

SLC Officers Disagree On Powers of Finance Board

by Bonnie Mitchell

The ASB's Board of Finance is in an apparent conflict. A difference of opinion exists between members of the Board and Student Council on just what the powers of the Board are and what its philosophy should be.

What is the Board of Finance and what does it do? According to Ken Fulham, ASB Treasurer and Chairman of the Board, the Board of Finance is an auxiliary group which consolidates information about the budget and advises and makes recommendations to the Student Council. It's members consist of two SLC representatives, the ASB President, and one student member at large, with the ASB treasurer as Chairman. A graduate manager and a business advisor sit in on the budget hearings, but like the treasurer are non-voting members. The treasurer votes only when there is a tie. The members of the Board are appointed by the SLC and approved by them.

The Board meets prior to the weekly meetings of the SLC, at which time it reviews price requests by campus organizations and decides on extra allocations. It votes on all monetary items before they go to council and make recommendations.

When a club or activity submits a request to the Board of Finance, the Board will then set a budget hearing. The group's sponsor or president must be in attendance at a hearing when his request comes up for action, and the request must be submitted one week before council meets. Usually the budget hearing is an informal bargaining session at which time the Board may either approve the request, make a cut or add to the amount requested, or simply not approve any money at all.

On what basis does the Board approve requests and grant allocations? "There is really no set policy," stated Ken Fulham, "but usually we go by what we have allocated to the activity in the past, decide whether their request is justified and reasonable, and go by their anticipated return."

The Board of Finance's recommendations go to the Student Council, where the SLC may override the decisions and advice of the Board. SLC has the final say of how the money will be allocated and only needs a simple majority to over-rule the Board of Finance. This is where most of the disagreement arises.

"What is the sense of having a Board of Finance when the Student Council really decides where the money goes anyway?" stated Fulham in a recent interview. "Why is the Board of Finance subjected to 14 people who don't know?" Ken feels because the Board members are approved and appointed by council, that the Finance Board more than enough represents the students feelings along with SLC's.

In the February 28 edition of The Lumberjack, Fulham said, "It's like shooting a duck twice to kill it. What I would like to see initiated, is a constitutional change making it solely the power of the Board of Finance to dispense budgetary funds for SLC."

He went on to say that if SLC failed to pay attention to their advisory board, then he felt that the board should dissolve and put all allocations in the SLC's hands and the treasurer can pass the "all important" price requests as his meager task.

Rich Winnie, ASB Vice-President, took a different viewpoint. "I don't think the Board should control the allocation money, and SLC can't give up that power of over-riding, otherwise council loses its reason for existing."

Winnie noted that in the past the Board of Finance has become nothing more than a "rubber stamping" procedure, and he felt that it has lost its original purpose. He feels that in the future the Board should be given more respect for their advice, because the Board saves a great deal of time and trouble for council and should be treated respectfully.

"The Board of Finance should be one of clarifying and giving information," he added.

Chancellor Dumke Here Wednesday

Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, Chancellor of the California State Colleges, is scheduled to arrive in Arcata Wednesday to meet with the administration, faculty, and students of HSC.

Traveling with Dumke are nine of his associates who will meet with their counterparts in HSC's administration. An administration spokesman stated that this visit will give the local administrators a chance to get acquainted with the chancellor and his staff.

A tour of the HSC campus and an informal meeting with ASB officials are included in the tentative schedule.

Dumke, who received his Ph.D. in history from UCLA, has written several books on the history of California, including "A History of the Pacific Area in Modern Times," and the "Boom of the Eighties in Southern California."

Dumke, who is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa brotherhood, has previously served as president of San Francisco State and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs of the California State Colleges.

Dumke's interest in history is shown through his membership in the American Historical Society and his directorship of the California Historical Society.

Medical Bills Proposed

Three Assembly Bills (Nos. 334, 656 and 657) concerned with adding sections to the Civil Code relating to medical treatment of minors are presently "in committee" of the California Assembly.

Assembly Bill 334 authorizes minors living separate and apart from parent or legal guardian to consent to hospital care, X-ray, examination, anesthetic, medical or surgical diagnosis or treatment, except the prescribing or dispensing of contraceptive drugs or devices, to be rendered by a licensed physician and surgeon or dentist. The doctor or dentist is required, with or without the agreement of the minor patient, to advise parent or legal guardian of said minor patient of treatment given or needed if he has reason to know, on the basis of the information supplied him by the minor, the whereabouts of the parent or legal guardian.

If adopted, Assembly Bill 334 would further restrict the independent medical practice. Although this bill would make it possible for a doctor to perform an operation before contacting a minor patient's parent or guardian, it would be "an obvious violation" of the confidentiality between patient and doctor. This is the primary reason why Dr. Charles W. Yost, Medical Director at the HSC Health Center, is against it.

Secondly, according to Dr. Yost, the Health Center must already run a heavy sick call (100 students daily); adoption of this bill would necessitate 100 telephone calls daily to advise a minor student's parent or guardian of his having visited the Health Center.

Assembly Bills 656 and 657, which are endorsed by the California Medical Association and the Planned Parenthood Association, seem, on the other hand, indispensable, and Dr. Yost is in accord with them. No. 656 permits a minor, without parental consent, to agree to the furnishing of a hospital, medical or surgical care related to any infectious, contagious or communicable disease with which he may have come in contact and which is required by law to be reported to the local health officer. No. 657 allows a minor, living separate and apart from his parent or guardian, to agree to the furnishing of hospital, medical, surgical and dental care to himself with or without the consent of his parent or guardian.

Students are invited by Dr. Yost to voice their opinions by writing to the Judiciary Committee (Bagley-Chairman, Negry-Vice-Chairman, Foran, Hayes, H. Johnson, McGee, Wilson, Z'Berg) and the Public Health Committee (Z'Berg-Chairman, Moorhead-Vice Chairman, Barnes, Dunlap, Shoemaker, Sieroty, Stacey, Wakefield, Warren) in Sacramento.

Hilltopper Wins Three Awards In Statewide Journalistic Competition

Hilltopper magazine, written and edited by HSC journalism students, captured three top awards in the annual California Inter-Collegiate Press Association (CIPA) competition Saturday, night in San Diego.

Competing against some 25 colleges and universities including some of the largest schools in the state, Hilltopper received the first place award in feature writing, the second place award in photo-essay, and third place award in best overall magazine.

It was the second year in a row that the magazine, advised by Professor Larry Miles of the Journalism Department, scored major victories in the important CIPA competition.

The 1968 awards were for material appearing in the Spring and Fall 1967 issues of the magazine edited by Miss Noel (Abby) Abinanti, a junior journalism major and now editor of the Lumberjack, and Jim Dodge, now a student at the University of Iowa where he is doing graduate work in the creative writing workshop.

The first place award was for "Sex on the Campus," an article written by Jim Dodge, who authored it before graduating from HSC in June.

The photo-essay prize went to HSC student Tom Cooper for his artistic work depicting Carlotta House. Tom Cooper's work, said Professor Miles, is a continuation of the fine work which has characterized Hilltopper in the past and reflects the excellent training which students are receiving in Professor Tom Knight's art photography course.

The third place award for overall quality put the Hilltopper behind only magazines from San Jose State College and Pepperdine. The Pepperdine and San Jose magazines are larger in size and feature color photos.

The award winning HSC magazine was produced in the Journalism 27-127 Hilltopper laboratory class taught by Professor Miles. Contributions included work done by students in his magazine writing class.

Professor Larry Miles commented, "The awards this year represent a continuation of high quality work on the part of Hilltopper staffers."

"To work with and advise staffers so skilled and highly motivated is personally rewarding and is especially so because the statewide level of competition is extremely high. San Jose State College, for example, with some 700 journalism majors, produced a magazine which was first among (continued on page 4)

Editorial Policy

The editorial policy of the Lumberjack is the prerogative of the editor.

The editorial of the LJ shall be guided by the adherence to the policy of the department of journalism. The statement of policy is a commitment to professionalism for student journalists, a commitment that is a proven historical necessity for the maintenance of a free society. A free and responsible newspaper is an integral part of a system that requires knowledgeable citizenry to govern themselves. The LJ must realize this commitment to freedom and responsibility in giving its campus readers a fair and accurate picture of THEIR society.

To meet these needs the LJ will seek to explore issues that will give its readers an increased knowledge of the college world. Through in-depth reporting the LJ will seek to inform its readers so they can have the basis of understanding necessary to participate in a free society.

The LJ editorial policy is aggressively dedicated to the "public interest and to our audience." Aggressive reporting in the LJ will be designed to "provide the information and guidance toward sound judgments which are essential to the healthy functioning of a democracy."

The LJ will resist all attempts at censorship in any guise. The policy of the LJ shall be to maintain a strong vigilance against any interference that would seek to influence its news columns or to stifle the free flow of information. The LJ will resist prior censorship in any form including appointing of editors by any source other than the LJ advisor. It is the intention of this newspaper to protect its responsibility to provide its audience with a professional defensible newspaper. To do this the newspaper must be free to promote interaction by providing for the free flow of thoughts and ideas. In the words of Professor Melvin Mencher, of Columbia University, "Good campus newspapers have provided students with an atmosphere that has led them to discover that by caring enough and acting on that concern, they can change the world."

The Lumberjack will show concern in the accurate reporting of events and issues. The Lumberjack will serve its function of surveillance and criticism in its editorial columns, examining pertinent and timely issues. It is not the intention of the newspaper to back away from those facts that can not be accepted by part of its audience.

Endorsing political candidates for elections is under consideration as a function of the editorial policy of the LJ. This privilege is forbidden by Title V of the California State Law.

The LJ is deeply concerned with the principle of this restriction because it dangerously impairs the ability of a newspaper to responsibly serve its audience.

The LJ is going to function as a real world publication observing all the RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES inherent in this kind of a newspaper.

A Night To Be Remembered

by Al Stein

"This is your lucky night, isn't it?"

The voice was soft, sexy without trying to be, and distinctly Scandinavian. But it was not the first time that I had heard it. Nor was it the second.

I felt her soft lips high up on my cheek. But this was not what I was after. She knew it, thus didn't hesitate in giving what I had come for. She said, "Congratulations....again." The voice was soft, sexy, and now sincere. It belonged to Elke Sommer.

The time was 9:30 p.m., Saturday, March 30. The place was the H.M.S. Bounty Room of San Diego's Hilton Inn. A mass produced meal of almost indigestible Swiss steak had been consumed by the 400 plus conventioners at the 19th annual convention of the California Inter-Collegiate Press Association. Now they were waiting for the awards that would cap off the fruits and frustrations of the past journalistic year. And they were waiting for Elke, Hollywood's number one.

She was dressed in a full length blue evening dress; her blonde hair fell below her shoulders. Men who confidently went up to receive awards returned with silly grins on their faces, while the onlookers watched in envy.

When the magazine awards began, we were ready, expectant. Professor Miles' face was set, grim, intent. Editor Noel Abananti was pensive, silent.

First prize for the best magazine article," intoned the M.C., "goes to Jim Dodge, 'Sex on the Campus.'" Hilltopper magazine, Humboldt State." All smiles, I walked confidently to the stage. I accepted the trophy while looking into her smiling blue eyes. I mumbled my thanks, and mentally thanked Jim Dodge for his contribution. Amid applause I walked back to my table, a silly grin on my face.

The sequence was repeated when Humboldt captured second place in photography for Tom Cooper's photo essay of the Carlotta House.

But the third trip was the most momentous. It was the third prize for the best college magazine in the State of California. It meant in competition with 23 other colleges and universities, in competition with size, money and color, that Humboldt State came out near the top. It was the crowning moment for Professor Miles, and for Hilltopper editors Noel Abananti and Jim Dodge.

Next year the convention will be held in Fresno. I wonder who will be handing out the awards then?

Objection Seen On Lowering Voting Age

The one main objection to lowering the voting age to 18 has nothing to do with maturity and adulthood responsibility according to Grady Robertson of San Jose State.

He claimed, in an article written for San Jose State's Spartan Daily, that the mere thought of lowering the voting age scares traditional politicians who "can see near-future retirement if the voting age is ever dropped."

Robertson says that, generally one has been considered mature and responsible when he became an adult, "which usually happens somehow magically at age 21, at which time he's eligible to marry, subject to taxes, and assumes financial obligations.

However today, as he points out, maturity and adult responsibilities are achieved while the votes is still not awarded.

"Young people between the ages of 18 and 21 can and do marry and begin families, pay taxes and assume financial responsibilities." He said, also that young people between 18 and 21 are "subject to the very same penal code as 'the adults' over the magic age of 21."

Robertson quoted Senator Mike Mansfield as saying that "lowering the voting age will tend to bring about a better and more equitable balance in the electorate of the nation.

"As the life expectancy rises, the number of older voters increases. A corresponding expansion in the number of younger voters not only will broaden the political base of the government, it may well provide concurrently a more balanced approach in the nation's general political outlook."

Robertson added in a report of the Gallup Poll taken in April 1967, 64 per cent of those over 21 in the U.S. favored lowering the voting age to 18.

It has been said that the genius of the American political system, according to Robertson, is its ability to adapt to changing needs. "The needs are obvious. So let it now adapt."

Vietnam

Dear Editor

In recent years most of us have had to make some sort of decision as to their own personal feelings about the "war" in Vietnam. This has been a very difficult thing for me to do, and I don't think that I have been able to come to any concrete decisions thus far. The only real question that I have come up with is, "is it really worth it." So far this year I have lost six of my close friends over in that God Forsaken Jungle. This, as far as I am concerned, pushes the question of "What is it all for?"

I am sure that at times we all wonder what is going on in the

Bills Opposed

The California State Assembly is currently in the process of examining a bill (#334) which would allow a minor living separate from his parents to legally consent to medical care from a licensed doctor or dentist. It would also require the doctor, with or without the agreement of the minor patient, to advise the parents of treatment given or needed. This would mean that the doctor must call the parents whenever he advises a minor, whether or not treatment is given, and whether or not the minor agrees. The Lumberjack feels that this would be open flouting of the principle of doctor-patient confidence, would stifle students seeking information and advice, and would hamper the efficiency of the Student Health Center.

Taking the first problem, confidence, the patient goes to a doctor with the understanding that any information given to the doctor is confidential and will not be released. A student who believes that he has a socially unacceptable disease may not want anyone notified of this. This bill would require the doctor to call his parents even if the diagnosis was negative. A more efficient method of destroying the confidence of a minor in his doctor can hardly be conceived. That a doctor must be compelled to contradict his ethical convictions and release information given in confidence is equally abhorrent.

The bill might also conveniently stop the flow of information about such controversial subjects as contraceptive drugs by requiring the doctor to inform parents when a student requested such a drug or expressed a need for them. The bill is not clear on this point, but even the uncertainty would keep many students from requesting advice. Whether such advice is considered "diagnosis" would make all the difference. The social stigma attached to venereal disease may cause the student to not seek medical help until the disease has advanced to its more dangerous stages, if he knows that his request will be relayed to his parents.

The third objection to this bill is that it would place the burden of approximately 100 phone calls a day on the staff of the Health Center. The Lumberjack feels that this extra red tape would unnecessarily hamper the efficiency of the Center and would cost the taxpayers too much for an unneeded service. A minor who can accept the responsibilities of living away from his parents as an independent adult should also be able to accept the responsibility of his own health. We believe that a far better bill is A3567 which would allow the minor living separately to consent to treatment without the stipulation of contacting the parents. There is definitely a need for such a bill, especially on college campuses, but we consider the contacting of parents to be an unacceptable qualification.

'El Libro' Opens Thursday

by Richard Varenchik

Sequoia Masque will present a World Premier on collegiate stages of a play by Sherwin W. Howard. Mr. Howard's play, "El Libro Del Andreo Martin," was the first prize winner in the 1967 Humboldt State Theater Arts playwriting competition.

The play, in its structure and production, is indicative of new trends in the contemporary theater. As such it promises a dramatic excitement above and beyond the traditional dramatic forms. The outright theatricalism achieved in writing and structure is realized in a Brechtian-like staging and production. The Brechtian technique, with its sparseness of props and sets adds depth and starkness to the stage. It allows the viewer to make full use of his imagination while watching the play.

Set in a contemporary, but undefined police state, El Libro del Andreo Martin moves through the mind and memory of the central character, Andreo Martin. Andreo is a poet, who at twenty-three showed great promise, but failed to achieve his potential. As the play opens he is to die in twelve hours, convicted of crimes against the state and indicted as a traitor because of his writings.

During these last twelve hours of life, Andreo relives key moments from his past, revealing progressively the essential tragedy of his life. Driven by a desire to leave some definitive statement which will bring meaning to his life, Andreo fails, but in the last remaining moments finds expression of the creative principle within himself.

The leading role is capably handled by Charles Metcalf. The captain is played by David Brune, and Fritz Fokerts appears as Ramirez. Others in the cast are Robert M. Grant, Barbara Hirsckowitz, Katie Murdock, Timothy Howe, Brian Konnersman, Kurt Klippel and Ron Godwin. Musical improvisations are by Dean Munroe, Charles Hope, and Richard Caldwell.

The play is produced by Phillip Mann with settings by Richard Rothrock and costumes by William Smith.

Ticket sales and reservations begin Monday April 1 with the box office open 10 to 12 and 1 to 4 Monday through Friday the week of the performance. Tickets are free with ASB cards, $1.50 for the general public and 75¢ for children of high school age or younger. Curtain time is 8:30 on April 4, 5, 6, and 7. Tickets may be reserved by calling 822-1771 extension 395 during box office hours or one hour prior to performance.

Educational Channel 13 Granted FCC License

KEET-TV, Channel 13, Northwestern California's Educational Television station, this week received permission from the Federal Communications Commission to re-locate its transmitter at Redwood Peak, 12 miles east of Eureka, according to Angelo Franceschi, president of Redwood Empire Educational Television.

The new transmitter will be located at the KIEM-TV transmitting site at Kneeland, to better serve more homes and school districts in Humboldt, Del Norte and Mendocino counties said Franceschi.

KEET-TV is authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to operate on an effective radiated power of 32.4 Kilowatts visual and 6.46 Kilowatts aural on Channel 13.

KEET-TV's planned programming for fall 1968, in time for the new school year would include some 20 hours per week of instructional TV for daytime classroom use, plus five hours each night of broad-base cultural programs including music, art, drama, discussion and in-depth news programs of a research

Voter Affidavit Form Due Now

Students who will be eligible to vote next November and who have their permanent address outside Humboldt County must file an Affidavit of Registration form not later than April 11 if they wish to vote.

To get this form the student must write to the County Clerk of Registrar of Voters in his county of origin. The form must then be completed in duplicate, notarized, and mailed back to the county of origin.

Fred C. Moore, county clerk for Humboldt County, advises students to send an airmail stamped envelope that is addressed to the students campus address along with the request for the Affidavit of Registration form.

Resolution Before Senate

At their meeting March 28, Dr. Fred Cranston, Physics Professor at HSC, suggested to the Academic Senate that they pass the following recommendation:

The Academic Senate of HSC recommends that awards at commencement exercise be limited to the conferring of degrees earned at HSC and there be no conferring of commissions in the Armed Forces or U.S. Public Health Service nor shall there be presentation of letters of appointment in the Peace Corps VISTA or similar post-commencement positions.

The proposal was passed on to a committee for further study.

Dr. Cranston felt that the conferring of a military commission has no place in a college commencement exercise, since it has nothing to do with either academic achievement or participation in the activities of a college community.

nature according to Donald H. Telford, Vice-President and Director of KEET-TV.

KEET programming will come to KEET-TV via carrier microwave from Redding.

Angelo Franceschi, President of Redwood Empire Educational Television Inc. reports that there are now more than 200 charter members subscribed to KEET.

Subscriptions to KEET-TV are available for $10 each, and checks should be mailed to KEET-TV, P.O. Box 13, Eureka California. Members receive membership cards and will receive a monthly program schedule when the station goes on the air, added Franceschi.

The Lumberjack will accept short classified ads from students, faculty, staff, and their immediate families with no charge. Ads must be presented in the Journalism office, LA 13, one week before they are to appear. Ads must be typed, double spaced, and contain a name and phone number. Dr. Gimbel Nominated For Outstanding Prof. Award

Dr. John Gimbel, Professor of History, has been named Humboldt State College's nominee for the California State Colleges Trustees Outstanding Professor Award, according to President Cornelius H. Siemens.

The 46 year old Gimbel, a member of the HSC faculty since 1959, was nominated on the basis of the outstanding nature of his contributions to his field in terms of teaching, research, and publications which have earned him international recognition.

The nomination, citing him as a "master teacher," reads, in part, "among the student population at Humboldt State College, it is a commonplace that 'one has not experienced teaching at its best until one has taken a course from Dr. Gimbel.'"

Gimbel's scholarly accomplishments are shown in a list of his books and articles. In 1962, his book, "A German Community under American Occupation," won the Pacific Coast regional book prize of the American Historical Association, drawing some 50 responses from periodicals in Germany, France, Italy, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Canada and the United States. That book was also translated and published in Germany.

Gimbel was given access in 1962 to the files on the American occupation held by the German state of Hesse, a privilege accorded no other researcher. During the summers of 1964, 1965, and 1966, he researched the previously closed files on the occupation held by the U.S. Department of Defense in the National Archives.

The professor has a national and international reputation for his research in America and abroad. He was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship and fellowships from the Carnegie Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, and the American Council of Learned Studies. The Volkswagen Foundation named him a consultant for a long-range research project on the American occupation.

Government agencies and broadcasting companies in Germany have used Gimbel's research and writings for special publications and programs. England has recognized the professor, inviting him to contribute to the publications of the Weiner Library and the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation.

His latest book, "The American Occupation in Germany: Politics and the Military, 1945-1949," has been accepted by and is under contract with Stanford University Press. On the invitation of "Encyclopedia Britannica," Gimbel wrote the biography of General Lucius Clay, military governor during the American occupation, in its most recent edition.

While a member of the European Civil Affairs Division and the Office of Military Government for Germany during the period of 1944-1946, Gimbel embarked on his career of study of German political affairs. He has since spent three years probing German government documents, most recently spending the academic year 1966-67 on sabbatical leave gathering data.

His articles and reviews have appeared in such journals as "American Political Science Review," "Political Science Quarterly," "Journal of Modern History," "American Historical Review," and "Review of Politics."

Gimbel's nomination is also based on his community and college activities. He has spoken frequently in the Humboldt County World Affairs Forum and the HSC Faculty Forum. He has addressed many student groups in Eureka and Arcata. A past president of the Association of California State College Professors, he has served on most of the major committees at the College.

Earning a bachelor's degree at Luther College in 1949, Gimbel continued his studies, receiving a master's degree at State University of Iowa in 1951 and a doctoral degree at the University of Oregon in 1956.

Gimbel resides in Arcata with his wife, Gisela, and their three children Jon, Karen and Monika.

Community Aid Required For Needed Service

Humboldt State College administrators are seeking assistance from the local community in compiling an off-campus housing referral service for students.

Housing Administrator William M. Kingston Jr., said that reservations for the campus residence halls have been filled and his office has exhausted its listing of off-campus accommodations. He said a large number of students now enrolled for the current spring quarter are without living quarters.

In particular demand are one or two bedroom furnished rentals for married students. Apartments or houses within walking distance from the campus are preferred.

Kingston added that there is a constant demand for room and board accommodations for male students within walking distance from the campus.

Persons interested in renting housing to students are requested to contact Mrs. Kathy Paul at the HSC Housing Office, telephone 822-1771, extension 203.

Community Development Center Funded $76,000

The Center for Community Development at Humboldt State College has been funded in the amount of $76,000 for the 1968-69 project year, starting July 1, 1968, according to Dr. William F. Murison, Dean of Public Services.

Murison stated that HSC is one of only a few colleges in the United States to receive such funding for the third consecutive year.

The Center will receive $38,000 in Federal funds to be matched by an equal amount from the college. The Federal funds were allocated under Title 1 of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

The ratio of Federal to local funds under that legislation was recently amended, replacing the previous proportion of 75 percent Federal funds to 25 percent local funds with a matching share requirement, Murison said.

The change in the funding ratio, he emphasized will not deter the Center from continuing its functions as vigorously as it has since its establishment in 1966.

The Center, under its director, Thomas S. Parsons, is engaged in a number of educational, consultative and coordinating activities, intended as a stimulus to introduce change at the local level. Parsons is aided by Habeeb Chatala, Associate Director and Miss Margaret Schwein, Field Assistant.

The geographical area served by the Center includes some 20,000 square miles, encompassing Humboldt, Del Norte, Mendocino, Trinity and western Siskiyou counties.

Current efforts of the Center include serving as the Technical Advisory Committee for the Humboldt Bay Development Commission, gathering information with a citizens committee on a profile study of McKinleyville, cooperation with the Humboldt Arts Council to bring cultural events to the area, and beautification projects with the City of Arcata.

It has joined forces with the State Department of Employment in planning programs of education, housing, and recreation for the Hoopa Valley Indian population. Center personnel are seeking cooperation with other agencies toward improving opportunities for rural youth on a statewide basis.

Symposiums, seminars, and other meetings have been coordinated by the Center on a variety of subjects, including transportation, Redwood National park proposals, the status of women, and self-improvement measures for the community of Miranda.

HSC Employees Complete 'Foreign Aid' Program

Employees at Humboldt State College have completed their own "foreign aid" project by sending a shipment of obsolete textbooks to needy school children in Kingston, Jamaica.

The shipment, numbering nearly 700 volumes, includes readers, social studies texts, and other elementary school level publications formerly a part of the HSC teacher education curriculum library.

Word of the severe shortages of books and equipment at the Jamaican schools was sent to the College faculty and staff by Patrick H. McGlynn, Coordinator of Secondary Education, who is currently on leave from HSC and assisting Jamaican schools in development of a junior secondary curriculum. McGlynn is a member of the U.S. Agency of International Development Mission in Kingston.

The Desk Force, an organization of college staff, after seeing slides of the conditions at the schools and learning of the availability of the out-dated books, went to work on the project. Mrs. Bettie Marcum of Eureka and Mrs. Helen Kelts of Arcata, co-chairman, coordinated efforts to send the books.

The books were boxed for shipment by HSC Corporation

LJ Days Beard Growing Contest

Registration for the annual Lumberjack Days Beard Growing Contest will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 8 and 9 in the CAC and the Wildlife Building according to Jerry Broyles, contest chairman.

To enter the contest, contestants will be required to fill out a registration form and pay a 25c registration fee.

There will be two categories for the traditional event sponsored by the Boot and Blister Hiking Club: 'Most Unusual Beard' and 'Longest Beard.' The 'Most Unusual Beard' category will be open to any student, with or without a beard at the time of registration, while contestants entered in the 'Longest Beard' category must be clean shaven at the time of registration.

Judging of the contest will take place at Casino Night, Friday, May 17 at 10 p.m. Three judges will be on hand to make the decision; two faculty members and one barber. The 'Longest beard' will be judged by the length of the growth measured from the tip of the chin.

Finance...

Board of Finance? The powers outlined in the Board of Finance's Statement of Policy issued in the March of 1966 are: to prepare a preliminary budget, review and vote on all monetary items before they go to Council, and to set fees for specific events at the beginning of the fall, to be in force for the rest of the academic year. The Board also has the power to punish violators which usually consists of suspending the group's constitution for a period of two weeks to a full year, depending upon whether the violation is a first or second one.

Any violating group's financial status may be examined by the Board of Finance provided there is a unanimous vote of the Board to do so, and also, to propose financial policy revisions and fiscal policy revisions at any time if it becomes necessary to do so.

The budget is also reviewed by the President of the College for his recommendations and approval. Ultimately, the allocation of all money rests in the hands of President Siemens, but according to Fulham, the President rarely exercises this power.

MONEY: THE STORY OF AN ENGINEER

We all know, of course, that in this age of technology every engineering senior is receiving fabulous offers of employment, but do we realize just how fabulous these offers are? Do we comprehend just how keenly industry is competing? To illustrate, let me cite the true and typical case of E. Pluribus Ewbank, a true and typical senior.

One day last week while strolling across the M.I.T. campus, E. Pluribus was hailed by a portly and prosperous man who sat in a yellow convertible studded with precious gem stones. "Hello," said the portly and prosperous man, "I am Portly Prosperous, president of American Xerographic Data Processing and Birth Control, Incorporated. Are you a senior?"

"Yes, sir," said E. Pluribus.
 "Do you like this car?" said Portly.
 "Yes, sir," said E. Pluribus.
 "It's yours," said Portly.
 "Thanks, hey," said E. Pluribus.
 "Do you like Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades?" said Portly.

"What clean living, clean shaven American does not?" said E. Pluribus.

"Here is a pack," said Portly. "And a new pack will be delivered to you every twelve minutes as long as you live."

"Thanks, hey," said E. Pluribus.
 "Would your wife like a mink coat?" said Portly.
 "I feel sure she would," said E. Pluribus, "but I am not married."

"Do you want to be?" said Portly.
 "What clean living, clean shaven American does not?" said E. Pluribus.

Portly pressed a button on the dashboard of the convertible and the trunk opened up and out came a nubile maiden with golden hair, rosy knees, a perfect disposition, and the appendix already removed. "This is Svetlana O'Toole," said Portly. "Would you like to marry her?"

"Is her appendix out?" said E. Pluribus.
 "Yes," said Portly.
 "Okay, hey," said E. Pluribus.
 "Congratulations," said Portly. "And for the happy bride, a set of 300 monogrammed prawn forks."

"Thanks, hey," said Svetlana.

"Now then," said Portly to E. Pluribus, "let us get down to business. My company will start you at $75,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 26. We will give you an eleven-story house made of lapis lazuli, each room to be stocked with edible furniture. Your children will receive a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades every twelve minutes as long as they shall live. We will keep your teeth in good repair and also the teeth of your wife and children unto the third generation. We will send your dentist a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades every twelve minutes as long as he shall live, and thereafter to his heirs and assigns... Now, son, I want you to think carefully about this offer. Meanwhile here is 50 thousand dollars in small, unmarked bills which places you under no obligation whatsoever."

"Well, it certainly seems like a fair offer," said E. Pluribus. "But there is something you should know. I am not an engineer. In fact I don't go to M.I.T. at all. I just walked over here to admire the trees. I am at Harvard, majoring in Joyce Kilmer."

"Oh," said Portly.
 "I guess I don't get to keep the money and the convertible and the Personnas and the broad, do I?" said E. Pluribus.

"Of course you do," said Portly. "And if you'd like the job, my offer still stands."

student magazines in the nation last year.

"We are hopeful that there will be no censorship codes at HSC, as are now being considered, to prevent future statewide competition."

"Both Jim Dodge and Noel Abinanti, as editors of the winning publications, can feel proud of their work."

Noel Abinanti said that the success of the publication was due to "the fine journalism courses and a good, understanding advisor."

"Both the Lumberjack and Hilltopper are now growing in journalistic qualities and strength of interpretation of news values. They are staffed by journalists and are more professional," she continued.

The magazine has not been openly merchandised on campus since the staff stopped selling it in the fall of 1966, but it is available by asking at the clerical area (across from the cashiers) in the campus bookstore. The price is 50 cents per copy.

The prize winning issue, in addition to Dodge's researched article on sex at HSC, includes a wide variety of material. Among the subjects are "I Marched for Peace," by Shiela Blankenheim, the ideal professor, student dissatisfaction with the college, and others.

In last year's annual CIPA competition, the magazine won awards for first place in feature writing, first place award in photo-essay, and third place in feature writing.

The 1968 awards were made by Miss Elke Sommer at San Diego's Hilton Inn where the CIPA gathered for workshop sessions and to hear political and journalistic figures speak. Among the speakers were the mayor of Los Angeles, Sam Yorty and the managing editor of Ramparts magazine Robert Scheer.

Representing HSC at the conclave were Miss Abinanti, Al Stien, now editor of the Hilltopper and a member of the Lumberjack staff, and Professor Larry Miles. Lumberjack failed to win a top three award in competition.

In the past year's, HSC has sent a delegation of about 15 students to the CIPA convention but reduced ASB budget allocations made it impossible for a sizable group to represent the college this year.

Positions are still open on the staff for a forthcoming issue of Hilltopper. Information is available from Professor Larry Miles in LA 20-C.

I.F.C. Reps To Confer

A delegation from HSC's Inter-Fraternity Council left today for Los Angeles to attend the Western Regional I.F.C. Convention. The convention is being held at the Ambassador Hotel, April 5-7.

Three fraternities from HSC are being represented by a delegate from each.

The conference program will focus on three major concerns: rushing, pledging, and how to sell desirable and important changes to the I.F.C. constituency.

This will be the third Inter-Fraternity Conference that delegates from HSC have attended.

Well Known Musicians in Concert

Two nationally recognized master musicians of the faculty of Indiana University will present a concert of piano-saxophone duets in the Sequoia Theater at Humboldt State College on Thursday, April 18 at 8:15 p.m.

Pianist Joseph Rezits will join saxophonist Dr. Eugene Rousseau in presenting the program of modern classical music as the guests of the College's Lecture-Concert Committee.

Rezits, a member of the University of Indiana faculty since 1962, has performed solo recitals in many major American cities, made numerous long-playing recordings, and joined in ensemble concerts with members of the Boston and Philadelphia Symphonies Orchestras.

Rousseau, who began his musical training at age nine, teaches saxophone and symphonic wind ensembles at the University of Indiana. He has published numerous articles on music, as well as a method book for the saxophone. His clinics, lecture-recitals, and solo appearances are made at all educational levels.

In 1963 he was appointed musical representative for the United States Trade Fair in Conakry, Guinea, West Africa. His performances have been praised by music critics in Paris, London, Berlin, and Vienna, as well as New York and Washington D.C.

Tickets for the concert are available at the Campus Bookstore and are priced at $1.50 general admission and 75 cents for student body card holders.

Dr. Leland Barlow, Professor of Music and Chairman of the Lecture-Concert Committee, announced that the two musicians will also conduct a special workshop in the Music Building on April 18 at 4 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend the free gathering.

Study Abroad

Opportunities to study abroad at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and at the Tel-Aviv University are now available to interested students, according to the California State Colleges Office of International Programs.

Beginning with the 1968-69 academic year, the California State International Programs will give students the opportunity to study in any one of 12 universities in Europe and Asia.

California State International Programs students attending either of the two universities in Israel may take any course offered by the university, if they are academically and linguistically qualified, said the programs office.

Those students without previous linguistic training will take courses taught in English in the following fields: Middle East Studies, Hebrew Literature, Jewish History, Jewish Philosophy, and Archaeology of Israel.

All students will also study modern Hebrew language throughout their entire stay in Israel, said the Programs Office.

The cost of the program, which runs from July 1968 to July 1969, will be $2,170 and scholarships are available.

Students who are interested in applying for any of the various international programs for the 1968-69 academic year should write to Dr. Thomas P. Lantos, Director of the Office of International Programs, The California State Colleges, 1600 Holloway Avenue, San Francisco or contact Mr. William Aubry in the HSC Counseling Center, immediately.

IK'S WIN

HSC students battled against insufficient winds at Moonstone Beach last Saturday in a desperate attempt to retain the title of the Inter-collegiate Kite Flying Marathon they won last year. Subsiding winds early Sunday morning brought the contest to a close.

Humboldt State College's I-K team, last years marathon champions, lost its national title to a Cal State team at Fullerton, where the contest was held simultaneously with competition at colleges and universities in California, Kansas and Nebraska. The Fullerton team reportedly kept its kite airborne for a new national record of 35 hours and 20 minutes.

This year the I-K team, composed of Steve Fisher, Rich Winnie, Jeff Eggert and Jim Kuiper won the local competition with a flying time of 15 hours and 15 minutes, four hours and 15 minutes shy of the 1967 record.

The prize, a steak dinner for ten persons, was awarded to the I-K team by the Slater Food Service, a nationwide institutional catering firm and sponsor of the event. Ross Woodard, manager of the Slater operation of the HSC dining facilities, supervised the local contest and tabulated the results of the marathon.

Sea Grant College Now A Possibility For HSC

Humboldt State College has a reasonably good chance of being designated as a Sea Grant College in the next few years, according to an announcement by President Cornelius H. Siemens.

President Siemens, reporting to the faculty on his recent conference with Sea Grant College Program officials in Washington, D.C., stated that such designation is dependent on significantly larger appropriations from Congress, coupled with development of a definite proposal for action by the College in accordance with the Sea Grant College and Program Act of 1966.

The administrator said that, based on talks with Dr. Robert Abel, Director of the Sea Grant College Program, National Science Foundation, the Act has strong Congressional support, and is administratively underway. But, Siemens pointed out, the Act is definitely underfinanced as compared to the numerous responses and applications.

The more specific and imaginative the proposals are, Siemens said, the better chance they have. Over 1,000 colleges and universities have applied for designations as Sea Grant Colleges or for funding of a project.

The University of California at Berkeley has indicated interest in cooperating with HSC in a Sea Grant College program proposal.

To date, he continued, three institutional programs have been approved: Oregon State University, the University of Washington, and the University of Rhode Island. Six projects have been approved, the project at California Institute of Technology being the only one in the state.

It was agreed at the Washington conference that it would be advisable for the California Coordinating Council on Higher Education to make a study of the needs and capabilities throughout the State and make some general recommendations regarding allocations.

Full Agenda For SLC

Discussion of Homecoming activities set the time for next year's annual game at 8 p.m., and four student groups were granted their intent to organize by SLC Tuesday night.

Stan Dubee submitted a report from 1968 Homecoming Chairman Harold Hartman which left the decision of the game-time to SLC. In the report, he brought out the points of whether the students wanted a semi-formal dance again, the sales of season tickets, and the student-merchant relationships.

1967 Homecoming Chairman Rich Winnie defended the afternoon game, stating that this time period gave much more flexibility in the scheduling of other activities. Don Crotty, rep-at-large, showed concern over the anticipated loss of money that will accompany another afternoon game.

After further questions and discussion, council voted 10-2 on the compromising 8 o'clock time. They felt that this would allow the scheduling of other afternoon activities, not interfere with downtown merchant sales, and still allow students time to prepare for the semi-formal dance to begin later that evening.

In other business, four student groups were granted their intents to organize. They are: Students for Kennedy, Students for McCarthy, Campus Ecumenical Movement, and the Peace and Freedom Movement.

Noel Abinanti's appointment as editor of the Lumberjack was approved. Don Crotty was elected by Council to the position of president-pro tempore.

New Board Proposed Spectrum '68 Lecturer

by Judy Brown

Joint Student Faculty Effort

A proposal for a joint Student-Faculty Fairness Board is ready for presentation to the Student Council and the Academic Senate. After their approval it will be presented to the ASB for the vote needed for final passage.

The original work on the proposal was done by Mrs. Kathy Monahan Baer and Dr. Don Karshner, and after two years of investigation was accepted by the Ad Hoc Commission on Student Rights and Responsibilities.

Explaining the purpose behind this proposal, the introduction reads as follows:

"The Ad-Hoc Commission on Student Rights and Responsibilities believes there is need for students to be able to present grievances which might stem from such things as practices in classes, curriculum evaluations, maintenance and security, areas of student personnel services (e.g., activities, health services, housing, admissions, registration, counseling, testing, financial aid, placement, etc.)."

It is not expected that such a board would have occasion to meet often or hear many cases, but would be available in those instances which occur. The existence of such a board would provide an excellent safety valve and an assurance to all students that fair practice is being applied on campus."

The proposed board will be composed of a chairman appointed by the president of the college, two tenured faculty members, one professional member of the Student Personnel Services staff, and three representatives from the Student Body: a graduate student, senior, and junior.

The above students will be screened and appointed by the Student Legislative Council.

ASB President Tom Osgood further explained that this proposed board would be a type of counseling board for students and faculty to air their grievances. Each student would be expected to start at the level of his professor, and if no satisfactory conclusion can be reached, he would then go to the division chairman.

Only after discussion with the chairman can the student take the issue to the Fairness Board. The board will then deliberate as a "jury" and recommend action to be taken. Osgood stressed that "in no way will this board infringe on the academic freedom of students or faculty, nor will it be a threat to anyone's person. It can only assure each one's fight and better the whole environment of the college."

The proposal is scheduled to pass through student body election this quarter, and go into effect next fall.

Profs Help Industry

A group of Humboldt State College professors have joined Humboldt Bay area fish processing companies and the California Department of Fish and Game in efforts to aid in an early financial return for the fishing industry.

This aid will come in the form of possible joint research projects and programs, according to Mr. Tom Parsons, Director of the Center for Community Development at HSC.

The HSC professors (from the areas of oceanography, fisheries, zoology, business and economics) as well as those men from the fishing industry, have formed the Ocean Resources Research Group.

Their preliminary discussions, according to Parsons, have been directed towards six main areas of immediate and major concern to the fishing industries; the harvesting process, differential feeding and its effects, selective breeding and its effects, economics of the industry, processing marine products, and research designs and instrumentation.

Parsons said, "research or experimental programs in these six areas would be carried out with full cooperation of interested members of each of the participating groups."

"How can we make the best out of life?" This question was asked and an answer proposed by Dr. Henry N. Wieman, Professor Emeritus of the Chicago Divinity School at the University of Chicago, at a lecture given Wednesday March 27, in the Founders Hall Auditorium.

Dr. Wieman, who was sponsored by the Spectrum '68 lecture-concert series and the campus ministry, gave his views on religion and the modern mind.

This basic problem has come basic factors which are always involved, Wieman told the audience. He divided them into seven categories.

The first is consciousness--what we think about ourselves and others. Next is religion. The answer to the question, "what is that to which I am committed," must be considered. Revelation in Christ, the historical developments, and the idea of God or a god are also important here. The idea of interacting with people was brought out. "This creative interchange, finding out how others think and feel about issues, could be used now in Viet Nam and China," Dr. Wieman said.

Values and ethics also enter here. "Any goal-seeking activity is a value," Wieman stated. It is contributory to the idea of creative interchange. As to ethics and standards, he feels that they are set in terms of the situations that are faced. There is not always a particular rule to say what is right or wrong.

Dr. Wieman also commented on the use of drugs to expand man's inner consciousness, to make him understand himself, and to perhaps get the best out of life. He first talked about the possibility of harmful effects and ended by saying that if it turns you away from the love of your fellow man, it is not the way.

He discussed the ways to seek happiness and said that it can not always be achieved by directly setting out to find it. "Seek happiness by an indirect route," he said.

The problem is to turn in to yourself and your thoughts, and to turn out to other people.

Summer Session Bulletin Out

The bulletin for the 1968 Summer Session at Humboldt State College, listing a broad spectrum of courses ranging from aerospace to zoology, plus special institutes in marine science and theater arts, is now available on request at no charge.

Dr. William F. Murison, Dean of Public Services, announced that the regular summer session will be held from June 24 until August 16. He added that the regular session will be preceded by pre-session workshops during the period from June 10 through June 21.

Murison emphasized that enrollment in the summer session does not require regular admission to the college. The summer program is open to all interested persons. He pointed out that the summer courses offer an excellent opportunity for incoming freshmen students to "avoid the fall rush" and complete general education courses early.

Persons desiring summer session bulletins, which list all courses, instructors, accommodations at the college, enrollment procedures, and other information may obtain them by contacting the Office of the Dean of Public Services.

Mother's Day At HSC Tomorrow

"It's A Small World at HSC," will be the theme for this year's Mother's Day activities with events scheduled for April 6 on HSC's campus.

Mother's Day at HSC was started about 30 years ago and was originally sponsored by the Associated Womens Students. At that time Mother's Day was an afternoon tea. The present organization has been in effect for the past six years.

This year several events have been planned, beginning with registration in the CAC from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

There will be a reception welcoming mothers in the Sunset Hall lounge at 1:30.

From 2:00 to 3:30 p.m., tours of the campus will be conducted, with the mothers being divided into small groups.

Immediately following the tours, a program will be presented in Founders Hall auditorium. Guest speakers will include Mrs. Evelyn Deike from the Physical Education Department, Dr. John Borgerson from the Science Department and Miss Kate Buchanan, Associate Dean for Activities and Housing. Topics of discussion will be HSC's curriculum and why various general education courses are required.

Following this program, there will be a banquet in the cafeteria at 5:45 p.m. Dr. Kenneth Burns, Director of Placement and Financial Aids, will be guest speaker. His topic will be "Guidance for the Space Age."

One of the highlights of the day will be the presentation of the "Mother of the Year" award by President Cornelius H. Siemens.

At 8:00 p.m. all mothers will be the guests of the Associated Student Body at the drama production, "El Libro Del Andreo Martin."

Music Recital On Sunday

The Humboldt State College Music Department will present a clarinet recital on Sunday, April 7 at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Building, according to Phillip Kates, Assistant Professor of Music.

Highlight of the evening will be a performance of two sonatas by Mrs. Susan Kates, senior music major from Arcata, on violin; Miss Twila Allwine, freshman music major from Eureka on piano; and Dan Gurnee, HSC instrument technician on cello.

The program will conclude with Mrs. Kates performing Igor Stravinsky's "Three Pieces for Solo Clarinet."

There is no admission charge for the concert.

Unique Program Will Call For 'Student Ambassadors'

For the summer of 1968, the People to People movement is inviting a select group of U.S. university and college students to travel by special flight to Europe and meet with foreign students in eight European capitals.

These "Student Ambassadors" will have the opportunity to exchange ideas and discuss problems of mutual concern with their European counterparts—all with the goal of improving international understanding and friendship.

PROFS VIE FOR SUPERVISOR POST IN 3RD DISTRICT

Mike Jayne

'Educational Campaign'

Edward (Mike) Jayne, Instructor of English at HSC, is running for Supervisor of the Third District. Previously associated with Friends of SNCC, Vietnam Summer, SDS and the Peace and Freedom Party, Jayne said, "This will be an educational campaign." He believes that the residents of Humboldt County should be informed about local problems and feels that this is his duty.

Jayne said that he favors action on such local problems as bay development and Arcata Harbor but feels that there are more important issues that might be neglected in a conventional campaign.

He feels that the pulp mill odor should be cleared up before a waterfront project is started. He said that this can be done as pulp mills in other areas have been able to correct the problem with improved filtration techniques.

Another problem, high water rates, could be relieved, says Jayne, if the cities of Eureka and Arcata were only to buy as much water as is actually used. He also supports the Butler Valley and Tri-Lake dam projects if all available state and federal funds are used.

"Too many corners are being cut that shouldn't be," said Jayne about the county's high tax rate. He feels the problem is that industry is not paying its fair share of the taxes. He recommends that local assessment practices be investigated by the State Attorney General's office and that means be sought to impose yield taxes on prematurely cut timber.

Jayne, who moved to Humboldt County in 1945 after receiving his M.A. at Berkeley, said that since the unemployment problem results from seasonal industry, he feels that Humboldt County is obliged to match all state and federal funding for all projects as the free lunch program for students from relief families.

"I favor a 90,000 acre redwood national park," said Jayne. He said that if the park were this size it would include most of the Redwood Creek area and provide a complete ecological unit. He emphasized, though, that industry should be paid a fair price for the acreage it loses and that all loggers affected should be federally assisted in finding new employment.

Jayne expressed concern over the Shelter Cove project, and recommended that the Grand Jury should continue their investigation of the project. He also said means should be found to use the Board of Supervisors as an informal police review board when ever the action of the Sheriff's Department justified investigation.

Finally, Jayne promised to do everything in his power to put a Vietnam referendum on the ballot next November. He claimed that this county has been hit as hard as any by the war in Vietnam.

Donald Peterson

'Aggressive Leadership'

Donald F. Peterson, Instructor of Political Science at HSC, and a former Student Body President, is a candidate for supervisor of the Third District, in the June 4 election.

Third District includes all of Arcata, Blue Lake, Spruce Point, Cutten, Elk River, and Pine Hill.

The former Arcata High School teacher said that we can only solve the County's most pressing problems of economic growth, harbor development, and adequate water supply, air pollution, and tax relief by first streamlining and modernizing our County government.

"This modernizing can only come about by positive and aggressive leadership of the Board of Supervisors."

He added, "I feel that I have the training and understanding to provide this leadership."

He said that if he is elected, he will resign his position on the staff and devote full time to County government.

Peterson was graduated with high honors from HSC in 1959, with a degree in Political Science. He received his Master of Arts degree in Political Science from the University of California at Berkeley.

Far Western Conf. Governs Athletics

by Ellen Gardner

Hardly a week goes by that the Lumberjack doesn't mention the Far Western Conference somewhere. But what is it really? Who belongs to it, and what does it do?

The Far Western Intercollegiate Athletic Conference was already an established organization when Humboldt was admitted in 1940. Membership in the Conference has varied over the years. At the present time the members are: 1) University of California, Davis, 2) Chico State College, 3) Humboldt State College, 4) University of Nevada, 5) San Francisco State College, 6) Sacramento State College, 7) California State College at Hayward and 8) Sonoma State College. New members may be admitted by a unanimous vote of the conference.

The purposes of the Conference are stated in its constitution and by-laws. In general, it is to insure that intercollegiate athletics between member schools is properly and purposefully conducted. Athletic competition is to be based on relatively equal competition with institutions having similar standards and operating principles. Also, athletics are to remain under the general educational policy of the institution. They are to be coached and conducted by regular faculty members.

The governing body of the Conference is made up of faculty representatives, one from each member school. These representatives must be selected from outside the departments of physical education and athletics. Officers are President (1 year term), and Secretary-Treasurer (2 year term). San Francisco is now President School and Hayward is Secretary-Treasurer. Schools are on a rotation system for terms of office holding.

In addition to the faculty representatives, there is a conference board. This group is composed of one representative from each school who is chosen from the departments of physical education or athletics. This group prepares schedules and resolutions to be presented to the governing body for final action.

The conference has rules and regulations which govern the eligibility, scholarship requirements, participation, transfer of students, recruitment and game cancellation. An athlete may be barred from competition for a year if he willfully violated these rules.

Dual competition and competition for the official conference championships in football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, tennis, cross-country, and wrestling are mandatory on an annual basis. In football each team must play each member team once, and in basketball and baseball, each member school must be played twice.

Membership dues for each institution is $200 annually. Part of these funds are used for awards, such as conference trophies, ribbons and medals for track. Part is used as a salary for a conference secretary.

FWC Champs Selected

Center Alan Budde of the Far Western Conference basketball champion Cal Aggies headed the 1968 All-FWC team selected March 18 at Reno Nevada by the league coaches.

Budde is the only repeater from the 1967 all-FWC team. Others on the first unit include, senior center Norm Siefkin of Sacramento State, senior center Mike Paille from San Francisco State, junior forward Girard Chatman of S.F. State, and University of Nevada sophomore forward Alex Boyd.

The first team included three centers and two forwards, while the second unit was headed by three guards and three forwards.

Humboldt State's high scoring senior guard Dick Dowling paced the second team selections. Others on the second club include guard Walt Slider from Sac. State, guard Ed Tavis from Hayward State, forward Mike Francis of Sonoma State, forward John Frost of Davis, and forward Tom Gibbs from Hayward.

Honorable mention selections went to guard Frank Stonebarger of Davis, forward Louis Wright from Sac State, center Dexter Wright of Nevada, center Conrad Seymour of HSC and center Jan Hill of Chico State.

Final conference statistics find Nevada's Alex Boyd taking the individual scoring crown with a 26.1 average per game.

Bob Johnson of the champion Davis team won the individual field goal percentage title with .590 accuracy. The Aggies had five of the top ten field goal percentage shooters including Gordon Baranco, Steve Schaper, Alan Budde and John Frost.

HSC's Dick Dowling won the free throw percentage crown with an .824 mark. San Francisco's Girard Chatman took top rebounding honors with an average of 16.4 per game.

Golf Team Wins Against Nevada

The HSC Golf team split a series of two matches during the quarter break to bring their season to 2-1.

The Lumberjacks lost a match 8-13 to Chico State College March 8 but returned to home territory the next week, March 16 to beat Nevada with a score of 15-6.

Chico spectators witnessed Mike Cloney and Jim Guy win their matches with scores of 71 and 78 respectively. Larry Babica tied his opponent with a score of 78.

At Baywood Country Club Nevada succumbed to Mike Cloney with a score of 74, Dennis Mc Mannus with a score of 71 and Gary Crooks with a score of 75.

Read Moves To Portland Post

Don Read, backfield coach for Humboldt State's football team for the past year, has accepted the head coach chores for Portland State College.

Read replaces Jerry Lyons who held the Viking post for five years. Before coming to Humboldt, Read was head coach at Petaluma High for five years.

The ex-HSC coach left for Portland State last Monday. PSC has an enrollment of 10,000 students. The Vikings are hoping to upgrade their football program for the upcoming years.

Track Season Starts Tuesday

Humboldt State College will launch Far Western Conference track and field action next Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Redwood Bowl against Davis and Sonoma State.

Coach Jim Hunt's forces tuned up for league action last week by competing in the Davis relays. No team scores were kept, but the University of Nevada appears once again to be the class of the FWC.

Distance star Gary Tuttle paced the local effort with a victory in the two mile. His time of 9:10.8 established a new relay and Davis stadium record.

The Lumberjacks also won the distance medley relay with a 10:09.8 clocking. Pete Haggard in the 440 Dan Stromberg in the 880, Ken Lybeck in the 1320, and Vince Engle in the mile made up the winning distance medley relay team.

Other HSC performers who placed high in the action include Gary Cremer with a second place tie at 13'6" in the pole vault; Paul Johnson with a leap of 22' for a third in the broad jump; and Lee Barton with a fourth place finish in the javelin with a toss of 184'7".

Golf Team Wins Against Nevada

In the match played against the University of California at Davis March 30 the Lumberjacks came up on the short end of a 19-2 score.

Larry Babica shot a two over par 75 but lost to a par 72. Mike Cloney shot an 81 but also lost to an unbelievable score of 3 under par of 69. Gary Crooks shot a 95 for the course. Randy Brees shot an 82 but lost to a two over par 74.

This morning the Lumberjacks will meet S.F. State at Baywood Country Club. Tomorrow they will host Sac. State, also at Baywood. Sacramento is rated as the toughest team in the league and the match should prove to be one of Humboldt's hardest.

Jacks Win Two League Games To Start Baseball

Humboldt State, defending Far Western Conference baseball champions, swiped two league games from the San Francisco nine, 3-0 and 8-2, behind some sparkling pitching and some potent hitting.

Saturday the Jacks entertain the Nevada Wolf Pack in a twin bill that starts at 10 a.m.

Tom Thomsen, senior southpaw, fired a one-hitter in the seven inning opener and his teammates came out swinging and scored three runs in the first two innings. Thomsen whiffed eight Gators and walked four.

The nightcap saw Bob Whittaker fashion a nifty four-hitter over nine innings and he fanned three and walked four of the opponents.

The Lumberjack batters in the mean time were pounding the two S.F. hurlers for eight hits and three runs. Shortstop Bob McAllister batted out a single in the opener's first frame and advanced to second on a fielder's choice. Then centerfielder, Keith Ayala sent the HSC shortstop home with a single.

In the second inning, Dick Hanley, Humboldt's captain, singled and moved to second on a fielder's choice. McAllister singled him home and advanced to second on the throw. Frank Maltagliati then laced and RBI single that sent McAllister home.

In the second game the Jacks banged out 14 hits and eight runs. The Green and Gold horsehiders drew first blood in the first inning on an error and a run producing double by Ayala.

The Jacks scored three times in the third, two in the fourth, one in the sixth, and one in the eighth on McAllister's single and Allen's base hit.

San Francisco grabbed a run in the fifth on a walk, a hit-batter and a double. They got another in the ninth on an error, a fielder's choice, and a single.

Maltagliati went 3 for 3 in the nightcap and was 5 for 7 overall. McAllister was 4 for 8, and third baseman Joe Wong went 1 for 7. Allen was 3 for 5 in the second tilt and 3 for 7 for the double-header.

This weekend Humboldt faces Nevada for a pair of what Coach Ced Kinzer describes as "tough ones." Tom Thomsen and Bob Whittaker are slated to start for the Jacks.

The Lumberjacks record now stands 8-5 overall and 2-0 in FWC play. One of those wins was over the University of California nine behind excellent pitching by Billy Wilkinson.

Coach Kinzer was pleased with his charges play against the Gators. He felt that "if the pitching, defense, and hitting continue as they did last week we'll be in great shape."

Rumor...

Contrary to the rumor which has been circulating around campus recently, the Monday following Easter will not be a holiday. The Office of Academic Affairs has assured this paper that classes will be held on Monday.

Hurd Accepts Vice President Chair

Dr. Carroll P. Hurd, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Bradley University, has been appointed as the Vice-President for Academic Affairs effective August, 1968. Dean Hurd was unanimously recommended by the Faculty Committee after a most careful evaluation of the credentials of about one hundred candidates from all over the nation.

The finalists in the selective process were brought to the campus for intensive interviews. Visits were made by the President and two members of the Committee to the candidates' campuses.

Dr. Hurd completed his bachelor's degree in the classics and philosophy, and earned his master's and doctor's degrees in political science. He currently has two books under contract dealing with political theory. His previous experience includes a junior college presidency, a dean of students, and the head of a University political science department.

Vice-President James D. Turner, who elected to return to teaching last fall, has accepted the invitation of our Division of Social Sciences to teach in his field of specialty, sociology.

Dr. Carol P. Hurd, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois, confers with President

Cornelius H. Siemens. Dr. Hurd has been appointed 1968 Vice President for Academic Affairs, effective August, 1968.

WRA Women Treat High Schools

The annual WRA sponsored Ninth Grade Playday was held here March 30. The general purpose of the Playday is to give the schools a chance to get together. It also gives WRA an opportunity to show them a little of what HSC has to offer.

Students participating this year were from: Arcata, Fortuna, Hoopa, Leggett, McKinleyville, South Fork, and Winship, Zane, Jacobs and St. Bernards from Eureka.

This year's program included volleyball, softball and basketball. Teams are arranged so that each student competes on a team with students from other schools. This is not meant to be a situation where one school competes with another for top honors.

The theme for the Playday was "Political Circus." In accordance with this theme, a poster contest was held. Each school entered one poster and Fortuna won the event.

Miss Jan Hilfiker, who was chairman of the Playday, felt that the day was a success. She expressed her gratitude to the many individuals who helped put it on.

HSC Poetry Contest Opens...

pressed many with his uncommon enthusiasm for current poetry. Mike Jayne, also of the English Department, will handle the administrative details of the contest. All entries should be submitted to Jayne by the deadline on May 3 in his English Department box in room 209 of Founders Hall.

The history of the contest goes back approximately ten years to when Mrs. Kerr, a devotee of poetry and oil painting, offered to sponsor such a contest in order to stimulate local interest in poetry. It has since become a campus tradition. It is now also traditional that Dr. Siemens himself makes a brief presentation at the award ceremonies after a free banquet luncheon selected by Mrs. Kerr for the winners and judges.

Winning poetry has generally been of high quality, according to Jayne. Jim Dodge took honors for the last two years, and previous winners include Don Ronk, Maury Herman, Barbara Storm, and Naomi Wagner (then a high school student).

HSC Badminton Team Competes

Humboldt's badminton team participated in the San Jose Open Badminton Tournament there March 30. Team members who made the trip were Betty Matthews, Pat Susan, Kim Brown, Mary Hill, Chuck DeKay, Jay Stuart and John Trumbley.

Miss Susan and DeKay placed second in novice mixed doubles. They were beaten by a Chico team. Mary Hill and Pat Susan made the semi-finals in women's novice singles before losing.

The other members of the team all won their first match, but lost later in the tournament.

Pitching Leads Jr. Jacks To 5-1 Record With Foes

Humboldt's J.V. baseball squad knocked off St. Bernard's High School, 10-5, last Tuesday to raise their record to 5-1.

Today the Junior Jacks tangle with Arcata High at City Park and Saturday they play a double-header against Fortuna High at Scotia.

Last week John Haas and Jeff Self displayed spotless pitching against McKinleyville High and St. Bernards. Haas pitched a perfect game against Mac High while fanning 13 Panthers. Self sent the Crusaders down to defeat with a no-hit, no-run performance.

The J.V.'s knocked off Eureka High 7-5 in eleven innings. Humboldt broke a 5-5 tie in the eleventh on two walks, two errors, and a fielder's choice that scored two runs. Bill Busch went eight and two thirds innings and gave up only two hits.

The Jacks only loss of the season came at the hands of Arcata in a heart breaking loss, 3-1. But locals came back to defeat Fortuna 2-1 on a three-hitter by Greg Phillips.

"We've been hot and cold," commented Coach Jon Burgess on his team's success.

"We have a mediocre infield, a good outfield, and great pitching," Burgess stated.

Tennis Team Hosts Hayward

Coach Larry Kerker's tennis team will host Cal State of Hayward in a Far Western Conference match Saturday morning at 10 o'clock on the local courts.

Last weekend the Lumberjack netters split a pair of matches on the road. Friday the Jacks bombed Southern Oregon College 9-0 in Ashland, Oregon. However, on Saturday the Jacks dropped an 8-1 decision to powerful Chico State on the Wildcat's courts. HSC's only victory came in the number six singles when Foukangas defeated Chico's Cooke 6-3, 7-3, 6-1.

Nat'l Swim Rating Won in Georgia

Six Humboldt State College swimmers gained a total of 10 All-American ratings at the NCAA College Division National Swimming and Diving Championships held at Atlanta Georgia two weeks ago.

HSC, with 31 team points, earned a tie for 17th place in the national competition. Two other Far Western Conference teams, Davis and Chico, tied for 30th with 10 points each. San Francisco State had 2 points for a 48th place finish.

Distance man Eric Oyster paced the Lumberjacks with All-American ratings in three events. Oyster placed ninth in the 500 freestyle in 5:05.6, eighth in the 1650 free in 17:58, and was a member of the ninth place 800 free relay team which was clocked in 7:24.8.

Other All-American ratings went to LeRoy Childs and Marshall Kane in two events each. Mike Morey, Ted Deacon, and Brent Howatt all earned All-American ratings in one event each.
