Business Office Gets Three New Machines

A modern business machine which copies documents by a photographic process was obtained by the HSC special services office during Christmas holidays.

An addressing machine, useful for mailing lists and a new electric typewriter also supplement special services equipment.

Mrs. Arlene Goetz is head operator of the office which provides duplicating service for the teaching and administrative staff. Because no other similar facilities exist on campus, the service is also available at a nominal charge to groups furnishing materials.

Requested for the office on next year's budget will be a multi-lith, an office printing machine; an electric collator, to automatically assemble materials; and a folding machine for letters and programs.

An electric mimeograph machine, a test-scoring machine and a hand-operated spirit duplicator already comprise the office equipment.

Mrs. Rene Harris, whose husband, John, is an HSC music major, is assisting Mrs. Goetz.

This Tall Tree Tale True, And So Is The Tree

Seven HSC forestry students accompanied by Gerald Partain, assistant professor of forestry-lumbering, recently measured the world's tallest tree — the Founder's Tree at Dyerville — as a class exercise.

The class used a transit, engineer's tape, percent abney, level rod and diameter tape to calculate the height of the tree. All measurements were checked for accuracy.

The Founder's Tree is being billed on a postal cachet this year as "The World's Tallest Christmas Tree — 364 Feet High" by the Redwood Empire Association.

KHSC Subscribes To Record Firm Monthly Service

Radio Station KHSC, the radio service of Humboldt State College, has taken a year's subscription to Capitol Records.

This was announced recently by Dr. William Ladd, Assistant Professor of Speech and Radio, the man who is actually "Chief-In-Charge" of Humboldt's radio station.

This record subscription will bring 40 records each month to the HSC radio studio, supplementing the present record library and assuring a continuous source of current recordings.

These records will be used primarily for such shows as "Noontime Tunetime," heard every noon, Monday thru Friday on KHSC, stated Dr. Ladd.

Charles Nichols of the college maintenance staff shows where termites chewed off the ends of the floor joists the art gallery, Administration Building. Workmen rebuilt floor joists, subflooring and finish flooring in the art gallery over the Christmas holidays. During the summer the termite destruction in room 130, formerly an amphitheater lecture room, was repaired.

SPRING CLASS SCHEDULE OUT; PROGRAM PLANNING BEGINS

Now is the time to consult your adviser about your program for next semester, if you're still not squared away. The spring semester schedule of classes is available in the library and in faculty offices.

Mrs. Myrtle M. McKittrick, registrar and admissions officer, has announced that program planning for the spring semester will continue through Friday, January 13, with students urged to report for counseling with their advisers by January 10 if possible. Faculty advisers have posted on their office doors the hours when they are available for counseling during this period.

Restricted cards for limited courses are available in the various division offices, so that students can sign the necessary card and reserve a place in the course he needs. The cards will remain on file in the division office.

Restricted cards for Business courses will be found in room 113; Education and Psychology, room 208; Fine and Applied Arts, room 122; Health and Physical Education, gymnasium; Language and Literature, room 215C; Natural Science, room 111; Social Science, room 113.

If any student changes his mind and decides to drop a restricted class for which he has signed up, he is requested to notify the division secretary immediately. Mrs. McKittrick emphasized that this is very important, so that the place in class can be made available to another student.

Petition blanks can be obtained in the registrar's office by students who wish to request Excess Study Lists, Special Problems courses, or permission to work more than 15 hours per week. Petitions are also available to request graduate credit for work taken in the final undergraduate semester.

Registration booklets will be available January 23, at which time fees may be paid.

SIEMENS IN LOS ANGELES

President Cornelius H. Siemens flew to Los Angeles Tuesday to attend a meeting of the State Board of Education with Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction. Immediately following, Dr. Siemens will attend the winter session of the Council of State College Presidents, also in Los Angeles, and will return to the campus Monday, January 9.

Blaze Destroys Mondrus Home

Fire destroyed the interior of the state-owned house occupied by HSC art instructor, Martin Mondrus, 1888 North B street, Sunday, Dec. 19. No longer fit for living purposes, the house has been pulled down by the college maintenance staff.

Mondrus and his wife were in Los Angeles for the holidays at the time of the fire. Reese Bullen, associate professor of art, telephoned the couple about the fire. Bullen said most of Mondrus's paintings were on exhibit at the Stafford Inn, but a few were lost in the blaze.

Salvaged furniture has been cleaned and repainted by the faculty wives and men. The group also washed salvaged clothing. The Mondrus family will reside in a house on A street near Humboldt Village.

Two firemen from the Arcata volunteer fire department, Ivan Krestensen and Al Maxon, were treated at Trinity hospital for cut received while fighting the fire.

The alarm was turned in by Mrs. Ced Kinzer, who was passing by in an automobile.

2 Films Scheduled For Assembly Hour

Two Air France films, "Flight Into Time" and "Flight To Paris" will be shown at the regular assembly today at 11 a. m. in the auditorium.

"Flight Into Time" is billed as one of the most unusual and interesting travel films ever made. It takes the audience to the birthplaces of western civilization — Portugal, Spain, Italy and Greece, the Holy Land and Egypt. "Flight To Paris" takes the audience on a tour of the 2,000-year-old City of Light.

Classes Resume, Students Back To Tell Of Flood

Normal classwork resumed at Humboldt State college this week although a few students still were struggling in late this week because of the hazardous roads and flood rehabilitation in and around Humboldt county.

A few faculty members and students brought with them some harrowing stories of the floods that struck northwestern California the evening of December 21.

Mrs. Kathryn Corbett, assistant professor of sociology, was caught in the flood that wiped out Myers Flat. Returning from San Francisco with her two sons, George, 13, and John, 8, and a friend, Mrs. Corbett was forced back by a slide that cut U. S. Highway 101 at Williams Grove.

After retiring at about 10 p. m. in a motel near the flats of the Eel River Mrs. Corbett was awakened at 4 a. m. by the landlord pounding at the door and shouting "The river's here."

"We barely got the car out, but we went up to the highway and stayed there. Then we had to move the car up the road again as the water came up higher," Mrs. Corbett related. "We went up to the hills above the highway and watched the flood waters sweep away the houses on the flats in that awful, crunching noise. I've never seen anything like it."

Mrs. Corbett spent Thursday night in her automobile but Friday was able to get to Miranda and a motel. She came out of the flood area Saturday after being forced to abandon her automobile and drive with an official jeep convoy. The party had to walk around the slide at Williams.

Mrs. Corbett related how she saw Jumping Joe Myers, senior Humboldt basketball and football star whose home town is Myers Flat, working in hip boots to help in the evacuation of families from the flats.

A number of Humboldters, including Tommy Retzlaff, Bob Renwick, and Zeke VanDeventer, were in the national guard unit ordered to Myers Flat.

Typical of the experiences of out-of-town students who had difficulty getting back to Arcata was that of Art Cook, sophomore journalism student, and Jim Joseph, senior fisheries major.

Cook could not get airplane reservations out of San Francisco but finally boarded a bus that brought him up the interior valley and over U. S. Highway 299 to Arcata. He arrived a day after classwork resumed.

Joseph tried to hitchhike from Redding to catch the bus on which Cook rode and finally was

Karshner Warns On Parking

Parking problems continue to persist so the office of the dean of students this week again asked for cooperation, said Dean Don W. Karshner.

All student holders of parking permits are expected to park only in the lot south of the library unless designated the privilege of parking in another area only, Dr. Karshner said. Student assistants needing to unload specimens for the classes in the Science Building will be expected to park there only long enough to unload. Immediately after unloading, their cars should be parked in the lot by the library.

Only those faculty and staff members having offices or classes adjoining the parking lot behind the Coop are eligible to use this area.

If adequate cooperation is not shown, the College deputies will be instructed to issue parking tickets to all holders of parking permits who leave their cars in areas not assigned to them.

picked up by the bus near Willow Creek.

Miss Hazel Hagne, assistant professor of education, flew back to Arcata in a two-passenger Piper cub in poor visibility.

Coach Franny Givins, who had only seven basketball players whose whereabouts were definitely known before the Far Western conference tourney in San Francisco, finally rounded up his entire 11-member squad in the bay city. The squad had been dispersed over the holidays.

Two students from Pasadena took a 23-hour bus trip from San Francisco, usually an eight-hour trip. Arlene Sterner and Sheila Parsons boarded a bus in San Francisco at midnight last Monday, after a 20-hour layover. Their route was extended north to Medford and ended at Arcata at 11 Tuesday night.

A $75,000 building in Klamath is a total loss for the parents of Jane Wyllie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Wyllie. They were able to save only personal papers and currency from the Redwood Room restaurant, which was in the middle of the town. Jane, who had remained on campus to study, was unable to reach the Klamath area until 11 a. m. Christmas Day. She was met with the announcement that her family had only a few hours to salvage anything before the town's buildings were bulldozed and burned as a sanitary measure. The Wyllie summer home, about four miles upriver from Klamath, was not touched.

Emergency Fund Is Available

A special notice that a student emergency loan fund exists on campus was circulated by Miss Kate Buchanan, dean of activities, this week following the northern California flood crisis.

"This reminder of the existing student emergency fund (proceeds from the faculty show) is sent to you at a time when emergencies may exist for many of our students. If any need is brought to your attention, please notify this office," Miss Buchanan wrote.

"A committee to investigate the need and to recommend aid will be appointed for each case by the president from faculty members who are best acquainted with the students' background and financial need," she pointed out.

The student emergency fund exists to aid students in emergencies other than the usual school needs of books, tuition, room and board.

Library Displays Photographs Of Victorian Period

The Victorian Period in England is the theme of the present display in the upstairs lobby of the Humboldt State College library.

The display consists of photographs of religion, industry and architecture, drawings depicting mode of travel and clothing and book jackets of writers of the period.

This display, being shown primarily for the interest of the class in Victorian literature, will continue through January 13.

Alumni Office Bids January Grads

Students planning to graduate this month were urged this week by the Alumni Association to come to the alumni office for an interview.

The office is open each Wednesday morning from 9 a. m. to noon upstairs in the Co-op. Any other students also are invited to "drop by."

Get In Groove Gals, Be Bold

Yesterday I walked a boy to class. This was a delightful experience. He was tall and twinkly-eyed, and I had an hour to kill, so I said to myself, "Go on, be bold—this has probably never happened to him before either!"

That moment of decision gave me rather a weird feeling and after leaving the lad behind me I really got to thinking. Why must it be this way? Why does custom allow a crew-cut to court a curly-top but frown upon the young lady's returning the favor? Why can't a Miss Wave treat a Mr. Wave to a triple chocolate fizz if she feels the urge? Or is it really such a frightful thing for one music major to warble to another, "How's about a session with Lex Baxter Friday night?" — Even though the inquirer is a girl?

I say, "Down with medieval 'musts'! Down with pretended pride! Girls, let's put an end to this sneaky subtlety to which we've resorted many a time when we've been simply drooling for a date with the current dream man. Instead let's assert ourselves!!!"

It doesn't have to be this way!!

Mrs. Johnson Goes To Conference

Mrs. Charlotte Johnson, supervising clerk in the business office, is attending a state-sponsored training conference for personnel supervisors in Sacramento.

Roger Monroe, state personnel officer, has planned the program, held on January 5 and 6, for state college personnel. The meeting is being attended by business managers, accounting officers and personnel supervisors, with Mrs. Johnson representing Humboldt State.

Instruction is provided for many personnel transactions, including recruitment and interviewing techniques, the state college pay plan, and position changes and justification procedures.

Don Juan Reading Set January 22

A special reading of George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan" will be presented by a Faculty Quartet Sunday, January 22, at 8:15 in the college auditorium.

The cast, directed by Mrs. Ethelyn Pauley, will include Dr. Reginald White as Don Juan, Dr. John Pauley as The Devil, Dr. Giles Sinclair as the Statue, and Mrs. Jean Wagner as Dona Ana.

The reading is open to the public without charge, said Dr. Pauley.

BARNES PUSHES CREATION OF PHYSICS GROUP

Dr. George Barnes, assistant professor of physics, has initiated a movement to form a Northern California Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers, and announced this week that the organization meeting will be held on the San Francisco State College campus, probably on February 11.

Purpose of the AAPT in its national scope is to advance the teaching of physics and to further the appreciation of the role of physics in our culture, according to Dr. Barnes.

Teachers of physics and members of the AAPT from some 16 junior colleges, colleges, and universities in Northern California have indicated they expect to attend the organization session.

Following the pattern of regular section meetings, the first will include the presentation of several papers by outstanding physicists. The program so far includes "A Suggestion Regarding the Physicist Shortage" by Dr. C. Sharp Cook, Nuclear Radiation Branch of the U. S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory in San Francisco; "X-Rays on a Shoestring," by Dr. Burr G. Burbank of San Francisco State College; and the presentation of plans for a Physics Room in a junior college, by Professor Harold F. Allen of Coalinga College.

Dr. Barnes, who was a member of the Oregon Section of the AAPT while on the faculty of Linfield College, has written to the presidents of six other sections for copies of their constitutions, to be used as suggestions in the February meeting.

U. S. Notes Drop In New Degrees

The nation's colleges and universities granted a total of 354,445 earned degrees during 1954-55, S. M. Brownell, commissioner of Education, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, announced today.

This is 4254 fewer degrees than were earned in institutions of higher education during 1953-54, the commissioner said.

The number of first level or Bachelor's and first professional degrees conferred during the past academic year came to 297,401, as compared with 292,800 degrees at this level earned the year before.

Bachelor's degrees awarded to men totalled 183,602 during 1954-55 and 187,500 in 1953-54.

Women earned a total of 105,380 Bachelor's and first professional degrees in 1954-54 and 103,799 in 1954-55.

The breakdown for second-level degrees — Master's and second professional — was 56,823 earned by both men and women in 1953-54, and 58,204 earned by both sexes in 1954-55. The number of degrees at this level earned by women in 1953-54 was 18,676 and by men, 38,147. In 1954-55 women earned 19,464 second level degrees, and men 38,740.

Doctorates dropped in total number from 8,996 earned in 1953-54 to 8,840 earned in 1954-55. Men earned 8,014 of the total number of doctorates conferred in 1954-55. Only 826 went to women. A year earlier the totals were 8,181 doctorate degrees earned by men and 815 by women.

Loan A Buck Funds Are Made For You

By Roger Goetz

Big date tonight and not enough loot to go 'round? Buddy, you've got troubles . . .

This is the way it goes for college students at one time or another, and few stop to consider the Loan-a-Buck funds set up for just such "emergencies."

The original Loan-a-Buck fund was established by Mr. Julian Jacobson to help students get over "temporary insolvency." The fund is administered by Dr. E. Nedd Girard, associate dean of students, and is loaned out in small amounts for short-term emergencies. This has proved very helpful to students who find themselves in need of a dollar or two, pending arrival of a check from home, or payday at their part-time work.

Another such loan fund is the "Pop Jenkins Memorial Fund." This fund was established by the Faculty of Humboldt State as being in keeping with the spirit of Professor Jenkins, who was always ready to help a student faced with a problem.

No interest is charged on either of the "Loan-a-Buck" funds.

Chinese Students Beg To Return

Some of the hundreds of Chinese students who have left Singapore to go to communist China have asked their parents to help them to return to the colony, according to the Straits Times, Singapore.

But few parents have responded favorably to their requests. They said their children should bear the consequences of deserting their homes.

Only a few parents have applied to the Immigration Department for re-entry permits for their children. Their applications, generally supported by letters from their children in communist China, were being considered on their merits. So far

14 Projects Get First Approval

Fourteen minor construction items for the HSC campus, totaling about $60,000, were tentatively approved for the governor's budget when President Cornelius H. Siemens represented Humboldt State College in a budget hearings with the Departments of Education and Finance last month.

The tentatively approved projects are scheduled for 1956-57, and include the construction of a roof over the west bleachers of Redwood Bowl, a new lighting system for Redwood Bowl to be installed over a two-year period, the construction of additional sidewalks connecting the permanent buildings, the enlargement of the Nelson Hall kitchen, and construction of an incinerator.

Also on the list of minor construction projects for 1956-57 is the moving and renovating of the house formerly owned by the Brookins family, for use as a home economics cottage.

Following the budget hearings in Sacramento, Dr. Siemens attended the California Teachers Association Council in Los Angeles, as a representative of the California State College system and as a member of the teacher education committee.

only one application has been granted.

Parents believe that the longer their children stay in communist China, the more difficult it is for them to return.

Hawk And Beaver Kept On Campus By HSC Student

A mountain beaver and a sparrow hawk, nestling inconspicuously in their cages in a temporary building, escape the bustle of campus life.

But often the bird, leached and perching on Jean Sylva's arm, visits students in the Coop and classrooms. Sylva found the hawk last summer when he was a seasonal aide for the State Department of Fish and Game at the Honey Lake state game area in Lassen county, near Susanville, California.

As game area employees were boarding up an old building they revealed a nest containing three young birds apparently abandoned by the parents. Sylva claimed one sparrow hawk and accepted the responsibilities of securing mice, grass hoppers and hamburger for his diet, as well as administering liquid vitamins with an eye dropper.

One of the smallest of the birds once used for falconry, Sylva's hawk was suspicious and hostile to him for a long time but now responds to caresses, though it is timid of strangers. As is characteristic of hawks, the bird has the mottled breast of the young, a curved bill, short wings, and comparatively long legs and tail.

"Whiskers," the mountain beaver, is a local product. Sylva trapped him on Fickle Hill, behind the college, during a wildlife class activity to secure pelts. A burrowing animal with a body resembling a gopher's, Whiskers has a head similar to a rat's. The mountain beaver is neat. It rakes food to one corner of the pen and pushes to another corner leaves put in the cage for food. It burrows under the leaves to sleep. Whiskers' food bill is low because he likes bracken and sword ferns, thimble berry and salmon berry leaves and other succulents.

Sylva hopes to breed the animal because he does not know of a successful breeding of the animals in captivity. Efforts to secure a second mountain beaver have been unsuccessful. They hibernate underground in inclement weather.

Little research is available concerning the mountain beaver. They are native only to northern California and northward, Nevada and Idaho, according to Howard Cramblet, who is studying a female mountain beaver as a graduate project at Humboldt State.

Now a sophomore studying wildlife management, Sylva plans to enter conservation work. He is a student assistant for the wildlife department, and a member of the Inter-Club Senate, Veterans' Club and Conservation Unlimited.

Nations Exchange Science Equipment

Twenty-two member states of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization have named more than 180 laboratories as participants in a scheme sponsored by the Organization to aid the international exchange of scientific measuring instruments. Fifteen other countries have expressed interest in it.

The scheme is designed to assure the safe and speedy transit of scientific instruments exchanged between laboratories in different countries for purposes of comparison. A special label bearing the UNESCO symbol will allow shipments of instruments to be inspected for customs clearance in the sending and receiving laboratories rather than at customs depots, thus avoiding possible damage or delay.

Any country may join the scheme. UNESCO has a register of laboratories participating in these exchanges, a list of which has been circulated to the Organization's member states together with other details about the scheme.

Exhibit Of Photos In Art Gallery

An exhibit of the photography of Eugene Souigny of Arcata is being shown in the art gallery until January 14. The exhibit includes portrait, still life, pastoral photos, an aerial photo of Humboldt State College and several prize-winning shots.

Mr. Souigny, a retired Navy chief petty officer now employed by Kelly's Jewelers of Eureka, took up photography as a hobby less than ten years ago and since has won prizes at the Hawaii Camera Sales Model show, the naval gun factory at Washington, D.C., Pearl Harbor Camera Club six times, the Illinois state fair and at numerous local photographic contests.

His works have been exhibited in Hawaii, Washington, D.C. and various state fairs and at numerous photographic shops and camera clubs.

A graduate of the New York Institute of Photography, Mr. Souigny is at home with any camera, but prefers the Rolleiflex for general work and the Exakta for special shots.

He does his own developing and printing, using Kodak Medalist and Opal paper, but does no retouching of any of his photos, preferring to get the most exact and natural tone possible.

Sponsored by the art department, Mr. Souigny's exhibit is one of a monthly series shown in

Toujours France Offers Teaching Opportunities

Opportunities to study or teach in France during 1956-57 are available to American graduate students, it was announced this week by Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York City.

The French Government is offering approximately 30 university fellowships through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and 40 teaching assistantships through the Ministry of Education. The fellowship awards are for students with definite academic projects or study plans. The assistantships afford language teaching experience and an opportunity to become better acquainted with France.

Nominations of candidates for fellowships and assistantships will be made by a joint committee of French and American educators working in cooperation with the French Cultural Services and the Institute of International Education.

Closing date for application is February 1, 1956.

Applicants for the French Government awards should apply to the United States Student Department of the Institute of International Education.

Since we received our checks early, last month I withheld the recommendation which most of you signed. There were 124 signatures for those of you who interested.

At the last business meeting on December 8th it was decided by those present to conduct an after game dance on February 4th, and to sponsor a Veterans Benefit Dance on March 17th. This last affair may hold many surprises so watch this corner for further developments.

Your attention is directed to the article elsewhere in this paper entitled, More Money? I believe it affects over 25% of the HSC student body.

Happy New Year

The next meeting of the Veterans Club will be held after final examinations.

MORE MONEY?

Attention Veterans! The confirmation has been received that the Student Federation of Veterans Clubs of California have succeeded in getting a bill started in the U. S. Senate for a raise in the GI Bill, P. L. 550.

This bill, if passed, will give single veterans approximately $25.00 more per month with the married veteran getting a proportionate raise. Now all that is needed is for each and all of us to contact our U. S. Senators from California, and ask to be put on record as being for or against this action.

A form letter will be put in your boxes within the next day or so with the addresses of your senators. (This is another service performed by your Veterans Club, won't you join?)

Jacks Open FWC Season Tonight

PLAY TWO GAMES WITH AGGIES; BEALE AF GAME CANCELLED

Humboldt State will open its regular Far Western Conference schedule in a two-game series with Cal Aggies at Davis tonight and tomorrow night.

The Lumberjacks will go into the Aggie series with a five won, four lost record for the season, including two wins and a loss in the Far Western Conference tourney at San Francisco over the holidays. Humboldt placed third in the tournament.

Coach Franny Givins and his HSC squad went by automobile. The team left several hours earlier than originally planned because of the slow and hazardous road conditions on U.S. highway 101.

A game originally scheduled for Sunday with Beale Air Force Base at Marysville will be cancelled, Givins said, because of the hazardous roads. If they were to play in Marysville Sunday evening the Jacks would have to travel 101 Sunday night to be back for classwork Monday morning.

Humboldt won over the Aggies 66-49 and over Sacramento State 49-42 in the conference tournament at San Francisco after losing to San Francisco State 69-49 in the meet opener. Givins rated the Golden Gators, defending conference champions, as "every bit as strong as last year."

The Jacks will be favored over the Aggies at Davis. Humboldt won all three games with the Ags last season, when Coach George Stromgren's squad was able to win only one of 18 games.

However, the Aggies this year have the punch to provide a lot of surprises in the league and Givins admitted that the Davis squad would be waiting for the Jacks.

The Aggies proved to be a big, rough team, and very effective on the boards, in the conference meet. Fred Peterson, uncanny shot artist who was kept on the bench with illness most of last year, was the second leading scorer in the conference meet. Veteran forward Norm Browne, 6-4, is outstanding in rebound and board control.

Givins said he was well pleased with the work of his five starters and planned no change in the starting lineup. That would mean Jumping Joe Myers working under the basket, Paul Shields in the key, George Ibarreta, Larry Taylor and Hank Cooper.

The balance of the squad won't be picked until just before departure time. The Jacks have not practiced regularly since Dec. 17 and got back into step only last Monday night with a vigorous workout on the HSC boards. But all 11 travellers saw action in at least two of the three conference tournament games.
