of such actions, he may be fined or have his license revoked. If it is the first case and the person did not realize what he was doing, he may just receive a warning.

The incident was reported to Eureka Aero, supposed owners of the rental plane. John Flynn, of the company, said that the person who checked out the plane supposed to have been the one in question, does not have a telephone so they have not been able to contact him. Flynn said that no one has been willing to say that the plane was actually flying below the legal limit. He said that in two years they have not had any similar problems.

Winnie Named For Grad Talk

Rich Winnie, ASB Vice President, was named last week to speak for the Seniors at the graduation ceremonies, according to Michael Corcoran, chairman of the 1969 Commencement Committee. The time for the ceremonies was set at 10:00 a.m. so that the heat of the afternoon will not bother those attending, he said.

The selection of Redwood Bowl as the site for the event was made necessary by the size of the expected graduating class and people attending, according to Corcoran. The ceremonies will have to be postponed in event of rain, he said, because the Men's Gym is inadequate.

Campaign Promises, How Many Kept?

by Judy Brown

Elections bring many promises by candidates. How many of the campaign statements are actually put into practice by the elected official after the campaigning is over?

Current President Harold Hartman, a senior forestry major, outlined a six-point program last spring as a part of his campaign platform.

Among the points listed were: reorganization of administrative and legislative branches, (the president and vice-president representing the students and suggesting ideas, while the Council serves the legislative function), push for pre-registration, fight against tuition, and revision of dorms and housing policies.

During the past year under Hartman and Vice-President Rich Winnie a Housing Committee has been established. The committee has been working on problems concerning housing for students, especially in view of the coming freeway.

In an interview, Hartman said he felt he had accomplished his objectives and more. In the area of student representation, Hartman presented an alternate to the state college student president's policy supporting strike efforts on the campuses. He did this, Hartman said, because he felt he was representing the feelings of HSC students.

In the fall of 1968, Hartman discussed the need to evaluate college committees based on the idea that students, as members of the college community, should have their viewpoints heard at the policy recommending level.

Since then, there has been increased student representation. Students have positions on the committee to select a Vice-President for Academic Affairs, the committee investigating semester-quarter change and finals week committee.

Hartman added that many objectives were merely directed by him and Council carried out the programs.

Rich Winnie, a senior economics major and ASB Vice-President stressed the need for a committee structure in council which would help accomplish objectives. Student Legislative Council has committees working on different problem areas, among them the utility committee discussing the proposed student park and the policy committee which has been working on the chaperone policy.

Both stressed the desire for a stronger student government. Hartman said that they outlined programs but that council itself has set goals under the committee structure.

He is also on the board of directors of Northrop Corporation, which specializes in military aircraft, missiles, and space equipment; American Potash and Chemical Corporation and its parent monopoly Kerr-McGee, the 202nd largest industrial corporation in the nation, with assets of $600,000,000; and Rheem Manufacturing.

Charles Luckman, former president of Pepsodent Company and Lever Brothers, is president of Luckman Associates, an architectural firm which in the past ten years has reaped an income in excess of $1,500,000,000. Luckman designed the strategic air force and naval bases in Spain and Thailand. In addition, he sits on the board of directors of Flying Tiger Lines, the outfit with the major contract for flying war materials to Vietnam.

Dudley Swim is a member of the board of directors of Delmonte Corporation, the 168th largest industry in the United States, and also a director of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company (along with Trustee Hart). Finally, he is chairman of the board of National Airlines.

Karl Wente is president of Wente Brothers Winery, of Wente Farms and the Wente Land and Cattle Company. He is also a director of the Livermore branch of the Bank of America and the American Automobile Association.

IN ADDITION TO THEIR INVOLVEMENT in the business world through directorships and presidencies, some of the trustees maintain ties as lawyers for business firms.

James Thacker is a lawyer who used to work for the Sullivan and Cromwell law firm (a Rockefeller outfit that gave the world John Foster Dulles) which handles accounts for big corporations and was instrumental in the 1930's in placing American capital in the service of German industrialists financing and rearming Hitler through the firm of J. The control exercised over business and industry by members of the board of trustees in many instances extends to the field of real estate, which in turn depends upon banks, insurance companies, and investment concerns to underwrite mortgages and loans.

Paul Spencer is a designer and draftsman, whose organization created Sycamore Groves Inc., which operates a 98-unit apartment project in Highland Park, Los Angeles. He also owns various other properties which include industrials, citrus, and avocado ranches.

THERE ALSO IS CONSIDERABLE CONTROL exercised over the news media by members of the board of trustees.

Mrs. Phillip Conley is the former Phoebe McClatchy of the powerful Central Valley newspaper publishing family which publishes the Fresno BEE, Modesto BEE, and Sacramento BEE. Trustee Daniel Ridder controls 14 newspapers, television, and radio stations in and out of California.

These ties to the media are especially important for those trustees who have been active politically. Everyone knows that Reagan and Rafferty have tremendous political power.

What most people don't know is that a number of other trustees also have exercised considerable direct political power and that in some instances this political power has operated more subtly in the form of ties to the courts and even to the police.

For instance, Theodore Meriam and Alfred Ruffo are, respectively, ex-mayors of Chico and San Jose. Alec Cory was deputy city prosecutor in San Diego and Mrs. Phillip Conley is the wife of Judge Phillip Conley of the Fourth Appellate Court of

Open House For Center

Humboldt State's Institutional Research and Automatic Data Processing Services Center will be holding an open house for students on Wednesday, May 14, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Nelson Hall, west wing.

The computer registration program will be operating, in which all parts of the computer, including the disc, input-output, and print out, will be running. The purpose of the open house is to familiarize students with the center and its purpose. The programmer director and staff will be available for questions.

The Office of Institutional Studies, now in its third year at Humboldt, was established to anticipate major college problems. These include future enrollment, space planning, educational programs, personnel and student problems. The studies help to plan, organize, and carry out a program to "encourage, develop, and support a college-wide attitude of continuous self-study in order to produce a decision-making capability resulting in even more effective utilization of the resources placed at the disposal of this institution..."

The Institutional Research program works co-operatively with the Chancellor's Office and the other California State Colleges in developing plans, programs, budgets, and procedures for systemwide institutional research. Among other duties, the Institutional Research studies also administers and co-ordinates the automatic data processing services of the college.

The ADP Services is charged with supporting, both directly and indirectly, the instructional program at Humboldt State. Direct support is provided by making the equipment available to classes directly involving use of the computer in their subject material. Indirect support is provided through the processing of administrative data, the making available of facilities for student and faculty research, and providing consulting services to areas requesting it.

Computer usage at HSC was initiated in 1964 with installation of an IBM 1620 small-scale scientific digital computer. During the years since 1964 additional units have been added to the original configuration "making this computer installation one of the more capable in the state college system."

Appeals. William Norris served as law clerk to Justice William O. Douglas during the 1955-56 term of the U.S. Supreme Court.

IT IS ALMOST NEEDLESS TO SAY that the political orientation of most of the trustees is highly conservative.

Their life styles, not only in terms of their vocational and political interests, but also in terms of their social interests are extremely conservative.

Consider, for instance, the various civic organizations which the trustees belong to. A good many are on the Chamber of Commerce in the particular city in which they reside. Still others belong to groups such as the Masons, the American Legion, the Elks, and the Kiwanis Club. Some have even held positions of power in these organizations, such as Theodore Meriam, who is a Grand Master of the Masonic Order in California, and Dudley Swim, a national vice-commander of the American Legion in 1966.

These men not only control the state colleges, but also maintain control over other educational institutions in and out of California.

Dudley Swim, is a trustee of Rockford College in Illinois, and of Wabash College in Indiana. Along with Trustee George Hart, Swim is also a director of the Stanford Research Institute, a military think tank. Hart himself is member of the Ross School District board of trustees.

Earl Jorgensen is presently a trustee of the California Institute of Technology, a charter member of the University of Southern California Associates and a member of Pomona College Associates. Charles Luckman is a member of the board of associates of Northwestern University and the California Institute of Technology, the president's council of George Pepperdine College and Loyola University, and is on the University of Illinois Foundation.

Alec Cory is president of the University of California Alumni Club of San Diego County.

Then there are the ex-officio trustees like Rafferty, Reagan and Dumke who shape the policies of all educational institutions in California and in the rest of the United States, either as members of the board of regents which exercises control over the University system in California, as members of the state legislature which funds public education, and as administrators of our secondary schools and colleges.

This, then, is the interlocking nature of power in California. The same men who have a tremendous amount of control over education are often in political and financial control.

Students In Dorm Meets

In two recent conferences regarding campus housing, HSC has proven to have progressive housing policies, delegates reported. The first conference was for the Pacific Coast Association of Colleges and University Residence Halls, held in Reno. The second was the annual conference of the California Association of College and University Housing Officers and was held in Eureka.

The residence hall meeting consisted of workshop sessions on co-ed dorms, judicial councils, and residence halls as power structures. Commenting on the meetings, delegate Janet Alfieri said, "We were the most progressive school."

The delegates said that most of the schools who have co-ed dorms like them. Some of the points mentioned were that dorms should maintain privacy for an individual, and that all dorms should not be co-ed.

Discussion groups on judicial councils thought that the councils should be strict in order to keep people in line. That way, delegates said, a person could be pressured into following the rules, knowing that the council would be strict. The delegates also said that the discussion groups thought the police should be kept off campus if possible.

The discussions of power centered on apathy and communications, the delegates said.

In the housing officers conference, the issue was diversity in the facilities offered, said Mary King, hostess. In general, Miss King said, the housing officers were young and progressive, and were interested in the students first and maintaining financial obligations second.

Tuttle Leads Tracksters To Win In Triangular

Paced by Gary Tuttle's record-breaking steeplechase, HSC's track team unleashed a devastating all-round performance Saturday to demolish UC Davis and San Francisco State here at Redwood Bowl.

Tuttle broke his old steeplechase record by 2 seconds with an 8:56 clocking, the fifth best time in the U.S. this year and the third best in college competition. His closest threat was UC Davis star, Byron Spradlin and Tuttle finished half a lap and twenty nine seconds ahead of him.

The 'Jacks were only slightly favored going into the meet but finished with 101 points to Davis' 59 and San Francisco's 32. Humboldt captured 11 of 18 firsts and finished 1-2-3 in the javelin and 440 yard run. UC Davis won four events and San Francisco took three.

John Alcala and Lee Barton both turned in personal bests in their respective specialties. Barton tossed the javelin 212 feet, five inches, while Alcala hurled the discus 160 feet, three inches.

San Francisco's Rick Dragovich also turned in a top performance in the pole vault, going 14-5 and Scott Humpert of UCD set a new Aggie record of 46 feet in the triple jump.

Other first place finishes for HSC were Mike Phillips in the 440, Bill Scobey in the 880, Vince Engel in the mile, Gary Miller in a hotly contested three mile, Jim Johnson in the high jump and Dean Case in the 440 yard hurdles.

'Jacks Even Record With Three Wins

by John Watt

HSC blasted hapless Sonoma State three times, 14-2, 10-9, and 9-3, last weekend here in Arcata. Humboldt's league record is now 9-9.

Friday's game was a spectator's delight due to four homers in the nine inning affair.

Sonoma's single blast was a two-run belt by second baseman Jeff Barker in the eighth.

Starter Danny Alfson helped his own cause with a three-run shot. He also added a pair of singles in going 3-5.

Frank Topolewski put one out of the park that measured 370 ft. over the left center field fence.

Mel Shuman, however, took the plate honors in collecting a home run, triple, and a single in three times at bat. He also drove in four runs to cap a typical performance of the quiet right fielder.

HSC totaled 14 runs on 12 hits while Sonoma picked up two runs on eight hits.

Danny Alfson started and went all the way for Humboldt. He struck out 13 Cossacks, walked one and allowed eight hits.

Larry LeFor got the loss for Sonoma. He went three innings striking out two, giving seven hits and eight walks. Dana gave up five hits after he came on in the fourth to finish the game.

The 'Jacks scored one in the first, two in the second, three in the third, four in the fourth, two in the fifth and two in the seventh.

Sonoma's two runs were scored in the eighth inning.

Saturday saw two more victories under Humboldt's belt. HSC won the opener, 10-9, and the nightcap, 9-3.

In the sixth inning of the opener, freshman Craig Olson got himself in hot water and senior Doug Gilley was called to put out the fire. Gilley put down the only man he faced in the sixth. He then led off in the bottom of the sixth with a 340 ft. home run over the right field fence.

Gilley had a rough time in the seventh as he struck out the first batter he faced, but a walk, a single, and John Bussman's round trip belt put a quick three runs on the board for Sonoma. With the score 10-9 Gilley got the next two batters to fly out and preserve the win for Olson.

Sonoma had started the scoring with two runs in the third and a hit batter, a single, and Gogan's rbi double to left center.

HSC came back in the fourth with four runs on four successive hits; three singles followed by Ken Papini's double to right center plus a pair of Sonoma errors.

Sonoma then countered with three in the fourth on three singles and a 'Jack error.

Sonoma scored one more in the fifth. Humboldt turned around with three runs in the bottom half of the inning. Mel Shuman's two-run double was the big blow.

Frank Topolewski's double and Gilley's homer highlighted the three run sixth.

Sonoma threatened with three in the seventh but fell short.

Papini and Topolewski, both three-for-four, led Humboldt's 12 hit barrage.

The second game turned out to be a "can of corn" for the 'Jacks as they were never threatened.

Sonoma scored one in the second inning. Humboldt evened the score in the third on Papini's single, a walk, Papini's steal of third and Patton's single to left center.

The 'Jacks scored three more in the fourth on three singles and Papini's double. They added a pair in the fifth, one in the sixth, and finished with a pair in the seventh.

Greg Shanahan breezed through to the win striking out six, walking six; allowing seven hits and three runs.

Ken Papini was the big man in the series. He went 8-12 at the plate, drove in three runs and scored eight himself.

Humboldt Netmen Up Season Record

HSC's tennis squad racked up three straight victories over the weekend by defeating Sonoma State 8-1 Friday, and dropping Oregon College 8-1 and Oregon College of Education, 5-1. All were non-league matches.

HSC is now 5-4 for the season and will travel to UC Davis for the final FWC match of the season.

Results of the weekend's matches are:

Communist Papers Here From Cuba

by Mike Stockstill

For the past year, Gramma, the official organ of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba has been delivered to the office of the Lumberjack.

It is a weekly review of the top stories of the Cuban press. It is published in Havana and comes out in English, Spanish and French editions.

Gramma is typical of the communist press. Scattered throughout its pages are stories of economic growth, speeches by party leaders, announcements of upcoming events, and other standard news items such as interviews and features.

The weekly review is unmistakably slanted. A host of phrases that pop up in communist papers all over the world are evident in Gramma. The United States is inevitably described as "imperialistic" or "colonialistic." The allies of the U. S. are described as the "foreign aggressors" that are apparently trying to overthrow the Cuban government. The Cuban government is usually referred to in terms of the "Revolutionary government" and Fidel Castro is the "Commander in Chief."

When referring to the Bay of Pigs in a story, Gramma called it "the eighth anniversary of the crushing defeat suffered by Yankee imperialism." The New York Daily News is referred to in one story as "the U.S. newspaper with the largest circulation. Notorious for its sensationalism, a representative of the most extreme right-wing forces in the country, whose reportorial staff includes a good number of individuals on the FBI payroll."

Gramma also favors terms such as "heroic," "liberation," "triumph of the Revolution." A sample comes from the first paragraph of a story about Che Guevara: "The first to fall in the heroic guerrilla struggle in Bolivia commandeered by the Heroic Guerilla, Che Guevara, just two years ago, lives on in an example of his dedication to the revolutionary cause." The story goes on to outline the life of one of Guevara's soldiers that was killed in Bolivia with him.

Gramma also features stories of Cuba's history and current economic and social scene. The April 20 issue featured stories of a match-producing plant, the growth of Cuba's steel-hulled fishing fleet, an interview with a Cuban painter, and another interview with a composer that had dedicated his latest composition to the late Che Guevara.

The economic reports in Gramma are glowing ones that speak of a new, growing economy. Apparently, they reflect the truth, as the Cubans, with massive aid from the USSR, are slowly making gains in stimulating their once desperate economy.

What effect does this paper have on college students? Probably very little. The April issue of this weekly paper was the first one opened by the Lumberjack this year, according to Editor Tom Sheets. It is not known how many other schools get Gramma, or how well read it is. What can be judged from the paper is that the Cuban Communists are consistently seeking to disseminate some directly and indirectly slanted news to the U.S. collegiate audience.

Macbeth Production To Climax Season

by Ed Guthmann

"Macbeth," Shakespeare's classic tragedy, will be presented at the Sequoia Theatre May 9, 10, 16 and 17. Climaxing the '68-'69 Sequoia Masque season, this production promises to breathe new life into the story of ambition and self-destruction.

Directors Phillip Mann and Richard Rothrock have attempted to give "Macbeth" a "very honest, very theatrical" interpretation. The witches, three in all previous versions, will number eighteen. Ominous and omnipotent, they will serve also as members of the court of Macbeth, and will be "haunting and beautiful," not necessarily grotesque. Men will be playing witches, some doubling as messengers and murderers.

Playing Macbeth will be graduate student David Brune, previously seen in "The Alchemist," "Lysistrata," and "Breeze and Moonlight." Theatre Arts instructress Nonnita Mann, wife of director Phillip Mann, will portray Lady Macbeth. Mrs. Mann acted in "The House of Bernarda Alba" and "Lysistrata" and directed last fall's "Dylan."

Supporting roles will be assayed by Ron Van Veen, Macduff; James Spalding, Malcolm; Don Price, Banquo; Charles Hope, Hecate; and Robert Grant, Ross.

Tim Howe will play Duncan; Jim

The term "crisis" is reserved for the acute, and often prolonged, disturbance to an individual or group of persons as a result of an emotionally shattering experience.

Registration for the workshop will be held at 2 p.m. on May 9 in the Wildlife Auditorium. Participants will dine in the Jolly Giant Commons and discussion will resume at 7 p.m.

Fee for the workshop is $7.50 for general admission and $2.50 for ASB card holders.

Donlon, Lennox; John MacKenzie, Donalbain; Connie Mantini, Lady Macduff; R. J. Fensterman, Angus; Ed Guthmann, Siward; and Lee Cargile, Porter and Young Siward.

Speech instructor Robert Speyer will portray a Doctor; Laura Haertig, Gentlewoman; Fritz Folkerts, Caithness; Tom Scheaffer, Menteth; and Bob Francesconi, Seyton. Terri Bartlett, a girl, will play Fleance, son of Banquo.

Cast as witches are Richard Caldwell, Lee Cargile, Linda Fleischman, Bob Francesconi, Peg Gantt, Wendy Gilroy, Donna Hefner, Royal Holbrook, Tim Howe, Al Merritt, Bill Overstreet, Colleen Quinn, Lou Ryan, Ariel Souigny, Richard Walashek, and Marjorie Winters.

Production design is by directors Mann and Rothrock. Costumes and make-up have been created by Duane Reed; props, Dean Munroe; lights, James Spalding; and sound, Willie Bell.

$9.5 MILLION SPENT LOCALLY

More than $9.5 million dollars was spent in Humboldt County by the students, faculty, and staff of Humboldt State College during a recent six-month period, according to a study made during the winter quarter by three members of a Market Research class (BA161).

The three students were Gary Phillips, William Shaw, and John Viale. The study was made under the direction of Dr. Donald F. Lawson, director of institutional studies at HSC.

The study investigated money spent by HSC students, faculty, and staff for food, clothing, entertainment, transportation, household maintenance and miscellaneous items. The purpose of the study was to aid the Lumberjack in showing local merchants the value of advertising in the newspaper.

Most HSC students, faculty, and staff spend less than 25 per cent of their income outside Humboldt County, according to the report.

Transportation and automobile expenses were one of the biggest items in the student's budget. Seventy-five per cent of the students and 85 per cent of the faculty have easy access to motor vehicles, according to the study. Gasoline expenditures totaled $17,600 in a single week.

During one week, according to the survey, HSC students spent $38,600 for food in the Arcata-Eureka area. Nearly 50 per cent of the students who shopped for food did so at the Arcata Safeway. However, it was found that a large number shopped at Bazar, a discount department store-supermarket in Eureka.

Entertainment expenditures in a one-month period (January) totaled $114,000. This was spent in movie theatres, restaurants, coffee shops, taverns, country clubs, bowling alleys, and at parties and sporting events.

The total student expenditures in the six-month period sampled was more than $6.5 million dollars.

The girls spend nearly twice as much on clothing as the male students, $296,900 compared to $155,300.

More than 26 per cent of the students go to a tavern at least once a week, according to the survey. Some 2900 students out of a total of 4566 are over 21.

The figures were obtained by distributing approximately 1400 questionnaires to students in classes selected at random. Questionnaires were returned by 453 students. Faculty and staff samplings were taken by mail.
