Chi Sigma Epsilon Initiates Members

On the evening of March 22, the members of Chi Sigma and Rho Sigma gathered in the social unit for the initiation of new members into the respective organizations. Refreshments were served, and games were enjoyed by all.

Those persons initiated into Chi Sigma were Josephine Landahl, Betty Ann Coppin, and Mary Budiselic. Brett Melendy, Irven Davies, Barbara Mathews, Frances Rovai and Mary McIntosh were pledged into Rho Sigma.

From the social unit the guests and members proceeded to the Big Four, where dinner and dancing were enjoyed by all.

Creative Music Contest in May

During the latter part of May, the Mu Epsilon Psi is holding its Creative Music contest in conjunction with the Creative Writing Contest held every year. Any student who is interested in participating should turn his composition in to Mrs. Thomson in the President's office by May 6. No names are to be on the compositions. They will be judged before the performance by Mr. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Martin, and Miss Jackson. Two $5 prizes will be awarded and the students will play their own compositions at the assembly. Anyone may attend this assembly if he has paid his student body dues.

Somewhere in the South Pacific—Captain John P. Morton, former Humboldt student, now a pilot in a Marine dive bombing squadron, has 32 combat missions to his credit against the enemy in the northern Solomons.

On October 14, while based at Henderson Field, Guadalcanal, he participated in the first dive bombing attack on Japanese held Ballale Island. This position was heavily fortified with anti-aircraft guns and intense fire was thrown up at the approach of Marine planes.

Captain Morton evaded all attack and dropped his bombs in the assigned target area. He then made a strafing run on a Jap plane attempting to get into the air from the Ballale strip. The rear gunner unleashed his guns against the Jap plane and it caught fire and crashed before getting into the air.

Later the squadron moved to an air strip at Torokina, Bougainville. December 14, while on a mission, Captain Morton sighted a bridge on one of the main supply routes into the Empress Augusta Bay area. Scoring a direct hit on the bridge, he completely demolished it, hampering Jap movement of supplies to their front area.

Captain Morton said that he has carried out attacks over Villa, Kahili, Kara, Buka, Bonis, and other Jap air strips and positions in the northern Solomons.

Breaking down his 32 missions, there were 19 strikes, five submarine searches, five Mason flights, one spotter sweep and two convey coverage flights.

Captain Morton attended Humboldt in '39-'41, taking a Civil Aeronautics course before entering service as a Marine flyer.

Thanks To A. Brizard

The April 10 issue of the Humboldt News Letter was financed by the firm of A. Brizard, Inc. The many letters of thanks written by the Humboldt men and women in service, prove that the News Letter is of great value to them. The Brizard firm has taken

"The nomination of officers shall be by signed petitions of twenty-five members of the Associated Students. Petitions for nomination shall be filed with the Executive Council not less than one week nor more than three weeks prior to the primary elections, during which time a notice to the effect that nominations are in order shall be posted on the official bulletin board, and shall be published in the "Lumberjack."

Women's Clubs Hold Annual Tulip Tea

The Humboldt County Federation of Women's Clubs held their annual Tulip Tea April 13, in the Eureka Women's Club house.

The program consisted of vocal renditions by Elmo Baxter, Mrs. Wallace E. Martin and Mr. Harold Hollingsworth. Mrs. Martin and Mr. Hollingsworth also sang a duet. Betty Anne Coppin played a piano selection and the Humboldt State Instrumental Trio, consisting of Joyce Bruner, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulkerson, also played a number. Bernardine Giannini and Sharon Hash performed the Mexican Hat Dance. The rest of the program was taken up by a one act play with Gladys Smith, Eula Westberg, Gladys Roberts, and Anna Babler taking the various parts.

WORK DAY SET FOR MAY 5

Work-day plans, under the chairmanship of Marian Langer, are being formulated. The date finally decided upon for Work-day is May 5. As most of you know, Work-day is the day set aside every year for a general clean-up of the college and grounds. This is also the day the faculty entertains the student body with its Faculty Show, which seems to get better each year. There's no telling what to expect this year with so many of the professors branching out in Dramatics, but it's sure too be good.

a great interest in Humboldt activities and has done a number of other things for us in the past. We are very grateful and would like to thank them, both for ourselves and for the service men and women who receive the News Letter.

ANNUAL SENIOR CARNIVAL TRADITION BEING REVIVED

The Senior Carnival, sponsored by Humboldt seniors, in order to raise money to buy a gift for the college, will be given Friday, April 21.

The last Carnival was held in the Spring of 1941 and the seniors this year are making an attempt to revive the old school tradition. Each school organization has been requested to sponsor a booth or concession.

Organizations which have signed up for concessions are as follows; the College "Y," a Hot Dog stand; the seniors own "House of Horrors; separate booths sponsored by the complete faculty and the faculty wives; the AWS, a pop corn and candy stand plus the Treasure Hunt; Alpha Psi Omega, fortune telling; Chi Sigma Epsilon and Rho Sigma, a Bingo game; Mu Epsilon Psi; Nelson Hall girls; and the California Student Teachers Association. Dr. Fisher is sponsoring a concession for children only.

There will be no admission fee to the Carnival, but the booths will have appropriate charges. The public, including servicemen, is invited and there will be free dancing.

State Architect Here On Business

Mr. William F. Bartges of the State Architect's Office, was here last Wednesday to confer with President Gist regarding new buildings for Humboldt, after the war. Mr. Bartges is the same architect who planned Nelson Hall.

The first building to be constructed will be the Industrial Arts building, on the corner of Vine St. and Laurel Drive, across the street from the North end of the training school. Plans are to be formulated immediately so that construction may begin as soon as the war is over.

"I'm hopeful that we may have plans approved for building a Library of Science building soon after the close of the war," says Mr. Gist.

The library will be where the present shops are now, and the new Science building where the little gym and the co-op are. At the same time, there is hope for building a corporation house where the present store rooms and parking garages are located, with the new Students Union above. President Gist said: "We plan to have two entrances into the Student's Union; one from the end of the East hallway to the South, and the other entrance will be from the West, near the entrance of the little gym."

Captain Don Turner who attended Humboldt from '38 to '41 was married March 24 to Ellen, both Edgerton at Palm Springs.

DON WILSON HERE ON LEAVE

DONALD F. WILSON

Don Wilson S 1c in the US Navy, visited his parents and friends earlier this month on a 9-day leave.

He enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and has completed a course in Advanced Fire Control at Treasure Island. A few months ago, Don spent some time on a destroyer in the South Pacific. He has specialized in Fire Control Mechanisms for five-inch, 38 caliber guns.

Before he left, Don and Faye Nunes made known their engagement, which took place on the evening of April 7.

Ardith Petersen Now Mrs. Kennedy

At 1:30 on Easter Sunday in the St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Ferndale, Ardith Petersen became the bride of Edward Kennedy of the Coast Guard. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Maahs. Matron of Honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Raymond Jespersen, and Best Man was Mr. Raymond Jespersen. Leslie Tedson sang, "Oh Perfect Love."

The bride wore a turquoise blue suit with white orchids. After the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of the bride.

Girls! If you have any little gadgets at home that would make good prizes for the AWS Treasure Hunt at the Senior Carnival, bring them to Mrs. Hadley's office. They will be indeed welcome.

A. W. S. NOTICE

It's been rumored around that the A. W. S. is going to have a Mother's Day Tea. You know, when I stop to think about that it's kind of funny. Here's the lay-out:

Every mother in the school is invited to attend the Tea. She will be sent a special invitation all decked out with a 3c stamp. Let's see, there are about 140 mothers; that makes about $4.20. Then each mother is given a corsage, and is served refreshments. There's a swell decoration committee, and their plans are bound to dig into our treasure a little bit. And that's where the laugh comes in!

If you've noticed, there hasn't been a treasurer's report for some time now, but on examining the books, the A. W. S. finds itself to be well DOWN on the millionaire's list. In fact, we're about $2 to the good! You know what that means. No Tea!!

But the Mother's Day Tea has been more or less of a tradition at H. S. C. Last year, due to a time shortage, (or a shortage of funds,) the Tea was dispensed with. Now we are trying to establish it again because our Mothers seem to enjoy it so much, but as things stand now, the A. W. S. can't possibly swing it.

Do you know that out of about 130 women enrolled in college, all of which are official members of the A. W. S., only 25 of them are legally active members because they are the only ones who have paid their dues? Now you may have a good reason for not wanting to pay your dues, and the majority of you have probably never had the chance to pay them, but I heard a few comments like this: "Heck, I got rooked last time on my two-bits, I'm not GOING to be rooked again!" Well, if everybody felt that way, there would be a sudden disappearance of the off in a cloud of dust! Well anyway that's a quick demonstration of the wrong way to enter a dining room! Take your time—there's enough food for every one—we hope. If it's at the dorm, let the housemother go in first. It's all a matter of politeness. And did you know that there's a right and wrong way to be seated and to rise? You didn't—well, take heed. Sit or be seated from the left and rise from the right. It saves much confusion.

JOE ERROR AND JEAN MISTAKE

Have you ever noticed a puppy eating? He puts his head in the bowl and doesn't look up 'til he's finished. We aren't puppies so let's not do it that way. And then there's the very tired person. He practically lays on the table. Sometimes he's so tired he has to hold his head up by resting it on his hand. Poor fella! He sure needs vitamin pills.

Conversation at the dining table should be pleasant. Don't discuss the gruesome side of things. Make the conversation light—even nonsensical.

Then there's the subject of telephone calls. While we admit they are extremely important, they shouldn't be treated lightly. If there is one for you, don't rush out like the table is on fire. Be polite and excuse yourself. You don't want everyone to think you

A. W. S. as an organization because we can't function without funds. If that's the way you, as an individual feel about it, please let your president know, so she and the board can drop the plans and get back to their studies which are in pretty bad shape at the present. But, if you feel that this Mother's Day Tea is a worthy activity, and if your mother, (remember, you can bring a friend if your Mom can't make it,) really enjoys the Tea, then please pay your dues as promptly as possible to any one of the board members that you may see. Thanks.

Your President,
 JEAN HARDWICK.

A final warning!! Don't start grabbing at the food as soon as you sit down. It's not going to run away. Don't start eating until the hostess does. Remember dear friends, I'll be watching you.

So you want to meet that cute little number that sits by the skeleton in the Biology Lab! Well, you can, but don't kill your romance before it buds by approaching her in that "Hi ya babe" or "Whatcha doin' tonight?" attitude. Instead, put a little of the Cassanova into it with "I'm Joe, I don't believe I know your name." Good manners would demand that she give in.

Then Joe, when your best pal sees that you're making headway, he approaches the scene eager for an introduction. What to do? Yes, we understand you aren't in a hurry to share this little lovely with someone else so soon but—well, what can you do? You can't ignore him, so make the best of a bad situation but not with "Bill, I wantcha to meet Jean." Make an impression on her with the more gracious, "May I present" or simply, "Sally this is Bill."

These forms apply not only to the younger set but to older persons as well. If you want to "make a hit" with your English teacher while introducing her to a friend, use "Miss Fair-sex, this is Mr. Tall-and-Strong or Mrs. Wedded-in-bliss, Miss Looking-Around." Don't introduce members of your family to your friends with a jerk of your head and "That's Uncle John." It just isn't done and your friends might know it and judge you accordingly. And about that handshake, don't be a Sampson or worse yet, a dead fish. You are often judged by the way you shake hands so make your handshake brief, with a feeling of strength and warmth. Above all, take your time. A little thought will eliminate a lot of confusion!

Until next time

Sincerely

Ramona.

Early day leather boots were the first individual postoffice mail boxes in America. The scarcity of nails and the prohibitive cost of wood was responsible. Soles of the boots were fastened to the walls by rivets, and letters were deposited in the roomy legs.

SAILOR WRITES FROM BAGDAD

Does the following quotation sound as if it might have been written by a Humboldt sailor to his folks in Arcata?

"I had not long been in the enjoyment of ease and repose, after my return from my third voyage, when a company of merchants entered Bagdad and foregathering with me, talked with me of foreign travel and traffic, till my soul yearned to go with them and divert itself with the sight of strange countries." Actually it was the first sentence that popped out when the first volume of the Columbia Uni-

PERFORMANCE OF "JUNIOR MISS" SET FOR MAY 11, 12

The opening performance of the spring play, "Junior Miss," has been set for May 11. It will play for two nights, May 11 and 12. The play is a comedy in three acts, based on Sally Benson's novel. The setting for the play is the apartment of a middle class family living in Manhattan.

The cast is complete, with new talent being discovered. Marian Langer, pre-nursing student, will make her first appearance on stage when she characterizes the part of Judy Graves, the "Junior Miss." Marian came to Humboldt State in the fall of 1941, and has been active in music and athletics.

Among the other new faces to be seen at the opening performance of "Junior Miss," are Ruth Farrar as the other young juvenile, Fuffy, and Virginia Hill in the part of the family maid, Hilda.

Two of our faculty members are also participating in the play; Mr. Charles Fulkerson, music instructor, is characterizing the part of Willis Reynolds, and Dr. William Lanphere, professor of biological science is portraying the part of Harry Graves, father of the middle class family. Harry's wife, Grace, is being played by Jean Hardwick, who appeared in last fall's play, "Letters to Lucerne."

The Graves' oldest daughter, Lois, will be characterized by Mary Borel, who also appeared in "Letters to Lucerne." Lois' many beaux are played by boys from both Humboldt State and Arcata High School. Humboldt boys include Walter Sweet, Frances Goddec, Mark Melendy, Walter Bennett, and Darrel Norberry. The Arcata High boys are Laurald Stebbins, Jim Timmons, Albert Cruick, Herbert Hunt and Joe Suza.

Two more Arcata High School boys, Don Christianson and Stribley Schussman, have the parts of Haskell Cummings, Judy's Beau, and Barlow Adams, brother of young Fuffy, respectively. Both Christianson and Schussman were members of the cast of "Bachelor Born," which was given three years ago.

The part of J. B. Curtiss, a very self-made man and lawyer, will be portrayed by Mr. H. C. Buchanan, of the Arcata High School faculty. Ellen Peterson, who has been in former Humboldt State plays, will portray the part of J. B. Curtiss' daughter, Ellen, in love with Willis Reynolds.

Mrs. Don Karshner is directing the production, and the Dramatic Workshop class under the direction of John Van Duzer is doing the backstage work.

Pan-American Day Conference at CES

The second annual conference of Pan-American Day was presented by Humboldt State College and Delta Kappa Gamma at the College Elementary School on April 15. The morning session started at 10 o'clock with President Gist presiding. Mayor Ham of Arcata, gave the welcoming address, and the conference was under way. Dr. Raymond Fisher gave a scholarly address on the Historical Background of American Republics. Following that were American adaptations of Latin-American dances directed by Mrs. Hadley, and performed by Shirley Thompson and Darwin Belfis. Dr. C. Langdon White of Stanford University, gave an address on the Geographic Basis for Understanding Latin-America. The morning session ended with the A Cappella choir of Arcata High School, directed by Miss Ruth Carroll, singing some appropriate songs.

Mrs. Gordon Manary, representing the Travel Club, presided over the afternoon session, which began at 2 o'clock. Motion pictures about life in Mexico and Haiti were shown. Then, Honorable German Arciniegas, minister of Education of Colombia, spoke about Pan-American relations. Dr. C. Langdon White gave another address on the Latin-American Industrial Future. The Instrumental Trio, composed of Joyce Bruner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulkerson, then played some selections. The conference was brought to a close with an address by President Gist on The Qualifications of Good Neighbors.

Hi-Ya

CO-EDS

Yep, I'll agree with ya . . . there's not much to get hep over nowadays with all the pulsators off the campus . . . in fact, right 'bout now, you feel about as sharp as a doorknob.

Yet who knows when that dream man's goin' to show up? Maybe he'll drop around State tomorrow . . . and give all the envious gals a thrill . . . maybe one of the old-time heros will return to Nelson Hall, and you'd better be on your toes . . . maybe he'll be your whirl for a night or two.

So take my advice and be prepared for whatever comes . . . and the best way is to look like a carefree tomato from Vogue, a real knockeroo college co-ed, is to dress like one!

And you'll find Daly's just the store for you! Common over . . . I'll show you what I mean . . . you'll see why the Sport Shop is strictly o.k. to so many gals . . . and why center aisle has everything in the line of versatile accessories that snare the unwily men . . . drop by, I'll be glad to show you round!

Yours for more men at State in '45,

Helen Humboldt.

Mary Papini and Gabriel Vallee Tell Engagement

The engagement of Miss Mary Papini of Arcata, and Gabriel L. Vallee, AMM 2c in the Navy was announced at a family dinner Easter Sunday at the home of the bride-elect's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ugo Papini.

Miss Papini is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Papini of Arcata. She is a 1942 graduate of Arcata high school, where she was an honor student. She was chosen the outstanding girl of her class.

Vallee's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel D. Vallee of El Monte. He attended schools there and also Woodbury's Business college in Los Angeles. Before enlisting in the Navy 15 months ago he was employed by the North American Aviation corporation at Engle-

Senior Carnival To Be Friday

The seniors are planning a bang-up time for everyone who attends the SENIOR CARNIVAL Friday night on April 21. They hope to see you all, with a few friends too, as everyone is invited. Every organization of the campus has been asked to sponsor a booth or concession, so everyone should have the interest of the success of the SENIOR CARNIVAL at heart. There should be a number of servicemen there enjoying themselves, too. Admission is free, and there will be free dancing with a varied program throughout the evening. BUT—don't leave your money at home. There will be some exciting and profitable things to do with it. For instance—

"Hot dogs! Get 'em while they're hot!" will be the cry of the "College Y" (Real honest-to-goodness hot dogs that cost red tiddly winks.) Also, the AWS has promised some snappily dressed popcorn and candy vendors.

Pitch pennies with the CSTA—Throw baseballs at milk bottles with the Dorm girls.—Have your fortune told by the imported gypsy fortune-teller at the Alpha Psi Omega booth.—Drop in at the Faculty's General Store and see what's in the cracker barrel.—Dig up buried treasure with the AWS.—Why even the kiddies can have fun, so bring them along, too, and let them slide down the slide with Dr. Fisher.—Mingle with the spooks and skeletons at the "House of Horror," we dare you to.—Bingo! Lots of fun and prizes at Chi Sigma Epsilon and Rho Sigma's Bingo game.

All this and many more games at the SENIOR CARNIVAL. The seniors guarantee you all the fun and excitement of a real carnival, so be sure to come. Help foster school spirit!

Visits In Arcata

Chief Petty Officer Francis Moore, United States Navy, visited friends in Arcata this week, while on leave from duty. He recently returned from 12 months duty in the South Pacific.

Chief Moore is waiting for a commission which is expected in one or two weeks. He will then go wood. He is now stationed at the Arcata Naval Air Station.

RANGER SENDS POEM

Hjalmar Lundell, one of the Rangers who stayed at the Dorm this semester, sent this poem to your editor, so it appears that even though they have all left, some of them still think of Humboldt State College:

THE LAMENT OF A FLY
Poor Grandpa is crushed by a pancake turner,
Old grandma flew into a burner.
My father died in a spider's net
And mother met in the soup her death.

My brother went to feed the fish
And sister died in an oily dish,
The Swatter struck my mother-in-law.

My cousin got hit in the jaw.
And into the grease of the frying pan

My bride was thrown by the fan
Curse the luck!

No use getting struck,
When the bridesmaids are cutting capers

And losing their pep on tanglefoot papers.

Gone to be near the raising dough
Resting forever as far as I know,
Are all my poor relations.

No wonder this lamentations,
There is no place for a lone fly,
I guess I am next to die.

—Hjalmar Lundell.

Chief Moore, a graduate of Humboldt State College, is on leave of absence as coach at Arcata Union High School. He has been in the service 26 months.
