ABILITY SCORE OF FRESHMEN IS HIGH

MENTALITY OF LOCAL FROSH RANKS HIGH IN AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL FIELDS

In their ability to do college work, the freshman students who entered Humboldt last fall compare favorably with freshmen students of a number of liberal arts colleges and universities, and surpass many teachers college freshmen, according to Leo Schussman of the education faculty here, who is co-operating in a series of comparative tests.

His results are based on the results of the Thurstone Test which was given to entering students in forty-four teachers colleges and in twenty-two liberal arts colleges and universities. The Thurstone Test, said Mr. Schussman, is a psychological test which is supposed to test the ability of students to do work of college grade.

Expressed in figures, the average score for the twenty-two liberal arts colleges and universities participating was 142; for the forty-four teachers colleges, including Humboldt, the average was 117; for Humboldt, the average was 137. Humboldt, incidentally, ranked sixth in the list of teachers colleges.

"From this result," said Mr. Schussman yesterday, "and from other factors in the analysis of

Experimental College Advises Division of Larger Universities

(By College News Service)

MADISON. — Division of the average college of letters and science in large universities into 15 or 20 semi-independent smaller colleges was suggested this week by advisers of the University of Wisconsin Experimental College.

Each unit under such a system would have its own social organization and interests, thus encouraging an atmosphere similar to that of a fraternity minus the "brutal system" of the "elect."

"Student social life and student education might profit greatly," according to the advisers' report.

"Groups of students and teachers living and working side by side in friendly rivalries and co-operation might give to an American university what it most needs—a social scheme adapted and adjusted to its teaching aims."

"WORLD UNITY"

NOW IN LIBRARY

A new magazine has arrived in the Humboldt State Teachers Library. This magazine, "World Unity," endeavors to interpret and record significant changes in present day affairs. Its essential purpose is to make known the value of philosophy, science, religion, ethics and art.

It is a monthly magazine and this month's issue contains articles on David Starr Jordan, Moral Aspects of Unemployment, World's Great Teachers, and the Geneva Conference Under Way.

Some new fiction books have also arrived, among which are "Once a Grand Duke," by the Grand Duke Alexander of Russia; also, "Mourning Becomes Electra," a four act play, by Eugene O'Neill.

Fear of Flunking French Is Foolish

Miss Adella Johnson, associate professor of modern languages at Humboldt State, will spend part of her Easter vacation in San Francisco, searching for French books, French phonograph records, and other material that will add interest to her classes. "This ought to encourage more of the students to take French over again," says a member of the Lumberjack editorial staff.

23 STUDENTS AVERAGE "B"

Twenty-three Humboldt State Teachers College students have a "B" average or better in their grades, according to statistics recently compiled by Miss Imogene Platt, registrar.

Three of these twenty-three students have a "B" average in all subjects except physical education and orientation. In these two courses the only grades given are "plus" for passing or "minus" for failing. In compiling statistics, a "plus" is rated as a "C". The other twenty students have "B" averages even though their physical education and orientation grades are counted in as "plus" or "C."

The students are as follows: Freshmen, Marian Cutler, Charles Crossley (except for physical activities and orientation), Dorothy Dexter, Virginia Lee Dickson (except for physical activities and orientation), Lester Larson, Alton McLaughlin (has a "B" plus average), Mary Neilsen, Peggy Robinson, Mary Jean Russell (has a "B" plus average) and Alma Ruth Sweet (has a "B" plus average).

Girls to Vacate Dorm Next Week

All the girls residing at Sunset Hall will be away during Easter vacation. The students that go home every week-end will go to their homes as well as those living out of the county.

Girls living out of the county who will go away during vacation are as follows: Agnes Combs will go to her home in Lakeport; Vada Hall to Willets, Alyce and Harriet Finnie to Ukiah, Bonita Hughes to Potter Valley, and Louise Johnstone will visit in Ferndale.

Library to Open During Vacation

The Humboldt State Teachers College Library will be open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 9-12 a. m. and from 1-4 p. m. during vacation week.

If there are any students who wish to use the library during the latter part of the week they will have to make arrangements with the librarian in advance, it was announced.

The Lyon, Massachusetts, classical high school plans to have teachers visit the homes of all pupils whose marks in one or more subjects are near failing.

SCHOLARSHIPS NEEDED SAYS PRESIDENT

MEMORIAL FUND IN HONOR OF JOHN KEGLER ESTABLISHED AT SO. FORK HI

Help for worthy students has come from two sources recently, President Arthur S. Gist announced Monday. The sum of ten dollars has been sent to the student loan fund by the Book Review Club, an organization of Humboldt County women. In addition, residents of Southern Humboldt County will establish a memorial fund in honor of John Kegler, late principal of South Fork Union High School, whereby the outstanding graduate each year of that high school will be given the entrance fees to Humboldt College.

"There is a tendency in the United States," President Gist said, "to raise college and university tuition so that students may more nearly meet the cost of higher education. Anything that will relieve the stress on the taxpayer, and also eliminate from higher institutions the student who is not profiting by higher education at public expense, is justifiable."

Chicago Instructor Addresses Students Friday Morning

"Who Can Say Who Is Right?" was the subject of a talk on teaching and education by Dr. W. H. Burton of the University of Chicago, at the assembly last Friday morning.

Differences of opinion among so-called authorities on education confuse the average teacher, Dr. Burton explained. To distinguish who is right, the teacher must have a thorough knowledge of his subject and must develop a technique for critical analyses.

Major elements, essential to the teacher, pointed out by Dr. Burton are: first, an adequate and reliable background of actual knowledge and accurate fact; second, an ability to think from given data to a logical conclusion; third, the assurance that everything has a solution and the avoidance of a feeling of futility.

"This business of teaching is not a matter of simple routine," Dr. Burton said, "nor does long experience necessarily make a good teacher. Teaching of children is an intricate piece of intellectual endeavor."

Dr. Burton was introduced by George Crichton, Clara Taubman led assembly singing.

BALABANIS ADDRESSES CREDIT ASSOCIATION

Dr. Homer P. Balabanis of the Economic department of Humboldt College was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Credit Association of Humboldt County, held early this week. He addressed the group composed of over one hundred merchants on the subject of "Recent Credit Developments."

He told of the reasons for the present crisis during which a great number of banks have failed. He then told of the recent measures of Congress, attempting to remedy this situation. He said that these measures would make credit easier to obtain, but as to whether they would aid the situation or not depended on whether bankers would try to get the credit. They probably would not unless they could see that by doing so they could realize a profit from the venture, he pointed out.

Professor Purchases Property Plot

J. Wendell Howe, assistant professor of Biological Science at Humboldt State, recently purchased a piece of ground at the corner of 19th and Spring Streets in the Preston Addition of Arcata. The purpose is merely investment.

He may build a house on the lot to rent, but he will continue getting his meals out, he said.

PLANS BOXING TOURNAMENT

To develop and foster an interest in the sport of boxing Dick Derby has started plans for a boxing tournament to be held sometime in April. A champion for each weight class will be named and it is hoped to start a boxing team from the talent developed in this tournament.

An effort is being made to secure some suitable award for the champion in each class. A physical examination will be required of all the boys who plan to enter the tournament. As the bouts will not be held for a month, everybody will have a chance to get in condition and it is hoped that a great many will sign up.

Following are the classes and weights with the names of those who have signed up already:

Flyweight—Under 112 pounds. Bantamweight—112 to 118. Featherweight—118 to 126. Mike Egan and Dudley Davis. Lightweight—126 to 135. Fred Goodwin.

Heavyweight—Over 175. Don Gould.

Miss Lucy Neely McLane, professor of English and Speech Arts at Humboldt, will spend the holidays at Stanford University.

Ruth Bestor to Teach in East

Miss Ruth Bestor, director of training of the first and second grades, will teach for observation at Columbia University in New York next Summer.

Miss Bestor will have charge of one of the first grades for the six weeks session. She will have about twenty pupils, most of them children of professors at Columbia.

Miss Bestor taught for observation at Western State College at Kalamazoo and taught Kindergarten for two years at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Low Marks—No Dates For Alabama U. Girls

(By College News Service) UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA.—The word has gone out—no study, no date.

That was the edict aimed at University of Alabama coeds this week. All whose grade averages fell below "D" will automatically be classed as freshmen socially and must arrange their dates accordingly.

Francis H. McKay of the college music department, with his wife and baby, will spend the vacation in Oakland, visiting relatives.

FINAL TILT OF CAGE SEASON THURSDAY

COLLEGE AND ARCATA FIRE FIGHTERS TO MEET ON LOCAL GYM COURT

Humboldt State Teachers College cagers close the 1932 season Thursday night in the local gym when they tangle with the Arcata Firemen in the final tilt. The Firemen hold one win over the Green and Gold and the collegians will be fighting hard to gain revenge before it is too late. There will be a preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

Fresh from an overwhelming defeat of the league champions, the college crew promises to end the current year in a blaze of undefeated glory. A victory over the Arcata squad would give the Humboldters a five hundred per cent standing in games won and lost and would leave them in the upper division.

Coach Fred Telonicher plans to start the same crew which took the Hollander Sparklers outfit to the cleaners last week, namely: Jack Simpson and Haven Howatt, forwards; Gordon Hadley, center; and Glenn Waldner and Wayne Simpson, guards. The forwards just named accounted for 33 points between themselves against the champion Hollander five.

LITERARY CLASS TO RAISE FUND

The advance class of Literary Interpretation is preparing an original pantomime, a play, and a few readings to be given for an afternoon performance to raise money for the Dramatic Fund, according to Lucy Nedy McLane, dramatic instructor here.

IT MUST BE SPRING

It must be spring!

Everyone from the president on down through the faculty, secretaries, and janitor force to the students here at Humboldt State and even the training school "kids" are going contentedly about his or her work with a cheery smile. No one is complaining and everything "is rosy now."

This is the typical Humboldt spirit and the Lumberjack hopes that it will continue to prevail.

H

BETTER TIME NEEDED

If Humboldt State needs nothing else, it needs a system of telling time that is at least somewhere near being accurate. The present chain of electric clocks through the entire school is very unsatisfactory and each clock varies from the others in extreme cases as much as several hours. Even the central clocks in the office are anywhere from five to ten minutes slow or fast most of the while, according to "correct time."

We are glad to note that the buzzers in the clocks are working again this week, after a layoff of several months.

At the very least, the Lumberjack requests that the time be constant, say five minutes fast all the time, then by applying some arithmetic students will be able to reach classes "on time."

returns, it is quite evident that the ability to do college work of Humboldt students who entered as freshmen last fall on the average is practically as high as that of freshmen in a number of liberal arts institutions and much higher than that of the average teachers college freshmen."

Mr. Schussman is co-operating in a study being made by the "Teachers College Personnel Association," of which President George Frasier of the Colorado State Teachers College is the head. Its purpose is to ascertain the ability of entering students so that college courses can be adjusted to them.

Students who entered Humboldt as freshmen in the fall of 1930 may be interested to know, said Mr. Schussman, that the scores they made in the Thurstone Test were practically as high as the scores made by the 1931 fall freshmen. However, only the scores of the 1931 freshmen were included in the comparison.

Entrance Requirements Abandoned at Chicago U.

(By College News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb.—Conventional entrance requirements for freshmen this week were discarded at the University of Chicago in favor of a new liberal system in line with the University's revised educational policy.

High school graduates who bring recommendations from their instructors will be admitted if they can qualify as being "eager to learn," according to President Robert M. Hutchins. The usual entrance examinations will be waived in order to open the doors of the University to those who are willing to cooperate in the new coordinative educational plan at the institution.

Meanwhile, in order to publicize the new system, which involves an interlocking departmental organization with emphasis upon individual responsibility a three reel talking picture of University of Chicago campus life is being shown before high school student bodies.

The film takes the audience into the lecture room, faculty conference chambers, the laboratory, dormitory and various quarters housing student activities. Explanatory talks are given by President Hutchins, Coach A. A. Stagg and Thornton Wilder, widely known writer, who is a member of the faculty.

Last month, President Hutchins announced that during the present school year, which saw the introduction of drastic changes in the Chicago system, scholastic aptitude among freshmen rose 11 per cent.

Opinion In Humboldt State

To the Editor:

I wonder if anything can be done toward ending this "help-yourself-to-anything-you want" spirit. I mean the unnecessary "lifting" of other students' articles. For the second time in ten days I have found my gym locker opened and things missing. The second time a valuable baseball glove, a college sweater and a jersey disappeared. Even a lock did not help matters, so what is to be done? It certainly is disgusting, to say the least, to have to admit that some of our fellow-students merely help themselves, even if they have to smash their way into a locked locker. Such actions might be tolerated in grammar school—or even in high school—but when college students do it, something should be done to bring it to an end.

Yours disappointedly,

UGO GUINTINI.

Scholarships Needed Says President

"One of the problems of education today is to find and help the worthy high school seniors who should attend college, but are without funds. If this class is to be deprived of higher education, the country will lose the contributions of potential leaders."

"One of the best ways of making it possible for these students to attend college is by scholarships. These are being established all over the country by individuals and organizations."

LOCAL QUINTET DUMPS LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

When Jack Simpson has his shooting eye the Humboldt State Teachers College Basketball team can't be beat. This statement was proved conclusively last week when the college five downed the previously undefeated Sparklers here by a score of 48 to 33.

Jack accounted for 19 points, sinking 9 field goals from all angles around the basket. He was closely followed by Haven Howatt who totaled 14 points before he went out on personal fouls. Howatt made most of his points on follow-up shots and setups under the basket.

The entire college team was working well. Gordon Hadley made 8 points and did some good work in recovering the ball and passing out to team-mates. Wayne Simpson and Doggie Waldner went strong on defense.

Dunn was the outstanding player on the opposing team. In addition to scoring 12 points he played a fine game as pivot man making some beautiful passes under the basket.

The Sparklers had cinched the county league title previous to this defeat.

GIRLS TENNIS TOURNEY SET

A girls tennis tournament will start Monday, following spring vacation, it was announced by the physical education department Monday.

Participation in this tournament is limited to either singles or doubles, students being prohibited from entering both events.

Members of the first team receive 100 points toward their sweaters while subs or runners up receive 75 points. Squad players or anyone entering the tournament and playing get 25 points.

TELONICHER SHOOT WELL

Fred Telonicher of the physical education department, who is coaching two groups of Humboldt College archers this semester, has again broken his own record for the American Round in archery. He recently made ninety hits out of a possible ninety, with a score of 611. The national record for the American Round, held by Russell Hoogerhyde, of Coldwater, Michigan, is eighty-nine hits with a score of 698.

"How did you get that scratch on your cheek?"

RIVALRY KEEN AMONG ARCHERS

Rivalry among the archers of Humboldt State Teachers College is running high according to Fred Telonicher, coach and archery instructor here. Although there are thirty-five in the archery classes, there is no individual star. However, general students show rare promise, Telonicher says.

Among the more outstanding are T. K. Cotter, Jack Simpson, Aarne Sundberg, Dudley Davis, Don Lewis, Paul Douglas and Laurence Windbigler, among the boys, and Marcia Smith, Mary Titlow, Dorothy Dexter, Bernice Rasmussen, Barbara Stewart, Blanche Rall, Agnes Combs and Mary Nielsen among the girls.

AMY VANCE'S "CHRISIELERS" WIN GIRLS CHAMPIONSHIP

Amy Vance's "Chrisielers" won the championship of the girls' basketball league played during the noon hour the last three weeks. The following girls played on her team:

Al Renfro's "Score-pions" were the runner-ups, having won four games and lost one.

Approximately one-third of the girls in school took part in the noon league which was composed of six teams.

Brundin made good in the Portland training camp this spring and topped his fine work Sunday with a five inning mastery of the San Jose All-Stars in an exhibition game.

Brundin was a mainstay of Humboldt's nine for three years and has many friends who wish him good luck in his attempt to crash the "big leagues".

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NEEDY U. C. ATHLETES

(By College News Service)
BERKELEY, Calif. — Six years of indecision were ended this week when the University of California agreed to accept a $10,000 trust fund to supply scholarships for deserving athletes. The donor is "Andy" Smith, former California coach. A faculty committee must approve the award of scholarships to athletes in need of aid. Acceptance of the scholarship is not to be interpreted as a reflection upon the amateur standing of the individual, it was said, although this was the point which caused the six years delay.

GOLF TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Tentative plans are under way for a golf tournament for Humboldt Teachers College students to be held in the near future. It will be a handicap affair and a suitable prize will be awarded the winner. All those interested are requested to see Bill Nellist.

UTAH COEDS MAY WEAR CORSAGES

(By College News Service)
SALT LAKE CITY. — Despite an official administrative ban, coeds at the University of Utah may wear corsages at university social functions if they wish — but most of them apparently do not wish.

As a result of the ban, four of the coeds filed an action in superior court against President George Thomas just prior to the annual Junior Prom last fortnight and secured a restraining order, preventing him from removing any flowers should they be worn at the dance.

Thus stripped of the power of enforcement, the administration nevertheless claimed a moral victory when a check-up showed that only a few Utah women students who attended the Prom wore corsages.

TRACK SEASON NEARS

With the coming of spring many of the boys around school are becoming "track minded." Many of them are working out already. Coach Telonicher has issued a call for all the boys interested in track to come out and sign up in order that a suitable time may be arranged for work-outs.

SPRING TENNIS SEASON NEARS

With the coming of spring, tennis enthusiasts at the Humboldt State Teachers College are busy and Tennis Manager Louis Tallman has posted a notice for those interested in a tournament to sign up.

As yet only 12 people have signed up to play, but more are expected in the near future. Harold Brogan and Ugo Giuntini have signed up for men's singles. This should be a great match as Giuntini and Brogan each have one victory over the other and will be out for a second.

Those who have signed up for men's doubles are Herb Moore and Joe Daly; Wayne Overholser and Howard Gregersen, and Clyde Patenaude and Eddie Samons. For mixed doubles Harold Brogan and Lucile Winter are signed up along with Frances Seidel and Del Stone.

2 FORMER LIFE GUARDS HERE IN FACULTY

By MARK ROE

What a tough break. Here is Humboldt State with a couple of life guards and not a swimming pool.

Up till now it did not make a great deal of difference whether the girls had any place to drown themselves or not, because it is doubtful if they were aware that we had these guards in the institution. But now they know that Francis McKay and Charles Goodwin, of the college faculty, once saved fair maidens from watery graves, all the girls in school will be jumping into the pool in the inner court for lack of a better place to be pulled out of.

When the men were interviewed, they both started out with "Ah, it wasn't much. Besides, it has been so long ago that I have forgotten most of it." On further inquiry it was found that they rescued only from twelve to twenty persons a season. I guess that it would be a pretty dull and monotonous life, all right.

After a great deal of questioning, it was found that these modest gentlemen have quite remarkable records behind them.

McKay, assistant professor of music here, was life guard for eight summers in the Spokane Mission pool and play ground, and for two seasons he angled drowning ones from the Liberty swimming pool of Spokane. In 1921 he taught swimming at the Seattle Y. M. C. A. For three seasons he won the Junior Day Cup for water sports at the University of Washington, gaining permanent possession of the trophy. He passed the Red Cross life saving examination so many times that they gave him a permanent license.

Goodwin, assistant professor of Physical Science at Humboldt, was a member of the Oregon State College swimming team which won the Northeastern Intercollegiate championship in 1926. For four summers he was life guard and swimming instructor working on the Red Cross "learn-to-swim" campaigns at Eugene and Corvallis, Oregon. He earned a certificate which permitted him to conduct the Red Cross examination.

PHILADELPHIA. — Domestic happiness should be insured by a "companionate marriage" agreement between couples before they are wed, according to the opinions of a majority of Bryn Mawr College students who answered a questionnaire published by College News, campus weekly.

The girls were asked by the paper whether or not they would favor "a legal marriage entered into with a view to permanence but with a knowledge of birth control and an acceptance of divorce by mutual consent when there are no children."

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

While we are still deciding whether to have one or not, the Southern Oregon Normal School is sponsoring its annual basketball tournament which will take place March 16, 17, and 18. Let's boost our tournament.

WHO WON?

The Frosh and Sophs were to have a debate at St. Mary's. The stage was set, audience present, and the chairman had called for order before it was realized that both teams had prepared affirmative arguments.

Can't Sleep in Front Rows

In a recent survey conducted by the psychology department at Modesto, J. C. it was revealed that students seated in the back of the classroom never make as good marks as do students in the front of the room. There's a reason.

ME, TOO.

The seniors of Manhattan College voted Al Smith to be the "greatest of living Americans" and the favored presidential candidate of the class. Charles G. Dawes was selected as being the most representative American. They also declared wine was their favorite beverage and voted against cancellation of war debts.

BAD ENOUGH AS IT IS:

In a recent issue of the Boston College Heights was the following remark: "The victory of the Republicans in 1928 saved America from a period of hard times, which, compared with the depression through which we are now passing, would have seemed like riotous living." Aw, Nertz!

LOOK OUT, BOYS!

The girls at S. M. U. are unanimous in wanting their "ideal" man to be humorous, but they were somewhat divided on other qualifications. The vote was as follows: Independence 10, one-woman 7, intellectual 3, attentive 3, popularity 6, merely neat or even sloppy 7, big and bad 4, innocent 3, innocent-but-bad 6. What do they mean, "innocent but bad?"

Threaten Life of Lindy's Relative

(By College News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. — While authorities throughout the east last week were frantically searching for the 26-months-old son of Charles A. Lindbergh, the latter's sister-in-law, Miss Constance Morrow, was being guarded by police here.

Miss Morrow, sister of Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, is a freshman at Smith College, and although she attended classes as usual, those in charge of the guard were careful to see that she was properly protected at all times.

It was explained that the precautions were taken in view of threats which Miss Morrow had once received by letter. The communication demanded $50,000 and promised death if she did not comply.

PAPERS ACCUSED OF PROVINCIALISM

(By College News Service)

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — The Daily Princetonian and Harvard Crimson last week were accused of provincialism in an editorial published by The Daily Tar Heel at the University of North Carolina.

The columns of both papers, according to The Tar Heel, are inclined toward news of purely local and restricted interest. Besides being "bound in rigid provincialism," the type of journalism represented by the Princetonian and Crimson is "highly chimerical," according to The Tar Heel.

(By College News Service)

COLUMBUS, O. — A change in the location of a marker once supposed to be exactly on the fortieth parallel, which runs through the Ohio State University campus, was ordered this week by the university cabinet.

Professor Edwin F. Coddington of the department of civil engineering found that the stone supposedly placed on the line of the earth's parallel in 1870 by the late Professor Thomas C. Mendenhall, should in reality be 78 feet east of its present location.
