

LUMBERJACK DAYS OPEN

Chain vs Buck Kicks-off LJ Days

Who is HSC's best woodsman? The Lumberjack Days' logging events which start today at 12:45 p.m. may decide.

The first event will be an exhibition sawing contest between a chain saw and a double buck saw. The chain saw will be manned by Gil Wright, a professional feller who is now a math major here. Stan Hall, chairman for the logging events and his partner Walt Mobley will handle the double buck saw. This event will take place directly after the slave sale at the stump by the cafeteria.

Following this event the Paul Bunyan and "Bull of the Woods" events will start at 1 p.m. in the Redwood Bowl area.

Paul Bunyan competition involves two men boxing while standing on a log. The Bull of the Woods events consist of a single and double bucking contest, in which an axe is thrown for accuracy at a target, and chopping. A participant must chop through a log for time.

Another event is the pulp throw. A four man team must throw four logs bolts, each approximately three feet long, between two uprights, while being timed. "It is similar to a game of horseshoes," stated Hall.

The women's events which will also take place today include single and double bucking, axe throwing, match splitting, and log rolling on the ground. They will take place in the Redwood Bowl area and the woman who receives the highest number of points in the events will have the honor of "Belle of the Woods" bestowed upon her.

Tomorrow, May 18th, the logging events will start at 10 a.m. with log burling, (two men try to stay on a log while rolling it) and boom running, (logs are hooked end to end with swivels and participants run from log to log) at Fern Lake.

First, second, and third place winners of logging events will receive engraved plaques.

It is still not too late to enter the competition. Those wishing to participate may sign up with judges at the event area.

Lumberjack Sweepstakes Trophy Up For Grabs

by Doty Hessman

Is your team going to win the sweepstakes trophy on Saturday? Then plan to enter all the events--boom run, chariot race, log burling, bed race, tug-of-war, and greased pig contests. If so, hurry and form your Decathlon teams, consisting of ten members. These events are also open to individuals.

Burling and booming, the water events, will start at 10 at Fern Lake. In the burling contest, two men will compete against each other to stay on a floating log. The booming event, in which two contestants try to run as far as possible on a series of logs, will begin the next hour. The water events will be followed by the bed races in front of CES at 1:00.

The other events will be in the field west of the corporation yard. The first event, the Chariot Race, will begin at 2:00. The final group events will be the tug-of-war and the greased pig contest. The greased pig contest will be sponsored by the Tekes. If you have any further questions contact either Rich Hoffman or Rich Mangin at their home address.

Men, Women Dorm Visitation Rights Granted

Co-educational visitation was accepted by all but two floors in the dormitories, and although it was not used much the first weekend, it was dubbed a success by the housing department.

The third floor of Sunset Hall and the North wing of Redwood voted against the proposal, but can re-vote on the issue at any time.

Limitations to the plan include the following: visitations are to be by invitation only; visitations will be permitted only on Saturdays and Sundays between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.; doors must remain open with uniform door holders as provided by the College; and student officers for each floor must know the location of all members of the opposite sex on the floor.

The limitations also require that a standard sign-in form, detailing the name of the host, name of the visitor, clearance of the student officer responsible, and the approval of the host's roommate, be on file at the main desk of the residence hall.

The College reserves the right to cancel the program at any time and enforcement will be handled through each residence hall's Judicial Council.

No Plurality, ASB Run-off Tuesday

Only .33% away from a majority vote, Harold Hartman, senior forest-management major will meet Stan Dubee, junior business major, in a run-off election for ASB President on Tuesday, May 21.

Hartman received 49.68% of the 979 votes cast during elections held earlier this week, while Dubee received 20.82%. A majority, 50.01% will be needed in Tuesday's election.

Also on the run-off ballot will be Craig Richards and Craig Simmons, candidates for treasurer. Simmons tallied 48.99% of the votes while Richards received a close 48.16%. Again a majority is needed.

SLC Approves Budget For 1968 Frosh Camp

Rich Winnie, ASB Vice-President and Chairman of Frosh Camp made his budget appeal for Frosh Camp to the Student Legislative Council Tuesday night, while Don Crotty, SLC member resided.

Winnie requested $500, for what he felt was an improved and expanded frosh program. In defending his request, he pointed out the extensive training and time that has already been put out by the selected counselors, and the sacrifices they will have to make all through the summer and during Frosh camp itself.

Winnie explained that the program has expanded from two days to a full week, and the price dropped from a $13.50 fee to $8.00. "The reason for the drop in price," stated Winnie, "is we can't charge students for information they need to know."

major, who was unopposed on the ballot, received 92.82% of the votes cast for vice-president.

Five representatives-at-large were also elected. They are: David Bennett, Don Crotty, Ken Fulghan, Gary Jensen, and Judy Miller.

Chad Roberts, election commissioner, reported that 26.25% of the student body voted in this election. "Although this is less than last year's election, it is still a favorable turnout in comparison to other state college elections."

Polling areas in the CAC Lounge, Ed-Psych lobby, and Science Building will open to voters from 9-3 on Tuesday.

"The student body is benefiting. By lowering the price we are allowing more freshmen to participate. They'll be better informed and adjusted," said Winnie.

According to him, by making Frosh Camp longer they will be able to give more instruction of registration, and get the students better acquainted with HSC and its social activities.

SLC approved the $500 allocation to Frosh Camp.

Concerning another matter of the budget, SLC discussed the ASB President's request for a public relations budget of $200. With the argument running against it of being "out of the realm of the student body presidency" the council passed the motion to eliminate the public relations request.

Determination Goes Into A Modern Dance Concert

Staff Editorial

Speaker Hours

It has come to my attention that scheduling for speakers on this campus is becoming more difficult. With the quarter system as it is, there seems to be no time during a given week when a speaker can address the students without an excessive amount of conflict of times.

An unfortunate example is the demise of the Meet Your Prof series. At one such lecture there was a grand total of six students in the audience, counting myself and the MC. I asked myself: was poor attendance due to a lack of interest or conflict in times?

Lack of interest? The lecture was to have been "Big Brother: Friend or Foe?" by Jack Shaffer of the Psychology Department. According to Dr. Shaffer, the talk was to have been a critical analysis of the student publication, Big Brother. Certainly a talk like this, by such a man as this, could not be so valueless as to attract only four students. How many of the students who couldn't attend would have, had there been no conflict in times?

The fact that other Meet Your Prof lectures have been successful is an indication that this type of series has value. Should such a series die on the vine because there cannot be a time when there is no conflict?

I support the proposal that at least two hours a week be set aside to allow for lectures, meetings, rallies, etc. during which times no classes will be held. This would allow the student to become more involved in the college community and would benefit the educational process.

Certain members of the faculty are pushing for this measure and with the students support it could become a reality.

In addition, I propose that the Meet Your Prof series be "beefed-up" with more controversial and pertinent subjects. It has been suggested that a panel of faculty members and students discussing topics of greater relevance to the college and the world would help to stimulate interest. Judging from the success of the recent "Man's Search for Fulfillment" panel discussion, this idea could prove to be a good one. T.S.

Dr. Strahan Elected To Chair Academic Senate

The Academic Senate here took no action on the controversial Position Paper of the State Academic Senate at last Thursday's meeting. The five-page policy statement, entitled "Politics in Higher Education," accused the state legislature of interference in academic affairs. Senate members, though generally in agreement with it, feared that the charge was a bit too strongly worded.

The Senate gave its formal approval, in principle, to plans for implementation of a Disadvantaged Students Program here on campus. Such a program would provide for the admission of socially and economically disadvantaged students, equalling two per cent of the student body, who would not otherwise be eligible for admission.

The Senate also elected new officers. Dr. Donald Strahan was made chairman, and Dr. Alva Gillespie vice chairman, while Dr. Glenda Richter was retained as secretary. Named to the Senate Appointments Committee were Dr. Roscoe Peithman and Dr. Jean Stradley. The new alternate representative to the State Academic Senate will be Dr. Robert Dickerson.

McCarthy's Politics Presented

"McCarthy has introduced a new politics, a straightforward, direct and honest approach, which has struck a responsive chord in millions of Americans," said Gerald Hill, Co-Chairman of the California McCarthy Campaign, last Thursday to an audience of approximately 100 students in the CAC.

Hill, who is also president of the California Democratic Club, stated that the whole set of American institutions have gotten out of touch with the mass of American people and that McCarthy seems to be the only candidate with the courage to buck the old machine-type politics and hit right at the source of these problems.

"McCarthy has been the only candidate with courage enough to take on those three sacred cows of the American scene; the CIA, the FBI and the Draft," stated Hill. Senator McCarthy has pledged to rectify this situation."

Mr. Hill then praised the new group of college students who have played such a unique role in McCarthy's campaign up to this point. Describing them as from "a generation far more attuned to the problems of their times than any generation in the past," Hill went on to say that with their door to door style of informative campaigning, the students had played an extremely important role in McCarthy's past successes and would continue to do so through the Oregon and California campaigns.

Hill stated that disenchantment with the government had been steadily growing due to the Viet Nam war and the rising tide of domestic problems.

"People have begun to increasingly distrust the administration, as official statement after official statement has been shown to be false or slanted. Senator McCarthy, with his new style of directness and honesty can restore the stability and faith in our government which this country needs and deserves," stated Hill.

Mr. Hill concluded by predicting that McCarthy would win the Oregon and California primaries, and that he would enter the national convention in a three way tie for delegate votes with Kennedy and Humphrey.

Following his speech, Mr. Hill answered a number of questions from the audience, most of them concerning McCarthy's voting record and the type of people involved in his organization.

Tutorial Program Shows Involvement

by John H. Woods

With some 200 college students participating, Community Involvement has made its greatest gains on this campus during the 1967-68 academic year. Under the Tutorial Program over 11,390 man hours have been expended by HSC students. Starting as a small group of 11 concerned individuals the program has initiated work in the Manila, Arcata, Sunnyside, Blue Lake, McKinleyville, and Eureka areas.

The newest project was begun four weeks ago at McKinleyville. Four students now staff the school library on Tuesday evenings, helping students to use the facility, write papers, discuss college and career opportunities and most other areas related to high school years. This is the first high school library to open its facilities and the success of this venture, will, in part, determine whether or not other schools will initiate similar projects.

In Manila, where a closed school has been opened two nights a week, the program has made its biggest effort. With 78 tutors last quarter and 64 this quarter, the program has attempted to bring educational experiences, aid in school work, and personal human concern to the children of that community. The program in Manila has been floundering due to the large numbers participating; inadequate administration and coordination, and lack of help from the college community, school system, and the Manila-Arcata area at large. Lack of understanding has centered upon the fear of minor economic loss to the exclusion of community need and student effort. Faced with closure of the school the program has drastically restricted its activities, thus excluding those children most in need of help and disorienting and alienating the college students with the continually tightening demands. As it now stands, we are operating little more than a two hour addition to school each Tuesday and Thursday.

Even with these roadblocks, however, our rather inept beginning is showing itself to be of value. In school work, "social grace," expressiveness, and budding interests; Manila tutorial has started to provide at least one enjoyable and productive outlet for the natural and abundant talents of Manila children.

Planning for next year is my major concern now. A new title has been given the program, Youth Educational Services, so that its functions will not be misinterpreted. Y.E.S. will hold its first organizational meeting Saturday, May 18 at 1:00 in Room 5 of the CAC. It is hoped that new administrators will appear at this time. With enough leadership, our experience, and increased budget, Community Involvement will become even more significant next year.

Books For Vietnam Drive In Last Stages

by Al Steen

The sight was frightening. Thousands upon thousands of books, paper backs, and magazines spilling over from almost a hundred mutilated boxes and paper bags greeted members of the Veterans Club last Saturday morning at the Arcata Veteran's Hall.

The publications, the result of the Vets Club's "Books for Viet Nam" campaign, were collected from McKinleyville to Eureka over the last three months. The object Saturday was to separate and rebox them for the long voyage overseas.

"If it wasn't for the fervor, dedication, and a couple of cases of beer, we would have never finished," commented one of the members.

Most plentiful were the paperbacks filling up two 16 cubic foot boxes and many smaller ones. The largest single publication was the Reader's Digest which filled up one 16 foot box and a few smaller ones. General interest magazines made up the rest. Dated news and consumer magazines were taken to the college library, and specialized publications were taken to the dump. Approximately 5,000 pounds of reading material were boxed.

Said one veteran holding out the centerfold of a vintage copy of Playboy, "To some the sacrifice must have been very great."

The boxes, donated by Arcata Freight and Express and Crescent Moving and Storage, will now be trucked to Centerville for dispersal by the military services overseas.

Psychology Club is Formed

Students from the Psychology Department have recently formed a Psychology Club to arrange for important speakers in this field to speak to members, and to promote interest in Psychology at Humboldt.

Ben Wallace has been elected as the club's president.

Membership is open to anyone interested in attending. Meetings are held Fridays at noon in Room 119 of the Education-Psychology Building.

Two HSC Professors Receive Teacher Awards

Dr. Louise Watson, professor of physical education, and Frank Watson, assistant professor of business, were named recipients of the 1968 Distinguished Teacher awards at Humboldt State College, according to President Cornelius H. Siemens.

The awards were unanimously awarded by a faculty awards committee to the HSC Academic Senate. Both will receive awards of $500. Presentation of the honors is scheduled to be made at the college's commencement exercises on June 7.

Dr. Louise Watson has been a member of the faculty since 1953. She teaches courses in the Division of Health and Physical Education, and has been chairman of the women's department of the division for several years.

Dr. Watson has served in the college's Academic Senate and was this year's elected president of the General Faculty. She earned her doctoral degree from the University of Oregon in 1952. She has also been a high school instructor, U.S. Navy Wave Officer, and a camp director. A resident of Arcata, she maintains membership in several physical education and recreation associations.

She was nominated because of her natural tendency to identify with students' personal and physical interests. Her enthusiasm and energy combined with a general liking for students has led to effective programs of action which have improved women's physical education in this region, her nomination stated.

Dr. Watson was completely surprised by the nomination. "It puts a great deal of pressure on me to improve my teaching," she said.

Working with students has given her pleasure and satisfaction. "The learning atmosphere of a college is personally stimulating," Dr. Watson stated, "I enjoy it very much."

Frank Watson joined the HSC staff in 1965, after completing work for a master's degree at HSC. His master's thesis, "The Business Curriculum in a Liberal Arts Environment," was published as a monograph and distributed at the 1965 national meeting of the Association of American Collegiate Schools of Business.

Watson's teaching specialty is business law. The nomination cites him as "an unusually gifted teacher." It is further stated in the nomination that ordinary business law courses which are usually boring are made interesting and stimulating by Watson.

He is further praised for his master's seminar in business policy, which is the most sought after graduate course in business.

Prior to his graduate work at HSC, Watson retired from a career of nearly 30 years at government and industrial posts.

KHSC Saturday Programs Aired

Every Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. KHSC-FM presents Saturday at State, a weekly FM program segment featuring music and entertainment for the entire family.

At 4 p.m. Don Graham comes your way with selected taped interviews of various Hollywood and show business personalities, such as Bill Cosby, The 5th Dimension, Louis Armstrong and many more.

Join Terry Shores at 7 p.m. and stay tuned to the FM sound of 90.5 until 1 a.m.

During Terry's six hour program the request line is always open. Terry also is experimenting with a new aspect of radio programming, called "The Joke Session." This is where the listening audience is invited to phone in a favorite joke that is taped and played back at a later time during the course of the program.

Marine Science Eyes Sea Grants

The Marine Science Coordinating Committee of Humboldt State College has suggested that HSC participate in the National Sea Grant Program at the project level.

The committee, composed of Drs. Richard Genelly, David Lauck, Roscoe Peithman and Richard Riedenhorn is soliciting project proposals and suggests that the proposals be reviewed by the Research and Creative Activity Committee.

Guidelines for the submission of proposals are available in the Biological Science, Natural Resources and Physical Science division offices and in the Academic Affairs Office.

Deadlines for the receipt of proposals in Washington, D.C. are as follows: by January for funds needed in June-July; in April for September-October and in September for January-February.

Congressman Don Clausen announced earlier this year that there was a possibility that Humboldt might participate in the Sea Grant proposals if certain requirements were met.

SLC Awards 1968 Concessions To Knights

Intercollegiate Knights were awarded their bids for three concessions in the 48-49 football season at Tuesday night's meeting of the Student Legislative Council.

The IK's bid for the food concessions was 40% profit for the ASB and 40% for themselves. The profits from the popcorn wagon and the cushion rentals will be divided 40% to the ASB and 60% to the IK's.

The sale of the programs was awarded to the Lumberjack Letterman's Club over the Forestry Clubs bid of 70%-30%. The Lettermen proposed the possibility of providing football fans with an eight page program complete with pictures and writeups. The pro-

Housewives Not Wasted

Is the educated housewife wasted? A final count proved the majority attending the second debate of a series for this quarter did not think so.

Scotty Reed and Eric Oyster debated in favor of the proposition: "Resolved, that Educated Housewives are Wasted," because this education is not wisely used, and it is very costly to the state. In turn, women could be used to fill the "unemployment gap."

Bill Busch and Don Pepin emphasized the importance of the housewife in raising the children and managing the house as well as her role as a "more well-informed citizen."

Don Pepin elaborated on the role of a housewife as a business and financial manager. This is an important fact in today's society where most of the buying is done by the women. Also the women as citizens compose "51%" of the electorate.

As the debate moved to the audience emotions became charged. In the final count, 57 thought that housewives were wasted and 75 did not concur with that opinion.

Tie For 1st In Poetry Contest

Steve Phipps and Leroy Rakestraw received $110.00 each as winners of the annual Dorothy Kerr poetry contest, according to Mike Jayne, director of the contest and HSC english instructor.

There was no second place winner due to the first place tie.

Jim Linn received the third place award of $30. Priss Waldvogel, Virginia Earle, David Winslow and Tom Moreland were each awarded an honorable mention of $10.

The contest began over ten years ago, according to Jayne, by Dorothy Kerr of Korb. The contest has become a tradition at HSC with a luncheon held to honor the winners. Dr. Siemens spoke at this year's luncheon held last Thursday. This year there were 172 pages of poetry submitted by 38 poets. Judges were HSC english faculty members Dr. Richard Day, Harold Bragen and Robert Burroughs.

gram would be printed in conjunction with the HSC News Bureau. The winning bid allowed 75% of the profit for ASB and 25% for the Lettermen.

In other action, SLC voted to lease six IBM electric typewriters for student use in the library. If the use of these machines proves beneficial, more may be leased during the year.

ASB will lease the typewriters at a charge of around $11 each per month, and each student will be charged 10c per hour on a coin operated basis. The machines will be available in September of '68.

Miss Jeannie Brown, rep-at-large announced to SLC the national results of the Choice '68 elections. The winners were McCarthy, Kennedy and Rockefeller, in that order. She also reported that the results of the voting on the HSC campus have not been received. If they are received in time, the results will be announced in next week's issue of the Lumberjack.

Readers Dream The Days' Events

"Under Milk Wood," a play for voices, will be presented by the HSC Readers Theater on May 19, at 8:15 p.m. in Sequoia Theater.

"Under Milk Wood" takes place during a 24 hour period. It begins with people dreaming and then runs through a full day until they go back to bed. The action takes place in a small Welsh town where everyone knows everyone else. Twenty students, each reciting the part of more than one person, will perform.

Track Planned

Humboldt State's Intramural Program will sponsor a track and field meet for students that did not compete in intercollegiate track or cross country May 22 and 23.

Professor Bush Explains Drug Use

For the past several months Charles L. Bush, philosophy instructor and assistant to the Dean of Students, has been working on a study entitled, "Causes and Implications of Drug Use Among College Students."

Concerning the reasons for his study Mr. Bush states, "Through contact with student users in the past, I have seen the obvious distinction between what has been written about drug users and what they actually are like. Almost all media coverage of drugs and drug users has been negative and of a frequently weird and sensationalist variety. On the other hand there has been a noticeable lack of any research and data in this area, particularly when dealing with the question of why people use them."

Since beginning his research, Mr. Bush has attended a number of conferences throughout the state and has distributed over one hundred questionnaires to drug users.

Subsequent analysis of the results of these questionnaires has determined the direction and scope of yet another study. This one will be much more lengthy and detailed and will involve between three to four hundred drug users.

The results of this study will then be fed into the "Drug Abuse Information Project" at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. This will be done in conjunction with similar such studies taking place throughout the state. Ultimately the project will be published and should do much to give a more clear and accurate picture of drug use and abuse and the underlying motivations behind them.

Mr. Bush further states, "In my opinion, the public has been subjected to a kind of massive scare campaign because of the publicity over growing use of drugs. What has been written for popular circulation is uniformly misleading and inaccurate with everybody crying "fire" and few people attempting to do anything to find out what's happening."

Mr. Bush's initial survey of over 100 questionnaires dealt with two basic questions:

1. Why do you smoke marijuana, take LSD or use amphetamines?
2. What has changed about you and your relationship to others since you started using any or all of these drugs?

Users were divided into two groups: regular users and occasional users.

The study showed that there seemed to be at least five sets of motivating circumstances which lead to the use of drugs with varying frequency, briefly:

1. Pleasure, either immediate or long term.
2. Constructive restructuring of personality.
3. Peer group association, drug use is becoming socially acceptable and normal behavior to an increasing number of college students.
4. Problem solving, when drugs are used in an attempt to resolve perceived personal and social problems.

5. Escape from problems and pressures, either temporarily or as in the case of the problem drinker, as much of the time as possible.

In regards to motives it was found that the marijuana and LSD user is most likely to be first motivated by peer group association, and if he becomes a regular user, he must have learned to identify his experience as pleasurable. Very few used marijuana as a therapeutic device and few used it for restructuring of their personalities. Most simply used it for a relaxant and gentle social escape, much as alcohol is commonly used. Finally there were a few who used the drug much as a problem drinker uses alcohol, as a constant attempt at escape from the trouble and problems of reality.

In the case of LSD, it was discovered that "acid" is seldom taken just for the kicks like marijuana but rather for the therapeutic or constructive restructuring qualities that the individual hoped to gain through its use.

Amphetamines, on the other hand, have long been used by college students to provide extra drive and energy to study or to complete some other lengthy or tiring task. More recently however, larger doses are being used to produce an experience which some perceive as pleasurable. It should be noted that such abuse can lead to severe physical and mental disorders.

Mr. Bush summarized his study by saying that perhaps the most important consequence which follows from drug use, come from laws regarding marijuana which do not in fact reflect the low abuse potential of the drug and treats marijuana as though it were different than other regulated but not prohibited drugs, when in fact it is not. Young people increasingly view themselves as criminals under the law, although they recognize that no harm follows from their actions. The result is increasing alienation from that legal and social structure which supports misordered laws. Putting these laws in order could well be an important step in the direction of reintegrating a seriously split culture.

Kinetic Art On Display

Kinetic Art, the art of forms in motion, will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered at HSC. Speaking will be Fletcher Benton, considered to be one of the most important leaders in this new field of art.

Glenn Berry, associate professor of arts at HSC, explained something of the nature and history of Kinetic Art to a Lumberjack staff member.

"In the 19th century the arts were in a class by themselves. The artist stuck to painting, sculpture and the other traditional fields and materials. With the coming of the 20th century the arts began to spread out and diversify. Artists looked to industry and scientific technology for new mediums and materials to work with. Out of this search for new modes of expression Kinetic Art was born.

In Kinetic Art the image that is presented to the eye is not static but is continuously changing. This is done by employing electrical energy or, in some cases, the simple power of wind."

A selection of work by Fletcher Benton is currently on display in the art building gallery. Benton graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. He has taught at California College of Arts and Crafts, San Francisco Art Institute and San Jose State College.

His works have been displayed at over 40 different exhibits since 1961 including the New York World's Fair, Los Angeles County Museum, Philadelphia Museum of Art and the Carnegie International Exhibition. In 1966 the magazine "Art of America" selected him as New Talent, U.S.A. Benton will deliver his lecture, including a color film on Kinetic Art, on Friday, May 17 at 8:00 p.m. in Sequoia Theater.

Special Education Boosts Offerings For Next Year

The training of teachers for educationally handicapped children was discussed at last Thursday's Curriculum Committee meeting. A favorable vote concluded the discussion by the committee on a proposal that will add four new classes to the Education Curriculum.

Dr. Donald Mahler, a new faculty member in special education, presented the proposal to the Curriculum Committee and answered the Committee's questions.

The proposal was approved unanimously without amendment.

In other actions, the Committee referred a proposal from the History Department back to the Social Sciences Division for their approval. The proposal would change the general education pattern in History.

According to Dr. Joseph Trainor, Chairman of the Curriculum Committee, the History change would remove the level 11 alternate in the present catalog.

The referral of the proposal came at the request of the request of the Social Sciences Division representative to the Committee, Mrs. Kathryn Corbett. The reason given for the referral was the absence of Division approval of the proposal.

Indian Way of Life Explained To Students

by Vicki Humphry

Twelve students from Dr. Jack Shaffer's psychology of prejudice class attended a field trip to Hoopa on May 3 to become familiar with the Indians of this area who comprise the county's largest minority group.

They talked with various people concerned with Indian affairs and became acquainted with the Indian's history, customs, ceremonies and artifacts.

An anthropologist, Mr. Kenneth Martin, who is manager of the Hoopa Valley Business Council, gave them some general information on the Hoopa area.

Mr. Latham, from the Bureau of Indian Affairs, presented a perspective of the bureau, and its role in the Indian's life. He mentioned that it is regarded with some ambivalence, in spite of the services it renders, because of its control over the use of tribal lands.

At Hoopa High School students talked with the school's principal, Mr. Robert Burcell. Mr. Burcell is concerned with the assimilation of the Indian. He feels the day of the red man is over, and that the Indian must become a white man if he wants to be successful.

Mrs. Elsie Rickles, who is active in Indian affairs, conducted a tour of the reservation and explained the customs and religion of the Hoopa Indian. She expressed her views that the traditional Indian ways should not be forgotten, but preserved because of the value she feels they have for the Indian in regard to his attitude and way of living.

Dr. Shaffer would like to make a trip of this sort again, and says he sees possibilities for greater collaboration between the college and the Indians. They could be beneficial in areas of social science research, and because they are our largest disadvantaged group, could possibly be encouraged to further their educations and make better lives for themselves.

Jacks Skip Cellar, Win 2 at Sonoma

Faced with the possibility of finishing in the league cellar Humboldt State's baseballers came alive and snapped a 12-game losing streak as they demolished Sonoma State 17-0 and 12-0 in a Far Western Conference twin-bill last Saturday at Sonoma.

The doubleheader was the last games of the season for the Lumberjack nine. They finished with a league record of 4-10 and an overall mark of 16-16. Sacramento breezed past Davis last weekend to displace the Jacks as the FWC champions.

"It was an excellent showing by the boys," remarked Coach Ced Kinzer on the team's efforts.

"We were never at complete strength this year. Injuries, the Army, and a death in the family hurt us a lot," stated Kinzer on the Jacks season.

"We lost our momentum after the San Francisco series and never regained it," added Kinzer.

Against the Cossacks Humboldt could do no wrong. They banged out 27 hits and scored 29 runs for the two games. Southpaw Billy Wilkinson returned to his old form as he fashioned a two-hit shutout over the hosts in the seven-inning opener. Bob Whittaker followed the lefty with a two-hit shutout of his own in the nine-inning nightcap.

HSC's little third baseman, Joe Wong, collected five hits in as many trips and second sacker, Marshall Falgout, went four-for four to pace the Jack's victory in the first game.

The Green and Gold first drew blood when singles by Wong, Mel Shuman, and a sacrifice fly netted the visitors a run. The Jacks added two more in the second on a walk to Wilkinson, a single by Wong, an error, and centerfielder Keith Ayala's one-base hit.

Singles by shortstop Bob McAllister, Captain Dick Hanley, Falgout and a fielder's choice along with a double by Wong scored three more for the Lumberjacks in the third.

In the sixth frame Humboldt exploded for six runs. A single by Wong coupled with an error set the stage for Ayala's three-run four-master. Two bases on balls, singles by Hanley, Falgout, Wilkinson, and Wong finished the inning's uprising. The Jacks closed out the games scoring with three runs in the seventh.

In the second game HSC again picked up an early lead. The Jacks scored four in the first inning on an error, and interference call on the Cossack catcher, a two-run single by first baseman Paul Jackson and a two-bagger by Frank Maltagliati.

Humboldt pushed a long score across in the second on consecutive doubles by Wong and Whittaker. In the third frame "Maytag" sent a Sonoma pitch 400-feet into deep centerfield for a one-run blast.

Two tallies were scored in the fourth and one in the sixth. The third inning saw three runs cross the plate for the Jacks which featured Ayala's two-run single. Ayala collected 10 rbi's over the two games with Sonoma.

Seniors who played their last baseball game for HSC were: Ayala, Ron Dias, Falgout, Hanley, Maltagliati, Tom Patmore, Tom Thomsen, Whittaker, and Wilkinson.

"Next year we'll have a new eager group. We will have to start all over again and we will have all of the incentive in the world. We'll have more depth and our pitching should be improved," stated Kinzer.

"We will have a lot more speed next year. This year we didn't have enough," the coach commented.

Probably our highlight of the season was when we played the University of California and beat them and then in the same weekend took a doubleheader from San Francisco. Wilkinson's four-hit against California was his best game ever and one of the team's best," remarked Kinzer.

'Waterland By Night' Theme For Water Ballet

by Jan Foye

"Waterland By Night" will be the theme for this year's annual Water Show being presented by the Women's Recreation Association May 24th and 25th.

The water show, which is being put on for the enjoyment of the general public, will include a wide variety of numbers, ranging from solos and duets to a routine featuring 18 swimmers in perfect synchronization.

Synchronized swimming, which is also called water ballet, could probably best be described as two or more swimmers co-ordinating their movements as gracefully and effortlessly as possible to a set rhythm. This type of swimming takes a great deal of strength, skill and timing because each swimmer must be in perfect time with the others as well as the music.

Music for the program will range from classical selections to the modern sounds of groups like the Baja Marimba Band, with each musical piece reflecting the mood of the routine.

Some of the highlights of the program will be: a routine where the scene is darkness, broken only by shimmering lights as the swimmers perform a variety of patterns in the water creating the illusion of floating stars and twirling spheres, and a number with the swimmers performing stunts around a floating pot of fire.

For each number, the swimmers will be wearing colorful costumes to represent the theme of the routine. A variety of materials will be used for the costumes, including nylon, lace, polished cotton and muslin. These lightweight materials will not restrict the swimmer's movements and water will flow through them readily. In addition, sequins, artificial flowers, braid and other types of jewelry and beads will be worn as part of some of the costumes.

Each swimmer will also be wearing waterproof makeup in addition to his or her costume in keeping with the particular theme of the routine he or she is doing.

Water Show Production is an actual class at HSC in which members of the class are required to work on various committees in preparation for the Water Show and/or participate in the swimming events. It is a three unit class and meets the general education drama requirement.

This year there will be four performances of the water show with the first three scheduled for Friday May 24. The first show will begin at 10:00 a.m. followed by a performance at 1:30 p.m. and an evening performance at 8:00. The last performance will be the following evening at 8:00.

Price of admission for the evening performances will be $1.00 for adults, 25¢ for children under 12, and 50¢ for HSC students with student body cards.

Deem 'Streets' Booo-you-tiful

by Richard Varenchik

Sequoia Masque has presented Humboldt State College with another outstanding theatrical production. The staging of Dion Boucicault's "Streets of New York" was excellent in nearly every aspect.

Jessie Whitmore gave a weak performance as Lucy and John Capps might have been a little more convincing as Mr. Bloodgood. Other than this the acting was quite fine. Particularly good were Judith Shogren as Alida and Fritz Folkerts as Badger. James Spalding gave a sterling performance as the butler, Edwards.

Sound, lighting and set were blended to perfection by director Bill Smith. The audience was so caught up in the production that they were dutifully hissing the villain and cheering the hero before the play had reached the half way point.

Particularly worthy of note were the costumes that Jean Young and her staff had created. They were well done and obviously had taken hours of work. Make-up, as always in Sequoia Masque productions, was superb.

Reasons For Absences Asked

Bulletin from Counseling Center

The staff of the Counseling Center feels it is the responsibility of the student to notify the professors of the reasons for prolonged absences such as hospitalization or lengthy illness. Direct contact between student and professor will facilitate communication as to the reasons for the absence and what make-up work may be required. Therefore we urge the students to be responsible for the contact and not use the Counseling Center as a go between. Only in extreme cases do we feel justified in intervening in the student-professor relationship.

Coed Track Shows at SJ

by Ellen Gardner

Humboldt's women's track team made an excellent showing last weekend at San Jose. They hope to do as well this coming weekend at HSC's Annual Invitational Track Meet.

The team entered only six events at San Jose and still won an overall third place. There were fourteen schools participating in the meet.

Individual honors went to Cinda Van Duzer who won the Most Outstanding Track Award. She placed first in the 440 yard and 880 yard runs. She also ran the anchor leg for Humboldt's first place 880 yard medley relay team.

Pat Susan took first in the javelin with a throw of 118'1". She also ran for the relay team and placed fourth in the discus.

Janet Niece took a fifth in the 220 yard dash and a fourth in the 440 yard run. In addition, she had a place on the winning relay team. Terry Baxter placed third in the high jump.

Barbara Perkins placed fifth in the 80 meter hurdles and was fourth member of the relay team. Shirla Perkins placed sixth in the 440 yard run and took a third in the 880 yard run.

Other members of the team that will participate this weekend are Pat Wold, Lynn Forson, Sherry Miles, Kim Brown and Georgia Becker.

Humboldt State is hosting eight schools for this weekend's meet. They are San Jose State, Chico State, U.C. at Davis, Stanford University, Sonoma State, University of Nevada, Shasta Junior College and Southern Oregon College.

HSC placed first in the meet last year. They hope to successfully defend their title for the coming event.

Events to be held are as follows: 50 yard dash, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, 70 and 200 yard hurdles, 440 yard relay, discus, shot put, high jump, long jump and the javelin.

Coaching this year's team is in the hands of Dr. Louise Watson, and Miss Lynn Warner. Dr. Watson is the head of the Women's Physical Education Department. Miss Warner is a graduate student in Physical Education.

Baseball's Keith Ayala Chosen MVP

Centerfielder Keith Ayala was chosen last Tuesday, the Most Valuable Player for the Humboldt baseball squad of 1968.

Shortstop Bob McAllister and second baseman Marshall Falgout tied for the Most Inspirational Player award. Falgout was also chosen as Mr. Hustle. All three players will receive miniature gold baseballs.

Bob Whittaker was picked Most Valuable Pitcher. He was given the Bob Kesley Memorial Award. The late Mr. Kesley pitched for the Jacks in 1954.

Inconsistent Play Mars Humboldt Golf Season

"Our season was characterized by inconsistency," was the statement made by Golf Coach "Frammy" Givins as he described the season performance of his squad after the FWC Championships at YOLO Fliers Country Club in Woodland on May 2-4.

Entering the championships with an overall record of 3-4 in dual meet competition the Lumberjacks placed fifth out of a field of eight teams, Chico and Sac. State tied for first place honors with identical team records of 609. Cal State Hayward was second with a score of 614; Nevada was fourth with 615; Humboldt and S.F. State tied for fifth place honors with team scores of 645 each while Sonoma State brought up the rear with a score of 680. U.C. Davis was disqualified.

Larry Babica had the lowest total score for two rounds with 154. Mike Cloney turned in a 161 for his two rounds while Dennis McMannis, Jim Guy and Gary Crooks reported scores of 167, 168, and 185 respectively.

Coach Givins reported: "We didn't do as well as we had hoped. We didn't all play well at the same time. We had a disappointing season but next year they'll all have had one more year of experience. Next season 6 out of 7 of the men on the squad will be returning."
