Siemens Declares Jacks are Tops

By RUSSANNE GREEN

The Camellia Bowl, the NCAA regional playoff bowl game which Humboldt will be attending, was described by President Cornelius Siemens as "deserved recognition for the students and college."

President Siemens particularly emphasized the fact that the "greatest honor and satisfaction" is that to the individual team-members themselves.

"Recognition of a championship season is a wonderful reward for the players and coaches, but especially for the players." He stated also that it was a compliment with respect to the level of the development of the individual players into a team — to a level that the players could learn to "sacrifice for the other guy".

President Siemens further noted that the Humboldt athletes, since they are not subsidized by a scholarship program, as such, are able to play "de-pressurized, amateur football." When such a team beats other teams that are under greater pressures — from all sides — the victory is "that much sweeter."

President Siemens, who will be in San Francisco for a series of meetings that week, will attend the game in Sacramento on December 14.

Sea Education Congress

Humboldt State College's First Sea Education Congress, an effort to draw employers in private industry and government of the western United States together with educators in discussions of the escalating manpower needs of the marine sciences and the training programs to meet those needs, will be held December 16-18.

Word of the event came from Dr. William F. Murison, Dean for Public Services, who stated that the proceedings have been specifically designed to inform educators of the educational and professional skills sought by prospective employers. Invitations, he said, have been sent to firms and educational institutions on the Pacific Coast who deal with the study of the sea.

The five sessions of the Congress will be held in the Studio Theater of the Language Arts Building. Registration will commence at 8 a.m. Eight distinguished authorities on aspects of marine science have been engaged as speakers. Discussions will follow each speaker's presentation.

At 9 a.m. on December 16 first session of the assembly will hear from Dr. I. E. Wallen, of the Office of Oceanography and Limnology, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., speaking on "Federal Needs in Oceanography." Dr. Bruce McAllister, of the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in Seattle, will speak at 10:30 a.m. on "Federal Needs in Marine Fisheries." Moderator for discussions during the first session will be Dr. Richard Ridenhour, Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs and associate professor of fisheries.

The second session will begin at 1:15 p.m. with a talk, by Dr. Carl R. Carlson, Marine Geologist of the U. S. Geological Survey at Menlo Park. At 2:30 p.m. Dr. T. E. Kruse, of the Fish Commission of Oregon, will talk on "State and Provincial Agencies and Their Needs in Marine Sciences." Moderator will be Dr. James Gast, professor of oceanography and director of the HSC Marine Laboratory at Trinidad Harbor.

A tour of the Marine Laboratory will be conducted for delegates at 4 p.m. The first day of the congress will conclude at the Baywood Country Club with a cocktail hour at 7 p.m. and a banquet at 8 p.m. An authority on the marine sciences, to be announced later, will be the main speaker at the banquet.

The third session will begin at 9 a.m. on December 17 with John Sherborne, Director of the Research Center, Union Oil Company of California, Brea, Calif., speaking on "Industrial Needs in Marine Petroleum and Geology." At 10:30 a.m. "Ocean Engineering" will be the topic of James A. Wenzel, Manager, Ocean Systems, Lockheed Missile and Space Company, Sunnyvale, Calif. Moderator will be Dr. Robert Thompson, assistant professor of oceanography.

The fourth session will commence at 1:15 p.m. with a presentation entitled "Economic Potential in the Oceans" by Dr. Walter J. Mead, professor of economics at the University of California at Santa Barbara. At 3 p.m. John G. Peterson, president of the Washington Fish and Oyster Co. of San Francisco, will speak on "Industrial Needs in Fisheries and Biological Sciences." Gast will also moderate this session.

The fifth and final session, scheduled for 9 a.m. on December 18, will be devoted to an open discussion and educators' responses to the professional needs and technical demands enunciated in the preceding sessions. Murison will moderate this session. The congress will close at noon.

Murison pointed out that HSC, as one of only three colleges in the United States now offering an undergraduate degree program in oceanography, is pleased to host this initial gathering of what is hoped to become an annual affair.

Any person interested in the topics of discussion is invited to attend. Reservations may be secured by contacting the Office of the Dean for Public Services, Humboldt State College, telephone 826-3711. Fees for participants are as follows: registration, $15; banquet, $6; and luncheons, $4.

Academic Reorganization Set

Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Carroll P. Hurd, has announced that, effective next September, HSC will assume the school pattern of academic organization. He also announced vacancies for the position of Dean in each of the five schools established under the new system. The schools are Behavioral and Social Sciences, Creative Arts and Humanities, Economics and Business, Natural Resources, and Science.

The result of a three-year study by HSC administrators and faculty, the system was adopted, Dr. Hurd said, to gain greater administrative efficiency and to strengthen the over-all operation of the College by bringing the decision-making process closer to the various disciplines of the College. He added that most colleges with enrollment comparable to HSC's use the school pattern.

Eight of the present nine divisions will be dissolved under the new plan. The Division of Health and Physical Education will retain its current status, pending eventual assignment to one of the schools.

For purposes of implementation of the reorganization, department assignments in the five schools will be as follows: Behavioral and Social Science — Education, Geography, History, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology; Creative Arts and Humanities — Art, English, Foreign Languages, Journalism, Music, Philosophy, and Theater Arts; Economics and Business — Business Administration, Economics, and Office Administration; Natural Resources — Fisheries, Forestry, Natural Resources, Oceanography, Range Management, Watershed Management, and Wildlife Management; and Science — Biology, Chemistry, Engineering, Geology, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, Nursing, Physics, and Zoology.

Dr. Hurd emphasized that the above do not constitute rigid, permanent assignments, but that they will be under continual review and will be subject to possible re-assignment following full consultation.

The position of Dean entails, in part, academic leadership in the following: formulating and continually evaluating the academic purposes and objectives of the school; developing, implementing and evaluating curriculums; attracting and recruiting faculty; and encouraging and maintaining an objective, imaginative and innovative attitude among students, faculty and administrative personnel concerning all aspects of the School and the College. Each Dean will be administratively responsible to the Vice President. Salary range for the position of Dean is $18,480 to $22,476 per annum and the beginning date will be from July 1 to August 15, 1969.

Qualifications for the position of Dean include evidence of scholarly achievements and a reputation in an academic discipline for which he qualifies; successful teaching experience at the college or university level and possession of qualifications necessary for appointment to a professorship at HSC; and administrative experience in some portion of a college or university academic program or discipline.

Applications stating the applicant's training and experience and names of three or more persons familiar with the candidate's work in his present position may be submitted to Dr. Carroll P. Hurd, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Humboldt State College, Arcata, Calif. 95521. December 30, 1968 is the deadline for applications.

Prof. On Study Unit

Humboldt State College professor of economics Dr. Theodore K. Ruprecht has been appointed the American representative on a three-man population study unit sponsored by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, an international body concerned with aid-giving to underdeveloped countries.

The appointment was made by the U. S. State Department, following recommendations of the Agency for International Development and the Population Council, an organization supported by the Rockefeller Foundation.

Ruprecht last month spent four days in Paris, France where he joined his fellow specialists in the unit, Carl Wahren and Kirsten Tuna, both of Sweden, for a planning session preparatory to a year-long study to be launched by the trio in January 1969 in the French capital. They will seek to determine the effects of aid-giving to underdeveloped countries, such as Egypt, Pakistan, Ceylon, and India, through population studies. Ruprecht will be on leave from the College for the project.

The OECD was established in 1961 as a link between donor nations and those which receive economic aid. Headquarters of the 22-nation organization is in Paris.

Ruprecht's appointment resulted largely from his demographic studies in the Philippine Islands during the academic year 1964-65. He conducted those studies as the recipient of a Fulbright Research Grant. He chose the Philippines for his research because of its rapid population growth and its underdeveloped economy. In the fall of 1965, he presented his findings to the World Population Conference in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

In 1966 he continued his work under a grant from the Population Council and spoke that fall at an international population conference in Manila.

A renewal of the Population Council grant enabled him to take a sabbatical leave in 1967-68, during which time he attended the Yale University Economic Growth Center and presented papers at an Australian conference and at several conferences across the United States.

A member of the HSC faculty since 1959 and a resident of Trinidad, Ruprecht teaches courses in introductory economics, international trade, and economic theory. He has used much of his research to enrich segments on world population resources in those courses.

Competition Seeks Entries

Collegiate composers and writers have an opportunity to gain national recognition at the first annual "Sounds of Young America" event that will be held in Salt Lake City, Utah on May 8 — 10, 1969.

"Sounds of Young America" is a national competition that culminates with the top recording artists and stars of stage and screen performing the most outstanding original works submitted by students.

A large audience at Salt Lake City's new Salt Palace and a distinguished panel of judges will be on hand to select the national champions in three musical and two literary categories.

Entrance applications are available to all college students from "Sounds of Young America", Room 458, Union Pacific Building Annex, Salt Lake City, Utah 84111. The deadline for entering the event is February 1 and all material must be submitted prior to March 1.

Preliminary judging panels will select three finalists in each category and their works will be performed at "Sounds of Young America", along with the current sounds that are being enjoyed by young Americans.

"Sounds of Young America" is a presentation of Bob Yde Associations, the organization that conducts college music's national championships for performers, the Intercollegiate Music Festival.

Editorial

By RON HARDING

The following sports editorial appeared in the November 22 issue of the State Hornet, the student newspaper at Sacramento State College, and is reprinted here with the verbal permission of its author Kerry Tucker.

"The Lumberjacks of Humboldt and the Fresno State Bulldogs choice for the Camellia Bowl is certainly no surprise to grid fans. Look for a Fresno victory..... Tuesday night students in Arcata, California, gave up their conservation books to stage a protest against the Northern California Writers Association's choice of annual football honors. NCWA president, Al Moss, was hung in effigy and angry students used green sports pages for fire torches. (Al Moss is a sports writer for the SE Chronicle). Students claimed that their institution was ignored especially fleet-footed Lumberjack back, John Burman, in the "Back of the Year" honors. But down here in civilization, everyone knows Mr. Burman just wasn't good enough to oust the No. 1 choice, Lyle James. One begins to wonder what these backwoods savages would have tried had they been left out of the Camellia Bowl."

When I became aware of this editorial I felt that it must be answered. It would seem that there are certain people at Sacramento State that are rather bitter because they didn't get the bid to the Camellia Bowl, not to mention the bitterness they feel for not winning the Far Western Conference Crown this season.

In no way do I intend to degrade Lyle James, the fine quarterback of the Hornets. He is an exceptional athlete who did a fine job in leading the Hornets to a second place standing in the FWC. The point I would take issue with is that indicated by the Sac State newspaper Sports Editor which puts Mr. James ahead of the Lumberjack football team. Lumberjack fans are convinced that we have the finest running backs in the league. However, our praises do not stop here. Our team won the FWC championship this year with an unblemished conference record. To attain this record, more than fantastic performances by John Burman and Danny Walsh were needed.

Like all other football teams, Humboldt played with eleven offensive and eleven defensive men on the field. It just so happens that the Lumberjack's twenty-two men were far better than anyone else. We, the students of Humboldt State and the school's loyal fans, can feel proud of every player on this year's football team. In every game they played they demonstrated team play — a valued quality of any football team.

Although the Sacramento State coach likes to hear himself talk, he rarely says anything. It is in this area that much of the success of this year's team must be attributed. The coaching staff of the Lumberjack's have done an outstanding job this season. Keeping their pride concealed, they did their job in a praiseworthy manner. Granted they had some excellent material to work with. And this is exactly what they did — they worked with the players and put a winning football team on the field.

With our football team's record, we don't have to pay any heed to the cheap critics — after all, we ARE number one.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

I would like to wholeheartedly endorse Mr. Gary Montgomery in his article last week on the Library. First, the basic problem of study space is very interesting. I was amazed to learn of the "untold of" anticipated closing of the Green and Gold Room. One only has to drop by this area late some night to see utilization of study space at its best. The loss of the Green and Gold room should be more widely known so that students can realize the bind we all may be in when it is closed down. We need action now as if we wait until it is closed down it is obvious nothing could be kicked out of the bureaucratic machinery to solve the problems in time to help during spring quarter.

The second and probably most important point made by Mr. Montgomery is the presence of such a good set of reference material with such limited availability. This is especially important to myself and the other Natural Resource people (comprising about 25% of the students). Our library has an excellent collection of Natural Resource reference material, probably the best in the State College System, yet there are many hours when this valuable material is unavailable to us. Additional weekday-late evening hours, as well as more weekend hours would prove nothing but beneficial for the over 1000 students who use the second floor (to say nothing of the use by the other 3000 students). I'm certain that the increased access to these materials would be wisely and actively used by all students. So again thanks to Mr. Montgomery for bringing these 2 vital points out in the open. I sincerely hope that action will take place soon in these vital areas.

Lou Wayers

Editor:

I would like to comment on Mr. Montgomery's article re: the HSC Library. The lack of sufficient study areas on this campus is obvious; the library is/should be the center for study on a campus. This is difficult, however, when the students are kept running a continual Caucus Race in order to keep up with the library hours. Once you have an idea of the erratic time schedule, you must arrange your study time so that the 9:50 p.m. Light Show doesn't catch you half-way through that reference article which may not be moved from the library. Week-end use of the library is limited to 10 hours. This is unrealistic, especially in view of the number of students who wish to have study space and reference materials available over the week-end for large blocks of time. The library hours and the availability of reference materials have never been adequate; with the increased student enrollment, longer library hours are a necessity if this area is to be utilized to its fullest extent.

Demand for Library Change

By RON HARDING

In last week's Lumberjack a brave student spoke out about the obsolete hours of the college library. In the past several years there have been numerous controversies on our campus about the lack of available study places. Presently, the Green and Gold Room of Founder's Hall is being used to alleviate the shortage. However, with the present enrollment of the college, this one study hall is simply not adequate.

It seems logical to assume that the library would be the first choice in selecting a place to study. The way it now stands, however, the library is far down the list of acceptable places to study because of the very limited hours.

It is noted that the cost of increasing the number of open hours must be considered before any changes are made. Judging from the number of students who would like to see the library stay open more, the cost should not be considered too great whatever it might be. If it were to be a major outlay of money which would benefit the few, then careful consideration should be given to the matter. But as it now stands, it would seem that the Administration should be more than willing to make a monetary outlay, no matter how big, which will benefit an overwhelming majority of the students on this campus.

As is the case in almost every other matter on this campus, little or no action is taken by the Administration or Student Legislative Council until the students become demanding. Here is an opportunity for the majority to have its voice heard. Speak to the members of SLC or write a letter to the Editor to allow the Administration to clearly understand how much you want increased library hours.

POET'S CORNER

Awaken

Awaken
My love.
Open your eyes
And drink the dreams
Of my life.

Awaken,
And see
How I long to hold you,
Embrace you,
As no man ever has before.

Open your soul
And feel my necessity
For being wanted,
Needed,
Loved.

Awaken
And know
How my heart aches
To share its love
With you.

Do not fear
My emotions,
For they are true,
Sincere,
Real.

Awaken,
My love.
Leave your mystical dreams
Of yesterdays childhood
And become the woman
You are destined to be.

Rescue me
From the cold,
Dark void
Of my loneliness.

Awaken
My love.
Turn my dreams
Into reality.
Awaken,
Or I shall surely Die.

Like The Wind

Oh,
To be like the wind
And race myself
Across the land
Seeking the wonders
Of life.

I would drift
Down the hidden valleys,
Over the mountains,
Across the plains,
Searching
For that special something
That gives life meaning.

I would cast off
The spells of uncertainty
And know the truth
About people,
Life,
Existence.

But I am not
The wind
Nor can I drift
At ease.
I am bound by the trap
Of human obligations
And must search
For that special something,
Someone,
The best way I can.

So,
I listen to the wind
Whispering it's secrets
To me
As it pushes it's way
Through the trees,
And it tells me
That my quest
May be at an end
For that special something
I searched for,
That special someone,
Has come at last.

Alpha Phi Omega Has New Officers

The Tau Nu Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega (National Service Fraternity) elected new officers last Wednesday. Robert Gregory moved up from First Vice-President to President on a campaign for more service projects and fun activities. John Rogers is no longer Corresponding Secretary but now First Vice-President in charge of Service Activities. Mike Stockstill did such a good job with the pledge class this fall he ran unopposed for re-election as Second Vice-President (Pledge-Master). Robert Sathrum was re-elected Recording Secretary, and William Wells was elected Corresponding Secretary. Other officers elected were Paul M. Freeman - Treasurer, Dave Nunley - Alumni Secretary, and David Wallace - Historian.

Mr. Richard Kuehner, a forestry instructor, was unanimously elected by the chapter as the new Chairman of the Advisory Committee.

Alpha Phi Omega is a National Service Fraternity with the purpose of assembling college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, developing leadership, promoting friendship, providing service to humanity, and furthering the freedom that is our national, educational and intellectual heritage. The chapter meets on the first and third Wednesdays of every month. Their current service project is the building of a wing on their community Scout Hut in Redwood Park. All men interested in Leadership, Friendship, and Service are welcome at the next general meeting on Wednesday, December 4th, at 7:30 p.m. in CAC Room No.3.

It CAN Be Done

A member of the student generation will have a major dramatic entry on television the night of December 4.

The CBS Playhouse production of that night comes from the pen of Ron Cowen, 23, who's currently winding up work on his master's degree at the Annenberg School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Till now, CBS Playhouse has presented only top TV dramatists, such as Reginald Rose and JP Miller. But the network and sponsor, General Telephone & Electronics, have long wanted to find a new, young author for this series.

Cowen had written his first full-length play, "Summertime," during the 1966-67 academic year. After eight months of work, he'd sent the completed script to Jerome Lawrence, under whom he'd taken a playwrighting course at U.C.L.A. (Cowen had started college at Ohio State, transferred when his family moved from Cincinnati to Los Angeles).

Lawrence sent the script to the Eugene O'Neill Foundation in Connecticut, where it was given a try-out performance in the summer of 1967.

CBS producers saw it there, got in touch with Cowen, and asked him to write an original for CBS Playhouse. He's the youngest dramatist ever commissioned by the network.

The play, "Saturday Adoption," derives from Cowen's own experience. In the script, Rich, a college student, tutors a 14-year-old Negro boy, Macy. Soon he's sharing his dreams of future possibilities with the lad, to whom optimism is an oddity.

Cowen says he wishes the established generation would listen more to what the younger generation has to say and not cavil so much about hair length, dress and other trivia. He likes TV as a vehicle of expression because it reaches people where they are (30-million of them watched "The People Next Door," the generation-conflict drama on the last CBS Playhouse).

How did he do it, getting his second script on TV's most august dramatic program even before he'd earned his master's?

"I was lucky," says Cowen.

STUDENTS SPEAK OUT

The following question was asked of nine Humboldt State students: "What do you think of the HSC football team attending the Camellia Bowl?"

Alan Quincy, San Jose, Calif. Wildlife Major, Freshman
"Really great, I think the price of tickets is outrageous, because college students are traditionally poor."

Teri Moran, Novato, Calif. Biology Major, Freshman
"I think that it's great but I feel that students with student-body cards should get better seats for a discount price."

Rob Wheeler, Los Gatos, Calif. Math Major, Freshman
"Great, but students should be allowed to have a fifty yard section for a cut rate price."

Brad Barnwell, South Gate, Calif. Forestry Major, Freshman
"I think it's a well earned trip, they deserve it. It will be a real great experience for all those involved."

Ray Gipson, Fort Bragg, Calif. Wildlife Major, Senior
"Quite a privilege for the team, they've come a long way. Real good for the fans, they seem quite jazzed."

Jeff Wright, Carmel, Calif. Political Science Major, Senior
"I think it's great, happy the team did so well. All bowl games are expensive."

Seaweed Lafayette, Calif. Oceanography Major, Freshman
"I always thought we had a lousy football team. It's something to be proud of."

Leslie Leedham, Carmichael, Calif. Undecided Major, Freshman
"I'm happy, a true privilege bestowed upon the HSC team, everyone can be proud."

Sandy Luzzi, Fort Bragg, Calif. Undecided Major, Freshman
"I think it's a great honor for a small college, I just think it's great."

Greg Johnson, La Habra, Calif. Undecided Major, Soph.
"Real great, I think they earned it. It helps promote school spirit."

Spurs Sponsor Book Market

Spurs will sponsor a Book Market for two weeks beginning on January 4. It will be held at the cage in the Tin Shed of the CAC. On January 4th the cage will be open from 9:00-5:00. The rest of the weekdays and Saturday it will be open from 9:00-3:00 and perhaps evenings. The exact times for the second week will be posted in the bulletin during the preceding week.

The book market will work as follows: Student A brings his book(s) to sell and gives them to a Spur. She files the book and gives the student a 5 by 7 card and an envelope for each book. The student writes his name, the name of the book, and the price he wants for the book on both the card and the envelope. Then he puts his card on a bulletin board under the proper Department. He gives the envelope to the Spur which she puts on file.

Student B comes to the Tin Shed, checks the bulletin board and finds a book he wants to buy. He takes the card off the bulletin board and gives it and the money to the Spur. She puts the money in the proper envelope, destroys the card and gives the student the book. Any questions about price or condition of the book will have to be worked out between the individual students.

The best part of the Book Market is that no one makes any money but the students, unless they fail to claim their money or books by the end of the two weeks. In this case, Spurs will claim all leftovers. Check the bulletins for further information or Call Sue Adams or MaryAnn Schultz.

LUMBERJACK Modern Dance, Others Meet

Something new has been added to recreation night. Some of the activities have been moved to new locations making it possible for those interested in modern dance and compatible activities to have the womens gym on Wednesday evenings.

The last few Wednesdays have seen the Modern Dance Club working on a show they plan to present January 17. There have been some spectators who are welcomed by the club members and any interested persons are asked to join in.

There has been some fencing practice. The dancers didn't seem to mind the fencers and the fencers didn't seem to mind the dancers; anyway none of the dancers were run through.

Judo and Karate enthusiasts have joined the dancers during their limbering-up exercises after which they retired to one corner of the gym where they engaged in mock combat. Their practice was limited to this as there is no qualified supervision for actual body contact in this and related sports; for this reason wrestling has not been permitted.

Those interested in modern dance thank Dr. Forbes, who, as head of the physical education department, is in charge of the physical education facilities; and Mr. Stan Mottaz who is in charge of the recreation program, for making it possible for their form of recreation.

Colleges Without Teachers?

BURLINGAME — California's nine university and eighteen state college campuses may be declared as unfit places for professors to seek employment unless the state makes substantial improvements in their financial support in 1969-70.

This is the essence of a "sanctions alert" — threatened blacklist — of the state's two higher education systems voted recently by the Representative Council of the 1,900-member California College and University Faculty Association (CCUFA). CCUFA is the higher education branch of the 165,000-member California Teachers Association (CTA).

At a recent meeting (Nov. 16) in San Francisco, the Council authorized the CCUFA Executive Board to call an immediate sanctions alert and to arrange for full sanctions if by the 1969-70 academic year the governor and State Legislature have not adequately improved financing of California's higher education.

At the same time, CCUFA approved a recommendation that it seek a 20 per cent salary increase at the state colleges over the next two years, plus improved fringe benefits.

CCUFA charged that inadequate financing of the University of California and the State College system is causing a major crisis in the state in a number of ways:

A large number of qualified students are being turned away from the campuses because of lack of professors, equipment and facilities.

Low salary schedules and inadequate fringe benefits are making it difficult to recruit and keep qualified faculty.

Work loads that overburden faculty and administrators are contributing to the erosion of quality education.

Robert E. Phelps, CCUFA executive secretary, declared:

"In efforts over many years for improvement of California's higher education, CCUFA has pursued a statesmanlike course. We have not cajoled, intimidated or threatened. We have sought to inform and counsel. We have been patient. We have argued for a balanced, mature, reasonable, non-partisan approach to our problems. Yet, it seems quite apparent that such efforts have not been crowned with success."

Phelps added that CCUFA, in imposing the sanctions alert, believes it is "eminently desirable" to plead the cause of the need for adequate state financial support of higher education through normal channels and procedures.

However, he stressed, "We also believe it is urgent to point out that our concern has increased so much that we are ready to move to alternate and stronger responses if traditional approaches fail to achieve the vitally needed improvements."

KEET To Air December 16

With the arrival of KEET TV's new replacement antenna, management and trained technical personnel from KIEM TV and KVIQ TV who are putting the station on the air now estimate a tentative air date of December 16, 1968, according to Angelo Franceschi, president of Redwood Empire Educational Television, Inc., operators of Channel 13.

The two local stations have donated or loaned in excess of $75,000 in equipment, man-hours of time or cash toward putting KEET TV on the air, Franceschi says, praising this co-operation by KIEM TV and KVIQ TV to get Northwestern California's educational station into operational status as quickly as possible.

This tentative air date can be met, the two local commercial channels say, provided the weather doesn't turn bad, which would divert technical manpower into preserving existing television service; and that all the additional parts besides the antenna are on hand and that they go together without too many complications, Franceschi adds.

AUCTION IN JANUARY

As a result of knowing this tentative air date, KEET TV will hold its first annual public auction on the air on Channel 13 January 9, 10, 11 and 12, says Donald H. Telford, vice president and station director. This auction is to help raise several thousand dollars in operating funds for the station, and is under the co-direction of Dewell Byrd and Mrs. Norman Christensen.

Auction items are on display now at Pacific Gas & Electric Company's former offices at 318 5th Street, and additional auction items are being contributed daily by merchants from Crescent City to Garberville, the auction chairmen say.

TRANSMITTER INSTALLED

KEET TV's new replacement antenna arrived shortly before Veteran's Day and was assembled by John Thayer, manager of the RCA Service Company of Chicago, according to Amos Hargrave, KVIQ TV Chief Engineer.

Humboldt State Football Highlights

UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII

Despite swift John Burman's scoring bursts of 86 and 74 yards the Humboldt State Lumberjacks were defeated 34-20 by the University of Hawaii before 16,478 fans in Honolulu.

Hawaii recovered a Humboldt fumble on the first play from scrimmage on the eight yard line. The Rainbow's fullback, Rich Kaspari, busted over from the two for the score with just 59 seconds gone in the first quarter.

"We gave them a couple of gift touchdowns and then had to play catch-up ball," was Coach Frank "Bud" Van Deren's sum up of the 34-20 loss.

"John Burman, Jeff Getty (defensive back), Gene Eklund (defensive end) and Dennis Sousa (split end) all looked pretty good," Coach Van Deren said.

"Hawaii had the best defensive line Humboldt has ever played against (while he has been head coach)," the HSC mentor stated. "We're a team. This game proved we can play with a team of Hawaii's caliber," stated Van Deren.

OREGON TECH

The Lumberjacks crushed the Owls 43-0. The aggressive Green and Gold defensive unit held the visitors to a meager 97 yards gained for the game.

John "Jetstream" Burman gained 152 yards and scored two touchdowns. He only carried the ball twice in the second half. Quarterback Jim Costello completed 11 passes in 20 attempts for 161 yards two touchdowns.

The Jacks gained 478 yards for an average of 6.05 per offensive play. Humboldt was in complete command of the game and the reserves played most of the second half.

SACRAMENTO STATE

Slippery Danny Walsh returned a Sacramento State kick-off 82 yards in the fourth quarter to erase a 13-13 tie and give Humboldt a 20-13 upset win.

At the time of the game Sacramento was considered the favorite to win the Far Western Conference.

After Walsh's stunning run back Sacramento gained control of the ball three times. But Jeff Getty, defensive back, intercepted a Hornet pass and knocked down another to squash the Sac team's hope of victory. Damon Dickinson, slot back, had grabbed a 5 yard Jim Costello aerial to tie the score 7-7.

Costello fired a pass to fleet John

Radio Comeback

Can radio drama—one of the most imaginative of the dramatic arts—make a comeback in the United States?

It flourishes in almost every other civilized country—especially Great Britain, Germany and Canada. But television killed it here, and most Americans under thirty have never heard a radio drama.

A project combining government and private funds has been underway for the past year creating the new radio theatre by utilizing the tools of the sixties. Contemporary material, advanced engineering techniques and today's sensitive machinery have been combined to give new dimensions to radio theatre.

Radio theatre will afford an experience which is unknown to the youth of today despite the fact that it is a generation that listens to radio everywhere—at home, in cars, on the beach, etc.

Beginning December 1st, more than 150 non-commercial radio stations across the country will broadcast the best productions of WGBH Radio Drama Development Project. These represent the first new major works since the coming of television, when both audience and artist turned to the visual medium.

KHSC-FM will premiere the 1st Prize-winning play at 8:00 PM on Thursday, December 5, 1968. The following week at 8:00 PM on Thursday, December 12, 1968, the second prize-winning play will be aired. When the station returns to the air in January, 1969, the remaining eight plays will be presented.

Burman on the Sac 30, nine plays into the third quarter, to put the Jacks ahead 13-6.

But the Hornets stung the Lumberjacks for another TD to tie it up 13-13.

Walsh and Getty's heroics saved the Jack victory however and kept the HSC eleven rolling.

The Lumberjacks increased their wins to two against one loss.

CENTRAL WASHINGTON

Humboldt destroyed the Central Washington Wildcats 50-0. Humboldt stopped the usually potent 'Cat offense by allowing them only 159 yards net gain.

Burman again outran, squirmed, and faked his opponents to defeat. He gained 156 yards in 23 carries for one touchdown.

The week before Humboldt played Central Wash. they had dumped Eastern Washington 14-12. Eastern Wash. was ranked 18th in the NAIA small college grid polls before that upset.

When the Lumberjacks played Central Washington the Wildcats were ranked 9th in the NAIA small college polls.

UC DAVIS

Humboldt stretched their win streak to four when they belted the Davis Mustangs 29-8.

The Jacks relied on the arm of quarterback Jim Costello, the hands of end Dennis Sousa, and the toe of Dave Banducci.

Banducci topped a FWC record with three field goals in a single quarter. In the second period he connected on 21, 25 and 33 yarders.

Sousa caught ten passes for 159 yards while Costello passed for a total of 186 yards.

The Humboldt State defense stymied the Davis offensive attack as HSC held the Mustangs to a net gain of 213 yards and intercepted five passes.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE

The Lumberjacks climbed to the top of the Far Western Conference race when they stopped San Francisco's Gators decisively, 37-20.

A homecoming crowd of 8250, the largest crowd ever to attend an HSC football game, watched the Lumberjacks knock SF out of first place in a convincing fashion.

The "sky high" Lumberjacks caused five Gator fumbles and interceptions. The exploding Green and Gold offense gained 262 yards rushing and 174 passing for 436 total yards.

A rugged Humboldt defense allowed a minus two yards rushing in the first half. Their three fumbles recoveries set up three Jack scores. The win gave Humboldt a 3-0 conference record for first place and caused the Gators to slip to second with a 3-1 record.

UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Playing in the Nevada Wolf Pack arena Humboldt had to come up with a story book finish to nudge the Pack 20-17. The Jacks were down 20-7 with only 4:27 left in the game.

It was then a matter of guts and determination. Humboldt proved that they had it.

A bad pass from center and a successful onside kick allowed the Jacks to score two touchdowns in the final four minutes for the victory.

Burman ran back a 99-yard punt return in the first half.

CHICO STATE

Humboldt bombed the Chico State Wildcats 55-7 to clinch the Far Western Conference crown. The Lumberjacks hadn't captured the FWC since 1960 outright.

Humboldt, led by standout running of John Burman and his understudy Danny Walsh, amassed 345 yards rushing and 125 passing for a total of 470 yards.

A stubborn Humboldt defense allowed the Wildcats a mere 190 yards—125 passing and 65 rushing.

Burman gained 68 yards and scored one touchdown in the first half and then Walsh came into the game. Walsh scored three touchdowns one a 84-yard run, one a 34-yard run, and a one-yard score.

CAL STATE AT HAYWARD

Halfback John Burman squirmed, slammed and ran through Hayward almost at will. The elusive speedster gained 245 yards in 42 carries and scored four touchdowns.

The Lumberjacks stopped the Pioneers 30-14 to raise their record to 8-1.

Humboldt stopped the Hayward running attack cold. The Jacks held Hayward to a minus 5 yards rushing and to a mere 128 yards in total offense.

The Pioneers scored on a 49-yard punt return and on a four-yard pass.

Sophomore fullback Mike Cremer rushed for 100 yards in 14 carries. Cremer had a touchdown called back after a clipping penalty nullified the score.

CAL POLY OF POMONA

Junior Dave Banducci took over for injured Jim Costello at quarterback and did an excellent job as the Lumberjacks closed out their season with a 40-9 win over Cal Poly Pomona.

John Burman gained over 200 yards in the first half to break the school and conference season rushing records with a total of 1233 yards. Dave Banducci also set a conference record by kicking 9 field goals in one season. Burman also finished out the regular season by scoring two more touchdowns to up his point total to 96.

Danny Walsh played the second half in place of Burman, and gained 137 yards in 13 carries, including one 73 yard run for a TD.

All of the Bronco's scoring came by way of the toe of John Gabriel, as he booted three three-pointers in the first half.

This game closed out one of the most successful seasons in Lumberjack history, as they finished with nine wins and only one loss.

Congratulations to Coach Bud Van Deren and his staff, and good luck to the whole team in the Camellia Bowl Dec. 14.

"TOTAL TEAM EFFORT" says Coach Van Deren

"A total team effort." That was how Lumberjack head coach, Bud Van Deren summed up this year's successes. He added that there were some great performances by John Burman (Humboldt's candidate for Little All-American), but that it was still a total team effort. The men in Green and Gold won nine in a row after losing their season opener to the University of Hawaii, 34-20.

The Jacks forgot about that one and went on to whip Oregon Tech, 43-0; Sacramento State, 20-13; Central Washington, 50-0; UC Davis, 29-8; San Francisco State, 37-20; University of Nevada, 20-17; Chico State, 57-7; Cal State Hayward, 30-14; and Cal Poly Pomona, 40-9. Coach Van Deren continued by saying that "The win over Sacramento proved that we could beat the best." (Sac State was the pre-season pick to win the Far Western Conference, but finished second with a 4-2 record.) "The win over Nevada brought the team together, and gave them a great deal of pride in themselves."

"Practice has gone very well. The team showed a good attitude in practices, which were quite tough this year in that we did a lot of hitting. They showed a willingness to progress week by week throughout the whole season," said the Hilltop gridiron mentor.

Looking forward to the Camellia Bowl, Coach Van Deren stated that "Fresno has a strong running game, they hit well, and they have two fine quarterbacks in Hudson and Zimmerman. Fresno State will be the toughest opponent we have faced, but our team is confident of its best effort."

1968 FAR WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPS

IN ACTION

HSC's John Burman (33) picked up 20 yards on this play in the 1968 Homecoming Game against SF State. Humboldt won, 37-20.

Two members of Humboldt's outstanding defensive team, Jim McKay (64) and Chuck Giannini (60), tackle the Central Washington quarterback for a big loss in the Lumberjack's 50-0 win.

Sophomore fullback, Mike Cremer, (34) breaks up the middle on a successful draw play against San Francisco State.

Fleet halfback, Danny Walsh (22), outraces the SF defenders on a 24 yard TD run in this year's Homecoming triumph over SF State.

Jim Costello (10), the league's finest quarterback, prepares to hand off to John Burman (33) as Mike Cremer (34) and Frank Woolsey (62) lead the interference against Hayward. The final score was HSC-30, CSCH-14.

TIME OUT

by DON TERBUSH Times-Standard

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to the Sac State Hornet, in reply to the editorial written by Kerry Tucker, SSC Hornet Sports Editor. (See Pg. 2)

I can no longer tolerate the verbal diarrhea which constantly flows from the halls of "knowledge," known otherwise as Sacramento State College. An article entitled "Jock Talk" contained some rather interesting statements concerning Humboldt State College, and a member of our football team, specifically, halfback John Burman.

In this article, it was alleged that one Al Moss was burned in effigy here in Arcata, presumably Tuesday evening, November 19, by a group of "backwoods savages" after it was announced that Lyle James of Sac State had been selected as the Back of the Year by the Northern California Writer's Association. (Mr. Moss is the president of that group.) The reason for this alleged hanging and burning was the fact that Burman had not been selected for the honor.

First of all, students up here are mature enough to know that nothing is accomplished through infantile actions such as burning people in effigy. In other words, the hanging never took place! Could this alleged demonstration have been the brainchild of Sac State's man-in-charge-of-boasting-student-morale-when-it-is-at-a-low-ebb-because-their-team-wasn't-good-enough-to-be-selected-for-the-Camellia Bowl? Or was it written by someone who was mad because Humboldt State had beaten Sac State for the second year in a row (and then gone on to win the Far Western Conference crown, instead of Sac)? Only the author of the article knows the answer to that question.

I would like to congratulate Mr. James on winning the Back of the Year award; and while I don't mean to take anything away from him, I do feel that the article in "Jock Talk" made a rather uninformed (or just plain ignorant) statement. The statement to which I refer is: "Students claimed that their institution was ignored especially fleet-footed Lumberjack back John Burman, in the 'Back of the Year' honors. But down here in civilization (?) everyone knows Mr. Burman just wasn't good enough to oust the No. 1 choice, Lyle James."

Assuming that the selection committee for the honor was unable to observe every game played in the FWC, it seems only logical that they would have consulted a sheet of statistics to aid them in making a decision. (I am not questioning their decision, but am merely pointing out some facts which should be mentioned for the benefit of those Sac State students who felt that the "Jock Talk" article was based on fact.)

According to those statistics released by the FWC executive secretary on November 20, Humboldt State has won the FWC with a perfect 6-0 record; Sac State finished second with a 4-2 record. John Burman is a major contributor to HSC's unblemished conference record. In the scoring department, John Burman is leading with 16 touchdowns, or 84 points; second place is UCD's Howard Gravelle with 56 points (Sac State has no one in the top ten). In the rushing department, John Burman is leading with 1010 net yards gained; second place is Sac's John Scorza with 581 yards. In the passing department, Humboldt quarterback, Jim Costello, is in first place and Lyle James is in second place. Mr. James is leading in total offense with 1481 total yards; while Burman is third with 1247 total yards. However, everyone knows that it takes a lot more effort to run for better than 1200 yards, than it does to stand behind four men and throw a football more than 230 times.

Sac State may feel that they do possess the "Back of the Year," but we "backwoods savages" have enough mentality to know that emotion and jealousy are two ingredients which have to be kept out of judgment decisions; and therefore, must take the "Jock Talk" article for what it is worth, ABSOLUTELY NOTHING!

Sincerely,

Ken Lybeck
Sports Editor, HSC Lumberjack

P.S. I wonder how many students down in Superguvland realize that the Pasadena Bowl (Sac State vs. Grambling) means nothing, and that the Camellia Bowl determines one of the top four college teams in the nation? And are those same students also aware of the fact that West Texas State turned down a bid to the Pasadena Bowl because of a lack of "suitable competition" (i.e., Sac State).

Van Deren Joins Burman

By KEN LYBECK

Ed. Note: John Burman was overlooked by the NorCal Football Writers in the Back of the Year honors. Last week, HSC's head football coach, Frank "Bud" Van Deren, was passed over by that same group in the Coach of the Year (Northern California) balloting, in favor of UC Berkeley's Ray Willsey. Times-Standard Sports Editor, Don Terbush, wrote this reply in last Friday's (Nov. 29) Times-Standard. (Reprinted by permission.)

Not only has this year's Humboldt State eleven duplicated the feats of winning the Far Western Conference championship and obtaining a bowl bid, but again the architect of the masterpiece has been over-looked in the "Coach of the Year" balloting.

Eight years ago, if you will recall, Joe Verducci of San Francisco State was accorded the honor by the Northern California Football Writers. His Gators finished behind the Lumberjacks in the FWC race and he had a 6-3 or 7-2 record as contrasted to Phil Sarboe's 10-0.

HSC fans, to put it mildly, were infuriated. So incensed were the Lumberjack supporters that they strung up the writer's president - Roger Williams, then sports editor of the San Francisco News - in effigy. Telegrams, letters and telephone calls kept Williams hopping around like an ant on a hot griddle.

Williams was flown to Humboldt State to explain and apologize.

Eight years later the Bay Area scribes did it again. They selected California's Ray Willsey. His Bears compiled a yawn-provoking 6-2-1 record and a few short days later were scalped by the Indians of Stanford, 20-0, in the so-called Big Game.

Our quarrel, if it can be so labeled, is not with Willsey, a highly competent and personable individual, but with the grid chroniclers. If they are going to insist on calling their annual selection "Coach of the Year" in northern California they should begin to realize that northern California isn't confined to the bay area.

Granted, as Dave Beronio, sports editor of the Vallejo Times-Herald, pointed out, Humboldt State has never had representation at the writers' sessions. Thus, "it is generally a combination of factors - distance and disregard, if you will," that eliminates our North Coast coaches from the list of contenders. Enter Beronio again.

"We can't help but wonder now if the Humboldt Staters will string up this year's NorCal writers' president because of the slight done Van Deren."

"If they do, we'd like to see how they go about hanging a facsimile of this year's writers' president, Al Moss, of the San Francisco Chronicle."

"Al, you see, is the most sizeable of all the writers. He's larger in fact, than even the coaches.

"It would take a redwood of considerable size (We've got 'em) to accept a 'hanging' of our prez. It wouldn't be unusual, though, would it, to see Moss on a redwood tree?"

"If Humboldt State is planning on flying Al up to Arcata to publicly lash him for his organization's lack of awareness, they better send him two tickets... or charter a large plane."

"We wouldn't disagree with any complaint Humboldt State might lodge, because Van Deren has done a job worthy of recognition."

"The former Cal end star is in his third year at the Arcata school, and he's put pieces back together and made a winner again of the perennial losers. (Ed. note: HSC can hardly be tagged as a perennial loser in football, Dave.)"

"This is small compliment to pay performance worthy of greater applause, but we'd like to congratulate Van Deren - a one-time Santa Rosa JC star - for his success."

"This belated praise won't take the pressure off our President Moss, but at least the unhappy citizens of Arcata and Eureka might be a little less disposed to hanging him. In effigy, that is, of course."

Women's Team

By JILL McINTIRE

On the second of November, eleven members of the Humboldt State women's swim team and their coach, Mrs. Betty Partain participated in a tri-meet with U.C. Davis and Chico State at Chico. The three hour meet was conducted in a chilling rainstorm at the outdoor pool. Two swimmers from Humboldt, Andy Opalenik and Jill McIntire, had become sick with the flu the night before the meet.

The 200 yd. medley relay team of Mansfield, Neice, McIntire and Sisler pulled a come from behind first as did Betty Collister in her 25 yd. freestyle event.

At the Northern California College Championships held in Sacramento on the fifteenth of November, under similar weather conditions at a similar outdoor pool, Humboldt's 200 yd. medley relay team finished fifth, the 100 yd. freestyle and 200 yd. freestyle teams came in fourth and fifth, respectively.

Buy Sell or Swap

Want to buy, sell, or swap skis or ski equipment? On January 17 the HSC Ski Club will hold a Ski Swap at the Carson Memorial Building in Eureka. The purpose of the swap is to allow skiers to sell old equipment, buy used gear or trade items of mutual interest. Skiers are asked to keep the Swap in mind over the holidays and bring any gear they no longer want back up to school with them.

The regular meeting of the Ski Club will be held tonight, December 4, at 7:30 in EP 225. The January trip and the swap will be discussed.

ATHLETES-OF-WEEK

BRUCE NANCE

Defensive tackle, Bruce Nance has been selected as the Athlete of the Week for his outstanding play in the last home game against the Cal State Pioneers. He has been a steady performer all season long on a defensive unit which ranks as one of the top in the nation in rushing defense.

Bruce attended Glenville High School in Cleveland, Ohio, where he lettered in football, basketball, and track; and was active in Hi Y and Lettermen's Club. At College of the Sequoias in Visalia, California, he worked on the school paper and was a member of the lettermen's club.

He is majoring in social sciences and minoring in Health, and will get his Master's degree in that area before he begins teaching school at the elementary level.

In his spare time, Bruce enjoys listening to music and relaxing.

BOB SEAMAN

Bob Seaman, graduate of Arcata High School, is the co-Athlete of the Week for the Humboldt vs. Hayward football game, which was won by HSC to finish out the FWC season with a perfect 6 wins and 0 losses.

Bob is a defensive tackle who helped hold the CSCH ground game to a minus five yards; and has given the Lumberjacks the best rushing defense in the conference this year.

He attended Santa Rosa Junior College where he played football and baseball. This is his second year at Humboldt. Bob is majoring in Law (at HSC?) and minoring in Psychology. He presently has a 3.75 grade point average.

Upon graduation, he says that he wants to go on to law school in Berkeley and eventually become a corporation lawyer.

DAVE BANDUCCI

A native of Bakersfield, Dave Banducci felt right at home in the smog of Pomona when he took over at quarterback for injured Jim Costello, and led the Lumberjacks to a 40-9 win over the Cal Poly Broncos. The win gave HSC an overall record of 9-1, their best in eight years.

Dave spent his high school years at South High in Bakersfield and then went to Bakersfield College where he competed in football and swimming. For two years (1967-68) he was a member of the BC All-American swim team. Dave spent his spare time at BC as a Voluntary Student Teacher for an elementary school with no P.E. program.

A Physical Education major and Math minor, he will get a Master's degree before he returns to Bakersfield to coach and teach P.E.

DAVE ALBEE

One of the most consistent defensive players on the HSC football team is Dave Albee. Week after week, his name can be heard as one of those who made the tackle. Dave sees a lot of action at his position of defensive end, and his teammates feel that he is finally getting some of the credit due to him by being selected as an Athlete of the Week from the Cal Poly Pomona game.

A native of Miranda in southern Humboldt County, Dave played his high school ball at South Fork High. Besides playing football and basketball, he was also quite active in Key Club and Lettermen's Club.

This is Dave's junior year at Humboldt. He is majoring in History, and intends to get a credential to teach history at the high school level.

Hunting, fishing, and other outdoor activities occupy Dave's spare time.
