HSC Upper Division Honor Program Starts Next Fall

Students with a capacity for intellectual curiosity; those who are challenged by the 'sound barriers' of knowledge above and beyond the confines of routine textbook assignments, may find an added stimulus in the 1960-61 upper division Honors Program.

To be eligible for the program, a student must have upper division standing, that is, he must have completed 60 or more units of work by June 5, 1960, and must show a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better.

Such students may either apply directly to the faculty Honors Council, or they may be recommended by a member of the faculty. Students will be evaluated by a faculty Sub-Committee on Selection of the Honors Council and those chosen will be notified by letter that they have been invited to participate in the program.

The program will include two types of study, 1. General Honors, and 2. Honors in the major. The student may elect to take either or both honors degrees. Courses in the program will be designed to "challenge and stimulate the student of superior intellectual ability."

Two general honors, upper division colloquia will be offered in the fall, 1960, semester. Colloquia

Hilltop Hallucinations "Last Column"

By BILL HAYWARD

There is a distinct possibility that I might graduate. To head this column as I did might be bad luck, but I hope not. Anyway, I think that the Almighty willing, I will pass from the portals of HSC as a Bachelor of Arts.

Like all seniors, I like to think of the good and bad times that have occurred in my many years at this institution. There were plenty of both, but they were all fun. I have spent many hours with Herk and Lola, and they developed into symbols of Joe and Colleen College, the average, if there is such a thing, college student. I hope you enjoyed them, I certainly did. They were easy to create, and it was fun to watch them become vehicles for some humorous slices at college life.

I never created their counterpart, a prof. named Dr. Dome. I might have pictured him as a bald, middle-aged intellectual. But the trouble with Dr. Dome is that there is no average college instructor. I must admit that I was tempted to portray him as a villainous old lecher, but after all, I do want to graduate. In short, Dr. Dome was a threat to good public relations. Such is life. If I ever return for another year of college I promise to portray, vividly, the legendary Dr. Dome. It might be hilarious.

SO, COLLEGE PROFESSORS, LET ME GRADUATE OR I WILL HAUNT YOU WITH AN UNWANTED THIRD PARTY. With my active imagination, he would be quite a character.

May I say "good bye" to all of you, and I hope Santa Claus treats you well with a Bachelors or Whatnot. I hear that you can buy an A.B. for a nominal fee in some places around the country.

For those of you who are interested, take a look at Reader's Digest, this month's issue. It could be an easy way out of the whole mess.

Bryant Succeeds Anderson As Forestry Head

The final meeting of the Forestry Club held recently at Redwood Park, saw John Bryant succeed Ron Anderson as Chief Forester of the HSC Forestry Club.

Others serving with Bryant will be Larry Andrews as assistant chief forester, Bob Spivey was re-elected fiscal forester; Jim Currian will be in the secretary foresters position; Joe Meier will serve as whistle punk; George Pardee was elected to the vice presidency of the Association of Western Forestry Colleges and Ron Coulter became the AWFC conservation officer from Humboldt State.

The meeting began with a discussion of Australia, its people, cities, crops, past and future. The discussion was led by Dr. T. N. Stoate, graduate of the University of Adelaide and Oxford. Dr. Stoate is in the United States working on a research project for Simpson Lumber Company of Arcata and Forestry Club members are looking forward to the day when he will return and present them with a discussion on this project.

Rawlinson, Edwards Nab Major '60 Speech Awards

SONG of the SPELVIN

A few weeks ago a comment was made regarding the slaying of dragons, and how, at 17 or so, such a feat was rapidly and easily going to occur. Dreams—the legacy of youth. But as the time slips by, it develops that the sword which slays the dragon must first be tempered. In four years of tempering what has occurred?

Remember—when, after the welcoming speeches and tests, you faced what you would come to know as a college education. Maybe you'd anticipated it ever since you were a youngster, or perhaps you decided to go to college because your friends were going, or perhaps because you really wanted a college education.

So you learned to juggle social activities into a new pattern of having to study, perhaps for the first time in your life. Maybe you could let those assignments slide by until the last minute—that is, until you were called in for a conference with one of your profs, asked a few questions, and told that you could have another chance ... that you had the ability to do good work, and that if you didn't goof off so much ...

So you went back and burned the midnight oil, turning out that which justified your professor's opinion of you, and you settled down, learning that there is a certain pride, a certain satisfaction, in doing a good job, in working to capacity.

And now, the brief span of time spent in tempering is almost over, the pennants and pictures will come down, the books closed, the tassels turned, and those dreams and dragons? Maybe they've changed, but they're still there ... you just see them in a different light.

And the sword, the double-edged sword of individuality and integrity, has been tempered—not completely, for that is a life-long process, but the fundamentals are there, and as the song says, "the fundamental things apply as time goes by."

Maybe that sounds hackneyed and trite; perhaps to some, naive, but the fundamental values still hold true, and the test will come, not in the mere recitation or reading of them, but in the living of them. You know what they are, but perhaps in the rush and fury of conflict and tension, they've been put aside or have gone astray, but they're still there, waiting to be used, waiting to be lived.

No one can live them for you. They must come from the individual, the individual of integrity ... they must come from you. And they can ... and will ... if you want them to ... if you let them.

And so it's "30" to another Song of the Spelvin. And who, the question has been asked, is Spelvin? Diane Anderson.

At the banquet the forensics squad members toted up a vast number of successes this year. HSC had 55 students in debate this year. Students Leave Class To Donate Blood

Three Humboldters left classes last week to respond to an emergency call for blood donations from the Northern California Community Blood Bank in Eureka.

Miss Kate Buchanan, associate dean of students, helped the health service locate the students in classes and labs after the call came in for type O positive blood. The three had given blood previously to the bank.

Miss Hickman said the health service soon will be seeking ten additional pints of blood to build up a reserve in the college's donations at the bank, from which students and staff can draw in time of need. Volunteers should contact the health service.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

Today I conclude my sixth year of writing columns for the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris cigarettes. It has been my custom during these six years to make no attempt to be funny in this final column. (I have achieved this objective many times during the year also, but never on purpose.) The reasons for the lack of levity in this final column are two: first, you are preparing for final exams and, short of holding you down and tickling you, there is no way in the world to make you laugh at this time; and, second, for many of us this is a leave-taking, and leave-takings, I think, ought not to be flippant.

If I have brought you a moment or two of cheer during the past year, I am rewarded. If I have persuaded you to try Marlboro or Philip Morris cigarettes, you are rewarded.

Let me pause here to express my heartfelt gratitude to the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris. They have given me complete freedom in the writing of these columns. There has not been the slightest hint of censorship. They have never changed so much as one comma in my copy. I wish to take this occasion to state publicly that I am forever grateful to these enlightened tobaccoists and I hereby serve notice that if they find it in their corporate heart to engage me for another year of columning, I shall require a substantial increase in salary.

The money is not what matters—not as money, that is, but only as a token. I want to be assured that they love me as much as I love Marlboro and Philip Morris. And what, indeed, is not to love? Marlboro is a cigarette which proves beyond cavil that flavor did not go out when filters came in. Philip Morris is a cigarette that is pure mildness from lip-end to tip-end. Both of these estimable smokes come in soft-pack or flip-top box. Neither is ever sold in bulk.

The summer lies ahead. For underclassmen summer will be a hiatus, a breather in which to restore yourselves for next year's resumption of busy college life. For seniors there will be no more college. You must not, however, despair and abandon yourself to idleness. There are other things to do in the world besides going to school—basket weaving, for example, or building boats in bottles, or picking up tinfoil, or reading "War and Peace." Many graduates fall into the erroneous belief that their lives are over when they leave college. This is not so. It is possible to make some sort of life for yourself with a bit of ingenuity . . . or, if that fails, dye your hair, change your name, and enroll at some other college.

Whatever the future holds for you, be assured that the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris join me in wishing you the best of everything. We have taken great pleasure—the makers and I—in bringing you this column each week throughout the school year. We hope a little pleasure has accrued to you too.

May good fortune attend your ventures. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay loose.

© 1960 Max Shulman

We, the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris, can only echo kindly old Max's parting words. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay loose.

For him it is play,
and a longer poem about the visit of two Witnesses.

Ken Gatlin won second place with a series of similes about love, entitled "For S. L." and an animal fable, "Boy Meets Girl". William Livingston's musings inspired by the sight of a seagull ("Standing at Shore") won him third place. Fourth and fifth place were shared by Stephen Turner, who showed an ability to play with words in his two short poems, and by Billie Van Eaton, whose humorous poem, "Deftly, with Feeling", provided helpful hints, which enable a reader to solve certain problems that he might encounter, for example,

When you've a test to take,
wear orange and red
Or blue and green
With an alligator belt
And a medallion
Because test-taking is violent business.

The winning poems in this contest will be published in the 1961 Toyon.

cars love SHELL

Why do so many of the liveliest cars on the road use Super Shell with TCP? One clue is that Shell is America's largest supplier of commercial aviation fuels (we have been for 10 years). And many of Shell's aviation developments have been carried over into Shell gasolines. TCP* additive is just one of these developments. TCP in Super Shell neutralizes the combustion deposits which make engines run rough. Why not discover how smooth your car can run—how far you can go on a gallon? Your Shell dealer is the man to see.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

Ten-Watt KHSC Transmitter Now Installed

A ten-watt FM transmitter has been installed high atop Sequoia Theatre as the final step to the realization of KHSC-FM. This station is the first legitimate broadcast station in any state school of higher education.

The engineering staff is in the process of making frequency checks and field test measurements in preparation for program testing and the final legal step of applying for an operating license which will license the station for three years.

Prof. George Goodrich, director of KHSC-FM, stated that programming on a regular basis will begin this fall. Monthly program logs will be made available to the campus and the community. Prof. Goodrich is also interested in getting in touch with persons owning FM receivers, for testing purposes.

Plans are being formulated for the stocking of economical FM receivers which will be sold on campus through the bookstore.

A dedication program and an open house will be held this fall in conjunction with the regular program schedule. Television equipment for occupational TV programs will be installed this summer and displayed at the dedication ceremony.

Art Finale On Display In Three Places

The annual end of the semester student art exhibit is now open to visitors in the HSC Art Gallery, the Audio Visual Gallery and the foyer of the new Sequoia Theater.

Being shown in the upstairs HSC Gallery are landscape and Graphics by students of Prof. Max Butler, pottery and design by students of Prof. Paul Volkening, figure drawings and oils by students of Prof. Glenn Berry and sculpture by students of Prof. Melvin Schuler.

The downstairs HSC Gallery features photography and jewelry by students of Prof. Tom Knight. Drawings by students of both Profs. Butler and Berry may be seen in the A. V. Gallery and watercolors and oils by students of Profs. Butler, Berry and Schuler are being exhibited in the foyer of the new Sequoia Theater.

The exhibit will continue through finals week.

New Master Program In Psychology Implemented

A new master's program in psychology, approved by the State Board of Education in its meetings on campus this month, has been implemented. Dr. Donald Strahan, chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology, announced this week.

Students who have the bachelor's degree and wish to pursue a course of studies leading to the M. A. in psych should consult their advisers, the division office, or any member of the psych staff, Dr. Strahan said.

A number of courses fitting the study pattern will be offered in summer session. Three new offerings have been approved and will be offered beginning with the fall session. These are a research methods course, thesis, and two-semester course in general psychology.

The psych program leads to various occupational objectives such as counseling, clinical and industrial psychology as terminal or pre-doctoral work.

During the 1959 baseball season second baseman Ike Peterson was batting .338 for the first 20 games of the season.

Mu Epsilon Psi Student Recital Heard Tuesday

A student recital featuring Sara Hallin, sophomore music major from Eureka, and Carole Cress, sophomore elementary education major from Eureka; and sponsored by Mu Epsilon Psi, music honorary, was presented last Tuesday in the Music Building.

Miss Hallin played a group of piano preludes by Claude Debussy. Miss Cress, clarinetist, presented the contemporary "Sonatina" by Albert Moeschinger, accompanied by Mrs. Marian Monson, and a traditional number, "Sonata No. 2" by Johannes Brahms, with Judy Johnson at the piano.

'60 Sempervirens Distribution Continues Today

Distribution of the 1960 Sempervirens was to begin yesterday in Language Arts 17 and continue today. The staff was notified books were in shipment late last week. At Lumberjack press time books had not arrived on campus. If necessary, alternate dates will be announced.

The yearbook is being sold from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Prices are $2 for students with both semester or full year activity card and $4 for students with one-semester card. Any extra books will be placed on sale at $6. Faculty and staff pay $4.

Joe Romero, Sempervirens editor, pointed out that the student body card carries most of the cost of the book, since the actual production price is about $7 each.

Lists of student body card holders have been compiled but students were urged to bring activity cards with them when picking up the book because of possible errors in the lists.

This year's book, containing 212 pages, is the largest in Humboldt history. It features a gold motif noting Humboldt's past decade of progress and is filled with pictures

Three More Units Of English For Incoming Freshmen

Students who enter Humboldt State College next fall will be faced with an additional three units in English composition according to Dean of Instruction Dr. Homer P. Balabanis.

The new change is an attempt to focus a definite need upon the non-remedial student who wants to better himself in English composition. This is not an extension of the English X program.

The additional three units imitates all colleges and universities who have a total of six units in English composition required for graduation.

Dr. Ralph Samuelson, English department co-ordinator, noted that "this is an excellent move on the part of the faculty and administration to accept the proposal. San Francisco State has adopted a similar plan to that of our new one."

Only those students who enter the college next fall will be affected by the new change.

of this year's activities and the people who made them.

Distribution is being headed by Joan Rasmussen, co-business manager.

HSC In Running For FWC Title

Three Humboldters Place In NCAA Cinder Finals

Three Humboldt State trackmen placed in the NCAA West Coast Regional track and field finals last weekend at Chico.

Roger Biffle pole vaulted 14' 4" for a new meet record tying with two others for first place. The HSC senior missed on three attempts at 14' 5 1/2" for the Olympic qualifying height.

Dean Carrier covered the 400-meter hurdle distance in :24.0 to place fourth in the finals and set a new Humboldt State record in event.

Keith Weidkamp suffered his first defeat of the season in the quarter mile. The Lumberjack sophomore placed fifth in a record breaking performance, but was obviously off stride, having little chance to practice the week before the meet.

The 18-event trackfest contested by athletes from 18 of the top West Coast colleges saw nine meet records fall. Nine of the first were won by Far Western Conference entries.

Dull FWC Race Develops Into Red-Hot Battle

What started as a rather dull championship race for the FWC baseball crown has turned into a red-hot, three-team battle which reached its peak yesterday in Ukiah where the Humboldt State Lumberjacks played a double-header with the San Francisco State Gators.

Things started getting hot when the Lumberjacks split a twin bill with the Sacramento State Hornets to drop the Hornets into a first place tie with the Gators.

Hilltoppers Played Big Pair With SF Yesterday

By DUANE ONETO

The Humboldt State baseballers were to play a "do or die" make-up doubleheader yesterday with the San Francisco State Gators at Ukiah.

Footballers Open '60 Practice September 1st

Humboldt State's football drills get underway Thursday, September 1, in accordance with Far Western Conference regulations. Some 33 lettermen are expected to return from last year's best Lumberjack team in history.

The 'Jacks have about three weeks to practice before opening at their new one-year home at Albee Stadium in Eureka with Linfield College, a Northwest powerhouse.

Coach Phil Sarboe is expected to assemble his staff to include last year's offense coach Bob Doornink and newcomer Ralph Hassman. Art Stegman is also expected to help the Lumberjacks in his usual voluntary capacity. Ced Kinzer returns as team trainer.

Besides the 33 lettermen, many junior college transfers and incoming high school graduates are expected to vie for vaunted positions on the traveling team. Highlight of the season will be a 500 mile junket to University of Hawaii.

The Jacks took a 4-2 record into the tilt. San Francisco sported a record of 6-1 which was tops in the conference.

If the Hilltoppers can sweep the series, they will move into undisputed first place. The sweep is necessary if the 'Jacks are to take sole possession.

A split will give the Jacks an outside chance at a three-way tie depending on the outcome of the San Francisco game with the Sacramento State Hornets.

If the Bay City nine downs the 'Jacks twice, chances of a championship at the Hilltop will be over.

The 'Jacks will be battling down to the wire as they try to take advantage of an assist presented by arch-rival Chico last week when the Wildcats dumped the Hornets twice in the biggest upset of the year.

Should the 'Jacks sweep the San Francisco series, they still have two games to play with the Wolfpack from Nevada. However, the Pack may not make another trip to HSC because of distance. If so, the Hilltoppers would win both games by forfeit.

Coach Ced Kinzer announced that he would use the regular pitching rotation. Jack Maze (3-9) started the seven inning opener, and Larry Taylor (1-2) hurled the nightcap.

Slated to start against Maze was Gator Fred Glosser (3-1). Glosser lost his only game against the Hornets. Jerry Aldrich faced Taylor in the nightcap.

The Gators were fresh from their two victories over the Chico State Wildcats.

Kinzer will field a starting team with familiar faces, but not in their regular positions. Five of the nine starters will be in different positions or new faces since the start of the rain, drenched season.

Ron Reynolds who has moved three times this season started at catcher. Dennis Pontoni, who opened the season as a center fielder, was at second, Rich Tomasini, a freshman, who broke into the lineup three weeks ago, opened at third, and Monty Feeles started at shortstop where he has been all season.

The outfield had Ken Matias in left field and captain Joe Beeson in right. The new face in the outfield was Ike Peterson who started the season at second base, moved to third, and then to center field.

'Jacks May Be In NAIA National Finals

Humboldt State track coach Bob Doornink is awaiting word from NAIA officials on the Lumberjacks entries into the National NAIA meet next week in Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

The Lumberjacks placed eight in the nation last year as Roger Biffle took a third in the pole vault, Bill Crichton was third in the high jump and Bill Hook won the discus. Larry Krupka shared a sixth place tie in the high jump.

Biffle and middle distance star Keith Weidkamp are expected to have the inside position for one of the ten spots awarded to California trackmen.

Other Lumberjacks probably under consideration are javelin thrower Vester Flanagan and high jumpers Larry Krupka and Bill Crichton.

What's What!

—by Hugh Clark—

Farewell Humboldt For Another Year . . .

As we look toward the books for that last minute study, we think that it's high time to say our farewell for 1959-60, a year of enjoyable but frustrating athletics.

Who, at the beginning of the school year last September would have thought Humboldt State would field its best football team in history and place second in the final conference standings? Who would have believed that the Humboldt basketballers could rise to second place in the FWC with the loss of four key players? Who would have dreamed that the HSC wrestlers would capture the conference title in their first year as a team?

And how do you account for the baseballers fighting weather, the loss of several top-notch players and the closing of the school year, would have battled down to the wire?

Did anyone think, after losing two record-breaking track men, that HSC would come forth with almost as good a team as 1959, breaking as many records?

These are the questions and the answers are obviously no, no, no, it's hard to account for, and no.

And while these answers are obvious, they are pleasing despite the fact Humboldt was close enough to get a look at the trophy room and played musical chairs for the FWC throne. Maybe next year, we say.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING! — Suppose we'll never be a good cheerleader. Last week we screamed "come on you Gators."

As we have been reminded, we also said not even the monkey in the corner believed Chico had a chance against Sacramento. Well, perhaps Chico never had a chance, but they whipped Sac twice by identical 3-2 scores, making us the real monkey in the ball park.

With the close of each school year, it's goodbye athletes. At Humboldt the situation isn't too bad which is to say there are not too many athletes leaving either by graduation or by way of eligibility (having played four years but lacking enough credits to graduate. Often it takes five years for an athlete to get his degree, since much of his time is taken up on the playing field).

In football, it's bye-bye, sorry to see you go, to Joey Beeson, Dick Donley, Darol Foster, Dick Ames and Bill Hicks.

We also hear that Pete Carpino, upcoming senior guard may have played his last game Thanksgiving Day for HSC. It has something to do with Pete's credits being too far ahead of his eligibility. Oh well, there's always something reversed.

In basketball, it's so long for Russ Ashburn, Billy Caver and Eddie Thomas. The Thomas-Caver guard combination will be missed, but there's the Crichton (Bill-Krupka (Larry-Rogers (Felix) front line feature coming back.

Baseballers leaving for the wide open spaces are reliable junk baller Jack Maze, captain Joey Beeson, first baseman, catcher, pitcher and what have you Ron Reynolds, and infielder Bill Perry.

The wrestlers are staying around another year to claim another championship, if that's in the cards. The golfers lose only Caver while the tennis team is losing Bob Weddell.

It's the trackmen and their constant record breaking we'll miss. Leaving the campus is pole vaulter Roger Biffle, hurdler Dean Carrier, distance man Buck Crosby, discus thrower Tom Schubert, quarter miler and valuable relay man Marshall Stevens and distance standout Bob Smith.

The 1960 afternoon basketball league was probably the most attended of all intramural sports. Many teams were fielded in the two league affair. The Fort Bragg Independents snared the top laurels in League 1 with a 6-0 mark, while in League 2 the Tekes boasted a 7-0 record. The Independents were the third best team with a 6-1 showing.

Intramural Track

The track meet held in conjunction with the Youth for Fitness movement, put the finishing touch on the 1959-60 intramural circuit. 190 Foresters Attend Annual Spring Barbecue

Top sirloin steak headed the bill of fare for 190 foresters, their families and guests at the Forestry Club's fifth annual spring barbecue held recently at Redwood Park in Arcata. Chief Chef Ed Pierson, who supervised the barbecuing for his fifth year, has seen the number of sirloins rise from 20 to 195 and expects to expand to 300 next spring.

The guests at this year's barbecue were Six Rivers National Forest Supervisor Wes Spinney and wife; Humboldt-Del Norte Counties State Ranger Joe Springer and wife; and Pacific Lumber Co. Forester Larry McCollum and family.

After the meal ended, the club's yearbook, "2nd Annual Ring," was distributed by Editor Gary Munsey. In addition to this, special awards were distributed to the ten graduating foresters and their professors by barbecue chairman John Bryant.

HSC Receives National Science Foundation Grant

The National Science Foundation, the principal federal agency charged with promotion of scientific research and education, has just made a grant of $2580 to HSC for the support of undergraduate participation in biological and oceanographic research.

This grant will permit the award of research fellowships, averaging $150 each, to nine selected undergraduates who will carry out active research, under the direction of Dr. Charles F. Cooper, and other personnel of the Division of Natural Resources, during the 1960-1961 academic year. Additional funds are available for automobile mileage and other incidental expenses incurred by the students.

The program is open to all students, regardless of major field, who wish to participate in some phase of biological or oceanographic research. Course credit will be given for the work done, through registration for special problems courses. Participation is limited to seniors. Enrollment may be for one or both semesters.

Selection of the students is to be made by a committee consisting of one representative from each of the main subject areas of Fisheries, Forestry, Game Management, Botany, and Zoology. The members of this committee shall have full authority to select the best qualified students without regard to arbitrary standards or departmental distribution.

A meeting of some interested students, that discussed criteria for selection, kinds of projects which might be suitable, and other questions was held last Monday. Further information on this fellowship may be gained from Dr. Cooper, room 113, Wildlife Building.

Prof. Parke Granted '61 Fellowship

E. Charles Parke, associate professor of physics, at Humboldt State College will leave for Colorado in the middle of August. Mr. Parke will do his research work, with his objective of a Doctor of Philosophy in the field of Physics with special emphasis in Optics and Modern Physics, at the University of Colorado.

Mr. Parke has been granted a fellowship by the National Science Foundation and plans to spend one year at the university. He will return to Humboldt State to resume his instruction duties in the fall of 1961.

The National Science Foundation will sponsor a "Science camp" for high school students, August 1 to August 26, on the Humboldt State College campus as a part of the nationwide program to stimulate interest and increase competence in science among secondary school students.

A group of 60 carefully selected students from the high schools of the West will participate in a month of concentrated study of selected topics, mathematics, biological and physical science. An attractive program of experimental work, field trips, and supervised recreational activities is planned.

Further information concerning this institute may be obtained from the Institute Director, Dr. John Borgerson, assistant professor of physical science, Humboldt State College, Arcata, California.

Other workshops and special events have been scheduled for this period of time. Full information concerning any of these special workshops may be obtained from the Dean of the Summer Session, Dr. Ivan C. Milhous, dean of extended services, Humboldt State College, Arcata, California.

Student Retreat Is Cancelled

The annual ASB Executive Council Retreat scheduled at Forest of Arden last week-end was cancelled because council members felt that it was being held too late in the semester and they didn't have the time to devote to it.

In place of the retreat, which is held partially to orient the new student body officers, the ASB Executive Council invited all of the new officers to yesterday's council meeting. The entire meeting was devoted to the orientation of the new officers-elect and discussion of their expected duties and activities for the coming year.
