

College in 1972 Shows Progress

Final tabulations released by the registrar's office at the University of Northern California, (formerly Humboldt State College) sets the final enrollment count for this spring semester at 7,932 students, an increase of 793 over last semester.

The wildlife students recently made history by succeeding in growing three dandelion plants in the court in the middle of the main building; the first plant life to be grown in the United States since the Great Atomic War. The head of the Wildlife Department, who is world famous for his work in the scientific field, when asked to make a statement for the press, said, "Before our dandelion, by thunder, Old U. N. C. was lost at that. But now no longer will one wonder Where it is located at."

As a result of his speech, many new students are expected in that department next fall.

The extensive building program undertaken several years ago is nearing completion. Only three buildings in the project remain to be started. The foundations have been laid for all the rest.

TV Exposes Attitudes

The Television Department has planned many wonderful programs for this semester. One of these is a serial titled, "Our Boy," which follows the adventures of a typical college student from the time he gets up in the afternoon till he goes to bed in the morning.

On the third of April a special feature program, with a cast of many of our best students and professors, will be presented. Its title is "The Art of Playing Double Solitaire."

The basketball team will leave tomorrow by rocket for New York to play in the T. T. T. (Top Team Tournament), sponsored by Wheaties, to find the best basketball team in the United States.

Having beaten every team on the coast in the season just completed, including Stanford and PHOTOGRAPH SIZED FROM REDS is reproduced above. Federal Security Agents recovered the photo from Russian fishermen off the coast of Alaska early this week. Notations on the reverse side of the picture inferred that because the school was teaching "decadent democracy" it should be included on the Russian target list for bombing.

TOLD BY SCIENCE STUDENTS

A positive method of increasing brain power is now being worked on by Dick Cloney and Leigh Hanley, HSC scientists. The possibility of this startling fact has been brought to light by the lowly frog.

It was found in experiments that if the non-functioning portions of the frog's brain were removed, the remaining active parts of the brain were able to expand due to the extra space. The result is an increase in mental ability.

A Briny Frog

As a matter of fact, the first experimental frog in the Humboldt laboratories became so smart that he now assists in all similar experiments on his fellow frogs.

Since man also has many inactive cells in his brain, it is hoped that similar results will follow the removal of his "good-for-nothing" cranial cells.

"If experiments go as we plan, operations on human subjects will commence next year," stated the brilliant Manley. "It is of course necessary to progress up the evolutionary scale before attempting scalp-work on man so as to eliminate all possibilities of error."

Possibilities Unlimited

"We must use extreme caution in handling these quiz-kid frogs to prevent them from conquering the campus," said genius Cloney.

MARKED FOR BOMBING

HCS Photograph Recovered From Russian Fishermen

HSC TEACHING DECADENT DEMOCRACY, CHARGED IN PROTESTS FROM RADIO MOSCOW

Discovery of a aerial photograph of Humboldt State College, pictured at left, in the possession of Russian fishermen led to a wide scale investigation by Federal Security agents early this week. A report stated that the agents had been working undercover on the Ukraine, a Russian whaling vessel, which was operating off the northern Pacific coast.

Coast Guard cutters have taken the Ukraine into custody and are bringing it into the port at Seattle. Lt. J. J. Smith, of the cutter Cuttlebone, stated in a radio report that a long range helicopter as well as a powerful radio transmitter and receiving set were found on the Ukraine. "Definitely not standard whaling equipment," said Lt. Smith.

College Target

Hundreds of photographs of west coast military, industrial, and educational installations were found in the possession of the Russians, according to U. S. agents. Among those was the picture of HSC. The photo had a penciled notation on the reverse side, "Intellectual center of the northwest. Teaching decadent democracy. Class A target."

This was believed by U. S. officials to be a large scale plan to map potential bombing targets.

Invented Whaling

Radio Moscow today unleashed a vilifying stream of protest over the seizure of the ship and agents. It stated that, "It is an unprecedented attempt on the part of the capitalists to terrorize honest fishermen in an attempt to learn of the latest developments in Russian whaling techniques." It further stated that the U. S. knows nothing of modern whaling methods since the whale was invented by Lenin himself.

In connection with the plot Dr. Cornelius H. Siemens, president of HSC, has been called to Washington to discuss the feasibility of moving the college underground to caves in the mountains near Forest Glen.

STUDENT NIGHT MEET CALLS STEBBINS ARE

(Late Dispatch) President Toads Stebbins today expressed extreme disapproval of the actions of the students who revolted against the 10 per cent plan last night. The Collegiate Police force subdued the rebellious students at midnight after four hours of dueling with platic soybean feathers.

Rebel spokesman, Miss Hegley Punt, stated that "Old soldiers never die (they just smell that way). This is a democratic college." She cried, "And I shall fight until we have the right to buy a cup of coffee in the Coop without proof of our membership in the student body."

Getting Hopped Up

Also, no discrimination should be shown to students purchasing coffee since it has been scientifically proved that the caffeine stimulates mental activity.

In rebuttal, President Stebbins stated that this wasn't the year of 1900—this is 1952. He argues that discrimination should be shown since every student does not have equal mental powers to stimulate. It was his opinion that any student with any mental abilities would be a member of the ASB.

Depression Aftermath

This conflict began in 1952 during the president's first term of office when his council passed the 10 per cent plan which, among other forgotten points, required the showing of student body cards before buying coffee.

Since that time numerous unsuccessful attempts have been made by rebel groups to over-throw the government.

Stegall Meets With Graduate Managers

Frank Stegall, student executive manager, returned from the Graduate Managers' Convention held last week in San Diego. Delegates from seven of the State Colleges as well as from other universities and colleges in California attended to exchange ideas and discuss mutual problems concerning student body business affairs.

Of interest to Humboldt students is the fact that, outside of the large schools such as the University of California and UCLA, Humboldt State was the only one to come out in the "black" on football.

Stegall made the observation that in many schools a high percentage of the funds from the sale of student body cards are used to defray football costs, and in some cases students are charged admission to the games.

At HSC football supported itself and students were admitted free on presentation of ASB cards.

Two Editors Attend Conference In South

Stressing the need for interchange of ideas and cooperation, the Third Annual Conference of the California Intercollegiate Press Association assembled at Long Beach recently.

Student publication editors, Verdine Waight, Sempervirens; and Danforth White, Lumberjack; were sent by the ASB Executive Council to represent the College.

HSC, not previously a member of the CIPA, was voted membership at the conference.

Many problems confronting student publications were discussed, as well as comparing the various methods used by the different schools, according to Miss Waight.

White stated that although the CIPA is a new organization the spirit and cooperation viewed at Long Beach will destine many benefits to be harvested by its members.

Candidates Ready For ASB May Elections

Elections for student body offices has been tentatively scheduled for May 7 by the Constitution Committee.

Candidates for the various executive offices are expected to start their campaigns this week with formation of their platforms.

Pre-election feelers put out by reporters have found that two parties are in the formation stages. Adrian Mendes and Bob Titlow are planning to carry the banner for the "T Party," which won all but one council seat last year. Dick Harmer is reported to be running for the top office of ASB president under the second party.

Potential candidates may obtain data concerning qualifications from the Student Council room in the co-op.

ASB President Toads Stebbins and Veep Jim Yoakum have revealed plans to retire from the active political scene.

Sempervirens Engravers

Humboldt State College first sent engraving to the California Art Engraving Company 15 years ago. This is the 25th anniversary of the company.

Festival Draws Five School Drama Groups

Last weekend the Humboldt State College campus was the scene of a dramatic festival—as representatives of high schools from Del Norte, Trinity and Humboldt counties attended the Sixth Annual Drama Festival. The event is sponsored by the HSC drama department.

Activities began Friday night with the Arcata Community Players presenting "Sight Unseen" under the direction of Kate Buchanan in the CES auditorium. Saturday morning "Poor Maddalena" was given by Eureka High School students. Director was Gladys Roberts.

The first afternoon production was "For the Love of Michael" by Arcata Union High School drama class. It was directed by Richard Jarboe. The South Fork High School play, "Legend of Camille," was under the direction of Margaret Scown. The last one-act comedy, "Who Gets the Car Tonight," was given by Ferndale High School under the direction of Maureen Horn.

Carillon To Begin: To Open April 16

Official opening of the subscription drive to finance the proposed carillon has been set for April 16 by the College Carillon Committee.

Lou Cimini, chairman of the committee, stated that Mr. J. C. Degan of the company of the same name was on campus last week, when he demonstrated the carillon.

The drive will concentrate on the surrounding communities of Arcata and Eureka.

It is hoped by the committee that the carillon will be installed by May 30. At this time it would be dedicated as either a war or a peace memorial. According to Cimini the committee is still in deliberation over the name of the carillon.

Cimini announced that anyone wishing to assist with the drive should contact him.

Which Twin Wears Glasses?

REPORTER AND PHOTOGRAPHER who collaborated on the Pope twins story could not agree on who was who in the picture above when they left the scene of the interview. For the benefit of readers one of the twins is Delores and the other is Donna. Since both wear glasses at times that fact is no clue to identify.

Dance Festivities 97-Day, April 18

"What's all this about 96 or rather 97?" has been a common query around the campus the past few weeks.

Bill Kinch and Vera Matthews announced today that everyone will have a chance to find out the evening of April 18. "This date marks 97 day," stated Miss Matthews. The significance of "97" will be explained at that time.

Big feature of the day will be a free dance given at the Danish Hall, reported Kinch. The affair will be a combination of the 97 Dance given by the ASB, in cooperation with Conservation Unlimited, and the Ralley Committee.

Free Coke and Coffee

Kinch announced that in addition to the dance, the celebration will include free coke and coffee to be served all day in the Co-op. Also the new sign over the Co-op entrance will be unveiled. The sign dedication will be followed by a jam session in the Co-op. The band will be present for the occasion. The winner of the student union name contest will receive an award at that time.

Double exposure? No, it's the Pope sisters, Donna and Delores from Eureka. They look identical but there's one slight difference, Delores is 5 ft. 4 in. tall, and Donna is 5 ft. 2 in. They dress alike and make almost all their own clothes because they have trouble buying them the same.

Donna and Delores are 19 years old, have blue eyes and brown hair. They wear glasses alternately which is not a distinguishing feature. One smiles a little more readily than the other. Eureka has been their home since birth.

The two girls are Home Economics majors and intend to teach at the high school level, at least for a while, they say.

At home Donna and Delores do a good share of the cooking and housework. At times they confuse their teachers as to who's who. Folk dancing rates as their favorite pastime; they have put on exhibition dances for many occasions. Next to folk dancing comes swimming in their recreational interests.

The Home Economics Club claims most of their spare time around the campus. Donna is the reporter and Delores the treasurer. They recently returned from a Home Economics Conference at Mills College in Oakland.

SPORTSITORIAL

By Danforth E. White

Comment on the formation of the new Triple C conference seems to be varied and diverse. After throwing the pros and cons into a few cranial cavities and shaking them, the general consensus appears to be that the most important hurdle will be placing the various colleges on a par.

Down in the deep "sooth" (San Diego State way) there seems to be a problem rearing its ugly head. Below are excerpts from a letter reprinted from the March 21 issue of the SDSC "Aztec."

"It was with a feeling of disgust amounting almost to revulsion that I read of the recent conference in the north regarding the athletic future of San Diego State . . .

"If this plan is formulated it will mean that we will be placed in the same league with such schools as Humboldt State, Chico State, Long Beach State, and other such weak sisters on the California athletic scene.

"San Diego State started out as a member of the SCIF, a conference composed of schools such as Occidental, Pomona, and Whittier. After the season of 1937-38 it became apparent that we had become far too powerful to remain in that conference. . .

"The Aztecs in 1939 became charter members of the CCAA . . .

"After the last two athletic seasons it has become apparent that SDSC's days in this league are also numbered. When a football team can run up 104 points in two league games (against UCSB and LA State) without a single point being scored against them, is it too far fetched to reason that they are too strong for their conference meets.

Prefers Independence

"The next step would be to go independent and attempt to schedule such strong schools as San Jose, Santa Clara, C. O. P., and Tempe. Sure, we'll take a few lickings at first . . . It stands to reason that fans would enjoy a hard fought game between San Diego and C. O. P. much more than seeing the locals run all over poor Chico State.

"I will venture to say that if San Diego State is degraded by being dragged down to the level of the other schools in the proposed conference, that it will be the death knell of athletics at our school.

"The new San Diego U. is nearing completion. Once the new school gets rolling athletically the Aztecs will be out of it, but good. The new school will be packing Balboa stadium by playing Santa Clara or Wyoming while a smattering of fans sit on their hands and watch a listless tussle between San Diego State and Humboldt.

"The issue is clear either we refuse to join this conference and go on to build teams of which we might be proud or we can once again sink into the morass of the minor colleges . . ."

The writer of the above letter seems to be a little confused. First of all San Diego will be in the southern division, while HSC is in the northern. Consequently, if HSC were to take the northern title over San Jose, Fresno, Chico, San Francisco, and Sacramento and SDSC the southern title, San Diego would see much more than a "listless tussle."

Weak Become Strong

It's true that when the new conference goes into effect in 1953 that SDS will be playing smaller and weaker schools (Long Beach and LA State and invitations have been made to U. S. F. and St. Mary's to join the southern division) but that would only be a temporary condition.

Long Beach, which has only been in operation for two years, jumped one thousand per cent in their enrollment this semester. With its building program soon to be under way they'll soon be on an equal or higher status than SDS.

The CCC is a long range program, so instead of panning it, let's help it and grow with it.

It is again true that the the present time SDC would probably wallop HSC in a football game. But the score isn't the most important thing in this writer's estimation.

It appears from a recent poll taken on the San Diego campus that there is a field where we can take SDC. The poll showed that one of the most common student gripes was the lack of school spirit. Well, San Diego, we'll put on the gloves with you over spirit any day and win.

FISH, FIN 'N' FEATHERS

By Ed Hansen

Euarctos americanus, the black bear, would certainly have been a "ruined bruin" as far as prestige is concerned if his all year open season had been maintained.

But fortunately, due to the level-headedness of Capt. Les Lahr, head of the game wardens in this area, and other far-sighted sportsmen, the all-year season has come to a screeching halt. A limited season will again prevail on this omnivorous animal. He will be legal game from Sept. 20 to Dec. 31.

All too often has this game animal been prosecuted. He has been accused of killing sheep and cattle, damaging redwood trees, and—no telling what next. It is recognized that certain individuals of this species are marauders and under permit from the proper authorities, they may be killed.

One thing to remember is, don't believe loose rumors about "Mr. Bruin" until you are sure of all the facts.

The black bear is definitely a game animal. If you doubt this writer, try bear-hunting sometime. If you bag one, brother, you've got something to boast about.

Oh, Jay!

We Got 'Bow Wow'

If you have seen someone around the Humboldt State College campus who reminds you of the famous wrestler "The Angel," look twice. The person is better known as Bill "Bow Wow" Joy.

Bill is in his first semester at Humboldt. His main activity and first love is the game of baseball.

He was one of the first out for the sport here when Coach Phil Sarboe called his initial practice.

Although a freshman, Bill has had a lot of experience in the game for his short life.

He got started by playing on an American Legion team, which was labelled one of the best ball clubs to come out of his home town, Spokane.

Joy has played three years of town ball in Spokane. Last September, while playing for Troy, Montana, Bill was fortunate enough to be a member of that team which ended second in the National Baseball Congress Tournament at Battle Creek, Michigan.

So you can see "Bow Wow" has quite a baseball background to carry out onto the Lumberjack diamond this spring. Bill's forte is catching, but he will play any position as long as he plays.

Humboldt State's won and lost record for the year was 6 victories against 17 defeats, including regular practice cage games.

Doubleheader On Deck

Jacks Play Owls Saturday

BASEBALL GAMES SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon the Jack baseball team will encounter the Oregon Tech Owls in a doubleheader beginning at 1:30 p. m. on the Arcata City diamond.

Last fall the Owls were 19-13 victims of HSC in football. The Owls won three of four basketball contests in the winter campaign.

Humboldt State's varsity baseball has stepped up the pace in final preparations for its opener with Oregon Tech. Owls, Saturday, April 5, on the Arcata diamond.

Weather permitting, Coach Sarboe has devoted the bulk of practice time to sharpening the hitters' eyes and running the pitchers into condition. Infield practices have been limited because of the ground conditions but from what practice they have had together, the combination of Garcia at third, Selsor at short, Gillogly, second base, and Fiskness at first, seems to be clicking with perfection.

Outfielders are running their daily mile plus chasing flies by the hour. Sarboe stated recently, "Our outfield may not be the best in the west but at least we'll be in shape physically."

During the past week the HSC horsehiders unveiled their wares to the Humboldt Alumni team, which incidentally was made up of alumni and ineligible players from the college, but dropped the decision, 13-9.

The Varsity men were leading the ball game 8-6 in the final inning when Sarboe decided that Lefty Fiskness should toe the Slab; final score 13-9.

Sarboe used a total of four pitchers in the encounter, with all showing signs of promise. For the Alumni, Maciel and Gruell did the pitching with Maciel clobbering the ball for five hits for five appearances. The game was a free hitting affair with signs here and there of a good ball game.

Also during the past week the Jacks had a practice with the Arcata High School nine. Final score here 4-2 for the collegians. Again Sarboe substituted freely in order to try everyone under fire. The Arcata club showed promising signs and Sarboe stated that "I would like to play them again in the future for practice."

The remaining time before the league opener will be devoted to base running, signals, hitting, and generally rounding off the rough spots. The collegians will have scrimmages with the "Crabs," local semi-pro team, and local high schools during the next week.

Nelson Hall Tops Intramural Cagers

By Pat Quakenbush

Nelson Hall came out on top for the championship in the intramural basketball struggle. In the playoff game between Nelson Hall and the Eureka Hornets, the Nelson Hall quintet scored 45 points to Eureka's 24. Al Williams and Gene McKamey were high point men for Nelson Hall with 15 and 14 points respectively. Bob Kelsey was high for the "Hornets" with eight points. The champions will be awarded an intramural trophy which will be displayed in the Co-op.

According to the intramural statistician, the roughest players of the season were Birger Johnson and Jimmy Roscoe of the faculty. McKamey of Nelson Hall and Torrigeno of Humboldt Village were next in line.

The basketball intramurals were reported a big success. Director E. L. Sturdivant now has intramural badminton going. These evening games provide enjoyment for all, and are really a going concern at Humboldt. Softball is next on the intramural agenda, with female competition playing a strong part.

Schmoo Eligible

The prospects for next year's football team are considerably heightened as we have on our campus Mortimer (Old Grandad) Schmoo, the 300 pound all-state fullback from Always High School. He is a triple threat man who can pass with either arm, kick with either foot and he runs the hundred in eight seconds flat, while gulping a glass of ale (ginger).

Alumni Ass'n Helps Student Loan Fund

Student loan fund has been revitalized at the College through the efforts of the Alumni Association.

Recently President C. H. Siemens received a check for $350, an initial payment by the alumni, from the association president, Dr. Everett Watkins.

The alumni now have a drive underway to sell life memberships for $10; these returns will be turned over to the loan fund, which is handled through the Personnel Dean's office. These short term loans assist students to meet their emergency needs and thereby to help them finish their schooling.

The student loan fund was inaugurated on the campus in 1916. But the initial amount of $1300 has turned over five times.

remaining three members of the class of '52 are expected to graduate next June. We would like to take this opportunity to wish them much success in getting their old age pension upon graduation.

Five Members In Honor Societies

Chi Sigma Epsilon, upper division honor society, and Rho Sigma, sophomore honor society, initiated newly selected members on Sunday, March 23, in the college social unit.

Those initiated into Chi Sigma Epsilon were Emily Whalen, Wallace Pedrotti, and Edward Hansen.

Rebecca Balabanis and Howard Sieber became official members of Rho Sigma.

Integrity of character, distinction in scholarship, and active participation in student affairs form the basis of membership.

Carol Braun, president of Chi Sigma Epsilon, headed the indoctrinating ceremonies.

After the initiation the group traveled to the Big 4 where they had a chicken dinner. Following the dinner autos headed back to the social unit where Mrs. Jack Smith, former HSC student, told of her travels and teaching experiences in Germany.

Among those present were two charter members (1931), Mrs. Mildred Sears and Mrs. Edith Olsen.

Evans Named Frosh Sweetheart

Blanche Evans, freshman coed from Blue Lake, was chosen as the Freshman Sweetheart in a student body election last Friday. Coronation of the Sweetheart took place at the Sweetheart Ball held Friday night at Nelson Hall.

Serving as Miss Evans' court, the runners-up were Claudia Pedrotti, Jane Beidleman, Jo Ann Jacobsen, and Angela Warren.

A popular girl about the campus, Blanche is a member of the Student Executive Council, position to which she was appointed after the resignation of Pauline Domogalla.

Blanche, a major in journalism, serves on the Lumberjack staff and works as a reporter for the Blue Lake Advocate.
