Student Executive Council Gives Additional Funds To Talented Debate Team

Student Executive Council granted the Forensics team an additional $350 above its current budget and obligated the student body to another possible $1,000 subsidy and the motion to abolish IOS was tabled again in Tuesday night's meeting in the CAO.

Mr. Ronald Young and Dr. Edward Steele, advisors to the Forensics team, asked Council for special funds to send a debate team to the West Point Qualifications in Provo, Utah. The advisors explained that only the top sixteen teams in the Southwest were invited to compete.

The Forensics advisors went on to explain that should the Humboldt pair rank among the top four in the meet, we would be committed to send them to the national finals at West Point.

Mr. Young said, "It would cost almost $1,000 to send the two men, Don Sauls and Pete Coyne, to the West Point Finals but I think we could pick up a good portion of that from the local service clubs that we speak before. This team has compiled a 21-13 record. They are the best debate team HSC has ever had, but they took us by surprise as we didn't expect to have such high quality men that would qualify for this contest."

Dr. Steele added, "By placing these in the finals we would encourage other people interested in forensics to attend HSC which would help build both the school's reputation and our department."

ASB president Jack Turner told council members, "By passing this allotment you will be setting a precedent of dipping into our savings."

Council granted a request by the Lumberjack that students seeking student body offices be required to turn in a short summary of themselves along with their petitions.

Although Turner said he would check with the Board of Control about the legality of the motion, Dale Potts, Publications Commissioner, said that it was to be the Lumberjack policy to require each candidate for office to hand in a summary giving his year in school, major, his qualifications for the office, a 3 by 5 picture or arrange with the Lumberjack to have a picture taken and leave information that would enable the Lumberjack staff members to contact him.

Council sent flowers and a card to HSC students Dave Cottrell and Ted Ballard on behalf of the student body. The pair are convalescing in a hospital in Roseburg, Oregon after sustaining injuries in a freak car accident while traveling to a ski meet with the HSC ski club.

Council also okeyed a slight in-

The HSC Ski Club racers returned triumphant to our campus from the Ore-Cal Skiasta, at Ashland, Oregon, after nearly crushing Southern Oregon College, the Skiasta sponsor, last week-end.

Walter Schopfer, team captain, won first in the giant slalom, and second in the regular slalom, with Frank Eggen winning fourth and Jim Schon winning sixth in the giant slalom. The legislative group voted to traditionally award the College President with honorary student body card number one.

Progress Slow On Remodeling

Employees are now moving the last of their materials and equipment from the old corporation building to the completed new location at the corner of 14th and B streets.

The old building will undergo remodeling to equip it for specialized needs of the adjacent Division of Biological Sciences.

Although money for this work has been appropriated and equipment for the building has already been purchased and stored here, progress on the building itself remains slow. Division Head Dr. William M. Lanphere reports that only preliminary sketches have been submitted by the state architects for suggested changes by the Division faculty.

These changes have been promptly decided upon, Dr. Lanphere notes, but further working prints have not been forthcoming from the architect with equal dispatch. For this reason, Dr. Lanphere feels, the bids for the actual work may not be let for another year. The actual work may require about six months.

The 30 x 80 foot two-floor building will provide a 24 station upper division lab, an herbarium, vertebrate storage room, animal room, feed room, and animal surgery and operating room. Also included are an entomology storage room, office, and an outside animal pen.

These improved and added facilities will not require additional faculty at present, Dr. Lanphere stated. "The present staff in Biological Sciences needs these facilities and we are looking forward to the time we will have them," he said. "After angling a bit better than other departments for the building, the okay came in the spring of 1961. It's been a long wait and we're hoping it will not continue much longer."

The remodeling will require that the concrete bottom floor be broken up and removed to permit installation of underground plumbing.

Toyon Deadline

The deadline for submitting manuscripts for Toyon, the college literary magazine, is March 15, according to Dr. Richard Day, advisor.

The magazine contains poetry and fiction, which is all the work of students on our campus. Dr. Day said that most of the manuscripts come from students in the creative writing classes, but everyone who writes should submit a manuscript.

Illness Cancels 'Brothers' Slated For Student Body

The Brother's Four performance, originally scheduled for March 1, was cancelled due to the illness of one of the members, according to Vivian George, head of news and information.

Humboldt State was informed that Dick Foley, one of the "brothers", had come down with a case of strep-throat, and the group would not be able to perform as scheduled.

The Brother's Four performance, which was a sell-out with standing room only, cannot be rescheduled this spring due to the tight schedule the group must keep, according to Mrs. George.

This is the second time that the Brother's Four have had to cancel their performance in four years due to an illness, said Mrs. George.

The fraternal foursome may be rescheduled for the fall, along with the Smother's Brothers, who also cannot make a spring appearance because of their presently filled schedule.

Refunds on the tickets for the Brother's Four performance may be acquired in the College Bookstore.

Proctor Publishes Ten Years Of Study On Russian Literature

Dr. Thelwall Proctor, associate professor of Russian, is the author of the book "Dostoyevski and the Belinski School of Literary Criticism," soon to be published by Mouton and Company in 'S-Gravenhage, Holland.

The work represents some 10 years' specialization by Dr. Proctor, whose thesis for his Ph.D. covered the same subject.

The book deals with mid-19th Century Russian literary criticism, roughly from 1835 to 1880.

It will be released as one of Mouton and Company's "Slavistic Printings and Reprinting" series.

Until now, no book in Western European literary circles has dealt in depth with this period in Russian cultural history.

Dr. Proctor came to HSC in 1959 from the University of California where he was a teaching assistant while working for his Ph.D. degree. He was formerly associated with the University of Maryland's overseas study program.

During WW II, he served as a Russian interpreter for U.S. Army occupational forces, and after the war he visited Moscow on a study tour.

Important Resolutions Passed at CSCSPA Confab

Two resolutions and one policy were passed at the recent meeting of the California State College Student Presidents Association at San Diego State College.

Jack Turner, ASB president, and Chuck Freitas, Lumberjack editor, attended the week-end conference, representing HSC.

The CSCSPA was organized in May, 1959 for the purpose of promoting the "educational and co-curricular interests of member colleges, to ensure necessary cooperation and understanding among student associations, college administrations and state agencies."

Student leaders from 13 of the 15 state colleges, including presidents, and vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers, and editors, attended the conference.

A policy passed on "Communications" stated that if a situation arises involving one member college, a means of communication would be the CSCSPA, wherein various aspects of the situation could be discussed and a unified solution could be resolved.

One of the two resolutions passed by the executive body, involved athletics. It stated that each college under the Board of Trustees should be allowed complete freedom to develop an adequate athletic program within the interpretation of academic excellence.

This can be accomplished provided that the development embodies a philosophy of excellence and ethical administration in athletic recruiting, grants-in-aid, and scholarships.

The last resolution passed involved freedom of speech. The CSCSPA believes that an individual should be the sole arbiter of the merits of ideas freely expressed in an open forum situation.

In accordance with this principle the State College system should adopt a policy guaranteeing freedom of speech and expression to all.

One particular issue discussed by the committee was the name changing of all state colleges to California State College of, i.e. Chico, Arcata, Fresno and Los Angeles.

More information about these issues will appear in detail in later issues of the Lumberjack.

Mike Spurgeon, as president of San Diego State College, hosted the convention and distinguished guests included Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, Chancellor of California State Colleges, Dr. Malcolm A. Love, President of San Diego State College, and Mr. A. J. Sutherland, Board of Trustees.

Dr. Donald Gerth, Associate Dean of Institutional Relations and Student Affairs of the California State Colleges was present at all the meetings as an official representative of the Trustees.

Tom Ramsey, ASB president of San Francisco State College will appear on campus at a future date to speak to students concerning Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

The next meeting of the CSCSPA will be held at San Francisco State May 15, 16, 17.

Newly Revised Constitution Put Before Student Body

On March 16 and 17 a general student body election will take place to vote on a newly revised HSC Student Body Constitution.

In a rough draft of the proposed constitution six specific areas have been revised.

One revised section concerns a Student Legislative Council. The members of this council would consist of the four class presidents, ten representatives-at-large, and the vice-president of the student body.

Powers of the Legislative Council would be: to draft the association's rules and regulations, to make appropriations from the treasury of the association, and to determine rules of the Student Legislative Council proceedings.

Additional powers would be: "to keep a journal of the Council proceedings which shall be posted for the benefit of the members of the association, to confirm all appointments of the president of the association by a major vote, and to fix and collect the membership fee of the association."

Other powers would be: "to decide the succession to the presidency in the absence of the president and vice-president, to ratify the constitutions of all organizations on the campus which are referred to it by the Board of Control, to suspend or remove any officer who persists in violation of the constitution. This shall be done by a two-thirds vote of the Student Legislative Council."

Two last powers would be: "to make rules and regulations that are necessary and proper for the carrying out of the foregoing powers, concerning any department of the association as a whole, and to over-ride the president's vote by a two-thirds vote."

The second revision would have all student commissioners appointed by the Student Body President instead of having the commissioners elected as in the past.

The commissioners formerly formed an Executive Council which would be done away with if the revised constitution is accepted.

Under the proposed constitution the commissioners would be placed on the President's Cabinet along with the Student Body President, vice-president, treasurer.

As Jack Turner, student body president said, "The duties of the legislative body and commissioners will be separated by eliminating the Executive Council as such by having the Student Legislative Council and placing the commissioners on the President's Cabinet."

A fourth area of revision concerns the position of recording secretary. Up until now the office has been filled by an elected officer. Now the recording secretary would be hired as there is too much work for a student to handle that holds the job.

The fifth area of revision would

Spirit Fills The Gap

HSC has very good possibilities for a top notch ski team. For the last two weeks now, Ski Club members have been able to get some of their excellent skiers to two meets. Both meets were in Oregon, and involved competition from more than one state.

The ski team had the best team spirit of all those teams there, including the sponsoring college teams. Ski Club members who went with the team supported them all the way.

Humboldt State College is losing out with this ski team, however, all because a certain department, which situates itself in the gym, can't see any reason to sponsor this team. When our skiers race, they have to borrow helmets from other schools. It really looks cool for an HSC skier to be wearing a Chico State helmet!

Our ski team isn't asking for anything unreasonable. Chico State, San Francisco State, Cal, and even junior colleges like Shasta, Sierra, and College of the Siskiyous sponsor the ski teams. At the last meet, all those named, except for San Francisco State and Cal, competed against our team and lost.

Why should we be cheated out of being sponsored? With a sponsorship, think of what our team could do, if they are doing so well now! Our team has a lot of spirit, and a lot of good skiers, and HSC would benefit greatly if they were properly sponsored.

S.V.E.

Dear Editor:

The primary functions of student government has long been impeded by the archaic document under which it has been forced to operate. Jobs that require specific qualifications have, in the past, been held by popularity contest winners.

Student government is in the hands of a single body, the Executive Student Council. Obsolescence is built into the old constitution by the mere fact that it is extremely difficult to amend.

The Student Body President is not much more than an additional Executive Student Council member. Some of the commissioners whose jobs were at one time deemed essential, now have, or seem to have, a superfluous position on the Council.

These shortcomings of our student government have been brought about by the constitution it is now operating under. Amending the present constitution is out of the question. It requires one-third of the entire student body to vote in the election, and this has been in the past, an impossibility.

Roughly, only one-eighth of the students voted in the last general student body election. It seems that the obvious answer to this dilemma is to adopt a new school constitution.

The constitution, that will be presented on March 16 and 17th, has been orientated, since its conception, toward a policy of flexibility. It is different in many ways. It divides the student council from the ASB President.

The new council, called the Student Legislative Council, will retain many of the same powers of the old Council, but the President will not have a direct vote. Instead, he will have veto power which can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the Student Legislative Council.

The Council will be composed of ten Representatives-at-large and the four class presidents as voting members. In addition to these members, the Vice-President will set in as chairman but with no vote. These members will not have the functions of simultaneously serving as a commissioner and a voting legislator.

It will be the duty of the President to appoint the commissioners with the consent of the Student Legislative Council. The philosophy behind this is that unneeded positions will not be filled and the persons that are appointed will be qualified for their jobs.

The President will be responsible to the student body for getting these jobs done. The power of the purse strings will be in the hands of the council.

The President will have a cabinet made up of the Treasurer, Vice-President, and any commissioners he may appoint. Many of the administrative functions of the student government will be handled by this body.

The third branch of the proposed government will be the Board of Control which will be set up much the same as it is now.

The real charm of the proposed constitution is the ease with which it can be amended. It only will take two-thirds of those voting to amend it. There is no mention of the one-third requirement that hamstrings the present one. Initiative and Referendum also do away with the one-third requirement.

I sincerely hope the student body will see the need for this constitution and vote intelligently when the time comes.

Logging Meet At Sacramento Nets Ideas, Comments

The theme "If I Had My Way" provided much for the forest industries and related government agencies to think about at the 15th Sierra-Cascade Logging Conference and Logging Machinery Show.

Recently held at the State Fair grounds, Sacramento, the meeting drew nearly 700 registrants including Professors Henry A. Froehlich and Phillip G. Annand of the Forestry Department and students Phil Aune, Dave Rosgen, Bernie Weisgerber, and Bruce Watson.

Conference president Vince Bousquet, a Weyerhaeuser official, stated that the purpose of the meeting was "to generate useful ideas and good fellowship within the timber industry and between it and related agencies." The first of these objectives was served by the keynote address of former U.S. Senator William Knowland as he spoke on "The Challenge Confronting Us." Mr. Knowland hit out at the regimentation, mediocrity, and conformity that he feels is becoming a part of today's timber industry.

The cause, Mr. Knowland stated, is largely the facts that the Forest Service is one large monopolistic supplier of timber without competition. The timber industry has no escape from Forest Service timber sales or their varied interpretations of their own contracts. No direct answer was forthcoming on these statements although the Forest Service did say that the contracts should be read more carefully by the industry.

Logging business aspects occupied most of the session and it was

Manager Plans New Programs For KHSC Radio

Gordon Schmidt, a junior transfer student, has recently taken over the position as station manager of KHSC, the Humboldt State College radio station.

Mr. Schmidt transferred to Humboldt State this Spring Semester from Shasta J.C. in Redding, where he completed his first two years of college studies last June as a radio-T.V. major. Even before attending college, the radio and television field was familiar to Mr. Schmidt; at the age of 13 he was programming for church socials and plays. It was here in his home town, Sioux, Iowa, that he became locally known for his achievements in programming.

As station manager of Humboldt State's KHSC, Mr. Schmidt will use international records as the base for many of his radio programs. Most of his proposed international sounds "have rarely been heard throughout our country," says the HSC junior.

"With the help of the broadcasting crew here at Humboldt, I plan on molding KHSC into the image of 'The Sounds of Beautiful Music', and it will be very much unlike the jungle music of other radio stations in the surrounding area."

In carrying out his program with the 'international atmosphere,' the station manager plans on opening his programs with a slow, moody Scandinavian instrumental as his theme song.

The half-hour station breaks will be made to "sort of flow between the programings," says the manager. "through the means of putting original sayings to the mood of the music blending into the background."

Station identification breaks will be worded somewhat in the same manner as the following: "There is music swinging, there is music smooth, there is music sweet, and in the groove, here on KHSC-FM 90.5 megacycles, Arcata, Calif."

Mr. Schmidt goes on further to explain, "Novelty music such as The Bavarian Woodcutting Song, which has the echoes of hand saws in the background, will be used throughout the programming when referring to KHSC as the 'Voice of the Lumberjacks'."

generally agreed that the "businessman-logger" was the key to success. Professor Froehlich noticed that many new wood products are being developed to meet the intense competition of other products. He also noted competition is stimulating new methods of timber harvesting to the advantage of the industry.

Dr. Ralph Hall of the U.S. Forest Service gave an encouraging report on the cleanup of the Columbus Day, 1962, timber blow-down. Of the more than five billion board feet toppled by the high winds (enough to build over half a million homes) about 90% has been recovered. Dr. Hall noted some timber companies offered premiums on bug-infested salvaged lumber both to save this timber and prevent ruinous spread of timber insects.

He noted that the Forest Service, on their part, speeded up processing of timber sales agreements from months to weeks to expedite removal of downed timber.

California is the nation's largest lumber user and second largest producer.

BATTLE OF THE BOOKS

As you may have heard, from the excited talk on campus, the student council recently passed and sent a recommendation to the library that faculty members be given only the same privileges as the rest of the school's population.

If this recommendation were put into action it would mean, for instance, that Professor X would be able to check out books for only two weeks and could only renew the mthree times—the same rules that now govern students and staff.

At the present time, faculty members can check books out on a long-term basis (which means, to some, that they can leave them on a shelf and forget about them). While a book is thus situated in some far-flung corner of Founder's Hall, a poor undernourished undergrad may be frantically searching the library for just such a book.

If the poor soul doesn't check the card catalog first—and so few of us do—but goes directly to the shelves to look, he may never realize that the book exists. But even if he finds out that the book is just checked out, he may never see it, because the library has no way of forcing the teacher to bring it back.

If an instructor needs, for instance, "The Psychosemantic Disorders of Melanesian Rice Paddy Workers" for reference, he has to buy the book through the library. So, although it has been ordered with no other purpose in mind than to use it as a reference for the instructor, the book is catalogued with the rest of the library books, and thus with the student's vain expectation that it will be on the library shelves.

Of course the teacher could buy the book himself, but even with our fabulously wealthy teachers, money can only go so far. The ultimate answer would be, of course, division reference libraries, but since that is impossible, it would be better to work something out under the present arrangement so that an instructor could get the books for as long as he really needs them.

In the past there HAVE been abuses of faculty privileges, and students are justified in seeking some better system. Even faculty wives get long term privileges. It is bad enough competing with professors for books without having to worry about their wives too.

The best way out of this mess would be to set basic privileges for everyone using the library, but letting instructors use library books on long term loan if the books were to be used for a class.

Thus a chemistry prof checking out Lady Chatterly's Lover would get it on a two-week basis, but a book on inorganic chemistry he needed for a class could be checked out for the duration of that class.

This would allow instructors their needed reference materials—which, remember, ultimately benefits the student, the staff, and even other faculty members by keeping the majority of books on active circulation.

"The Crucible" Probes the Complex Psychology of Witchcraft and Sin

MARYLYN FLETCHER

"You misunderstand me sir. I cannot pardon these when twelve are already executed for the same crime. It is not just."

These measured words of Deputy Governor Danford (Herbert B. McLellan) typify interest and fear of witchcraft which again unfold tonight and tomorrow in Sequoia Theater.

The Crucible, Arthur Miller's probe into justice and self-justification, witchcraft and secret sins opened its moving, if somewhat strained, Sequoia Masque presentation last Friday.

On the surface, the shocking account of what happened in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1792, Miller's play takes on a sense of immediacy through character development, expertly handled by director W. L. Turner and an impressive group of actors.

The springboard for superstition's fateful plunge is one Abigail Williams (Penelope Hess), who stands ready to gain most from the illusion of witches. The versatile Miss Hess captures and conveys the nuances of characterization which transform her from the sedate pilgrim, to the seducer, to the artful controller of young girls' minds, and to the convulsively possessed.

Tom Thompson, as John Proctor, gives his usual memorable performance. Two sequences in particular left this party spellbound. Though dangerously upstage, Thompson's burning eyes at the moment of recognition after three months separation from his wife conveyed young Proctor's inward pain.

Accused of conspiring with the devil, Proctor provided the emotional highpoint of the play in a powerful eruption over what he would lose by signing his name to save his life—"Who is John Proctor?"

Mimi Mace, as Proctor's "cold" wife ultimately thaws in Miller's lines, but not in her portrayal.

Julie Fulkerson as Mary Warren, torn between the reason of Proctor, the hypnotism of Abigail, and the rage of Deputy Governor Danford, achieves moments of pathos and little-girl helplessness unequalled by her fellow performers.

The second half of the play is

CAEOE Honors Mrs. Jamieson

A Resolution of Commendation by the HSC President's Cabinet went to Mrs. Sibyl M. Jamieson, Secretary to President H. Siemens.

The presentation was made to Mrs. Jamieson during the annual meeting of the California Association of Educational Office Employees. The CAEOE Meeting was held at the Fresno Hacienda Motel on Feb. 21, 22, 23.

The commendation was for the outstanding work and devotion to duty by Mrs. Jamieson during her term of office as president of the organization.

Mrs. Jamieson has been the president of CAEOA for the past two years and plans to be very active in the association for many years to come.

When asked about the presentation, Mrs. Jamieson replied, "I thought the girls were joshing me on my last day in office so I just sat back and waited for the punch line. When it came it floored me." The punch line was, "is presented by the HSC President's Cabinet."

L. A. Faculty Go To IEC Conference

Arthur L. Stegman, associate professor of Industrial Arts at Humboldt State College will be attending the 26th Annual Industrial Education Conference at Anaheim, California.

Mr. Stegman left Humboldt State Feb. 28 and will be at the conference March 3, 4, and 5.

Approximately 200 college and university heads of departments and vocational department people are expected to attend.

The "Perkins Bill", a new federal act, will be the item of discussion.

This law will appropriate money to public schools, state colleges, and universities to provide vocational education. One of the big problems that these people are going to discuss is providing teachers for this program.

Also leaving from the I.A. Department were Dr. Ernest B. Bednar, associate professor of Industrial Arts, and Mr. Jim Musick, I.A. instructor.

Deputy Governor Danford the complex interplay of self-dominated by the sarcastic patience, the mocking scorn and the rage of Deputy Governor Danford (Herbert B. McLellan). The veteran actor graces the stage with poise and well-timed turns of temperament.

Costumes and props are impressive, the symbolism in the paper-doll trees imposing. The horror of the play's unrelenting development is heightened by the mimicking, chorus effect of the "possessed" young girls.

A rather contrived curtain-call finds the stage completely bare. Unfortunately it leaves the audience wishing they could express their appreciation directly to the players.

Cheerleaders Role Questioned, Selection Improvements Wanted

By IKE PETERSEN

The selection of next year's songqueens and cheerleaders will be taking place in the near future.

These tryouts should be of great interest to the student body, as the people who are selected represent the college in the eyes of the community and all other colleges in our sports leagues.

Many men and women on campus have definite opinions on how the students should be chosen and the qualifications they should meet. However, it seems that when tryouts do take place, only a few compete for what should be a position of leadership and great honor.

Perhaps more publicity is needed, but after interviewing several HSC students, it is apparent that they feel other factors are turning away those who might best represent our campus.

Tom Leitz said, "As far as I am concerned, this HSC student body does nothing what-so-ever to help our cheerleaders or songqueens. Appearance and ability are the prime requirements of a good cheerleader or songqueen, with appearance as number one."

By appearance I mean the physical attraction, not dress. In order for our student body to back our cheerleaders and songqueens, we have to have the best possible leaders elected by the student body and not a group of instructors, who have forgotten what spirit is."

Tots Instructing Student Teachers

Nine Humboldt State College seniors are learning the practical principles of teaching at the College Elementary School.

The college students are required to participate in an actual classroom situation for a semester for their General Elementary credential.

Teaching the eighth grade is Roy Sheppard; seventh grade, Arthur Ried; sixth grade, Greg Seymour; fifth grade, Pat Dever; fourth grade, Jean Wellington; third grade, Ettie Hiss; second grade, Barbara Barnes; first grade, Lucy Santino; kindergarten, Mrs. Bernice Taylor.

Lucy Santino, along with regular teaching of the first grade, specializes in teaching Spanish in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades.

Pam Johnson, Linda Dumm, and Lynda Dumm will compete in a modern dance symposium held at Stanford University.

Rats in the Dark Think Differently

Bob Gamboni has just completed a Master's thesis in Psychology on the effect of total darkness on the problem-solving abilities of hooded rats.

Grad Gamboni, advised by Dr. Andrew Karoly, raised the test animals from birth to 70 days old in complete darkness. He then tested them for 11 days, 12 trials each day in a 4-step, serially arranged alternate-choice tunnel. In each choice-pair of gates one gate was lighted. Otherwise the tunnel was pitch-black.

"In previous experimentation," Dr. Karoly explained, "it had been established that light-deprived rats showed a greatly reduced use of visual clues in problem solving. It was theorized that their sight had been damaged but this was not proved.

"In the present research care was taken to neutralize these possibilities. Thus," Dr. Karoly continued, "if Gamboni could prove that light-deprived rats used only spatial clues (the concept of right and left) this would be a reason why in former experiments they used visual clues badly. This would be true because largely rats show a singly oriented consistent behavior pattern in problem solving."

Gamboni's thesis was established when the deprived rats did use spatial clues to a significantly greater extent, statistically, than a control group. With a normal light environment they gradually began to use visual clues (light and dark gates) as well.

Dr. Karoly stated that the paper will be presented at the Western Psychological Association meeting at the Portland Hilton Hotel, Oregon, April 16th to 18th.

Business Division Surveys Housing Units In Local Area

The Business Division of the college will conduct a survey of the supply and demand for rental housing in Arcata and Eureka.

Dr. Russell Connett, assistant professor of business, will supervise the project. Carl Bellas a graduate student, will do the field work and will be assisted by other business majors.

Dr. Connett said the survey will start in Arcata within the next few weeks.

An inventory will be taken of all available rentals of two or more units. Property owners will then be contacted by telephone or by personal interview to learn of current vacancies, rental rates and the facilities provided.

The same survey will be carried out in Eureka. The majority of the work is expected to be done during Easter vacation, Dr. Connett said.

There have been no statistics of this type compiled for this area since the 1960 census. The project is being financed by a grant from the California Division of Real Estate in Sacramento.

The project is expected to take about four months to complete. After all data is compiled, copies of the survey will be made available free upon request to investors, brokers, builders and other interested persons.

Unusual Findings In Psychology Spur Research

When next your buddy tells you that 'everything is at his fingertips' ponder upon these latest findings.

From sources as diverse as Russian publications, the staid Wall Street Journal, and the offbeat Fate magazine come news of experiments indicating a form of sight in the hands of some people.

First reported by Soviet scientists was the case of Rosa Kuleshova, who identified colors with her hands. American parapsychologists received the information without enthusiasm, but the Russians continued investigating. It was in early December that the newspaper Sovetskaya Latviya reported another case.

Lena Bliznova, aged nine, and from Kiev, can "see" with her fingers, toes, and other parts of her body and can distinguish colors with her shoulders.

It is now reported by Dr. Richard P. Young, Professor of Psychology at Barnard College, that he has found a similar person in Mrs. Patricia Stanley. The 42-year-old wife of a Flint, Michigan, Gen-

Dr. Siemens Recruiting Drive to End This Week

Dr. Cornelius Siemens will return to the campus March 9, having completed a three week recruiting tour of the eastern U.S., it was announced by his office today.

Dr. Siemens has been attending meetings and conducting interviews in Chicago, Washington, D.C., and New York. His primary objective was to recruit a qualified person for the Office of Dean of Academic Affairs.

This new office is currently known as Dean of Instruction and is under the direction of Dr. Homer P. Balabanis. The new title is expected to become effective this summer.

Dr. Lawrence E. Turner, Executive Dean, has been Acting President during the absence of Dr. Siemens.

eral Motors inspector has the ability to identify colors by their "feel" while wearing thin plastic gloves.

Dr. Young blindfolds Mrs. Stanley for the tests, and the colors to be identified are placed in a light proof box. At no time does Mrs. Stanley have the opportunity to use normal vision in her responses. Oddly her ability is most pronounced at 80 degrees fahrenheit or over, and fails to function below 70 degrees.

Dr. Carl Strand, Business Professor, was guest speaker at the formal initiation banquet last week at the Bella Vista Inn given by the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Other guests at the annual banquet included Dr. Donald Karshner, Dean of Students and Dr. Richard Morrison of the Testing and Counseling Center. Both men gave short speeches. Larry Westlake, Alumni Representative was also present.

The Delta Sig's are currently working on a community project and the funds that they expect to receive will be given to the Olympic Committee. This project is in cooperation with the City of Arcata and is awaiting the approval of the City Council.

Last weekend the Delta Sig's held a formal serenade for Pam Watson signifying her pinning to Frank Schmidt.

As for the near future, the Delta Sig's have nothing planned other than its normal rush activities.

After two weeks of formal rushing, the Delta Zeta's had its ribbon pledging on Feb. 27.

Those wearing the colors of the DZ's are Andy Roccaforte, Linda Bugenig, Edith Huntley, Jean Kjer, Helen Franklin, Bev Edeline, Heddy Morris, Pat Sutro, and Carol Sinquefield. The DZ's colors are pink and gold.

Last Saturday night the DZ's were entertained at a Box Social. In the future the Delta Zeta's are planning a "Stompers Marathon" dance according to Sherryl Waits, president.

The new officers for the sorority are Sherryl Waits, president; Carolyn Iskra, secretary; Linda Edwards, pledge trainer; and Paula Brink, rush chairman.

The local chapter of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity officially started its spring semester pledge class last Sunday night.

The installation included the names of 16 men who are designated as pledges. They are Joe Sarboe, Tod Edson, Duane Kimbrow, Dave Olds, Lowell Mengel, John Rehely, Jim Mills, Jerry Donnelly, Doug Lane, Terry Buck, Bill Blackerly, Bob Clark, John Joiner, Paul Turner, Bill Wilkinson, and Dennis Filkins.

The Teke's are now devoting the greatest part of its time to selling tickets for its "Eight Men for a Day" raffle. This raffle is an annual affair and the money goes into the housing fund according to secretary Terry Marquette.

The fraternity is spending the rest of its time with normal rush activities.

Representatives and teams from Chico State, Central Oregon, Tola Tech (Medford), Shasta College, and College of the Siskiyou joined HSC and Southern Oregon in the weekend activities.

There were several non-skier activities, including inner-tube racing, tug of war, a snow shoe race, and an exhibition of dog sled racing. Dances were held both Friday and Saturday nights and awards were presented at the latter dance.

Snow burned faces and bruises here and there were the only injuries suffered by the delegation.

Mt. Ashland is a new ski area. It has an intermediate poma lift, and an advanced t-bar. According to Nancy Koontz, "It has good possibilities for the future."

The ski club members were invited to a turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baker, in Ashland. The couple is a friend of Jim Sehon.

Japanese Dancers Present 3 Plays

Nomura Players of Japan, will perform at Humboldt State's, Sequoia Theater, on March 12, at 8:30 p.m.

The troupe was brought to this country last spring. The cast consists of Tokuto Miyake, who has received the highest honor conferred by the Japanese Government on an artist, and his nephews Mannojo and Mansaku Nomura.

The Nomura Players will put on three short plays in Japanese, which are realistic in tone and broad in humor. The performances are done in 14th century style, using costumes of that time.

In the past month the Nomura Players performed at top Universities in the east. In February, they were at Princeton, Yale, Harvard and Cornell Universities.

Mr. Miyake, has not encountered and difficulty in communication.

"Movement is Universal," he said. For the first few minutes of the performance, he said, there usually are a few nervous giggles. But, when the audience discovers the broadness of the comedy, it responds quickly.

Tickets for the Nomura Players can be picked up in Humboldt book store, $1.50 for adults, $.75 for students and faculty members with cards, and $.75 for high school students.

BUSINESS VISITATION DAY

Plans are being made by the HSC Business Club for the High School Tournament Day to be held on campus April 15.

The day was previously called Business Visitation Day, but has been changed this year.

High School students from as far south as Fort Bragg and as far north as Crescent City are expected to attend.

The day will be highlighted by a tour of the campus and contests in typing, shorthand, and accounting.

Forensic Squad Of 24 Students Debates Linfield

The Lumberjack Forensic squad moves into Linfield, Oregon this weekend for the three day Linfield College Invitational Forensics Tournament.

The team and their advisor Mr. Ronald Young, left for Linfield last Wednesday in order to prepare themselves for the meet which began yesterday.

This year the Lumberjack squad is sending 24 students to the meet. Dr. Edward Steele of the Speech department will accompany Young.

The tournament is billed as one of the best on the west coast and is the biggest trip of the year, involving more students than any other tournament that the Lumberjacks have attended.

In the Senior Mens Debating division, Don Sauls and Pete Coyne are the top Humboldt prospects. This team has done exceptionally well this year as they have beaten every top-ranking senior debating team in Northern California.

In the Senior Womens Debating division, the 'Jacks will be going with Margaret Morris and Barbara Hines, who are currently the top team in their division.

The Junior Womens Debating division will see two top teams from Humboldt in the tournament. These teams are Judy Jylkka and Susie Moore; Lana Linser and Peggy Hansen. Both teams have done well this season according to Young.

The Lumberjack Forensic squad will enter a number of students in events which are called Individual Events. Among the top in the Oratory and Interpretative divisions is Bev Eyeler. According to Young she is expected to do well. Melvagh DeWan is also another top prospect for the 'Jacks in the Oral Interpretation division. Miss DeWan recently placed third in this division at the Pacific Invitational Tournament at Stockton.

All of the Lumberjacks will have their work cut out for them as everyone of them is entered in at least four events.

Other areas for competition in the tournament include Debate, Oral Interpretation, Impromptu and Extemporaneous Speaking. As a team the 'Jacks have done well as they have a 55% win record.

The topic for Impromptu Speaking is "The Modern American Revolution." For Extemporaneous Speaking it is "U.S. Relations with Latin America."

New Peace Corps Program Initiated

A new Peace Corps program, now in a pilot stage, is open to juniors who want to prepare, during their final year of college, for the Peace Corps service.

The three-phase program includes a summer training session between an applicant's junior and senior year.

Those interested should fill out a regular Peace Corps questionnaire, and write on the front of it, "Senior Year Program."

It should be submitted when the Placement Test is given March 4 in the Counseling Center.

Questionnaires are available in the Placement Office, Rm 212 Administration Bldg. All applicants should have a transcript of college records, Division of Selection.

Sorority Sponsors Male Efforts To Sprout Growths for 'Jack Days

By VERN KORB

With annual Lumberjack Days nearing, the campus beard growing contest is once again in full swing.

Delta Zeta Sorority is sponsoring this year's contest to help carry the backwoods atmosphere of Lumberjack Days. Delta Zeta committee chairman Pat Plessas claims, "Signing up was easy. All that was to it was for the boys . . . er, men to show up clean shaven in the cafeteria around noon."

Entry date for the 'boys . . . er men' officially came to a close on March 5, as the beards are now racing for maturity before judging time; the talent show this month.

Comments have been floating around campus for the past two weeks regarding the bearded lumberjacks. Peggy Clemons, from the South, looks at them as "sort of resembling walking rosebushes." Not all girls have this outlook on the loggers though, as Sherry Daniels, a 'Southern sweetheart' from Texas smiles, "Shucks, I think it does somethin' for y'all."

Ron Good and Jim Mierkey affirm, "Too many girls take the beard as a sign of lazy upkeep on the part of us guys, but if they'd only try it." Vern Korb, a student who harvested a crop for five months last year, reaffirms, "Beard growing takes a lot of ingenuity on a guys part, especially under today's social pressures."

Charlie Bloom, HSC librarian and naturalist points out to the opposing sex, "Gee whiz—They're excellent for keeping the winter wind out of your face, if not equally as good at providing favorable nesting areas for some of our smaller, homeless wildlife."

Beard growing dates back to long before 'lucky loggers' ever began roaming the campus of Humboldt State.

Brete Harte, in his book "The Luck of Roaring Camp," refers to the bushy custom as a "symbol of the rough and rugged timberman." He says that in the 1880's "A man's beard was often thought by the womenfolk to be the best of a man; leastwise in comparison to the rest of his ways of living."

So actually it's as John "Fuzzy" Sisson concludes, "Smile girls . . . things could be worse."

Design Awards Given to Coeds

During the months of February and March, Reed and Barton, American silversmiths have been conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarships totalling $2050 are being offered to women students at a few selected colleges and universities.

Humboldt State has been selected to enter this competition in which the First Grand Award is a $500 scholarship; Second Grand Award, $300 scholarship; Third Grand Award, $250 scholarship; Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Awards, $200 scholarships; and Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Awards $100 scholarships.

In addition, there will be 100 other awards consisting of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with retail value of approximately $50.

In the 1964 competition an entry form illustrates twelve designs of sterling with eight designs of both china and crystal.

The entrants simply list the three best combinations of sterling, china, and crystal from the patterns illustrated.

Scholarships and awards will be made to those entries matching or coming closest to the unanimous selections of table-setting editors from three of the nation's leading magazines.

Miss Jinnie Holm is student representative who is conducting the competition for Reed and Barton at HSC.

Those interested in entering should contact Miss Holm at Sunset Hall room 324 for entry blanks and complete details concerning competition rules.

Miss Holm also has 12 samples of the most popular Reed and Barton designs so entrants can actually see how these sterling patterns look.

Using the opinions on silver design expressed by college women competing for the scholarships, Reed and Barton hopes to compile a valuable library of expressions of young American taste.

Sportsday Draws Multiple Entries

For the first time in HSC history, more than one college will participate in a Sportsday sponsored by the Women's Physical Education Dept.

Formerly, Chico State had been the only college to participate in a Sportsday along with Humboldt State.

Participating in the basketball Sportsday from 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on March 14 will be Chico State, Humboldt State, Santa Rosa Junior College and Sacramento City College.

Southern Oregon College was also invited but is unable to attend because dead week falls on the scheduled date since they are on a quarterly system.

Each college will be represented by at least one team. Chico and Humboldt will have two, so in a sense, six, rather than four teams will be in competition.

Humboldt's two teams will be comprised of 14-18 students who have been practicing on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4-5 p.m.

Moving pictures will be taken by the Audio-Visual Dept. of the games between Chico and Humboldt State for a later analysis of shown skills.

About the reason why more schools haven't participated before, Dr. Leela Zion of the P.E. Dept. said, "The schools didn't want to travel the distance before."

Constitution

allow the constitution to be amended by a simple majority of the students voting, not two-thirds as previously.

The committee completing the revision consists of: Jack Turner, Don Mosely, Mac Mace, Louis Williamson, Ed Jesson and Don McCrea.

Members of the constitution committee have made arrangements to speak with all campus clubs to explain the proposed constitution.

A general assembly will be held in the CAC the week before the election to discuss the constitution in length.

Copies of the proposed constitution will be passed out to students also.

Jack Turner went on to say, "The proposed revisions (1) stop deficiencies, (2) give greater representation of student opinion, (3) relieve ambiguities, and (4) give latitude for growth."

'Jacks Take Fourth In FWC Mat Finals

Humboldt's wrestling team ended a three cellar reign by placing fourth in the Far Western Conference Championships in San Francisco last weekend.

The 'Jacks failed to cop any individual titles but coach Bud Van Duren said that he thought the team made a good showing and did well for themselves considering that HSC had one of the youngest squads competing in the seven team affair.

Individually the top three squads, Cal Aggies, Chico State, and San Francisco State, each captured three weight titles.

Chico's three defending champions, 123 pound Chris Ulmer, 130 pound Mike Simpson, and heavy-weight Wayne Cook, held on to their crowns, but the Aggies picked up more points in the supporting roles to wrest the team title from the Wildcats who had dominated the grappling sport since Humboldt's championship squad took the title in the sports inception four years ago.

The Aggies compiled 74 points while the Gators followed with 70, Chico, 69; HSC, 21; Cal State, 18; Nevada, 10; and Sonoma State, 0.

The 'Jacks entered the contest two men shy as Darwin Schager failed to make the 130 pound class and no heavyweight candidates were available.

Three Humboldt's won in the consolation matches for third place finishes to pace the Hilltoppers. Mikio Hamada took third in the 123 pound class, top-seeded Tom Oglesbee placed third in the 177 pound division, and Ken Steven-

Junior Jack Nine Open '64 Season With Eureka

The Humboldt State Junior Jacks will open their 1964 baseball season next Wednesday against the Eureka High School varsity on the Eureka diamond.

Close to forty games are scheduled for the Junior Jacks this year due to the expected cancellation of games because of rain. The majority of the games are slated with local high school teams according to coach Jack Altman.

Last year the Junior Jacks played 18 games and had to cancel 28 because of poor weather conditions.

The Junior Jacks are a freshman dominated squad with 10 of the 15 member roster listed as freshman. The team will also use some varsity reserves in some of their games.

Junior Jack coach Jack Altman explained that it is possible for some of the players presently on the Junior Jacks roster to move up to the varsity team at any time during the season.

The Junior Jack roster is presently made up of freshman players: Dennis Alfaro, shortstop; Gary Bannister, third baseman; Carryl Clement, outfielder; Mike Granger, outfielder; Keith Matheny, first baseman; Robert Maudlin, outfielder; Joe Richardson, pitcher; Stuart Schneider, infielder; Brian Weatherford, first baseman; and Larry Eaton, infielder. er; Jim Cosentino, pitcher who infielder; Bruce Coulter, outfielder.

Other players on the Junior Jack squad are: Larry Reynolds, compiled a 3-0 record with the Junior Jacks last year; John Sorge, pitcher who was also with the Junior Jacks last season; and Pete Brower, infielder.

Phil Sarboe, head football coach played three years of professional football with the Chicago Cardinals and Class A baseball with Kansas City in Des Moines after graduation from Washington State in 1934.

'Jack Five End Season in Cellar With Aggie Loss

The Humboldt State College basketball squad lost its eighth straight Far Western Conference game last Saturday to finish up their 1963-64 season in the FWC cellar with a 3 and 9 record.

The Lumberjacks finished their season eight games behind conference champion Nevada as the Wolf Pack compiled a 11-1 record. The Cal Aggies handed the Lumberjacks their eighth straight loss, 81-59, in the league final at Davis.

The Aggies jumped to an early 7-0 lead and were ahead 16-3 with 12:00 left in the first half. The 'Jacks perked up and cut the gap to 27-17 before the Aggies began to pull away for good.

The Lumberjacks trailed at half time, 47-27. Humboldt guard Ron Good scored 16 of the 'Jacks first half points while the well-balanced Aggie attack netted their 47 points while hitting on 20 of 40 field goal attempts.

Down 22 points, the Lumberjacks were never able to recover although getting as close as 13 points at one point midway through the second half.

Good lead all scorers with 27 points. Other scorers in double figures for the 'Jacks were Taylor with 12 points and Chuck York with 10.

Faculty Defeats Spurs in Sports

Out of four volleyball games played recently between the Spurs, a women's service organization, and a faculty team, the faculty walked away winners of all four.

Members of the faculty team, described by a referee as "surprisingly terrific," included Lester Clendenning, captain of the team and assistant chemistry professor; John Russel, assistant chemistry professor; Giles Sinclair, English professor; Roger Weiss, assistant chemistry professor; Illie Smultea, assistant professor of political science; Dr. Jack Shaffer, associate professor of psychology; Dr. Fred Cranston, associate professor of physics; and Brian Kinnear, technical assistant to the game department.

Scores of the games were never close, "15-1, 15-3, and 15-0" being samples of the ranges.

Since the Spur game, the faculty team has challenged the Women P.E. majors to a volleyball game in the near future.

Following the games the faculty expressed a desire to make the game an annual event and the Spurs agreed to the proposal.

Fork High's measure with a 46-35 victory on Saturday.

The Jacks ran up a 11-2 lead after the first ten minutes but had to hold on for a 17-16 half-time margin against the Keg men.

Swim Squad Travels To San Francisco State For Three Way Meet

The Humboldt State swim squad travels to San Francisco this weekend for a season opening meet with the Gators and Sonoma State.

The meet will be scored on a double dual system thus increasing the Green and Gold chances to pick up their second win in their three year history.

The 'Jacks took their first win last season against a weak Sonoma State squad in a home match.

Coach Phil Sarboe said he would take 13 swimmers to the meet which will mean each man will have to enter at least two events besides the relays.

Kent Johnson, school breast stroke record holder and only returning letterman, leads the squad into the meet with yoeman chores. Johnson will enter his specialty, the butterfly, and will probably hold down several legs in the relays.

Dick Early and Jerry White will handle the diving chores and also enter some early sprint races.

Joe Gibson will join Johnson in the butterfly and the breast stroke.

Bill Outman and Leonard Lang are slated to carry the school colors in the distance events.

Paul Turner and William Bolling will specialize in the sprints while Don Kuyper, John Gritz, Morry Stevens and Larry Coe are expected to fill in the backstroke and relay events.
