QUEEN SELECTION TO HIGHLIGHT ANNUAL HSC FORMAL DANCE

Many surprises are assured students attending the annual Sno Ball tonight at the Eureka Inn. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with music by Jerry Moore. Admission is free to all ASB card holders, and $1.50 per couple will be charged students without cards.

Exclusive decorations and the announcements of Sempervirens Queen and Man and Woman of the Year will highlight the event. The Sno Ball committee, under the general chairmanship of Sandi Wahlund, junior, said that decorations have been sent up from San Francisco. Miss Kate Buchanan, associate dean of students and faculty adviser to the event, stated that special attention has been paid to detail. Marrión's Flowers and Gifts of Eureka aided the committee with the decorations, and for the most part, they are being kept secret. The committee stated, though, that a special ice display will adorn the punch table.

Nine HSC coeds, seven of them freshmen, are vying for the title of Sempervirens Queen. They are sophomores DeAnne Brown and Ruth Susmitch, and freshmen Mary Molles, Barbara Urkov, Denise Moore, Rosalind Evans, Yvonne Rapini, Delores Dahlen and Barbara Souigny.

The winner will be featured in a full page layout in the Sempervirens with the other girls pictured as her court.

Circle K and Spurs members are in charge of the decorations with Dale Callahan, Jon Mitts, Larry Mitchell, Joan Beer, Kathy Davis and Kay Carlson working on them.

The Home Economics Club handled the invitations with Rose Marie Gwerder and Marilee Ammer doing the planning. Special invitations were sent to the faculty members.

Redwood Hall is responsible for the refreshments with Chip Brodie, Dick Fauerbach and Dave Shank on the committee.

Bids to this formal dance can be obtained from Miss Buchanan in the Dean of Students Office.

Polio Shots Given To 200 Students

More than 200 Humboldt State College students received their first polio inoculations this week when the college began this health service which is almost unique in the California State college system. The only charge to the student was for the serum used and the inoculations given by the college physician, George Scheppner, M.D., school nurse, Beverly Griffith, R.N., and Dorlie Urban, R.N.

Adult polio inoculation is being urged by health authorities all over the country, and the Humboldt County Health Service has done much to aid the college in this undertaking, including the donation of 300 needles.

The idea for this service originated with Dr. Don Karshner, dean of students, who says that the only other college he knows which extends this service is California Polytechnic.

Art Dept. To Hold Christmas Sale

The HSC art department will hold its Christmas sale of pottery, crafts, painting and Christmas trees, Dec. 17, 18 and 19, proceeds to go for art scholarships, reports department head Mel Schuler.

The art objects, donated by students and faculty of the department, will be priced from five cents to $5. Purchases will be limited to one per person on Monday, the first day of the sale. Tuesday the remainder of the merchandise will be sold, and Wednesday the items may be claimed from the art gallery in which the sale and exhibit will be held. The gallery will open at 9 a.m. each morning for customers and viewers.

11TH ANNUAL DRAMA FESTIVAL HERE TODAY AND TOMORROW

Almost 100 high school drama students will register Friday afternoon on the Humboldt State College campus for the eleventh annual Drama Festival.

The two-day Festival is sponsored each year by the college speech and drama department and is under the direction of Dr. Stanley Glenn, assistant professor of speech.

Students will arrive from as far north as Brookings, Oregon and south from Willits, with representation from Del Norte, South Fork, Eureka, Arcata, Fortuna, Potter Valley and Ferndale High Schools.

Registration will begin at 3 p.m. Friday in the college student union, the Coop, to be followed by the annual 6 p.m. dinner in Nelson Hall. At 7:15 students will attend a performance of the college fall production "The Imaginary Invalid", which is also open to the public at the regular price of $1.00.

Saturday morning activities include presentation of three plays by festival participants. Brookings High School students will present "Sis O' the Ozarks" by Dan Young, directed by David Gates and Melva Lester. Del Norte students, directed by D. E. Cutter, will give a performance of Lucille Fletcher's mystery "Sorry, Wrong Number"; and the comedy "Jerry Breaks A Date", directed by Thomas Sousa, will be presented by South Fork players.

A special demonstration on costuming and makeup given at 11 a.m. by Mrs. Lyn Pauley, instructor in drama and costume, will conclude the morning's program.

Following a 12:30 luncheon Humboldt State students will entertain Festival members with a variety show in the auditorium. Homer Ratliff will act as master of ceremonies and Naomi Cottrell as president of Alpha Psi Omega, college drama group, will give a welcoming address.

Festival activities will culminate with an informal "Snack-Dance" in the Coop from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Students from outside the Arcata-Eureka area are being housed in private homes, with arrangements being made by Dr. Richard Boehmler of the speech department.

Education Class In Mechanical Drawing Work

The Ed. 120 class under the direction of Mr. Earnest Bednar, has just finished a short unit in mechanical drawing in which they used drawing boards and T squares that were made earlier in the year by them.

Also in the Ed. class the demonstrations previously written by them have all been dittoed and each student has received a copy of the project procedure to be used.

Seventh and eighth graders from the College Elementary School, that are taking courses in industrial arts are now finishing up the first half of their work.

The boys will be taking a course in Home Economics next and the girls will change over to shop work, giving the girls an opportunity to work in the areas of metals, plastics and woods. After this unit of work is completed, the boys will again take industrial arts, working in the field of bench metal, metal work and electronics.

Mr. Stegman's class in home planning processes are making up scale models of a home plan.

Announcement of a later exhibit in the Industrial Arts Department will be made later in the semester, along with notes on other class projects.

Annual Christmas Assembly Tuesday To Feature Musical, Dramatic Talent

Musical and dramatic forces from several sources will combine in HSC's annual Christmas Assembly Program to be presented Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 12 noon in the College Auditorium.

The program will feature an all-star cast of individuals and groups in vocal solos and readings, choral singing, organ and instrumental numbers.

The program will begin with the Christmas tunes of De Brass Quartet (Faculty members Paul Johnsen and Fred Owens; students, Gerald Davis and Bob Harris) with Professor Jim Mearns at the Allen Organ. Then the College Choir, directed by Dr. Leon Wagner, will sing "What Child is This" to the old English tune of "Greensleeves" and tell the traditional story of "Good King Wenceslas."

Next will be a reading by Irene Riley, native of Scotland of the beloved Dicken's "Christmas at the farm" from "Pickwick Papers."

The College Chorus, also directed by Professor Wagner, will follow with "Sing Noel" the familiar "We Wish You A Merry Christmas" and "Hold Men, Hold." Professor Leland Barlow will add a light touch with the old "Was-sail Song" and an unusual Spiritual Carol, "Little Billy Baby."

Herb McLellan, senior speech-drama major, will contribute "A Miserable, Merry Christmas" after which the Choir will sing "Deck the Hall" and "The Goodwill Carol." Claudine Ray will solo in a Alsatian carol "Sleep, Little Dove." Choir and Chorus will combine with Brass Quartet in "Joy to the World." The "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah will be the final number.

Humboldt Participates In Many Yuletide Festivities

Humboldt joins in the Christmas festivities with many organizations sponsoring yuletide parties and other season events. Some are merely for entertainment, some have services to offer. At any rate HSC is playing its part in making this Christmas an especially merry one.

The annual Christmas party is planned by members of the Humboldt State College Desk Force for 4 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 20, at the home of Mrs. Myrtle McKittrick.

Members have drawn names and holiday gifts will be exchanged, according to Mrs. Betty Wolfer, president of the group.

Some fifty pre-school youngsters of the Humboldt State college faculty will greet Santa at the annual Christmas party to be given by members of the Faculty Wives, tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the College Elementary school kindergarten room.

Carols will be sung and small gifts exchanged before the gaily lighted Christmas tree.

Mrs. Archie Jones and Mrs. Eugene Flocchini are in charge of the traditional affair.

The tuberculosis Christmas seal sale, sponsored by the Spurs and Tri Sima, will continue through Dec. 19. The seals, selling for $1 a sheet are available all day long from the booth located in the Main Hall.

The money will go towards Humboldt County's TB program. Currently the County is buying a mini-film portable X-ray machine that will make available free chest X-rays for any Humboldt County resident at any time. Miss Kate Buchanan, associate dean of students, says that very few counties offer such a service as this.

The annual Christmas tea given by the Home Economics Department of HSC was held yesterday afternoon in the College Elementary School.

Over 250 staff members on the campus attended the traditional tea planned and prepared by the students and faculty of the home economics department.

Pouring was done by Avis Frederickson and Marilee Am-mer, president and vice president of the Home Ec Club.

Humboldt State college alumni will get together for their annual Christmas party from 4 to 7 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 15, in room 161 of the Eureka Inn.

Tickets, on sale for 75 cents, may be purchased from alumni members Francis Stebbins, Richard Blackburn, Earl Rumble and Bob Goss; Dr. Don Karshner, Dean of Students at Humboldt State college, Freddie Slack, 637 5th Ct., Eureka, and Malm & Murray in Arcata will also offer tickets for sale.

The Forestry club braved the weather and four inches of snow to gather almost one hundred Bishop pine Christmas trees. Bishop pine is a short-needed pine and makes a very beautiful Christmas tree. The club has them in the corporation yard and they may be seen there. The price is 50 cents per foot and the money goes into the club treasury. If any one is interested in one of these trees, he should contact one of the forestry students or the forestry professors.

10 Million Dollar, 10 Year Wildlife Program Rumored

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Eisenhower was reported recently planning to recommend a 10 million dollar, 10-year program of expanded Federal wildlife conservation.

Edward W. Remington, of Silver Springs, Md., one of a group of conservationists who have been urging such a long-range program, told reporters an Interior Department official had notified him the proposal would be included in the President's State of the Union message to Congress next month. "Designed to save America's wildlife, it would be in addition to the regular programs of the fish and wildlife service," Remington said.

"Its object would be to expand game management areas, improve enforcement, enlarge research and provide better education."

SERIOUS NOTE TO ALL CONCERNED

When you celebrate your Christmas holidays with your families or your loved ones don't forget the true reason of Christ's Mass. The continued advertising emphasis on one of the greatest of the holidays in all religions of the world may be misleading to the children of our age who think that Christmas is just a bonanza for all good boys and girls.

NOTE . . . PLEASE TELL THEM IT IS CHRIST'S BIRTHDAY AND NOT JUST SANTA'S GIFT DISTRIBUTION DAY.

INSTRUCTOR'S VIEWS

New Prof, Dr. Laurence Kerker, Has Variety of Coaching Experience

By KAY CARLSON

"In the ten years I've been teaching, I have coached practically all of the different sports", Dr. Laurence Kerker, one of Humboldt State's new professors, stated this week.

Dr. Kerker explained that at Western Illinois State, his last teaching position, he had coached teams in many sports, especially basketball.

Here at HSC, the 35-year-old professor will coach tennis in the spring and supervise student teachers, along with his regular class schedule.

Born on Sept. 24, 1921 in Peoria, Illinois, Dr. Kerker was raised in that area and made his home there until his arrival here this semester. He was graduated from Western Illinois State in 1943, received his Master's degree in 1945 and his Doctorate in 1952 at the Indiana University.

Dr. Kerker never expected to make the 2,300 mile trip to the coast this year, much less live right on the coast in Arcata. He received around 50 offers from different colleges, but chose Humboldt.

One of his Indiana University friends held his present position here at Humboldt State, a few years back. Dr. Mark Dean, who for reasons of his family's health, could not stay in the west, told Dr. Kerker of this college, and upon Dean's word, Dr. Kerker came to Arcata.

Though he expected a poor climate, Dr. Kerker said that this area was better off at the present than Illinois which "already had three inches of snow."

He and his family now reside in a home they bought in Blue Lake. The Kerkers have a boy and a girl. The girl attending College Elementary school and the boy as of now, too young for school.

Dr. Kerker said that he expected to enjoy the Arcata area very much.

During World War II, Dr. Kerker was a lieutenant j. g. in the U. S. Navy. He served in the Pacific, taking an active part in seven major campaigns from Iwo Jima to the Philippines. He was aboard the U. S. S. Indiana.

Students of the Southern California school are suspected of painting sidewalks and buildings in the vicinity of Spartan Stadium. The request for $200 is to cover cost of repainting the defaced structures.

Dasmann To Hold Chairmanship

Dr. Raymond Dasmann, assistant professor of wildlife management at Humboldt, will serve as program chairman at the annual joint meeting of the California section of the Wildlife Society and the Range Society on Dec. 17, 18 and 19 at California Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo.

As part of the program there will be a panel on the subject "Education for Wildlife Management" which will be discussed from the viewpoints of administrators and educators in the field. Dr. Charles F. Yocom, chairman of the division of natural resources at HSC, will be a panel member. Many Humboldt State wildlife students are planning to attend the meeting also.

Bill Hines, 1956 Humboldt State graduate, who is now doing post-graduate work at Oregon State College, will read a paper concerning the relationship of logging to deer forage production. The research for this paper was done while he was a student at Humboldt State.

Library Hours

The Library will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 20 and 27, and on Friday, Dec. 21 and 28. It will remain closed during the rest of vacation period.

Xmas Show Taped By Radio Students

A dramatic show for the Christmas season was taped Monday by HSC radio students for broadcast on KENL, Arcata, and for school use throughout the area, reported Dr. William Ladd, assistant professor of speech and radio. The 26 minute, 30 second script is entitled, "The Man Who Believed In Santa Claus."

"It is the first production of a dramatic nature that we have attempted here at KHSC. Already we've had requests from four elementary schools for copies of the tape to use in connection with their Christmas programs," he stated. "I hope it will be the forerunner of several productions to be done this year. Within the next couple of weeks we plan to produce a comical Alabama version of "Little Red Riding Hood," Dr. Ladd reports.

Taking part in the "Santa Claus" production were Wally Sinclair as Gramps, Homer Ratcliff as Santa, Fran Stark as Mrs. Burton, Pat Hutchens as Kathy, Wendy Alexander as Robbie, Mike Stone as Mr. Williams, Lou Davis as the narrator and Gary Mead as the announcer. Directing was Dr. Ladd, and board operation was done by Jean Sylva. Bob Rickard handled sound effects.

Emergency Fund Exists At Humboldt For Giving Financial Aid To Students

A Student Emergency Fund exists at HSC for the purpose of giving financial aid to students who meet with emergencies or obligations not foreseen. The money in the fund, presently $546.22, has accumulated from proceeds from the annual Faculty Show and from outside contributions.

The fund is administered entirely by the faculty; students do not request aid from it.

Miss Kate Buchanan, associate dean of students, points out the following items:

1. A student emergency fund exists separate from other loan funds.

2. The purpose of the fund is to aid students for emergency expenditures, other than normal school needs of books, tuition, room and board.

3. Each faculty member shall assume the responsibility of reporting to the Dean of Students the name of any student whose need may be considered an emergency.

4. A committee to investigate the need and to recommend aid shall be appointed for each case by the president from faculty members who are best acquainted with the students background and financial need.

5. Any student in good standing who has no resources available for financial assistance is eligible for help in case of emergencies.

6. The committee feels the student should have the privilege to repay the amount given him if he so desires.

Humboldt Offers Class In Novel

Among the many classes offered in the Humboldt State College campus of interest to the upper division and all students is the class in The Novel offered by Dr. Reginald . . . professor of English.

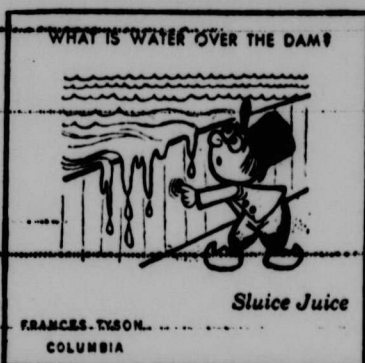

Some 25 students meet informally one evening a week at the White residence for the study and discussion of the origin and development of the novel as a literary form. The course covers the English novel from the Elizabethan era to the present. A course offered for the first semester by Dr. James . . . assistant professor of English, will cover contemporary novels of The Novel. Students of The Novel will be offered a white during the spring term.

Times have changed. In 1939 the fact three carloads of students commute to Humboldt "from as far south as Fortuna, 26 miles away," the front page.

Barnes To Attend Physics Meeting

Dr. George Barnes, assistant professor of physical science, and president of the Northern California Association of Physics Teachers will attend the Association meeting to be held Friday, Dec. 28, at Monterey, California.

The one-day meeting is held in conjunction with the regular December meeting of the American Physical Society and is held at the US Naval Post-graduate school at Monterey.

One of the major events on the Association agenda will be the signing of a petition by members to obtain sectional status in the national organization. The Northern California group was organized only last year by Dr. Barnes.

The program will include a panel discussion on "better coordination between high school and college physics training programs". Papers will be presented by various physics teachers throughout the state. Barnes will act as master of ceremonies for the day's events.

Physics Students Visit Radiation And Defense Labs

Fourteen members of the Humboldt State College Physics Club travelled to the bay area recently to visit the U. S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory and the Radiation Lab at the University of California.

Faculty adviser, Dr. George Barnes, who accompanied the group states that the students were able to see current research work going on at the Naval installation in San Francisco that has not yet been covered in any textbook. Basic principles on which the research work operates are studied by the students in Dr. Barnes' class in Modern Physics.

A second day was spent in visiting the ten million dollar Radiation plant sponsored by the atomic energy commission on the Berkeley campus. Students viewed the cyclotron and the bevatron, another high energy exhlilator, which is housed in a new circular building 200 feet in diameter.

Interested students who made the trip at their own expense were Bryan Seiber, John Hartley, Lynwood Price, Michael Nordstrom, Jim Wilkerson, Jerry Valutini, Johnny Grammer, Jim Patmore, Alex Rynecki, Bryan Rieke, Bruce Chetty, George Jacobson, David Mills and Don Hitt.

Does the female koodoo have horns? What is the average daily temperature for January in San Francisco? When did the first Europeans visit the coast of South Carolina? These and many other "interesting" questions were part of a library assignment Mt. Lynwood Carranco gave to his English 1A classes last week.

The classes were recently conducted on a tour of the library and shown the various reference books and how to find certain information by using them. The assignment gave students "practical experience" in locating various materials.

Knowledge of the reader's guide was furthered when students were asked to "find an article on the feet of birds published in a magazine between 1951 and 1953."

Such "useful" information as the 1950 populations of Alameda, California, and Seattle, Washington, and how many people over 25 years of age completed four or more years of college in 1950 can be found in the almanacs and statistical abstracts, the students learned.

If such things as who the other three members of the Dave Brubeck quartet are, when Gary Cooper, Reginald C. Butler, Lisa Della Casa or Frank Sinatra were born, or what an antonym for "blatant" is have been bothering you, the English 1A members will gladly refer you to the library to find the answers.

Siemens Invited To U. Of Hawaii Summer Session

Humboldt State College president, Dr. Cornelius H. Siemens has been invited by the University of Hawaii Board of Regents and President, Dr. Paul Bachman, to serve as visiting professor at the University for the 1957 Summer Session.

Dr. Siemens stated that if arrangements can be completed to leave the campus, he plans to accept the invitation. He will teach courses in Public School Administration for the six-week period.

"This is the kind of invitation that an educator finds easy to accept," stated Dr. Siemens. "In addition to making it possible to live in the Island for six or seven weeks, the summer session appointment will give me the opportunity for classroom teaching — something I haven't done for six years."

Dr. Siemens will take his family with him. His son, Ronald, who graduates from Arcata High school in June, plans to enroll for summer session work at the University of Hawaii.

Sportsmen, Give Yourself A Xmas Present This Year

By DICK LAURSEN

Every hunter and fisherman who goes afield this year can give himself a wildlife Christmas present.

If every sportsman who fishes or hunts will give some serious thought to next season's supply of fish and game, and then do some little thing to enhance it, the problem of future shooting and angling will be well-on its way to solution. Many sportsmen would sincerely like to follow through in doing something about the future supply of fish and game, but all too few know just what steps they as individuals can take in approaching this goal.

Here are a few simple, easy-to-do suggestions for constructive individual effort in fish and game restoration:

DON'T shoot a covey down to the last bird; don't lash a piece of water till it's "fished out."

DON'T set the limit as a MUST every time you go hunting or fishing. Stop when you've had a fair amount of sport.

DON'T return time and again to the same area just because you had good luck there "yesterday."

Remember, wildlife is a natural, renewable crop. All crops, whether they come from the soil or are hatched from eggs, have to be planted and cultivated if the harvest is to be successful. Leaving some game birds as next year's seed is one way to insure good hunting for the future.

Protecting game fish and animals through the closed season from both human and other predators is another important form of cultivating the crop you have planted.

"Teaching Is Like Grapefruit" Says Dr. McGee, Social Science Prof

BY HARMONY MORELAND

"Teaching is like grapefruit. You either like it or you don't." This is the opinion of Dr. Reece McGee, assistant professor of Social Science who began his teaching career at Humboldt State College this semester.

"From the time I started college," he told a Lumberjack reporter, "I was never tempted by any of the old fields open to sociologists. I wanted to teach."

A "practical" sociologist, Dr. McGee has some decided opinions about teaching methods in sociology classes.

"I'd really like to have a calculator for the use of my classes," Dr. McGee said earnestly.

Social science students, if they learn anything, he explained, ought to learn that all that is known about sociology is based on the statistical interpretation of raw data.

"If my students had access to a calculator," he said, "they could learn for themselves what different ways there are of handling and interpreting this raw data."

VARIED BACKGROUND

Dr. McGee's varied work-background might have been an influencing factor in his becoming a practical rather than a theoretical sociologist.

"At various times I've been an insurance investigator, a truck driver, a stevedore, a gandy dancer, a filling station attendant, and a mechanic's helper," Dr. McGee enumerated.

Of a boyish appearance, believing even his 27 years, Dr. McGee modestly refuses to accept any personal credit for having won his doctorate at so early an age.

"Part of it was a matter of necessity," he said, explaining that after receiving his M. A. from the University of Minnesota, he found he couldn't get a teaching position.

"I registered with eight placement agencies and wrote to 117 colleges," Dr. McGee admitted ruefully. "All the positions were filled with Ph. Ds."

LUCKY BREAK

Dr. McGee refers to his placement as a research assistant at the University of Minnesota as his other lucky break.

"It was the perfect job for a doctorate candidate," Dr. McGee said, "with a salary differing by only fourteen dollars a year from what I'm getting now, and plenty of time for studying."

Dr. McGee had failed at two earlier attempts at higher education.

"Right after I got out of high school, I went to one of the United States Merchant Marine Academies, planning to spend my life at sea as a merchant marine officer," Dr. McGee said. "But I only stayed from June until mid-September, when I chose to resign rather than face court martial on five... no, six... counts!"

Two years later, Dr. McGee was asked to leave Macalester College, a small denominational college in St. Paul, for another series of boyish escapades.

FAMILY TRADITION

His departure from Macalester was in the true family tradition.

"My father was expelled from Macalester in 1910," Dr. McGee said. The elder McGee had joined forces with DeWitt Wallace of Reader's Digest fame to substitute a cigar store Indian for a statue of the elder Wallace, a state of affairs which was not discovered until the dramatic moment of the unveiling at the ceremony.

Dr. McGee, who occupies what he terms "the best state house on the campus" (the old Hicklin house), with his wife Betty, a small daughter known as "K. C.", and his 18-month old son Jon, hopes to remain in California.

"We came here on purpose," Dr. McGee said, "because we like the climate. See, I'm not even wearing a coat. Haven't worn one yet since I've been here."

Library Records College History

Did you know that? ... in 1925 Humboldt State College played football with Arcata High School and Arcata won the game 7-0; that Humboldt's women's track team won the national telegraphic track and fields meet in April of 1927; that classes in scoutmaster training were offered in 1931, and a class in flying in 1939; that the first issue of the Lumberjack appeared on Feb. 13, 1937; that in 1938 34 of the student body consisted of freshmen?

Revelations even more startling than these await the delver into the archives of college history located in the library "case" (a locked room in the book stacks).

Available for use in the library on request at the main desk, archive materials include newspaper clippings in a file dating back to 1925, programs of musical, dramatic, sports and other events, including photographs, catalogs, handbooks and files of the Lumberjack, Sempervirens and other periodical publications of student organizations.

The library files are unfortunately incomplete in some types of publications, and the library would like to receive at least one copy of every publication issued or distributed by any college agency or group in order that they might maintain a complete and up to date publications file for the benefit of the students interested in looking into back dated campus activities.

Lumberjacks during the World War II period contained such fillers and items as "Buy War Bonds," "Buy War Stamps" and "Is there a better investment than your country? Buy Bonds and Stamps!!!"

DR. McNELIS, NEW HSC PROFESSOR, FINDS HUMBOLDT CLIMATE AGREEABLE

By Jolen Brigbee

"In order to get out in the country we must have an excuse, so we go hunting or fishing not merely relaxing," said Dr. James McNelis, a new assistant professor of English at Humboldt State College.

Dr. McNelis, whose special interest is 17th and 18th Century English literature from both the scientific and philosophic angle, enjoys the natural resources of Humboldt County and finds them very relaxing.

ENJOYS RELAXING

"I enjoy fishing or walking along the rivers and beaches near here, enjoying the natural beauty of nature." He also is interested in watercolor painting, although he hasn't found time for it since coming here in September.

"The location of this college has much to do with the attitude of the students. They are not as tense or on edge as the students of a larger college. They have a better opportunity to spend their energy through clubs, organizations or the atmosphere of the small college and wonderful scenery," Dr. McNelis said. He taught at Stanford University for five years before coming here.

"The smaller school has many advantages over the larger ones, among them the students and instructors may become better acquainted," said Dr. McNelis.

AGREEABLE CLIMATE

"Longtime residents of Humboldt complain about the weather here. I find it very agreeable. Often pleasant sunny weather will become very monotonous. Here you have a variety, to say the least. One point which I'd like to make is that you have wood smoke here, not smog. I find I do enjoy the smell of it."

He doesn't like suburban living where everyone is rushed and crowded, but he does like the smaller cities such as Arcata where the activities he enjoys, hunting and fishing, are near at hand.

He is very interested in starting a poetry group here. "The natural surroundings should aid in some good creative writing," he pointed out good writing is good writing regardless if it is scientific, journalism or English, the principal is the same, only the purpose is different, he explained.

ADVERTISING PERCENTAGE

The average advertising lineage for metropolitan newspapers usually runs nearly 70%. With the average price of nearly 75c an inch. The papers usually measure their advertising by the milline rate which means thousand of lines of agate or 5 1/2 point type.

A STUDENT PORTRAIT

JIM ENNIS PREDICTS "TREMENDOUS SUCCESS" FOR INTRAMURAL PROGRAM

"I think that the intramural program will be a tremendous success, especially after we get our new field house and swimming pool," said Jim Ennis, president of the Intramural Council. Jim is also head resident of Alpha House and his number 61 jersey is familiar to many who have followed the football team this season.

Jim, who works part-time as a service station attendant, said, "In a volley ball tournament held the first week after Thanksgiving vacation we had 130 participants in a three hour period. This is a record for Humboldt as far as intramural sports are concerned." Jim hastened to add,

"We owe a special vote of thanks to Dr. Netcher, who has really been a great help in getting this program rolling."

"We plan to expand the program as quickly as possible, right now are concentrating mainly on volley ball but badminton and basketball should come through very soon now. Intramurals are good because they give many kids a chance to participate in sports. Some students cannot compete on the college athletic level so it gives them a chance to play in their favorite sports on equal footing with everyone else. Intramurals also build good sportsmanship in the participants," said Jim.

Jim, who is a boat racing enthusiast, is from Everett, Washington, and he attended Everett Junior College before coming to Humboldt. This is Jim's second year here and he said, "It is a neat school. I came here because I wanted a small friendly college where I would know everybody and I am well satisfied."

Dr. Allen Attends Fisheries Meet In San Francisco

Dr. George Allen, instructor in fisheries at HSC, recently attended the annual meeting of the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission held on Nov. 26, 27 and 28, in San Francisco. This commission is composed of personnel from fishery departments and industry located in California, Oregon and Washington, and acts as an advisory board by drafting possible regulations for these states.

There was informal participation at the meeting by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Alaska Department of Fisheries and Canada. Humboldt State College was one of the few colleges represented. By having a representative at such meetings, HSC is able to keep abreast of recent trends, problems and practices in modern fisheries work.

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Three problems were discussed. The first was that of the trawl fishery concerning depletion of petrale sole in certain areas. The petrale is one of the important commercial flatfishes used for human consumption. There was also discussion of different species of flatfish being used for mink feeding instead of for human food.

The second was differences of opinions concerning the opening date of the troll fishery for salmon. The commission seemed to think that the experimental date of April 15, which was used last year should be followed until results can be seen from the experiment.

THIRD TOPIC

The third and main topic for discussion, was the effects of pelagic gill netting for salmon. Salmon predominantly return to the stream of their birth to spawn. During different years, certain salmon spawning streams should be protected from excessive harvest of fish, while other streams are able to have a larger harvest than usual. This cannot be done if pelagic fishing is permitted as the fish caught are not from any one particular stream, but from all streams.

The Commission advised that representatives from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Canada should meet with a committee from the commission, and a solution worked on.

After the attack on Pearl Harbor and the beginning of World War II, the HSC Mutsuhito Club, a women's organization supporting college activities and furthering campus spirit, voted to change their Japanese name.

Program Offered To Aid Engineers

A program designed to help solve America's shortage of engineers by assisting them through college was announced by William A. Foley, director, Twelfth U.S. Civil Service Region.

According to Foley, college students could earn between $740 and $854 during summer vacations while working with professional engineers at Federal installations in California and Nevada.

The program also provides promotions and retirement, life insurance and sick leave benefits, Foley said. The student trainee projects will be conducted at shipyards, ammunition establishments, air bases and other Federal installations.

Further information on the program may be obtained from the U.S. Civil Service Commission's office, 630 Sansome street, San Francisco, or the placement office, Room 108E, Administration Building.

Jacks Dominate All-FWC Team

Huff Gets All-American Mention

Tackle Phill Huff recently received Little All-American honorable mention for his outstanding play for the Lumberjacks during the past football year.

Huff played outstanding ball all season long and was especially valuable as a pass receiver on the tackle-eligible play which the Jacks used to great success this year.

Barnum, McAninch, Huff, Fiamma Named To First String Spots

All Far Western Conference team selections were dominated by the Humboldt State Lumberjacks as four players were named to the first team, one to the second, and five more received honorable mention.

First string choices were End Chuck McAninch, Tackle Phill Huff, Center Caesar Fiamma and Halfback Earl Barnum. Quarterback Warren Baker was named to the second team for the second year in a row.

Other Lumberjack players who earned honorable mention were Tackle Jerry Bartlett, Halfback Marion Mayes, Guard Gerry Kilduff, Halfback-End Henry Cooper and Fullback Ralph Mayo.

San Francisco State and the Cal Aggies, the two teams that tied with the Lumberjacks for the Co-Championship, filled up most of the remaining first team births as each placed three.

All of the players who received FWC honors, except Fiamma, Huff, Kilduff and Cooper who are seniors, will be back for at least one more season of valuable performance for the Lumberjacks.

McAninch and Barnum are sophomores, Mayes is a freshman, while Mayo, Baker and Bartlett are juniors.

Three performers who made the All-Conference team in 1955 repeated again this season. They are Tackle Floyd Peters and Fullback Bob Rodrigo of San Francisco and Guard John Kidd of the Cal Aggies.

Second string center Bob Warren of the Aggies is the son of Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Junior Jacks Win Series With Shasta

Humboldt's Junior Jacks continued their winning ways as they took a pair of games from the rugged Shasta Junior College team over the weekend in Redding.

The final score 55 to 46 was as the Humboldt Jr. Jacks downed Shasta Jr. College in the first game of a two game series played on Shasta court. This was the first real test of the Jr. Jacks power as this was the strongest team they have played to date. This nine point victory was spear headed by guard John Washington who tallied for 14 points. Forward Joe Johnson was a big factor also as he accounted for most of the Jacks rebounds.

Coach Netcher's Jr. Jacks didn't let the first game victory go to their heads, as they came back to capture the second game by a score of 84-75. The powerful Jacks, again with Johnson on the boards, and, Center Jerry Hathaway scoring 37 points once more passed the test put forth by a strong Shasta team.

OREGON TECH TAKES SERIES FROM HUMBOLDT HOOPSTERS

BY TONY VASQUEZ

Humboldt State's Lumberjacks got their first taste of defeat over the weekend as they lost a pair of contests to the Oregon Tech Owls at Klamath Falls by scores of 69-64 and 73-61.

The Friday night game was an exciting see-saw affair with the Jacks leading 63-61 in the last three minutes of play. Guard Henry Cooper and forward Don Robinson fouled out at this point however and the Jacks were unable to contain the Oregon Tech Owls who pulled ahead to win 69-64.

The Jacks had a bad night from the floor hitting on only 30 per cent of their shots. Their free throw average was good however as they hit with 28 out of 35 attempts.

Bob Lawson was the top scorer for the night with 14 points. Center Warren Baker tallied 11 points, seven of them on free throws to take second place honors.

Thurman Wilson and Joe Allesio led the Owls with 19 and 17 points respectively.

SATURDAY'S GAME

Once again it was the OTI Owls coming out on top as they outscored the Jacks 73-61. The Owls were quick to take advantage of a cold Jack team and they were of a 13-0 lead before the Jacks could gather themselves.

Jack Evans with 16 points and Bob Lawson with 14 points. Also coming through with 11 points was Jerry Paul, a veteran from last year's club.

The Jacks drew to within two points of the Tech Owls in the first half but were beaten back and the Owls gained a 40-34 half-time advantage.

One especially bad incident in the series was the injury sustained by Freshman standout Don Robinson. Robinson twisted his knee which gave him some trouble last year. The extent of the injury is not certain.

Hilltoppers Return Home From Gruelling Six Game Road Trip

After a gruelling road trip that has carried them through six games in the past week, the Humboldt State College basketball Lumberjacks return home tonight and tomorrow night as they host the always-strong Moffett Field Flyers.

Since last Friday the Hilltoppers have played a game every night except Sunday. They opened with a two-game series at Klamath Falls against Oregon Tech. Then on Monday and Tuesday they played Southern Oregon at Ashland. Humboldt came back home Wednesday only to play a pair of exhibition tilts that night and last night against the Harlem Clowns at Arcata and Fortuna high schools.

Thus Humboldt returns to their home court tonight with eight games under their belts whereas this time a week ago they had played only two.

This means that local fans can expect to see a great deal of change and improvement in Humboldt's five over their initial outings in which they made good early season showings but obviously needed more polish.

Then, too, there is little telling what lineup will take the floor for the Jacks tonight. Almost all of the starting berths on the squad were still in doubt before the road trip and quite possible some of the reserves who have been pushing the regulars may sneak into a starting spot.

Last season the Hilltoppers took a pair of hard-fought verdicts over the Flyers by scores of 65-58 and 66-56, and indications are that the Moffett Field group are as strong this year as they were last if not stronger.

The Jacks have two more home contests this month before going to the Far Western Conference Tournament in Reno Dec. 27-29. That is a week from now when they host the San Francisco Presidio in a weekend two-game series. Following that Humboldt doesn't play at home again for a month.

Immediately after the tournament at the end of this month, the Jacks play the San Francisco Olympic Club Jan. 4 and St. Mary's College at St. Mary's. Then the conference season begins as Humboldt plays in Sacramento Jan. 11-12.

Finally local rooters will get a chance to see Humboldt in action again Jan. 25-26 when they host the Chico Wildcats.

Lumberjacks Play Harlem Clowns In Exhibition Games

The basketballers from Humboldt State were scheduled to play a two-game exhibition series Wednesday and Thursday nights against the famed Harlem Clowns.

Wednesday's game was to be in the Arcata High gym with the Humboldt Junior Jacks and the Arcata Heavyweights playing a preliminary. The Jacks and the Clowns played in Fortuna last night with the Jayvees again playing the preliminary with the Fortuna heavyweights as their opponents.

Due to deadline difficulties it was impossible to get the results of the games in this issue of the Lumberjack.

SPORTS

FIN AND FUR

By Dick Laurson

This past week has produced some very fine fishing for the ardent steelheaders. The Eel river has produced many fine fish with a scattering of salmon still being taken. Lee Glenn and Lloyd Clark took a couple nice steelies out of the Trinity river last Saturday. Wayne Salmon, Dick Nitsos and yours truly took three nice fish in the South Fork of the Smith River Sunday. This being his first attempt, Nitsos said that steelhead fishing 'really shows.'

It looks like the rain has terminated the fishing for an indefinite period till the rivers return to a semi-normal condition. Here's hoping it isn't like last year.

The ducks are in in quantity now and many HSC nimrods have been taking their share of waterfowl. Keith Barnhill limited out on sprig and widgeon over the weekend. Otis Skaggs has also been reducing the duck population along with quite a few other 'sloppy weather' hunters.

Wildlife management is not such a complicated science that it cannot be practiced by the individual sportsman. Interpreted in simple terms, it is merely the provision of ideal habitat and adequate protection. Any sincere sportsman can make substantial contributions to both factors. Perhaps it is impractical for individuals to do any considerable amount of work in the field, but by banding together, much can be accomplished as a group.

Don't live for this season alone. Give some thought to the game supply tomorrow and the years to come. Have your sport, of course, but give yourself a Christmas present for next year, too.

This is the last Lumberjack issue for the year 1956, and therefore the last FIN AND FUR column for this year. The author wishes to extend the best wishes for the Yuletide season and may hunting and fishing be better in 1957 than it has been in 1956.

LUMBERJACKS SWEEP SERIES FROM RED RAIDER QUINTET

The Humboldt State College Lumberjacks swept a two game series against the Southern Oregon Red Raiders at Ashland last Monday and Tuesday nights to bring home a 2-2 road trip record and a 4-2 over-all season mark.

The final contest between the two teams was a thriller that the Lumberjacks won in the last ten seconds on a 25 foot shot by Forward Bob Lawson. Humboldt had staged an uphill battle throughout the second half to pull up to a tie in the final three minutes before the last-second shot that won it.

With ten seconds left, Raider star Jim Olivia drew a foul and sunk one free throw to put them ahead 53-52. Then Lawson made his shot and as the ball fell to the floor the buzzer sounded ending the contest.

Humboldt had a little easier time in the first game as they won 62-56. Seven points in the final minutes of the game iced that contest. Charles Schubert, Warren Baker, and Lawson led the scoring as they made 14 points each.

Let's Go Skiing!

By Cathy Davis

Does your mind wonder to the winter days of snow? Do you sit in class and think of the coming weekend? Do you go home at night and hope-fully wax two pieces of old hickory? . . . Well, don't be alarmed, you're not in love and don't make an appointment with your psychiatrist . . . YOU HAVE SKI FEVER!

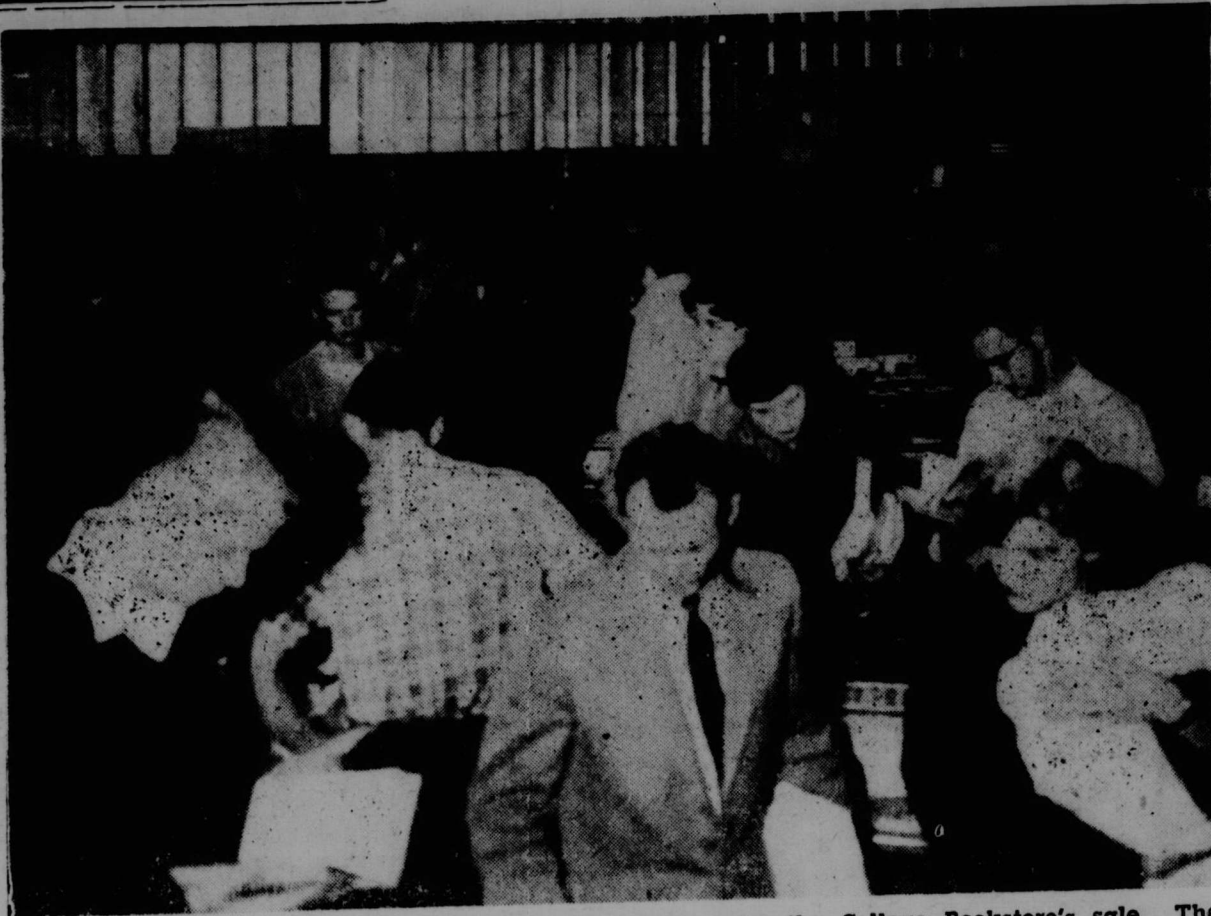

Ski fever is a common disease which is very contagious about this time of the year, among skiers. There are numerous causes, but the most common is stimulated by seeing the first snow fall. So, if you are suffering from this common and incurable ailment, the best solution is to throw your books away, tell all of your professors good bye, and go to Switzerland and enjoy the world's greatest sport.

This is the best solution, but the best thing in skiing aren't always free, so . . . why not plan on spending one day of your next weekends in Humboldt County's own ski area at Berry Summit, just thirty-five miles from Arcata.

The most important factor about your ski clothing is to avoid the common mistake of wearing too much. Don't borrow your roommate's big Alaska dog-sled parka, or confiscate all of the extra sweaters in the dorm. You would only succeed in looking like a well fed polar bear, and your clothing would become so heavy that it would be very hard to move, and because body movement is the best way to keep warm you would be defeating your own purpose.

You need warm clothing, but it should be light. Basically you will need: some of grandpa's long johns, to protect you from the cold wind, a pair of water repellent ski pants to protect you from the rain and wet snow, a sweater and a water repellent ski parka or jacket.

Before you put on your ski boots, think about the socks you are going to wear. The same thing applies to them . . . don't wear too many. You should wear a light pair of cotton socks next to the skin to absorb perspiration, and then one (or two at the most) pair of wool socks. If you Seen above is the crowd that gathered last week to open the College Bookstore's sale. The students and professors enjoyed coffee and donuts, provided by the bookstore, and selected from the variety of portfolio prints and book selections some of the greatest bargains in bookstore history. The bookstore will continue their sale through Dec. 19 for the benefit of those who did not get a chance at the various articles offered at tremendous savings.

AWS FASHION SHOW SPARKLES WITH SEASONS HIGHLIGHTS

By Joyce Weaver

A twelve foot Christmas tree sprayed silver and decorated with red ornaments was the stage setting for the Associated Women's Students Fashion Show which was recently given by Kent's and Jones.

Fashions for the college set were modeled showing some of the new colors for the season, matching outfits, the ever popular princess style and the new back detail that is fast becoming popular for cocktail dresses and formals.

They opened with Claudine Ray singing "Love Is Like A Butterfly," and to set the proper scene and atmosphere "White Christmas." She was accompanied on the piano by Jeanette Dick. Later in the program Sue Crichton did a monologue entitled "Money, Money, Money." Miss Penny Dawson and Miss Polly Mason sang a duet with "Silver Bells" and "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer." The piano accompanists for the evening included Jeanette Dick, Kay Jacobson and Pete Mace.

SCHOOL CLOTHES

The first part of the show was a display of school clothes. Marilee Ammer looking stunning in a dyed-to-match outfit from Kent's. She wore a doe-skin flannel flared skirt, with a matching sweater in the new popular color, Aqua Mist.

The highlight of the school clothes was a series of Lanz dresses all pretty enough for any date as well as school wear. Jackie McLeod modeled a Lanz original made of very fine wool crepe that was elegantly covered with little embroidered flowers.

HIGHLIGHT OF EVENING

The highlight of the evening was the showing of the new formals for this season. DeAnne Brown came out wearing one of the most beautiful red gowns. It was a swishy, formal made of permanently pleated nylon. Tiny rows of ruffles on the skirt and bodice gave it that different look.

Patty Hutchens was a vision of loveliness in an exquisite formal from Jones of pink, gold and white. The bodice of pink satin softly draped was topped with the embroidered fabric of the skirt. The full tiered ruffles of the skirt were embroidered in pink and gold.

The commentator for the evening was Homer Ratcliff, who did a magnificent job describing the models' clothes and the accentuating jewelry that was worn with each gown. Ratcliff was his usual joyful self and had the audience constantly laughing.

The models for the evening were Barbara Paul, Jackie Mc-
