ECONOMY TO BE PRACTICED BY HUMBOLDT

TEN PER CENT REDUCTION TO BE MADE IN BUDGET FOR NEXT YEAR

A ten per cent reduction in the budget for the next fiscal year (the school years of 1932-33) has been announced by President Arthur S. Gist of Humboldt State Teachers College.

"Every department of the state government is making a strenuous effort to economize so that the budget may be balanced before the next meeting of the legislature.

"The state, as far as the teachers colleges was concerned, had two possibilities: a ten per cent reduction in the budget and the raising of tuition fees. We will make the suggested reduction in the budget here.

"The state is increasing the summer school tuition fee from $15 to $20. This tuition, incidentally, goes to the state, not to the individual teachers college.

"In order that the increase in the fee which goes to the state may not fall too heavily on the students, Humboldt College is making reduction in certain local fees: the lecture and recreation fee and the health and physical education fee, of one dollar each have been reduced to fifty cents. Board in the College Commons (i. e. breakfast and dinner) for the six weeks summer session have been reduced from $29.50 to $26.50 and room rent in the women's dormitory from $10.50 to $9.50. Thus, for women students who live in the dormitory the reduction of local fees and expenses offsets the increase in the state registration

Editor Fails to Learn Art of Self-Protection

To save himself the embarrassment and the inconvenience of getting his nose punched occasionally, the editor of a newspaper, especially in the smaller communities, should be able to trounce fistfully all of his readers. Recently the "Lumberjack" editor decided to fit himself for this particular qualification and went to training with one of Humboldt's "pugs". The result was that the editor is now running around with his hand bandaged. The other fellow didn't know what hit him. Boy, what a wallopp!

W.A.A. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Miss Lucille Winter was elected president of the Women's Athletic Association, Thursday, May 12. Miss Winter is a sport enthusiast, having taken part in all athletic events. She is interested in tennis, hockey, baseball and basketball. She is at present hockey manager. She is the county champion for girls mixed double, and will take part in the county tennis tournament which will be held soon. She was yell-leader of the Student Body.

The tennis manager has not yet been chosen.

The retiring members are Hazel Christensen, president; Edith Cameron, vice president and volleyball manager; Dixie Lee Starkey, secretary; Grace Cochran, treasurer, Evelyn Fielding chairman; Donna Ivancich, yell leader; Janet Stewart, song leader; Alice Renfro, publicity manager; Lucille Winter, hockey manager; Evelyn Fielding, basketball manager; Amy Vance, tennis manager.

The officers and sport managers with their advisors, Ann Craig, head of the physical education department, and Monica Wright of the physical education department, constitute the W. A. A. Board.

Humboldt Librarian Goes to Los Angeles

C. E. Graves, librarian at Humboldt State Teachers College, is now in Los Angeles, where he is to give an address on "The Music of the Mountains" at the University of California at Los Angeles. He has been at Santa Barbara, where he attended the meeting of the California Library Association which was held May 9 to 11. On his way back from Los Angeles, Mr. Graves plans to visit Sequoia National Park. He is expected back to Arcata May 23. During his absence the library is in charge of Mrs. Graves and four students: Maxine Belloni, Harold Welch, Paul Ely and Lester Dedini.

Cluxton to Attend Summer School

Henry T. Cluxton, assistant professor of education, and Mrs. Cluxton, will spend the summer at Stanford University, where Mr. Cluxton will attend summer school. Their son, Donald Cluxton, who is on the faculty of the Arizona State Teachers College at Tempe, will also be at the Stanford summer quarter, working towards his Ph. D. Degree.

ARTHUR S. GIST WILL SPEAK AT GRADUATION

MISS EDITH CAMERON WILL BE SENIOR STUDENT SPEAKER AT COMMENCEMENT

President Arthur S. Gist of Humboldt State Teachers College will be the principal speaker at the Senior Commencement Exercises May 27 in the gymnasium. Miss Edith Cameron will be the senior student speaker. E. B. Meredith, of the Arcata Baptist Church, will pronounce the invocation.

Music will be provided by the College orchestra directed by Professor Francis H. McKay, and vocal selections by Miss Sara Hartley.

The faculty and senior students are going to wear their academic robes and will present a colorful sight, according to Dr. Homer Balabanis, senior class advisor.

Committees announced by Edith Cameron, senior president, are as follows: Decorations, Lucinda Parr, Marion Diedrichsen, Reuel Fick and George Gregory; arrangement of chairs, Ben Leese; class gift, George Crichton, James Spiering and Ben Leese.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be given by Rev. Robert A. Crichton at the Presbyterian Church in Eureka May 22. The graduates will wear their caps and gowns.

BELLE DICKSON PUBLISHES BOOK

Belle L. Dickson, assistant professor of education of Humboldt State Teachers College, has just published a book called "Activities in Progressive Education."

The purpose of this is to bridge the gap between the formal school of the past and the progressive school of the future, says Miss Dickson. She explains: "A few years ago each day's work was prescribed by the teacher without regard to a child's native interests or particular abilities. Now the work is fitted to the individual instead of to the group as a whole. In other words, individual differences are recognized and provision is made for the progress of each child at his own rate."

The book is an account of some of the children's activities that have been carried out in the first four grades of the Humboldt State Teachers College Elementary School.

Miss Helen Heffernan, chief of the division of elementary education and rural schools of California, sent a letter to the rural supervisors of the state, recommending the book. She said, "I have read Miss Dickson's manuscript and believe that rural supervisors will find it a very valuable source of activities for their teachers."

Wayne Simpson Will Head Student Body

Wayne Simpson was elected president of the Student Body, Friday, May 13. He is prominent in athletics here, having received letters in baseball, football and basketball.

Other officers elected, were as follows: Letha Robinson, vice president; Alice Renfro, secretary; Clyde Patenaude treasurer; Harlan Still, yell leader; Buster DeMotte, publicity manager; Richard Derby, Ugo Giuntini and Carl Penn, men members of the board of control, and Alma Ruth Sweet and Helen Gregersen, women members of the board.

Lumberjack Reporter Fails in Story Quest

Forever in fiction the ubiquitous reporter foils the populace and gets his story as invariable as the "mountie" gets his man. But evidently the Lumberjack reporters have not reached the ubiquitous stage. When sent to get a story from an instructor, a reporter was himself foiled and failed to fulfill his assignment. Far from being able to inveigle the instructor, he was out-inveigled, so to speak, and after moving the piano about the stage in the auditorium for a while, he was glad to make his escape without the story.

MEN STUDENTS NAME OFFICERS

Gillis Courtwright of Crescent City, was elected to head the Associated Men Students of Humboldt State Teachers College yesterday. Paul Roberts was elected vice president, with Glenn Waldner as secretary-treasurer.

The newly elected president distinguished himself recently in the college baseball series with Ashland. In the ninth inning he went in as a pinch hitter and smacked a double, starting a rally which tied the score.

Paul Roberts has been track manager for the last year and has worked hard. Glenn Waldner needs no introduction to Humboldt students, having served a year as Student Body president and taking an important part in college athletics.

COLLEGE PICNIC TOMORROW NIGHT

An all-college picnic—faculty and students—will be held Thursday evening of this week at Council Crest, back of the college. According to plans announced by Leona Beebe, general chairman of the committee in charge, the party will meet at the auditorium and go to the Commons where each will get his box supper, at a cost of twenty-five cents, and then go to Council Crest.

Plans for the evening include a treasure hunt for all, stunts by groups such as faculty, W. A. A., Pro Musica, the dormitory girls, and Alpha Psi Omega, the dramatics fraternity. W. A. A. awards will be announced at this time and also the freshman trophy will be presented by the honor society, Chi Sigma Epsilon.

Miss Beebe is being assisted by the following committee: Alice Renfro, George Crichton, Evelyn Fielding, Edith Cameron, Reuel Fick, Marjorie Kausen, Letha Robinson, James Spiering and Howard Johnston.

Registration

One hundred and forty students have been registered to date for the fall semester. Pre-registration will be completed this Friday. Students who have not registered will have today, tomorrow and Friday to do so. All pre-registration must be finished by the end of the week, according to Miss Imogene Platt, registrar.

Howe Will Work for Degree

J. Wendell Howe of the science department leaves week after next for the University of Wisconsin, where he is to work towards his Doctor of Philosophy degree in plant physiology. He will be accompanied by his brother who is on the U. C. faculty, and will go by way of British Columbia.

"I. O. U." POLICY TO UNDERGO CHANGE

SUMMER, REGULAR SESSION TUITION EACH RAISED FIVE DOLLARS

A change in the method of handling student "I. O. U.'s" for fees has been announced by the administration.

The college will continue the practice of granting time to needy students in which to pay certain fees, but will not grant extensions to students able to pay.

The registration fee for the fall semester, which has been raised by the state from $1.50 to $6.50, must be paid by every one on registration day.

However, students actually not having funds on registration day for other fees, such as laboratory, student body, health and physical education fees, will see the president or vice president and sign a statement to that effect and also state the date on which they can pay. Students possessing funds for fees, but neglecting to bring the money will be refused registration.

Five days before the "I. O. U.'s" are due, students will be reminded of their obligations by the financial secretary, and a copy of this reminder will be sent to the student's home. Students neglecting to pay the fees when the pledges are due, or failing to see the president or vice president to arrange for an extension, will be excluded from class.

This plan was worked out in a conference between the president and the financial secretary. It was made necessary by unbusiness-like practices of certain students who had funds but neglected to meet their obligations, President Arthur S. Gist said yesterday.

200 STUDENTS TAKE PART IN ANNUAL FROLIC

The annual Humboldt State Teachers College play day was held here last week and, judging from the participation of students was one of the most successful ever held.

More than 200 students took part in the day's events, which were held from 10 o'clock until 12. The events included handball, volleyball, baseball, archery and relays.

Howard Johnston won the men's archery tournament, shooting a score of 302 out of a possible 450. He made 44 hits out of 45 shots. Blanch Rall won the women's prize with a score of 219 points and 41 hits. The prizes were sets of matched, footed arrows donated by C. W. Frost.

Gillis Courtwright and Rollo Guthridge won the doubles handball tournament with Clyde Patenaude victor in the singles event.

The baseball game between the girls' team and the faculty ended with the girls holding the long end of a 7 to 3 score. The faculty lineup was as follows: Henry Cluxton, cf; Mrs. C. Edward Graves, 2b; H. R. Jenkins, p, ss; Fred Telonicher, ss, p; Arthur S. Gist, lf; Miss Ellen Johnson, rf; Francis McKay, c; Charles Goodwin, 1b; and Leo Schussman, 3b.

Girls Lineup: Marge Kausen, c; Mabel Christensen, p; Al Renfro, 1b; Amy Vance, 2b; Ruth Carroll, 3b; Ruth Carson, ss; Cannam, cf; Min Speyer, rf; Grace Shaw, lf.

Miss Alice Sequist has returned to her duties in the registrar's office after a two weeks vacation spent at Yreka.

NEW LUMBERJACK STAFF

With the publication of this issue of the Lumberjack the editorial staff bids its readers goodbye. Next year, when school starts again, some new faces will be seen on the staff, some familiar faces will be missing. Many students here have fulfilled a year or more in the editorial department of the paper and have completed their work—they are stepping aside for the others, to allow them to continue the policy of building up this paper. Those who are retiring have exhausted their ability to improve the Lumberjack and in order to keep progressing it is necessary to get new blood at the heads of the various departments.

Next year, Ruth Carroll, who has already held many prominent positions here and knows school affairs from a to z, will edit the Lumberjack. As assistant editors there will be Wilson Woodcock and Alma Ruth Sweet. Fred Moore will handle the destinies of the business end of the paper.

—H—

In retiring, the editor would like to say that if all of the students here would work as hard all year as they do the two weeks before finals—we wouldn't need any finals.

Opinion In Humboldt State

To the Students: Humboldt State Teachers College promotes many fine activities, as I have found out during the past year. One of these which is rather unique for a college is the college Play Day.

This year's Play Day was apparently enjoyed by all who entered into the activities, but less than one-half of the student body participated. The administration is generous to let us have time off for the Play Day, and it seems as though the way to prove the worth of the event is to take advantage of the opportunity to get together for a good time.

Do those students who stayed away feel justified in jeopardizing the student body privilege of having a college Play Day?

(Signed) ANN CRAIG.

fee. "Tuition for the summer session, incidentally, at the teachers colleges is lower than at U. S. C., where it is $32.50, at the University of California, where it is $35, and at Stanford, where it is from $42.50 to $60 for half of the quarter.

"The tuition for the regular session at Humboldt has been raised from $1.50 to $6.50 a semester, which goes to the state, not to the local college. The administration, however, hopes to work out economies to the students which will partly or even completely offset the increase of $5 for the regular sessions.

"The Royal Family", Humboldt State Teachers College dramatic production, was well received in both Arcata and Eureka presentations recently. James Usher and Juanita Larson played the leading roles, with a strong supporting cast.

W. A. A. OFFICERS SEATED HERE AT BREAKFAST

A breakfast was held Monday morning at 7:15 in the college commons for the installation of the new members of the Women's Athletic Association.

The committee in charge of the affair were as follows: Breakfast committee, Elma Biasca, chairman; Ruth Carson, Annabelle Stockton, Ruth Johnson, Ethel Bjorklund, Jeannette Petersen and Evelyn Renner; program committee, Melpha Cannam, chairman, and Marge Kausen; decoration committee, Janet Stewart, chairman; Dixie Lee Starkey and Leora Hunter.

Miss Wright Plans Busy Summer

Miss Monica Wright, instructor in physical education, plans to spend three weeks at her home in Bellevue, Idaho. She will then return to Arcata in time to teach at Humboldt College during the summer session. Following summer session, she plans to attend the Olympic games in Los Angeles this summer.

OLD HEAPS WERE HEALTHGIVERS TO MANKIND

By MARK ROWE

Men may come and men may go, But "wrecks" are rattling off forever.

Strange as it may seem, "old crates" are comparatively scarce on the parking place in front of Humboldt State Teachers College. They are hardly noticeable to the casual observer as they sit insignificantly along side of the modern, low, graceful machines, and yet the "old crates" were benefactors of mankind.

Nowadays it is with great joy that a family watches the old "tub" being carted off to the junk yard, while a ninety-horse power one slips silently into its place. It is for this pleasure that "papa" walks to work, cuts down on his tobacco, and carries his lunch. Little does he realize what a mistake he is making. Little does he know what wrong he does to his children.

In days of old, men were strong and bold. Men aren't what they used to be. They cannot be. All the men who used to be in their prime say so. There must be some cause for the weakening of the human race. This cause, after extensive research by worthy men, has been found. A thorough and scientific explanation will be made.

In days when men were men, there used to be vehicles parked in front of the school buildings, vehicles similar to that now almost extinct species, the "old Wreck." When classes were out, one could see scores of husky, healthy, young people rush down the steps and dash to a dilapidated object. Some would wrench furiously at rusty doors, then climb over them, while others, the stronger ones, would savagely grab the crank and despectately try to shake life into the iron veins of this inanimate creation of man.

Soon a cough and a sputter could be heard. The apparently dead object leaped into noisy life. Amid whoops and yells of joy, these young people were shaken down the road much more thoroughly than a patented vibrator could do it. They had plenty of fresh air, and the tattered top, if there were any top at all, did not shut out the health-giving sun light (that is, of course, if in a country where the sun shines).

Today men and women step into luxurious cars and are carried smoothly and comfortably away. They get no vigorous exercise, sunshine or much fresh air. This, ladies and gentlemen, accounts for the fact that men aren't what they used to be.

STUDENT ASSAILANT CAPTURED BY POLICE

By College News Service
—One of four bandits who assertedly shot and wounded Ashby Penn, junior student at the University of North Carolina, this week was being held by police.

The shooting occurred after a Chapel Hill police officer commandeered Penn's car to follow the bandits, who had held up a weiner stand. The policeman, however, deserted Penn and left him to fight it out with the hold-up men, who escaped following an exchange of shots. One of the men was later captured, and other arrests are expected.

Penn is recovering from a bullet wound in the chest, although it was feared for a time that he might die. Editor Jack Dugas of The Daily Tar Heel at U. N. C., demanded that the policeman involved, be dismissed.

HITCH-HIKING SUBJECT OF MARK ELY

Conversation and reading matter seem to have taken a slight turn toward the subject of hitch-hiking, in which everyone has his own methods and has had his own unusual experiences. A late issue of the "Lumberjack" contained an article on this subject. I have not been able to find out who wrote it. However, I will attach my name to this so that no innocent person will be blamed for it.

The experiences I wish to relate deal almost wholly with trips from 225 to 300 miles in length. On my first one I took to the highway at 4 a. m. (as I intended to make a full day trip of it) and started out walking, partly to keep warm and partly because it would make one think I was getting somewhere. Whenever a car approached from behind I didn't show him "thumbs up," nor if he passed me by I didn't show him "thumbs down," the former because if he has any sense at all he'll know that an ordinary-dressed fellow out on the open highway is not just walking to the corner store, but is wishing for a ride; the latter because I don't blame anyone of he does not wish to pick me up. I don't pick up hikers, myself, when driving.

If I don't pick up hikers when I am driving, how or why do I expect to get rides from others? As a general rule, the motorist does not give me a ride. It is when the exception to the rule happens that I get a ride. Therefore, because the law of averages can be modified to read that "there are both rules and exceptions present all the time everywhere," what more do I need to give me confidence that I can get rides.

I did not change by tactics at all on that first trip (nor have I since). About 10:30 p. m. of the same day I arrived at my destination, having made 300 miles in 18½ hours on my first such experience. Since and including that first journey, I have made seven trips, averaging twelve hours apiece in length of time and 264 miles apiece in distance. This makes an average speed of 22 miles per hour (which compares favorably with the local janitor's motorcycle). I did not hail one of my forty rides.

Many are the combinations of people and types of vehicles I find to be my benefactors: boys, girls, men, women and mixtures; most passenger vehicles from Fords to Pierce Arrows; giant trucks, medium trucks and small trucks, and motorcycles. (I regret to say that I have never been offered a ride in an Austin on my trips.) In my experience salesmen have played a small part. Only once have I ridden with one. Ordinarily, joyriders, workmen and tourists help me most.

There are two things which make me think the inclination of the driver to help the hiker is a family characteristic. One is that practically everyone who has given me a ride tells of previously doing the same thing and of other members of his family doing it. The other, although it may be an exceptional case, illustrates my meaning well. (If it wasn't for exceptions, my trips could not have been made.) On my last journey I was offered rides by two members of the same family traveling separately. I hailed neither, but both offered rides.

There are many opinions, experiences and methods, on hitch-hiking. These are mine.

Notes and Ideas From Other Camps

By Ugo Giuntini

Poor Head

I don't mind reading a comic issue of any newspaper, but when I have to stand on my head to read upside down news, such as was in the last issue of the Chico Wildcat, that is where I draw the line.

Think It Over

There have been some opinions voiced that Humboldt's method of awarding sweaters is not the best method, because it excludes many 3 and 4 letter men in one sport who are only able to play in that sport and who justly deserve one. Other state colleges are more liberal. For instance, at Chico State, all 3-year Block "C" members receive sweaters with service stripes or blankets, and why not? I ask youse.

Romance Gone

School authorities at Stanford have taken all of the romance out of canoeing. No longer can the big he-man tip the canoe and heroically rescue the fragile young thing. In fact the usual procedure may be quite reversed; for co-eds must prove their ability at swimming before they are even allowed in a canoe.

Get the Ruler

A new rule at the University of Heidelberg (Carl Penn's favorite) states that dancing partners must keep at least six inches apart. It's going to be hard to measure, but why not wear hoops to simplify matters?

Embarrassing Moments

At the University of Detroit a junior was awarded first prize for wearing the worst looking clothes to a depression dance. Later it was discovered that the winner had no intention of competing. In fact, he had only dropped in for a moment on his way home.

Lost But Not Found

The baseball fellows are complaining that the SONS should take more precaution and protect the visiting team as well as themselves. On our last trip a cap, belt, glass case and some money made their sudden disappearance. How did you hold your trousers up, "Rookie?"

College Students Classify Flowers

J. Wendell Howe, assistant professor of biological science, and six botany students, Louise Johnstone, Glenn Waldner, Gertrude Hunter, Evan Akins, Lee Lawson and Lawrence Morris, attended the flower show at the South Fork High School at Miranda Friday, May 6, to help classify flowers collected by the grammar and high school students and teachers of that district. While there, Howe gave a lecture on botany at an assembly of the high school students.

C. W. Frost Holds Archery Exhibit

C. W. Frost, recently had an archery equipment exhibit from the windows of the Fuller Paint Company in Eureka. The exhibit included examples of yew bows, lemonwood bows, osage-orange bows and split bamboo bows, "self" target arrows, footed target arrows, broad headed hunting arrows and flight arrows. All types of feathers used in the making of arrows, also were included in the exhibit and included turkey, eagle, condor, buzzard, white and brown peacock. All these except the turkey are imported from Austria, according to Frost.

A cheerful liar must be a great comfort to himself.

Telonicher Continues Excellent Shooting

Fred Telonicher of the physical education department, archery enthusiast, last week end shot his first York round in archery and made a total score of 536 points, a remarkable feat for one shooting this round for the first time, according to C. W. Frost, veteran archer and tackle maker. Telonicher had already made high scores at the American round, which consists of thirty arrows at sixty, fifty and forty yards each. The York round is much more difficult: seventy-two arrows at a hundred yards, forty-eight arrows at eighty yards, and twenty-four arrows at sixty yards.

Camp Fire Group Organized Here

A new Camp Fire group, known as Aowokya, has been organized among some of the students of Humboldt State, who, later plan to be guardians. The members are Elva Quarenheim, president; Alice Porter, vice president; Elna Gries, secretary; Valeria Del Ponte, treasurer; Elma Blasca, scribe, and Elise Henggel, as program chairman. They have chosen as their leader Mrs. Robert Poulitney and Mrs. Arthur Gist as sponsor of the group.

These students plan to attend the Council Fire which will be held May 21 at 8 o'clock in the college gymnasium. At this time they will be fully installed into the group.

ELEMENTARY STUDENTS PRESENT MARIONETTES

The sixth grade pupils of the College Elementary School presented a Marionette play, "The King of the Golden River" to the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the Eureka schools, their parents and teachers in the Eureka Junior High School last Thursday afternoon, May 12.

After the play the children brought out the marionettes to be examined. The children were complimented upon the construction and manipulation of the dolls as well as upon the play. Harry Reilly, Humboldt State Teachers College senior and practice teacher of the sixth grade, was in charge of the show.

PRO MUSICA NOT TO MEET

Pro Musica, the organization of Humboldt College students interested in music, will hold no more meetings this school year. Janet Stewart, president, has announced. The last meeting was held on April 28.

Students interested in music are invited to join the organization next semester, Miss Stewart said recently.

New Books

In Library

Some new books have arrived in the library this week: "The Young Revolutionist" by Pearl Buck. In this story Mrs. Buck portrays Chinese youth of today. It is a picture of great numbers of Chinese boys and young men as the author has seen them during recent years. She shows modern Chinese youth eagerly helping to build a new China.

"Old Wine and New" by Warwick Deeping is a modern novel. In this Mr. Deeping's philosophy of love and courage is shown. Among the non-fiction books that have just arrived are "China Speaks" by Cheh Meng, which is on the conflict between China and Japan, and "Japan Speaks" by K. K. Kawakami, which deals with the Sino-Japanese crisis.
