A CAPPELLA CHOIR WILL SING CAROLS

CHRISTMAS SERVICE TO BE GIVEN DECEMBER 20;
PUBLIC INVITED

The college A Cappella Choir will present its first candle light Christmas carol service in the college auditorium Thursday night, December 20, at 8 o'clock. The director, Edmund Jeffers, states that he has wanted to give such a program ever since he has been at Humboldt, but that this is the first year the choir has been able to undertake the learning of so much music in addition to its regular concert program.

The music to be sung by the choir on this occasion will consist of traditional carols from Germany, France, England, Haiti, and Bohemia. These old carols are exceptionally beautiful, according to Mr. Jeffers, and have been given an unusual setting by modern composers.

The choir will be assisted by a brass quartet which will play several numbers at the beginning of the program. The members of the quartet, are trumpets, Marseille Spetz and Ruth Carroll; horns, Merle Morton and Katherine Ford.

A minister from the community will read Christmas Story.

The auditorium and stage will be lighted by candles.

The program is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

The play will be directed by Garff Wilson, dramatics coach of the college. Superior Judge Harry W. Falk will preside at the trial in which many Eurekaans will take part. Two former students are in the cast: Dall Merriam and Merle Rowland.

Harmon Minor Running Service Station Here

The Texaco Service Station at 6th and G Streets in Arcata, is now under the management of Harmon Minor and his brother-in-law, Stuart Miller.

Minor attended Humboldt State for three years and was president of the "Big H" and was elected to this year's board of control. After leaving school this spring, he worked in a local service station for several months. Several weeks ago he entered a Texaco Specialization School and after finishing the course, he and his brother-in-law took over the management of the local station.

Hans Nelson, of Eureka, will speak to the students on worthwhile things in college and the activities of his college days and their value to him. Mrs. J. M. Garrison of Eureka, will sing.

Members of the society have established a tradition that cap and gown will be worn at the time of nomination. Initiation will be performed during the Christmas vacation when members have a get-together usually consisting of a dinner and theatre party.

The musical program that is planned for the assembly will include a piano duet by Melba Sarvis and Margaret Hessel and a trumpet solo by Marseille Spetz.

An honor luncheon will be served at noon to members and pledges of the Chi Sigma Epsilon and the Rousers. Guests will include Mr. Nelson, Mrs. Garrison and President and Mrs. Arthur Gist.

"NEW YORKER" HERE

The Humboldt College Library has prescribed for the "New Yorker" for a period of six months. It can be found on the newswriting reserve shelf in the library. It was ordered especially for the newswriting class because of the style of the short "human interest" stories under the topic of "Talk of the Town."

ERB IS PLANNING TO BRING
COLLEGE FROSH TEAMS
AS OPPONENTS

Coach Charles Erb plans to have a football schedule of seven home games with the freshman teams of the universities and colleges of the Bay region in addition to the Junior Colleges.

Erb, quarterback on the University of California "wonder teams" under the late Andy Smith, has signed a five-year contract to coach football at Humboldt State Teachers College.

The Idaho Vandals were brought out of the darkness in Pacific Coast football by Erb in 1927, when the Vandals tied the University of Southern California and Stanford for the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference Championship.

Idaho's football record during the regime of Erb as head coach included 18 victories, three ties, and six losses.

The University of Nevada with Erb as coach had the following record: five victories, one tie, and three losses.

"Grass" to be Shown -- By Geography Class

The four-reel motion picture "Grass" will be the first of series of motion pictures to be shown monthly during noon hours for all Humboldt State students in the auditorium by the local Geography class which is under the direction of Dr. Vernon J. Puryear. The picture which was filmed by Merian C. Cooper shows the seasonal wanderings of the Persian Peoples. Mr. Cooper first won fame by the filming of the picture "Chang".

The picture will be shown as soon as it arrives from the Eastman Film Co. which will be about December 10. A small admission fee (10 cents) will be charged to cover the cost of the film.

The committee in charge is Julius Hooven, chairman; Everett Watkins, Norma Thurston, and Sadie Ambrosini.

Harold Welch Rowing On Sacramento Crew

Harold Welch, former Humboldt student, is now attending Sacramento Junior College and is a member of the college crew. Welch visited Humboldt friends over Thanksgiving here and in Eureka.

The Sacramento crew defeated the California Freshmen in their first meet of the season on the Oakland Estuary. Five more meets are scheduled for the spring, including such opponents as the University of Washington and U. C. L. A. Welch rows number six man for the Sacramento crew.

WILSON OUTLINES DRAMATICS PLANS

Expressing a desire to advance college dramatics to an even higher place than they have heretofore been at Humboldt State, Garff Wilson, director of dramatics, has outlined plans for coming productions and for the improvement of stage facilities here.

Next semester, and possibly even this semester, he hopes to give performances of "Journey's End" in other parts of the county since such productions tend to build up audiences. The dramatics department expects to take a tour and to present a play in Chico next spring. For the plays which are to be given at Humboldt State, Mr. Wilson is planning to increase the stage equipment. New rigging, curtains, floor cloth, false apron will be installed. He hopes to remodel the switch board, also.

Wilson hopes that many students will be interested in taking part in dramatics next semester. Plays from which he will choose his productions are: "Let Us Be Gay," Crothers; "The Drunkard," P. I. Barnum's old temperance drama; "Sign on the Door," Channing Pollock; "Outward Bound," Sutton; "Donovan Affair," Owen Davis; "Three-Cornered Moon," Gertrude Tonnogoy; "Counsellor at Law," Elmer Rice; "Private Lives," Nowell Coward.

H

'Spring' Registration To Start December 10

Registration for the spring semester will be held from December 10 to December 21 during which time every college student must consult his advisor and arrange his program. Registration must be made in the specified time or a late registration fee will be charged.

A program schedule will be posted on the registrar's bulletin where every student should examine the program. Conflicts should be reported to the registrar's office as soon as discovered.

ARE COLLEGE VISITORS

Miss Zdenka Posic, teacher at Rhonerville, and Alice Persons, teacher at Janes school, were visitors at Humboldt State, Friday. Both Miss Posic and Miss Persons are Humboldt graduates of the Class of '34.

COMBINED CONCERT SET FOR TUESDAY

FOUR MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS
DIRECTED BY JEFFERS
TO PARTICIPATE

A combined concert of the A Cappella Choir, Symphony Orchestra, Men's Glee Club and Women's Glee Club will be presented Tuesday evening, December 11, at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. Free tickets will be issued to members of the Student Body on presentation of their student body cards at bookstore, and an admission of 40 cents will be charged for adults and 25 cents for students and children.

The A Cappella Choir will sing four numbers: first, "Tenebrae Factae Sunt," a motet by Palestrina, an Italian 16th century composer. His music is built on contrapuntal style which is separate tunes combined in such a way as to form harmony.

Second, "Sing We and Chant It," a madrigal written by Morley, one of the best known 16th century English composers. Madrigals are the product of 16th century English life. The text is usually satirical.

Third, "Bethlehem," a Glatz Folk-Song, is being used on the program forecasting the spirit of the Christmas season. The theme originally came from the province of Glatz in Southern Germany.

Miss Craig Coming Back Next Semester

Miss Ann Craig, head of the physical education department at Humboldt, who has been away on a leave of absence, will resume her position at the college with the opening of the new term.

Miss Craig has returned to her long Beach home following a three months trip to the South Sea Islands and will come to Arcata on or about January 14.

Miss Florence Shearer, formerly of San Francisco State College, has been substituting for Miss Craig this semester.

Miss Lucille Winters, graduate of Humboldt College, motored to San Francisco last week to see Miss Craig who was spending her Thanksgiving holidays in the bay city.

The Fall Term

The fall term, 1934, at Humboldt State Teachers College is nearly finished. Only four weeks of school remain.

When the 18 weeks of school are finished, some students may be in doubt as to whether they have gained anything by attending school. A student with this thought in mind should weigh carefully what he has gained and lost. There is the increase of knowledge gained from various experiences and acquaintances. No student in school has lost a thing if he attended class every day. In years to come, he may realize that he gained more fundamental knowledge while he was attending college than during any other time in his life.

Those who do just enough work to get by, should stop and consider how much life means to them in the future. If they decide to take life as it comes — let life come. But if they want to do something, to make a real success of life, now is the time to start getting solid fundamentals of knowledge. The best way to go about it is to burn a little midnight oil.

Charles Erb

Humboldt State students and faculty are extending their best wishes to Charlie Erb, quarterback of the California Wonder Teams, and newly appointed football coach.

Erb in his high school and college football coaching record can boast of having won over 80 per cent of his games and, also of getting a tie in the Pacific Coast Conference. Every Erb-coached team has won over 60 per cent of their games, and two of them were undefeated.

If Humboldt can secure such opponents as the California, Stanford or St. Mary's freshman teams, and it seems probable that they can, then will be the time for Erb to do his work, and with such a record behind him, it seems certain that he will.

Honor Due

The second string! Who were those men? That they were just out for football is the general impression.

They were not "just out for football," but they were out practicing every night just like the first string men—scrimmaging, blocking, tackling, kicking and running till they were ready to drop.

The fellows, sitting along the sidelines worked every bit as hard as the first string and got nothing for their efforts except "being out for football."

Miss Alma Lois Gallagher and Miss Bessie March, former residents of the girls' dormitory, but now living in the Messenger Apartments, spent the Thanksgiving Holidays in Arcata.

Roscoe Nearly Misses Civic Club Function

Roscoe, the Civic Club Turkey, like the legendary prisoner, returned in time to be executed.

According to the old story, a prisoner whose execution date had been set, was granted a 24-hour leave provided he promised to return in time to be killed. Roscoe, too, had his execution date set. He was led before the Humboldt student assembly, and Gillis Courtwright, Civic Club president, announced that he could live only until Thanksgiving day and that the details of his demise were to be left to the person who was given honor at the noon dance on November 27.

Roscoe was then tied in the cypress hedge near Sunset Hall, but like the old prisoner, he took leave. One end of his rope was found tied to the tree, but the end which was tied to Roscoe was gone. All day the frantic Civic Club Watsons and Sherlocks failed to locate their prize turkey.

After 24 hours had passed, Roscoe was discovered in his cypress hedge prison, securely tied, but with a different rope than that which held him before. He was kept under heavy guard until the dance. Jean McLean, Humboldt freshman, got Roscoe at the dance.

The prisoner in the old story never told what happened to him during his last day of freedom. Neither did Roscoe.

Quest for Knowledge Ends in Disaster

A small kitten's quest for knowledge ended in disaster recently. The swinging doors to knowledge, the library doors, caught the animal as it tried to enter with an industrious student. A loud howl followed from the kitten as it dashed to cover under a library table.

On being carried from the library the kitten limped out the door thoroughly discouraged with the treatment it received on trying to gain an education or maybe just a new place to play, as some students try to do in the library.

Volumes in Library Being Cleaned, Mended

The books in the Humboldt College and College Elementary School are being cleaned and mended by Mrs. Melvina Marshall, Miss Gladys Whitaker and Miss Enid Coulter. Miss Coulter is a graduate of Humboldt College.

At present they are at work in the training school. Work on the books upstairs in Humboldt College library has been completed. The down-stairs section will be completed shortly.

The book-menders will be here until December 14th.

VISITS IN COUNTY

Many former Humboldt State students, who are now attending other institutions of higher learning, spent the Thanksgiving holiday with their parents, here in Humboldt County. Among those from the University of California are Charles Schmeder, William Edson and Milton Huber. From other schools are Miss Virginia Stuart and Agnes Johnson.

This Student Thinks His Grievance Real

A certain student is nursing a grievance.

This student is taking a course which calls for papers every now and then. A recent assignment was to write a lengthy paper on some subject which the student was familiar with.

The student had very good intentions of writing the paper over the week-end; but with the many activities, the student was pressed for time. He went to a bookstore in his study and found an old book of prize-winning essays. On glancing through the book, he found an essay which interested him. He copied the essay, word for word, comma for comma, and period for period, to say nothing about the sentences and paragraphs, and then handed it in.

When the paper was handed back to him several days later, it was hardly legible because of the many corrections.

Then is when the student began to nurse his grievance. He doesn't know whether it is against the teacher who corrected the paper, the person who originally wrote it, or the editor of the book from which he got the material.

Elementary School Has Gift Assembly

The White Package Gift Parade was the feature of the assembly hour at the College Elementary School last week. Practically every student and teacher in the school brought a gift of food wrapped in white paper. These were packed in boxes and given to the welfare organizations to be distributed in Thanksgiving baskets.

Gift day will again be observed at the last assembly before Christmas.

Girl Given Turkey; Sells It to Mother

"I sold it to mother," was Jean McLean's reply to the question: "What did you do with the turkey?" And now it has gone away to the Happy Hunting Grounds where Thanksgivings are unknown and where turkeys are always happy.

But the College Civic Club realized a neat profit from the Turkey Trot, and the McLeans had turkey for Thanksgiving, and the turkey isn't here to worry any more.

In Other Colleges

Corsages of everything from violets to carrots were worn by the men of Sacramento J. C. who attended the first Tolo dance as guests of the girls. They reversed the established order—"The Amazons paid and paid while the masculine sex laughed and laughed."—And everyone had a hilarious time.

San Jose State men ate a half ton of food, turkey, potatoes, squash, Cranberry sauce, celery, olives, rolls, butter, coffee, pie (mince and pumpkin) at their annual Thanksgiving feed.

Football still reigns supreme at Chico State but it's our humble opinion that the "casaba tossers" had better start rehearsing for the Lumberjack invasion unless they wish a repetition of last year. 'Twould suit us (the repetition, we mean).

Whittier's Powerful Poets won the Southern Conference football championship this year with one of the most outstanding teams seen in the conference in years.

"All Ventura J. C. men who do not infest the campus peering over underbrush (caused by a beard-growing contest) will be officially labeled as pansies, jany-waists, and lilies of the valley" and so a San Francisco columnist opines that with a few pebbles 'twould make an elegant rock garden. Oh well!

Miss Mabel Snyder, student at Humboldt, has dropped school because of illness.

STAR WILL SHINE IN COLLEGE TOWER

For the seventh consecutive year the electrically lighted Christmas star will be placed on the tower of the Humboldt administration building and will be lit every evening until after college re-opens after New Year's.

The star is visible not only in Arcata, but in Eureka, Samoa, and for several miles out at sea. It is five feet across, and is lighted by 30 50-watt globes. During the time that it is being used, the street lights around the campus are disconnected so that the star can be run off the special clock circuit which automatically turns the lights on and off at specified hours.

The star and the lighted tree at the south end of the commons are a part of the community project for outdoor holiday decoration.

Fourth, "Jesus on the Water Side," by Aschenbrenner. It is written in the style of a Negro spiritual in six and eight parts. The composer is the conductor of the Chicago Symphony Choir.

The Men's Glee Club will sing three numbers: "Landsighting," by Grieg; "Where My Caravan Has Rested," by Lohr; "Marching on to Meet One Bonaparty," by Gaul.

Of the numbers on the Men's Glee Club, "Marching on to Meet One Bonaparty," should, according to Mr. Jeffers, have special mention as being the most modern of any number ever sung by the Men's Glee Club. It is unusual in that it has an accompaniment written for two pianos. The second piano part will be played by Miss Merle Morton, who will assist the regular accompanist, John Van Duzer.

The Women's Glee Club will sing four numbers: "Water Ripple and Flow," a Czechoslovakian folk song; "Afar," Gretchaninoff; "Thy Mouth, Fair Maid," a German folk song; "Love's a Merchant," Carew.

The three numbers the orchestra will play are: "Sakuntala Overture," "Minuet from G Minor Symphony," Mozart; "Ozarka Suite," Busch.

PUPILS' QUESTIONS PERPLEX STUDENTS

In the opinion of those college students who have recently started their last unit of practice teaching at the College Elementary School, grammar school pupils rank near par with college professors in their ability to ask perplexing questions.

"Why does a necktie have two ends?" is, according to one student teacher, the hardest question he has been asked lately. "How can a submarine sink if you don't punch a hole in it; and if you punch a hole in it, how are you going to get it up again?" another little fellow asked.

Here are more of the children's queries:

"Why can't I see in the dark as well as my cat can?"

"Is this the right way to spell chrysanthemum?"

"Are the wires that carry light to the stars hung on poles, or are they fastened into the bottom of Heaven and just swung down low enough for us to see?"

One senior who has been teaching an upper grade now has a primary group. She says that while at time she has been puzzled by geography and history questions, she is now really worried. She knows that no primary teacher can hope to get through the coming weeks without some wide eyed youngster coming to her and sobbing:

"A big third-grade boy just told me that there isn't any Santa Claus. You go tell him he is wrong. Because there really is! Isn't there?"

Students Take Part In Radio Program

The Arcata Outdoor Christmas Tree Clubs, of which J. Wendell Howe is radio program chairman, presented the A Cappella Choir and Instrumental Trio of Humboldt State College on its program over KIEM Wednesday evening.

The Instrumental Trio, consisting of Myron Schussman, violin; Dorothy Williams, cello, and Mrs. Leo Schussman, piano, opened the program playing "Long in the Air." Mrs. Jessie Sorensen, a Humboldt graduate and now president of the Arcata Woman's Club, then spoke on the aims and activities of the club. The A Cappella Choir rendered two selections, followed by speeches by Bert O. Hill and J. Wendell Howe, both of Arcata. The program was closed with the Instrumental Trio playing "Cantique De Noel."

Dr. Vernon H. Hunt of Arcata, was master of ceremonies.

Another radio program, sponsored in behalf of the Arcata Outdoor Christmas Tree Club, will be given over KIEM Saturday evening, December 15, at 6:15.

Moore, Henders Will See Pasadena Game

Bill Henders and Francis Moore, end and fullback on this year's Humboldt State Teachers College football team, were decided on by the members of the football squad as the two players who would go to the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena as guests of Jeremiah R. Scott, Fortuna lawyer.

The players were chosen as the two players who practiced the most conscientiously, displayed leadership, and showed the best spirit on the football field.

Scott, with Henders and Moore as guests, will leave December 29 for Pasadena, where they will witness the Tournament of Roses and the Rose Bowl game between Stanford and Alabama on New Year's day. All the expenses of the two will be taken care of by Scott.

Student Has Rocks For Wall Gathered from Many States

Maude Hyner, Humboldt student, has for the past year made a hobby of collecting rocks. When her family made plans to build a retaining wall around their terraced lawn on the hill above Trinidad beach, Miss Hyner decided that every rock used in the wall should be chosen because of its beauty or its geographical significance.

The collection is now almost adequate. It contains grey granite from the Palisades of the Hudson, green mica from Trinidad beach, and rocks of various hues from a score of states between.

Green, orchid, blue and yellow stones are common along the Trinidad beaches, and it is there that Miss Hyner has found many of her brightest colored rocks. Every storm uncovers boulders unexposed before. Very often shifting sands hide those which Miss Hyner had planned to get on another trip. She has a sled on which to haul the large ones. The path up the hill is steep and more than once an obstinate rock has rolled off the sled and avalanched down to the beach again. "But," Miss Hyner says, "any hobby has its hazards."

Last summer Miss Hyner and her parents drove to New York. This made it possible for her to add stones from faraway places. She brought home one, even if it was a very small one, from every state she drove through. There is a tan and rose stone from the Wyoming desert, a rose colored boulder from a Utah canyon, and a red one from Crater Lake.

When the retaining wall is built, the smallest and the most brilliant stones will be cemented into the six gate posts. The others will be set into the wall. Miss Hyner says that she knows that whenever she looks at the finished wall she will be reminded of the miles and miles of enjoyable hiking and driving she has done the past year pursuing her hobby of collecting rocks.

Health Is Essential In Dental Profession

Good health backed by a college athletic career is one of the greatest assets to a dentist said Dr. Eugene Fountain, Arcata dentist, who recently spoke to the freshman boys' orientation class. Many people do not realize that a dentist has to do more hard physical work than any other of the professions. Besides the natural qualities of a good physical and mental condition, the dentist must have good training, he said.

Humboldt County dentists are proud of the fact that the county has the highest percentage of members in the California State Dental Association. Recently, while in the south, Dr. Fountain heard Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, recommend Humboldt State graduates as making excellent students in the University dental schools.
