Department of Music Concert This Weekend

The HSU Department of Music presents its first Faculty Artist Series concert of the season. The Welcome Concert features expressive and melodic works for solo classical guitar, operatic and early twentieth century theater songs for voice and piano, the deep, rich tonality of the theme and variations movement of the Brahms String Sextet in B-flat Major, and the Timbata percussion sextet, playing a Cuban inspired fusion of dance music, rumba, and funk that will have the audience dancing in their seats. $10 General, $5 Senior/Child, $5 for HSU students with ID.

WE'RE HIRING!

The College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences is looking to employ two students in the College office to assist with website updates and maintenance, and producing our College newsletter! These are two great opportunities for students with experience using web development software or publishing software who are looking for flexible, part-time employment. Please share this with students who might be interested. To apply, students should email their résumé to Lauren Lynch at lsr4@humboldt.edu. A first review will be on Wednesday, September 14, 2016.

2016-2017 Staff Recognition Awards Nominations

September is the time to nominate an outstanding staff member for a 2016-2017 Staff Recognition Award.

Nominations should be submitted using the online nomination form. For more details and a link to the form, see:

<http://www.humboldt.edu/president/nominations>

Submissions will be accepted until noon, Friday, September 30, 2016.

For questions, contact Joy Finney, 3311 or joy.finney@humboldt.edu.

Nominations for 2016/2017 Distinguished Faculty Awards

On behalf of the HSU University Senate, the Faculty Awards Committee is pleased to announce the solicitation of nominations for the following faculty awards:

Excellence in Teaching Award– Lecturer
 Excellence in Teaching Award– Tenure-line faculty
 Scholar of the Year
 Outstanding Service Award
 Outstanding Professor Award

Nominees must meet the eligibility criteria specified for the award for which they are nominated (see <http://www.humboldt.edu/aavp/FacultyAwards>). We encourage you to nominate an eligible candidate by submitting a letter of nomination summarizing the nominee's outstanding qualities along with the required supporting evidence provided by the nominee (see <http://www.humboldt.edu/aavp/NominationGuidelines>). Faculty may also nominate themselves. The letter of nomination and supporting evidence are to be sent electronically via email to Lura.Holtkamp@humboldt.edu in the Office of Academic Affairs by 5 p.m., December 1, 2016. If you need assistance with submitting your nomination, please call Lura at x5083 or at Siemen's Hall 216.

Because putting together an effective nomination dossier places a certain burden on the nominee, please be sure to notify the nominee well in advance of the deadline. If possible, nominators should share the responsibility of gathering letters from students, colleagues, etc. in support of the nomination.

Based on the nomination letter and other supporting evidence, the Committee will select the nominees whose contributions reflect superiority with regard to the criteria set forth by the HSU Academic Senate. The Committee's decisions will be forwarded to the Academic Senate for its consideration at the Senate meeting of March 7, 2017 and then forwarded to the President for conferral of awards.

TERRORISM: AS AMERICAN AS APPLE PIE

September 27, 2016

Van Duzer Theatre • 5:00 pm

Free and open to HSU Students, Faculty, Staff & the Community. Small, informal reception to follow.

Is terrorism an international problem, or does the United States have its own tradition of domestic violence? Is homegrown terrorism a new phenomenon, or is it deeply embedded in our history? Must terrorism exclusively originate from those who challenge governmental policies, plan revolutionary violence, and act upon their feelings of hate, fear, and intolerance? Or can our nation's long history of violent and racist policies also be construed as acts of terror committed against its own people?

A "yes" answer to any of these questions requires an historical examination of violence in the U.S. When thinking historically, we can better understand how and why some acts of violence in our past may more appropriately be called acts of terror.

Call for Papers from the Humboldt Journal of Social Relations

Diversity and Social Justice in Higher Education

This special issue of the Humboldt Journal of Social Relations (HJSR) captures work and experiences in higher education as they relate to changes and challenges around diversifying U.S. college campuses. Race, class, gender, sexuality, able-bodiedness, and citizenship shape contemporary conversations about campus climate, curricular content, organizational structures, decision making and the disparate impacts of related policy changes or stagnation. These conversations shape the everyday experiences of faculty and staff, and ultimately are linked to student success.

Submission Deadline: October 31, 2016

Authorship: Authors are encouraged to collaborate with other faculty and staff members across their university and across campuses involved with diversity projects, particularly as they relate to campus culture and climate, retention, and student success. Interdisciplinary submissions are welcome.

Manuscript Submission:

1. Manuscripts should be in 12 point font, double spaced and generally not exceed 8500 words. To facilitate blind review, authors should incorporate a cover page that includes an article title, author contact information, a biographical statement of 75 words or less, and an abstract of 150 words or less. Format citations, tables, figures and references using American Sociological Association style.
2. Email hjsr@humboldt.edu with a message subject "HJSR: Diversity" and attach your manuscript in .doc or.docx format.
3. Submission implies commitment to publish in HJSR. Authors should not simultaneously submit to another journal. Manuscripts should not have been published elsewhere.

Call for Faculty Leadership Fellows

Deadline: Monday, September 12

The Faculty Leadership Fellows is part of CSU College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. It provides an opportunity for faculty at any level (lecturers, pre-tenure, tenured or full professors) to engage in projects and develop leadership skills. Projects may include the continuation of work done last year by Faculty Leadership Fellows that includes Global Humboldt (placed-based learning), career education, peer mentioning grant writing, or new projects. The Faculty Fellows program runs through the 15/16 academic year. Monthly/bi-monthly meetings will be held with all fellows to share ideas, strategies, and resources, project progress and participate in a book circle. Documentation of progress on projects including an end-of-the-year report is expected.

Faculty Fellows will receive a stipend of $750.00.

CAHSS will competitively select 4 to 5 applicants to serve as Faculty Leadership Fellows. In the past, fellows have been paired together to work on a single project. We encourage faculty at any level to nominate someone from their department or self nominate. Nominations of those from populations that are underrepresented in academic leadership are encouraged to apply. The nominee should provide a 1-2 page letter detailing why they would like to be selected as a Faculty Leadership Fellow and indicated the type of project they are interested in. Send names and letters of interest to Lauren Lynch at lsr4@humboldt.edu by Monday, September 12, 2016.

For more information, contact Kris Patzlaff at kap12@humboldt.edu or 707.826.4771
